INTRODUCTION

And what if one day ... after stop loving someone that you liked so, so much ... you decide to replace that big whole from your soul with loving all the people from the timeline of your life?!

Today i believe that to understand the life itself we need to experience ... love ... in whatever form it might appear to us. It sounds weird, or even as a total nonsense ... but in the end ... following the paths of life I always realized that everything comes by itself.

Not so long time ago, before becoming 40 I heard lots of strange ideas about the change is happening in man's perspective about life ... the next second he comes to this age.

In fact ... the truth is that only 2 versions worth to be mentioned ... and i saw that at all my friends that had this age.

One theory was that we start to have all types of medical problems ... and the other one was that the man starts to be obsessed by love ... love stories and all the women from the timeline of his life.

I never had medical problems in my life ... so i totally ignored the first theory ...and on another hand, working in sales for more than 20 years ... i met thousands of ladies ... but never had the intention to cheat my wife.

So ... i totally ignored both theories, but just few days before becoming 40 ... a very beautiful lady ... appeared in my life.

She was the most unexpected person i could dream that i would start a love story with ... but ... it happened.

The theory was right ... or at least one of it.

I fell in love ... with that amazing soul ... and i started to write all my feelings and everything related to us.

I wrote so much ... that one day i realized that i published 10 books carrying the word ... love ... inside of the title.

But ... same as any other story from the history of the human being ... my love story had a beginning, the story itself ... and the end.

Today ... looking back in time, i see just the 10 books i wrote ... but i would not like to read them again.

Never ...

In my last book about love stories ... "Loving, but not understanding where the love goes" ... the last 2 essays i wrote tell everything it was in my heart and soul ... "I miss you a lot, but i don't want you back in my life! Never again!" ... and "Awakening can be obtained at the end of the love story!".

I left the love story dissatisfied of all happened ... but still ... i was chasing for love.

Getting back into her arms ... was useless.

I knew it ... and even if i lied myself for such a long time ... she was the same as my wife ... a shrew ... or at least this is how i saw both of them.

I decided to let my life continue ... near my family, totally forgetting the love story but still not ignoring my huge desire for ... love.

The smaller kid told me one day while arguing with my wife ... " You are not allowed to leave us. You are our parents and you don't have the right to do that."

Ignoring those words ... was equal with betrayal.

.... A huge one.

So i remained near my wife and kids ... doing my duty, understanding the dharmic side of life ... but still something was whispering me all the time ..."love, love, love, love ... love"

I thought i need to find another lady ... but my wife was paying attention now to any small detail ... so i could not repeat the love story i had with that crazy lady.

I was meditating a lot.

On the scene of my life, i met lots of other people in the same situation as myself ... that ended the love story and somehow started to be in a relationship with themselves.

They discovered a new path the one of self love.

But i did not know anything about the subject ... and not even wanted to bother becoming more profound and connected to myself.

I actually did not wanted to start a new relationship either with someone else ... either with myself.

I knew i needed something else into my life... but did not understood the new path i need to follow.

And i continued ... searching.

On and on and on.

A MARRIED MAN ... PERCEPTIONS ABOUT ... LOVE

philosophical essays

One day ... a year ago ... while having a fire at one of my properties ... a heart appeared on the roof of the building.

Everyone saw the heart ... except myself.

Later on ... i saw it in the pictures taken by the people that were there at the time.

Again I thought that i should find a new mistress and have a parallel life again ... without my wife to find out.

But ... i was wrong.

So ... damn wrong.

Time passed and ... and the russian-ukrainian war began ... and i started to host lots of refugees.

There were people that needed unconditional love and support ... and i somehow connected to the all of them ... realizing that i can be in a weird love story with all those women coming from Ukraine.

They were ladies of different age and personality ... but i loved having them into my life.

I somehow started to understand that even if i thought that being in love can have only 2 options ... loving a soulmate or yourself ... i finally saw a totally new path and that was being in a lovely relationship ... practicing another type of love with anyone was appearing in my reality.

That of course ... could not offend in any way my wife and also could not affect the marriage i had ... but ...

Yes It was ... an amazing trick ... and i just loved it.

I finally understood what Dalai Lama or Pope Francis were saying ... about ... unconditional love for all the people from this world.

Reading their books ... i even had moments when i thought the 2 of them were idiots but i was the idiot one.

A MARRIED MAN ... PERCEPTIONS ABOUT ... LOVE

philosophical essays

My marriage ... was indeed karmic ... having nothing to do with love ... but my youngest son learnt me the meaning of ... dharma.

My mistress ... which even if i loved so, so much ... but don't even want to hear her name again ... taught me ... what love ... means.

She was somehow a combination between karma and love ... and saw her at the end of our love story more as a teacher than a soulmate.

Most probably i have totally different values as those 2 shrews ... my wife and my mistress ... but i am happy i met the ucrainian ladies.

The abstract love story i started with them all of them ... no matter of age, personality, perspectives of life ... was a much better path for continuing my life journey.

I finally understood that if i would know to connect to the people that appear on the timeline of my life ... and love them unconditionally.... somehow that love that i was chasing so, so much ... since i was a kid ... will come back to me in infinite quantities.

I was looking for love ... and i had to see the meaning of love story ... from a totally different perspective.

But ... now everything was clear to me.

I knew what i had to do ... and which path to follow.

My expectation was as my wife to love me but she was a karmic character that i could not replace ... or my mistresses to love me unconditionally.... but she was the teacher that made me realize what the concept of love ... means.

My life journey ... had to continue ... and the ucrainian ladies showed me such a beautiful perspective ... i never thought about.

I was glad ... of this awakening moment.

So ... loving you?! ... loving me?! ... or ... simple loving any soul that appears in our lives?!

Well ... maybe from my position where i am now ... being in a love story with everyone ... is probably the best scenario i could live.

Am glad i see things today ... as that.

Might be your perception ... or not.

Might sound as a total nonsense all what i am writing but maybe it will be much interesting to hear weird ideas ... than the boring ones.

So ... let the journey begin ... and we will see if i succeed to really connect to my real self ... so ... that i can find the inspiration to express myself clear enough ... that in the end you will try at least one time ... this kind of abstract love story ... being in love with all the people from your life.

A man always wants more and more women ... but a woman always makes the mistake of falling in love

Me and Nolene Sheppard are trying to write our perspectives ... as a man ... and as a woman ... over this concept that we name love.

The challenge is even bigger as i am a married man and Nolene is a single woman ... so we might even have contradictory views about the subject, but i believe that makes our writings even more interesting ... or at least not so boring.

Today i somehow agree with many other important thinkers of the world that the human being has an important issue to solve on this planet and that is ... dealing with the other souls ... but also come closer to them ... connect and why not enter in what we define as ... love stories.

I also agree that i had over the years a large spectrum of ideas regarding the subject.

... totally contradictory ideas.

But i still meditate over the subject and probably i am much closer now of understanding the meaning of intimacy ... and the connection itself between a man and a woman.

As a married man is maybe considered even immoral to talk about the subject and still let myself taste from the pleasure of being in a connection with another lady ... but i gave myself the liberty to experience whatever life has to offer to me.

I spoke over the years with thousands of ladies ... about life and with many of them even about love.

I had an obsession of knowing a woman perspective about connecting on the vibe of love ... and i had listened so many versions that in the end i still don't know what to think.

Probably i don't even know what to think about my ideas either ... and i smile reading this ... knowing that whatever we might think is not the absolute truth.

But i continued this journey ... of finding out as much as i can about ... love ... knowing for sure that in fact ... love is the gateway to the Spiritual Universe that we should explore more than we do it today.

All my thoughts ... even if i define them as my own thoughts are probably mine ... not more than 10% maximum.

Talking and exchanging so many ideas with so many people i am probably under the influence of many other souls that searched the absolute truth same as i do.

Recently ... i was out in a coffee shop with Paula.

You see ... she is a business woman ... of huge success.

She is wealthy, extremely beautiful, elegant, very intelligent and has everything she ever wanted ... except one thing ... being in the right love story.

She smiles ... while saying to me ... "A man always wants more and more women ... but a woman always makes the mistake of falling in love.

I do that all the time.

I am in love again ... of a man that instead of being in connection just with me... is always searching more and more women.

I know he loves me ... same as the other one that loved me ... but cheating me again and again and again is actually destroying the beauty of our relationship.

Can you please make me understand why men are so idiots ... being obsessed all the time to have more and more women?!

I simple can't understand.

I just can't!"

I started to laugh.

"Paula ... how the hell can i define that to you if in fact i am suffering of the same disease ... same as all those men?!

Yes ... we are idiots i think.

Instead of enjoying the connection and the love story itself we want new and new connections.

Most probably we are searching all the time that energy of beginning generated by the obsession of having a great vibe all the time.

We know that a new relationship is amazing when it starts ... so maybe it's not a new woman that we are searching on and on and on ... but that amazing feeling.

A new connection ... with intimacy implications is always making us feel alive ... and a man has always this weird desire.

It might sound as a nonsense, but behind the nonsense is always something weird that reveals hidden ... facts."

"I will never be able to understand you ... the men."

"Well ... my dear ... i will never be able to understand you ... the women.

But i accepted that from a long time ... cause i love being connected to beautiful feminine souls."

"Gabriel ... what can i do to make him realize that he needs to stop cheating on me??

You wrote a lot about love and relationships.

I need a real advice from you."

"Well ... my dear Paula ... the only thing left to do ... with that idiot that you love so much ... proving in the same time that you are so damn silly ... is to disappear from his life.

When you will do that ... he will realize the illusion of the other connections ... and that the real path for him ... is the love story you have together.

It will be tough ... to suddenly cut the connection you have together ... but otherwise ... the so called awakening that you expect on his side ... will never appear."

I continued my talk with Paula for many more hours ... and still don't know if that is the best advice i could give to her ... but at least now she has a much clear perspective about how a man ... is usually thinking.

It was not useless drinking the coffee together ... but even if it might look useless ... i adored staying near Paula ... in that coffee shop with such a great vibe.

Yes ... indeed ... a love story can become a therapy for ... the soul

The human mind is so chaotic ... that i decided to not follow any rule or book architecture ... when i write.

I simple ... open the notepad app from my phone ... and write.

I might look a totally unorganized person ... cause i speak now about stars and galaxies ... and the next second about how to get rich ... or how to seduce a beautiful lady.

But if we should honestly analyze our daily thoughts ... we would see this large spectrum of thoughts ... or emotions. Now we think or feel something ... but few hours later we see everything in a totally different style.

Is almost a nonsense to define what we think or feel in a certain way.

.... Totally useless.

So ... i somehow came to the conclusion that i should let my mind and heart ... be wild ... and have an unlimited freedom in absolutely any direction.

And that might be also the reason ... why me ... as a married man write about ... love stories.

I mean ... it's ok to write about life ... but love?!

How the hell a married man ... can talk about love stories?!

Yes ... a nonsense.

Or ... maybe i haven't said the whole truth ... and i really know what the love stories are.

Being married i somehow need to write as the writers from the communist times ... writing always in an abstract way ... so that will not be judged later.

I am still laughing remembering that a friend invited me when he launched his book with love poems.

When i arrived the first thing his spouse told me was ...

"Don't worry! It's not what it looks like. It's a book of love poems with his feelings before we've met.

It's written long time before ... just published now."

I had to be polite knowing the real truth saying to her for protecting my friend ... "Yes indeed! I really thought so!

Now makes total sense ... cause i did not understood what love poems had to do with the one i know today. Is something from his past ... when we ... both of us ... did not knew him yet"

Most probably ... my friend would do the same for me.

.. but still .. my wife was not happy reading my books about ... love.

Were books with love essays ... telling the same story from 1000 perspectives ... on and on and on.

And i always concluded that a love story ... no matter if it's related with morality or not It's kind of a weird therapy.

One for healing ... our souls.

No matter of age, sex, nationality, profession, education etc etc. ... the meaning of the love stories ... even if they might look too abstract in certain situations ... is to understand the concept of love ... of loving ... and connecting to another soul ... in a totally unconditional way.

A MARRIED MAN ... PERCEPTIONS ABOUT ... LOVE

philosophical essays

It's a life lesson that looks in the end as a ... therapy ...
somehow for becoming better souls.
... those souls that know what love is and its miraculous ...
powers.

Being unhappy is just a silly ... option.
No one ever bothered to tell you that you have many, many other options.

All the time when i start to write about love, i actually do it from the perspective of a married man.

If i would define the profiles of all the men i know ... most of the married ones ... i see them unhappy at home ... most of the times.

Is something almost ... illogical.

Many of them i know for many, many years.

I saw them before the marriage also ... but now ...

vibrationally speaking they look like in the ultimate stage of an unhealed disease.

But what is funny with all those people, including myself ... is that the next second when they leave their homes ... no matter where they should go ... they start being alive again.

So ... they live in a weird emotional balance ... of being unhappy in the connection with the spouse ... and being ... at least ok ... after leaving their homes.

It's a total nonsense ... remembering also that no one forced them to get married.

And ... i see 3 profiles of married man ... one of them being myself also.

Number one ... the man becomes totally dominated by the feminine spirit.

It's a modern form of slavery.

Might sound one more time weird but that's the real truth.

Today i see them ... like kind of robots that live their lives ... being dead inside.

The connection with their own souls ... is totally lost.

The second profile ... is the one that saw the mental software of their parents years ago doing their dharmic job in this world ... by taking care of children and family ... but on the other hand allow themselves to be ... happy from time to time ... when they go to a sexual massage session ... or to an escort. Or they flirt with any woman that ... accepts that.

Basically ... they accept the unhappiness as part of this scenario ... called marriage ... but also see it just as a temporary ... option.

The next second when they leave their homes ... seeing any sign of hope regarding happiness ... they follow that direction ... not being afraid of any consequences.

This is probably the profile that is judged most of the times ... being defined by many ... as a jerk.

The last profile is probably the most luckiest one.

Somehow ... the Universe allow them to leave the connection forever.

Divorce becomes a blessing ... and i saw so, so many people totally redefined after such an episode.

I laugh ... seeing them crying ... cause i know that their toxic life ended.

The path they follow now ... is the one of therapy.

It's hard and the soul is crying all the time ... but therapy is ... always difficult.

But my real question is why those connections ... that used to

A MARRIED MAN ... PERCEPTIONS ABOUT ... LOVE

philosophical essays

be so beautiful into the beginning ... they are so fucked up in the end?!

Why the first profile accepted to be totally dominated by those ugly energies?!

Why the second profile accepted to live between this emotional balance of happiness and unhappiness?!

But why the ones that are living the chance of a new life ... are so afraid?! ... and cry?!

Why can't we have an analyze all the time of what is really going on ... and simple redefine the connection with the spouse?!

Why do we bother to live toxic lives ... and in front of the freedom of being alive again ... we are so afraid ... and cry?!

Well ... maybe we are all idiots ... same as the women are defining us by centuries ...

Just do nothing ... anymore
... at least for a while!
... my new hobby and perspective over life

I was on the beach.

I was watching at the sea and was connecting to the beautiful vibe induced by the wave.

I was even asking myself ... what do i love more?! ... the water or the waves?!

Or maybe the horizon line that i was trying to touch all my life.

I've felt a little bit stressed about the new book i started to write with Nolene.

I did not knew her well ... but i've connected to her energy ... and i just love her style.

But ... most probably that style is totally contradictory with mine.

I will be soon in the position of having 30 books published ... but after the 2 of them i abandoned the idea of having a plan for the them.

... or follow kind of a table of contents.

I actually just let my thoughts and feelings come out of myself ... and it was such a chaotic process damn it!

But little by little ... connecting to the waves of the sea ... i started to be more relaxed.

I've been always ... a weird person with weird thoughts ... so at least ... whatever i will write will not be boring ... and maybe if i will be lucky enough ... i will connect to some vibes that will inspire me ideas that will actually reveal beautiful truths about life.

So ... i started to write ... in my chaotic style.

But i am not worried.

I already read few pages written by Nolene ... and i strongly believe that at the end ... the balance of contradictory thoughts will be very interesting.

So ... is it good??

Is it wrong?!

Well ... who the hell knows.

There is no absolute truth anyway ... so ...

Nolene is a coach ... a great one believing in the need of her profession in helping the people that are looking for a tremendous change in there lives ... and i was the one that believed that after a certain spiritual level ... connected with the inner soul ... we can somehow start a process of ... self therapy.

The sea ... was helping me a lot.

I started to feel the energy of waves ... and that became the fuel ... for my writings.

And i was pretending i was a writer ... but i was playing the both roles ... being the patient, but also the therapist ... my own therapist.

I wanted to find out what is the meaning of life, why are we here in this Universe ... why do we pay attention to so many details if all the great philosophers of the word ended their books with the conclusion ... that all is ... just illusory.

So ... my main target ... should probably be ... to think how can i obtain the awakening ... and the absolute truth.

But how can you get out of the illusion?!

Only few people from the history of the world ... succeeded that and all they did ... was to disconnect from the standards ... and stop acting like the others around.

So ... i had to do the same .. to start this process.

I could dare at least to think that ... i will start this philosophical journey.

My new desire ... was a little bit ridiculous... but that was my new plan ... for my life.

The only problem was that i was not used to do nothing or think of nothing at all.

But again ... the waves were whispering me ... the new plan.

Doing nothing ... had to become my new plan.

A plan ... for revealing for myself and the others ... the absolute truth about love.

Then i started to laugh.

The therapist from inside of me started to laugh ... of this childish thinking.

The patient became annoyed.

"Why do you laugh of me?!"

"You silly boy ... you succeeded everything by now in life ... but ... you'll never know how to adapt yourself ... at doing ... nothing.

You simple ... don't have this ability.

You know why?! Cause you love ... the chaos.

It helps you forget about ... yourself.

A MARRIED MAN ... PERCEPTIONS ABOUT ... LOVE

philosophical essays

But who knows ... i'll let you continue this illusory journey of understanding The illusion of life."

Then ... i said ... "Stop! Just stop! Stop to any thought! I don't need any thought to understand the Universe!"

I simple need to connect to it and the beach and the sea ... was the perfect place for starting that.

And i hope ... the rest will come by itself.

The forbidden fruit is always very ... sweet

Flirting is somehow ... a way of connecting to the vibes that we like a lot ... forgetting a little bit about morality

I had the chance over the years to meet lots of people ... men and women ... and to understand the spectrum of so different ... philosophies of life.

I also had the chance in social media to connect with people from all around the world.

We might look different as color of the skin, religion, social interests, etc etc ... but when we act in the connection with the opposite sex there is not such a big difference between someone that is living in New York ... or someone from a african tribe.

We do act almost the same way ... all of us.

And what i also realized is that there are not so many happy people on this plannet.

Many of us ... in fact much too many started to believe that unhappiness is a non ending feeling ... difficult to get rid of.

And even worst ... that there is no medicine against that.

Until one day ... when we give us the freedom to get out of this prison with invisible walls ... and we realize that even if it's immoral ... we love to taste ... the forbidden fruits of morality.

That might have on million scenarios and having a love affair with a married person, same as you ... might be a very interesting one.

And everything is so damn ... beautiful, cause gives such a powerful energy.

It's the amazing energy of the beginning.

Totally forgetting about unhappiness ... life is beautiful again ... and again ... and again.

So why did they told us to not taste ... this forbidden fruit of love?!

Just to keep us ... unhappy forever?!

A simple flirt ... that everyone is doing ... is becoming more and more ... and that energy is so, so ... sweet.

So ... we see it was all a way of connecting to beautiful vibes vibes that might be beautiful ... even if deep inside us ... we know they are illusory.

Some are just flirting ... some find the courage to connect for real to those energies, no matter of the moral aspects of the story ... but all ... men or women ... and i would say at least 99% ... have in mind the desire for connecting to such stories.

So ... my question is ... what do we find behind the forbidden fruit that morality told us about?!

What types of energies?!

Should we taste the ... forbidden fruit?!

I know that we are not allowed not even to do it ... but still ... the desire of sweet energies that will give us beautiful vibes ... can't be deleted from our minds.

Maybe ... sex ... is about learning to connect to the present moment

I wrote so many books about love ... but what is funny is that i almost never used the word ... sex ... in any of them.

I somehow conclude that what actually missing in my life was ... love ... but kind of infinite love ... cause i still don't understand the meaning of hundreds of written pages about the subject.

All my other books ... even if they have a motivational trend ... and carry another title that might look totally irrelevant for love stories ... are still about love.

I probably avoided the word ... sex ... from my books, even if i know its importance ... but i always considered that we should keep the right balance between love ... and sex.

Technically ... we could have it with anyone of the opposite sex ... but ... maybe that's not all.

We should go deeper and deeper ... and see the meaning of everything ... and actually find out what ... connection means. And ask ourselves ... why the hell we usually lose our focus so easy but when it comes about sex ... we know to connect so easily to the present moment.

I smile remembering that in the book "Think and grow rich", by Napoleon Hill a full chapter is about sex and describes the fact that all successful people from the world were very active when it came about sex.

And still ... we don't really understand the meaning ... even if it is so damn clear.

It remains a secret ... but it's defined as a secret cause we hide it so well by ourselves.

We pretend we don't know what it's really about ... but also that we don't know either about keeping the right balance between love and sex ...

Truth be told ... we know everything ... and even if we don't have clear proofs ... the intuition tells us in fact everything we need to know.

So ... learning to connect to the present moment on and on and on ... maybe we end up understanding the trick ... of feeling and why not ... being alive.

Analyzing all those details, starting to be a weird mix of therapist-philosopher ... we somehow become aware of the fact that a change must be done.

But still prisoners of a reality that we actually hate we do ... nothing.

So ... the cure?! ...

Maybe ... more and more sex but who the hell knows ...

Yes ... i believe there is a chance to win at the lottery without buying a ticket

Me and my friend Paul ... are discussing all the time philosophically stuff.

Sometimes we come to a point where we discuss about a mix concept of philosophy, spirituality ... and motivation.

Me ... seeing the events from my near past I somehow realized that if something needs to happen ... it will happen anyway.

Recently Paul asked me ... "How the hell you can win to the lottery if you don't buy a ticket?!"

I smiled and the answer came right away into my mind ... "You can find the ticket on the street."

"Yes ... but still ... there needs to be one or more actions take it from the street, look at the results of the lottery... and then take the big prize."

Maybe i should better record a conversation between me and Paul .. to make you laugh.

It looks a lot with a dialogue ... on a stand up comedy.

But the subject itself was ... can we mix philosophy, spirituality and motivation in a totally new concept about how we should live our lives?!

You see i started this conversation about lottery ... by talking with Paul about Brian.

He is flirting with lots of ladies ... but all what he is doing is a total nonsense.

He's flirting without wanting anything from those ladies.

Or if he really wants something is maybe just ... socialize with them.

Like any man over 40 he started to be obsessed about admiring them.

It's almost a full time job for him but we can't see the meaning of all that.

We also know that behind the nonsense ... there is a deep meaning ... but what is that meaning?

Why Brian is socializing ... and flirting with so many ladies ... but he still does not want to divorce and start a new life from scratch?!

You see ... Brian is even worst than the people that wants to win at the lottery ... but never buy a ticket.

Yes he really is even worst.

It's like he buys the ticket, gets the winning ticket of the big prize ... but he never collects that prize ... whatever meaning of value it has.

Brian has a paradoxical behavior very difficult to be understood ... but more me and Paul are talking about it ... more we understand that we are all acting the same.

We all have dreams.

Many of us ... really act on the stage of life to get that dream ... which in many cases it means ... a tremendous change ... but we feel such a deep fear that ... in the last moment ... we stop ... and run away.

A MARRIED MAN ... PERCEPTIONS ABOUT ... LOVE

philosophical essays

It's totally illogical and looks like a total nonsense all what i am saying ... but ... being really honest with ourselves, analyzing and defining how we act on the stage of life ... maybe we find one day the strength... to redefine the way we act ...

Until then ... we are simple enjoying the nonsense value of this journey on a ... pathless path.

"Sir, if anyone had a problem with my drinking, at any time in my life, it was me. The only person I've abused in my life is myself."
Johnny Deep

I was laughing reading in media what this amazing guy said about alcohol.

Same as many others i also used to drink.

Not as much as Deep ... but still i loved to have a bottle of red wine every night.

I wrote about 10 books under the influence of alcohol but on the other hand ... i also remember the saying ... "in vino veritas" ... so that probably let me write exactly what i thought.

Today i am not drinking anymore ... so i wonder myself ... do i still have the same courage in my essays?!

But also ... did alcohol was something good or bad into my life?!

Did anyone had problems because of my drinking?!

Or ... the only person i've abused because of the alcohol was my inner soul?!

I believe the truth is ... in the middle.

Alcohol was good or at least this was my perception about it.

It calmed me down for years.

I was not drinking the whole day ... but i just loved ... when the evening came and i could relax drinking my bottle of good wine.

It gave me the courage to write all what it was into my heart. When i stoped drinking ... all my thoughts changed.

I started to replace my love essays with philosophical and motivational ones ... but maybe it was the perfect time to start a new chapter of my life.

.... who the hell knows.

But i am a different person today anyway.

The alcohol calmed my problems ... or in fact made my perspective over those problems be much calmer.

Now ... i need to deal with anything that intrigues me.

The therapy with alcohol ... ended and i don't even know if someone suffered because of my love for alcohol

Maybe my readers the ones that read my thoughts about love.

Should i apologize to them?!

Hell ... no.

Alcohol created kind of a blindness that makes you don't see anymore that you are ... unhappy.

But the funny thing ... after forgetting about this illusory medicine is that ... seeing everything so clear ... the real therapy starts.

Sort of what i use to name ... self therapy.

Meditating ... seeing all what is wrong ... analyzing and defining your life ... you realize you must not forget about your problems ... but only redefine them in ... why not ... advantages ... cause everything happens for a reason.

A MARRIED MAN ... PERCEPTIONS ABOUT ... LOVE

philosophical essays

It's better to understand the reason ... than hide from the real truth.

I'll always remember the pleasure of drinking my everyday bottle of good wine ... but ... i prefer today ... as my mind to not be dominated anymore by alcohol.

And is not that i promised to myself only as never again in my life to taste alcohol ... but ... also ... never again to read all those illusory essays about love stories.

But ... was i acting as a drunk person ... because of the wine ... or because of love?!

How the hell could i write 10 books about love?!

... hmm!

It all remains a mystery!

The muse ... a nonsense need of illusions?! ... or a very deep desire of knowing there is someone in your life to make you feel alive?!

I once wrote a book called "The muse ... a nonsense need of illusions."

Maybe i was mad in that day defining all those ladies i was admiring as simple muses ... but

2 months later ... Roger called me saying ... "You know ... one night i could not sleep and i was reading one of your books. I decided to read the one about the muses.

The cover had much more sex appeal ... and i loved it.

And guess what?!

Not so late after reading your damn book ... i found a muse for myself.

And even worst ... i found in fact more than one.

Same as you and as any other man of over 40 ... i started to connect with all the ladies from the timeline of my life.

The only real problem ... even if many of them like me ... is that they started to define me as illusory.

All i am doing is connect with them and get the great vibe of connecting to their inner soul.

I do it with a weird hungriness but its all meaning is about connecting to beautiful vibes.

And there is one special lady ... which i adore ... and i like to connect at her most of the time.

She is always there ... just to make me smile.

But the question is ... is it moral what i am doing?! Is it wrong?!

Your book somehow influenced me with this desire of having my own muse ... or why not ... muses."

I smiled listening to Roger, but i still don't really know if having a muse is a nonsense ... or a must for a man of our age.

I meditate a lot over its meaning ... and even wonder if it's good or bad that i share those thoughts with everyone ... by publishing my book.

On the other hand ... i also believe that we should share our thoughts ... about the paths from our lives.

It's a weird balance of believing contradictory ideas.

It might help ... or it might influence wrong the people i am interacting with ... but i have many moments when i live with the impression that gossiping a little bit ... and sharing our thoughts helps.

It's kind of a weird therapy ... trying all those non standard methods ... but ...

Give it a try!

Just let the energy of waves ... invade you

I've been looking at the waves.

Staying near the sea ... i was still illusory searching for the meaning of life ... but especially ... the meaning of my life.

The dance of the waves ... reminded me of the energies were coming to me from the outside world.

I felt invaded so many times ... same like the waves of the sea were invading today the island.

I was smiling ... watching the show.

And a philosophical question came to my mind ... why the hell i could not enjoy all those energies that were invading myself over the time?!

I could simple ... admire the show of this dance of energies ... but ...

I felt many times overwhelmed.

Also annoyed ... dominated by some forces that i could not understand.

And i was looking for my spiritual and philosophical answers in all those ... stupid books.

I acted so ... illogical ... and for such a long, long time.

Being afraid of being invaded ... by entities that i did not understood I ended up not experiencing something that could be similar with the show offered me today ... by the waves

philosophical essays

Maybe i should start to change myself a little bit and stop being afraid.

In fact ... afraid of being and feeling alive.

Honesty is the key to the true self

A guy goes to the therapist that was teaching his clients to practice self therapy.

For the ones that were not prepared yet, he was not telling them all the tricks, but the ones that knew a little bit of spirituality, philosophy, psychology ... he was helping them with a great passion to practice it.

William came to him twice a week.

He was not divorced yet ... but you could feel that deeply inside him he wanted to really change his life.

In fact Will wanted to be happy ... and the marriage he had ... was not that something to make him happy.

Even worst ... he started to be ruined emotionally, because of that.

Coming to his office, the therapist welcomed him and says ...
"Listen Will!

I know you recently met Gloria.

She's much, much younger than you and but let's not judge things accordingly to the age ... cause you have connection with her.

You want her ... and she wants you.

You like each other a lot.

So let's do a new exercise today.

Write her ... about the perfect case scenario.

Write her now!

I will be here ...”

“Why not doctor ... let’s do it!” ... Will says.

.... and he started to write:

“It says that there is a reason why two souls meet during a lifetime.

Some values are more important.

Some things seem illogical.

Some ... just life lessons.

Some bonds are stronger than others.

We just have to let things come by itself.

I believe it will be illogical to be mad on me.

I am a little bit different than the standards ... and even might look weird, but ... once you will accept me in the way i am ... i will be an amazing company to you.

All you asked was honesty.

But i mix honesty with my wildness.

In front of you ... i let myself the liberty to ... be me ... the other self ... the real one.

I am not wearing masks anymore ... those personalities that always hided who i really am.

But maybe this is the meaning of our relationship.

I see wildness in your eyes ... too.

I want the meaning of our story to be helping each other to connect to the Infinity.

I want to become me ... or maybe i should say re become who i used to be ... and liked to be.

You are a very beautiful soul.

I feel in love with you.

I feel in fact an amazing attraction.

The next second i saw you ... i dreamed about a love story that will remain real at least an eternity.

And i know it will happen.

I feel it so ... so strong ... that it will happen.

You will reveal my beautiful side and i will always bring you amazing vibes to your soul.

It's going to be a story ... which in fact ... will reveal us the Infinite.

And we will love it.

.... but just give me some time.

I need to find the courage ... to allow myself to enter ... into our love story.

And i will find it.

Even sooner than you might think."

The therapist was smiling ... "You see ... Will ... you could do it.

It was not so hard.

You told her that you like her ... but also that you are afraid ... or at least this is what you feel today ... to enter into that story.

Or i should say ... that ... amazing love story.

You were ... honest.

Honest to her ... but also honest to yourself.

That girl is not just that she is extremely beautiful, but she is also very smart ... and she easily convinced you ... of a very simple thing ... to become honest.

To practice self therapy to believe you can do it ... should be useless ... without honesty.

You need to be honest to yourself and all the ones around you.

It is the first time ... since i know you ... when i believe you can become a practitioner of this method which i named ... self therapy.

And is funny cause you come to me by one year and i taught you lots of things ... but this amazing young lady ... completed the whole process in only few days.

I smile ... seeing her powers.

And i almost can't believe it.

But i like a lot her presence on the timeline of your life.

Find the courage ... to be ... yourself.

Life is not so long as we might ... believe."

We always wonder which is the best path that could take us to ... happiness.
.... We have so many options .. and still ...

He was ... at a crossroads.

Turning right he could go to the city.

Turning left he could go to her.

.... but she was married and unavailable.

That road was also taking to his house ... but he was married and unhappy at home .. so ... turning left was kind of a pathless path.

He turned right many, many times for so, so many years in a row ... and nothing happened.

In the last moment he sends her the picture ... asking if he would turn left ... and come to her.

But it was impossible... to meet him.

They were friends ... by already a long time.

Started to knew each other quite well... but somehow they were afraid to explore ... a possible relationship.

I mean ... a little bit more than ... just being friends.

In the end he arrives home where he fucks his vibe again.

Why it was not different?!

Why could not go and meet her?!

Touch her lips ... and her beautiful hair ... but also whisper her all those beautiful words that he told her on the chat.

What if he could decide to turn right?!

And meet ... who?

The right was to the city ... and there were millions of people into the city ... but ... still ... no real connection to his lost soul.

He was like that for years.

Going to the left ... or to the right ... was everything he used to do.

Any direction ... was a pathless path.

But why?!

Maybe because he lost his hope.

Yes ... at a beginning of any journey ... we should probably have that childish naivety one that he does not have anymore.

So ... he closed his eyes ... asking for guidance.

He simple had to go to her ... and find a trick to meet but they both analyzed so much ... till they lost that chance.

Today it's a new day.

Maybe it will be different.

He needs her ... cause he knows that the best therapy for a soul ... it's a love story.

But he also knows that she ... wanted that too.

"Keep exploring without the intentions of hurting yourself and others. I live to enjoy and tell the tale....or.... I live to enjoy and keep my beautiful secrets between myself and the one that was part of the experience.....both are bitter sweet....enjoy either way"

Nolene Sheppard

I've been accused recently by more and more people from my life ... that i play games.

"Games?! What kind of games?!" ... i said.

"Dirty games" they all replied.

Well ... being so many ... telling me that ... i had to meditate a little bit over the subject.

And yes I was playing around.

It looked like ... so illusory.

But maybe i was just exploring the boundaries of all those connections i was interested in ... without any negative intentions.

And i was so ... deep ... that it all became so weird.

I started to feel that the indignation ... from their side became one day ... so annoying ... that i need to stop the connection with them.

Temporary ... or even forever.

I was simple ... exploring.

It was no game ... even if we might define it this way.

From the outside ... it looked indeed that they were right.

My wife was right.

My neighbor was right.

My customer was right.

It looked like they all were right.

So ... i was wrong ... analyzing logically.

Or not?!

I smile ...

I talk to you ... but also with myself ... to all my silly selfs from my inner soul.

But i dare to ask only one question ... what they don't like at the fact that i was exploring the connections i have with them?!

Why exploring ... ends up being defined as a dirty game?!

Why?! Please tell me why?!

Then i remember what Nolene told me ... that as long as i was exploring without the intentions of hurting yourself and others... it is all ok.

So ... i analyzed my intentions.

I liked those connections.

I could even say that i loved them ... but too bad that exploring the boundaries ... was seen as something ... dirty.

Then Nolene comes again into my mind ... while saying "I live to enjoy and tell the tale...." and the secret was that i loved to wrote about ... all around me.

It was probably ... kind of a weird ... therapy.

There will be moments in life when only the abstract work
... might express your emotions.
And ... should not even bother to explain the painting to them.

Recently i had the chance to talk to Ozlem Thompson. She is Turkish artist based in the United Kingdom whose paintings have been exhibited in both England and the United States. Her works combine the dreamy scenes in her mind with the reality that she witnesses in nature. Thompson describes her vibrant compositions as being a vehicle for her subconscious which helps her connect with and understand the universe.

I watched how she is painting ... the vibration of that passion ... and i was amazed.

Truth be told, i don't know anything about art ... but somehow ... having the ability of connecting to those vibrations of the art work ... i start to understand Ozlem.

I looked on and on and on at her paintings and then a philosophical question comes to my mind ... "If i would have the talent of my new friend Ozlem ... how would i paint life?! And how the painting of my own life would look like?!"

I close my eyes and i try to imagine that.

And indeed ... i see 2 paintings.

One ... which is a representation of my inner world ... and looks like a painting representing the ... life seen as a perfect case scenario.

But i look to the right ... and i see the other one ... and i simple dislike it.

Is a horrible.... painting.

In fact ... could not even name it painting ... but it is so abstract that i am forced to use the word ... painting.

Unfortunately ... that was representing my real life my reality.

I had lots of problems ... which i had enough of ... but they existed.

I had to accept their presence... cause i could not get rid ... of them.

And suddenly ... a brilliant idea came to me.

You see ... i was mad ... cause i had some problems with the city hall, with some constructions permits.

The mayor and the vice mayor ... acting like 2 idiots from the country side where not signing me the papers.

A useless conflict ... and even if i tried all my best to apply everything i knew about diplomacy ... i failed.

No one was listening to me.

It was like i was speaking japanese but the problem was that i was in Europe.

All my efforts of explaining to them ... my opinions ... were in vain.

I was like a ghost ... and they could not even see me ... so why the hell ... was i still hoping to be heard by those people?!

Then i remember that i my country ... with money you can do whatever you want ... no matter how silly you would think and act on the stage of life.

I was looking at the city hall and i wondered myself what if i could hire some artists to make graffiti on the right side of building with ... Tom & Jerry and on the left one we should paint the mistresses of those people that were running the commune ... and were actually dominating the minds and the souls of the mayor and the vice mayor.

Should that be too abstract for the 2 idiots i am talking about?!

So i even start to think of calling the chief of police and tell him my plans so that i could negotiate with him ... the fine for that.

I was smiling and i wanted to write even to Ozlem ... to ask an advice from her about that painting ... but how could i bother her for such a stupidity?!

It should be a nonsense ... and she is not painting such things.

So ... could i dare ... to ask her opinion?!

Well ... Ozlem is a human being ... same as me and the 2 stupid bastards which were running the city hall from the commune i was living it.

So ... maybe she would understand my thoughts and ... emotions.

Then i stop thinking about my conflict for one second... and i look again at the paintings of my dear friend.

She was so abstract.

But she decided to paint only the beautiful side from this Universe.

A MARRIED MAN ... PERCEPTIONS ABOUT ... LOVE

philosophical essays

So ... Ozlem ... knew the trick for a beautiful life ... and i was so blind ... and could do that.

I only had to paint that inner world, same as my friend was doing ... and ignore the outside world fucked up so many times by the idiots around us.

Maybe i was afraid that it was too abstract ... but still ... i had to continue painting it.

My inner world was so beautiful and i had to learn from Ozlem to express it ... but also enjoy the passion of painting it.

That painting once finished will make the world ... the one we call real much beautiful.

Or at least ... maybe just make people forget for one second ... the stupidity of this real Universe that we painted in such ugly colors.

Beyond the nonsense ... we'll find our deepest desires

I was in an amazing bar in the old center of the city ... with Brian, Paul and few other friends.

All ... just men between 40 and 50.

Everyone was drinking beer of different kinds and the atmosphere was amazing.

In fact ... i was the only one that was not drinking ... but still ... i loved their company.

But guess what we talked about?!

Well ... what the hell could be in the mind of such men except women.

Some were talking about love affairs with ladies from work, some about flirting with a young lady who is staying in the same building ... and some even started to speak about their fantasies.

Brian was good about telling such stories.

He started to tell us his idealistic vision ... about how could a man over 40 ... be happy.

His dream was ... and i apologize in front of the ladies for telling such story ... to go in a vacation in an exotic resort, at a 5 star hotel, near the ocean with 3 young ladies.

And he starts to give us so many details, that i believe he could be such a great writer for erotic books ... but because i did not drink anything ... i asked him ... " Brian ... why do you think you have such a desire?!

What is behind this fantasy?!

Why do we all from here ... have such a dream when we become older than 40?!

What is the deep meaning of all that?!"

Paul ... smiling ... says ... "Well ... maybe we all dream of a life of a king.

All of us from here have similar fantasies.

Some of us admit it in front of the public ... and some do not admit it ... but ... the fantasy itself, which looks as a nonsense ... reveals in fact our deepest desires and maybe secrets also."

Paul was right.

Brian ... told us about a story that is revealed at a man ... over 40 years old.

When most probably ... a man already achieved in life ... almost everything he ever dreamed for ... the fantasies start to dominate us.

Looks as nonsenses, but maybe it's not.

Or ... maybe beyond the nonsense ... we'll find our deepest desires.

Motivational questions are very important ... if you want to evolve ... but they are also annoying

(Adrian Gabriel Dumitru)

My question to you is - Ten years ago, how much of your current life did you plan for it to be the way it is? 60%? 30%? 90%?

Are you living the life you planned (married, kids, success in business) but now realise you are maybe not happy with it?

Maybe it's exactly how you always wanted your life to be but you crave for a little bit more now?

(Nolene Sheppard)

If you can't say what you really think in front of the life partner you are certainly in the wrong story

A writer i know by a long time told me recently his story.
Married, with children, having everything he ever wanted ... but realizing he is not really happy ... he started to write defining his thoughts.

And wrote so much ... that one day he was in the position of having lots of books published.

He was just writing.

Everyday.

But actually what my friend was doing was that he became his own therapist ... and worked together his own self ... to have a cure for his unhappiness.

And he was analyzing and defining all what was going on ... not being able yet to redefine in any way his life.

He started to love ... writing.

The process became kind of ... medicine ... that was calming his soul.

But the huge problem was that one day, by accident his wife discovered his books.

And ... read all those thoughts.

Totally annoyed, feeling even betrayed of staying near such a person ... she started to be so furious that ... wanted to end the life together.

"It's not that you have 2 faces

I believe you have 1000 faces.

You are a sick ... sick ... man."

"My dear ... i am not sick.

Or maybe i was ... but i started to cure myself by a long, long time.

It's not about faces ... masks or whatever you might name that ...

All you read were my thoughts.

My contradictory thoughts.

... but all of them ... my thoughts.

My feelings ... my emotions ..."

"You are a sick man"

"Because i think ... and i write?!

Hahahahahaha!

At least i have the right of being honest ... with myself."

The argue continued ... for hours.

She could not believe ... that he is ... a writer ... and could not stand all those thoughts that she read ... in his books.

If ... before ... the marriage could be defined as being fucked up ... this was probably its funeral.

Actually she could not believe ... that in the end he had the guts to define all those ugly energies between the 2 of them.

"How dare you ... do that to me?!"

... she was repeating that on and on and on.

But ... he was only defining into a honest way the present moment ... not running away anymore by so called ... ugly energies of life.

She was mad ... but he was ... honest.

He was ... defining ... the unhappiness itself ... but she was still convinced that she needs to hide the real truth ... cause happiness might ... still re appear one day.

So ... i was chatting with my friend ... why do we run away ... by the truth?!

What if the unhappiness is just a secondary effect of the fact that we hide ourselves by the real situations from life?!

Unhappiness itself becomes a barrier in front of happiness ... but only understanding its causes ... like my friend, the writer was trying to do in his books ... we can probably end this journey on a ... pathless path.

My friend ... is a shy guy.

He did not even had to guts to define the real truth ... with his life partner.

But he found in the end ... the courage... to write his books.

And the question is ... what about u?!

Do you have the courage to define the truth?!

Can you do that with your life partner?!

Are you afraid of telling to that person ... what you really feel?!

... that you like and dislike that person ... in the same time?!

... that you love and hate that person ... in the same time?!

Should we have the guts of telling the truth?!

Should the life partner be mad on us?!

... on what we think or feel?!

Is honesty good ... but also welcomed into a relationship?!

Well ... we might also consider that truth hurts ... but running away by what it really means ... becomes the equivalent... of running away ... maybe forever by the soul of that life partner.

A MARRIED MAN ... PERCEPTIONS ABOUT ... LOVE

philosophical essays

It's hard to choose the right path ... i know ... but honesty ... whatever it means ... is not wrong.

It's a difficult path ... indeed ... but

So ... ask yourself why ... to be unhappy forever?!

Why not start the cure process?!

... and maybe we should also keep in mind that if you can't say what you really think in front of the life partner you are certainly in the wrong story.

Synchronizing energies
... a very important thing to do when you are in a story ... and chase for happiness

I was in the train ... on the way to Budapest.
Not having what to do ... cause i was alone on that trip ... i started to talk with the guy that was standing in front of me. He presented me his wife ... but also his friends. They were going in a trip to Tunisia and at that time the plane to Tunis could be taken only from Budapest. Everyone of them ... had been so enthusiastic that ... i could compare them with some school kids.
It was a very long way to Budapest ... so Daniel started to tell me his life ...but i was totally surprised that for him ... his life meant his marriage.
Working in a bank ... Daniel explains to me that one day he woke up and asked his wife:
"My dear! Just tell me ... what do you expect from this life together?! Should we chase for money ... and have all the material goods we ever dreamed about ... or ... simple chase for happiness?!"
Carla .. smiled .. and said to him:
"You know that i actually dream about lots of things, but most probably the wisest decision is as the 2 of us to synchronize our energies and ... have on the top list ... the desire to be happy together.

Will we do it?!

Don't know it ... but at least ... let's try it!"

And ... Daniel kept telling me his story.

His wife ... was his Universe.

The meaning of that vacation was ... to be together 24 hours a day, for 10 days in a row and explore the connection they had together.

At that time ... about 15 years ago ... i was seeing in front of my eyes ... just money.

I wanted to get rich .. and did not cared about anything else ... at all.

I was listening to Daniel ... but it was like i was speaking with a great painter about ... abstract art ... and its meaning in our lives.

Yes ... i was just listening ... not understanding anything at all ... from what he was telling me about his marriage, but also the importance of synchronizing the energies in a relationship.

They both were following all the important directions of life ... a good career, have the necessary material goods a modern family is dreaming about, have enough money so that they could travel few times a year ... but the main focus remained ... the chase for happiness.

They always discussed what they actually need to do to achieve this objective ... treating the subject as the most important one.

And they were probably happy together.

Not even bothered to take his phone number to call him in the future for asking advices about how could happiness be achieved into a couple.

I could not see at that time the importance of such a thing. I had only one purpose for my life ... to get richer and richer, not really understanding at that time that the amount of money from my bank account is not in direct proportion with the happiness i would carry in my soul.

Even saw Daniel as naive ... and a weak man in front of a woman that he was loving so much.

And i was so silly, that i treated the meeting with Daniel and Carla ... as a simple meeting ... not understanding the message the Universe was whispering to me.

I did not know at that time ... the fact that there are moments in life when the Infinite Intelligence is speaking to us ... using the people from the timeline of our lives.

So ... 15 years ago ... the message came to me... and I totally ignored it.

It was a secret revealed by an ordinary person, in love of his spouse ... telling me about the tremendous power of synchronizing the energies.

Now ... after failing in the relationship with my wife, i finally realize that getting rich was a nonsense objective.

But ... once i understood the secret ... i decided to start synchronizing energies with all the people from the timeline of my life.

And guess what?!

The trick ... worked.

I could have listen that 15 years ago but i've been blinded by the wish of getting rich ... not realizing that simple asking for happiness is a wisest decision.

The false imagine built just to impress the world ... will simple disappear one day and the real truth will be revealed ... so why should we bother so much about it?!

The mayor of the capital of my country had been arrested.
Of course ... for bribe.

This is usually what all the mayors from all around the country .. and maybe other countries also ... are doing for getting rich.

Basically.... If one person is mayor ... or vice mayor you can see that they steal a lot.

And when i say a lot ... i mean ... millions of dollars.

But this guy .. i am telling you about was totally different.

He was a surgery doctor, director of an important hospital ... and had the image of a ... saint.

I was laughing reading the articles in the newspapers ... describing the mayor that built for himself over the years the false image of a saint.

I was laughing cause the same media that defined him as an amazing person ... wrote after being arrested that the guy is a thief, a person with a horrible character etc etc.

And it is so damn funny seeing ... that this saint which meanwhile became a devil was the mayor of the capital for more than 10 years.

So who is lying?!

The mayor?!

The press?!

The judge that arrested him?!

What is the meaning of the false image in this equation?!

Then i remember that i heard so many times ... at so many people that were in a couple that the partner became ... a devil.

The same person defined in the beginning as a saint ... ends up having the image of Satan.

But why?!

Is it just a perspective?!

If you would ask the persons that say that about their partners ... they will certainly give you one million reasons for explaining their affirmations.

But what is the real truth?!

Why our perceptions about the people we like ... or even love are metamorphosing in such a dramatic way?!

Why the Saint becomes the Devil itself?!

Are all those people i am telling about ...so tricky?! ... and they succeed to create so powerful false images about themselves?!

How should we define the moment when the truth is revealed?!

The awaking moment?!

Or just a simple day ... with totally new perspective?!

I am certain today that even a cashier from a supermarket ... has advantages also ... same as a mayor of a capital ... when everybody sees him as a positive character ... but why this balance between the positive and the negative side of the human being?!

Does the absolute truth really exists?!

Are our perceptions ... illusory?! same as life itself?!

Well ... who the hell knows ... but watching so many scenarios that i see in the press, television or real life ... i simple smile ... and then i can't stop myself from laughing.

I see the human mind ... so damn tricky.

The mind ... with all its thoughts ... is playing around with us.

So ... so ... many times.

The dance of energies is so damn attractive ... but also dangerous

Mahima wrote me today.

We are friends by years and i believe we had been friends in another lifetime also.

We talk about lots of things ... but mostly about spirituality ... the subject being so important for both of us.

She lives in New Delhi, but now she was in village close to the city, visiting her relatives for few days.

Analyzing everything around is like an obsession for her ... and not having what to do in this short vacation ... Mahima started to look at that small universe from the country side. She started to compare the life from New Delhi ... with the life from there ... believing in the beginning that living in a village is something quite boring ... like it used to be many, many years ago.

But going out at the swimming pool with some other girls ... she observed that all of them were chatting or speaking on the phone all the time.

And she asks herself what was going on?!

Days were passing ... and little by little the informations were coming to her.

She starts to understand that those ladies some of them married, some of them not married ... were chatting with other men.

All of them.

Everyone from the village has been involved into that.

... the priest, the director of the school, the mayor, the chief of police ... and of course all the beautiful ladies from that area.

Everyone was speaking and flirting with everyone ... believing in the unicity of that story.

Some were ... even in love, but the problem was that there were so many temptations around that they keep wondering if it's real love.

The final question became It is love or lust?!

Or even something more difficult to be understood ... the desire of not having a boring life anymore.

In Mahima's mind were lots of questions and not so many answers ... so she calls me telling the story and also asking what is really going on?!

How should we define this?!

My friend became the observer of an universe ... which she found ... abstract.

Telling me the story ... i try to become an observer of more than her perspectives about that story.

And i smile ... seeing that it's all a dance of ... energies.

... men and women chasing for a different life ... a much beautiful one.

But i also see their weak side of not being able to totally connect to those energies that they liked so much.

It was all about ... flirting ... and maybe about ... love affairs.

Virtual ... and real ... love stories ... dominated by the desire of connecting to beautiful energies.

But it was all ... just a dance ... and nothing more.

My friend also finds out about happy people ... living parallel lives ... but also about people that destroyed their marriages because of this dance.

But they continued ... dancing ... in the chase for beautiful vibes.

The meaning of a dance looks useless ... but it's a process that might help connect our souls to high vibrations.

... but in the desire for happiness, blinded by the unhappiness from inside of us ... we don't really understand who the partner is.

And people were connecting to beautiful, but also ugly energies.

They lived beautiful stories ... but also stories with an unhappy end.

I was laughing with Mahima defining this life in the country side cause we believed for such a long time that life is much interesting in the city ... ignoring the advantages of an environment where everyone is knowing everyone. Playing this immoral game ... the dance of energies is so damn attractive ... but also so dangerous ... but maybe we should not judge those people ... as we do now ... defining them.

We should respect the right of the human being of hoping that this Universe can get them the so wanted ... happiness. Immoral or not ... we have the fundamental right to be happy.

No judging. Analyzing maybe yes.

And maybe me and Mahima ... should copy that model also ... to have a much interesting life.

"I see so, so many signs ... but i just can't focus on love anymore"

Few days ago ... i've met Anna on the streets.
She almost did not noticed me.
Was walking thinking ...
Certainly She was not in this world.
"Anna! Anna!" ... i call her.
Smiles seeing me ... forgetting for a second about ... her thoughts that made her look so unhappy.
"How are you my dear friend?!"
We hug each other ... so happy of seeing each other.
"Listen ... Anna you don't look so happy. What is going on with you?!"
"I am not happy anymore by a long, long time ... yes ... but i an happy now cause i see you."
I knew Anna for more than 20-25 years.
We used to be close friends ... but ... the time did not let us anymore to see each other how we used to do in the past.
"Listen ... Gabriel ... i somehow lost myself.
And is not that i can't see any reason to be happy ... but ... i simple had enough waiting and waiting and waiting ...as a change to appear in my life."
"So ... you don't love him anymore."
"It's not that i don't love him, but the connection is ... fucked up."

"So ... why you don't restart your life?!"

"Well ... i see so, so many signs everywhere ... but i can't focus on love anymore"

I smile ... listening to my dear ... Anna .. so i say to her ...

"You know i wrote so many books about love. What if i should give you love lessons in private?!"

Anna started to laugh.

"So .. how those love lessons should be like?! Will we have sex also ... to learn about the passion of being together?!"

"Well ... we will do whatever love is about.

But i could be your teacher ... and you could be my teacher. Even if it sounds as a weird experiment ... it might help us a lot both of us.

You see ... i believe that most of relationships fail because of the lack of informations about what a relationship really is, but also means for our souls.

With the right knowledge ... but also being connected to the soulmate ... everything goes in the right direction.

And ... we should have some sex sessions also to explore the meaning of passion ... of connecting to the partner ... of wanting to be together of becoming one."

Anna smiles again.

"You are crazy ... as you always had been like that ... but you know what?!"

We should do it.

We are so good friends by such a long time ... so i will not have any risk to fall in love with you.

Love lessons ... yes ... amazing idea.

Me your teacher.

You ... my teacher.

Or we should say ... therapist?!

Oh no ... does not sound good.

Teacher is a much better term for that."

"Yes.

So let's choose a hotel ... and meet there.

Needs to be a beautiful one ... with a big room ... a large balcony also ... to see and enjoy the view of the city from there."

Anna smiles one more time.

I succeeded to make her forget about her ... unhappiness.

It all looked like i was the devil, speaking about the temptation of exploring a dangerous ... game.

It was almost like i was inviting her to play ... a role in a love story ... but still ... we were both wondering ... what if in one point we will believe that the story is ... real?!

But on the other hand ... we both needed those love lessons in private.

We failed so, so many times ... in the real life, in all the love stories ... that we were involved in ... so this idea could probably be a great trick.

And still ... what if i would fall in love of my live teacher?!

The question was repeated in my mind on and on and on

You are so damn beautiful, but you ... look so unhappy

It might sound so immoral but over the years i probably chatted with hundreds or even thousands of ladies.

And i did that with ... joy.

... and still do it ... with joy.

I love to write about all those ladies.

They inspires me all the time by so many years.

But ... truth be told ... Luiza is different and a special person for my soul.

Saw her instagram story today and she is so damn beautiful.

If you would see her on the street ... you would fall in love with her ... in the next second.

And if i am honest enough ... i should admit that i like her ... a lot.

There are also moments ... when i adore her.

But even if she is so, so beautiful ... the paradox is that she is looking ... so unhappy.

Always caring a fake beautiful vibe ... I somehow see behind that mask ... and i can't see anything that has to do with happiness.

She is a beautiful woman.

... gorgeous i should even say.

She carries indeed a fake beautiful ... vibe.

And she really is a beautiful ... soul.

A MARRIED MAN ... PERCEPTIONS ABOUT ... LOVE

philosophical essays

That's why i adore her ... but still ... behind that beautiful mask ... the unhappiness is revealed for me so, so easy. And i write her a message with beautiful compliments ... but wondering why the hell ... such a gorgeous lady ... is so ... so unhappy?!

As usual Luiza sent me a smile.

... a smile ... revealing her unhappiness ... again ... and again. She certainly knew that i was right.

For both affirmations ... that she is not carrying in her soul ... the real joy of being alive ... but also her beauty as a woman. But ... i loved staying connected to her.

It was always a pleasure ... to admire her.

I really saw In her eyes a symbol of feminine beauty.

And i continued thinking what about all the other ladies i know ... being also extremely beautiful?!

How they really are?!

What value has the beauty if it does not have the right combination with ... the joy?!

Sometimes sex ... can repair what is ... broken.
But sometimes is too late ... and even sex is ... useless

Once .. a plastic surgeon doctor told me after his divorce
"Listen ... the connection between us was so bad at that moment, that even having sex was ... horrible."

I looked at him ... and wondered myself ... how the hell sex can be defined as ... horrible?!

Then ... i had the chance to experience that also ... years later.

It was absolutely ... a total nonsense and i could not understand what is going on.

So I've asked myself what if my friend was right?!
What if the connection ... being fucked up ... everything has to do with that person ... is a total mess?!

And i agreed ... that there are also situations when sex can be ... horrible.

I could not believe that this nonsense situation ... could be real.

But why?!

Well ... truth be told sometimes sex can repair what is broken
.... but sometimes is just too late.

We brake connections cause we accepted into our hearts ... to hate, to be annoyed, to betrayal ... to let the negative side of us to overwhelm us.

Sex Is not making sense anymore.

Simple ... becomes ... useless.

And you understand in that moment that there is only one cure ... or maybe 2.

One is let the time heal everything and most probably stop being in contact with that person for a long, long time.

Second path ... which is actually the most difficult one ... is make a total shift ... and replace hate and all the other negative emotions with ... love.

... unconditional love.

And don't worry ... cause results will come soon.

What you started to define as .. horrible ... becomes again a nice experience, then good ... and in the end it can be redefined ... one more time as ... amazing.

We somehow realize that sex ... tells everything about the connection ... if it's good, bad ... or broken.

It measures it in an amazing way ... and those feelings are always telling the truth ... the real truth.

So ... just pay attention to that detail.

A secret love story ... the secret place where we can hide by the unwanted reality that we dislike so, so much

It does not happen so often that we hear someone that could say with real honesty that is happy.

... that everything is ... perfect.

It's not that happy people are not existing or they never existed on this planet.

We should really not see them as an unreal concept, cause i really believe that happiness exists for real.

The only problem is that happiness is not a state that last ... so long.

... unfortunately.

But why?!

I always had this damn question in my mind.

The good part is that unhappiness is not lasting forever either ... even if it takes usually much longer time to disappear.

So what can we conclude?!

How can an adult have a life ... lived in a non ending state of happiness?!

Can such a story be real?!

Well ... well ... well ...

But maybe we should start from the question ... what stop happiness to be eternal?!

Maybe the outside world?!

... all the energies that surround us?!

So ... a weird idea came into my mind what if we should live also in a secret parallel Universe?!

... like a love story ... that should be kept totally secret ... totally protected by influences came from the outside world. Could be ... with a person that you like a lot ... or ... even a love story ... with your own soul ... practicing solitude as much as possible.

But i am sure ... it sounds so ... weird ... that we should not even dare to think of such a scenario.

And still ... this balance between happiness and unhappiness is so annoying ... especially cause is mainly dominated by ugly energies came from ... what we name reality.

We continue analyzing... on and on and on.

Defining reality ... in the end ... becomes so obvious that happiness should last much longer in the absence of the exterior factors.

So ... ?!

Does the theory with a secret love story ... worth to be tried?!

Can we also think about solitude as a love story with our inner soul?! ... helping us to live in a parallel reality much better than the one from the real world.

Maybe all those ideas ... are not simple nonsense theories ... but real nice tricks ... for creating a perfect world ... that can make us remain in a non ending state of happiness.

So ... maybe we should try it ...

Some do not leave because they have to split their fortune and others because they have nothing to leave with

Peter was accidentally met Anna at the train station.
He knew her from the high school, but they did not had the chance to talk so much over the years.
And even if they liked each other ... still ... it looked like it will be no connection between them in this lifetime.
But Peter found the guts to go to her and say "Hey Anna! Nice to see you again after so many years! How are you?!"
Anna was ... sad, but tries to send a smile to Peter:
"Hey Peter! What to say?! I had better days as this one. I am going ... to nowhere ... cause i don't really know where i am going.
I simple have no destination.
I will just take the first train and go to the unknown.
And in fact i don't even care where i go, as long as i am not staying in this village anymore."
"Hahaha!
You know what?! I was so unhappy before meeting you ... but now i am laughing.
I had a big fight with my wife and ... i came to the train station to take a train to ... nowhere.
It looks like we go in the same direction. ... so we can go together.”

“You are joking ... Peter”

“No ... i am not.”

They started to laugh ... then ... of the situation itself.

It was certainly weird to go to the train station and plan to go to ... nowhere.

“Peter ... why you came to the train station ... what do you really plan?!”

“Well Anna ... to tell you the truth ... i have few businesses and if i would divorce ... i should be in the position of splitting this fortune with my wife .. which i really hate.

I worked for so many years and she never helped me with anything at all.

So ... the only option i have today is to ... run away from home and ...”

“I know .. same as me.

But i am in the opposite situation.

Some do not leave because they have to split their fortune and others because they have nothing to leave with.

So my only option today is indeed going to ... nowhere.

What can you do without money?!”

“So well said ... Anna ... what i can tell you is that with or without money the situation is the same.”

And indeed the same situation ... even if it has totally different perspectives ... it might be about the same thing ... the courage we have in front of a big change.

But still ... is so damn easy to blame ... circumstances.

Being in the position of having a miserable life ... we do believe that going to ... nowhere ... is the only option.

Nowhere means ... the decision to follow no destination ... or delay one more time everything ... until the Universe will decide to help us.

Nowhere also means ... the indecision ... to accept that the big chance you have to do is ... a must.

But ... you see ... it's much easier to delay ...

And the question is until when?!

Always tell a ... beautiful story

I've been driving.

I was in the city center ... and suddenly i see a pauper dressed as Charlie Chaplin.

He was looking so, so much like him.

My wife opened the window and gave him few pennies ... impressed of the idea.

The kids were smiling ... adoring him.

The guy made all of us ... smile and then laugh.

And i was thinking ... how the hell can a pauper be so brilliant?!

And i call him brilliant cause ... for only few pennies he offered us ... joy.

He knew how to tell a story ... into a beautiful way.

He could pretend that he had a disease, or that his family is starving ... or that his house burned out ...or any other lie but he decided to act as a cute pauper that is bringing joy to the people that are driving into the city center.

For a second i really had the illusion that i met Charlie Chaplin for real.

And it was a pleasure seeing him.

Then ... on the way back to our home ... i was thinking on and on what if all of us could be so brilliant as this pauper?!

Cause somehow ... all of us are ... paupers.

We ask all kinds of things ... money and lots of other possessions ... or love ... but we always ask for something.

A MARRIED MAN ... PERCEPTIONS ABOUT ... LOVE

philosophical essays

And if no one is listening to what we ask ... we start asking to the Universe.

On and on and on.

But what if before asking anything ... we could bring a little bit of joy in the soul of those people that we interact with?!

Acting differently ...

Smiling ...

And sending ... beautiful vibes.

Most probably we should not even ask ... cause they will offer us anything we dream about.

Might be an interesting test ... but too bad we are so dogmatic ... and we can't really understand the example of that pauper disguised in Chaplin.

The connection between 2 souls can't be defined in a theoretic way ...
unless those people interact into the real world

My friend Will calls me from time to time telling me about his love stories.

He actually likes my theory about ... analyzing, defining ... that in the end to redefine whatever we don't like on the scene of our lives.

It happened that in the last time Will was trying to start a new love story with Emma.

But after 2 years ... still ... nothing happened.

It's not that in that time he did not any other dates ... but he was still dreaming about her.

Talking to me Will suddenly realized that that he don't even have her phone number.

Had thousands of numbers in his mobile phone ... but he never saw that a very important one is missing.

They were actually talking for years ... but treated their relationship into a theoretical way.

It was nice communicating one with another ... but the real meeting was always delayed.

And my friend ... but also Emma ... keep wondering themselves ... how a relationship between the 2 of them would look like?!

Was it a good connection?!

... or just looked like a good one?!

Would everything come by itself?!

What if the connection just looked perfect ... and in fact it was no connection at all?!

Why was she afraid to meet him for real ... besides the fact that they were both married?!

But the final question Will had for me was ... should we analyze and define a connection with another soul ... if we don't have the chance to interact with that person in the real world?!

Well ... the truth was that they liked each other.

The long talks on chat ... the looks from the few occasions when they met in traffic ... everything was saying that it was something interesting between the 2 of them ... but ... why should we bother to define everything into a theoretical way ... when we can taste life for real?!

Having the guts to live ... to enjoy the beautiful connections with the other souls is actually an experience that we should have ... anytime the chance is appearing to us.

Yes ... i have to admit it ... analyzing and defining it ... without tasting the connection ... is useless ...

Unfortunately sometimes ... a perfect case scenario is ending up because of stupidity ...

We lose so much time defining and dreaming about perfect case scenarios but somehow we always fail when it really happens.

And saw it for real ... on the timeline of my life, but also had been seeing so many people around me ... living the same scenario.

Sometimes ... it was repeated on and on and on ... but we cannot really understand what is happening.

I also believe that in fact we cannot accept that perfect case scenarios can be part of our lives and if it happens we treat it as an illusion that we must get rid of.

And we start to let our stupid side ... to fuck up everything is going on.

Not believing that what happens can be real ... we act in a way that redefines that scenario.

We simple ... act so stupid.

We .. betrayal ... and we do so, so many other things ... that destroy the beauty of that connection ... till the moment when the only thing left to do is ... leave that story.

I smile remembering my philosophical talks with my dear friend Clara when i was telling her about a beautiful love story ended because of her betrayal ... but also of what i used to define as ... her stupidity.

Clara smiled listening to me but replied so ironic ... "Yes! This is how all the women are ... stupids. And we love betrayal."

I could not believe that she agrees with me ... then ... later on ... i saw the irony.

Most probably she was right.

Both men and women act stupid on the scene of life.

And being so naive ... i thought that only the women do that ... but the men ... were acting the same.

The human mind even if loses so, so much time making plans, defining so many beautiful scenarios ... has not the ability to enjoy the life itself.

We are ... ridiculous...

Perfect case scenarios can be real ... but ... we are so, so silly to connect to them ... cause when it happens ... we start dreaming of another perfect case scenario ... not knowing to stop and taste that moment of perfection ...

Driving to ... nowhere my private destination

She loved to drive ... and also loved her beautiful car.
In fact every time i saw her with a good vibe ... it was when she was driving ... listening to beautiful music.

And i kept wondering myself if it was because of the vibes induced by her car ... or maybe it was the music?!

But i somehow realized that i was doing the same thing.
In fact ... it was kind of a hobby ... driving to nowhere ... everyday.

I was analyzing my dear friend Emma, but it was like i was actually looking in a ... mirror.

We looked so much alike ... as souls.

Driving ... somehow was similar for us ... with running away ... and the vibe of music gave us the gut to to do it.

But still ... we were acting so ... silly.

Nowhere was not a real destination ... even if for us became ... a hobby.

I was chatting few times a day with her ... and i was smiling all the time when i was seeing the similarities between the 2 of us, even if somehow it looked like she was living in a parallel universe cause we never succeeded to meet.

One day ... while meditating ... and thinking of Emma ... trying to understand her ... and still having the hope that i will understand myself also ... i realized that "going to nowhere"

... was actually a hidden desire of searching for ... our lost souls.

I was smiling while i was watching Emma ... cause it was so damn easy to look, analyze and define her but when i was coming back to myself ... i've been so blind ...

So ... Emma became my teacher ... for deeply understanding this daily nonsense journey that looked like i was looking for ... nothing.

And to be honest ... and tell you the truth ... i loved to watch her

I was admiring her beauty ... realizing that probably the day when i will see her stop going to nowhere ... being actually a mirror of myself ... i will see my life changed also.

... or at least this is what i hoped ...

“When it comes about sex ... please remember i have a bed at home too.
So ... use your fantasy better ... ”

Long time ago ... i had the chance to meet an amazing lady from Berlin ...Ella.

She was blond ... and very, very beautiful.

If i would cheat my wife ... i'd love to do it with her.

100% i won't feel sorry for that.

But you see ... somehow me and Ella became great friend ... and we had the chance to define together how a woman and a man sees the world.

Totally different... perspectives that i never thought about ... and it was really helpful for me to understand from her ... the feminine way of seeing the life itself.

One day me and Ella started to talk about ... cheating ... but also about totally redefine things when we start a new relationship.

She wanted to hear my opinion about ... why do we cheat and ... why should we look for the same things that we have at home also.

Or ... why should we start a new love story that is looking a lot with the last one?!

Ella was smiling saying ironically to me “Listen! Let's hypothetical imagine that i would want to cheat my boyfriend with you and i am sure you would love this example.

So ... by cheating ... we understand most of the times ... having sex.

But when it comes about sex ... please remember i have a bed at home too.

So ... use your fantasy better ... my dear Gabriel.

And now the questions are ... why should i cheat my boyfriend doing with you the same things that i do with him ... or why should i start a real relationship with you ... in the same parameters like with him?!

And when i am telling you all those things I am speaking like a woman ... from a feminine perspectives.

Maybe my crazy side would tell me one day to do it ... but i would love to be totally different.

I would dare to say that i dream to have sex in the car ... in a forest ... or maybe in the parking from the mall.

Or ... in the elevator.

Somehow my wild side is saying ... everything needs to be totally different.

Otherwise ... what sense should it make?!

I know you are dreaming about a fantasy with me ... since the first moment we've met ... but ... try to make an effort ... and use your fantasy better.

Think different ... otherwise it's all a total nonsense."

I started to laugh ... hearing Ella.

"Your example is so fucking nice.

I love your theories ... and i do understand that it's all a philosophical game ... all what you are saying.

You are right.

But we are non sense practitioners.

And it's not about cheating ... even if it is such a good example all what you just said.

The worst part is that we don't see the meaning of the past relationships.

We just can't see it.

We don't understand the meaning of the sex in the car ... in the forest ... or in the parking from the mall.

We forget about adrenaline ...

Yes ... we are so fucking idiots ... starting new stories on and on and on ... but acting in the same boring way.

I am a writer that writes fantasy ... and i am so damn silly that i dreamed of having sex with you ... but totally ignored the concept of adrenaline and its meaning.

We are boring creatures ... acting in a repetitive way on and on and on."

Ella was right.

I finally got her message ... which by the way was not about sex, but about how borings we are as creatures.

We know the theoretical concepts about ... fantasies ... but we act just repeating old stories on and on and on.

Ella had spoken on my language ... telling me about sex ... defining my silly fantasy with her ... but reminding me that we always forget ... to start acting differently.

Or maybe we should allow ourselves ... be wild ... at least from time to time.

Cheating is not so immoral as it might look like ... but it's somehow about bringing a new type of energy into our relationships ... an energy that we usually don't know how to control ... and we even end up being dominated by it.

What we define as immoral by thousands of years is actually the fact that most certainly we might bring bad vibes at home ... but for all the ones that know how to deal with energies ... everything is seen totally different.

Today ... i personally believe that what we named as immoral ... starts to be seen as a nonsense.

Well ... there are lots of voices that will say something against my affirmations ... but ... i strongly feel that i know what i am talking about.

You see ... all stories even if they start in a good way ... unfortunately the time is eroding everything.

And what used to be a positive story that was bringing us good vibes no matter what was going on becomes a story that is showing us the negative side of life.

So ... how everything continues?!

Well the individual is running away ... in someone else's arms ... for a short time ... but

And the feeling is so ... damn good.

Feeling alive again ... in fact feeling that amazing energy of the beginning ...

Then that person is coming back.

With a great vibe ... we even have the hope that ... the relationship from home can be somehow reinvented ... cause we just remembered how it was the beginning.

The meaning of cheating was mainly ... a reminder.

It all looked so immoral, but after 2-3 times it all looks like some private lessons about how to manage things so that you can keep a beautiful relationship with the partner.

And i am laughing writing and reading ... that.

But after analyzing and defining so many situations like that my perspectives were totally redefined.

I somehow understand that no one would cheat if everything would be ok ... in the story with the partner.

And truth be told cheating will always be a way of ... surviving.

An escape ... that is bringing a totally different energy.
In the end it all becomes a story of dealing with energies.
But can energies be redefined?!

Can we bring the right ones for the couple?!

What is the best way we should act in life?!

Should we accept cheating as an option?!

Or ... just define it as immoral ... and reject dealing with those energies, hoping that the time will somehow redefine everything for us into a positive way?!

Well ... the questions look so contradictory and i don't even want to hear all the answers ...

They will be so, so ... different ... and actually annoying for listening all those theories.

The truth is that there is no absolute truth.

What we define as immoral... cause we've been taught like that from thousands of years ago ... might be a thought that needs to be redefined.

Anchored a in a certain energy ... being maybe the prisoner of it cheating becomes an option that allows us to restart ourselves ... to understand the game of energies ... and to learn how we can redefine our lives ... cause a big part of this story called life means the relationship with that person that might be or not ... the real soulmate.

Or maybe we are in the life when karma and dharma are more important as anything else ... so being always in the "wrong story" ... is just a silly perspectives ... not realizing what is actually going on.

A MARRIED MAN ... PERCEPTIONS ABOUT ... LOVE

philosophical essays

So I would even say today ... with lots of courage that cheating can be medicine ... very good for most of the relationships ... cause we know that many of them simple ... don't work.

"Changing ... the air" ... just a little bit ... will probably redefine everything, but it's only your decision if you take from those episodes the good or the bad vibes ...

Just let the silence ... begin

There are lots of times when we feel that we lost control on everything means our lives.

And we try to solve all those problems but it's all useless. No matter what we should try ... nothing is improving the situation.

Just saw few minutes ago a movie on tik tok with a dear friend of mine.

She was at the beach, drinking champagne and waiting as her lover to come and join her.

Her last few months were just ... horrible.

Lots of problems in her carrier, with some close friends ... and even with that person that she loved so much.

She tried more and more ... to redefine all those things that she did not liked in her life, but still ... all the efforts were in vain.

But one day she woke up ... took her bag with clothes, went to the train station ... and left to the seaside.

On the train ... watching the window ... she started to have a new perspective over all what was going on.

And ... on the beach, hearing the waves of the sea ... totally disconnected from what she defined as her current life ... realized that what she has was not the real life that she wants to have.

Started to feel calm and totally forget about the silly desire of controlling a reality that is never the way she dreamed about.

She abandoned ... all her feelings and emotions and suddenly felt silence in her soul.

Asked someone to create that amazing reel that inspired ... inner and outer silence ... and posted it on social media. She hoped that her lover will see the second glass of champagne and will move his ass and come and join her right away.

Closing her eyes ... she connects to the Universe and the secret was revealed to her.

And suddenly... she realized how silly she was believing that those problems from the timeline of her life ... were real. But in a totally different environment... feeling that the silence was dominating her soul ... her perspectives were totally redefined.

She felt great again ... disconnected of the reality from home. In fact ... it was only one thing missing ... that she wanted from the scene from home ... and that was her lover. She loved him ... and he loved her also.

In fact ... they adored each other.

And to enjoy the beauty of life they simple needed another environment for that.

You see ... the beach, the sea, the champagne ... were creating the perfect environment ... for their love story ... and she made the mistake of connecting and remained connected to her reality from home ... for such a long, long time.

She totally forgot about this trick of switching environments ... and in the end of switching realities ... but ... she was happy now.

And everything started to be the way she dreamed about ... in the moment when the silence overwhelmed her new scene of life.

So ... just connect to the silence ... and embrace it.

It will induce the ... perfect scenario ... right away.

Many times in life we act so silly that we lose our main purpose

I saw over the years so, so many people in love.
But ... unfortunately i also saw them failing to act in the proper way into that love story.
And even if it all looked like they lived in another Universe a place totally different than my Universe ... things changed.
To make you smile ... i can tell you that ... even after so many years of analyzing and defining those people ... i still have in my mind their stories.
It happened like that ... cause i admired them ... a lot, but only until one day when i started to laugh seeing how they act in that story knowing actually the end of that scenario.
And maybe i should say that i know all about those kind or stories ... first ... because i made the same mistakes also.
On and on and on.
Later on ... i discovered it ... after analyzing and defining all those people, but also myself ... that the main problem is that we don't know how to act on the scene of life.
We simple act.
... and we act so, so silly.
And unfortunately.... we somehow lose our main purpose ... to be ok in a beautiful connection.
Probably we forgot ... what we actually wanted from that relationship, cause usually the normal way we are acting ... in most of the cases ... is simple ruining the connection.

No one ever bothered to teach us ... how we should act in a love story.

Even if in the beginning ... something from inside of us is dominating our behavior, our words ... our everything ... and the story itself looks like the perfect case scenario ... the balance between the 2 worlds starts to appear.

Today we act ... nice.

Tomorrow ... we look as negative characters.

Then this game continues as that on and on and on.

And ... indeed we lose the main purpose ... to be happy ... and protect the beauty of the connections with those special people from our lives.

Acting silly ... is the best definition of all what we can do.

The result?!

Unfortunately... not a beautiful one ... but maybe it's all a lesson that keep repeating on and on and on ... till we understand the difference between how we act in the real life and the universe from the love story.

And as long as we know to keep separate those stories life will remain beautiful.

Otherwise ...

Just one more time.
... truth be told some connections
we love so much that no matter what is going on ... we want to come back there on and on and on.

I wrote many books with love essays.
And i loved writing them.
Maybe it was the same story defined from one million perspectives ... or the love concept itself.
But you see ... it's a little bit funny ... cause today i started to believe that maybe it was just about the connection.
I use to talk a lot about this concept.
With my readers, but especially with my dear friend Carla ... which pretends that she does not know what a connection is.
She is in an unhappily marriage, but still remembers the beautiful moments that she spent with her ex lover.
She's always repeating to me ... "We lost so, so much..."
"You lost what, Carla?!"
"Well ... we lost so many beautiful moments ..."
I love when i have the chance to talk with her.
Like that, i start to understand the meaning of the feminine perspective about life itself.
And she is so abstract ... while describing me her thoughts and ... feelings.

Sometimes i cannot understand her but helps me a lot the fact that i feel connected to her soul ... and somehow i feel what she tries to explain to me ... not from her words ... but from the vibes that she is sending to me.

Yes ... i have to admit it.

It's too difficult to understand a woman and probably the only chance to understand something it's by connecting to ... her soul.

And i was watching Carla while she was explaining me her theories ... but i suddenly realize that she was in a weird balance between karma and dharma.

But still ... even if no word was saying it ... i felt that she really wants to taste at least one more time from the connection with that weird guy that she used to love so much.

So was it love?!

Was she still in love with him?!

Disappointed by the husband, but also about her lover ... she was still chasing about ... the connection.

You see ... things are again ... so abstract.

I try to understand Carla ... and again ... i just can't.

The real question is ... why should she come back in the arms of that lover ... if she was disappointed so, so many times by him?!

Maybe he is not capable of understanding what ... she wants. Carla smiles to me ... "Gabriel! You will never understand us ... the women.

You just can't.

Like that idiot that i loved so, so much.

A MARRIED MAN ... PERCEPTIONS ABOUT ... LOVE

philosophical essays

You see I felt the connection in his arms.
But it was the connection with ... the Infinite.
He made me have feelings that i will never have in my real life ... and i never had with my husband.
That jerk ... my dear lover ... even if he disappointed me one million times ... let me see the gateway to another universe ... the one of love.
So ... that is the reason i always want ... just one more time to be with him.
I want the connection again.
And when i can't stand reality anymore ... i just say ... damn it ... and i go and meet him again.
He makes me feel alive.
So i ask you ... what if the meaning of our lives if we can't feel alive?!"
I smiled listening to her ... balancing between understanding and not understanding ... my dear Carla.
And then ... I kept wondering myself what the hell is this weird connection about?!
Why there are days when i understand it ... and days when i just can't understand the concept?!
Or maybe i should say ... that i have days when i am connected and days when i am not connected ... to the Universe.

He only wanted her from time to time ... but why?!

I was at the coffee shop with Paul and Brian.
But i was so absent ...
I was with ... my thoughts.
As always they were talking about ... ladies.
Brian was showing us a pictures of an amazing lady from instagram ... asking rhetorically ... "How would my life look like ... if i would meet this amazing soul from time to time?"
Paul smiles ... asking ... "How would my life look like if i would wake up every morning near such a lady?!"
Well ... such a different perspective.
Brian wants to eat a cake from time to time but Paul
Or maybe Paul ... loves cookies more than Brian.
So ... i continue meditating, drinking my lovely coffee and asking myself ... should we taste life everyday ... or just from time to time?!

Are we allowed to connect to the power of pleasures all the time ... or the whole meaning of this illusory concept ... is just to taste it occasionally?!

I look again at the picture Brian showed us.
The lady was looking like ... an angel.
But maybe she was just disguised into an angel ... being in fact ... a devil.
Maybe Brian wanted to taste only that beautiful side the 3 of us saw at her.

He was not really believing that her beauty was real.

And maybe Paul ... was more optimistic ... or simple loved ... the illusions.

I started to laugh realizing how silly we are.

Being at a little bit more than 40 ... all we talk about ... is ... about ladies.

5 years ago ... it was the same.

10 years ago ... also.

15 years ago ... the same.

Maybe the time did not changed us.

But the truth is that we have 2 subjects we talk about ... one being the ladies ... and the second one ... is the illusion of life.

We actually were always in love with this concept ... which we define as ... illusion.

And knowing that it's all an illusion ... we divided the world of illusions in 2 scenarios ... the beautiful and the ugly one.

You see ... me, Paul and Brian ... have studied for example ... the lives of the people that lived in nazi concentration camps. The ones that survived ... most probably understood this weird concept of ... illusions.

But it was ... so damn ugly.

And maybe me, Paul and Brian ... have a better karma as them.

We live the illusion ... by admiring the beauty of the feminine spirit.

Most probably ... our talks ... could be a good material for a best seller about the subject.

So ... we are lucky guys.

A MARRIED MAN ... PERCEPTIONS ABOUT ... LOVE

philosophical essays

Our karma is not so bad ... cause we live ... beautiful illusions
... not having the destiny of those people from world war II.
But i smile ... cause an illusion ... is just an illusion.
It might appear in a beautiful or an ugly way in our lives ...
but ... still ... it's all ... an illusion.
And truth be told ... we love illusions.
We want to taste them ... cause they make us ... feel alive ...
at least for a short moment.

It's Monday and my garden looks the same. Does not care about ... the standards so why should i care?!

I am analyzing my garden all the time.
I used to have a gardener years ago, but not anymore.
It looked perfect at that time ... but now i should define it ...
as a little bit ... wild.
On the other hand i believe that wild means ... natural ... so maybe it looks more natural now.
I used to feel great in this garden, until i fucked the connection with my wife.
Now the only moments when i can connect to the vibration of the garden is when i am actually alone at home ... or i am so tired that i can't run anywhere else.
I analyzed a lot its vibration.
It's somehow funny realizing for example ... Monday morning ... that my garden is not caring of the standards.
It has the same vibration like it had 2 or 3 days ago.
Yes ... indeed my garden was not caring about ... how we define those days in a standard way Monday, Tuesday etc.
But us ... the humans ... need to care for it.
We had been taught to respect and pay lots of attention to the days of week.
We can live with the hope in the soul that we are allowed to have a good vibration cause it's Friday ... then Saturday we can totally relax and forget about anything else ... but Sunday we are again stressed that a new week will start soon.

So ... Monday morning ... staying in my garden ... admiring its beauty, hearing the birds ... analyzing in fact the vibration of the place ... i realize how stupids we are ... creating a schedule for allowing ourselves to have beautiful vibes.

Maybe something is missing from my life that i allow this ... to happen.

Or maybe ... someone is missing.

Someone that could whisper me ... about beautiful vibes ... from Monday to Sunday ... that life is beautiful and all we need to do is to enjoy it.

But until then ... i connect to my wild garden, listening to its vibe ... living with the hope that i am still young and that ... someone ... will appear one day ...

“Same as in the times of Inquisition
... i’ve been accused that i live in a parallel world.
But why?!”

Not being happy in his marriage ... David decides to come to me and talk a little bit.

But instead of wanting to detail all what was going on with him ... he asks me to reveal the secrets of ... self therapy.

Usually Nolene is naming that ... self coaching ... but i prefer the term ... therapy.

Sounds more ... realistic.

So ... i started to talk with him ... explaining the fact that for beginning such a process ... being very honest with himself is extremely important.

And i tell him ...

“Listen to me David!

Would be amazing to know the whole story.

That could let me tell you ... the first steps you must follow.”

David smiles...

“Gabriel! I am in this marriage by such a long time.

It was just ruining me emotionally, but i decided to not divorce ... because of the kids.

I remained at home ... but i started to live in an inner world.

My wife started to see that ... and disliked this idea too ... as all the other ideas ... i had.

She did not want to have a good relationship, but also refused to accept this type of relationship.

Basically i was at home ... but not at home.

And one day she started to accuse me of the fact that i live in a parallel universe ... and she can't stand anymore to live near such a person ... as myself.

But how can she do that?!

Are we still living in the times of Inquisition?!"

I almost started to laugh.

David was living a nightmare not understanding that the nightmare itself ... was an illusion.

He felt himself the victim ... but the wife was believing the same about herself.

I started to believe that not even therapy could be enough for them.

Maybe it was a mix of therapy with self therapy ... that they needed.

But they were running away one of another.

It was funny to see that David became the prisoner of his inner world, somehow being an introvert ... but also watching the blindness of his wife ... i really started to laugh of the situation.

They maybe needed me to explain the concept of self therapy ... but also Nolene to have a third part that could connect them ... with a little bit of coaching.

But 100% ... it was a total disaster.

Like in ... many, many other couples.

David continued to tell me so many other weird things ... that i realized i need to continue with Nolene our efforts of defining what therapy and self therapy means.

Also ... most important to define better ... our blindness ... as a man and as a woman.

... as a single woman ... and as a married man.

Maybe reading other people's stories ... analyzing and defining factors that can be seen in our lives too ... it all becomes more obvious for us.

Understanding the outside world ... other views about relationship, couples, connections ... we see life from totally different perspective and that might help me a lot.

Can such a concept as "inquisition" ... be pronounced ... in our days?!

Or the mind itself created those illusions ... that are cutting the connection?!

Too many questions and also too many theories ... but maybe there is no absolute truth and the only trick is in fact to ... see life from many, many perspectives.

Therapy .. coaching ... could help you understand the methods used for analyzing and defining life.

Self therapy is actually ... the next step.

By meditation we can see everything ... from one million points of view ... and in one point practice detachment of the whole scene of life.

Then ... the illusion of the self ... might disappear.. or at least we are one step much closer of understanding ... that the Inquisition can't be real ... in any modern relationship.

And we can start ... laughing.

... and why not ... embrace the other side.

But i know ... theory is simple.

Very, very simple ... and the blindness continues being part of our lives.

It's all about knowing to switch ... frequencies

Truth be told ... we do not know to keep a balanced life ... and split ourselves ... in a way so that we cover every important aspects that have to do with us.

That is the reason why we end up ... being good and happy about few of the things that are defining our existence ... but ... still ... we are unhappy about many other important issues. And when we make the balance ... analyzing our lives ... we realize ... or have this illusory idea ... that we are ... unhappy. But why?!

Well ... maybe we know to act as a good spouse, but not a good parent.

Maybe the job is not satisfying us ... and we don't have such a good career, but still everybody is defining us as ... amazing friends.

The list of covering all the aspects of life is infinite ... but the main idea is that we've excelled at some things ... but not at everything.

And all the other things that don't look perfect ... are creating kind of a silly unhappiness ... very difficult to be cured.

So?!

What we do?!

Well ... first of all we should meditate.

Read books about personal growth, philosophy, psychology...

and everything is defining life.

A coach ... should be ... just great.

Might sound weird, but many succeeded in life ... with the help of a coach.

It's a trick for creating a shortcut ... to have someone that is presenting yourself most of the methods that could make you understand your life.

But the main argument for me ... when i talk about self therapy is that the coach will not be always there.

Being or not helped ... we should always analyze and define what is going on with us.

At the end ... understanding all the aspects ... we should just redefine what we don't like.

But how?!

Well ... maybe by taking this simple decision of demanding yourself to switch the frequency.

... from being a bad spouse ... to a good one.

... replace a boring career with a ... beautiful one.

... even if you know that you never had been a good parent ... just think of how you could switch to being a good one and connect to your kid.

The self therapy ... of analyzing, defining and then simple redefine what you don't like is kind of an update for your mental software, that is allowing you in the end to have a perfect case scenario in all the aspects from your life.

So ... what i try to define now ... as the method of switching frequencies ... is actually ... an amazing way in how we can we can replace the negative attributes of our personality with positive ones.

Yes ... many, many times we are just ... one decision away and understanding that the decision itself is helping a lot on switching of being on the low frequency mode ... to a beautiful ... but totally different way of ... being.

So ... i have the guts to affirm that being good or bad in absolutely any scenario that the Universe is inducing in our lives ... is just a decision.

The one ... of knowing how to switch frequencies.

The Devil was inside ... but how the hell could i get it out?!

I looked at her and she was still ... beautiful.
Years ago they looked so happy together.
But today ... things were totally different.
Things changed so, so much.
He looked sad all the time and i could say that she was angry all the time when i accidentally saw her.
So ... what really happened?!
Why that amazing love story disappeared?!
Why they got lost?!

One day ... i met him, changed few words and asked ... "John
... i remember you were so, so happy together?! What really happened?!"

Sad, John .. replies ... "She has the Devil inside of her and there is nothing i can do and save our marriage."
I smiled.

I smiled ... cause i somehow chanced my perceptions about this weird concept of Devil ... and even on Angels.
Today i believe that there is no Devil, but a simple decision of connecting to different types of energies.
I don't know how this couple i know succeeded to fuck everything, how he came to the conclusion that she had the Devil in her ... how such a romantic love story was metamorphosed into something so ugly ... but ...

John believed that there was nothing he could do to get out the Devil from his spouse, but i'm really sorry that i did not had the chance to talk with her ... cause most probably she would tell me that he is possessed by the Devil.

And i start to wonder myself if this so called ugly energy that appeared is not a reaction that simple appeared in time, cause they could not pay attention to all the details, so that their story to be a non ending happy love story.

Difficult to define.

I also see the Devil as an illusory concept.

An imaginary entity invented ... just that someone to be responsible for the fact that everything was fucked up.

And i wonder myself, why the hell ... we don't change our perception and say ... "She has an Angel inside of her."

Or ... maybe she had an Angel, but also a Devil inside of her ... but John started to see more the Devil, than the Angel.

There was nothing to get rid of.

Probably just connect to the right energy.

Or ... i should advice John to ignore all his perceptions ... and try to remember those times when their story was so, so beautiful.

Make his spouse also remember that.

Cause maybe no one is responsible and even if someone is responsible ... everything can be reset anytime.

It's just a ... decision the one of remembering the good times and reconnect to that energy of the beginning.

Ignore the influences.
Just pay attention to the intuition ... always remaining connected to the real self

She simple ... had enough.
Everyone had given her advices.
Well ... today everything was different.
... a rainy day.
I was watching her ... somehow admiring her beauty ... but also listening to her beautiful philosophical ideas.
We were just friends ... but i liked her.
In fact ... a lot.
I smile and say ... "My dear! Don't worry so much about those influences.
Simple ignore them.
Connect to the inner self ... and let everything come by itself."
"I simple ... can't.
I am not capable of doing that."
But i was already connected to that self of my dear friend ...
and i knew she could do it.
I wanted to whisper her ... that confidence that i was seeing in her soul.
But ...
It was raining.

A MARRIED MAN ... PERCEPTIONS ABOUT ... LOVE

philosophical essays

... a beautiful rain.

I loved watching the rain ... and admire my dear lady friend.

We always had an amazing philosophical dance ... and we both like it a lot.

The rain was not stopping ... but everything was perfect.

Damn it ... perfection is so damn abstract ... and we can't understand it.

We have it ... but we never listen to the intuition, not being connected to the inner soul.

The ring ... maybe the symbol of the connection

I was watching them ... how they touched their rings ... and how they adored each other.

I liked them.

... a lot.

It was like i was looking at a painting that is representing love ... but it was all a ... real scene of life.

The wedding rings were a symbol of the connection.

I was in a coffee shop, close to the center ... writing at my books ... many of them about love and relationships.

I started to be a good theoretician, same as my dear friend Paul, but ... not a practitioner.

The couple in front of me ... was actually the definition of love.

Embracing each other ... touching ... seeing how they were connecting one with another, exploring and enjoying the connection induced by love ...

Well ... too bad cause they probably don't write about their love story.

Could be a much better perspective about this abstract way of living ... dominated by such beautiful emotions.

I looked again at them ... realizing that i am just a theoretician ... but they were actually enjoying the beauty of being alive.

I was writing about that beauty ... but they were living that scenario.

Actually ... i was losing my life analyzing and defining this abstract concept ... named love, not understanding that i could actually start to live ...my life ... with absolutely any scenario the Universe has to offer to me.

THE TRUTH ABOUT LIFE IS THAT ... IT'S ALL ABOUT LOVE

*You succed hiding your emotions till one day when a lovely person disturbs you so much and then you really understand that the whole meaning of life is just to see love in everything.
You will continue hiding what you feel,
just by defining the scene in an abstrat way.*

*And this is how you let love come to your soul ... under the mask of the
abstract love.*

Is real love, maybe infinite ... but you call it abstract.

And you succed hiding the truth, which is just lying yourself again and again.

ABSTRACT LOVE

A philosophical guide for imposible love stories

Introduction

There are lots of books published every year, with all kinds of theories, but not so many expressing the concept of abstract love.

I would define this a reflection of our thoughts into the real life.

We call it abstract, cause have nothing to do with the normal dogmatic way of seeing the love stories.

Real love, that perfect scenario with the perfect partner, can be seen at any age, depending of the luck our karma allows us to have.

But we want it so much, that the Universe allows us this meeting, with only one obstacle which in many cases makes the love story imposible.

Thinking in a positive way, we redefine the imposible story as an abstract one.

Being a reflection of our dreams, the story itself is a perfect one, except the fact that you cannot enjoy the story into the real word, creating the image of an illusion.

Imposible love stories are present all over the world.

After posting a long time in social media, i received messages from people from all the continents telling me about them.

The word "love" being present near the word "imposible", creates this strange, illusory and abstract way of seeing the magic of love.

The book is a collection of essays, my thoughts about the interconnection between the illusion and reality.

I used a lot the term illusion, cause we all look for perfect scenarios, especially when it comes to love, but the truth is that perfection is far, far away of reality.

We can interconnect illusions with the real world ... just through imposible love stories.

In the end, the book is a personal development writing, that allows us to understand the magic of love but also a method that teaches how to enjoy life even if we dislike the word "imposible".

ABSTRACT LOVE

Abstract love

Is very difficult to define the concept of abstract love.

Living with infinite love in the heart, but never understand how to show it ... that should be the real definition.

But we dont understand that is not necessary to express it ... real love can be felt without the presence of any word at all.

Even if we have this huge need of seeing things ... some of the them can be seen only by the soul... which sends back that infinite feeling ... called love.

Being abstract is strange ... from the dogmatic way of seeing life ... but just let the soul express everthing.

An indiscriminate hunger for appreciation or affection

Why we post our lifes on social media?!

Why we look who liked our photos?!

Why we care so much about other what people think of us?!

Art of defining life in the contemporary society should start with those 3 silly questions.

Seneca was a nice guy who lived about 2000 years ago.

If you read his thoughts, and dont know who he was ... and read especially his ideas about the mouth of the world, you might think that he is probably a professor of philosophy speaking about our society from 21st century.

So our value is defined by the mouth of the world?! It was the same 2000 years ago?!

George Soros has an interesting theory about the values on the stock markets.

He says that the values are defined by what people think that other people think.

So ... we dont speak about real values, but by prices influenced of the opinions of people involved in buying - selling process.

This is why if a group of people start to sell, they all start to sell and the values goes down and vice versa.

Letting other people define your real value in the "stock market" of social media ... in the end proves to be a silly thing.

Nobody can define your value better than you and nobody has the right to underevaluate your actual position.

Touching the horizon line is our main obsessive desire

If you ask a good business man about money and when he will stop this desire of more and more money is like if you should ask an alcoholic why he does not stop when he thinks he drunk enough.

The desire of more is part of our mental dna.

Lots of people, men and women, from all over the world, are using tinder and other apps to date ... but not just to find a soul mate but to date with as many new partners as posible.

More of them become sex addicted.

Using alcohol or drugs ... is usually ending up not just tasting ... but being addicted for life.

We usually find something we like to do and become the slaves of our pleasures.

The desire of more and more is like wanting to touch the horizon line.

You will never be able to feed enough these silly desires.

If you have the power to see this in your life and define very clear the addiction to something, step by step you can heal yourself.

Drinking is not something bad. Drinking a lot might ruin your life.

Tasting drugs in clubs just to have fun and enjoy the evening might not be the worst thing you ever did.

The problem is that in many case you loose control of the situation and "the more and more" is controling you.

This is when the addiction start to define you in silly way.

And truth be told, the horozin line cannot be touch.

In life you have the liberty to taste everything you want, but dont loose the control on yourself.

Life is beautiful as long as the moments you live define you.

If is not something you like to see ... JUST STOP.

The emotional factory

When you live the day that gives you happiness, anger, joy, anxiety ... a cocktail of different feelings ... all caused by the same person ... it means you just met your real love.

It might sound as a disaster, the fact that you just became a factory of very powerfull emotions, but remember that the infinity is everything.

Definition of being in love means to have ALL your heart can feel.

The meaning of life is to feel the joy of living and sometimes the heart sees what is invisible to the eye ... so let your emotional factory do whatever wants.

ABSTRACT LOVE

The love story

The love story appears for a reason or just for a season?!

It might happen to fall in love without realising.... in a time when you did not even thought that this could happen.

The love story comes on the time line of your life and most probably it brings to you joy and all kinds of strong emotions.

Sometimes the reason it appears is just to cure your soul ... and to be in the story for only a season is enough.

But, in the end, we should not think so much about details, but just enjoy it.

Love is life.

ABSTRACT LOVE

In love with our reflection

How's that not so long time ago you had been in love and now don't even realise how you were so idiot being in love with that person?!

What is happening is that you start seeing things that you dislike.

The energy of beginning is very strong and might create powerful illusions.

We are in love of making money ... and then we see that money don't bring the happiness.

We are in love of a person that in the end is breaking our heart and realise that was just an ugly story.

We have so many examples but somehow we cannot see them.

We are in love with our reflection ... with the mirror of our desires but everything has to do with the world of desires is just an illusion of the self.

The soul – a mix of something good, something bad and somethings dirty

We accepted to belong to the society and be what the society is.
But we dont feel well.

To feel well, you need to clean your soul.
It is a long, long process, but in the end it might be the best thing that could ever happened to you.

How you clean your soul?!

Is simple. Just accept that the soul on the stange of life is a mix of something good, something bad and something dirty.

Try to observe you and after understanding your behavior in the real life just decide to become a better self.

It might take longer that you expect things to happen, but the reason we are here is because we must discover ourself and follow the evolution of the soul.

So observe yourself, accept yourself and decide which one is the version should play on the timeline of your life.

Is just a choice.

ABSTRACT LOVE

A philosophical guide for imposible love stories

Why we loose our minds?!

Most of the times, what we call reality, is not what we have in mind to see.
Life happens to us.... life does not happen for us.

We decide to use alchol, drogs, multiple sexual relationships, make more and more money, buy expensive things, etc etc ... just to forget that we are unhappy. But we end waking up, day by day, with the same ugly feelings.
We dont feel the joy of living... and no joy at all.

The answeare?!

There is a reason things are happening in the way they are happening and most of the time we dont understand clearly what the Universe wants for us.
We need to redefine the way we see life, forget about controlling every minute and not loose our minds cause things are not happening the way we want them to happen.

If you dont know how lucky you are, make a list with all the things you have that money cant buy.
Then enjoy all those things.

Dont try to control life. Just enjoy it!

Redefine your love relationship

You stay home with the spouse and feel that you just live boring times?!

What if, just as a life experiment, you try to rediscover the person that long time before was the best love story of your life?!

Redefine the present moment from boring times to the best moment of enjoying life at home.

Life should be enjoyed in any circumstances.

And it must be filled with joy and love.

ABSTRACT LOVE

Love stories redefines by social distancing?!

Just over night love stories had been redefined.

We discuss about the #stayhome effects into the economy, but talk too little about about the souls of people that are in love or are looking for love. People started to chat a lot, and also videochat, but for the ones that dont stay under the same roof with the persons they are in love with, life is totally different in nowadays time.

The way we live the love had been redefined.

I wonder how love affairs are looking nowadays?! ... and am really curious.

Love affairs are a magic pill, just as a drug, that gives you energy to continue life in 2 different realities, one where you are not happy and one that gives you the joy of living.

But there are also teenagers in love at school that dont meet anymore, people that used tinder etc etc to meet new people and find that ideal partner that never appears ... and they cannot date anymore.

So, life is different, but how we can make our souls survive?!

Does the world goes into an era of emotional bankrupcy?!

How we going to live as this, if the situation is going on for months and months from now?!

100% Love stories had been redefined.

ABSTRACT LOVE

A philosophical guide for imposible love stories

Last night of sex, first night of making love

We love having sex ... the all of us .. men and women. Sex is a miracle of life. To fulfill the emptiness of our souls we want more and more sex, and in one point with more and more partners.

People that takes drugs are the same... they start with little dozes and in one point they just loose control.

The only thing that you can do after having lots pf partners is just write a book ... and tell an interesting story.
Just few realise that in one point they need to stop and look only for love.

When you go from last night of sex to the first night of making love ... you start a new life ... and that is a love story.

ABSTRACT LOVE

A philosophical guide for imposible love stories

Do you still believe in fairy tales?

No ... most probably this is the answer for the most of us.

We had this strong ability to dream when we were kids ...and somehow, without realising, we stop believing in fairy tales.

When we were teenagers ... the love ... let us still dream ... but again we lost this ability again.

Years are passing, one by one ...we become stronger but completely forget to dream and to love.

Sometimes the love and the dream ... becomes one entity ... but who we became?!

Someone that is not even ...dare to think of love.

For all the ones that are not believing anymore in fairy tales... i tell you only one thing let your heart love again and ... miracles will appear in your life.

You know ...in life not everything happens as we plan

There is a very difficult question in philosophy and that is which one appeared first: religion or morality?!

Accordingly to morality rules ... you are not allowed to have relationships with other partners, but in real life those things can happen.

Is this love ... a love in the mod?!... or just an accident?!

There is also another philosophy that in reality there is no bad or good ... but everything, in fact, happens for a reason.

Being in love with someone else, when in fact you are in another relationship ... means you don't find yourself in there.

You need someone else to take you out of the toxic story you are in.

Being in love of someone else, when you are married, is not bad ... can heal your relationship or can take you out ... and make you be happy again.

We have ... as human beings ... the right to be happy ... so don't bother judging us anymore.

Our expectations hurt us most

We go on the timeline of our life, having goals and dreams expecting in the optimistic points as life to act nice to us and seeing everything being destroyed in our faces ... when we deal with anxiety and depresion.

Every movement of each plannet.... of each star ... or any day from a life of the unimportant person from the world ... has a purpose.

We are most of the times hurt only by our expectations.

Take everything just as it is.

Everything has a reason why is happening ... so dont be upset ... smile ... and enjoy your life.

Expections are only the illutions of our Ego.

Dont fool yourself!

The power and the story of a like

People are looking all the time for appreciation from other people.

What is happening is that when you start to be appreciated by people you dislike , or they dislike you, it starts a proces of reevaluation of the whole situation. I had been involved in many situations over the years and had to deal with thousands of people.

Some of them became good friends of mine, but with some i started conflicts that we did not had the power to close.

In the last 6 months i understood that i need to reevalute all those relationships. Having those people on my facebook account, i honestlly liked some of their posts... not all of them ... just few likes ... and magic happened.

I had accidently met them on street, or had a phone call conversations with them ... and it was like i just spoke with good friends that i love to talk with.

It was really incredible ... i could not believe it ... it was like we applied a very strong medicine to cure our relationships.

But one day something strange happened.

A very nice lady that i had in my facebook list posted an insta story that i saw in facebook messenger.

It was a motivational post saying that nothing happens by accident ... and a gave like to the post.

For some unknown reason for me, her husband disliked me by many, many years ... and what i did in the last 6 months ... i just liked some of her posts... maybe one from 3 or 4.

One hour after i liked the insta story ... the lady wrote me in messenger, politely asking me why do i laugh.

Now if you give a like it means you like that post or you laugh at that post?! Did not knew what to answeare right away, but we started to chat ... and it was really inappropriate that i had a so long discussion with the wife of a guy thar hated me by years.

The Universe is playing games with us sometimes ... and i dont even know how we started a love story it was real magnetism between the 2 of us a love story just lije in movies.

I will not mention the whole scene ... but at one point her husband and my wife found out ... and were amazed that everything started from a simple like.

What i want to say is that the like has a strong power nowadays... and you must be aware of how you use it, but also how you see the interpretation of it.

We live in a world where we go to fancy coffee shops and stay on our phones reading, liking and watching all the time who appreciate our posts ... instead of enjoying the coffee and like the real stories people tells us in the coffee shop. ... and the LIKES are running our lives drom shaddow.

Just one more time

An alcoholic sees a bottle of beer or wine ... or scotch ... and says ... this is the last time.

A drug addicted person ... is living the same story ... again and again and again.

But is the love addiction exists?! Is it something real?!

Well ... yes.

What happens when you meet again that person that you loved a lot ... but somehow the Universe stopped your story?!

What happens when you say ... just one more time?!

Enjoying the love story is one of the most wonderfull thing you can do in this life.

Say NOT AGAIN ... HELL NO!

Just feel free to do whatever you want with your heart.

There will never be another you and maybe another chance ... so SAY YES!!

Lots of people will define you ... just ignore them ... nobody has the right to tell you what to do with the things you feel in your soul.

There are 2 kinds of unhappy married people: the optimistics and the realistics

There are 2 kinds of unhappy married people:
the optimistics and the realistics.

Marriage is very beautiful in the begining.

So beautiful that we just forget that during the years we saw so many unhappy couples.

The optimistic persons, even if somehow, they lost control over situation, still believe in marriage. They ignore all the bad signs and just continue on and on.

The realistic persons ... they realise they might have no escape ... but in the end their life belongs only to them and during the marriage they try to see the happiness, at least for a while, somewhere else also.

This is how the love affairs start.

It is moral?! It might not be ok but ... everything happens just to get some air ... at least for a while.

How can we define this?!

In the end we can also see some of those people ... as divorced people.

They are the brave ones ... and the ones that at least are not unhappy anymore.

So defining marriage as a dogmatic way of living life should not be so wierd after all.

Dare to define where you are and if you have the power to rebuild your life, in a happy way, that should be fantastic ... no matter of the path you should follow.

Remember that life must be fullfilled with joy.

We always want what we cant have

A very little child understands that with different signs to the parents can make them understand that wants this or that.

Goes to the park and always wants something that another kid has.

Starts to speak ... and start saying "i want this ... i want that ..."

I saw a documentary with Michael Jackson going to an antique shop, seeing some paintings and saying to the guy from the shop ... "i want this, this ... and this ... and this". He was not in a good financial position anymore and his stuff was amazed of what he was doing. The prices of the paintings were between 300-600k dollars.

At our level, we do the same thing over and over again.

I want that car that my sister has, i want that trip to the Grand Canion, cause my cousin was there.

One day, we make a huge mistake.

It appears a confusion between things and people.

We start wanting a love with a person that dont belongs to someone else... a love that we cannot have in real life.

The script of our life becomes a movie script.

And we go to ... nowhere.

There is a wonderfull saying:

"Love that we cannot have is the one that last the longest, hurts the deepest and feels the strongest".

We are in love with imposible things and situations

Life is easy ... we certainly make it complicated.
We just love imposible things and situations.

There is no limit where we can decide to say is enough and stop.
The human mind is enjoying the game of more and ... more becomes NO LIMIT ... and here we are on the way to nowhere.
On this road we think we are on an important mission ... an imposible one.

The only 2 things in life that can make us stop are: A TRAGEDY or A LOVE STORY.
In that point, our vision is changed completly but probably just the luckiest ones receive the chance of real love story.

Life should be enjoyed with everything it has to offer us. The joy of living should be part of our life scenario everyday ... but is not ... we really have a very big empty whole inside of us ... which only love can fullfill.

But what if try to understand better your life, define very clear where you are and where you want to be and the road to "that happy point" should be just a lovely journey.

So ... start to forget complicated imposible things ... life is easy and too beautifull to be lived as a struggle.

Shoot another double

Your life is not looking as you wanted to look like?!

In psychology there is a nice theory explaining that at the end of the day you should review the whole day, analyze what you dont like and rescript everything just as you wanted as things to happen.

Well ... theory is very easy to understand ... now lets practice!!

So lets beging ... you dislike being married?! ... taking care if the things and all the other things that familly needs?!

Have you ever thought of shooting another double?!

Imagine you are then movie director and also the scenarist of you life story ... just for a second.... so ... how should you redefine everything?!

Everything you need to do is just to understand the concept of timeline... that there is a time to go to the kindergarten ... there is a time to going to schoool ... a time for getting a job ... and the time of being a familist etc etc.

Is it a difficult task?!

Well ... was school easy?! Would you go to school again?! ... Of course NOT. But you still have a chance.

Life is beatiful and every moment from our life should make us feel happy.

So ... bottom line you ve got 2 choices: you shoot another double and try to be happy at home or start a love affair.

Meaning of life is to feel the joy of being alive.

That magic look

One day, you just walk in hurry on the street and suddely your eyes fall on a strange person that looks like someone that you know from centuries.

Is a very strong feeling and you just cant stop looking into those eyes.

Many times we just continue our way .. and dont have the courage to stop ... and just say "hello ... where have you dissapered for so many centuries?!"
We are not brave enough to follow our intuition.

But the Universe is sometimes playing with us and sometimes ...somehow those persons start to be part of our lifes.
Little by little ... a person as this one becomes ... your life.

We live is a silly world, that teaches us to stay with our foots on the ground and try to never think at irealistic things.
We lost that thinking from the time we had been children ... and probably lost the concept that magic sometimes really exists.
But for all the ones that feels that inside them is not living a dead soul ... next time when you meet that magic look ... at least send a big smile in return.

Try one more time to define what magic means.

Jealousy is just a silly game

I just read a nice quote saying that ... there is a huge difference between someone that wants you and someone that stays in the way so that no one else can have you.

And indeed is true.

So many people from all around the world, unhappy in their relationship, even if they understand that the connection between them is closed ... just continue everything because they feel that they would never stand to see someone else staying near the person that once upon a time they loved ... but dont love anymore today.

But this is only one face of the silly jealousy.

Some people love so much, that even thinking that someone else will speak with their love partner ... they would drive crazy.

Others ... that like to play around ... just use jealousy to get more attention on their side, because when the other partner is feeling the competition will do all the best to be in the grace of the loved one.

How can you cure yourself of jealousy?!

Well ... first you need to understand that the expression "we belong to each other" is available only as long we have a connection togheter and real love is there.

Otherwise just staying in the way so that someone else to not have your partner is just silly.

Maybe instead of practicing jealousy you should just use that energy inside of you just to make your partner feel great near you.

.... and maybe instead of making your partner feel jealous, you should make your partner what a great relationship you have togheter.

Jealousy is a silly game.

Being jealous or making your partner jealous is something that in the end will ruin even a beautiful relationship.

It's not what it looks like

There is a nice movie with this name, which you can find on YouTube typing also 'Samadhi 2'.

If you like philosophy, you will just love the movie.

It explains the concept of illusions or what we should explain as ... it's not what it looks like.

But studying any psychological or philosophical theory without trying to apply it to the real life ... into your private life is useless.

Seeing everything in your case is much easier to understand everything.

There are so many things that we should define as illusions.

For example, a close friend of mine, a beautiful lady, in love of a married man, just divorced by her husband sent me a picture today with the love of her life.

They looked fabulous together, but the guy is still married and she is divorced by already few months, waiting for his divorced, that will never come.

She thanked me for the compliment I sent her regarding the photo, but on the other hand she replied that she is disappointed and that she feels that is not on the right path.

She loves him a lot, cause he is the love of her life, but in the end is only an illusion ... so ... not what it looks like.

So many people are living such stories that no one talks about ... but in the end we ask ourselves if we want to live an illusory life or we deserve a beautiful and happy life.

But the question is ... how do you fight an illusion ... if for example you meet the illusion daily ... and you feel you have no power to end the story.

Let me tell you the truth ... you cannot fight an illusion but you can ignore it.

So just DARE ... to live a real life.

Real life can be beautiful also.

The huge fear of our emotions

Truth be told, we have a huge fear of our emotions, most of the times cause we cannot control them.

We have this control freak on others, but also on any situation from our lives. The colloquial term control freak describes a person with a personality disorder characterized by undermining other people, usually by way of controlling behavior manifested in the ways that he or she acts to dictate the order of things in a social situation.

Coming back to us, if we honestly define what we do, we realise that everything is done this way just to avoid speaking directly with our emotions.

But what you dont understand is that the soul is speaking to you through the emotions.

When for example, you feel fear regarding a special situation ... it means a smaller or bigger danger for you as a person.

The next thing you should do, just after the emotion is coming is just use your mind and meditate ... defining the whole scenario and even the worst case scenario that can happen.

At least you realise where you are, and even if things are not looking great ... you know where you are situated and the emotions cant conquer you.

Applying the same philosophy ... one day you can be in the position of falling in love.

Again ... you do the same mistakes, cause you are afraid of the emotions.

Love is stronger than us, but being in love can make you feel alive.

Letting your emotions be part of your dailly life ... will let you see things differently.

You will be happy, but also unhappy.

Its like a dance ... going to the left or right, but walking on this path, at least ... life will not be so boring anymore.

Why?!

Cause you will feel alive.

Our emotions make us be alive.

Daring to accept the gift of emotions is a wise way of living.

Hiding them ... is living in the artificial mode.

Let the heart guide you ... not your brain.

ABSTRACT LOVE

The story ... behind the story

We all heard about this expression, which is used when people usually talk about theory of conspiracy, usually in major social or political events.

But in fact, people care only by their lives and what happen on their timeline.

From the outside is quite easy to define, give advices about what someone else should do, but being the character of your own story, acting on the scene of your own life, things are not so easy as they might look like.

It s even difficult to define a close member of our family, someone we know from many, many years, because you cant really understand the feelings from inside of another human beings.

Sometimes we have a real dance of emotions and we feel all kinds of things ... and you go to the left, then to the right .. just like dancing.

Today we are happy, tomorrow we are not ... and the dance itself looks like a no sense, but is need for searching what means to be and not to be unhappy.

It all happens, because in real life, to be happy you need to do certain things ... pay a price.

Sometimes you agree to pay the price, sometimes not ... but no one should have the right to judge you about what you do with your own life.

The story behind the story .. is what we really feel inside of us.

There will be many people telling you what to do, why you did that and how you should do in any circumstance ... but listen to me ... even if sometimes the Universe is talking to you through other people .. if you have intuition, if you believe in the intuition ... the Universe will talk to you directly.

You should just dont care about others thinking ... and see only the real story, that is behind the story ... the one that your soul feels.

Just DARE to do ... only what you think and feel.

The beauty of being different

Most of us are just clones of the standard human being and we dont go out of the statistics ... and if we do it ... we never go so far of the dogmatic way of being in the nowadays society.

Being different should not be just a choice, but a way of being.

Being different does not mean to play the role of a person that just dont want to follow the rules ... being different means to be just ... YOU.

We had been teached not to break the rules ... and that s why being different means breaking the rules.

But one day, without realising not even for a second ... just over night ... we change and we become different.

We wake up, look in the mirror and see a different person than you saw few days ago.

You see someone else ... a projection acting differently on the stage of life.

You dont understand ... a thing.

And you start asking what happened, what had changed?! ... cause you have no clue.

And then ... you admit it ... YOU ARE IN LOVE.

Yesss ... Love can change us, love can make us fly, love can let us be different ... love can teach us and let us become ...US ... a different person than you use to think you are.

Love is everything ... just dare to live into the story!

I am the ghost ... you are my partner. Such a wonderful love story

Probably nothing in the world is imposible.

Even thinking that you can live a fairy tale might be posible if you believe into the laws of the Universe.

Men and women, all around the world, no matter of their age, are so much in love.

Some of them are in real stories and some in imposible love stories, that will probably never be part of the real life.

But the imposible gives more power to the love story.

Meeting her or him on the street ... not being able, not even to smile at the love of your life ... makes you a ghost.

Can a ghost be in love?!

Well ... the ghost is a projection of our soul ... is that fantastic side of us, that we never showed to someone else before.

But if you see that everything is such a fantastic love story ... maybe one day you forget, for a moment, that you are just a ghost ... and with some courage you come to the real world.

Just DARE ...

SILENCE ... the ultimate stage

Love can make us feel happy.

Love can make us feel the joy inside the soul ... and make us understand what means enjoy the present moment.

But somehow, if you dont know to manage the story ... love can hurt you a lot. It s a huge emotion, that you feel deep, deep inside.

You know, i only met too kinds of persons, talking about love.

The first type, are the ones that are in love. If you stay with them for a while, you can only hear things about love.

The second type are the ones that ended the love story, the hurted ones.

They only think of that person, day and night, but in the end there is nothing that can be fixed, cause the love story had ended.

Even you you meet that person again and again ... you can only practice the silence.

There is nothing you could say ... cause you said a lot into the past ... so many plans and dreams you had togheter.

But behind the silence the memories will always be there ... in your soul.

Life can not steal them from there.

The silence from the end will only be that mask that will protect all those memories you had togheter.

The theory of CARPE DIEM and others bla bla bla

Carpe diem is a Latin aphorism, usually (though questionably) translated "seize the day", taken from book 1 of the Roman poet Horace's work Odes.

The exclamation is used to urge someone to make the most of the present time and give little thought to the future.

We somehow heard so many theories about how to live our lives that we dont even care when we hear a new one.

A theory can help you if you know how to apply it to your life.

You can read about all the theories in the world, but as long as you cant find a path to see that theory in your life is useless.

Carpe Diem means to live the present moment ... and enjoy it.

There are only few moments in life that we had the power to enjoy.

I remember in the last years only 2 moments ... one reading a nice book, staying near the sea ... the second moment driking a lovely coffee in a coffee shop in the center of the city.

I mean ... in those moments i had 100% connection with the present moment.

So ... 3 years ... 2 moments ... and i am laughing writing this.

You know ... i could do this everyday ... at least drink a coffee into a beautiful coffee shop, cause i dont have the sea so close to me.

I could probably read a book in there, while enjoying my coffee.

So ... the theory of carpe diem is a fantastic one, just as many, many other theories, but maybe i should just create a pattern for that.

Just like i am washing my teeths.

Imagine ... your kid would ask you ... "Hey ... did you wash your teeths today?" ... well ... i am sure you did ... at least one time, after waking up in the morning.

What if you are asked ... "Today had you enjoyed any of the moments?! The day is usually boring, especially over the work week, but still ... has many moments".

We try to discover ourselves all the time, but we miss the esential ... the most important rule of living the day ... CARPE DIEM.

It takes a minute to fall in love

It took me a minute to fall in love with you and will probably take a lifetime to forget that the love story between us was real

The soul said: "I choose you. And i ll choose you many times. Without pause, without a doubt, in a heart beat. I will keep choosing you forever"

It was a beautiful line ... but too deep for a human being.

Why it takes so little to fall in love, but is so hard to forget after everything is gone?!

The illusion of love is so powerfull and we end up being dominated by the infinite love.

So i wonder if it is wise to fall in love?! ... or we play with some energies that we cannot control and will never understand.

The love story heals your broken soul, but breaks it again in the end.

“What is the love i should choose?! “ ... asked the truck driver

Recently, i met a truck driver.

I had to interact with him as we had to do a business together.

He came with a nice lady, which i supposed that was his love partner.

I somehow dislike the guy ... finding him an asshole.

We even failed to do the transaction .. 2 times and then, in the end, we just did it.

The lady, his partner, was looking like a nice person and i even thought what is she doing, spending her life with such a person.

After 2-3 weeks she calls me, explaining that in fact they are not married.

She was divorced, having a kid, but he was still married, also having a kid.

The truck driver was really looking like a real, real bad guy.

I always had this vision about the truck drivers and now i could say why.

But one day, i spent about 2 hours with him, listening to his version.

I was surprised that behind the mask he was wearing, i found a sensitive guy.

He was really in love with that lady.

He considered her the love of his life, but he was also in love ... with his little 3 years old son.

He was forced to choose between spending his life with the love of his life or ... the love of his life?

He loved a lot the lady, and i could not believe that a truck driver had a heart ... believe me ... but he also loved a lot his son.

He rented a house to move with the lady, arranged everything for weeks, but he could not abandon his son.

The lady drove crazy, thinking that he is just playing around, but the truth is that is quite difficult to choose in some of the moments of life.

Defining the love with a woman, comparing with the love we carry for our children and being forced to choose between ... is hard ... really, really hard.

In the end i changed my mind about the vision i had on truck drivers, but i also understood that i should never judge a person for his options.

To love without being hurt

In the AA meetings people use to say: " Hey, my name is X and i am an alcoholic".

So ... how should we start presenting ourselves in the love quote groups?!

What about "Hey! My name is X and i am love addicted" or "Hey, i am X and it hurted a lot because of love".

We love the concept of love, but we dislike when it hurts ... cause it hurts a lot when you have a broken soul.

But what if we make a change in seeing the situation?!

Instead of asking to the Universe love without hurt, we just ask love with the open heart?!

Does it sounds better?!

Well ... i think that seems to be the path.

As long as you are fearless, everything is perfect, but if you believe that love hurts ... this is what you will get in return.

The Universe sends us those experiences.

Instead of complaining that it hurts a lot after the love story is ended, maybe you should think of thanking for the fact that those moments were offered to you.

Dare to live the love story!!

Dare to enjoy it!

Life can really be beautiful!

The illicit love affairs ... a huge contemporary problem

I am not watching television by already few years, but i know most of the things that happens around the world from social media.
But i do interact a lot with lots of people from the city i live in.
Well ... over the years i had been hearing about all kinds if problems that the humanity has, but never heard about a crysis in love affairs.
I have a close friend that has a 2 stars hotel, but also a 3 stars hotel in here.
He makes a huge amount of money with those ugly hotels, more than a 5 stars hotel, because many people from our city go in there.
I am 42 and in the begining i thought that men of my age are coming with girls of 20 in there ... but no no.
I also believed that people of 18s are going in there ... but i was wrong again.
It is actually a story with people of 24, 37, 55 or even 62 ... married people most of them, in love of someone else that their spouses.
They come 2-3 times a week for 2-3 hours and enjoy life togheter.
I mean ... we can name this illicit love affairs, but listen to me ... I just used the name love.
And when you say LOVE is just as you would say GOD, cause in the end love and God is almost the same thing.
How should we define all those married people from all world, having illicit love affairs in 2-3-4 or 5 stars hotels?!

The first definition ... well it does not sound so nice.
The second one, after meditating more is that those are unlucky and unhappy people in love with maybe ... the love of their life ... at the wrong time.
Love affairs exists everywhere in the world and i think we are in front of a real crysis, but everybody is just hiding this, hoping that no one will notice.
Being happy is a choice.
But being happy is also a fundamental right of a human being ... so, just dare to live your life.

Just say the truth ... and send the letter.

Well my dear, there are 2 kinds of imposible love stories.

The first one is when love exists only by one side and on the other side, even if it exists, is not so strong as it should be.

The second one, is actually the kind of shakespearean style, when the 2 of them act as Romeo and Juliet.

So ... what is the solution on both cases?!

For the first scenario i will tell u about a good friend of mine from Pakistan, student at english literature, a guy that wants to be a writer.

He is young and very talented.

His english is excellent, but did not found the path so that he could become a writer.

He is also so deep in love with a beautiful girl from his country, but again he is not finding the path to go inside her soul.

I spoke with him few times and in the end we realised together that he should mix the 2 desires, being with the girl he wants and also being a writer, in only one desire.

He promised he will start writing, expressing the infinite love he feels inside his soul, writing only and only about love ... the love of his life.

If the trick works, the girl will understand one day that he is a fantastic guy and he deserves her attention.

For the shakespearean way of living the love story ... well what should i start with?!

The love exists on both sides, is actually infinite love, but they cannot live the story in the real life.

If you would analyze the stories behind great love poems, or other great love story novels, you would easilly understand thar behind what you read it was a great imposible love story from the real life.

The story does not need to end in the Romeo and Juliet style, but the fact is that we have an end, which is never hollywood style scenario.

Writing our feelings will make us understand better what is inside of us ... and also might be the way to survive.

So ... just write the truth and send the letter.

When for anything you should say ... I DONT CARE ...is the answear

What if one day everything ends with ... i dont care anymore ... what it does mean?!

Well ... it means all ways of connections are closed ... and you lost the train.

Which is ... bad ?

But the end ... is not always the end.

Might look as the end, but is not, cause sometimes it s not what it looks like.

Women loves us, but in one point, after we drive them crazy ... they would kill us ... but it s illegal to kill us ... so they just drive us crazy ... and believe it or not we deserve it.

In that point you need to reconnect to the love story and to that woman you love a lot .. if you really care about her.

I dont care means ... you dont really care about me in everything you do related to our relationship.

So ... silly boy ... just redefine everything ... if you really love that silly girl .

That s all!

Sometimes just looking one to another for 2 seconds is more than enough.

Sometimes, we block each other ... and all the doors for communications are closed.

Maybe a song, will tell everything we have to say ... and will touch the love of our life again.

Music is very well connected to love, and the lines sends most of the time our feelings.

- Well ... you going to stay in my broken heart forever.

One man and one woman, very deep in love, ended the conversation.

It s too complicated to say "Good bye, forever!"

There are tens of thousands of books about love, but no one about how to break up.

All the writings say only about the end in the best case scenarios, but not about real cases.

Truth be told, being in love can heal your soul, but it can also break it ... forever.

The end is not shakespearean, but it s also not the hollywood movie style .

The end hurts, cause we havent ever been teached to say "Good bye, forever!"

One day

One day ... I hope you look back at what we had togheter

Everything has a begining, but also an end, even if it s quite difficult to accept it.
The only meaning of a love story is to fix our broken souls ... and just after fixing ... it brakes it again.

Accepting love into your heart is accepting a huge risk and we are used not to play risky, but to play safe.

We do a double game ... but still deep inside us we want to meet that infinite love.

But the Universe is laughing ... and sends the infinite love, but just as an imposible love story.

So .. the question is: how do we meet the infinite playing on safe mode?!

I think we are too cowards to play risky, to play all in and forget about the double game.

When you try to do the double game, and think you can win in any circumstances you already destroyed the concept of infinite.

Sometimes you just need to define if you turn left or right ... or you just forget everything and go straight, just continuing a boring life.

Playing in safe mode way will make all mistakes visible ... and destroy the magic of the love story.

Dare to define what the word happiness means to you ... and then you will receive all the answears.

ABSTRACT LOVE

Had I just lost a battle or I lost the war?!

Had i just lost a battle, or i lost the war?!
Maybe is time to surrender and continue the story into my book.

There are so many situations in life when everything looks like ... lost.
And we fight a lot to win ... and one day the story goes to an unwanted end.
We learned in school history for years, but the history teacher did not defined very clear to us at that time what is the difference between loosing a battle and loosing the war.

It s too confusing for most of us if the certain situations are the end or it s just a new test the Universe just gave us.

Should we continue fighting or just surrender and start a new chapter from our life?

It s difficult to define, but in the end everything is about the fact that you want or not to follow a certain path in life.

If you see yourself you into that story, you need to go on, but if you think that everything was just a life experience that had the purpose to heal your soul, you will need to accept that other stories and experiences are waiting for you.

A writer should still continue the story into his books ... a musician should continue everything into his songs ... you can just keep everything into your soul and always remember those beautiful memories.

ABSTRACT LOVE

Pretending we are happy togheter

Well, one of the first things that we will learn in personal development is ... "Fake it till you make it".

The affirmations technique is using the same principle. You tell yourself the same story on and on and one day you will think that is the truth.

Hitler's close friend, Goebbels used to say "Tell people 1000 times a lie and soon after they will say that is the truth" ... and you can say a lie for 1000 times to you too.

I am not saying that the affirmation technique is wrong or that the idea with "fake it till you make it" is not ok, but you should always consider that you have a brain, but also a heart.

And is quite easy to lie your brain, but quite difficult to say a lie to your heart.

The heart is connected with the soul and lieing is the silliest thing you can do.

We can pretend that we are stronger and will help, we can pretend that we are smarter ... and again, it will work ... and we can even pretend we are richer than we are ... but we cannot really pretend that we are in love or that we are happy if we are actually not.

The lie can be seen in our eyes, cause the eyes are the window to our souls.

It does not mean you dont have the right to try to pretend you are happy in a relationship ... but in the end being into a relationship does not mean you can also be into a love story.

Real love has nothing to do with pretending.

We cant dictate whom to love

A real life story from a friend of mine who is living in Southeast Asia, who happened to fall in love not with the man whom she is with, but with someone who live in another land... far, far away ... There is a love story not many would agree (a secret only the two of them knew and of course, me)... but for the two of them, love conquers all, defy all the laws,man has ever made...their ultimate dream is to be in each other's arm...being together one day, is what they both aim to achieve...

So the question is .. and i need to ask all of you what should be the scenario my friends should follow?

ABSTRACT LOVE

A philosophical guide for imposible love stories

Why are we looking all the time for illusions and end up getting only desillusions?!

We always want what we cant have.

And if it looks imposible to get that something is even more attractive to fight for that.

We even think we can own other people and the desire of domination, that comes from our ego, is huge.

And the Universe is laughing and let us desire more and more what is called ... illusions.

We want a very expensive car, a very beautiful house, the spouse of someone else ... and the list is infinite.

We are in love with imposible things and want more and more ... not realising that we actually want an illusion.

Having the power to define if a bigger house or a better location than the actual location will make u happier ... or the spouse of another person will make you happier than you are with your spouse ... is difficult to say.

Illusion can mean even an idealistic model of living life and the desillusion is the fact we cannot have that imposible from our silly minds.

So ... truth be told ... we looking all the time for illusions and end up getting only desillusions ... but it s ok ... throw experiences we understand life better.

ABSTRACT LOVE

The truth about the truth is that we know the truth, but we dislike the truth

The theory of defining is based on the idea that you will meditate and be honest enough with you, so that you can understand the reality you live in.

That will help you then redefine the things so that you go in the new direction you want to follow.

The problem is that even that we know the truth, we dislike it so much that we try to hide very simple and clear things for years.

People have all kinds of addictions from eating, drinking, taking drugs till the addiction to love, hidden into the mask of imposible love stories.

But one day, even if you hide all those dirty things from your life, everything will come to the surface.

You cannot hide the truth forever.

In that day you will need to face the real facts ... the reality and decide if you start cleaning all the mud that you see inside of you or just forget everything and follow another path in life.

Being honest and defining everything will help you a lot, especially if you decide to change your life.

Finding the path for the change ... is start thinking about redefining reality.

So even if your actual life just sucks, it doesn't mean that you are stuck forever into that situation.

Just dare to define and redefine!

The story of a broken heart from Iran

A friend of mine from Iran, a very beautiful lady, being in depression by already one year, wrote me few days ago, asking for an idea of how she can cure her soul.

She was very deep in love, but they broke up and soon after that she felt she was lost.

A beautiful soul ... lost in the land of love.

It's a love story from Iran, but could be the same story in Russia, Japan or UK.

The laws of love dont have borders and act the same everywhere.

People somehow dont understand that any story has a begining, then the story itself and an end.

This is one of the rules from our world ... everything has a begining, but also an end.

The begining is fantastic, the story looks like a hollywood movie, but the end is always difficult to accept.

Some people are in our lives for a reason and some for just a season.

Going into depression after breaking up is one of the silliest thing you could do.

You need to accept facts, just as they are.

If the love story is fantastic ... just enjoy it, but even if you break up ... just remember the beautiful moments and continue your life, cause the Universe needs to teach you other lessons also.

It s difficult to give an advice to my friend from Iran, it s difficult to make her understand that depression has no reason to be in her life.

A beautiful lady can start another story ... even today, but needs to understand that we cannot live into the past but we must live into the present moment.

An iranain heart is the same as an american one, but the concept of the broken heart should not exists ... anywhere in the world.

Once you understand that everything happens for a reason and you should follow the path of least resistance, you will find no reason to accept depression.

Depression is not a disease ... it s just the silly decision to think that you can stop the time or even worst ... go back into the past and still live in there.

Life is beautiful ... feel the present moment and accept the concept of time past, present and future.

Other beautiful experiences are waiting for you!

She runs away far away in Istambul, hoping she will forget

Once upon a time, a nice lady, married but in love with another man ... ruined by her feelings decided to run far, far away with her husband... in Istambul. She suffered by what is called sentimental bankruptcy and was hoping that his silly husband will cure her, being away of the love of her life. But the Universe is laughing and she cannot forget the words of the ghost ... cause the love itself is acting as a ghost. Being part of a love story is like entering Mafia. You can enter but cannot go out ... at least not being broken into pieces. Indeed we have silly desires ... but be aware of what you dream for, cause you can run ... but you cannot hide of what you feel deep inside your soul.

ABSTRACT LOVE

A philosophical guide for imposible love stories

You cannot meet real love ... in the real life

Real life is difficult.

We have lots of problems and the life itself is difficult to handle.

We can deal with lots of things, but in one point we colapse ... loose the control on everything and end up in strange situations.

So ... we somehow are alive, but we cannot enjoy life.

In that point we realise that whatever we do, the reality is not the best enviroment for what we have in mind.

The idea of an idealistic love story appears ... and we are in there ... into the love story.

On the scene, not in the real life, but in the fairy tale ... we dare to love with the open heart.

The magic appears ... and the real love is present into our life ... but into a parallel universe.

So truth be told, real love cannot be part of the real life, but only in a story.

A story about you and your dreams ... about an idealistic way of seeing life.

Real love exists ... but not in the real world.

So just dare to jump into that parallel universe and see what happens.

ABSTRACT LOVE

She said ... 'for me the words have no value' ... but how should we express ourselves?!

One day, a beautiful lady, very disappointed by the love of her life ... said ...
'Enough! From now on... for me ... the words have no value!'

She wanted a proof from the man that she was in love with, but he was doing just nothing.

He was believing in non action, even if in the past he was a business man and he was a man of action.

He had the idea that in a real love story everything should be arranged without doing anything at all.

So the question is ... does real love needs to be proved?!

Proving means ... demonstrate the truth or existence of (something) by evidence or argument.

Is it necesary?!

Well ... i believe you can feel real love inside your soul, without any proof at all.

Infinite love is not defined by the actions we do on the timeline of our love story.

Infinite love is that real deep connection with the person you are in love with.

You dont need proofs you cannot understand why you are so much in love with ... but when you look into your soul ... you see and understand everything.

Just love without asking anything in return, cause that is the real love.

Just feel it ... and enjoy the love story.

ABSTRACT LOVE

Dont bother to run being no 2 ... just do it to win the race

I think that somehow no one bothers to tell us how to play on the scene of life. This is probably why the Universe is giving us so many lessons during our lifetime.

And one of the most important things should be that we should only dream for winning the game, in everything we do.

I mean, when you are in the begining, just being present at a race is the only thing important, but later on, after understanding what is really going on, it doesnt worth playing just to be no 2.

You will be confronted with all kinds of competitions ... and those will appear even into the love stories.

In my opinion if it is real infinite love, should make no sense at all to see the competition when you are into a relationship, but life gives you many tests, just to understand an important lesson.

And many times things are not what they looks like.

But you deserve in life, only what is the best for you ... so play for winning the game ... not for being no 2 ... and if you end up as no 2, especially into a love story ... just stop and start another chapter of your life.

ABSTRACT LOVE

A philosophical guide for imposible love stories

Dont run away ... is useless

I know a guy that was very deep in love of a married lady. He was married too ... but still, could not control his feelings and forget the infinite love that he carries for that lady.

They tried to break up for tens of times, but they always failed.

The last time they tryed it ... they spoke very seriously thinking that they will start to forget about each other.

They hoped that the imposible will happen and they will break up ... but the Universe was laughing of them again.

Each time they said STOP, the Universe arranged things so that they will meet again and again and again.

And everything was ok till they met again.

Seeing their eyes again, the love exploded into their souls and they continued the love affair.

One day the guy was in a shop and met the lady and her hunsband.

Seeing them he got scared and run away.

The husband thought that the lover of his wife is afraid of him and this is why he was running away ... but the guy was running away cause he was afraid of meeting the illusion again .. the love of his life, a married lady.

I mean morally, with reference to the principles of right and wrong behaviour, something is not ok into this love story ... but love can appear in our life in many, many ways.

The guy from the story, was a guy that was afraid of the infinite power of love. And probably running away is not a choice ... especially when you know that you deal with forces much strongers than yours.

So dont bother to control your heart ... is useless.

Feeling you lose the game

You have a chance and then another ... and maybe another.

Is like the Universe is not letting you lose the game, as long as you still believe that there is a chance.

But one day you start feeling that you are going to loose and that's only cause deep inside you only see ZERO CHANCE for winning.

The Universe leaves you alone, so that you have time to meditate and think again of a new path so that you will win.

When your soul is feeling the time has come, then everything will happen.

It s about asking, believing and receiving.

Saying "I feel like i am losing you and there is nothing i can do" is just an illusion.

At the right time ... everything happens just the way we want things to happen.

I ve lost the train

Life gives us all kinds of opportunities, but maybe we miss 90% of them.

But it's ok. There are lessons we need to learn and is difficult to understand in that moment what is really going on.

And we have small dreams, but also big dreams.

When you miss small opportunities is ok, cause maybe tomorrow same opportunity will appear again ... but when we miss the big dream, we realise the impact will going to have on our life.

We dont have the power to believe that maybe that is not the path.

The soul is almost crying, thinking that the big chance had disappeared forever.

We missed the train indeed.

But have you ever thought that missing that train, was to chance to meet a new person in the railroad station ... a person that could really change your life?!

Truth be told after a train is leaving, another one is coming and then another one is leaving.

Life is full of opportunities, so just smile ... and continue your life.

Home, sweet home ... or just a private prison?!

I love houses ... and also everything has to do with interior design.

Nowadays people are investing in their homes almost everything they earn or even more just to create an enjoyable and cozy ambient for their families.

Real estate is a huge business today, only because people have the believe that a beautiful house can make them and their family happy.

But the truth is that you can be a king or a queen, live in a huge palace, but deep inside yourself feel empty and very unhappy.

Is not the house that can make the family happy ... but the people living in the house that can be together a happy family.

You could come home and say "home, sweet home!", or leave home and say "thanks God is monday and i leave to work".

You can live in a tiny house and feel that you have a gorgeous home ... and live in a palace and feel you live in a prison.

2 seconds of being alive

A day has 86.400 seconds.

Imagine you would count from 1 to 86.400 ... but all those seconds, most of them, are not fulfilled with joy, even if we want as this to happen.

Why?!

Because we do not know how to stay alive.

And one day a miracle is happening.

You meet one person that knows to make you alive, but somehow you just miss the chance to be into the real life together.

You had all oportunities, but you did not know to arrange the things ... and everything is gone.

You try to forget everything, start lieing yourself daily, saying that everything is gone, but boom ... you meet that person again while driving ... and everything colapse and you feel again alive for 2 seconds.

You live in only those 2 seconds everything a human being can feel inside of the soul.

2 seconds are more important and powerful than 86.400 seconds ... and in that moment you realise what is really life about.

2 seconds are more important as money, properties or the carrier you have.

Try to feel alive.

Dont waste your life doing all kinds of silly things.

Cause everything is about stealing

We want all kinds of things and some of them we want with all our hearts.
The Universe is playing with us ... gives us something, but sometimes not for 100% and we start desiring more and more and more.
In one point we start acting crazy, cause of this infinite desire.
And we kepp asking ourself and start defining all kinds of reason why we actually have everything and actually we have nothing.
The idea of the illusion comes into our minds.
We want ... we want ... we want... but there is only one thing that really matters in life and that is meeting the infinite love.
So ... why we get 99% and not 100%?!
The one procent left is the connection itself , that you need to have with that person.
And there is something more ... you cannot ask for the soul, but you can steal the heart of that person, cause into a love story you are allowed to do anything you want.
The Universe is your friend and will help you do whatever you want as long as keep in mind what is called ... the laws of the Universe.
So just do it ... steal the heart and never give it back!

Inspired by the world we live in

We are inspired by the people around us.

And new people that appears in our lives ... inspire us most.

A writer for example is inspired by the love of his life and there is a saying ... if you want to be immortal, live a love story with a writer.

But some people will be offended if will see that inspires you.

Dont know why, but somehow maybe they dont want to mix their energies with yours, until you ask them that.

Recently, a lovey girl from Iran inspired me with something, but in the end she was very mad seeing the story.

We like it or not, we interact a lot with some of the people we meet cause we act in such a way as to have an effect on each other.

Some of the connections are more powerful than the others, but in the end is our choice what we see and how we get inspired by those connections.

So just dare to be inspired by anything or anybody you want ... dont ask ... just do it.

A wise man once said nothing

There are 3 ways of acting on the stage of life.

First way is being shy and not knowing what to say when something is happening. We just look, dont accept things, but dont have the power to deal with the situation itself.

Later, we grow up and we start to know how to manage discussions and situations.

We try to explain our point of view and we even get angry and over react to the situations.

We have the impression that we control the scene, but probably the scene is controlling us.

When you get angry, you loose control on yourself ... and you loose the game.

Some of us, much later on ... understand that the true way of acting in life is just watching the scene ... and say nothing.

This is the real meaning of the saying "A wise man once said nothing" .

Understand that you have the right to not react in any way at all is the true wisdom.

Is difficult to understand that ... in the begining you say nothing, but you are very angry inside of you ... then you affirm yourself, but also get angry disliking different things ... and on the last stage of wisdom ... you allow yourself to dont react in any way at all.

Sometimes in life is like we try to fight with the wind, but we cannot see why we do act so silly.

Try only one time this scenario and see what is happening and how you feel inside of you.

It might change your way of seeing things.

Just one time try it.

We want all kind of things, but the question is ... do we really want those changes or is just a testing wish.

What if life is coming at the end of the day to ask you ... are you ok? Do you want to save the changes you just made on your life?!

If you agree ... then life goes on, in a new direction.

But we still wonder if it s ok or no, hoping we made the right choice.

Deep in love, bet never accepting this

What if one day you realise that you are so deeply in love, but actually you cannot accept it.

You deny again and again and again and not just in front of others, but also in front of the mirror.

Love is everything, but cant accept it.

Living with strong emotions inside our souls is one of the reasons we are here ... and the meaning of life itself can be seen through love.

But its hard to open our hearts and accept we are human beings, with feelings insides of us and with a hidden huge desire to love.

So ... deep in love, but imposible of accepting this is our main way to act in life.

ABSTRACT LOVE

An ugly and a beautiful side. Which one do you choose?

We have an ugly side and a beautiful side.

The problem is that in the begining we only see one of the sides.

Then, in time, we see the rest.

We all know about the concept of yin and yang ... but we cant see that in our lives.

Sometimes we only see the dark side, as we see in our enemies, and sometimes we only see the beautiful side, as we see when we are in love, but both sides coexists in any of the cases.

Real love means accepting both of the sides and focus all the time on the positive issues.

And you know why?!

Cause if it a great love story you will see the beautiful side ... and if it is not a great love story, or if the relationship is lost, you will feel the dark side.

... so real love, means accepting everything.

Just DARE TO LOVE!

ABSTRACT LOVE

How do you measure the health factor of a relationship?!

Truth be told, we dont have the courage to define very clearly the health factor of the relationship we are involved in.

Many people live in toxic relationship for many years in a row, just ignoring the fact that things will never change.

We would love to have a different life.

We see different models around us, but never really do something for a better situation.

We just cant see the hope but the hope itself is just a reflection ... of the interconnection between you and your partner.

Have you ever noticed, meeting an old friend from school, a person that was not in such a good position at that time, that now is having a huge success and is a totally different person than the one you knew?!

Well, first of all, you need to understand that one of the most important issues that influences our life is the presence of certain people in our life, the one that we interact with most of the time: the family, our friends, people we work with, but a huge proportion of our time we spend with our partner ... and that influences us a lot.

It s a saying ... having the right partner in your life is like having your own money printing machine.

Why?! Cause the right partner can make you shine and let you dare to act with glory on the stage of life.

The oposite, the wrong partner ... will just make you feel misarable all the time ... and be actually nobody, or at least not the person you dream to be.

Understanding the importance of defining the health factor of the relationship you have is deciding if you want to receive joy and happiness in your life.

In the end is just a decision ... is just the courage of saying ... i totally dislike what i see and i dare to dream for a better life with or without you ... dear partner.

When love is stronger than the mistakes

The Ego doesnt let us forgive the people that hurt us ... at least not so easy and not so often.

But this theory is not available when we are in love ... and we love a lot.

Somehow we become blinds when we start being in love ... not that we dont realise what is happening, but hoping that things will change and they will be the way we want them to be.

Indeed love is stronger than seeing the mistakes the partner js doing.

Being in love is an addiction difficult to control ... but still is beautiful to feel in love.

So probably not counting the mistakes ... when we love a lot is quite ok ... dont worry.

ABSTRACT LOVE

How do you close a love story?! ... you just run away to save your ass ?

A lady told me few days ago ... "wont do it again. It hurts a lot".

Another one said " i love love stories. I am living one now. It s amazing".

So probably people love love stories as long as they are in the story and are afraid of them and run away as long as the story is not running well.

We are looking to be loved, but we are too sensitive to resist on the stage of the story, ending up asking many times to close the love relationship, cause it hurts too much in different moments.

We are not brave enough to accept a relationship with good or bad issues and to focus only on the positive side all the time.

Defining again and again and again is our main task and forgive that we should love without asking anything in return, not even loving us back.

ABSTRACT LOVE

Keep an excel sheet with everything you feel dailly

Have you ever wondered how many days in one month you are are happy and how many you are not?!

You know, it could be quite simple if you would keep a journal into an excel sheet and it could help you a lot to realise in which position you are.

What about your love life?!

How many days in a year you felt happy with your partner?!

Again ... should be very easy to keep a simple record with that.

I mean statistically ... are we happy or not?!

If you start analyzing your life, from this point of view, with just a simple dailly record, you could understand that is quite easy to define your life ... or your love life.

A simple statistic, could let you see that 2-3 days in a month, you are happy ... and probably only one month a year your are happy ... so maybe 5-8% of your time you are happy.

Well it's quite ok ..but now the question is how many days in one year you are unhappy?! ... how many days in a year you are not feeling alive?!

Does the relationship you have now, can be defined as something that brings you joy ... or is just a silly illusion that makes you happy for 5 % of your time ... and maybe 40-50% brings you unhappiness?!

What should we choose between 5% and 50%?!

Who is winning the game?!

The happiness or the unhappiness?!

What path should we choose?!

Is your choice to decide if you are brave enough to keep this record of you dailly life and measure the joy from your soul.

Truth be told life is so short and we loose our time to be unhappy.

Just dare to be alive ... and happy, for at least 50% of your time.

ABSTRACT LOVE

A philosophical guide for imposible love stories

Why so many lies behind a beautiful soul?!

We afraid of lies and the falsehood itself, but sometimes even if we dislike seeing that ... we start to ignore all the signs the intuition sends us.

We just like that person a lot and maybe that person like us a lot also ... and we want to believe that these are just some silly episodes that will end soon.

But statistically speaking, most probably, the things we do today ... we will do tomorrow also.

Believing the behavior itself will just change, without doing anything at all it's silly.

Probably the key of healing a relationship when one of the partners is making repetitive mistakes is just to have a clear and honest conversation, presenting all the facts that the intuition sends you.

People lie because they are afraid of something ... and most probably are hiding things that will go in the direction where the relationship must be closed.

This is why even behind a beautiful soul you can find lies and you can not believe this is happening.

Probably the power of our intentions might be also a key that needs to be applied.

Defining what and why we lied or why we lied to each other is a must do process that needs to be started.

Behind any action, there are different thoughts we have in our mind.

Playing honest on the stage of life should be a better scenario than hiding the truth with all kind of lies.

Its ok to discover everything just as it is.

Better define a complicated situation, than calming everything with a lie.

Love chat on Revolut

Well, all chating systems allows you to block someone you dont like to chat with. I know 2 persons, very deep in love, both married ... they tryed all kind of things ... and all the time they block each other as 2 silly little kids.

One day they believed the story was over, but the problem was that they could not live one without another for more than 2-3 days, maximum one week.

They blocked each other everywhere ... on insta, facebook, messenger, whatsapp, email ... everywhere ... hoping that the story will end.

But ... well it still was a door they could not close.

They both used Revolut ... so they started send each other 1 dollar and on transaction details they wrote:

- i hate u
- I love u a lot
- Cant leave without you
- Consider i am dead ... never bother me again
- Hope will never see you again

And bla, bla, bla

I mean if you really, really love someone there will always be a way to meet that person again and again.

Love is the strongest power you can deal with.

Just enjoy the story.

ABSTRACT LOVE

A philosophical guide for imposible love stories

Playing dirty ... unfortunately the second scenario

We play fairplay on the stage of life only till one point ... when we understand that we will loose the game.

The Universe has certain laws that we should ... at least think about.

But when we start to dislike what we see in the real life, that the things dont go in the directionwe want them to go, we start redefining everything and see other scenarios so that we will win ... forgetting that playing dirty is not a path, but only an illusion.

The obsessive desire to get one thing or one person metamorphosize us in persons with blind minds.

We can have everything we want as long as behind the desire is a clean intention, but some issues even if cant be defined very clearly ... we feel them inside our souls ... that are not ok.

Life is short but can be beautiful if we know to act properly on our timeline.

Playing dirty should not be a second scenario.

Some of our silly desires are not for us ... just because that is not a path to follow.

Instead of being so naive, we should just smile and think at the next episodes.

Dream big but dont play dirty!

In the end any illusion becomes just a desillusion

Reality is most of the times not what we want to see, so we try to think all the time at how our life should look like in other circumstances.

We have all kinds of scenarios and jumping into an illusory world is quite easy.

The Universe knows very well what to send into your life, but the present moment doesnt satisfy us and this is why we start allowing the illusions in our lives.

Its easier to think that on the path that you follow now, it would had been better if at on point you did other choice.

The illusion that its better to go to the left or to the right, but in the end the path goes to nowhere ... and you should accept any path at all ... because at the end of the road you will find yourself again.

People are looking for illusions, they actually have an addiction to them, but like any addiction the final result the end is most of the times quite disgusting ... cause the illusion itself always becomes a desillusion.

We need to define what we want in life ... but what we really, really want.

Nobody ever told us what defining means and its quite easy to undestand that if we plant cactus seeds we will not get oranges.

This is why an illusion is always ending with a desillusion.

It depends on you to understand that having a clean life, not accepting the mud that comes from illusions, is just a choise.

Act better on this stage of life ... cause not everything you see is real.

ABSTRACT LOVE

I already miss you and you havent left yet

Love addiction is a proposed model of pathological passion-related behavior involving the feeling of falling and being in love.

The need of love for all of us is huge.

Some can admit it, some cannot do it, but once you meet that perfect match partner and you open your heart to that lovely person, you can afford the luxury of the love addiction story.

But it's very important to be on the same frequency with your partner, otherwise you will be lost into this game.

Love addiction exists.

You can see it as a medical issue, but it s more a spiritual thing.

Love addiction is asking and allowing yourself to be loved all the time.

Just dare to do it!

ABSTRACT LOVE

Domination

To dominate means to have power and influence over, but i think everybody knows this definition.

The problem is that deep inside us, we have a huge desire of domination over everything means our life ... the circumstances and also the people.

We totally dislike when situations dont go in the direction we want them to go, but we dont understand the power of Universe over our lives.

Some things needs to happen in a certain way, a way that we dont have the power to understand when they really happen.

Or maybe we understand, but we dont like to see that we cannot influence everything in our life.

But the desire of domination exists.

Not being able to play with the Universe, we start a game with the people around. We try to dominate the parents, the kids ... the spouse and all the persons we love or care about.

And the end is that relationships are ruined just because of the silly idea of domination.

We want the things to happen in a certain way and people act in the way we want, because this is what the silly ego tells us.

I am repeating myself ... domanation is the huge desire of having power or influence over.

But what for?!

Instead of enjoying the beauty of a relationship, just as it is, we just play around with the desire of domination and destroy everything.

Things and people dont need to be dominated.

You just need to let everything go and see what stays, cause what stays is what the Universe prepared for you!

That's all folks!

Give them 10% of everything you have

Well ... we all know the saying from the Bible with 10%, but we dont realise it is not only about the money.

What if we should give 10% of our attention to the ones we pretend we love a lot. Do we statistically do this?!

We own lots of things, but also 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

How much of our time and energy goes to the real important things from our lives?

Most probably ... only when you fall in love, you realise you can focus everything just in one direction.

Probably 10% goes to 100%.

Imagine you should have a life, being in love with your work, your spouse, your kids ... and everything means your life.

Let your soul be in love all the time.

Will decide better than your silly mind.

ABSTRACT LOVE

A philosophical guide for imposible love stories

The perfect place ... the perfect partner

We have in mind the idea of the perfect partner and we dream at the perfect place to be with that person.

But we dont act so often.

Prefer to live in a prison, instead of living into the perfect world we dream of, but the real question is if the prison itself is the reality or the world from our minds?

The truth is that there is no perfect place or if it exists it really is the place you are in, right in this moment and there is no perfect partner ... but the one that sends you joy everyday.

But we dream all the time again and again and again ... at the perfect partner and the perfect place.

Most probably, enjoying life just as it is is the real key to happiness.

ABSTRACT LOVE

A philosophical guide for imposible love stories

And rodeo again

We dont like reality most of the times.

We always dream of something else.

Became experts in defining what we dont like, which usually reflects the actual life and some of us even became experts in defining very clear what we dream for.

But still, we dont do anything at all to chance something.

We somehow live a life as zombies, thinking we cannot escape the black magic that did that to us.

But the black magic itself is only our negative thinking, our way of seeing reality.

There are some people that believe there is a way of escaping at least for a short period of time, doing crazy things as: traveling into dangerous places, trying jumpy jumping, learn to practice rodeo, going with an yacht on the sea when the weather is not fine ... or even having a love affair.

We need something to let us forget about where we are and fly, at least for a while, into another world.

Crazy things makes us feel alive.

This is why rodeo for example can wake you up for a moment.

But living as zombies is a silly way of living.

Trying to escape for a while is just an illusion.

You are a prisoner and you want to be free again for only a short period of time.

Then you have again the power to come back to the prison, cause the prison itself is just your mind.

Maybe it is time to think at the fact that you should dare to be alive everyday, in every moment of your life.

ABSTRACT LOVE

Seeing you again

We align ourselves to the dogmatic thinking of society.

We have the same mental software as all the others, but deep inside us we dream of another path.

But we dont even dare to clearly define what that path is.

So ... we do what we have to do ... but in one moment, something inside us explodes ... and let us be just ... us.

When you are in love, you can understand this concept if you are involved into an imposible love story.

Everybody knows what imposible means, but only few succed to enjoy an imposible love story.

Seeing the eyes of that magic person ... makes us alive.

Define the power of that look over your soul and then you will understand everything.

ABSTRACT LOVE

A philosophical guide for imposible love stories

Why I see you everyday?!

It says that you attract what you think about all day long.

You think of positive things ... positive things will appear in your life, you think of negative things ... negative things will appear.

But what if it 's about a person that you keep seeing everyday, even that one part from you says that wants that and another part of you says that doesnt want that?!

We should define our thoughts and meditate of what we are thinking all the time. Is one of the most important rule in personal development, that we should keep in mind.

The problem is that we want contrary things all the time.

We know what path we should follow, but meanwhile our souls tell us something else.

And we can control our mind, but not our soul.

Even if it hurts to see that person again and again and again deep inside us...we love to meet that beautiful smile.

Dont lie yourself!

Life is too short for that!

And dont worry ... the day your story is really gone ... you will not meet again!

Till then ... just smile her back!

ABSTRACT LOVE

The need of virtual realities

Why people use narcotics?!

Have you ever wondered why?

Well, in the modern times, people started to use virtual narcotics.

People use those narcotics because they want to forget about the reality they live in.

They use that usually when other people cant see them ... and think they have this right to live for a while in a parallel universe, where reality is not the same. Virtual narcotics as social media, online chat, dating apps allows us to use the drugs in any moment of the day.

Its like now you are in the office, having a fight with the boss ... you are angry ...and in the next moment you can smile, cause someone wrote you a beautiful line on whatsapp.

That is jumping from one world to another in just one second.

The need of virtual realities is huge.

We live in a society where comparing with other times, we have everything we need, except joy inside our souls.

Apps as Tinder for example, allow people to date very quickly with other people and have multiple intimate relationships.

The desire of sex is present, cause of the silly misunderstanding of the need of love.

But love cant be found so easilly to those virtual supermarkets, having so many profiles available ... with the promises they will send you the perfect match partner.

I know is very difficult to define what you really want, but say it loud and dare to dream about the love story you have in mind.

Yes, the truth about the truth, is that people are not looking for intimate relationships, but for someone to love them ... probably a smile that can make them happy.

That need is inside of use.

We cannot replace that with anything in the world.

Learn to say GOOD BYE

We understand the concept of lessons in life, but sometimes we just disagree to close some chapters.

Everything is clear, but we dont want to accept the story came to the end.

At that's cause we loved a lot the story.

We ve been teached to say good bye since we were kids, but still ... we dont find the power to say it.

But time is passing ... and the only thing left to do is close our eyes and say "Good bye!" and just let it go.

Disconnect and continue your life.

Other things, situations and people are waiting for you.

The Universe knows better what is the best for you!

Speaking to the walls

There comes a time when speaking to the person you love a lot, becomes impossible.

All the doors are closed ... and there is no way of saying that you love and miss a lot the story you had together.

Its like the only thing left to do ... is to speak to the walls, hoping that the wall will speak to you also.

We have so many beautiful books about love ... so many beautiful poems.

All those authors could not find the path again to remet the love of their life.

Only thing they could do ... was closing the eyes and write those love poems.

And the love became immortal through their poems.

Dont be afraid to speak to the walls ... the walls will never speak back to you, but maybe the Universe will do that.

ABSTRACT LOVE

The ice heart

Why someone should define you as a person with an ice heart?!

Well, people that know the power of love ... afraid of it ... and let the heart stay in ice so that love will not come to it.

Yes, we are afraid of love.

We actually afraid that someone could steal the heart and never give it back to us.

We are afraid of feeling alive.

The meaning of heart into our bodies is to make us feel alive, but we prefer to live as zombies.

We are too silly to define what means to be alive.

Hiding the heart, will keep us safe ... nothing will happen.

How can we hide a treasure?! ... cause the heart is the treasure itself.

Difficult to understand why we do that.

ABSTRACT LOVE

A philosophical guide for imposible love stories

Do you miss that person or the love itself?!

It's quite difficult to define if we miss that person, that we are in love with, or the love itself.

Maybe years ago, even at the kindergarten, you were in love with a classmate, but now you dont even remember the name of that person.

Some people go today through so many love stories, that cant define anymore if they are looking for a specific person or for love.

That huge gap from our souls cant be easilly fulfilled ... but one day ... if the Universe loves you, will send that person into your life.

So, in the end, we actually miss that person that give us joy in the soul.

So ... we miss the love and also the person, but only if the connection with that person is a magic connection.

Closing a love story means to forget about that joy ... but it's ok ... the human being had been designed to be happy but also survive also as being unhappy.

ABSTRACT LOVE

A philosophical guide for imposible love stories

What if ... life will never be the same

Gorbaciov served to the soviet countries, from 1985 till 1991, a kind of sweet communism.

In 1985, they realised the end is very close, so they decided in Moscow to change things ... as people to have better lives.

They saw they cannot continue controlling people with the force, with political police and decided to take Soviet Union in another era.

I mean, everybody admitted that Stalin was a guy that destroyed millions of lives ... even lives of ordinary people.

Gorbaciov was a very nice guy, but in the end he was only the one that played the music of "Good bye ... communism!".

People dreamed of being free ... but never thought what being free means.

The soviet state was like a parent that gave them sallaries every months. The sallaries were not huge, but still money were coming every month.

After 1991, when Gorbaciov became just history, russians discovered that being free ment also to have lots of problems ... they even thought that they will not have what to eat.

The one that had to do the dirty job was Eltin , that had to explain to the people how the real transition can be made and that was not easy.

Well ... now, coming back to our boring lifes ... what if you try to make a huge change and them you see you cannot handle things?!

Can you define change?!

Yes ... i am sure you can ... but can you define your determinantion, or it is just a theoretical issue?!

Studying the modern history of the world, applying those principles to a smaller scale will help you understand where you are.

The funny thing is that for you ... your life is more important than it was the Soviet Empire or any other empire from the history.

I read hundreds of books with change, but the only important idea is that ... the idea of change must come from inside, otherwise you will fail.

Play the game of defining and act properly on the stage of life, when you want a big change.

ABSTRACT LOVE

The right person at the wrong time

We dream at the perfect partener, but we never keep in mind the concept of timeline.

The right person must appear at the right time ... otherwise it's a waste of time, or what we should call, an illusion.

Is difficult to undestand why you meet someone, when is already too late, cause you are married, have children etc etc.

Dont know if you heard ... there are countries in the world where you dont have the right to divorce ... but in the modern world it's not necessary of a law to obey this ... cause people are too cowards for that.

They accept the things just as they are and have no courage at all to even think they can, or at least have the right, to be happy.

We dream a lot ... and the Universe is laughing of our desires ... and that is only cause we dont believe we can have everything we want at the time we want that.

ABSTRACT LOVE

A philosophical guide for imposible love stories

Pretending we closed a love story

We want all kinds of things ... and we actually pretend we do something about that.

We say we want to loose weight, but we dailly eat chocolate we say we will not drink anymore and go out with friends and drink some extra beers ... and many, many other similar things and situations.

But what if we are married and have a fantastic love story, with someone else than our partner, which really makes us happy but we know its harmful for our marriage?!

On one side we are unhappy, but on the other side we are happy ... so between being happy and unhappy we choose to stay in actual marriages ... pretending we will close the love story today, or tomorrow, or in the near future.

We just pretend, cause in fact we love being happy, we love eating chocolate and many other things.

How is our lives look like without the feeling of joy inside of us?!

The joy is given by love ... so pretending is just part of the process ... but someone is counting all those days.

I have a beautiful friend, married, but fallen in love of another man.

She tryed 100 times to close the love story and asked me many times how can she do that ... but the feeling of love is always more powerful than our dogmatic way of living our lifes.

Yes, some things are imoral ... but makes us happy ... you just need to define them!

And remember that everything is fair in love and in war ... so just do, whatever your soul tells you to do.

ABSTRACT LOVE

A philosophical guide for imposible love stories

One loves you ... one hates you why you choose hate?!
One controls your life ... one loves you ... why do you choose a life controlled by others?!

We do not believe we deserve to be loved.

We believe love exists, but not for us.

We read about it, saw it to other couples, dreamed about it ... but cant believe we can have it.

We looked for happiness ... and ended up in a marriage where instead of love, we see only hate and the desire to be controlled by the partner.

Everything is mud ... we dont like it ... but we stay in there for years.

To become happy, you need to feel free again ... to be free ... you need to see joy everywhere around you, but listen, the joy will not come from outside ... but from inside of you.

The fairy tale exists only if you believe they can be real.

Let the love enter your life ... let that person you love a lot, to be part of your life.

Life is maybe too short to spend it in mud, instead of enjoying a love story.

We need to define what we really want for us and not accept things, just cause they are happening ... and believe we deserve real love.

Love stories can heal your broken soul!

ABSTRACT LOVE

And again ... she became a prisoner

i know a story about a lady that had everything she ever wanted, except the fact that she was not happy.

She had a life of a princess, but she was feeling like a prisoner into her marriage. One day, had a dream, that looked so real ... and could not understand what is really going on.

She was feeling happy ... and became a smiley face with a happy soul.

Even thought she will become a queen.

She was dreaming the same story everyday ... for months.

The love appeared in her life and she became another person ... but still, even if she was so fallen in love ... and everybody could see that at her that infinite love could not appear into the real world.

One day, she started to ask herself if the love story was real, or only in her mind. Even thought that she was crazy ...and asked other people tell her if is real or not.

In one point ... could not stand anymore the absolute illusion ... the infinite love ... and decided that being a queen is not something for her.

Redefined everything again ... and decided to be just a silly princess, even if being a princess ment just to be a prisoner of her marriage.

The Universe accomplish our dreams, but we need to be ready to get those dreams into the real world.

You need to believe into the fairy tale ... so that it becomes real, but we just refer to give up and be the prisoners of the reality defined by circumstances.

ABSTRACT LOVE

Hunted by our desires

Most of us ... have boring lifes, but we have a huge deposit of dreams and desires in our minds and souls.

We want all kinds of things, but most of all the things we cannot have.

When we have something, if was very easy to get it, we loose our interest into that thing.

But if it looks imposible to have something we desire a lot ... everything becomes an obsession.

And in one point ... we really want so much something that we really loose our minds.

Having desires is ok ... but having obsesions might take you out from the life of the people you love a lot.

And all doors will be closed in front of your eyes.

We should not be defined by our desires.

We can let them be part of our lifes, but not let them run our lifes.

Truth be told, we love what we cant have ... but one day we can be hunted by our desires.

Define better what you want ... and if it really worth doing it.

ABSTRACT LOVE

Finding yourself

Wherever we go ... we find no real direction.

And we feel lost, just because of that.

Woke up this morning again and decided to go to that new path, hoping that this is the one.

But again, we see how we fail again and again.

And you know why?!

Because we are bodies not connected to their souls, to the infinite source.

How can we do this?!

Well ... first of all ... you need to disconnect from everything ... and look inside of you.

Try to define who you are and who you want to become.

It's really useless to loose your time, going in 100 directions and thinking even at the next 100 new directions ... cause you will still feel that whole inside of you.

Finding yourself means to accept who you are and that you have the right to be whoever you want to become.

You want to be happy?! Just define that path to happiness ... just let your soul decide everyday ... do ... only what the soul wants.

We are emotional beings ... but we dont really care about what we feel inside of us.

We just ignore any feeling that we dont like how looks like ... all the signs the inner soul sends to us.

Accept your soul ... let it be your best friend ... and enjoy life!

ABSTRACT LOVE

Send me a picture and I will tell you everything about you

The way you look is defined not only by what you eat or drink, but also by the way you feel inside of you.

There are people that dont have the luck to have a fantastic body, but a face with a big smile all the time changes absolutelly everything.

They look attractive ... shining like a sun.

When you start the day, look in the mirror everyday for one minute.

Do it dailly ... and if many days in a row, you see the same unhappy face, you will need to start defining and redefining what is going on with you.

Keep the pictures with you published also on social media and then after a while just scroll down and and analyze yourself.

You will maybe understand what happened to you last year, or the whole march or april this year.

Your face tells a story.

Is very important to understand who you are, how you feel inside and why being happy is happening or not.

Make this small exercise for a while.

Defining you as a happy soul with a smiley face should be the main target.

ABSTRACT LOVE

Dont surrender

Its a nice saying ... love is a lot like dacing ... you just surrender to the music.
The problem is that we find this quote too late in life, and we surrender in front of the obstacles that appears in from of the love story.
We shall surrender to the love itself, cause the whole meaning of life is understand the power of love.
One day you see you have no plan ... but you love each other a lot ... maybe infinite love.
Everybody around is just saying that this is the pathless path ... and nothing will happen ... but also that you should consider real only something you can hold in your hand.
Magic means that if you feel it in your soul, you can keep it in your hand but what is magic?! ... we forgot long time ago what that means.
Being connected to love ... you will see the infinite ... so dont surrender and if you do it surrender only in front of love.

She could not believe it.

The thief was the guy that she was in love with ... but the guy was gone.

She calls her brother, telling him what happened ... and decided to go to the police.

But the officer said they cannot help them.

The love cases cannot be solved at the police station.

They talk again and decided to go to the Consumer Protection and declare what happened and ask for help.

The officer from her, asked the lady if she agreed to give the heart to the thief ... and she smiled and say ... yes ... cause i love him.

But listen .. said the officer ...you gave him the heart and now you ask it back?! How is that?!

Well .. the lady replies ... i did not know that i will not only loose my heart, but also my minds.

I want to come back to reality.

Well ... my dears .. falling is love is strange ... sometimes you dont understand anything at all ... but love is everything ... and yes ... indeed ... you risk to loose your heart and soul ... but only this way you have 1% chance to be happy.

Half of her heart stolen by a thied and half stolen by a pirate

How should we define the difference between a thief and a pirate?!

Well ... a thief will steal anything at all .. but a pirate is interested only in treasures.

So... dear ... if you met a pirate, means you are a treasure.

But is difficult nowadays to clearly understand which one is a thief ... and just wants you ... and which one is a pirate and dream that he will steal a treasure. And the amazing illusion will happen when she sees that half of the heart was stolen by a thief and half of a pirate.

Which one will win?!

I think a real woman will choose the one that will make her feel as a treasure.

ABSTRACT LOVE

In and out of love

Trying to define our lifes, we realise, we dont really know know what to do.

We are emotional beings.

Today we want something ... tomorrow we dream of something else.

Having this dance of emotions might look strange, but what is the meaning of dance?!

Just feel the music with joy.

What are the meaning of emotions?!

Feel the life ... and feel alive.

But there are things we like ... and love ... and things we dont like ... what should we do?!

It says that love is everything, so think all the time that we are emotional beings and have the right to play however we want on the stage of life.

If it happens that you are in and out of a love story ... dont think too much ... let the music play inside your soul.

If you follow your intuition, whatever you do ... is the best thing that you should do at that moment.

In the real life you cannot go in and out... but when it comes about your love life ... just do what you feel, even if it does not make any sense at all.

Meaning of love is to heal our broken souls.

From lemons to lemonade

It says ... When life gives you lemons, make lemonade.

This is a proverbial phrase used to encourage optimism and a positive can-do attitude in the face of adversity or misfortune. Lemons suggest sourness or difficulty in life; making lemonade is turning them into something positive or desirable

We dream of love stories ... we start and understand that falling in love is easy ... but then we realise that staying in love is difficult.

When a real love story begins, you cannot choose so many things ... the story is offered to you ... so everything you should do is just enjoy it.

We live a life ... which looks like a deposit of dreams, but we forget to be happy .. no matter of the conditions where we are.

So ... have a lemonade ... smile and enjoy things with the people from your life.

Betrayal or just a silly game?!

... A real story

Once upon a time, 2 beautiful married women ... a blonde and a brunette, were in love with the same man.

One was the wife of that lucky man ... and the other was the wife of a very good man, who was too naive to understand what was really happening.

Both couples were in a good financial situation, and were always spending they free time together.

Everything was ok till the brunette was understanding that very soon she will loose her husband because of the lovely blonde ... but instead of loosing her husband she lost her minds because of jealousy.

They went through tough times together.

The love affair needed to end.

The blonde girl started being depressive ... abandoned ... and could not believe that the fairy tale was gone.

Not so much time ago ... she was so happy ...not with her husband ... but she was happy.

Feeling lost ... she started talking with an old friend ... telling him her drama.

She was the Devil itself ... but now she was a victim ... the victim of her actions ... but she could not see that.

Her friend .. listen her for months ... trying to make her understand she is young, beautiful, has a fantastic husband, 2 beautiful kids ... but she was all the time with her mind at the married man ... a guy 20 years older as her.

She loved him a lot ... and could not forget him.

She wanted him back and after few months they started the love affair again.

The brunette, a very intelligent lady, understood what was happening ... but this time, instead of going back into the mental health hospital ... thought of a very good plan ... as her husband to go there.

She knew about the friend of the blonde girl.

Her husband disliked this man a lot, cause was richer than him and was too close friend with the the woman who was in love with.

So ... the brilliant girl ... start a love affair with the guy ... but lost control of the story and is falling in love for real.

She could not believe ... that even if was just a betrayal ... she actually met the love of her life.

ABSTRACT LOVE

It was a fairy tale.

Husband ... that is very jelouse, finds out and wants to kill the guy ... thinking that he has a love affair with her wife, but also with the woman she was loving a lot.

It was a nightmare, and could not understand what is really going on.

Is this guy the representative of karma on earth?! ... or who the hell is he?!

A nightmare is starting for him and a fairy tale for the wife.

Things changed overnight ... and was unbelievable ...the only little problem was that the misteriose guy was married.

The brunette wanted this guy so much ... doing the same, what the blode was doing to her ... but now she was doing that to another woman ... she wanted her husband a lot.

Life is strange .. she was doing the same thing as she once thought the Devil did in her house ... but now she thought everything was a fairy tale.

But the guy was not so naive ... as the blonde and brunette thought ... he paid attention to them ... but remained at home with his wife ... feeling like everything was just a joke.

And ... the jelouse brunette ended again into the health mental hospital ... just one more time.

Hey ... all of you ... we need to understand that people from our life are not our properties.

We can own a house ... a car ... maybe even a bank, but not other people.

Dont feel lost when you see you cannot have the fairy tale into the real life.

Just enjoy the stories the Universe gives u.

Life is too short to see things into a dramatic way ... be jelouse or think we can own other people for life.

Learn to define things better, if you dont want to end up as the beautiful brunette into mental health hospital.

So ... just enjoy the fairy tales ... dont take them so seriously.

He does not want to share his life with her
... but just be part of her life

Men are indeed selfish, but they like the love stories.

Men do not understand the practical side of a relationship.

Men are naive ... and in the end ... they pay the price ... the love story ends.

Men act as they have all the time in the world ... but are too blinds to see how everything is gone.

... and dont understand why.

Women wants to share our lifes with them ... not only let them be part of our lifes.

Loving them is not enough!

The truth about the truth ... it hurts a lot

We play on the stage of life ... as good as we can ... but maybe not good enough.
And sometimes people and things hurt us a lot.
But its difficult to believe we can run through life without any problem at all.
All those things are what we can define as lessons of life.
And one day ... we realise we changed a lot.
All those things that hurt us so much into the past ... and let us be so cold inside of us ... that we cant love anymore with an opened heart.
Defined by pain generated by life ... unable to love someone at an infinite level.
But life is to short to play around like this.
The truth about the truth is that it hurts a lot to be alive, in some moments, but we can be wise enough to know that we can heal our souls with love.
Open your heart in your love story.

Dont control the dance ... just sincronize with the partner

I am not an expert in dancing ... but its the same with the love stories.

Trying to control the steps of dance, but not synchronize with the partner is the worst scenario you could choose.

You cannot take your girl to a football game and expect as she to be delighted.

I mean, there are girls that like football ... but probably you are not so lucky for that.

We should let our partners have their dailly routines and hobbies just in the way they want to do that, not try to force them do only the things we love to do.

Dacing ... translated into our love life ... means feel the love ... and feel the joy of being togheter.

Dont try to control things just enjoy life ... and think of love all the time.

Real love can be like a dance for our souls.

Why a woman blocks you

The man had always been more naive than the woman.

We say are powerful beings, but in the end we try to survive in relationships that we cannot control or understand.

A woman that loves you a lot ... will somehow, in different moments, also hate you a lot.

She might even want to kill you ... but that's only cause she loves you a lot.

It's quite difficult to define why they block us.

I mean... are men so idiots that cannot understand the reasons why women hates them?

Well ... a real lady that is not finding the path to your soul, will take you out of her life.

If you cannot see what a woman wants from you ... she will not loose her time to define with you the reasons.

She will just block you.

To be unblocked you need to start reconnect to her heart ... make her understand that even if you love her so much ...you need some guidance.

Yes ...i know ... it's difficult to deal with the feminist philosophy ... but remember that even if is strage living with them ...we cannot live without beautiful souls near us.

The probability of going out of your own statistics

Oscar Wilde used to say that "Every saint has a past and every sinner has a future".

Same with all of us ... cause the world is divided into saints and sinners.

The mouth of the world is quit important, but how do you define yourself?!

A saint or a sinners?!

Said will stop smoking and smoke yesterday 12 cigars again?!

I mean, we can speak statisticly about us: smoke one pack of cigarettes a day or even two, we cheat our partner twice a month, we drink too much every saturday when we go out, spend the whole salary 2 weeks after we get it etc etc.

Those statisticts data defines us ... cause tomorrow, the day after tomorrow and next week and then next year probably we will do the same.

Then we say ... life is boring, but never thought so deeply about a real change.

For things to change ... you need to change all those statistics data about you.

How do you define the change?

That is the new way you would love to be ... a good weight, more atractive because of the smile you are always wearing ... much wiser because of the books you had been reading and on and on.

For a real change you need to keep in mind your focus all the time.

It will also help if a person you really love, whisper you those words about change from time to time ... saying you can do it.

So there is always hope ... and the probability of going out of your statitics, if you are honest enough with yourself to define very clear who you are and who you want to become.

Dare to redefine yourself!

ABSTRACT LOVE

The perfect partner ... or the perfect illusion

Which one do you prefer?

We always think too much, instead of just enjoying life as it is.

Probably is too difficult to understand why we live in the reality we live today ... instead of living a life, defined by our dreams and desires.

We do not accept that the Universe knows better than us ... where we need to be in this moment.

And this is when we start ... overthinking and comining with lots of new scenarios for us.

The Universe observes us and is laughing.

Let us think we are the boss ... and is lauging again and again.

People are very influenced by the relationships they are involved in.

In the beginning we have the impression we are in the perfect relationship, but in time ... things change too much ... and we become unsatisfied by what we live.

Illusions comes in our live maybe we meet a new person ... and start to believe that this is what we really need.

Temptations start to redefine our lifes and we start seeing the illusion as the best partner.

Many goes throw these stories ... but not so many talk about that.

But in the end is just a choice ... between reality and the world of illusions.

Last chance

We have moments in life when we receive what is called ...the last chance. Life gives us different exams and we fail and fail and fail again ... and we become real experts into failing ...but even failing can be just an episode from our timeline.

Funny thing is that not only life gives us those last chances for different lessons, but also people from our life.

Should we bother about that?!

If someone says that gives you a last chance, i think that person believes is your teacher not that we would not need teachers in this world, but you should let only your soul choose which direction you go.

Dont live a life with others's people standards.

Last chance is just an illusion ... there will be many, many others choices and chances.

Let the Universe define what we name the last chance, not the people from your life.

Create your own standards... only with the things you believe in.

ABSTRACT LOVE

In love or just loving who you become?!

Gabriel García Márquez said " i love you not for whom you are, but who i am when i'm by your side."

Strange words ... but the truth.

The perfect partner is the one that makes you shine, no matter what kind of relationship you have together ... and no matter of your age.

If someone makes you look like a diamond ... means that person is the love story of your life.

Most of the time we don't even understand what is going on ... but different people around us will say we look and act differently.

Is like a quantum jump that you can make, just cause you are in a love story.

You also might keep in mind that a quantum jump means the abrupt transition of a quantum system from one quantum state to another, from one energy level to another.

For a human being a quantum jump is for example ... a simple employee from a petroleum company becomes over night the president of the company.

The example might look weird, but that's quantum jump and this can also happen to you, in case you are into the love story of your life.

Infinite love can make you fly.

Quantum jump means also change everything around you, from the people you love to the daily routines.

Lots of people that study personal development, are looking for a huge change into their lives ... which can be defined as quantum jumping.

Most of those people, after reading even thousands of books ... do not succeed anything at all ... even if they learned all the theories even written.

We have ... all of us ... a huge potential inside of us ... but only the person that gives you the infinite love ... can whisper you ... that you can be whoever you ever dreamed to be.

So ... just enjoy the love stories ... they are the infinite source.

The need of an adventure

People love the adventures.

Some goes into a camp in the mountains, some love car racing, some flying with small airplanes, some hunting ... and some ... they just fall in love and enjoy life together with the perfect partner.

I know a beautiful girl that loves having sex into the subterranean parking at the mall. This is the way she sees an adventure.

But we all have strange way of seeing life and only few things that makes us feel alive.

Do this love for certain adventures define us?!

Well ... yes. It's quite difficult to understand why we have it, but anything that makes you alive is welcome into the daily life ... cause life, in general, is quite boring.

Too bad we don't realise that any day can be an adventure ... and it's up to us to do this every time we want it.

So ... don't be shy ... dare to live and do all the things you love to do.

That fear of being alive should not be part of you.

ABSTRACT LOVE

A huge distance between

There are 2 kinds of relationship that we dont like to accept that they are ... the way they are: the one with the partner ... when you realise you too far from what you thought it might be between the 2 of you ... and the other with the person that you fall in love with, but you realise you have too different values in life.

Can we do something about that?!

Well ... you could define with that person where you are at that moment ... and in the mean time try to redefine everything ... but for real, not as a simple discussion.

Negotiating into a relationship is something we will not be so happy about, but in the end is important to think if you really want to be with that person or not.

Most probably, your life will not end tomorrow, so you need to think if you try to go on a common road togheter, or you just quit ... and think about a new life for you.

Things are quite simple, but we dislike talking honestly about what is really going on into the real life.

We can hide the truth for years, but we will not be able to hide the unhappiness from our souls.

Pretending you have a life is no an option.

Start to act honestly ... life is too short to lie yourself more than others.

ABSTRACT LOVE

A philosophical guide for imposible love stories

Being unhappy is just a choice

We believe that the world we live in decides the fact that we can be happy or unhappy.

We let the circumstances tell us what to feel inside of us.

We do not dare to define things and situations very clearly so that we understand, for example, that an unhappy partner cannot make you be unhappy for the rest of your life.

We cannot let others influence what we feel inside our souls.

Life is too short to let them decide what to do and feel.

Waking up and asking yourself if you want to define yourself as happy or unhappy is just a choice.

You should never let someone decide this for you.

The art of defining and redefining is the art that makes you understand that you can see everything into a microscopic but also macroscopic way ... and that what you see is just a reality from this moment ... but everything could have a different direction tomorrow ... even a good one.

So let your spirit decide to be happy ... is just a choice.

ABSTRACT LOVE

Too much?!

How do we have a good balance in life with everything is really important?!

How do we think the concept of "too much" can be defined?!

Family is important, friends are important, our jobs are important ... everything looks like important ... but how you manage to keep the right balance in everything?!

Too many questions ... probably we should just enjoy everything we do but in the end pay more attention to the things we love.

But now a difficult question: what if one day you meet the love of your life ... what happens when you receive "too much" love?!

Some of us ... got scared and ran away.

We do not know to let others love us ... we learned to love .. but were not taught the art of opening our hearts and let the love go into our souls.

Is it unhealthy to love too much?

I believe that love is the only one that never can be too much.

When you know to love, but also to be loved ... even if it is "too much", you start living a life with the joy inside of you.

Just dare to love ... with all your heart.

It's not over until I win

Les Brown playing with one of his kids, learned a huge lesson from his son. The little guy did not accepted to end playing until he was winning. But we are adults now ... and an adult has the right to abandon a fight, a dream or a purpose.

This is the real dogma ... and this is how we live our lifes.

Not all of us but still many ... have a huge lack of optimism inside.

When we were kids we wanted to win all the competitions ... but in time we had so many dissapointments that we get used with the idea.

People abandon today very easilly almost everything they think they care a lot ... even the love stories.

What if we should still be stubborn as kinds and define better how our real life should look like.

What if one day just after waking up we say to ourselves ... is not over until i win.

How are our lifes should look like?

Learn to define better what determination means ... and dont throw your dreams and goals to the trash.

Do all the time what your heart wisper you to do.

Life is tricky baby ... stay in your magic

So many women with a heart of gold and a life full with illusions and desillusions ... end up just forgetting that not the makeup but stardust makes them beautiful.

We pay so much attention to the tricky details that life shows and convinces us that fairy tales ... even if we love them ... dont really exists.

Why we stop believing into magic?

Why in the beginning we are dreaming for fairy tales ... and then abandon the idea and go back to the ugly dailly reality?!

Why we start with courage and loose all the optimism walking through the timeline of our lives?!

A gold heart must have the courage of living into a fairy tale all the time.

The optimism is sometimes an illusory vision about the life we want to live, but what should be life without optimism?

You need to go through some difficult lessons so that you understand that what you see is not what is looks like ... cause life is tricky.

Then you understang right away that you could still believe in magic and fairy tales.

And truth be told, women love the fairy tales.

They need them as their souls to survive.

So ... be brave enough and let the magic stay inside of you.

Think all the time about defining magic.

Disconnecting from someone

You are a kid, then you grow up and you understand that being connected all the time to your parents is not such a good idea anymore.

Loving your parents is ok, at any age, but running your life considering all the time what others have to say, even if they are your parents, means you don't trust enough yourself and you are not connected deep enough to your soul.

We have certain chapters in life and being a kid, connected to his parents, is ok. You will learn a lot from them. This is the time when you implement your mental software inside of you ... and those principles that you learn at that age, will be the ones that will define your life.

The group of people from your school ... teachers, other kids, the school bus driver ... all those people will influence you also at that time.

The time flies ... you end school and you start the life as an adult ... most probably you get a job, get married ... have kids etc etc.

That is the usual script of a human being.

On all those chapters, most of the time, you have someone in your life that you can talk and define things and situations, and feel that it helps you a lot.

That person can be a close friend or your love partner.

No matter where you are on the timeline of your life, it will hurt a lot ... when somehow that relationship is closed.

It might be that you ended school and everybody goes to a different college or maybe your love disappointed you so much, that you had to decide to break up.

Into the love story, but also in the other situations, problem is that you start being lost ... not knowing in which direction you should go.

You realise that YOU was a mix of your soul and your partner's soul.

Breaking up, makes your soul broken ... and you find so many hospitals around the world, but no one for broken souls.

In these moments, you will be forced to redefine everything and understand that your soul is an independent one ... and all you need can be found inside of you.

Disconnecting from others, especially from the people we loved a lot, is a very difficult process ... but you can do it ... you will survive.

In the end, one door closes and another opens.

Same with the love stories.

Just let the silence enter into your soul

We live in a world where we let everything define us ... but never consider silence as a gift that was given to us.

I always thought that we will meet silence into the cemetery and we will have enough time for that, at the right moment ... but today i just changed my mind.

What we find too late in life is that if we loose our silence because of something ... that is a huge price to pay.

Letting silnce coming into our souls is a wise decision ... one of the best we could ever do.

When you feel the silence ... there is no worry or fear ... and you have time to feel alive.

We have so many dramatic science fiction scenarios, that only a calm mind can heal our souls.

Life is too short for overthinking.

Let the silnce smile your soul ... and you will start living a happy life.

Defining your ife as too complicated to dare smiling into your dailly moments is too silly.

Silence is a gift given to us by Gods ... only to remember that we can be also Gods one day.

Dare to think about that ... and receive the silence!

The perfect couple

This is quite a strange concept ... and wonder if really exists at all.

So ... how should we define the perfect couple?!

A certain age?!

She is a doctor and he is a lawyer?!

Rich guy driving a Ferrari and she ... a beautiful top model girl?!

Well ... fairy tale exists, but lets speak about real life.

I recentlly had the pleasure to meet and interact with a very nice couple. He was a worker in construction and she ... a cleaning lady.

She was divorced, with 2 kids and he was really in love with her.

Simple people ... but a lovelly couple.

You could read happiness on their faces when you saw them togheter.

On the other hand i met so many rich famillies that they were real unhappy togheter ... that i dont think that the concept of the perfect couple is connected with the idea of having all what you dreamed for.

When you embrace with your partner, look togheter into the mirror and see you both shining ... that is the perfect couple ... even if is a love story from the real world or just a love affair.

Real love can make you shine like a diamond!

ABSTRACT LOVE

Pretending we play all in

We always dream at what we dont have.

I believe that someone that is having a 2k dollars car is looking for a 7k dollars car, someone driving a Porsche is dreaming at a Bentley ... and someone married with a blonde girl is thinking how life looks like with a brunette.

We have lots of dreams and goals ... but lots of them are dying in time inside of us.

Have you ever defined why this?!

Quite simple we are just pretenting.

We pretend we read, make sport, quit smoking, play piano and many, many other things.

We just love speaking about how we see our perfect life should look like, but in the end we dont make anything at all as our dreams to come true.

Is just a fake action that we play all in.

For having the perfect life you dream for, most of the times you need to work very hard and also to make all kinds of sacrifices.

All in means to be fully committed to a task or endeavor; to give or be prepared to give all of one's energy or resources toward something.

What if you start doing this with your life in everything you say you are going to do?

Well ... pretenting is indeed easier than doing and the absence of courage is always happening.

Let me tell you a short funny story.

I met one time a lady that was pretending that she was divorcing. She even went few times to the court with her husband, but in the end ... in the last second .. she just stopped.

Realised she was was just pretending but her hunband was too silly to realise that.

He was just happy cause everything just stoped.

We do the same as this lovely lady.

But if one day we should understand that life is too short to play around and die with the music inside of us ... maybe we should realise that action is more important as pretending.

Define better your dreams and goal ... and then have the courage to fight for them!

ABSTRACT LOVE

Just stop the time

There are so many moments when we really dont know in which direction we should go in life.

We see only obstacles everywhere ... and no way to succed in what we decided to do.

The feeling of being lost, walking though the labyrinth of life is a too strong emotion.

You cannot see a path.

You feel trapped into a cave ... and no way of going out.

When this is happening ... we should just stop from everything we do ... just stop the time.

The meaning of life is to discover ourselves and for that you need to stop ... meditate and find a new way of living.

Our life had many chapters till now ... and will have others into the future also.

Life, most certainly, will not stop today.

If your silly mind cant feel the path to follow, let your soul and intuition decide where to go.

Just stop the time, day after day, cause time dont really exists at all ... and is not so important as we might think.

Your soul cannot do anything if you dont quite your mind ... this is why doing that is so important.

But what if you just dont like to end a chapter of your life, just cause you cant find the path?

What happens if you feel you follow the pathless path and evething looks useless ... but still you love so much that chapter, that you cannot close it?

And again ... just stop the time ... and enjoy those moments.

Dont loose your life being defined by a purpose.

Meaning of life might be that you need to feel alive ... and if you have those moments of feeling the joy inside your soul ... just pay the price of stopping time ... and enjoy everything.

When infinite love ends into the mud

We are very influenced by what happens around us and by what the people we know or love tells us about different situations or people.

We care a lot about what we think that other people think of us.

The life is sometimes so difficult to manage and those people around us feel this need of telling us what they think and what we should really do ... but they never consider the strong feelings from our souls.

So many love stories ended just because he or she payed too much attention to the opinions of others.

Life has a stange meaning ... the road we decided to follow might not look so wise, but in the end i think we should consider the Universe knows better than us what we should do.

A love story is not a business.

Dont see it that way.

A love story cant have a happy end all the time, but you should think about the fact that when you will throw all those strong feelings and emotions, from inside of you, to the trash ... you allow sending in there a part of your soul ... and that's only cause you payed too much credit to all those people from your life.

No one can feel your soul, than the person you love.

Letting others define your love story ... all those strong feelings you never thought that you could have ... is a silly thing to do.

Only you and your partner can define the complexity of your relationship.

Sharing your love with others letting them help you throw everything on trash or even end up into the mud of life ... defines you at least not a strong enough person.

Sometimes the meaning of love might be the healing of our souls and the partner can be in our life for a certain reason and just for a season.

Love stories might also hurt a lot ... but you must be the one that define and decice everything.

Just let your soul and intuition do whatever wants to do!

ABSTRACT LOVE

Pure art

Not so many people know what art is really about, but they are many that knows how to play with the art of living.

Yes living your life is an art.

You can be the artist of your own life.

When you are young we somehow manage to live any kind of experinces, making a balance between work, home and maybe ... your hobby, if you have one.

You may like to go fishing, travel around the world, paint you vision about life or read books ... anything that you love to do in your free time defines you as a person with a hobby.

But what if one day, you decide to take care only of your hobby and nothing else. Some people succeed doing that.

Probably you can decide to somehow mix your real life with the hobby also, but you should have a special talent into that.

You can be a great teacher for example ... but love to speak to your students, or write what you going to speak with them ... but you totally dislike the paper works you need to do as a teacher.

You could hire an assistant, that could do all your work and then you are free to do only the role of teaching.

You love to read books, but you need to have a job, do some things you already dislike to do ... so that in your free time to be able to relax and read, not being stressed you dont have money for your bills?!

What about your love life?!

You love your partner, but you dont like cleaning the house, go to do shopping at the supermarket, take care of your beautiful garden that can stay beautiful only if you dailly do something etc

How can your love story to be only a love story and dont loose your life with something else?

Can you live a love story only as high school teenagers spend their life when they are fallen in love?

What happens when you decide to see life as pure art and nothing else?

Do you have the right to do that?

I should say that your life belongs to you and is your fundamental right to do absolutely everything you want to do with it.

If you decide to live only the love story and dont care about anything else ... is just a decision you defined and applied ... and if you manage things well ... then you are an artist thinking only about pure art.

The ghost

The ghosting effect is quite a simple one.

People are appearing into your life and then they disappear forever.

Ghosting is a heartbreaking fact in the modern dating world. It's when a friend or someone you've been dating disappears from contact with no explanation.

Ghosting can shatter self-esteem and hurt just as much as physical pain.

But what if you are in love with a "ghost" that appears and then dissapears ... and then appears again and does this on and on and on.

How can you define this "ghost"?!

Difficult to be defined ... i should say.

But with infinite understanding and infinite love you have 1% chances to bring that person into the real world.

Such situations might look imposible ... but in the end probably nothing is imposible.

You need to define the "ghost", understand those reasons that makes them dissapear ... and most important ... never judge them ... no matter what.

The "ghost" can be the perfect partner into a parallel world ... and if you have that huge power of loving without asking anything in return that would help a lot.

Only real love can heal a ghost.

Is also important to define for yourself if you want that ghost into the real life or not.

The "ghost" can be the love of your life.

Defined by the car

Somehow people are defined by the things they possess ... including clothes, houses, cars and many other things.

The car is a very important attribute in the modern times.

100 years ago ... the horse defined the man, but things changed.

Maybe 100 years from now, we will be defined by our space ship ... who knows.

I know a guy that had a fantastic car, but always was behind the bills at the leasing company.

He had a tremendous success at ladies of any age. He was a real playboy.

One day, he explained to me the philosophy behind the car.

Yes ... indeed any car can take you from A to B, almost in the same time, but a lovely car can be a passport to enter much easier into the world of women.

But i also know few rich guys, with very cheap cars.

One of them, during the time had about 3-400 adventures with different ladies.

He could buy any car in the world, but he preferred to be defined by his actions, attitude and soul.

So ... i am really curious what do you think?! ... what should be the best way to be defined ... by the things that we possess or by the things that comes from inside of us?

We live in a strange world ... and sometimes is very difficult to understand what is the best example we should follow.

Loosing their time into the beauty saloon

For the modern woman, beauty is an important aspect of her life.

The woman wants to be always beautiful and will do everything in her powers to stay as that.

It is very difficult for a men to understand why women are loosing their time into the beauty saloons ... but on the other hand ... men are always in love with beautiful women.

They just love the results from the saloons.

But what most of the women forget is the saying that the smile is the best make up a woman can wear.

The right partner ... the right man can make her shine ... be always smiling and happy.

A very beautiful woman is not the one that goes all the time to the beauty saloon, but the one with a good vibe all the time.

A great relationship can metamorphosize her just looking unbelievable.

Define what you are searching for when you start your love life ... and keep in mind those details.

Be a smiley face with a happy soul.

The end ... is just a new beginning

It says that new is always better, but sometimes we dislike the beginning of the end ... and the end itself.

We see it ... but we dont want to close that chapter.

We are too stubborn for that.

We dont understand that life has many chapters and lessons to teach us.

Coming back into time ... remember high school?!

... most probably it means beautiful memories, but that is a closed chapter of your life.

You dont regret those moments ... caused time passed and you enjoyed other beautiful stories also.

You were unhappy at the end of high school, but college came after with beautiful times.

Then one day the concept of fairy tale appears in your life ... and you have into your mind the illusion that it will never end.

And ... this chapter is also closed ... it hurts a lot but you need to go on.

We dont understand the meaning of some people from our life but some are for a reason and some just for a season.

Trust the Universe ... it knows better as you do.

You can define all those chapters, understand the message behind the stories and continue living your life with joy.

The end is just the beginning of something else.

ABSTRACT LOVE

Got lost into my way of finding the path

We all have this question in our minds .. what is the meaning of life?! How can i find the main path i should follow in life?!

How can i ... not to waste my destiny?!

I know a very rich guy, with a huge company that is thinking about retirement. Asked him what he is going to do ... and his vision is to ride his expensive bike into the road of the mountains, close to his house.

I was amazed of the answer ... and did not liked it. I expected a different one. If i would be rich enough, i would spend my days into a luxury coffee shop ... writing stories from my phone.

The funny thing is that i can do this even now ... not beeing needed to retire. Same with my rich friend ... probably.

After spending years meditating at the meaning of life, trying to define the path you should follow you will conclude that there is no special path ... there is no specific way to follow.

The best place from the world, where you should be ... is exactly the place you are right now and the best path to follow is the path you are following now.

If you could take a spaceship and go just outside the earth, you would understand that the concept of left and right or in front and behind ... are just illusory.

The same for meaning and path of life.

There is no right or left direction to follow.

Just walk through life enjoying the fact that you are alive.

The Universe know better than you to define where to send your soul.

At your disposal

We are not happy, cause we are afraid of the sensation of being happy.
We sabotage ourselves all the time when we feel we are close to happiness.
What if one day you decide to redefine everything you see around you ... how should you do it?!

I think this can be done by being at the disposal of the Universe.

We all have special talents, that we dont use them.

We will end up life thinking of all the things we missed in here ... but the tragedy itself is that letting our talents at the disposal of the Universe, could let us influence the world ... and be a better one just cause we were here.

But we dont do it.

We dont do anything at all ... not even allow us to be happy souls.

We can be also at the disposal of our friends, relatives and also at the disposal of the loved partner.

How?! Just by doing everything we can to make them feel alive.

Real happiness comes when we are at the disposal of others.

Dare to redefine the path of your actual life.

Boundaries with friends

With real friends we should not have any boundaries when it comes about any kind of discussions.

When you feel those boundaries exist ... then you are not close enough with those.

Sometimes we need people in our life ... that pays attention to the things we cant see precisely.

Letting us know ... will help be better us.

Is not that we should live a life .. when we all the time expect others to tell us what is going on, but keep in mind of their remarks.

Boundaries are ok, when it comes to friends, but the biggest challenge is when it comes to the loved person.

If you are in a relationship, where different subjects are difficult to discuss, even if you tryed before, with no results at all, maybe you should define togheter the concept of boundaries and if you want togheter an absolute relashionship ... or a relationship with certain boundaries.

So many people have a pin on their phone.

Its ok to have a pin in case you loose your phone, but letting the partner know the pin, makes them understand you dont hide anything at all.

You can let them see everything from social media, including messages, but cant give then the password ... how can this idea be defined?!

Sometimes in life, we need a partner, just because it's very difficult to be alone.

Jumping from this idea to the fact that you was not lucky enough to feel absolute connection with that person ... will let the boundaries exist.

Its really ok, in both scenarios.

You can have no boundaries at all ... but you can also live into a love story without letting them absolutelly everything about you.

We are complex creatures ... and have the right to keep intact all our inside personalities.

You can be a great lawyer, a wonderful husband, but meanwhile ... just from time to time ... write your philosophical ideas about the illusion of life and publish them on social media under another name.

You have the right not to mix those things with your friends, but also with the loved person.

Everything is just a decision of how you want to live your life.

Defining the boundaries or the idea of living without them is just a choice.

Boooooom ... and one day the fairy tale becomes reality

One of the greatest fear of the human being, the one from the modern times, is the fear of success.

We do not believe we can accomplish great things, and the day we see that we did succeded, we try to sabotage ourselves in different ... strange ways.

We come up with this idea of the fairy tale, that no matter what, cannot be real. But ... we asked to the Universe so many times that we wanted to be happy ... that one day it pushes us into the scene of life ... with realistics facts.

With a small "accident", the fairy tale becomes reality.

You become that person that you wanted to be maybe a great writter, or a football player, or a lawyer or whatever you asked for.

Also one day that love from the fairy tale becomes real and you can dare to walk on the street with the person you love by so much time.

Define better your desires, cause one day they might become real.

If you real want that ... something ... then be prepared ... cause the Universe can say ... boom ... abracadabra ... and the fairy tale becomes reality.

Life is full of promises, but too little actions

We live our lifes thinking all the time how we should act ... instead of enjoying the simple fact that we are alive ... and just be there in the present moment.

We talk and even write our promises to us and to others in different modern forms ... by phone, whatsapp, face to face but a promise is just a promise.

What if instead of saying to the loved one ... i promise that i will make you the most happiest person from the world you just make her be happy today.

Dont loose your time promising something you dont know will happen or not ... but just act now.

Life is too short to make complicated scenarios ... you should just enjoy this day with the loved one ... you have no idea if tomorrow exists or not.

Define better your thoughts, promises and your actions.

Life is too short to play around.

The movies from our mind ... and the one from your soul

We actually live in a movie ... or maybe even 2.

The one from our head ... with so many scenarios that never happens ... and the one from our empty souls.

Living on the stage of life, we should believe that the Universe has our back ... feel safe and trust in our lifes, no matter what.

The movie from our minds ... usually defines the reality as a complex script ... with lots of bad or even dramatic situations ... that in 99% of the cases are never happening.

The movie from our souls ... is the one that defines a world where people see us only as shadows ... and not as lovely beings.

Combined, the 2 movies ... create a dark reality ... not letting us be the ones we should be smiley persons with a happy soul.

We do not have to think that we live in a world where everything and everybody is againsts us.

We should create the image of a beautiful reality ... a movie that always has a happy ending, no matter what.

So instead of a dramatic movie script ... think of a happy one.

Instead of an empty soul ... see a joyful one.

Redefine the 2 movies ... and enjoy life, cause it really can be beautiful.

Sex. The greatest sport of the 21st century

Sex was inveted by God for procreation, but the human being from the modern times redefined sex as a sport.

Sex is a way of totally eliminating the barrier between 2 human beings.

Its an illusory way of seeing love that we are seeking for healing our souls.

The dating apps that people are using today, made it very easy to meet new persons and have new sexual partners.

We say we want a soul mate and end up just doing some sport for us to be in better shape.

But sex, done with the right partner, can be fantastic, healing, empowering and also recalibrating you.

Napoleon Hill dedicated a whole chapter to sex, into the very well known book, the bible of personal development, "Think and grow rich".

He is speaking about the greatest people from the world that sexually were very active.

Sex can be fantastic at any age, even if you are 18 or 37 or 52.

Probably what we should keep in mind is that throught sex we have complex interconnections and huge exchange of energies from one to another.

Done in the same time with being in love empowers you a lot.

We tend to believe that we all are experts into this subject, sex being today the greatest sport from the 21st century.

Think about the subject as a way of healing your body, mind and soul, but also a way of living your love life at a different level.

Waiting for a miracle

When you enter into politics, you are teached that if you want to be successful you will never get the power ... but you will need to take the power.

Same happens in life.

The Universe will sometimes smile at you, will give you new chances and new opportunities, but you will need to take action so that you get from it what you want.

Most of the times we are stucked ... just doing nothing and waiting for a miracle to come ... and it never comes.

If you feel that the moment for a change had come ... define this new life that you want ... think very well at all the details ... and just do it.

The miracle itself is the fact that everything will happen.

Acting on the stage of life, means you really want to receive that magic into your soul.

We have so many things that we want, but only few are important ... and those are the ones that makes your life look like a miracle.

The joy from your soul might be what you are expecting.

So wait for good things to happen .. define very clear what you want and be the main character of this movie called ... your life.

Believe in fairy tales, magic and the chance of a new life.

Beautiful colors

No matter what age you have, maybe you should paint your life into beautiful colors.

Reality can be seen as black and white, but we have so, so many beautiful colors that we dont use to add a little bit of life to our dailly moments.

Enjoying to walk on a street into the old city, drinking a coffee with the person you love, watching a love movie with a happy end ... whatever you do ... just add some colors to what you see.

Most of the time we see reality as something that we dont like ... but redefining the scene into a beautiful way which might look like repainting the painting ... but only with beautiful colors.

You can decide to live your life just as it is ... and also be the painter that never paints.

You know to paint ... but you dont paint?!

Have any ideas of how many books with the title "HAPPINESS" appears anually?

In the 80's we had only few ... they were best sellers ... now thousands of books with this title anually ... and everybody is reading about happiness, but probably only few know to redefine their life and live it as a happy one.

Seeing the scene of our life as a painting ... defining and redefining how things are and how you would love to see them ... might be interesting.

I ve been stolen your heart and I will not give it back to you

Being honest with ourself is one of the most difficult things we must do in life.
And most of the time we fail.

Many philoshopers and religious people explained in books written from hundreds of years ago, that only love can heal our broken souls.

Enjoying the feeling of love inside your heart is probably the meaning of life.

But do you have the courage to love?!

What if someone that is suddenly appers into your life will steal your heart and not give it back to you when you will want that.

Staying into the love story might be difficult also, but giving yourself the freedom to feel alive is a fundamental right for a human beeing.

Today you re happy ... tomorrow you re not ... and having the strength to live your life is the way you should live.

You might loose your mind ... loose your heart ... loose lots of things from a regular life, but feeling alive will compensate everything.

As Jim Rohn used to say ... life is risky, but wait to see what happens when you dont risk at all.

Dont live your life as a zombie ... doing only what you are being asked to do ... let your soul define the path.

It knows better than your silly mind.

The desire + Being unhappy twice

A new day is a new chance.

The night resets everything.

You should forget everything means past and redefine your life just after opening your eyes into the morning.

But also open your soul ... embrace the world and be happy cause you just have a new chance.

Our egos contains a long list with desires.

We want all kind of things ... living the illusion that compling those desires ... our empty souls will change into happy ones.

The desire, that fata morgana ... this mirage that a thing can fulfil the emptiness inside your soul ... will bring you into the position of being unhappy twice: once cause you dont have it yet and once cause you will think that the present moment is not what has to be.

What if we redefine our lifes ... right in this moment and say: the most powerful desire i have is to live into this moment and enjoy it just as it is.

Is your career not going in the direction you want?! Its ok, at least if is the career you love.

Is your love story does not following the normal standards?!

Its ok ... as long as this is the love story of your life.

Life is a journey not a destination.

Dont define your life in a dogmatic way.

Some of the things are happening for a different reason that you might think.

Be an open mind person and see the joy of traveling through life ... as a new chance that is given to you everyday.

Air of the soul

Life does not have a manual.

Well ... there have been written millions of books about this illusory concept, which we call life and even if so many people will tell you what to do with your destiny ... in fact, you are the only one that can define your path.

We have so many moments when we feel the emotion of being lost, and are never brave enough to be honest with us ... and only follow our hearts in everything we do.

We go through life feeling all the time the absence of the air we need for our soul ... and we do nothing about it ... cause we just ignore that the soul exists. The game of defining and redefining life is quit simple.

Different rules for all of us.

Different aspects in timeline.

But when you live moments of emptiness ... that is the absense of air for your soul.

How can the air of your soul can be defined?!

For one can be riding a horse, for one racing cars ... traveling into the mountains ... or a love story.

Whatever it is ... just do it if it empowers you.

Is ridiculous that we pay so much attention to what we eat for example.

It says that for being healthy we need to be aware all the time at: the air we breath, the food we eat and the water we drink.

But we are so silly to define ourselves as our bodies.

What about our souls ... how do you feed your soul?!

Do you ever think of that?! Do you have the courange to do it?!

Life is beautiful if your soul is happy ... as your soul to be happy ... define for yourself the meaning of "air of the soul".

ABSTRACT LOVE

When you have nothing ... but actually everything

We live a life ... focused on possession of a long, long list of things.

A car, a house, a boat ... and even a child ... we can see as a possession.

How can we define someone that had everything, according with the human standards and one day loses everything?!

There are lots of stories with people as that, and we ignore when we read or hear about them.

We only see the small difficulties of our life, that we daily amplify more and more.

We can't live seeing the beautiful things ... but only tiny, little problems.

What if we have money problems, but a beautiful happy family?!

Money problems does not mean nowadays what it was 50-100 years ago ... not to have what to eat.

Should you change your place with a rich person having an unhappy family?

What is more important: having possessions or joy inside our souls?!

We don't know to define the real values in life.

We spend too much time focusing on what we don't have, not realising we could spend our life enjoying what we have.

Moments of joy ... are not so present into our timeline ... cause nobody ever taught us that we could have nothing, but in the same time have everything.

When you realise that you have everything ... that is the moment when you feel alive.

Make an experiment today: go to a beautiful cafeteria (and I say that even for the ones with weight problems) buy a delicious cake and enjoy it.

You will feel that wonderful taste and you will love it.

What happens if you decide to buy 2, 3, 4 or even 5 cakes?! You decide to taste all the ones available into the cafeteria.

That mix ... after tasting 4-5 cakes .. will even make you feel sick.

Just one cake is enough ... but we don't get the idea ... cause same is happening into life.

You don't need to be a king and have a huge kingdom to feel alive maybe just seeing the smile of the person you love ... will make your soul a happy one.

Writing your thoughts

It is so difficult to define our thoughts.

Today we say something ... tomorrow we want the opposite.

Writing down your thoughts will help you understand the one you ve been yesterday and define why that person was metamorphosed so quicklly into a totally different person.

We need to follow the road that our destiny sends us on ... and just walk though life.

Writing down your ideas, your feelings, even if they are so different from one day to another ... will let you connect better with your soul.

Today is a rainy day ... tomorrow is hot ... but we need to learn the art of feeling the joy that the sun is sending to us and also to dance into the rain.

Every moment and every feeling has its beauty.

Keep the journal of your soul ... but dont read it to many people.

Only few wants to see you happy.

It's like a test drive

Jumping from the love story to the real life ... well ... short story ... it's difficult ... there is no bridge over this huge gap.

Like in any story that involves magic ... weird things are happening but the end is always a happy one.

You will need all the time to pass different tests ... and there will be lots of moments when you will have no idea what to do.

The ones that sell cars ... came up with this lovely trick, called test drive.

You fall in love with the car you are invited to go for a ride ... and then you realise the connection you have with the car ... the fact that it defines you ... and you want it ... and you want it right now.

You will need to pay the price ... and then the car is yours.

Quite simple.

In the love story it's somehow similar, but also a little bit more difficult ... cause you cannot pay with money this kind of subject.

You will need to pay a different price ... to pass different tests ... so that you realise that love is everything and any price you've been asked to pay ... you will do it ... if your soul says yes.

So ... jump into the magic car ... follow the road of your feelings... and love will come into the real life.

Defining the love stories makes you understand that life is beautiful.

Sending a new message

We live in a world where you can see philosophers everywhere.

Anyone is an expert in defining from sports to political issues ... but only few knows to define and redefine the own life.

And when i say redefine ... i mean changing completlly the script of the life.

For changing life ... first you need to analize everything very well and right after send a new message to the world about you.

Its not you anymore ... its the new YOU.

Should be interesting for you to read the story of complete change from KGB to FBS.

Its being taking years ... change the top members, bring new people into the organization, change completlly the philosophy ... but also changing few names ... jumping from KGB to FSB.

And remember ... those guys were experts ... and they knew very well what they were doing.

What chance do we have to make quatum jumps ... be a totally different person into the eyes of the others.

For example, you are a constructor .. you build small houses and then one day you change the presentation of your company, saying that you are an expert in building sky scrappers.

That is a huge jumb, in most of the cases even illusory ... but maybe there are stories with people that did that.

You could be the kind of person that cheated the other partner for tens of times ... and now says is changed ... can that be seen as a honest message?!

Sending a new message into the world, about who you are or who intend to be in the near future is a difficult task ... not imposible ... but difficult to complete.

A new life can be defined by a huge need of change ... so if you think is important ... send corectlly the new message to all the ones around you.

And if they dont listen to you ... let them walk out of your life.

ABSTRACT LOVE

Defined by your problems

We live in a world defined by 3 major problems with the following issues: weight, money and relationships.

If you would ask anyone you know about their problems, most probably they have one of these 3 difficulties.

We cannot control the world we live in, but on the other hand letting the problems to define your life is not an ideal way to live.

Deciding just to pass the exams of life, being stronger than the problem itself should be a better idea.

You can read long lists with statistics about what is happening all around the world.

Someone in New York is having weight problems, someone in London relationship problems and someone in Pretoria ... problems with the money ... but speak even with the President of your country and you ll be amazed of how many problems he has.

What about a child in the second grade, disliking his class mates ... cause he is not so good in school as them?!

Marriage problems?! Should i give you the statistics?!

The percentage is huge ... but life goes on... and what you will never understand is that most of our problems are just following the process of evaporation through time.

All those things makes our life sucks.

Instead of focusing on them ... maybe we should just define a perfect script scenario of getting out of those situations.

Focusing on what you dislike is silly.

Any problem has a solution ... just meditate on it ... define it very well ... and then apply the solution.

... and SMILE.

You dont have the best weight you would like to have?!

Just think of walking more and foget about eating.

Have money problems?

I had heard hundreds of stories about the lack of money at different persons ... but no one ever told me that at least is reading any book of how they could become rich.

Relationship problems?! ... maybe you should learn how you should treat people with love and respect ... one day they will understand that there are not so many

She said "I NEED A CLOWN"

We use to see the world and all the new people we meet, though the eyes of our past.

But we dont have the right to compare 2 women or 2 men ... saying they are the same.

We cannot expect as the things to be like it was in our past relationships.

Unfortunately we have this silly desire to control all the time situations even if it's a love story.

We declare we are looking for the perfect partner, but we end up living with a clown, cause we dont know to see life as a dance.

When you dance you need to feel the rithm of music, but also synchronizing is having a huge importance.

You need a powerful connection with the partner not to control the partner.

We are living in a society of human beings not of slaves that you can be metamorphosize into zombie creatures ... that lives only for compliting the things we ask them to.

Our relationships with other people, especially into the love stories ... must have the magic inside.

The saying that love is the closest thing we have to magic is true.

Tattoos

A tattoo is a form of body modification where a design is made by inserting ink, dyes and pigments, either indelible or temporary, into the dermis layer of the skin to change the pigment.

The art of making tattoos is tattooing.

Tattoos on ancient mummified human remains reveal that tattooing has been practiced throughout the world for many centuries.

A leader of a group or a king had special symbols on his skins ... but also ordinary people used to have that.

Being from a specific tribe ... people used certain symbols for their tattoos.

That was indicating who they are, where they came from ...short story it was a form of defining them.

Those people did not had luxury clothes or cars to define them ... as happens into the modern society but a nice body with beautiful tattoos on it, could make them look special.

Coming back to our times, we see lots of people that have a tattoo.

100% is a new trend.

The meaning of that is to define and express easier their personalities.

We are defined by many issues as: how we dress, what house we have, what kind of car we are driving ... and now by tattoos.

Before having it, we should think very well at that symbolistic and see the interconnection of it with who you are today and who you might be into the future.

Define your favorite symbols ... and choose the ones that can be like a stamp for your personality.

Blonde or brunette?! Which one do you prefer?!

Men love talking about women.

They define them all the time ... some thinking of them in lots of terms ... but all the time enjoying having such a conversation.

If you ask a wise man what he prefers between a blonde a brunette woman ... he will probably say that will choose the both of them.

But a real man does not love a woman because of the colour of her hair, or skin ... but because of her spirit and soul.

A real woman can make you feel alive.

Her spirit will redefine your emotions.

Her soul will let you connect with Infinity.

The beauty of her body will make you feel the joy of being alive ... just by watching her.

Men love women ...but sometimes forget that for a real woman, the connection between them is more important than anything else.

Fall in love of beatiful people and enjoy the life togheter.

Dont let the colours define your love story.

The feeling of shame reveals the absence of courage

Why you dont have the courage to be who you want to be in life?!

I mean, you can be a teenager reading books trying to understand the meaning of life instead of going to parties ... you can prefer go into the mountains and connect with the nature instead of going to night clubs ... you have the right to do and be whoever you want to be ... and never keep in mind the real values of the community you live into.

Some people express themselves through dance or maybe writing or painting.

You can define your best talent... and let it run your life no matter how the people from your life are seeing that.

The feeling of shame, that you are not aligned at the standards of society ... is just expressing the absense of courage from your soul.

A white man from Europe can marry an african girl, a lesbian can present her love to her friends ... not completing the standards does not mean you are not a human being anymore.

We are the victims of our own thoughts and feelings.

Once you will understand that you have the freedom to define your life in any way you want ... then life might appear as beautiful.

A real lady or a woman fallen in love?!

There is a saying ... that the best makeup a woman can wear is a beautiful smile. A real lady is always looking very well, wearing expensive clothes, luxury accesories, beautiful cars and everything that means her life ... needs to send this message to others that she is the perfect woman.

You could almost believe not only that she has the perfect life, but she is also the only happy person you ever met.

But that's only illusory.

In life we can have everything we want ... everything we dreamed since we were little children, but for completing the puzzle of a real happy life the soul must feel joy inside.

In time i had met lots of ladies ... real ones, but all of them had something in common ... they were caring an unhappy soul behind the mask of the perfect woman.

Years ago, a close friend of mine, was living the illusion of the perfect life, in Norway.

She was married with a very wealthy guy, having eveything a princess or maybe even a queen could have.

She was asking for something ...and her wish wad a command.

They were traveling all around the world and she even thought she lives her life into a fairy tale.

Before marriage, she came from a poor country and knew very well what was looking like a simple life ... and always compared her actual life with the life she had when was young.

But one day .. suddenly she realised than even if she have this wealthy life ... her soul is empty.

She remembered that years ago, she had nothing, but in high school ... being in love with a classmate, she was always feeling joy into her beautiful soul.

Unfortunately that feeling inside her was present only till the moment she decided to left her country and go looking for a wealthy life.

Realising this, with a huge determination, she left eveything she had in Norway, only with few clothes in a bag, looking for a new and happy life.

Now she is married in Paris and have a beautiful life in there.

She is not so rich as she was in Norway, but since she left that perfect life of a princess she started to feel her soul again ... and a little bit of happiness in there.

So the question is what is looking like a life from the fairy tale?!

The magic last only 3 days

A beautiful girl atacked me few days ago, complaining that i am the kind of person that believes in fairy tales.

She not even knew very well who i am, but defined me as a strange person.

I was smiling and asked her why she defines me if she never met me in person, but she could not have a good answer.

We are all the time defined by people, that never had anything to do with us.

Truth be told ... i do believe in fairy tales, but i also believe that it last about 3 days to recognize an illusion.

We all need beatiful moments into our lifes and some of them can easilly be defined as magic.

But what if everything is just illusory?!

When you will understand that the border between a fairy tale and an illusion can be detected very hard, you will pay more attentions to details.

There is an amazing book called "Man's search for meaning" by Victor Frankl, telling his story from a nazi concentration camp, about how people acted into those moments in the worst scenario a human being can live and explains to us the importance of having a meaning in life ... which most of the time is usually a dream.

He came up with the logotherapy theory.

That is founded upon the belief that striving to find meaning in life is the primary, most powerful motivating and driving force in humans.

He personally survived the holocaust cause he wanted to publish his work, other people wanted to meet again with the loved ones ... so statisticlly people that survived were not powerful individuals, but people that had the believe their life is not going to end in there.

Believing that someone could escape from the Auschwitz concentration camp looked at the time as an illusory fairy tale.

Coming back to our lifes ... we have many reason to believe that ... a difficult marriage can be treated with the illusory effect of a love affair ... dreaming to be rich by acting you are a rich person, going out to places and vacations you cannot afford or buying clothes and cars that will ruin you.

Anchored into reality again ... jumping from the fancy fairy tale to the real life ... back and forth ...will make you understand the difference between an illusion and a fairy tale.

Chatting

We certainly have a phone addiction ... most of us.

We wake up in the morning, looking for our phones, checking email, whatsapp, instagram, facebook ... and all the other apps, paying a huge attention to any kind of interaction we had into the virtual world.

Instead of going out at a coffee shop we prefer to stay for hours on chat with so, so many people, speaking and analyzing unimportant things.

Why did we lost the pleasure of socializing face to face like in the old times?!

Because we have empty souls ... and we cant show up like this into a meeting.

On chat is very easy to hide behind the screen of the phone, but also much easier to tell things that in real life ... seeing the eyes of the other person ... we cant have the courage to say those things.

Spending your life on chat is an addiction and as in any other addictions it will make you pay a huge price.

Real life is beautiful, as long as we know and have the courage to enjoy it.

Live your life ... means to feel and experience the emotion that the joy of being alive can bring you.

Living your life behind the mask offered by your phone is illogical and makes no real sense if you are brave enough to define this addiction.

The art of loving

In life we need to learn the art of loving, to understand how to love others and how we can let others love us.

Paradoxically is much easier to love than let others send their love to us.

The art of loving is an art that should be teached even from the kindergarten till we complete the university.

We sometime love, but dont show properly this love to the others ... and we could define lots of abstract ways as that.

You love your child, but you dont care about the things the child does.

You love your spouse, but you show very clearlly that you care about that relashionshop only when everything ended.

And tell me ... is it difficult to receive compliments?!

What if one day, the cashier at the bank that you had a small conflict with, just because of a small missunderstanding ... tells you: "its ok ... i love you".

I had accidentlly met persons at that, men and women, that told me "i love you".

In Hawaii, there is a practice called Ho'oponopono.

Ho'oponopono is a method used for reconciliation and forgiveness.

Is like a mantra and the words are:

"I love you

I am sorry

Please forgive me

Thank you"

This practice is for everybody and for any kind of relationship you have ... even the ones that are your enemies.

Saying "I love you" ... especially into the difficult relashionships ...but believing it with all your heart, makes the whole scene very special.

Loving is an art that you can learn, as long as your soul is opened to give and receive.

Define the magic of love and let it be everywhere into your life.

Can't sleep in the night

Legend says, when you cant sleep in the night is because you re awake in someone else's dream.

We wake up ... look at the walls of the room, then pick up the phone, read a book and again look at the walls.

You slept ok for years, but now you wake up with 3-4 hours before you should start your day.

Your mind or your soul has a huge problem inside ... and cant find an sollution.

Everything you should try, you cannot close your eyes and sleep.

So what do you think about the legend that is saying you are present in someone else's dream ... or i should add ... someone else's soul?!

Some people have money problems.

Some they had fights with different people they know.

Others have very deep love connections with a partner that they cant meet so often into the real life. They think too much and dream too much one for another.

Sometimes love is so, so powerful that you cant even understand what is happening.

But what should we do, if this persists for days, then weeks and months?!

Define that reason why you think you cannot sleep connect with this idea and ask the Universe to find a sollution for you.

There are lots of things that happens and you cannot understand, but every happens for a certain reason.

Maybe the Universe wants us to stay awake and let us meditate till the mind connects with the soul and then everything goes in the best direction.

But till you find that direction ...dont spend those morning moments defining the walls from your room ... but look deep inside your soul.

The answeat will come!

Rodeo or philosophy?

How should we define the perfect partner?!

The one that takes care of us, of the house, of shoppings, the one we can chat for hours, the one with that we have splendid sex ... or who?!

Most probably the perfect one is someone who has a little bit of everything we mentioned bellow.

Speaking of absolute values is illusory.

Also be aware if you are in love ... cause you will see things throw the lens of love ... which can trend to define everything as ... absolute.

Absolute beauty ... absolute sex ... absolute relationships.

The illusory truth effect (also known as the illusion of truth effect, validity effect, truth effect, or the reiteration effect) is the tendency to believe false information to be correct after repeated exposure.

The same might happen into your life.

So dont speak about absolute values in real life.

We are human beings ... not gods.

Just be an open mind ... see everyday as it is.

If one relationship goes more into the philosophy trend ... go and discuss evething you want... if in another relationships you can have lovely sex ... just focus more on rodeo.

Whatever it is ... rodeo or philosophy ... you must enjoy it.

The Universe knows better what you need.

So one day you can enjoy something and one day something else.

But learn to enjoy every moment at all ... just as it is.

When God wants to save you ... he sends into a love story

We all feel lost ... into this undefined thing ... called life.

Some even feel depression ... and have no idea how to heal it.

They go to doctors that prescribe them different medication ... but is almost useless.

Dalai Lama had been asked ... do you believe in medicine and if yes ... can the medicine treat depression?!

Dalai Lama smiled ... and said ... he believes in emergency medicine, cause after a tragic accident the persons involved must be treated right away, but is not believing in treating depression with medication.

We cannot heal our souls with drugs.

I think we can be healed only by love.

A young unhappy boy of 5 years old can heal his silly unhappiness with his mother ... that knows to infinitlly love him.

At 15 maybe from the group of his friends will help.

But what is happening at 37 or 56?!

Is there stil a chance for that?

We might live with the illusion of drugs or any other prescription the doctor gives us.

Apps as Tinder also create the impression that love is everywhere, but in the end if God wants to save us, then he will send us into a fairy tale.

We tend to define us as human beings ... but behind the mask of our bodies ... there is the soul.

Let your soul be free ... let it fly away and be in love.

Everything you love

About 100 years ago, Franz Kafka (one of the greatest novelist the world had), was walking throw a park in Berlin, and met a girl that was crying cause she lost her doll.

They went togheter trying to find it, but with no succes.

Later they decided to meet again in the next day to find the so loved doll.

Knowing that there is a small chance to find it, Kafka came with a letter from the doll to the girl, saying "I went to travel the world. I will write you about my adventures."

They keep meeting till Kafka died one year later.

He was reading letters to her all the time, and the girl just adored all those stories.

One day Kafka came with the doll (bought a new one) .. and the girl just loved it, but replied that is not looking like the doll she had.

The next day, they meet again and Kafka reads a new letter saying: "I look different, cause the world had chanced me".

After years, when the girl became an adult, she finds inside the doll a message signed by Kafka, saying "Everything you love probably will be lost, but in the end, love will return to you into a different way".

But what if you just refuse to loose the magic love?!

You maybe know that everything goes to nowhere, but the love is so strong and you just dont want to let it fly away.

You try to forget, find a new "doll" ... but everything is useless.

You want your "doll" ... which is the pure love, the one that appears only once in a lifetime.

Do we have the right to do this?!

In the fairy tale, you are allowed to do whatever you want to do, but only if inside your soul lives a heart that is defined by magic.

The perfect partner

Men live in the illusion that they live into a patriarchal society, but we are again, without yet realising, into a matriarchal society.

There are believes that thousands of years ago existed matriarchal societies.

Stories about amazons women, very powerfull that where the ones that run the wars ... are not science fiction theories.

Today we live into a world dominated by the feminism movement.

Feminism is a range of social movements, political movements, and ideologies that aim to define and establish the political, economic, personal, and social equality of the sexes.

But what is really hapening?!

Men are actually dominated by the obsession of the perfect woman.

Does she exists?!

Is she real?!

In my opinion ... the perfect woman is the one that can bring joy inside your soul.

Beautiful, smiling, a good soul, shining eyes and... good vibe all the time.

That is she ... the perfect woman.

Dear men ... yes we will go to the age of matriarchal society ... cause we are obsessed with this concept of the perfect woman.

But if we become slaves ... at least we should enjoy the life with this lovely illusion.

The fairy tales can heal your soul

What are the fairy tales and what is their meaning in our lifes?

When you are a child you believe in Santa Claus, in cartoon characters, in lots of stories you hear at the kindergarten ... then time is passing and you disconnect from all those fairy tales.

You start to see the world throw the eyes of society and start believing those are just stories and you were only a naive person ... and that's it.

Why?!

Cause people with empty souls had been explaining you that this is not something real ... and you should just wake up.

But one day ... being alone ... just you with your soul ... start to think again of fairy tales.

And you keep asking ... what if i am lucky enough to be the only one in the world that the Universe allowed to live a fairy tale into a parallel universe?!

If you dare to confront the dogmatic philosophy ... your dreams might come true.

A fairy tale can be a dream as Ghandi had ... to had the English Empire out of India ... without any violence of all ...or a person as Mother Teresa who founded the Missionaries of Charity and tryed to heal the world of pain ... a person as Steve Jobs that wanted and succeded to change the world throw technology.

But a fairy take can be also a love story ... lived at any age of your life, even if you are 17, 37 or 77 years old.

Ask you soul if still believes in those things, define the road to that story and then just enjoy it.

Fairy tales can heal our soul!

One piece of cake ... but only one

There is a saying that ... one day your life will be better than your dreams.
But you have so many, many dreams ... which one would you like it for real in the next moment?!

How can our dreams come true?!

How can we get in life all the things we want?!

If you would meet God, what would you ask him to do for you?

Probably if you are wise enough, you should ask joy and happiness for your soul ... not money, success or other illusory things.

I think in life ... we need to have a clear balance between what you want to do ... and what you need to do to live your life.

You have weight problems, but you love eating cakes?

Well ... i think you can allow yourself to eat a piece of cheese cake from time to time.

But only ... one piece.

You like wine, but you know that you got drunk too many times?

Again ... you should learn to enjoy a glass of wine ... and that's it ... but only one glass.

Focus on enjoying the taste of wine ... but not the quantity.

But what should we serve our soul with?!

What a mature person needs for feeling joy into the morning when is waking up?

Most probably that is ... love.

Think about the piece of cheese cake ... the glass of wine ... but only one glass ... and how you should define for you ... "a piece of love" ... but only "one piece".

Happiness can be defined in many, many ways

We have so complicated minds, that it takes years to fully understand ... or maybe even a lifetime ... that true happiness can come from very, very simple things.

We can read hundreds or even thousands of books and look for the secret ... and maybe one day, a pauper, at the corner of the street ... might tell you this secret ... just by looking at him.

A pauper is one person that probably lost everything a human being has, but still if he wants to feel joy inside of him ... he will find a way for that.

The biggest virus from the world is the unhappiness. You find it everywhere ... and is very, very easy to take this virus ... even if you try to protect yourself.

On the other hand happiness has indeed many, many ways in how it can be defined ... you just need to be a very open mind person.

If you love fishing ... just do it.

You love traveling ... just do it ... dont need to travel with a private jet ... you can take the train or go into the mountains, feel the nature and dont spend any money at all.

You want to feel real love inside your soul ... just allow your heart to fall in love ... no matter of who you fall in love with.

Nowadays to do things you love to do is defined as a luxurious idea.

But maybe you should learn the lesson the pauper from the corner of the street is sending you.

Follow your heart ... allow it to be alive ... the heart thinks better than your brain.

ABSTRACT LOVE

Parallel world love story

Love is defined, even by the greatest philosophers of the world as one of the main path we should follow in life.

We trend to think that the meaning of life is to make money, have a familily, have a big house with 2 cars garrage, a nice big bank account ... and many, many material things that will present us into the world as a successful person.

But we work so much to own those things, that in the end our soul can be defined as lost and empty.

Years are passing and you start to dont understand who you are anymore.

You start reading personal development, which by the way ... is focusing again too much on success ... then psichology and philosophy ... but still you will not find all the answears to heal your soul.

There will be people redirecting you to the bible and religion ... but you need something to live for real, as you can change deep inside yourself.

What should be this small piece that is missing from the puzzle?!

What medicine can you take so that you can feel joy inside yourself?!

Is there a magic pill for that?!

So many people are feeling so empty inside ... they are drinking alchohol, take drunks, buy expensive cars, goes into expensive vacations all around the world, do all kind of things that they believe it can bring them into another reality that can make them be happy.

But ... they fail.

For healing your soul ... there is only one magic pill ... and that is love.

But ... now hearing this, you will start telling your story ... and the main idea is that you have a fixed life and things cant be changed.

Married ... with children ... prisoner for life into a familily where you are not happy and you will never be happy.

And as i wrote into the past, there ate 2 kinds of unhappy people: the ones that accept reality just as it is and the ones that dares to be happy at least into a parallel world.

So ... parallel world love story ... which can be translated as love affair, which exists in many, many cases ... might be the magic pill.

We will not talk about morality, cause healing our souls might be more important as anything else into the world.

You have the fundamental right to be allowed to feel joy inside of you.

Coming with good or bad energies at home

It takes years to understand that you must not bring bad energies into your home.

A child having problems at school with the classmates will not come back very happy at home.

A person that works in a supermarket, dealing with hundreds of customers in one day, or even thousands, will be very low energy when is coming home etc.

What kind of interactions we have in our families after such a difficult day?! ... what is happening into the harmony of our homes?!

In most of the times we dont know how to manage our emotions, our interactions with other people and somehow we bring those bad influences at home ... which is really bad.

I dont remember any courses from school, teaching me this important lesson for life.

We learn so many formulas in mathematics, formulas that we will never use in life ... but such a simple theory of energies we are bringing into our homes is nowhere taught.

But here is one question: can we also bring good energies into our families?!

I will tell you a story, about a close friend of mine from a faraway country.

She is a very beautiful lady, had a beautiful familly, a lovely husband ... kids ... and everything she could dream for.

But she was never happy at home ... always having fights with her husband.

From outside ... they looked like the perfect familly ...but from inside ... everything was a mess.

One day she falled in love of another married man ... and they started a wonderfull love story.

The story itself is a very long one, and i will not mention it, cause it will take 3 days to write it, but most import is what she told me many times ... in that relationship she got something that made her be a totally different person.

Since that relationship started everything at home was metamorphosised into pure harmony.

So ... how can we define my friend?!

Was it moral what she was doing?!

Difficult to define, but the effect itself it was the contrary effect the firts one we discussed into the begining.

So ... you can come with bad, but also with good energies at home ... but probably most important is to realise this theory and think all the time about it.

Adrian G Dumitru

The love story that you can't forget

We start understanding the concept of being in love ... maybe even into the kindergarten.

We understand from the early age of life, the power of a smile or that magic look that we just ... love.

Years are passing ... disappointments apper in our life ... and we start to change.

We develop inside of us an autoprotective system that dont let us be in love for 100%.

We feel love ... but we dont allow ourself to love with the whole heart ... not anymore.

But ... surprise ... one day, without realising, we just loose the control of everything and we fall in love with that magic person.

If difficult to explain in words, but everything is over our powers of controlling the situation.

We have a strong mind, that makes us understand that is not ok ... but suddenly the heart takes control over our mind.

Staying alone ... with you ... drinking a coffee ...the image with the smile and that look appears again and again and again.

If you ask yourself what is the meaning of life, a clear definition ...will be very difficult to answeare, but ... maybe one of the most important things in the world is to love ... so just allow your heart to follow that road ... to happiness or to nowhere.

Life is too beautiful and maybe too short to live it in a robotic way.

Enjoy that magic smile of the person you re thinking all the time at!

ABSTRACT LOVE

A philosophical guide for imposible love stories

Can't see the old love?!

We start with joy inside us and we end up asking ourself ... what am i doing in this relationship?!

Why am i here?!

Love is a wonderfull feeling ... but somehow even realising we loose all those feelings and even worst ... instead of love we feel hate inside our soul.

Life is strange ... is difficult to understand ... thats all.

Life is not hard ... as we use to say most of the time.

We go throw life, into different scenes or episodes and not being prepared ... we dont know how to 'read' those things... and in the end we change ... a lot.

We are changed by life.

Today, i have one spirit ... tomorrow i am a completlly different person.

Maybe we go from good to bad or viceversa ... is really difficult to even analize and define the wind that sends us into so many directions.

But going throw life ... we change ... and we change a lot.

The partner we have ... has probably the same story or maybe a different one ... and this is how after years we realise we dont know anymore the person near us. This is why love is being evaporated.

And worst ... love had been replaced with hate.

We start fights ... we start looking for other partners or ... we just want a new life.

For the hygiene of our relationship we should define things very clearlly from time to time.

If things dont go in the direction we want ... just discuss more ... with calm ... and maybe redefine everything.

Wherever you will go in life ... even if you are 20 ... 45 ... or 75 ... you have the fundamental right to be happy.

You just need to play the game of defining life.

Hollywood actress or cashier into a petshop?!

The Universe in sometimes laughing at us.

Years ago, i met a very beautiful girl. She was only 21 at that time.

I had a just divorced friend and presented her to him, and they started seeing each other.

Everything went very well for a while.

But forget to mention to this gorgeous girl ... something very important for her. She was the kind of girl who wanted to succed in life ... she dreamed for modelling ... but somehow even if i wanted to, i forget to tell her that my friend was acting as a pauper, but he was actually a price.

He could be like the Holly Spirit ... and could transform any desire into reality right in the next moment.

Me and my friend arranged the things for her to start a modelling carrier. Its a long story to tell ... but things had been arranged to her as she could enter into the top modelling business imediatlly.

Then my friend arranged things as she to go to Milano, New York and London.

He made also arrangement as she would meet Sylvester Stallone and then go in the near future to Hollywood.

A country girl, who came into the capital ... looking like a person who was almost making a quatum jump right into the high class society.

But ... as the Universe is playing arround with all our silly desires and actions, one day my friend bought to the beautiful country girl a small dog.

Dog had a health problem and they went into a vererinary clinic, where they met a nice veterinary doctor.

She started in paralel a relationship with him and then left the story with my friend.

She said she wanted to be happy and ended up taking care of the pet shop as a cashier.

So my question is ... what is best to choose in life?!

A carrer of huge succes or to be happy?!

She was actually not believing in my friend, who could send her in a very short time to Hollywood and probably he saw a prince into the veterinary doctor and

Never come back

Life has many lessons to teach us.

But how we deal situations when we have the same episodes in our lifes on and on and on.

Maybe you get furious all the time ... even if after 1 day or 1 hour you realise its being ridiculous to do this, but you keep doing it all the time.

And you know is not ok.

And you also know you should change things.

The wisest approach to decision making ... is defining why this is happening.

Once you understand what is behind the things you do, but you also dislike is that you can change things and never get back in that situation.

Everyone of us have a different story, but we can change our lifes right in the next moment after you clarified you with you that a change needs to come and continuing as till now is not an option.

Riding other people

We love to control the scene of life.

Have you ever asked yourself why many times our relationships with other people end up with different conflicts?!

Cause many times one is saying to take it to the left and the other is saying lets take it to the right ... and ironically most of the times if you take it to the left or to the right you arrive in the same position.

We are obsessed of controlling the scene.

Not having the control, makes us preatty furiously which is funny.

Our silly brains wants control in eveything.... at home, at work, on the street ... everywhere?!

Have you ever asked yourself how can you define this?

Well ... its a theory about an idiot mind.

How?! No! No!

Well ... yes ... yes.

Our idiots minds wants to ride other people just cause we want to prove throw everything we do that we are important persons and we have the control on everything.

Does it worth doing this?!

You need to have a honest conversation with you ... just with you and define how many things you lost in life cause you just had an obsession of controlling even silly things.

You could be a boss ... ask your employe to decide some of the things ... you are a husband ... ask your wife to decide whatever she wants in 80% of the cases instead of letting her decide only on 20% of them.

Will that improve your relationships?!

Well ... time is passing and you had experienced lots of things ... what if you decide one day as the goal to be ... having better relationships and not controlling absolutelly everything.

Truth be told, the obsession of controlling everything, just ruins us ?

Define better what is better.

ABSTRACT LOVE

Just do nothing

What if one day you decide to do ... nothing?!

You decide to do nothing in the relationship with your family, with the person you love, with your job, with everything it basically means your life.

You are what you live ... in the end.

Deciding to start doing nothing brings you in the position of observing where you are and what you are.

Just going in one direction or another ... just walking through life all the time ... it means nothing in the end.

We used to live our lives on automatic pilot, doing something all the time, no matter is good or bad for us.

Deciding one day to just stop and watch ... start defining where you are and understanding in which direction you go, is probably the best decision you can ever do.

You can stop for one minute, one day or one year.

We all have our private rhythm, and it does not mean that you need to follow the way the other people from your life are following.

If all your friends had decided to buy a fancy car, you can buy a horse and ride through a forest.

Allow yourself to do this.

It might look that you are on the road to nowhere, but in the end you will see that this road to nowhere is ending up with you.

You will start seeing the whole painting.

Is very difficult to understand a painting, as a regular person having no interests into arts, but the main idea is understanding and defining the symbols ... the main attributes from your life.

We are complex beings ... always in a hurry ... going to nowhere ... and we forget to ask ourselves what we actually want to do with us.

Give yourself the freedom to do ... nothing.

INTRODUCTION

Someone once said to me ... "I don't want to be abstract ... I want it to be real".

It was the reply at the fact that i've said to her that a friend of mine, that was in fact married, was loving her in an abstract way.

But we all do the same ... we refuse to understand the meaning of the abstract in our lives ... or to see what is the message behind the message.

And then we live the same experiences on and on and on ... and we keep wondering why ... why ... why??!!

I believe today that refusing to start learning the art of understanding the abstract ... is a way of refusing to continue growing as a spiritual being.

Somehow the Universe, even if we dislike it, gives us the same lesson on and on and on ... but we just can't see that the Universe loves us ... all of us ... and tries all the time to save and help us ... to understand what we call lessons of life.

The abstract is strange sometimes ... i know ... but seeing what is behind the abstract, you understand the meaning of life.

So ... how should we start?!

Adrian Gabriel Dumitru

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

Where we should pay more attention in the events from our lives?!

Well ... somehow is quite simple.

Everything has a huge impact on us ... annoys us in a terrible way ... or has a repetitive character ... in there you will find the meaning of the lessons you need to study.

In the end ... we can even use the slogan ... "It's not what it looks like" ... cause probably this is the real definition of the abstract.

But can we ignore the signs?! ... the lessons?!

You might have moments when you could believe that ... but then the power of the message will have a stronger intensity.

And will be repeat on and on and on ... and the abstract values will annoy you in a terrible way.

The solution?!

Maybe ... just have an opened mind and pay attention to the details.

So ... we should spend life only meditating?!

Sure not ... but we should keep the right balance between living and enjoying life ... and also thinking about it ... its messages and how we could grow as spiritual beings.

And probably keep in mind that ... behind the abstract there is a always message.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

How can you fight with an illusion?! Well ... just SMILE

Many books of philosophy and also the ones that have religious content ... define life as an illusion.

I saw that in hundreds of them ... and sometimes i have moments when i ask myself if that is true or not.

And i have days when i say ... no, but also days when i say ... yeeeeesss ... life is an illusion.

But today i would dare to redefine the concept of illusions ... and name them life lessons.

The funny thing is that the more you study the concept ... the illusion becomes even more powerful ... trying to convince you that it is real. And this is where the power of an illusion is ... it looks so damn real ... and we believe it.

It happened yesterday to me that a neighbor came at my house to kill me and i had no idea what is going on.

Few other people tried that with me in the past, including a guy that was accusing me that i had stolen his wife, which was partially true ... so i was quite calm in that moment.

He was accusing me that he can't connect his house to electricity, unless he pays me a huge amount of money.

This was the final decision from the Electric Company, but i had nothing to do with that decision.

Developing the area where my house was, connecting to the electricity costed me a fortune and now this guy was paying a small part of the money back to me ... which was in fact normal.

Adrian Gabriel Dumitru

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

The guy was blind.

He really wanted to kill me ... after reading a paper signed by the president of the Electric Company ... making a huge confusion.

Then i understood everything was an illusion ... and i started to wonder what is the message behind the message.

Was it any message or i just had a neighbor that only lost his mind?!

Then ... after leaving the conversation i realized i had been blind, same as the guy, for hundreds or thousands of times.

I did not wanted to kill anyone ... but had the same negative reaction so ... so ... so many times.

I was telling the story to a close friend of mine and he only replied ... "You was blind too ... ".

Then i was meditating ... and i understood he was right ... but replied to him:

"If you saw it that i was blind, why you didn't told me that" ... smiled and continue "... I know! Probably my reply was that ... you are blind, not me".

Sometimes you can't believe it ... what is going on when it is so obvious ... and you even recognize it as an illusion ... but it's only a life lesson.

So ... my dear ... what is the illusion of the day for you?!

Looks real?!

Well ... just smile ... it is the only trick that works against it.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

Selling ... ILLUSIONS ... a new way of making money?!

Not long time ago it happened i met a guy that is a real estate investor.

He was in a group of friends that have luxury cars, go to expensive vacations ... but also love investing money in different kind of properties.

Him and his friends could be defined as successful people, according to the nowadays standards.

Had the chance to talk with him few times and he really looked to me like a nice guy, but very soon someone told me that in fact, him and his friends they were drug dealers.

I said to myself that this is clearly a misunderstanding ... cause the guy was a looking like a nice person.

Later on i found out that today, in my country, there are so many drug dealers all over the place ... that you can buy drugs even from the oil station or nearby a high school or a university.

Selling and consuming drugs is quite normal and if you never tasted them ... you are not in the dogmatic way of living life.

Yesterday ... the guy i told you about was arrested, so probably the story behind his success was a true.

But i will tell you something strange ... why i believe that i did not judged him.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

Not long time ago, i was writing 9 books about love stories and posted them on Amazon to sell them.

I was in fact ... selling illusions also, same as the guy that was selling drugs.

This is the story with drugs ... you consume them ... and then the illusions appear.

But also ... you read books ... and then the illusions appear and many times they are amplified the more you read.

But we know from ancient times, from great philosophers that .. it's all an illusion.

So ... selling illusions became a new way of making money and we all take advantages of that ... not thinking at the results from the other side.

On the other hand ... i know that Osho was using opium when he was meditating and he was a great philosopher ... but also that he was eliminating the drugs from his body with yoga after the meditation.

So ... lots of contradictory informations ... as my friend that was a drug dealer, but didn't look like one ... and in fact looked as a nice guy.

Maybe there is a message behind the message ... that i don't see yet ... or maybe selling illusion was ... it is and it will always be a way of making money ... and it has different ways of doing it.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

All we need to do is to accept that all of us ... are different. ... or NOT.
We can easily adapt to both scenarios and that's only a decision.

We like it or not, we need to accept that many people are easily losing their temper when the things are not running in the direction we want them to run.

We become angry.

We even show the worst part of our personality ... and we name that ... positioning ourselves on the stage of life.

But the truth is that we just dislike that the others are not agreeing with us ... with our ideas, our thoughts or our plans.

They just think in a different way ... even the opposite of what we have in mind.

Actually, it's quite normal not to be all the time on the same frequency ... but that makes us totally unhappy cause we can't dominate the scene of life.

This is the moment when we even name those people that are on the same scene with us ... our enemies.

They even were our friends in the past ... but now we almost define them ... as war criminals.

Ridiculous ... but that is the truth.

A total non sense ... but this is what becomes a situation when other people can't dominate us ... or we can't dominate them.

A useless war ... with no meaning at all is starting ... having no

We are too blinds to see that is not our soul in the story with the useless fight ... but the Ego ... that wants to win.

But to win what?!

That ... or that ... or that?!

What is the message behind all what is going on?!

I tell you what i certainly know for sure.

The ego ... my ego, yours etc ... wants more and more and more ... but what is extremely important for the ego is to dominate ... all the time.

It does not matter if it is a simple thing or an important one ... but only the chapter with domination is important.

So ... can we accept the others ... just as they are ... i mean ... different than us?!

They could be communists ... or other religion than us etc etc ... but just different.

They could be even complementary with us ... and we could be blinds to see it.

There are many things to say ... but just understanding that all of us ... are different ... so we have this right to be unique ... and we should respect it.

We can easily adapt to both scenarios ... accept or not accept the others just as they are ... but having enemies, not living a life in harmony is not a positive path to follow.

Losing your temper ... letting the Ego prove its powers ... means letting your soul be controlled by an artificial entity.

Just be yourself ... and let the others do the same!

It's only about respect ... for you ... and all the ones you meet on the stage of your life.

Alive ... but not feeling alive. A paradox from the modern society

What does it really mean to feel alive?!

Well ... it's quite difficult to define ... because in fact we are alive, but we just believe that we don't feel it.

It's a paradox ... but we continue on this path for such a long time ... not understanding what is really going on.

During the years, it happened few times ... that different persons declared that they wanted to kill me ... for reasons difficult to be understood.

An important guy i know ... owning a big security company explained me ... that if someone wants to kill you ... will just do it ... but never give you a reason to believe that will do it.

I understood he was right.

Those persons had the illusion that they wanted to kill me ... and i had the illusion that they wanted that too ... so it was all in illusion.

But the funny thing was that i felt alive in those moments ... and appreciated life a little bit more for a while.

I jumped from the status of not feeling alive to the status of being aware that i could lose something that i actually don't feel that i have. So ... what was the lesson behind the illusion that someone wants to kill me?!

Well ... i thought for a while ... and then i forgot again how to feel alive ... and i only remembered when i became extremely unhappy for long periods of times.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

Later ... after 1-2 years another idiot appeared again ... telling me that he wants ... to kill me ... for a non sense reason.

And again felt alive.

So ... the message behind the message was quite simple ... i did not appreciated a very thing ... my life.

And we all probably do the same ... even if being alive is the most precious thing that really matters.

We just live in a crazy world. That's all!

I was waking up ... opening my eyes ... thinking only at the taste of coffee that i will drink in 10 minutes.

It was a sunny day ... so i was already defining that day as a beautiful one.

Then ... i was hearing someone ...calling me ... with a very load voice. It was someone in our garden ... and looked like a person that lost his mind.

I usually recognize the voice right away, cause i spoke on the phone with thousands of people during the years ... but i did not realized who that was.

7:30 am ... Thursday morning ... what could it be about?!

Even if someone from Police would come, would be even more polite.

I went to the garden ... and then i saw in there a neighbor that i didn't see for years.

I just told him ... "What the hell are you doing in here?! Get out or i call the Police".

He stopped ... tried to explain me something... but i did not understood anything at all.

I was only hearing ... "I lost my mind by already 2 weeks! ... i just lost my mind!"

So ... a guy that i had nothing to do with ... was at the first hour in my garden ... explaining me that he lost his mind ... but i was not even drinking my coffee.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

My youngest son got scared.

My wife also.

I was working in sales for years and i had the chance ... or should i say the opportunity?! ... to meet lots of crazy persons ... so i was keeping my calm.

But i also remembered what Seneca used to say that only the fact that you own wild animals is dangerous even if you keep them in a cage, cause they could kill you when you try to feed them.

And it is the same with those crazy persons ... they just become wild ... not being responsible for what they do.

I tried to find out why he was so mad ... and it looked like he had a conflict with a lady that rented a house from me ... but also 2 weeks ago another neighbor made a complain at the city hall cause he owns too many bigs etc etc.

He was keep repeating ... "i lost my mind! I lost my mind"

He was coming to me ... to help him ... and i realized that he became calm only when i've asked ... "Please tell me what i could do to help you!"

He was desperate ... but because he lost control on himself ... and hearing that i will help ... made him see things in a totally different perspective.

He left ... after 5 minutes ... only when i was becoming calm and spoke with him with love.

It was a total non sense what happened ... but i was wondering what was the message behind the message.

In a second i understood i lost my mind many, many times ... and probably i found the help only inside of me ... cause no one really calmed me at that time.

I was not different than that person that came to my house.

Truth be told ... we live in a crazy world ... but we also have moments of craziness ... and we totally forget that.

Losing your mind ... means to lose control over yourself ... and not being responsible anymore about what you do.

The torture ... an abstract way of helping you

Been to the dentist.

She was torturing me this time.

Usually does not hurt, but this time was hurting a lot.

But ... all it was for a good reason ... to help me have a good dental health and cure all my teeth.

So ... the torture was for a good purpose.

While staying on the chair, having all those terrible pains ... i was thinking at all the people tortured by the nazism and the communism. I read lots of books about the subject, but i only found out what happened and not why happened.

Why those people from that time had the misfortune to have such a life?!

The first world war ... then the second world war ... then in many parts of the world the communism continued the torture.

Did those people deserved to have such a life?!

Why did the Universe allowed as this to happen?!

It makes no sense at all ... but i can't find any explanation.

Was it a message behind the message?!

What was the spiritual meaning of all of that?!

But ... maybe the torture had a purpose ... to purify them as spirits.

I had been studying the lives of the ones that spent 10 to 20 years in the communist prisons.

Should make no sense to write about how terrible it was for them.

Probably a scene of torture in those prisons was like an eternity ...

and the ones that survived ... keeping their moral high all the time, should be called ... saints.

So ... the meaning of those times could be defined as ... a way in how they purified so, so many souls?!

Should that be the message behind the message?!

Maybe is too much to define the whole picture in such a way ... but the truth is that i would define for example a guy as Nelson Mandela as a saint ... after 27 years of prison.

So ... the torture ... might be an abstract way of purifying the human souls ... but maybe we can find others ways of doing it.

Meanwhile i continue going to my dentist, letting her to torture me from time to time ... cause i just did not found any other ways of curing my teeth.

So ... at least from this point of view ... i accept the torture as a positive thing in my life.

Connecting to people ... the art of speaking in 100 languages

Knowing a foreign language is excellent.

But how many languages can we learn?!

I am sure that the human being is able to speak 10-12-15 languages if there is a big interest for that.

But is that the secret for connecting to anybody from anywhere in the world?!

An ambassador ... when he goes in a new country ... he tries to learn the language, but also tries to understand how people from that country think, what are their rituals, what is important for them in life etc etc.

He tries to understand the human beings from that part of the world ... with everything defines them.

And pays attention to all the details ... but also respect all those details.

The ambassador knows the art of connecting to people ... which is in fact the art of speaking in 100 languages.

One of the main reasons of unhappiness is generated by the fact we don't have good relationships with other people ... and this is happening only because we never thought of learning the art of dealing with other human beings.

No one told us that is so damm important.

The final results?!

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

Lots of conflicts at home, at work, with the neighbors ... and even on the streets.

We have no idea that there is a science called ... management of conflicts.

And we fail so, so many times.

But should we act as a great ambassador?

I saw so many politicians ... that were in fact just idiots, but somehow ... someone learnt them the art of connecting to other people.

Usually they do it in an artificial way ... wanting to get just a short term result ... but our main target should be to have great relationships with anyone ... anytime.

So ... what should we do?!

Why we just don't have great relationships?!

What we do wrong?!

Well ... we just don't know to open the heart ... and connect to those people from our lives.

The art of speaking different languages is not enough ... even if you will speak 100 languages ... but connecting to the soul of everyone we interact with ... is the real trick.

Not in an artificial way as an ambassador or any other politician, but as a human being that loves the other human beings.

I saw people that loves animals a lot ... but what if we are brave enough and decide to love the other human beings?!

Maybe there is a message behind the message at the fact that we fail in so many interactions with the others.

... just think about!

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

The solitude ... a way of staying only in your own energy field

If i would be 20 today, i would try to hire myself at McDonalds .. cause i know i would interact with thousands of people ... and learn the art of connecting to the others ... without reading any books at all.

Probably today ... if someone would speak unpolite to me ... i would not even care.

Or ... i would smile ... and say ... "Say it one more time ... please! I just want to laugh loud and be happy ... cause i am not anymore mixed with my Ego."

But truth be told ... we decide to chose solitude, because we had enough of living in a crazy world ... and be aware at the fact that the others ... the ones we daily meet .. could hurt us.

But i wonder if there is no misunderstanding between the fact that there is not the soul that is being hurt ... but the Ego.

Living in solitude ... is great ... but probably is not my path for this life.

My life lesson is ... understanding the human interaction ... not the human being... but the way ... we interact as humans.

But i missed the chance of ... hiring at McDonalds.

I had other paths to followed, meeting all kinds of people from simple ones to important people.

Had i understood anything from that?!

Well ... the Universe still gives me tests from time to time ... and i failed to many of them ... so, so often.

But i continue the journey ... cause i know the lessons will be repeated on and on and on.

The meaning of my life ... i think i understood it ... but still can't act properly on the stage.

I saw the message behind the message ... i know the theory ... but in reality ... i always forget that the illusions i see ... those that look so real ... are only tests and lessons.

My life continues ... and nobody understands, not even myself ... why i am so slowly ... in this process of soul evolution.

I refuse the solitude ... cause i still want to play around a little bit ... but not being able to implement everything i learnt ... i live in an energy field which is not mine ... and that delays myself to become ... ME ... the one i need to be.

Love living in a small world?! or a big one?!
Or maybe ... just in your own world?! ... which is actually just a way of daily enjoying the quote ... "My life! My rules!"

There is a nice saying, defining the way we should live life, like ... "a big fish in a small pond, or a small fish in a big pond".

This actually means that you could look like an important person in a small environment ... like a village, or a small company, a small school etc... or maybe be someone great ... but living in a big place ... New York for example ... and still not look like someone important.

Comparing ourselves with the others is just ... silly ... even if it is in a positive or a negative way ... but there still is a greater path to follow. What if we decide to live a life in our own environment ... staying just you ... with you?!

Should that be a wise decision?!

I mean to live a life ... with the slogan ... "My life! My rules!" ... and do whatever you want to do ... not caring by the outside world.

We know the fact that the world is not splitted into a small and a big world ... like we see a small village and a big city ... but on the inner and the outer world.

So the decision itself ... is to choose if you want to spend your life just as the soul tells you do ... or let the others define the path you will follow.

I lived in a small town, so i know what the "small pond" means ... and that anything you would do ... will be noticed by all the others.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

I also lived in the capital, for more than half of my life ... so i know what "small fish in a big pond" means ... but today i live in a village.

Small town ... the capital of my country ... and now a village.

But you know what i started to do?!

Ignore the outside world.

I am not watching tv, not reading the news ... i am just exploring life philosophical paths of life ... hoping i will find in my inner world the answers i looked for tens of years in the outside world.

My message is a simple one ... even if i did not found the supreme truth and probably will not find it during this life time.

Pay attention to your soul ... the one that is whispering you so, so many things.

But probably ... same as me ... even if there is a message behind the message, in all we see in life ... you don't have ears to hear and eyes to see.

The awaking looks like the horizon line ... we see it ...and we even have the illusion that we can touch it.

Don't be afraid of anything when it comes about change.
The moment you totally redefine yourself
... everything around is redefined.

You see when you try to change ... you usually find a plan right away.

You define it in very small details, but the biggest resistance comes ... from the outside world.

They are not used to see you in the new way ... and they will not accept you, unless you send the right message to them.

But should we bother to do that?!

Well ... the easiest way is just change the environment where you live, find new people to interact with ... people that don't know how you used to be ... and will see your new way of being ... just as you.

No questions.

No defining ... explaining that change will not last forever etc etc.

We are used to be defined and we actually let the others define us ... paying too much attention at what they have to say.

And this is when the process of change is being sabotaged.

We want the change, we start to implement it, we really believe it is a good path to follow ... and then we stop.

We are not stoped ... we stop.

The others do the game of defining ... just as they daily wash their teeth ... but should we give them so much attention?

Well ... we miss so many things in life ... only because we can't stop

We can't see the message the Universe sends us.

The inspiration comes ... with the idea of how we can chose the new path of change.

Everything ... conspires ... so that the change should happen.

But ... the Universe gives you a small test ... through the people around you ... that speak lots of things about what you are trying to do.

And instead of seeing is just a test ... you take it for real ... and can't see the message behind the message ... and that is ... if you really want a big change in your life ... you should only care about what your soul is whispering you.

Nothing more!

Believe in yourself ... and everything from the outside world will be redefined if the inner world had been redefined for ... real.

A simple plan for your life ... just enjoy it!

Years ago ... i started to built and loved it.

Then i continued with a new house ... and a new one ... and then i said one day ... let's try with 15 houses.

Meanwhile i decided as those houses to become a complex with few places for recreation ... and also a bar and a swimming pool.

The whole project was more expensive than i even thought about ... but i knew that if you want to eat an elephant, you just need to cut it into small pieces and eat one piece ... and then another one ... and another one ...

To lie myself that i can do it, i worked on all the buildings.

One week i was doing something, then i was doing something else to another house ... and so on.

I had no money on my pocket ... but i was continuing the project.

There were days when i saw that i will complete everything and days when i thought that i just try to touch the horizon line.

Everything took 5 years.

Not even the people involved in the project ... could believe that i will finish one day.

An idiot, that worked with me ... but very good on what he was doing ... told me in the second year ... "It will take you at least another 3 years to complete this project".

I almost wanted to kill him hearing this, but i decided to go to my car and leave.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

Being so nervous ... i crashed his car, by accident.

Paid the damaged ... but i was glad of what i did ... because of what he just said.

During the time ... i had many moments when i realized that the project is not a residential complex ... but a life lesson.

I lost my temper hundreds of times and i had a delay for at least one year cause i did not knew how to react and speak with the workers involved into the project.

The project itself ... became a prison, but after 5 years i succeeded and rented all the houses.

Imagine what i did at the end?!

Well ... just started a new project with a house with 23 rooms, that will be kind of a hotel for elders.

The project is half of the last project ... but still a big one for my powers ... but i decided to not care anymore of how much time it will take to be completed.

I tried to remember that i build ... because i love to build ... and i should just enjoy that process.

I actually forgot the message behind the message ... that i love the process itself of building ... but not necessarily the fact that i will own those buildings.

When it will finish ... guess what?!

You think i will go in a vacation for 1 year around the world?!

No, no.

I am sure ... i will come out with a new project.

But ... at least ... i decided to enjoy what i do ... even if it is an illusion ... or even a prison project.

So ... a simple plan for your life ... just enjoy it .. whatever you do ... with not so many plans anymore.

All of us ... the humans .. we just need some guidance. That's all!
Not knowing this is the only reason
... we became experts in failing.

I know real stories about people, that achieved a great success in life, because in one point they decided to get a coach that will guide them. That coach was an expert into that area and success came to the persons i am talking about ... right away after strictly following certain rules.

You see, i read lots of books about success and keep in my mind the main rule ... find the model of success that you want, analyze it ... and then apply to your life, with a script a little bit improved ... so that you can achieve even a greater success.

But why can't we apply the method ... with a coach?!

Who needs to be the coach?!

Well ... that person could be anyone ... from your grandma to your ex class mate ... but whoever that person is ... needs to be a person with life experience, a good connection with you ... but also good intentions.

So ... what problems you have in your life?!

Financial problems?!

Maybe you have a cousin that is already rich and will love to become your mentor for financial issues ... or a old friend from school, that wants to become a coach in money problems ... and will love to help you.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

Have problems in your marriage?!

Maybe you just don't know how to act with your soul mate?!

Believe me or not ... even a mistress is good in this case, if she really has a good soul and beautiful intentions.

Is hard to believe that ... but the mistress can teach a man ... the art of loving a woman.

The mistress ... can become a real coach when it comes about relationship problems, but of course as long as you don't fall in love with her.

And in all the other areas of our lives ... sometimes we just need guidance.

All we need to do is just ... ask and accept the help.

Truth be told we just can't be experts in money, love stories, modeling, cars etc etc ... but with some special help we can understand all the areas of life.

So ... we need to do what?!

Well ... just connect to the people that wants to help you ... or the ones that can help you ... and pay attention to that relationship.

When the obsession is gone ... the real path will appear

I had many obsessions in my life and i am glad i have the power to admit that.

But one day i became much happier when i found out that behind any obsession there is a very powerful message.

I studied it.

Defined it ... in 1000 ways.

Then ... one day i realized the obsession is usually only an illusory desire.

I wanted to define the obsession ... but the obsession itself was defining me.

I had moments when i was one with the obsession ... cause all my energy was there.

Today ... i look in my past ... seeing the history of my obsessions ... and i laugh.

When i finish laughing ... i talk with myself and realize that the illusion ... even if it was an event, a person, a situation ... was just a life lesson.

Today i saw again an illusion that defined my recent past for about few years.

I felt nothing ... and i was so happy.

I was cured.

It was like a test ... to see if i am still in the prison of that illusion ... and i did not failed.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

The obsession was gone ... which actually means a new path is waiting for me ... hopefully a good one.

Somehow ... i need to keep in my mind that what i see ... and looks so real ... is never what it looks like.

The funny thing is that the obsession is always amplified ... and is not that it looks real ... but it represent your whole life in that moment from your timeline.

Words ... the art of defining ... and any other methods becomes useless ... as you can't really see the truth.

Long time after the obsession will end, maybe even years, you will see its meaning ... why it appeared and why it took so long to disappear ... which actually means the end of the process of healing.

You see ... we need illusions ... obsessions ... but keep in mind that somehow we need to get out of that labyrinth.

The soul is difficult to be healed ... but is the most important thing we need to take care during our life time.

The funny thing about ... cheating ... is that one day you'll start cheating yourself too.

People like to experience lots of things.

Sometimes ... just because life is boring, trying to get out from the actual reality ... cheating becomes a way of doing something different ... or at least this is how we define it.

And we start cheating the life partner, the business partner ... and many others.

We believe we just taste other paths of living life.

And we continue believing nothing will happen ... and that we are allowed to do in life whatever we want to do ... without paying any price for it.

But ... doing it so often ... cheating becomes a way of living and we start to cheat not even the life partners, the business partners etc etc ... but even us.

And there is nothing worst in life than cheating your own soul.

You betray your dreams and goals ... your main philosophy or life ... the main path you follow in life.

It all becomes a new way of living ... having no real values in life.

But i still wonder what is the message behind all those actions?!

Why people still do ... the cheating?! ... and even find an explanation for that.

You see ... we always want a different life and we even name what we want ... as a dream life.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

But we don't have the courage to do it with all the heart ... we just want to taste the change before we do it.

Taste how should life be with another partner, how businesses will be with another business partner how should be to have another job etc etc.

Cheating becomes a synonym for ... tasting, but maybe the main reason we do it ... is just that we are too cowards to do it for real.

Cheating might be a positive script ... if you have the courage to start a new path, after you understand that you love what you just ... tasted ... but a negative scenario if you believe you can live life like that ... at infinite ... just tasting.

Be aware as one day to not start cheating yourself too ... cause that should be the worst case scenario.

Just think about it!

Just me and myself. Defining my thoughts ... walking on a pathless path

I tried to find answers.

I spoke with myself for many months in a row.

Then i started to learn the art of defining.

The huge mistake i did was that ... in one point, analyzing and defining ... i amplified everything too much.

I took all that happened too seriously ... not realizing that i was defining an illusion ... seeing the small details ... but not understanding the whole picture of what was going on.

I was writing hundreds of pages, believing i understand what is going on with my life.

Later on ... i discovered the concept of ... the message behind the message ... and i understood that all i see in my life, even if i define it so good and looks so real ... is only something illusory.

The real message the Universe whispered to me ... was a very simple one .. and i had no clue what was going on.

I was prisoner in a cage full with all kinds of details ... but had no idea that those details were only encrypted messages ... that i did not even knew that they existed.

It was me and myself ... in that cage ... and maybe the typewriter.

All of us ... had something to say ... but it all became a journey on a pathless path.

Contradictory ideas were coming.

I had hundred of conflicts with lots of people.

Every time i believe i am right ... i continue arguing till i succeed to send my message.

But the real truth is that after the argue stops .. i realize i lost my energy for nothing.

I could just close the conflict right away ... by simple smiling and leave ... but i preferred to lose money, friendships and lots of opportunities just to prove i am right.

I sometimes had huge loses ... but i continued doing the same ... on and on and on.

My life had lots of chapters as that and even if i studied the management of conflict ... i could not see the way out of this labyrinth.

But one day ... I suddenly discovered i can just ... let the silence begin.

(Arij Emaan)

I haven't spoke by a long time with my dear friend Arij Emaan, which is also a writer, and i was really happy cause i chatted with her. Last time we talked ... i was talking about the illusion of life and she was talking about love ... but now she was defining the love story itself as the synonym for the illusion. I was in love too at the time we met ... by someone else of course, but i knew what the illusion was. I even had the power to write a book called ... "The beautiful illusion of being in love" ... and i am smiling today, after such a long time ... hearing Arij that she feels the same. I represent the philosophy of the men of 40 and Arij the philosophy of women of 20, but even our wives know that we like the women of 20 ... no matter what they believe about life. It is so funny to look into the past ... thinking at all the thoughts and feelings you had not so long ago. And you believed it was so ... real.

He even started to speak with a loud voice to me ... believing i am arrogant to him.

I did those kind of transactions many times before and i knew very well what i was asking.

I am not starving ... i have money to come to the bank and pay the invoices for the leasing of my cars."

He did not knew what to say ... but then ... "Look ... i will think about what you just said. Maybe you are right".

I could tell to the guy that he is an idiot and leave to another bank ... but i decided to connect with him ... and send him a powerful message for his life.

I am sure he is paid well at the bank ... but for sure he does not like that job in there.

When i left ... we shook hands ... and smiled to each other.

An idiot and an arrogant sent each other powerful messages ... cause i also understood that i just can't lose my temper all the time.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

Truth be told ... we love animals, but we hate the human beings

It happens i know about an interesting story from a residential complex.

I actually know the owner of the complex and we use to chat sometimes over philosophical stuff.

The guy just hate the animals, but because he saw the opportunity that people like so much the animals, he re edited his advertising saying that pets are welcomed into his complex, for the ones that want to rent a house and own animals.

So ... the short story ... hating animals ... but accepting them ... as an opportunity to make money much easier.

And it worked, cause he rented all the houses.

So as any other businessman ... my friend was quite happy ... ignoring what he disliked .. as he loved more than anything ... making money.

But ... my friend is not such a bad person as you might think.

He created in the complex for his tenants a bar with a swimming pool and even if in there were living lots of people that love alcohol ... no one was using the bar.

So ... quite a paradox ... the people loving to drink ... did not used a bar that was build especially for them.

They just needed to interact a little bit with the neighbors and make new friends ... then spend time together at the bar.

But the people from the complex only loved animals ... and even if

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

they liked alcohol they preferred to drink at home ... just staying in the company of their pets.

The social experiment of my friend ... failed.

All it was based on the philosophy of living at home as being always in vacation ... but my friend not loving the animals, not knowing that people love animals because they love them back unconditionally... not knowing that between an animal and a human being ... most of the people will prefer the animals ... failed in his good intention of creating common spaces of recreation for his tenants.

And the real truth is that in many cases, people love animals, but hate the human beings.

They prefer being in the company of a dog, a cat ... or even a mouse ... than socializing with a stranger that became his neighbor.

But things are just the way they are and if there is anything we could say is that behind the message there is always another message ... and i keep wondering myself what is the real meaning in this case.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

You need to get lost ... to understand life

So many people are asking themselves ... what is life about?!

What is the real meaning?!

To have success? To go in expensive vacations?!

To become the owner of a fortune?!

Well ... today i believe that the answer depends only by the lesson of life that the person needs to study during the actual lifetime.

But getting lost ... is just part of the script.

Failing ... also.

Not finding a purpose ... also.

Even losing the hope ... and walking on a pathless path that we name it ... life ... is a process you need to follow to understand life better.

I don't believe any great philosopher had a happy life ... and also that there is no poet ... that wrote love poems ... meanwhile being happy with his partner.]

Philosophers ... even the great ones ... lived part of their lives in a labyrinth.

The poets ... the same.

Anyone ... who dared to find a meaning ... got lost ... not really understanding what is the best path.

Being lost ... becomes a whole chapter of what we name ... life.

Failing becomes also ... an important chapter ... same as the success story is.

... and you start this process of understanding what is really going on.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

The moment when we see that the negative stories, but also the positive ones ... are having the same motivational values ... but in the same time, both being an illusion ... that is the beginning of a new life ... one when you become an observer ... and live life in harmony with the Universe.

And at one time you will see behind things and events that have a negative impact on you ... a positive message.

Not the times define the people, but the people define the times.

Few days ago i had to visit the school where i spent the first 8th grades.

It was the primary and secondary school.

This time i had to prepare to transfer my son in there.

I had good memories, but also bad ones from there ... and i even delayed few times to go and do the transfer.

The building was looking a little bit different ... cause was totally renovated.

It almost looked like a totally new building, but still i was feeling that nothing changed.

I enter the building and ... surprise ... the director of the school was a lady from the times i was there ... 35 years ago.

She was really young at that time, but now she was more than 55 i suppose.

When communism collapsed i was just starting the 5 th grade ... so half of the time that i spent in there it was in the communism times and half after the communism collapsed.

So ... at enter in her office, explain her what i want to do and she stops me ... saying that ... it's not about what i want ... but only if she agrees that.

She totally disliked that i said ... "i want" ... but i politely asked her if i should say ... "My desire is ...".

I lost my temper and could not stop myself to mention that i can still smell the communism i used to know from 35 years ago.

Her secretary, a lady of about 65, could not believe that i was speaking like that to the director.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

But the lady i used to know as a very shy person ... 35 years ago ... lost her temper too.

She said she will call the police ... but to call the police for what?! ... to tell them that we still have the ghost of communism in the building?!

35 years ... and nothing changed.

The only change they had to do ... was the attitude and nothing more.

I left the building ... asking myself why did i decided to come back into that horrible place ... that sometimes was even as a prison, mainly in the communism times.

It was funny that the people decided to hire a teacher from those times to be the director from there.

Maybe they wanted a change ... but still not a big one.

I understood that the message behind the message that somehow ...not the times define the people, but the people define the times.

The purpose of life?!
There is no purpose.
Just enjoy life
... no matter how things are.

I've been walking on a wild beach.

Felt fantastic.

I felt ... in fact ... that i am free.

After 20 years of work ... i came to a point where somehow i had the financial freedom i wanted so much ... and i could take a day off to relax on the beach.

The only problem ... a very silly one in fact ... was that it took me few hours to decide to take the day off.

It was the middle of the week and i was used to work even in the week ends, so taking a day off was not in my statistical behavior.

How could i leave?!

What if something happens and someone needs me?!

It's summer and everyone is in vacation now ... but my mind forgot about this scenario.

I was reading tens if books about success, financial freedom etc etc ... but none of them were saying what you do after you get the financial freedom.

I mean it's easy to say that you will stay on the beach and relax, but how can you jump from the ... daily working as a slave to ... relaxation?!

How can you change the mental software after you get what you wanted from life?

Why all those books about success don't tell you about this huge problem?!

Was the purpose of life to achieve the financial success and then stay and relax?!

I just laugh ... when i think of this theory, cause it just does not satisfy me hearing that.

I was walking on a wild beach ... where you don't need any money at all ... and i could do this years ago ... and actually enjoy life.

I preferred to work for 20 years, including the week ends as in the end to realize i don't need any money at all to feel that i enjoy life.

It was a journey of 20 years ... on a pathless path and no one told me this or maybe i was too blind to see it.

Today i smile ... then i laugh ... of myself ... of how idiot i could act on the stage of my life.

But at least ... i am happy i understood the message ... you don't need anything at all to be happy.

All you need to do is just be present and enjoy life.

Nothing more ... nothing less!

Just open your eyes ... and understand that there is no purpose ... or if there is any that is just to be one with the present moment.

Your environment and the events from your life define in fact
... who you really are now.

"I just don't like the life i have".

"I hate those people from my life".

"My life ... just sucks".

An infinite list with examples ... of how most of us define the actual reality.

But whatever reality we have ... in the end this is the life we have ... and we need to accept it as it is ... or change it.

There is no middle way and the funny thing is that we always forget that everything we see in our daily lives is just a reflection ... of who we really are.

So ... is the environment a reflection of us?!

Are the events a mirror of who we really are deep inside us?!

You think that those philosophical questions are too annoying?!

Well ... if the answer is yes ... you are in trouble.

Just make an exercise ... ask yourself ... why you meet so often annoying people?!

Or why the neighborhood where you live in ... is the way it is?!

Are you similar with the people from there?!

And i should also ask ...are you an annoying person too?!

Hmm ... i am sure you don't like what i write.

All the time when someone told me while describing what i don't like ... that everything is just a reflection of my soul and my actions ... i became angry.

But i was angry not because that person was not correct ... but because i knew it was a true statement.

And it really became annoying for me to hear that all the time.

I understood the message ... but i did not accepted the message.

I was on the same frequency with the environment, but also the one of the events from my life.

You see ... sometimes the things are just the way they are ... and we prefer to accept them ... than ... make a change.

Is much easier ... and we consider is even ... safer as that.

Yes ... it's much easier to say i don't like my life ... i hate it ... it's a mess.

We are good when it comes about talking ... but it's too difficult to accept that life is just a mirror.

... just think about it!

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

And i keep wondering ... why i still keep wondering

Many times i laugh of myself ... thinking how i acted in many occasions in life.

I analyze everything on and on.

I define ... and then i try to redefine, but still i get the same results.

And i keep wondering why the things are the way they are ... but i find no good answer.

Life is beautiful.

I know i should enjoy it ... and nothing more.

Even live without any plan at all ... just connect with the moment and be happy cause i am alive.

I know the theory ... and i sometimes believe i know how to redefine the script of my life in a perfect way ... but i keep failing.

But it looks like i missed one thing ... when i studied the theory of the perfect life for a human being ... and that is the fact that failing is just part of the script.

It's ok to define ... it's ok even to believe that you try to redefine ... but maybe we should start by embracing the ... failing itself.

We believe that ... failing brings unhappiness ... but failing is a teacher ... the one that explains you that the meaning of life is not to be perfect, but to understand what is the message behind the message.

You see something ... but sometimes it is about something else ... an encrypted message ... that could make you see the philosophical view in a totally different way.

But maybe it's time for me to decide that i should just ... stop wondering.

Maybe it's time to understand that the answer regarding the essence of life will never come ... from my thinking ... but from my soul.

I know is hard to believe that just by stop thinking ... the real answer will come ... when we are so attached by our thinking ... but maybe it's a good moment to accept that we failed only because we are too attached by what it means ... "myself" ... and in fact "i" ... "myself" ... does not exists ... being just part of ... everything.

So ... stop wondering!

Connect to the inner self ... and you'll find in there everything you are looking for!

What could a “bedroom town” mean?! ... what about “the house where i use to sleep”?!

I had a political discussion with a guy ... involved in the local politics from my area.

The guy looks like a real gentleman, but in fact is a thief that was arrested few times in the past.

He looks like a philosopher of the modern political theory ... but in the end ... trying to hide the conflict we had ... we both became polite and started to discuss different common subjects.

This is how i heard for the first time the expression ... “bedroom town”.

It almost looked like a non sense, but this is how he defined our place.

People were working in the capital and only sleeping in our town ... so this was the reason the guy was calling like this the place.

But suddenly i remembered that i used to say about my house that is “the house where i use to sleep”.

So?! What was behind those definitions?!

What was the real message of what the guy was saying ... but also my sayings?!

Well ... most probably ... the house ... your house ... should be as a temple.

A place ... not where you only sleep, but a place where you disconnect from the world ... and allows you to stay relaxed ... mainly in your energy field.

Home ... must be like a magic place.

Could be a tiny house, or a palace ... but must have a magic vibe ... that you feel when you are there.

In the real world i build houses and rent them ... so i am kind of a businessman.

I pay attention to all the details ... but in the last years i mostly pay attention to the vibe of the area and of the house.

It's important ... to have beautiful feelings being in there ... while cooking, relaxing, taking a bath, meditating, sleeping etc etc ... doing only things related to you.

So ... i believe that if you see the area where you live, or the house where you stay ... just as a place where you sleep ... i think is too much and you are not in a good position.

People are a little bit different than animals.

We need special vibrational places only for us ... places where we can recharge our batteries ... so that when we go again into the world, to be ready to show them our beautiful side.

There are already too many showing us their dark side ... so ...

The perfect case scenario ... versus the real case scenario. Does the concept of happy marriage ... really exists?!

I was reading the writings of my dear lovely friend Arij ... and i was meditating:

"There is a beauty in being empty ...

In being unfound ...

In being lost ...

Being in illusion ...

But we have silly demands ...

And fancy dreams ...

That naturally evolve ...

In Overthinking ...

Fantasizing ...

Imagining ...

Expecting ...

Worrying ...

(Arij Emaan)

While politely asking another new friend if she is happy in her marriage ... she suddenly replied: "Does the concept of happy marriage exists for real?!"

My mind was starting to meditate.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

I was thinking at what I recently read at Arij and what the lady i just met few months ago ... asked me.

Arij is a young lady ... that is in love.

My new friend ... i believe that was in love long time ago ... but maybe too disappointed by the real case scenario ... from the real world.

Arij is a little bit more than 20 and the other lady ... close to 30.

I believe both of them in one point from the timeline of life were looking like 2 sisters.

But in almost 10 years everything changed.

Life revealed the difference between the perfect case scenario and the real case scenario.

The love story became ... the marriage.

I met thousands of people but only once ... about 25 years ago ... i met an old couple that ... in a magical way ... they were still in love.

After a marriage of 50 years they were in love.

I was 18 at that age ... and i was laughing of them ... not knowing that years later i will fail in my marriage ... just because i was not asking them the secret of a long happy marriage.

I could ... just ask and i am sure they would have told me what was the secret ... but i believed i was too smart to ask that.

At more than 40 ... i smile ... with love ... thinking about what Arij is writing ... laugh at the philosophical questions regarding marriage ... came from my new friend ... and only ask myself why i don't see the message behind the fact that so many marriages are failing.

But ... being just a simple human being ... being in the statistical data of the humans ... being the same as all the others ... all is left for me to do is ... just continue asking myself philosophical questions.

... and no answer is coming to me ... at least not a good one, cause i am still too blind to see the message behind the unhappy marriages.

And life continues ... just in the statistical data!

The epoch of belief ...
The epoch in incredulity ...

(Arij Emaan)

What is the best times from your life?!
Had you succeeded everything you've asked to the Universe?!
Well ... if yes ... you already know that you were lucky cause you was on that timeline ... and not because you succeeded.
You made all kinds of mistakes, but the anxiety disappeared all the time ... cause you had in your soul the belief ... the incredulity.
The path of success was in fact a lesson for understanding how we can connect to the Universe through our souls.
And it was so, so simple.
Before that ... you had nothing ... but nothing meant ... not the success itself ... but the connection with the inner self.
You had ... the best of your times ... and had no idea about that.
You were enjoying the path ... and the Universe was on your side, watching your back.

But you have a moment of enlightenment ... understanding that life is not about success and failing ... but about enjoying both of them ... while living the scenario the Universe prepared you.

It does not need to be perfect.
It needs to be real!

I had so many times when i was looking for perfection in my life ... and nothing happened.

I was only delaying everything for months or even for years looking for the best case scenario ... that in fact never came.

I was trying to touch the horizon line ... lying myself that i look for perfection, but in fact i was afraid to start the new chapter.

The perfection became a great ... excuse.

And it was never the best time to start ... cause there was always something to add, change etc etc.

I was convincing myself that this is the professional way of doing the things ... and it was the perfect decision.

Once, not so long time ago, i prepared the things so that i can open kind of a senior village.

I had a big lot, many houses in there, a small restaurant, kitchen, etc etc.

It was a perfect plan ... but the electricity company delayed everything ... then other things appeared and we decided in the end just to rent the houses and nothing else.

The project was abandoned.

After a very long time, lots of energy and money invested ... we decided just to closed the project.

Basically everything was ready ... but we never started and if you ask me now ... i believe we just delayed everything not as things to be perfect ... but because we were afraid of really opening the project.

And yes ... the perfection was the perfect excuse.

Now i want again to open the same business.

I own a house with 23 rooms that is going to be kind of a hotel for seniors.

People that leave in vacation can let in here their elders for 1-2 weeks or they can stay even for long terms at us.

But this time ... i promised myself i will not be so idiot as the last time.

I will just open the hotel ... with only few rooms first and then the next module and ... in the end the 3rd one.

I will see how the business runs ... i will make money and reinvest everything in the same business.

I understood after ... losing lots of time, energy and money ... that the perfect scenario ... simple does not exists.

Or if it exists ... it is the one where you are now and you should just enjoy it ... the way it is.

Will i succeed to do what i am saying?!

Have no idea .. i sometimes believe in me ... and sometimes i just ... don't, but at least today i see my huge mistakes from the past.

I don't regret anything ... but i want to be the best version of myself and i know i can do that only by doing real things and not by making plans ... plans and plans.

The perfect plan ... is the real one!

Today i went to a river ...into the mountains.
10 years ago ... no one knew that place.
You could go there and be just you ... and the nature.
We were there in the morning.
Only few people around and it was the perfect atmosphere to connect with the nature.
If you know the result of this ... actually ... the therapy of connecting with the nature ..: i am sure you have this trip in your mind all the time.
I left my family in there and went for one hour to walk on a path parallel with the river.
But when i came back i was totally surprised.
The area became very crowed, lots of people listening loud music ...
and my desire of connecting to the nature ... became mission impossible.
I totally disliked what i saw around.
A crowd of people that came to the mountains to eat, drink alcohol and listen loud music.
The funny thing is that 15 years ago i was doing that too with my friends ... but maybe something changed inside of me ... and i started to hate doing that.
I became more selective.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

The message was simple for me ... wherever the crowd is ... i must not be in there.

In fact i became too selective.

I started to like to spend my time only with the people that i am connecting with ... and avoid all the people that i do not like.

I actually ... even started to practice ... the solitude.

And now ... even if i like what i had decided ... i have moments when i wonder myself if i am wrong ... thinking and acting as that?!

Maybe it's a new chapter of my life ... and no one should judge this tendency of mine ... but in the end ... it's my life, my decisions and i will pay the price for those decisions.

Life has many paths that ... i should follow ... and this one ... maybe is a good one.

All i want is to spend time with people that i define as ... beautiful people.

People with good vibes.

People that have good intentions.

When i use the word "beautiful" ... i am speaking of their souls ... and i see the connections we have together.

So ... is it wrong to be selective?!

Well ... i just believe is difficult to stop drinking alcohol ... if you can't forget about your friends and their unhealthy habits ... that spend all their time in the bars from your area.

At one point ... we just follow different paths.

Nothing more ... it's quite a simple message even if is difficult to explain to all the ones around you ... that feel you don't like them anymore.

And it might be true.

... but the message behind the message is just that you want a change in your life ... and even a big one ... and you need another environment for that.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

Don't run away anymore ... is useless.
Just connect with the moment, no matter what the moment means
... and enjoy it!

There are so many philosophers today, that i think is useless daring to define as true statements what i write in my essays.

But i believe we are on the right path if so many people are asking themselves what life is about.

Our philosophical side ... might help us understand the essence, just by simple changing opinions ... at work, as school, with friends ... and even with enemies.

All i know for sure ... is that the method i study now works.

Is about the theory ... that becoming an observer of your own life ... of everything happens around you ... is not that the awakening will come to you ... but you'll have an idea about what is the meaning of the human being in this strange world.

I study philosophy from an early age, then i stoped for 15 years ... as one day to restart everything ... just because my vibe collapsed.

I needed a change ... but i did not knew for sure what is the vibe.

Feeling very uncomfortable i started to read blogs and books, watch motivational movies ... connect with people interested about the subject ... and many other things.

I even tried to change my environment many, many times ... but nothing worked.

I was running of something ... but i was not sure what was it about.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

It took me years to understand, what i call today ... the message behind the message ... and that was the fact that i was running away by myself.

I was not a dogmatic person, at least in a conscious way ... but i refused the meeting with my soul.

And i continued a pathless path, running away for many, many years in the row.

But one day ... i just decided to stop ... saying that ... it is enough!

I started to accept the present moment, whatever that moment was ... connect to it ... and even enjoy it!

I was not doing it with all my heart ... but it was the beginning of the process.

... and there were moments i loved the new scenario of my life ... and moments when i was forcing myself to continue.

But i was continuing on the new path ... the one of accepting the actual reality as the best script for my life.

The meaning of life is not to accomplish our desires ... and believe me, we have thousands of them ... but to enjoy it as the best script that could be written for yourself.
So, so many informations today about the secret law of attraction ... but too bad that no one tells you that this law will not make you really happy.
It will help you get in life what you want ... but the true happiness will never come to you as that.
We become stubborn ... and still we get so little.
But why?!

The more we study ... the less we get ... which is becoming a total nonsense.
I was keep wondering for years what was the message that i could not understand ... why if i know so much about the law ... the reality doesn't change at all.
But i could not see that my desires had be transformed into spiritual desires.
The path from the outside world ... had to be a spiritual path ... not a

Somehow ... the Universe was loving me ... not letting myself become blinded by my silly desires.

I was still saying ... "i want...", "my huge desire is ..." and i could not stop ... but the Universe was replying back to me ... "No! ... just No! That is not the path!".

I've started to follow so many paths in life to understand one day that all of them were only simple ... pathless paths.

But ... it was very difficult to accept that.

Despite my stubbornness ... the Universe was whispering all the time that the law of attraction can have also ... a weird meaning ... and this is when you shift from materialism to spirituality.

About an year ago, i've wrote an essay with the same title.

It was written for someone dear to me at that time.

Today ... i write the essay for someone dear to me in the present moment.

Same me ... but a different version of myself.

Something changed inside of me ... but i can't define for clear why or what.

I just changed.

My life is like the rotations of seasons.

Today is summer ... tomorrow in autumn ... and on and on and on.

I don't know if the new version of myself is a better one ... but i feel much comfortable me with myself.

I learned to treat with a little bit more love every person from my life ... and the most important change i've done is that i see a progress when it comes about living without expectations when it comes about my relationships of any kind.

In the past, i saw a trend of domination on both sides ... now i am looking just for open connections ... and try to see as a dance all my interactions with other people ... no matter who they are.

I always loved to interact with people ... but i did not know how to do it.

I had kind of a blindness ... but i also forget the rule number one of any kind of relationship ... and that is ... come with the open heart ... having no expectations at all.

Just imagine how the world would change, if we would apply this rule. Should be ... a better world.

To smile to the person next to you in the subway ... to smile to a colleague from work that had a negative impact on your carrier in the past ... to treat with ... love ... everyone we meet.

But it sounds as a science fiction scenario ... isn't it?!

It's a simple rule ... but too simple to understand and apply it.

Some of our connections ends just in a second ... cause we could just look to each other ... while walking on the street ... and then never meet again.

Some ... last longer ... and some of them ... takes too long maybe.

What i don't understand is why if ... we won't stay long anyway in here ... in this world that can be defined in a million of ways ... why we can't see the message behind the message ... and why we don't pay attention to the connections we have ... and make them great connections.

Is just a decision ... nothing more!

Most probably even if you love eating caviar ... if you eat for lots of times that ... one day you will say that is enough ... and probably you are thinking of trying to become a vegetarian.

The story written by Mark Twain ... "The Prince and the Pauper" is an excellent example of how the human being had enough of anything from life ... even of great things.

The prince prefers to change his place with the pauper, just to see another kind of life ... the opposite one.

The pauper ... believes also that trying, for a test the life of a prince is also a great idea ... so they just switch the places, cause they had almost the same look ... and was quite easy to do it.

In marriage happens the same.

Could have the perfect husband or the perfect wife ... but one day ... you believe that still ... life is too boring and you should try having another partner also ... or at least taste the life with another partner for a short time.

And many people are doing this today.

Cheating had become something ... normal.

But why?!

Truth be told we lose our interest in all the things from the world ... after a while.

We enjoy them ... we believe in their greatness ... but one day ... we just want to try something else also.

We want a change.

But should we exchange something great ... the best case scenario ... if we are lucky enough to have it ... with something else?!

What is behind the need of experiencing other things also?!

Well ... i believe that one day the amazing pleasure we used to feel in the past ... just disappear and we feel the need of an understandable ... change.

I recently read again the story of Adam and Eve ... written by a priest and even if i don't like the style the priests are telling stories ... i believe that was the appearance of that need for change in our mental dna ... eating the apple.

But i continue asking myself ... why?!

Why this need of illusory change?!

And in fact ... yes ... just illusory change ... cause in many cases ... we prefer the confort zone ... not the change.

Well ... i think the message behind the message is quite simple ... we are looking for tasting the change ... not doing the change.

We prefer ... to taste ... then come back in the old area of confort ... saying that we tried.

We divorce ... then ... come back to the old partner, we quit smoking then we also try marihuana ... we quit drinking alcohol ... then we also try whisky, cause we drink enough beer and wine etc etc.

So ... maybe i should write a book about the pleasure of ... tasting things, events ... people.

Why not?!

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

Defining ... a way of amplifying too much ... if we don't know the art of being detached of everything around

I believe in analyzing in a microscopic way ... even if being so busy, i prefer the macroscopic way.

I also believe in defining.

And i also believe ... that it helps a lot.

But analyzing and defining what we see in our lives ... is perfect ... if we know to not amplify too much the sensations.

A younger friend of mine ... that believes in the power of marihuana ... trying to convince me all the time to try it ... explained me few days ago that i will never understand the essence of life without using drugs.

But i quit even drinking alcohol ... so ... why should i use drugs?!

Is it really necessary?!

First of all ... as a person that is not even smoking ... marihuana sounds as a strange thing to taste.

Is almost like being a man that always enjoyed the company of beautiful ladies and a homosexual friend is explaining about his sexual pleasures ... trying to convince you that you should try it.

I am really sorry for the example ... but is really a great one.

But ... i am sure that probably ... i am not so opened mind as i might look sometimes.

On the other hand ... i want to understand the meaning of life ... so ... what should i do?!

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

I believe that drugs are amplifying a lot your sensations ... and some of the things can be seen deeper ... in a microscopic way ... but still ... is this the only path?!

And if i learn the art of defining and i amplify too much what is going on in my life ... what is going to happen?!

Something good?!

Something bad?!

But what if we try to change everything ... and just become a simple observer?!

Just be totally detached of everything you see ... even if all is about you ... and about your life?!

Should that be an alternative path?!

What do you really think?!

I personally ... don't believe in morality anymore.

Find it too ... dogmatic and even worst ... a spiritual barrier ... even if it sounds as a paradox.

I once read an interesting quote ... "Define or be defined" ... but today, i believe only in the concept of detached defining.

You become the observer, but you are never identify yourself with the person observed, analyzed and defined.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

Understanding the other side ... something we just never think about

We are friends and then we become enemies.

We are husband and wife and then we become enemies.

We are brothers and then we become enemies.

But ... sometimes ... we are enemies and we become friends ... even good ones.

But why?!

How's that?!

Well ... i believe that most of us are too attached by their own universe .. thinking ... personality ... and there is no time left for seeing something else.

It looks like in the world there are Universities of Medicine that at the beginning ... when the students start the university ... they have kind of a theatre class and the students play the role of the doctor, but also of a patient.

The student that has the role of patient needs to wait, needs to stay in uncomfortable conditions ... and needs in fact to understand the way a patient is being treated in a hospital, but not from the point of view of a doctor.

The student needs to understand the other side ... but to be easier ... the student is the other side.

And i now wonder ... what if you can somehow view the real position of the friend that you had a fight with ... or the wife / husband or brother / sister with who you have the argue.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

Understanding the other side ... is something we never think about ... because we just can't see behind ... us.

Could be a nice trick ... but even as that ... we are too blinds to see it. So ... what is the message behind the message?!

Maybe we are not ready yet to connect to the world ... maybe we can't see behind our own interests ... or maybe no one ever told us about this trick.

But how's that people that are friends become enemies and people that are enemies become friends?!

What is really going on?!

Well ... i suppose we don't know so much about how we connect and disconnect from people ... even if we do it so often.

In fact no one ever told us about this art ... and especially that this is actually an art ... the art of understanding and connecting to the other side.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

Connecting to the other side, does not mean you need to be one with the other side

I am trying to do all my best to become a real observer of my life and of everything happens around me.

I've come to the final conclusion that it is the only way to understand the real meaning of why i am here.

Philosophy is just a way of playing around.

I have a nice lake at home ... but i never stay in there to fish and relax.

Could be a nice hobby ... but i am not doing it.

I prefer to read and write.

This is the only way in how i become calm.

The moment i am not doing one of those 2 things agitation starts inside of me.

I connect to what i call reality ... and always end up losing my calm.

Somehow i connect to all the people from my life ... and i start living a life defined by the energies of the others.

Most probably ... not even in 100 years from now ... i will not see for clear the fact that i could interact with the people from my life ... connect to them ... but not become one with them.

I know the theory ... but when it comes about practice ... i always forget that i should not live in the energy field created by others ... unless i know they are good, but also wise persons.

Today i believe that my number one lesson i need to study during this

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

life time is the human interactions ... the way we exchange energies ... good connections that raise our vibrations ... but also bad interactions that stop the path of our evolution.

The good news is that i am aware of the fact that i need to pay attention at the way i am interacting with people.

I started to pay attention even if i meet on the street a homeless person ... or how i interact with a person that i defined in the past ... friend ... or even worst ... enemy.

I try to see if i see a message ... behind of all the interactions i have ... and all i hope is that one day i will reach a spiritual level ... when connecting to the other side, will not mean i need to be one with the other side.

The energy field ... ideally a positive one ... could be defined by my good intentions ... and if i really want to be one with the other person ... like a love story for example ... i should keep in mind that the connection should allway follow a positive path.

... but theory is theory ... practice is practice.

And i continue my life ...

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

Yes ... there is a tear!
But it all looks like a discrepancy.

The most difficult problem in the world is that we don't even understand ourselves.

We want to know and deeply understand ... what is this society where we live in ... what is the human being ... but we end up having no idea about who we really are as individuals.

As children ... we have the connection with the inner self ... but growing up ... a tear appears and even if it looks as a discrepancy ... we don't know what to really believe, being in the labyrinth of life.

The adult becomes a lost person.

Philosophy ... personal growth, psychology looks like a logical path to follow, but still ... something is missing.

The child was happy.

The adult is not.

He just lost the inner child ... and most probably will never meet again.

... but life continues ... in an unhappy way ... and no matter what path of life we choose ... we remain overwhelmed by discrepancy.

One day someone pronounces the word ... tear and a moment of awakening appears right away.

Suddenly ... you just realize that ... what is really missing is the connection with your own soul ... the one that you had years ago ... as a little child.

Then you see that you don't need anything at all ... no success, no

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

fancy cars, no huge amounts of money in bank ... no nothing.

Just the ... connection ... cause the connection with the inner soul is the connection with the Universe itself.

And being connected with the Universe ... you actually have everything ... the infinite.

But even finding out the message behind the message is useless ... cause that is not really solving the case of ... the tear.

In the end ... we should hope that time ... will fix all the things ... that also time broke inside of us ... without even noticing.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

Bipolarity ... a way of surviving

During the time there were many people that told me that i suffer of bipolarity.

Even my wife tells me that all the time.

But i consider that i just don't hate too much when i have a fight with someone ... cause 5 minutes after the fight i can smile again to that person.

So ... i wonder what should happen if we should have a blockage and would not speak anymore with anyone we argued.

And why i am defined as suffering of bipolarity, because i can easily jump from friends to enemies, but also from enemies to friends?!

Even if bipolarity sounds as a bad attribute of the personality, i honestly believe that is the opposite of what it looks like.

Bipolarity can become in this crazy world where we live in ... a way of surviving.

This balance ... is seen from outside as something negative ... without understanding the whole story from our inner soul.

We show our dark side.

Then our beautiful side.

Then again the dark side ... but right away we remember to them that inside of us is a beautiful side also.

Bipolarity, defined as a way of surviving ... helps us act better on the stage of life and keep the right balance from our good and bad side.

Is a way ... in how we try to redefine ... scenarios that even if are created by us ... we don't really want them.

Behind the bipolarity ... the message behind the message, as i always

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

use to say ... you see a person that doesn't succeed all the time to act in the perfect way ... but still ... is realizing that ... and tries to be that perfect person that should be.

Bipolarity is weird, difficult to be understood and accepted ... but in fact is this balance from the perfect case scenario to the real one ... and then another try to make everything perfect ... and on ... and on ... and on.

But in the end ... is a way of surviving ... and be better human beings ... even if we don't look like this.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

The final stage is ... the silence!

Don't like what you see around you?!

Don't like how they treat you?!

Want to change all these ... but you see that anything you should do is useless ... cause you have no chance of really changing the reality?!

You are wasting your energy ... and all you succeed is ... lose your temper all the time.

But one day ... you just realize that the energy field where you live ... that environment of your reality is just the way it is ... and can't be defined by your energies.

You've got no power of influencing what is going on.

The funny thing is that you become stubborn... and you still try and try and try.

And ... no result.

Or maybe i should say that the only result is that you lose your temper.

The path of the energies are remaining the same ... and you have no clue why this is happening to you.

Well ... even if you read so many books ... you realize that no one ever bothered to write that there are only 2 major ways of living in the world.

One is ... when you are so powerful energetically that no matter where you are ... even in an area with very intense negative energies ... like a prison, a hospital etc etc ... you influence them sending powerful positive vibes to all the ones around.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

That is .. for example ... the power of a guru.

But for the rest of us ... the path of spiritual evolution is totally different ... and the scenario is just not the same as for the guru. Changing the frequency ... being in a different spiritual level you just don't feel comfortable in a reality defined by the others ... by their energies.

Being too many people ... are stronger than you ... which i believe is natural.

And again the path is splitted in another 2 options.

One is to stay with them just like you did it till now ... cause all those people from your life might be the brother, the wife, the sister, the son, the sister in law, a parent, the colleague from work etc etc ... people that are difficult to just remove from your life.

The other option ... of course unless you are a guru and you can simply embrace your reality ... is to start practicing the solitude ... and the silence.

You can still be there ... but actually ignore them ... by staying only in your inner world ... in your own energy field ... defined by the new spiritual level where you are now.

So ... in the end ... the final stage to survive in a world that you don't like so much ... but on the other hand you can't change it ... is just practice ... the silence.

Being present ... but absent in the same time.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

There 2 ways ... speaking to you in a nice way or ... by force.
Which one do you prefer in the relationship with the Universe?!

Sometimes the Universe is whispering you ... by sending messages that are somehow encrypted ... and difficult to be understood.

An event.

A strange reaction of someone that you don't even know so well.

A sudden change.

A blockage. Then another one.

The way the messages comes is not even happening in a constant manner.

Everything looks illogical ... but the message is always the same.

Sometimes you believe in the intuition ... in the signs sometimes you just can't see the message behind the message.

And you start to believe that life is just the way it is ... and you should take for granted everything you see in the real life.

Then ... the Universe is whispering again.

But you are so confused.

This balance is killing you little by little ... the balance between believing that life is an illusion ... with a strong message behind the illusion ... or it is real ... and you should take the things just as they are.

It's quite difficult to be sure if a theory is true or the other one.

The Universe continues whispering.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

One message.

Another one.

And ... another one.

But you can't see that the meaning of life is to understand the truth behind the illusion.

Even the inner self ... becomes a false self.

We proudly call it Ego ... not understanding that this is a not the right path to follow.

And one day ... the way the Universe is sending us the messages ... suddenly changes.

The method of whispering ... speaking to you in a nice way ... goes to the end.

The other method ... teaching you by force ... introducing yourself in very difficult situations ... becomes the new way of communication.

And you have only one chance ... to understand the message behind the message.

If not ... if you keep being connected with the false self, the one defined by the outer world ... and not to the inner self ... the same experiences will be repeated on and on and on.

So ... don't even bother to ask yourself why life looks so unhappy ... if you continue ignoring the other side of the story.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

It's not that the change can't appear
... but it scares you even more that it will appear

We all have dreams.

Perfect case scenarios ... that we dream for them a lot.

And dream ... and dream ... and dream.

And the funny thing is that one day ... being totally surprised ... the change appears.

Becomes real.

So real ... that is totally confusing for you ... not knowing how to act in the new circumstances.

Weird ... as the change can't be accepted.

You asked for the change ... you dreamed for it ... but the scenario that became so real ... scares you.

A real non sense ... but we are not used with what we defined as perfect case scenarios.

We start to sabotage ... the change ... and we do that because we are used with an unhappy life and unhappy circumstances.

We are so scared of perfect situations ... and we act so ... so ... silly.

But at least we have the gut to ask ourselves ... why?!

Why we should act so silly on the stage of life, after the Universe accomplished our dreams regarding the change?!

In the end ... us ... as any other human beings ... prove that we can't connect for real at what we dreamed in life.

A dream is just a dream.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

We just want to taste the dreams ... and nothing more.

But what is the message behind this behavior?!

Today ... i believe that what i call ... the message behind the message ... is quite simple ... we know nothing about the art of connecting to a happy life ... and the next second the script is redefined from a grey reality to a beautiful one ... we simple don't know what to do.

And ... we even want to run away.

We love seeing the change ... but we can't embrace it ... even if we dreamed so much for it.

And we continue life ... continue hoping ... continue dreaming ... and still never be ready.

But what if it happens again for real?!

Well ... the silly balance between the worst case scenario and the perfect one ... will always be there.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

Much better as Casanova ... but still unhappy. A real story about lost souls.

It looks like the well known Casanova had about 300 women in his life.

But even if it looks as an amazing experience ... Casanova had a huge handicap ... he did not had the support from Tinder at that time ... so nowadays ... i believe that 300 partners in a life time is not so much. But let me tell you a story.

It happens i know 2 guys, that are my friends in the real life.

They used to be businessmen, but they retired and all they do now ... is just dream about new girls all the time.

One of the guys ... let's call him Carl ... used to make good amounts of money and because of the business circumstances he met thousands of women.

But he almost missed all of them.

The other guy... let's call him George ... made huge amounts of money in his businesses, being more pragmatic ... and had about 5-600 women in his life.

Almost double than Casanova ... which was a legend.

But the funny thing is that all the time when i have the chance to talk with them ... they are both unsatisfied by their sentimental life.

Carl is still looking for the perfect mistress, cause he is still married and George ... even if he tasted so many relationships ... did not found yet ... that perfect lady for him.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

Sometimes ... one is enough ... but not for the case of my 2 friends.
Successful businessmen ... but unhappy cause they don't have yet ...
something they defined so clear to the Universe.

I wonder how is it possible to meet so many ladies ... but still ... can't be satisfied of what you have in your life.

Is difficult for me to understand ... both of them ... and is clear that no one will meet what they say they want to meet.

The message they send ... is much deeper.

Most probably ... there are many happy men from all around the world that had met only one lady ... got married with her ... and had a very happy life.

... but my friends are just tasting the interactions with beautiful ladies
... having always the excuse that they look for the perfection.

My opinion is just that ... perfection does not exists ... is only illusory ... and it ruins the life of my friends ... forcing them to follow a pathless path.

Are they happy?!

Will they ever be happy?!

Well ... who knows ... but probably not during this lifetime.

Cheating ... an art of coming back at home with different energies?!

I love the saying "it's not what it looks like!".
The funny thing is that i heard this from lots of people that i know for sure that they cheat or cheated in the near past.
They told me amazing stories.
Fabulous explanations.
When i was about 15 someone told me at that time that cheating is the only real trick for saving a marriage, at least till the things between the partners go to normal.
I was shocked and totally disliked the theory.
Later on ... in life ... i cheated and i was cheated.
I did not like neither of the circumstances ... but one day i had a moment of awakening, seeing the message behind the message ... and i understood that i cheated cause i considered that the relationship i had did not offered me what i really expected ... but also that i had been cheated cause i was not acting like the partner i had to be.
I know ... cheating is not moral.
But ... nowadays it is almost normal ... cause it happens so ofter for so ... so many people.
Cheating became the last option before breaking up.
A last used trick to save something that looks almost impossible to save.
And the theory i heard when i was 15 ... and totally disliked looks so true.

Adrian Gabriel Dumitru

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

But why?!

Sometimes the only sense for cheating is just as someone to come in your life and help you be reinvented.

To help you understand how you used to act long time ago, in the moment when you met the person that is today ... still your partner. And the funny thing is that the energies that you come back with in your relationship can help the 2 of you a lot.

I know ... i am too abstract ... and the theory of cheating is much too simple to be understood.

But ... that's my style!

I just love to define the undefined ... and see the meaning of abstract in our silly lives

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

We are all influencers ... of different kinds

Truth be told ... we somehow influence and are influenced by the others.

Unfortunately ... negativity has usually a much easier impact in the environment we spend our lives.

Positivity ... even if it exists ... is not so easy to see around.

But in the end ... no matter of intensity of the impact we have ... we are all influencers ... of different kinds.

The only problem is that no one ever told us ... that life is sometimes like a battle field.

We feel it ... but ...

But we react ... at negativity ... with even stronger forces of negativity ... and unfortunately ... in many cases ... we totally ignore positivity.

We know what a influencer is, but just don't believe that we can be defined as that ... even if it's done in an unofficial way.

What i don't really understand is why we can't see that we can change the world ... just by changing the small corner of the Universe where we live our lives.

We can't see we can be that ingredient that transform the life ... from grey colors to beautiful colors.

We always forget that a little piece of sugar can make the coffee ... have an amazing taste.

For the real life ... that should be ... a smile ... a nice word ... etc etc
Nothing difficult to do ... or implement.

We want to do it ... we know we can do it ... but we just don't do it.

Adrian Gabriel Dumitru

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

And we know so well ... that we have a beautiful side too ... where you never see the dark side but we just don't share it ... with the others.

That small corner of the world ... lose the chance of becoming a better place ... cause we are just afraid of showing the influence of our positive side.

... but we still remain influencers.

Reality ... whatever you live now ... is the best case scenario of what you could live ... but you will understand that later.
Is just that today ... you are blind.

Sometimes it's quite difficult to understand why things are happening the way they are happening.

We could even define reality ...as being totally illogical.

Even if we know the theory that behind any fact from the real life is hidden a different message ... and it's never what it looks like ... we just cant understand why the Universe offered us those scenarios.

And we keep wondering why.

Again and again and again.

We even strongly believe that we know better than the Universe what is better for us and we ignore all the signs we see.

We understand the messages ... but we just ignore any meaning at all.

"Living the present moment" ..."Carpe diem" etc etc ... looks like no sense advices.

We don't really realize that what we live today in the present moment ... is actually the best scenario the Universe ... that infinite intelligence ... prepared for us long time before coming into this world.

There are moments when we believe in the concept of destiny ... but lots of other moments when we think that everything happens randomly ... having no real meaning.

And we keep being blinds ... but the philosophical question is ... till when?!

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

Don't bother to think so much!
Just do it ... if this is what you feel that is the path!

I read the book "The 5 second rule", written by Mel Robbins. The book had been a best seller all over the world, but the way is written ... i considered it was a little bit annoying. The message of the book is quite simple ... you only have 5 seconds to decide that you will do it ... whatever is to do ... especially the important things. Otherwise ... you will find 1 million excuses not to do it. The book is full with example of people that applied the rule ... and it worked. I found annoying in the beginning, that the book was focusing on so, so many examples and was missing describing the rule. But the theory itself ... was so simple that there was not so much to write about it. You just need to count 5,4,3,2,1 and just wake up, start make the homework, refuse the glass of scotch if you know that you have alcohol problems etc etc. Probably the book has hundreds of example described ... so that you easily see how the others applied the rule in their lives. Yes ... truth be told we think too much before we do different things ... especially the important ones. Instead of connecting to the inner self, use the intuition to find the real path of life ... we believe that what we think ... the million of excuses might be true ... so at least we should wait until we find the absolute truth.

But this is not going to happen during this lifetime ... and we still wait.

Being obsessed with the fact that i should become my own observer ... i saw myself thinking a lot ... in hundreds of occasions... even in the situations when i could do something good for the others. There were things easy to do for me ... but very important for the others ... and still i was not doing it.

I was thinking too much ... and missed the chances to help the ones that really needed that at that time.

But life goes on.

I am still working with myself ... to remove all the analysis before i start acting on the stage of the real life.

So ... i have a simple message for you .. don't bother to think so much ... just do it!

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

Qu'est-ce que vous avez

Rien

Rien??!!!

The teacher is asking the student ... If you learnt the lesson, but the student has to admit that he did not did it.

As philosophy ... i have a simple theory that i want to implement in my real life.

I tried to become an observer of everything happens around me, but also to me.

I try to define life ... only through the final results, but at the end ... i try to find the meaning at all those events ... what i call ... the message behind the message.

I understood that the meaning of life is to see all those lessons, the messages behind the lessons ... so that they will not be repeated anymore.

The desire of becoming a better soul, of being in a higher spiritual level ... will bring from the Universe more and more tests ... and you will be asked ... "Have you understood the lesson?!".

Scared ... you will say ... "yes" ... but have you really understood the lesson?!

In many cases, just as the times when you were in school ... when you did not pay so much attention to the homework ... you will actually never be ready.

So .. what the Universe does?!

Just gives you more and more tests ... sometimes with the same subject ... and even if you will fail ... life will continue with more and more tests.

The meaning of all these?!

Well ... what is the meaning of school?!

Can we evolve spiritually just by reading books or going to church?!

No ... unfortunately is not that simple.

We need to understand the message ... that "life is an illusion" ..., and the lesson itself is hidden behind the illusion.

A friend once told me that she does not want anymore to play this game with the Universe, but you see ... depending of the meaning of this life ... sometimes you don't really have the choice.

But sooner or later the tests will come anyway ... so there is no real option to not play the game of the life lessons with the Universe.

Life continues.

Other tests will appear in your life and you will need to experience them ... but always keep in mind that is only a life lesson ... and a message to see.

And also don't forget!!!

Never be mad on the teacher ... all he really wants is your best.

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

Why should we run away from the scene of life?!
In the end ... all we lived ... and we succeed to interconnect the inner and the outside world ... are amazing experiences

Years ago ... i was finding strange that a human being could go to a monastery and remain in there for the rest of the life.

I was asking myself why the hell someone could go, by himself, in a prison ... for a lifetime.

Today i see things in a totally different way.

I understood that the world is the way it is and sometimes we just need to disconnect from everything to survive ... or to evolve as spiritual beings.

Buying a house on the top of the mountains, with no neighbors around ... or going to the monastery and live in there ... at least for a while is a real trick that could help our spiritual life.

But what if instead of that ... we do the opposite?!

Meaning ... staying on the stage of life, accepting all what is going on, analyze and define the meaning of all what is going on ... but seeing the life lessons as a blessing for a better spiritual life.

So ... what if we start to embrace everything is going on?!

Just as it happens.

Not bothering of anything.

Not seeing anything negative ... even if they look as that.

What do you think it can happen?!

Adrian Gabriel Dumitru

BEHIND THE ABSTRACT

... there is always a message

Living, accepting and embracing the present moment ... just as it is.
Connecting with the moment ... instead of running away.
Solitude is great ... and i start enjoying it even if i love to socialize with people ... but i do all my best to stay on the scene of life and not run away of it.
Just be there ... no matter what is going on.
At the right time ... most probably i will practice mainly solitude but today i consider myself that i am on the chapter of understanding life through the interactions i have with the others.
I decided to stay in the real life ... even if i know that all i see it's an illusion.
All i hope is that i will be able to interconnect the inner and the outside world ... and have amazing experiences all the time.

INTRODUCTION

Analyse, Define, Re-define

Are you looking for a better life, one that is more fulfilling? It is often that we look for answers, answers on how to achieve this – answers relating to different themes – subject matters about health, work, relationships, friendships, passion; also themes of emotions such as love, hate, anger, joy, frustration, and happiness. I understand your search for a better life, and your desire to understand how to achieve this in the complex world we live in.

Could you have a better life right here and now? The answer is yes!

Questions that you should be asking yourself –:

What does a better life mean to me?

Is my response to life and daily activities a good one? How can I make it better?

Do I get the results I'm looking for?

Why do I do things the way I do?

Am I self-sabotaging myself from having that better life I dream of?

What limits my determined efforts to do right?

Actually - Who determines right and wrong for me?

Whom have I given permission to have control over my very existence and my ability to have a better life?

The questions go on and on. You are left in a state of confusion and haven't gotten further.

To begin - You analyse, then define, then re-define.

To analyse is to understand. To analyse is for the search of meaning, of purpose, of reason. In search of your happiness, you need to understand yourself. Then you define - You define your thoughts and your perception of things. We then define our actions. Daily self-reflections are necessary as an important part of this process. "Appropriate or not appropriate? Could I have done this better – with more love, with more conviction, with more passion, with less intensity? With less thought? Am I overthinking? Who is the judge of all that I do? Am I my best critique?" – Personal questions with complex answers. Maybe it is just simple. Everything is quite simple once we know how.

You set your own standards based on your morals, ethics, culture, and experience. What is your intention for every action? You redefine again, and again and again, until every aspect is polish to your liking, not perfection, but it leads to a better being. The process is simple, and it repeats itself as you continue to seek to live the life of feeling at peace and in oneness with your spirit. It's life evolution. You are forever changing in thoughts, words, and deeds. Nothing remains the same. Nothing remains forever. Your ideology of a better life is changing too.

To live in true oneness of a truly better life, the mind, body, and soul must all be in alignment with the physical and spiritual world. The work in progress is daily, it's constantly analysing, defining, and redefining all aspects of our being. Each day is therefore a perfect day in our own imperfection. Let us look closer and deeper into how you can live your better life right here, right now.

Tips and tricks for a better life

One day i realized that i have only one chance for changing my life and that was to become my own therapist.

I had no idea how i could do it ... but i knew i had to do it.

I was reading blogs.

Then books.

Then ... lots of books.

I found lots of ideas ... but not the secret to heal myself.

It was quite annoying to be on a journey to a pathless path ... and it was in fact even worst.

I was trying to hide that by myself ... which was quite ridiculous.

And i continued like this for years.

I knew something was wrong ... but did not decided to start a process of analyzing and defining what was going on.

In fact ... i could not accept the fact that there was so much junk in my life ... but in the end seeing no way out from a miserable reality i said to myself "maybe the time for that has come. I need to be brave enough to analyze all the details that actually define my past, my present and the possible near future.

And i am laughing today ... looking back at the beginning of this process ... remembering about how i was lying to myself. Instead of telling the truth ... not to the others ... but to myself ... i was hiding all kinds of obvious things and situations and truth be told it was absolutely ridiculous.

But the good part is that i continued this journey of trying to find myself.

I realized that the real trick for changing our lives is to ... first stop from running away from our souls ... then start to analyze, define and in the end redefine everything around ... all what we name ... life.

It's a quite a simple process and i can guide you with lots of examples given in my essays.

And all what i try to explain is that i'm not talking about rocket science ... but a simple method of becoming your own therapist ... cause remember in fact ... you are the best therapist you could find for yourself.

Will it be easy?!

Hell no.

Can anyone do it?!

Well ... maybe at the proper time ... we will all have the power to start this process.

So ... in case you are looking for tips and tricks for a better life ... the method of analyzing, defining and redefining ... might be the real key for the change.

It's nice to have friends of the opposite sex. Helps you understand the other side much, much easier, but we should remember that we need to understand us first.

Paula was in love with Jerry, but Jerry was married. And it was a funny situation cause Jerry's wife was in love with Oliver.

But Oliver was a friend of Paula and they were chatting a lot especially about those illicit love stories they were involved in.

Everything was a nonsense ... and they all were on a journey to a pathless path.

Soon all of them started to believe that life is not fair not realizing that it never was and it will never be that way.

But what they did not saw in this scenario from the timeline of their daily life ... was that in fact not life was unfair cause they let them fall in love being married with someone else ... but they were the ones not acting in a fair way.

Oliver and Paula were trying to define a lot the situation ... and ask themselves why they could not have Jerry and his wife ... if the love was so damm powerful.

Well ... even if they were trying to analyze so much what was going on ... feeling as victims of life ... they never had the courage to say that they were too cowards to divorce and start a new life.

Today i believe that life was not unfair.

At the right time ... it sent them in the right love story ... but you see the Universe is creating us the circumstances ... and we are the ones that need to know how to act and decide if we really want that story in our lives.

Oliver was understanding from Paula the point of view of a woman and Paula was understanding the point of view of a man ... but they were still feeling that life was not fair.

It was much easier to think in that way ... than accepting that they were acting as some cowards that were afraid of change.

Divorce is easy nowadays.

Much easier as it was 100 years ago ... but the mind of the humans remained in the same blockage.

Oliver, Paula, Jerry ... his wife and all the others that are in the same position as them ... wanted just to taste the change ... not to do it for real.

Discussions between Paula and Oliver were helping them to understand the philosophy of the other side and it was great ... but still neither of them could understand their own philosophy.

There are different forms of art but we should not judge our preferences

Once upon a time there were 2 guys ... that loved money so much that for 20 years they forgot living and enjoying life ... because they were too busy trying to get rich.

And guess what?! ... they got all they wanted and became really wealthy persons ... but the difference between those 2 guys and other businessmen was that they also read philosophy.

And when i say that ... i mean hundreds or even thousands of books.

It was really funny ... cause after 20 years those 2 men realized that being blinded by the desire of getting rich ... they forgot to live and enjoy life.

Now ... close to 40 ... they started to look for ladies ... wanting to have those experiences that they could have at 20 or 30.

Was this written in the philosophy books they read for so many years?!

But why they realized it so late?!

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

Well they were chatting a lot ... trying to analyze and define what they missed all those years ... and this is what they learnt from philosophy.

Somehow they wanted to redefine their lives ... near amazing ladies ... and were studying a lot the subject.

In fact ... they were studying the art of admiring the feminine beauty and her impact on the a masculine spirit.

They were looking to find the gateway to that reality that they could have years ago ... but missed the chance for it, because they were interested only about money.

It was funny watching 2 guys at 40 ... acting as 2 guys of 20 ... but maybe everything was a way of feeling as 20 when they were 40.

Should we judge them for doing that?!

Well ... there will be many people that will do that watching them practicing this art of admiring beautiful ladies ... or even ignore the fact that this is an art ... but in the end ... we all miss lots of important things in life, then we come back in time and start to redefine the scenario.

It fact everything becomes ... the art of redefining life.

Nostalgia ... an effect of the fact that the story was so damm beautiful or ended too soon ... and you had the chance to see only its positive side

Viktor was a guy from Saint-Petersburg.

He used to work at the city hall ... but he was in fact a dreamer that was reading a lot of books.

He dreamed of a fairy tale with a lady that will infinitely love him ... and guess what?! ... one day the lady appeared in his life.

They had an amazing love story ... and Viktor thought that the theoretical concepts from his mind will help him continue the story ... but things were different.

He was loving Karemina a lot ... and even if he was trying to do everything properly they spoiled everything and the story ended.

It was the love of his life ... and it was the same for her ... but because we don't understand that we can't run our lives believing so much in theoretical concepts from books ... the fairy tale ... ended.

They were suffering a lot.

In the beginning they thought it will take days to forget each other ... then after weeks it was the same.

Months later ... the nostalgia was still present

One year after they were seeing everything in the same way.

So ...?

Both of them started to analyze and define what was wrong that they fucked everything even if the story was so damm beautiful ... but it was useless.

Nothing could be changed anymore cause they were both married with someone else now.

Even if the nostalgia was present in their souls ... they thought that starting a new life will change the situation, but it was not like that.

Maybe they were not ready for being together even if they were ... soulmates.

So many explanations came when they analyzed and defined everything but the worst part was that they could not redefine the script anymore.

It was too late ... and their time was gone.

Today they only enjoyed the memories of a beautiful story ... balancing between contradictory emotions ... remembering the beautiful but also the dark side of the story.

Could the script be rewritten?!

Maybe ... but Viktor did not realized that you can't learn from books the art of acting with courage on the stage of life.

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

You see ... the courage comes by itself ... but you need to believe in your dreams or desires ... and you will always get sooner or later what you want from life.

Viktor missed the chance of having Karemina for a lifetime ... in an amazing love story ... and nostalgia remained the only thing left for them ... but for all the ones that knows how to act on the stage of life ... nostalgia will never be accepted.

Live it ... or forget about it!

Life is too short and too beautiful for useless regrets!

Truth might hurt, but lies destroy

It's not that we dislike the truth , or we are liars ... but sometimes the truth is so powerful that we don't have any power to confront it.

And what we do ... in an amazing way ... is that we hide it and we even do our best to totally forget about it.

Lies appear as a way of avoiding the real ... reality.

And we become liars not because we want ... or we like that, but because we try to protect ourselves from seeing the truth.

It all becomes ... a nonsense.

We analyzed in an automatic unconscious way the whole script from the present moment but if we define our lives in a honest way ... it will hurt a lot.

The pain will certainly appear and will be difficult to handle it ... but this will be the reason why lies might appear as an illusory way of protecting us ... at least for a while.

And we start lying ... the others from our lives and even ourselves.

Soon after ... again in an illusory way we start to believe that in time things will be ok, ignoring that lies can't really save us.

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

And we lie more and more ... just to continue the actual script from the present moment.

We cheat or we are cheated by the partner ... but we protect everything with daily lies.

Today one lie.

Tomorrow another one.

And the day after tomorrow ... we become experts in that.

In fact we become experts ... in avoiding the truth ... by the help of lies.

Time is passing ... and we suddenly realize that we actually became addicted to the habit of lying ... and there is almost no way out of this illusory world that we had been created.

Or ... if it is ... that should be telling the truth ... and nothing by the truth ... but also accept all the consequences that will appear in that moment.

And the day we say stop to the addiction for lies ... the truth is revealed.

It will hurt a lot ... but is the truth .. the real reality ... not the one from our minds.

In a moment of awakening we suddenly realize that we actually destroyed everything with the lies and is not that we lied everyone around us ... but we lied even ourselves.

So ... we finally had the gut to say it ... defining the real truth ... but maybe is already too late.

The only thing left to do ... is redefining the whole script and totally forget the lies, all the events from the past and everything else.

And we see a simple law of the real life ... truth might hurt, but lies destroy.

Mental health is one of the main important things that we should pay attention to.

I see more and more people around me that pay lots of attention to what they eat, to what they drink or ... to the quality of environment where they live.

Don't get me wrong ... it's quite ok ... but if i start to analyze and define those people ... in small details ... i suddenly realize that they missed the essential.

I see them how they lose their temper, how they don't respect the simplicity asked by the laws of the Universe ... not realizing that this is just a simple requirement for a life lived in harmony.

And still ... if you have to meet them ... you'll be amazed of the long talks about the influence of everything we put inside of us ... but being totally blinded at the power of the thoughts and ideas that comes from the world where we live in.

We actually see life as primitive beings, same as people from thousands of years ago.

And truth be told we could be defined as ignorants or even idiots ... if we don't have the power to see that the power of the thoughts is much powerful than the things that are needed as the human being to survive physically.

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

I maybe did the same as all those people.

I am a vegetarian ... don't smoke, don't drink alcohol anymore ... and still i find it useless.

I am not yet on the right path.

Recently i realized the fact that the way i react on the stage of reality is actually a reflection of the spiritual stage where i am now ... and tells everything about my mental health.

The way i act.

The way i react.

The way i handle the overreactions from the other side ... but also my overreactions.

The collapse of my thoughts.

Those things defines together my mental health, the fact that i live or not in harmony and in fact makes everything else irrelevant.

Today i don't care anymore that i don't smoke, don't drink alcohol or that i am vegetarian ... and i smile in front of all the ones that tells me the importance of that ... but i keep analyzing on and on and on the status of all the attributes that defines my mental health.

So ... do i run on automatic pilot ... and everything runs perfect?!

Hahaha

Hell no.

But i started to pay a huge attention to those things ... and

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life every time i over react ... i realize something is wrong ... and i need to redefine the whole scene.

When you see the worst version of yourself ... it's time to leave

You see ... you are not defined by what you usually say about yourself.

You are not even defined by your thoughts.

Of course that all those elements reflects a part of your being ... but what really defines you ... are your reactions in worst case scenarios.

And when i say this i am thinking ... at all the weird events that life has to offer us in different forms ... from the worst ones as the cases of the people that went in nazi concentration camps for example ... and ending with the bad luck of the ones that had a car accident with their amazing Bentley or Rolls-Royce.

I actually speak about nightmares ...

Of course ... there are millions or billions of other types of worst case scenarios ... that in fact are just silly events from life ... but we see them in such a personal way ... that if we are great story tellers ... the story itself can be much dramatic as the ones from a war.

But i am smiling writing all these ... because the story is not

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life about an event ... but about our reactions at that event ... that took us to the limits of life.

And those reactions ... defines the stage where we are ... mentally, philosophically ... but also spiritually.

I know we have a tendency of analyzing and defining the others ... but i try the opposite ... to analyze myself because i know that this will help me a lot to evolve as a soul.

I look at my reactions ... especially at the weird or the negative ones.

... and i keep wondering why i acted that way?!

In many ... many ... in fact too many cases ... i act as a primitive being ... even if i try by so much time to redefine my personality into a positive way.

I really hate when i have days when i show the worst version of myself ... but those days exists ... and unfortunately i can't hide them anymore.

But i started to accept the fact that i have a beautiful ... and also a dark side.

Each time when my ugly personality is activated ... i decided to leave and come back just when i am ready to act again in that scene.

Is that wise?!

Well ... don't even care how it looks like ... the way i act ... but is probably the best thing i can do.

I leave ... i visualize again the whole scene ... i analyze everything ... i define all the details ... then hope that i will have the power to redefine everything.

I always lie to myself
... but i wonder why?!
Maybe is something about motivation that i got wrong

I lied to myself so many times in life.

Maybe too many times.

It was somehow a confusion between optimism and the fact that i was not realizing that i don't need so many things in life to be happy.

I started to analyze all what was happening ... why i was happy, why i was not why i wanted so many things in my life ... why, why, why ...

Studied lots of books about motivation and thought that i am in a position in life when i can have absolutely everything i want.

And what i actually did ... was to wish lots of things that in the past i could not dream for.

One by one my desires became real.

All that collection of illusory dreams became more an

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life effect of the fact that i studied motivation and i understood how i could make for real everything i wanted.

But did I really wanted those things?!

... or i was just lying to myself?!

But when i understood that all those desires where not making me happy .. and are just pathless paths that i was following ... just because i thought i have to have all what the others wanted ... i actually got the message from life. Motivation learnt me a lot ... with its techniques how to achieve my dreams ... but i also had to learn the art of defining very clear all those dreams ... if they were mine or not.

I was sure that i was not following my real path in life ... and i lost so much time ... while i was lying to myself for years. But i am still happy that after such a long journey ... i could redefine the way i was acting in front of the desires ... in fact my desires.

Karma can be an event or a series of events ... that seem endless ... but aimed at making us understand the fundamental laws of the Universe

I look around ... and I smile.

I look at myself ... watching my actions ... and laugh.

Then I stop, realizing that all we do ... both me ... and everyone else I see present on the stage of my life ... is to try Illusory to fool the Universe.

We believe that we have a kind of nobility that allows us to be immune from obedience to spiritual laws.

We consider that we deserve everything that is better and more beautiful. ... but acting in a way that shows a stupid pampering of the Ego.

We ask the Universe to show us its beautiful side ... while we display only our dark side.

Anchored in a stupid frequency of negativity, we illusory hope that the scene of life will present only elements of positivity.

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

But the universe leaves us alone.

It is forgiving.

Somehow he lets us do our number, hoping that we will still redefine our naive idioms.

But indulgence is useless.

We are unable to understand the importance of following the laws of the universe in which we live.

Somehow ... if we had the strength to understand them ... it would be easier ... but the mental cocktail in our minds ... this stupid combination of ignorance, stupidity and wickedness ... to make us live in the illusion that we have immunity in everything we do.

Nothing wrong ... but we continue in this direction without stopping.

And everything was simple.

Don't do what you don't like to be done.

Or ... behave in the real world ... just as you would expect others to treat you.

But I know ... it's too simple ... to understand such a fact.

In fact, these laws, like many of the laws of society, are made exclusively to protect us in the first place.

The answer of the Universe comes late.

Very late.

Suddenly we begin to feel overwhelmed by events ... that seem foreign to what we actually wanted to see on the stage of life.

It can be a single event ... or even a series of events ... difficult to understand and especially to accept.

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

The universe is starting to look ... unfriendly.

Really very ... unfriendly.

But we refuse to understand the message ... transmitted so abstractly.

Although everything is a lesson ... we see reality as something very painful, not realizing that the only purpose is to understand the laws and how everything actually works. But we refuse to give up ignorance and stupidity ... looking at everything with even greater wickedness.

We don't understand that getting out of that hostile reality can be done ... by analyzing, defining ... and then redefining our thoughts and behavior.

Alignment with the real values of the universe in which we live is the path to a beautiful reality.

What we call karma is just going through a transformative process ... with the simple role of making us align with the beautiful side of humanity.

When karma is present on the stage of life ... there is no turning back.

We have to decide the real values to follow.

It will be difficult to accept in the first place ... but not impossible.

It all comes down to a decision ... the decision to understand the world we live in.

His spiritual laws ... and their pursuit ... become the key to getting out of karmic tests.

Redefining itself ... starts with redefining ourselves as beings ... as the end to see everything redefined in a way

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

that pleases our soul.

Not being blind ... spiritually speaking ... can be one of our spiritual obligations ... but it's all a decision.

And the decision itself ... comes down to spiritual awakening ... karma being the factor that guides us on that path.

It seems abstract ... that it's all about the cause and effect ... but once the karmic process begins ... things are serious.

The patience of the Universe ... has disappeared ... and our only chance becomes exclusively understanding and alignment with the fundamental values of the Divine Spirit.

Analyze your life.

Define it.

But once you understand everything that is ok and what is not ok ... reconsider everything ... still meaning ...

everything related to the soul that is in us.

The insanity of the spirit ... thus becomes the main goal of our life.

In the end we will understand that following this path we do it voluntarily ... or through a painful or even very painful karmic process.

The decision ... is ours.

The real values of life ... we will never see them in society

The concept of values ... is quite abstract.

We understand its importance, but at the same time we see it as exclusively theoretical.

But we perceive the true meaning when we see around us people who do not have the power to treat us at least ... decently in certain delicate situations of life.

Relationships that I thought were stable and I even saw them as friendships ... they are suddenly erased with a sponge.

We even see a price in the relationship.

In simple situations ... for a small amount of money the relationship is not compromised ... but the same relationship is completely forgotten ... as soon as the amount or interest itself is higher.

We end up disappointed.

We look at the scene of life and notice the etiquette with the price of a relationship.

All we have to do is smile ... like over a certain amount ... even fixed sometimes ... everything is forgotten ... no matter how much we would have believed in that friendship.

But often even we react the same way.

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

We have the power to observe this process exclusively when we happen to be the victims of an event in which the values of life are excluded.

Wounded ... we analyze and define everything indefinitely ... thinking in a loop obsessively so that in the end we understand that redefining that event can be done exclusively when we understand the integration of the concept of supreme values of life in any event I lived it. Both in what we expect to happen to us and in how we behave on the stage of life.

But how do we understand what this set of values is ?!

How do we understand it in depth ?!

From books ?!

From religion ?!

From life experience ?!

Personally ... I tried to understand it from books ... but I did the deepening itself only when the reality was cruel to me.

We analyzed everything ... and somehow we thought we didn't deserve that to happen to us.

And many of those negative experiences were actually the opposite of what we wanted from life and actually the opposite of values.

So ... somehow the Universe details our set of values by a counter example ... often very painful.

We smile ... realizing that everything is a lesson, and real life ... we will never see them in society except camouflaged by a painful example of "not so".

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

Only by analyzing, defining ... that in the end we have the power to understand that through redefinition everything can be ... "so yes".

Satisfying the mind's obsession ... the only way to get rid of the obsession ?!

I have experienced many obsessive events.

The event itself may have been just an event, but my perception ... followed by obsessive thinking, was the one that ruined my life for days on end.

We analyze.

Reanalyzes.

I defined everything in millions of ways.

But ... I didn't have the strength to redefine the scene.

That was until one day when I found out about a very interesting trick, which simply said that ... the night before bed, at least for 5 minutes analyze your day, review everything ... and try to rewrite the story of that day in the way you would have liked everything to happen.

And I started practicing this exercise, especially in the case of events that upset me ... and there were many.

I was trying to rewrite the script for that day and it was funny that some scenes were repeated to me indefinitely.

My questions and upset ... were becoming obsessive, but I already knew that at that moment of realizing this

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life obsession ... I had to stop and completely ... redefine my perception of the stage in the first place.

For a long time I made the mistake of believing that reacting to certain events was the right way ... but I was wrong.

I later realized that I had the right not to identify with the scene and ... that I could be disconnected from events ... even if I was in their midst ... and that they could greatly influence my life.

Stopping the obsession of the mind could only be done by realizing that I am not necessarily what I am experiencing ... and a negative event can only be a life lesson ... and not necessarily something that absolutely defines me as an individual.

The moment I really realized that I could get rid of my obsession with my mind just by changing my perception was when I got rid of this torturous habit.

Satisfying the obsession ... it was stupid ... but unfortunately it took me a million years to understand this.

All it takes is a spark to light the fire ... even for a huge fire

We live with the false impression that in order to make a change ... especially for big changes ... we have to meet certain conditions in order to have a perfect framework. We do not realize that everything can come along ... and everything can be perfected in time ... with our evolution as individuals.

All you need is a spark of mind ... to be aware of the need for change, and then just follow the path to what you really want.

But the mind creates scenarios upon scenarios.

Everything becomes complicated seeing so many paths we can take ... so that in the end the change really redefines the scenario of the life we live.

The concept of change ... real ... is not entirely related to certain conditions that are actually related to perfection, but can lead us to a reality that we perceive as related to perfection.

I write ... and I smile ... realizing that everything is exclusively a perception ... a creation of our ego.

But many times ... we just go around in circles.

We don't understand that a simple spark can ignite a fire ...

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life even a very big fire ... but everything happens progressively.

We seek to attain perfection ... before we begin our journey.
And many times we end up ... disappointed.

We stop from that path to the desired change ... exclusively from the inability to understand that we cannot reach the horizon.

But ... the horizon can't be reached ... but we can dream of meeting him.

The horizon ... represents for the human mind ... the achievement of perfection.

But we continue to be obsessive.

We even change our obsessions, not realizing that many times our ideals towards perfection ... are in fact just illusory obsessions.

Analyzing and defining our lives ... but we understand all this.

The spark ... can help us redefine everything exactly as we dreamed ... but we just have to be completely detached and not forget that the scenario itself can be defined as perfect ... by following the very path in which we see the evolution .

That's it.

No more.

Or maybe all we have to do is enjoy this journey ... toward our dreams and ideals.

Redefining is sometimes more about chance ... than willpower

There are people in my life ... who have changed my life. There are a lot of people whose lives I've changed ... but it's funny that it all happened somehow without our exclusive will.

I turn my head ... looking back and wondering what forces controlled reality then?!

But I still wonder ... why didn't I have the strength to voluntarily help those people in my life.

Or why wasn't I helped intentionally ... but conjuncturally ?! Why didn't that intention exist ... as something intentional ... but it was something purely conjunctural ?!

I smile ... and realize how the Universe uses us in the desire to redefine destinies.

We are simple actors ... who somehow unconsciously play a role that is hard to understand at the moment ... but clearly visible in the future.

I realize how weak we are as spirits ... because we don't have the strength to do this whole conscious process ... through the will and the proficient planning.

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

Everything is left exclusively to chance ... but often exactly what needs to happen happens.

And many times I go back to the past and realize that life could have done something consciously.

I could have been more involved and really helped a lot more people in my life.

Is it too late to define this?!

But to redefine myself ... in a soul that has the desire to change for the better and for others ?!

Can I get over the station to leave everything to chance ?!

These are difficult questions to answer ... but maybe we live in a world where we live for others ... not just for ourselves.

You have the right to refuse to enter someone else's frequency, regardless of the nature of that frequency

I had in my life few people i worked with ... which i considered unbearable.

I didn't like meeting them again ... but it happened every day ... and it's funny that everything was reciprocal.

Time passed ... and they didn't disappear from my life, and all I wanted was to never meet them again.

Something about the interaction with them ... I didn't like it ... but I didn't know what.

I started to wonder ... to analyze and define ... but I still didn't understand.

As individuals ... I may have nothing to blame them for ... but the interaction between us was horrible all the time.

I wasted a lot of time wondering what was going on ... until one day when I realized that the negative nuance of the interaction between us still says it all.

We should not be in each other's lives ... but we were still in a relationship.

I didn't like it ... and the explanatory questions were obsessive.

One day I burst out laughing ... realizing that I just didn't feel like going on their frequency ... and especially ... that I had the right to refuse.

They were already doing it ... but I was avoiding the negativity of the interaction between us.

Those people ... they just had nothing to do in my life ... and I was hanging out with them in the frame.

I analyzed myself enormously ... and I analyzed them too ... I defined every little detail ... and in the end I realized that there is nothing to redefine.

We were parallel lines that would clearly never intersect ... and we weren't even interested in that.

In the end ... one by one they disappeared from my life.

I was very happy about that.

I knew clearly that other people would appear and that I had the right to choose whether or not I wanted certain interactions ... regardless of the nature of my interests.

And life continued ... but I clearly understood that the people I have bad interactions with ... simply ... I don't have to keep in my life under any circumstances.

It's my choice on how I live my life ...

It should be the perfect scenario if everything could be perfect ... but many, many times the real cases are not perfect

I've failed in so many things in life ... that I burst out laughing when I hypothetically discuss about perfect scenarios.

And not a few times I have been and still am taken to the blackboard ... by people who want to be teachers on the stage of my life.

But I look at them ... and laugh again.

I realize how stupid I am and I can't explain why instead of having free discussions on topics of common interest ... they have the illusory idea that they can give to myself life lessons.

But what strikes me ... analyzing all these topics ... is that beyond the fact that many of these people did not know each other ... but had the same behavior.

It's like someone is blowing in their ear ... what to do and what to say.

They were ... remote controlled.

Someone was using them somehow ... to send me a very strong message ... but was that someone ... the Universe ?! These ... so-called teachers ... continue their role in my life ... and I honestly can't stand them anymore.

I analyze everything that happens and I am obsessed with the real reason why they did not disappear yet.

But somehow all these "teachers" ... were talking to me about perfection ... even though perfection was so far away from them.

They severely drew my attention to everything ... but I refused to listen to them.

I was trying to find a magic formula to make them disappear from my life ... forever, but somehow they didn't accept that it would be perfect if everything could be perfect ... but often the real cases are not perfect.

They were all obsessively leading me to perfection ... but I was already bored listening to them.

In the end, I realized that it was just a way to stop this stupid movie ... and to say ... "Thank you for everything!" ... and fuck them.

I hate teachers.

I had hated them for a long time ... and I kept seeing them again on the stage of life ... but I had found the magic trick.

I thanked them ... and they disappeared.

I haven't believed in the perfect case scenarios for a long time.

I've tried thousands of times to redefine life itself ... for the perfect script, but the perfect script ... doesn't exist.

Is the modern human being a slave?!

... the question came in my mind as a philosophical one

I heard so many, many theories about all kinds of conspiracies ... but i am just smiling while analyzing them. Am sure that some of them will become true one day ... but still i don't think the human being will become a slave again. Or if it will happen ... seeing the tendencies of motivation ... and the help came from that direction, but also seeing the wrong way we use that help ... i almost start to believe that we will actually become our own slaves.

And i would name that, to be more specific ... the slaves of our desires.

Analyzing the concept of slavery ... but also seeing how the society is inducing us all kinds of needs or dreams ... that we adopt and start to believe that are our own needs and dreams ... i can almost define the modern human being as a person that totally lost control.

So ... basically ... society presents us lots of new standards for evolution ... and we believe that we should follow those

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

paths for accomplishing desires that were just induced ... but are not our own desires.

Coming back to conspiracy theories about lots of bad guys that are trying to make us slaves ... become ridiculous ... when actually the human being is following a tendency of own slavery ... because has the desire of having all the best in all the areas of life.

Best car.

Best house.

Best partner.

The best ... of everything.

But ... in the search for perfection and paying too much attention at what the others have to say about how we should live life we get lost and ignore the fact that we should connect just with ourselves.

Our thoughts should be our own thoughts.

Our desires ... should be our own desires.

Everything should come from the inner self and not as an influence of society.

And i believe that the truth is ... that the inner self ... will guide us to the real values we should want and actually follow.

I know is much easier to accept as real all those silly conspiracy theories ... but one day maybe we should analyze and define better the truth about the slavery induced by all the desires that are not even our owns.

... and maybe we should start to think about how to redefine life.

In a world where everything became so expensive ... we should remember that we also have the option of changing our values

Something weird is happening all around the world. Everything becomes more and more expensive ... and even if i did not understood why ... i already realized that all that i can really do ... is to ignore that fact. I am not the kind of person that consumes a lot anyway. Of course that all those prices will affect me, but should i bother so much as the others?! ... and i wonder myself what is the solution to this crisis?! Buy less?! Earn more money to still afford everything we want?! Well ... seeing a photo with Sadhguru riding a bike i suddenly got the the answer. I don't know so much about his, but still i am sure he made enough money with his books to buy a Rolls. I mean ... a new one.

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

Saw pictures with him riding motorcycles also, but i have the impression that he actually loves his bike.

The prime minister from Holland goes to work with a bike also ... and many other european politicians do the same.

So instead of buying oil for our cars ... we could use a bike.

Instead of buying expensive brands for clothes ... we can use similar ones ... less expensive.

Instead of buying everything we want from supermarkets maybe we should keep in mind that diet is more important as the pleasure of eating.

I know that the art of consuming ... everything the society offers us ... is actually the main pleasure we chaise in life but still we could change a little bit our habits and also our values.

We should analyze and define if we should really need all the things we usually buy ... and then just redefine the list with those things.

Will it be difficult?!

Well ... it will probably be like for an alcoholic to forget about alcohol ... or like a person suffering of drug addiction that wants to start a new life without drugs ... but i am sure that will not be impossible.

But i should keep in mind that if a prime minister that could go to work with a luxury limousine ... and also with a driver prefers his bike maybe i can use the subway from my city.

Also ... nothing bad will happen if we will start to keep a diet and eat less.

Yes ... we have the option of changing our values ... just think about it.

I started to have a new habit ... look for beautiful vibes all around.

Truth be told we all want to be happy, but we don't know the tricks to get that.

We believe that success and actually accomplishment of our desires will bring us happiness ... but we end up that realizing that the feeling is so damn volatile.

We actually don't know what real happiness is.

But ... see around us people that are having walks in the park, goes and climb mountains, have yoga in the middle of a forest ... admire the beauty of the ocean ... and we find it a weird habit.

I started to analyze my friends from social media and realize that i see so many people that connect with the nature ... actually as a trend of achieving the infinite.

I admit the fact that i ignored all those signals ... but i started to analyze more and more the habits of my friends that were connected with the nature.

I was wondering why they are doing that and are not following the crowd ... but it took me a long time to see the answer.

One day i suddenly realized i need to define in a honest way my life and redefine everything means ... dreams, desire but also values.

I understood that we can't buy beautiful vibes ... because even if we will see have the feeling of happiness inside of us the illusion of it will be revealed in a moment after it appears.

So happiness appears ... as a ghost and then disappear and we see that even if we want it so much ... we can't have it.

But one day ... we have the chance to walk into the woods ... and connect with the calmness of the forest and suddenly our vibes ... change.

We can't believe it.

A simple walk into the nature change the vibe of everything could be defined as ... soul.

There was only one thing left to do ... understand that i should create and follow all the time the habit of connecting to beautiful vibes ... whatever those vibes should represent in the real world.

Are the karmic characters good or bad persons?! Well ... it 's still a mystery.

I look back into my past and i see all the problems i had over the years.

All those difficulties and the fact that in those moments i saw as worst enemies i ever had some people that today ... after forgiving them ... i name karmic characters.

I had days ... and weeks and even months when i could not sleep in the night because of those people but today i see everything different.

What i used to define as enemies ... today i almost redefined them as people that changed my life.

I hated them ... but now i am glad i had them in my life.

It looked like they hurt me a lot at that time, but ... i could even say that they were a blessing.

And analyzing and defining all those chapters ... i actually see how my life was redefined in a beautiful way.

I had to go on the karmic paths ... and even if everything looked as a disaster ... it was just a forced way of changing my life into a better way.

So ... what i am trying to say ... even if it might look a little bit abstract ... is that sometimes bad things are happening ... for our good.

Looks weird ... even a non sense ... but it's real.

I saw it ... in the real life ... and i believe it now.

I dare to say thank you to all those people that i used to declare enemies ... but end up redefining them karmic characters for my life.

We might hate them ... when the story is happening ... but later ... just love that they appeared in our lives.

The difference between partners will make them become even complementary ... even strangers to each other, but in both scenarios there will be no connection at all

I look at some old friends from school.

At that time i loved them ... but today i would not even spend 5 minutes in their company and not because i became an arrogant person, but because ... there is nothing i could talk with them about.

We used to spend hours together ... but we followed different paths in life ... and today the gap between us is just ... huge. Is like someone is speaking about abstract russian paintings ... and the other person is speaking about the amazing cookies made by his wife.

Which side is much interesting?!

Well ... what can i say i love cookies and i am too ignorant to understand the abstract art ... but still ... abstract art is an interesting subject to discuss about.

On the other side ... years ago ... i used to love to spend my life with all those people from kindergarten ... or primary school, middle school etc etc.

We just followed totally different paths ... and indeed we are too different now to live the same pleasure of spending time together.

But my question is ... what happens when we actually follow other paths in life than the people from our family ... or even the spouse?!

What if we don't find anything to talk about?!

What if we become so different that it becomes a non sense to live together?!

Well ... maybe we have kids and for their sake ... we decide to remain in that relationship ... but no one can remove the gap from the couple ... not even the amazing kids.

Maybe there is still the option of staying together ... and become complementary in that relationship but the gap will always be ... so damm visible.

Divorce is an option ... but maybe appears as mandatory only when one of the partners is having an affair ... otherwise is a totally ignored option.

But what about the importance of the connection?!

Can someone fix that?!

Well ... being out of phase ... there will no connection at all ... and we will continue life pretending that we don't see that.

You need to pass the test of illusions to jump on another spiritual level

Life is weird ... and is difficult to understand the philosophical concepts behind everything happens.

And sometimes we just don't have the ability of clearly seeing ... not even the life lessons.

In fact ... we don't understand life at all.

We don't realize that what is going on ... on the scene of life ... is actually not what it looks like ... and we can't really see the meaning behind everything.

The test of illusions becomes ... the supreme test.

But we ignore all the signs of the test ... and the tests are repeating on and on and on.

Not having the ability of make a real change ... not understanding the messages of the Universe ... what i should call the message behind the message ... life becomes a nightmare.

But the nightmare itself is ... the real illusion ... and not really knowing what the illusion is ... we fail all the tests.

He did not know how to start ... but in the end he was saying "... listen to me! In the other apartment from my duplex are happening weird things.

But i knew i had to be neutral .. so i asked him ... "Listen to me! You never beat your wife?! They all deserve to be beaten! Don't you think so?!"

I never agreed violence, but i had to close the discussion with him ... in a polite way.

Hearing that ... the guy said: "Yes! You are right! I divorced 2 times. The first was a bitch and the second one a whore. I was beating both of them for years.

You know ... in the country side is quite ok to beat your wife. No one judges you, but i thought things are different in here, cause we are close to the capital of the country.

I am sure the guy is right ... if he is beating his wife every night.

He is doing something that i've done also ... and i need to be by his side and don't judge him.

I am sorry for bothering you with this.

Am leaving to the city now ... have a good day!"

I was smiling ... seeing his reaction.

I could stay the whole day with him ... analyze and define the situation, but i am sure i could not redefine the things regarding the tenants from the other unit.

But i was laughing because of this man that was seeing morality from outside ... analyzing the same episodes from his life ... but with different characters on the timeline.

To understand life make experiments ... but test everything on yourself.
You will understand things much easier.

In my opinion, after reading a lot ... i started to believe that it's not that we should not read books to understand what life is about, but we should keep the right balance between study the theoretical concepts and living the life for real.

And i also believe that is quite easy to analyze and define the others but everything will remain on a theoretical level ... cause whatever we would believe, just in a small percentage of the cases we will be able to redefine the script of the real life.

The best experiment ... when we have a vision about life is to ... test our theoretical concepts mainly on ourselves.

Real life ... will present to us life lessons and following the intuition ... we might probably have the awakening moment that will tell us the secrets about real values that we should have in mind for the best scenario for ourselves.

I was wondering ... should we bother to give Christmas presents?! Sounds as a nonsense question ... but ...

I believe that offering Christmas presents is almost a cliché ... as long as we can't do it with all the people from the timeline of our lives.

I would love to have the power to make an experiment and send this year some nice presents to all my enemies and all the ones that drove me crazy this year.

Imagine the surprise ... of doing that.

I really believe that if we really want a change with ourselves ... we should start to do things in a totally different way ... and surprising in a beautiful way all the people that we dislike and that dislike us ... is maybe an interesting experiment for all of us.

“I was fucking my vibe on simple things ... so i was not having full control on myself ... at least not yet”

I realized by a long time that i have a good and a bad side ... but even if i read it in so many books as a confirmation ... i did not really understand what is this story about.

One of the biggest mistakes that i've done over the years is that even if i was starting my days on a positive vibe, everything was always fucked up over the day in a silly way. I can give you a huge list with reasons why it happened, but it happened so many times ... that i actually realized that i was ruining my life like that.

One day i decided to stop and start to analyze what was going on.

But when i started to define situations i just did not like the conclusions ... and i stopped.

And once activated i became a wild person.

It was a personality that i totally disliked ... but that was me on the scene of my life ... acting as an idiot.

I had no control over the daemon.

But it was even worst ... it was not only one daemon.

There were many of them inside of me and all those people that were fucking my vibe ... took to the surface all those silly reflections from myself.

And one day ... i realized that i own a collection of daemons but they were dominating my life.

I had to redefine the script of my life.

I really had to do it, cause otherwise i would become a ruin.

Lots of small things were destroying my vibe and i had no control over the situation.

I had to accept the truth and find a way to stop seeing how i am ruining myself ... and the only chance of doing that was to control all those daemons that i had inside of me.

Christmas is an amazing holiday.
It's mainly about saying stop to our dark side ... and show to everybody that even if does not look as that ...

Imagine we should analyze more what is Christmas about and define all its aspects.

And after meditating a lot ... remembering what happened the whole year ... seeing all the moments when we've been dominated by the dark side of us ... but also realizing that a change is actually a must ... at least for a day in a year ... in the Christmas day ... we should redefine us, in a beautiful day.

The snow, the songs ... seeing the people smiling all around ... makes us have the faith that we can be better human beings ... at least for a day ... in a year.

The illusory dream and vision ... about Santa

We have a dogmatic vision about how Santa Claus is looking like ... but i've been discussing with many of my friends that are actually more than 40 years old ... and after analyzing and defining this illusory concept ... we decided that we have the right to redefine the image of Santa.

You see all men between 40 and 50 ... they are kind of community ... even if we don't know each other so well.

Same as AA ... or gay ... or motorcycle lovers communities ... we have another vision about reality ... our own philosophy ... but also our dreams.

You see a man about our age ... already made enough money, had success ... had achieved many of his dreams ... except one ... that today became a forbidden desire.

Being married ... with kids ... feeling trapped like in a prison with invisible wall ... the man passed by 40 still has a dream.

We dream on kind of an angel ... a young beautiful girl ... probably of 20 ... or not more than 25 ... that will make us believe in magic one more time.

The angel ... is missing ... or if she is present in our lives ... she appears as a mistress that we hide from the others ... so that they don't judge us.

But why to judge us?!

Because someone is still making us believe in magic?! ... same as Santa succeeded many, many years ago.

Well ... i had the guts today to write about our real hidden desires ... but it's a true fact.

The human being ... needs someone to remind that life can be magical.

We should not be ashamed of that and don't bother to redefine this dream after seeing how the others are analyzing and defining us.

I am for the moment in a life chapter were i experience all types of weird things on myself.

I don't eat for days ... i totally disconnect from the news ... i remove from my life all the people i interacted with into the past ... but i still have an abstract desire ... to live a happy life.

The problem is that i've got no idea how a happy life would look like.

I am daily analyzing and defining my life ... and am trying to find the answer ... but still i could not redefine my life into an amazing way.

Yes ... i wanted not a life ... but an amazing life ... and i was doing miserable.

On the Christmas day ... while drinking my coffee ... a heart appeared again on my cup of coffee.

I could not believe it.

So ... the heart was the problem.

Abstract karma having everything, but feeling that they actually have nothing at all

I've been watching on different movies with the world war II ... and tried to understand what actually happened before it started ... during the war ... but also after it finished.

I was watching interviews with people that were kids at that time.

Jewish people from Germany, Poland or Hungary ... that were sent to Auschwitz, but also people from Republic of Moldavia that were sent in gulags in the far away Siberia.

They all were simple citizens ... and i did not understood why so many children ... had to pass those life tests at that early age.

Both nazy and communist forces were creating kind of a karmic story ... very difficult to be accepted.

But it happened ... and is part of the human history.

It says that after that horrible story ... many, many people went on depression ... or lost their minds.

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

I continued studying the phenomenon ... but i was watching the facts from the karmic point of view ... trying to analyze and define those times.

The story itself could not be redefined ... but the message of that history lesson could be.

You see ... those people lost everything they had ... except their souls.

They lost their houses, families, friends ... all it meant life.

And suddenly my mind came in the present moment ... and analyzing and defining the contemporary human being ...

seeing that has everything ever wanted ... but still lives in depression ... and many people are losing their minds.

Comparing to what happened 70 years ago ... the karma itself becomes a little bit abstract.

In those times people lost all they had to realize that the nazi and communist forces can take everything from them, but couldn't take their souls.

Nowadays the Universe gave everything to the human being of our times.

And is funny how karma is playing around with our minds ... cause we are feeling that we actually have nothing at all.

And that ... nothing ... means that we feel that we lost our souls.

It's ridiculous ... but still ... we are not ready yet to redefine the script of our own lives.

In fact ... we are not ready to change our values ... which is basically a story mainly based on materialism.

And we can't see the abstract message.

I can't act on my timeline ... as my soul tells me to act.

I can only act how dogmatism taught me over the years ... being a part of society.

But look ... i have moments when i lose my temper and i become wild.

In those short moments ... i say all what i think ... and i have the guts to be myself.

Then i calm down ... and i remember about the rules.

I also remember about the slogan:

"My life ... my rules" ... but unfortunately there's not enough gut in myself to live as only one entity.

I want it ... but i end all the time as 2 totally different personalities.

And i know that life is short ... and i don't have an eternity available to redefine myself as the best version i could be during this life time.

... but.

So ... i continue life in the same style.

2 lives ... and a story of life having 2 different versions ... about the one i am ... and about the one i could be.

“Studying the illusion of life ... i discovered that i actually live an illusory life.
... but it’s probably the best version of it ... and i am too blind to see it.”
(an unknown contemporary philosopher)

A philosopher i know by a long time ... discovers one day his wife on instagram.

The photos from the profile were amazing.

She had thousands of followers and tens of thousands of likes and comments.

Everyone liked her.

... i actually could say that everyone ... loved her.

My friend calls me and keeps me an hour on the phone ... telling me the story.

Not so long time ago we talked for hours ... analyzing and defining the concept of illusion ... and in fact the illusion of life.

Like 2 idiots ... we thought that the concept could be totally redefined.

Now ... he was so mad seeing his wife on social media ... with so many fans and appreciations.

The real problem was that ... looking on the internet and seeing a totally different version of his wife ... he could not believe it.

He was looking at her and he was seeing ... the cleaning lady ... the one who was doing the cooking ... and the real truth was that in fact he was living at home with Cinderella.

... but she had 2 totally different version of herself.

One was ... Cinderella ... and the other one ... an amazing beautiful lady ... that he never saw before ... even if they were spending a lifetime together.

Analyzing and defining her ... he was always explaining me that he can't get rid of this ugly lady because he doesn't know how to take care of his house ... and now he was amazed that so many men liked her.

They all saw a different version of herself ... her ... amazing side.

We were so silly talking for years about the illusion of life ... and now we discover that he was living a fabulous illusion.

I could not believe it either.

I knew the lady ... and i could not understand how the same lady ... had so different versions of herself.

But ... i had in my mind the version my friend told me about her ... and i could not redefine that imagine.

... in the end ... i could just say seeing this story that i believe that the story with Cinderella was indeed ... a real one.

Truth be told ... we don't need a castle to have a great life. Sometimes a lair is more than enough

Being involved in renting business ... and wanting to grow the business more and more ... i was analyzing a lot the business.

Instead of building big houses, i discovered a trick ... that helped me ... and that was building houses of the size of an apartment.

I could ask the same price for renting as for an apartment in the city, but my costs for building the house was half of the price of an apartment.

There were people laughing of what i was building considering them tiny houses ... but i was glad because of the fact that they could not see the opportunity of such a business.

The funny thing was that i thought that my clients will be young people that are starting their lives as adults and also as couples ... but i could not even guess the real typology of my following customers.

One lady came to me on the first of January, hoping than she will leave her husband forever and she will be happy with the colleague from work that she loved so much.

A guy came with a lady ... that certainly was not his wife and paid me the rent for 3 months in advance .. explaining me that he wants a trial period to live in there with what he named ... the love of his life.

But one day appeared a very wealthy guy that wanted to rent what he called ... a lair.

He was married, 2 kids ... but wanted to have also a place for him and his mistress.

They were by 5 years together ... and i really believe that between them it was real love.

I didn't know the guy very little, but i knew his family.

They owned important companies from our area, had very expensive cars ... and his house was looking like a real castle.

But it was really funny looking at a guy that ... owned a castle and was everyday at my complex, spending time with his mistress in a small house of 45 sqm.

Analyzing and defining my business ... i realized that people indeed were looking for lairs.

The guy was right.

In the real world ... he was that man from the motivational pictures about success.

Good looking, wealthy, with expensive cars, always wearing a gold watch ... and living in a luxurious mansion.

The symbol of success.

But his secret ... was the lair that i rented to him.

He was super charging his batteries near an amazing lady that adored him.

I was smiling ... understanding all that.

I thought many times about how i could redefine the business ... but never thought that i will be making money from renting lairs for people that need for shorter or longer terms a place where their energies will be redefined.

To become a king you need someone in your life to make you feel as a king and also ... whisper you all the time that you can achieve that special status.

There is a nice saying that behind every successful man, there is always an amazing lady and i believe it is true. But i still wonder what is the real secret behind that saying?! When i say ... become a king ... i'm having in my mind the concept of quantum jump ... or becoming a champion ... and actually the jump from an ordinary person to a special status.

Someone i know told me long time ago ... his interesting theory about the fact that the right lady ... simple by making you feel special ... succeeds in time to make the switch in your personalities.

Is actually related with the theory of affirmations.

Affirm something everyday, like a mantra and one day after you'll start to believe in that something ... it will

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

become real.

But you see ... having an amazing soul near you ... can make you feel that you can make the jump much, much sooner than you thought.

Yes ... you might believe it is an strange idea ... but the people around us can give us hope ... or negative feelings.

The right partner will make you feel special ... a champion ... a prince or even a king.

The wrong person can make you feel and actually become ... a nobody.

Simple by whispering beautiful words ... that person will reveal your positive side and totally redefine your life.

Might sound as a nonsense ... but it's not.

We all need to hear amazing words, encouragements ... and feel the hope and the support of the loved person.

And the big question is ... can we rewrite the software that we installed on our brains during childhood?!

All the ones that are studying personal growth ... know what mental software really is, but what we can't understand so clear is how we installed that software on our brains.

We strongly believe that the collection of thoughts that we pay so much attention to ... is ours, but we can't really see the fact that is all related to what others told us ... showed us ... or simple influenced us ... simple by being on the scene of our lives.

And in this equation ... lots of things are totally related with our childhood, with what we saw at home ... at parents, brothers or sisters, grandparents, aunts, uncles, cousins, neighbors from those times, teachers from school, colleagues etc etc.

We interacted with them a lot ... and it was a first time presentation for every idea ... or every concept related with life.

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

And hearing it ... not really knowing so much about the world we live in ... whatever it was the subject about ... we believed it.

We took it for granted ... not questioning if it is true or not. It was actually the meeting with the dogmatism and even thought that dogmatism is the right thing to accept for the benefit of our growing.

But later on ... after many, many years ... being adults and living a moment of awakening ... we saw that it was a huge mistake ... believing that is was true all what we heard at the people around us.

We installed on our brains ... what is actually called a malicious software ... but it was already late.

We made tons of mistakes.

Mistakes after mistakes and many of us ruined our lives ... not even realizing what we are doing.

Then one day ... we started step by step to study personal growth but the big question i have ... after analyzing and defining my case for years can werewrite another software on our brains so that we redefine for real our lives?!

“It was all looking like a funeral day ... but there was no funeral”

Someone sent me an email ... defining to myself how he feels that his life is looking like.

He was reading my theory ... which i consider quite simple ... analyze, define and then redefine your life ... but he was somehow pushing the stop button ... when it came about redefining and all looked like an eternal funeral.

I started to understand what my friend wanted to tell me ... but i was wondering if it really existed a way in how i could help him.

He was speaking to me in a nice abstract way ... somehow protecting me of the sensation of hearing it as a complain.

Actually the guy was on a good spiritual level ... and i suddenly understood that he is not in a karmic process ... but he is living the test of illusions ... which i believe today that is a great one ... if you see its importance.

So ... instead of writing him back ... i called him asking ...

“Can you please tell me what is the reason that you don’t stop this eternal funeral day?!”

I mean ... just bury all that negativity from your life ... and then totally redefine the meaning of your days.

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

You can live like in a funeral day for the rest of your life.”

I hear him ... smiling ... then replies:

“Listen to me! I tried and tried and tried ... but i can’t get rid of this situation. All the days look the same ... and i can’t see any other future.

Can’t see any possibility ... just can’t really see it!”.

The guy was stuck ... in the middle of some negative energies and his life looked really ugly ... but what was the solution?!

Could i help him?!

Why he appeared in my life ... so that i can help him ... if i don’t have a solution?!

But ... suddenly the message came to him.

I call him back and say:

“Listen! I know it might sound weird ... but all you can do now ... at least as a test ... is to enjoy the funeral!

Say ok to everything needs to end in your life ... and let everything flow in the direction it needs to go.

Smile ... embrace with love all the events from the present moment ... and say good bye.

But do it with detachment”.

The guy needed to say good bye to some people and some situations from his life.

He knew that had to do it ... but was too attached of everything around him.

It was like when we go at the funeral of a person of 95 years old.

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

We like that person a lot ... but we feel that we don't agree that he needs to go ... because the time had come.

We just ... can't agree.

But in many occasions people are not dying ... they just need to leave the scene of our lives ... and we can't agree with that.

We can't accept what the Universe tells us ... for so many, many days in the row .. and the sensation of a funeral day continues ... without actually having any funeral at all.

Understanding the concept of energetic interferences, but also the one of energetic fields ... is a must for a better life

The human history is full with stories of different totalitarian regimes.

Even in the modern history there are lots of scenarios like that.

And worst ... if we analyze all the countries from the planet ... we will still see countries with this kind of stories. But why should we care what is happening in North Korea or China ... or an unknown country from Africa?!

Sometimes the totalitarian regime might simple be represented by the city hall from the small community where we live in.

And we feel oppressed ... by different issues that we can't solve dealing with them.

We start to feel like in the stories we saw on tv regarding the countries where democracy is not present at all.

Sad by what is going on ... we go home ... and unfortunately ... we see the same totalitarian regime.

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

So ... conspiracy theories are real ... but it's even worse as we thought.

The scenarios are happening to the scene of our lives.

Hitler is the mayor, Stalin is the neighbor ... and Kim Jong-un is the spouse.

If we will write down the story of our lives, without giving names and details ... but explaining just what we strongly feel inside of us ... the story itself might look as a letter wrote by a prisoner from Auschwitz.

I smile ... write and reading this ... cause unfortunately ... i find myself in this scenario, without understanding what Albert Einstein said ... "The most important decision we make is whether we believe we live in a friendly or hostile universe."

The concept of universe ... means our world ... and actually the world is not the president of the country, the people from European Council etc etc ... but the small place where we live and people that make our lives hard.

We can't see the illusion of all those situations.

We just can't.

Yes ... the concept of illusion is too abstract to be understood.

Too bad we could not realize what is an energetic field ... and the energetic influences ... but also their importance for a better life.

We continue life, feeling prisoners in our private virtual ... ridiculous ... North Korea ... defining the people around us in lots of silly ways ... but also comparing them with despots that were ruining million of lives during the time.

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

But ... we can't see the meaning of what Einstein said ... and we can't practice the awakening either.

We have the power to analyze and define lots of things ... but not our own lives.

We can't see the ridiculous from what we are saying ... and there is almost no chance of redefining the script from the present moment.

The problem is that they analyze and define us too much ... but they never can see who we really are

I was going in a short vacation.

On the way ... i've asked to my wife to look on the messaging system in our booking app to see if the host wrote us the phone number so that i can give them a call and ask something about the reservation.

Suddenly i see how she changed her face.

She was analyzing the conversation that i had with the person that was renting us the apartament at the seaside.

Then i hear her ... "Why the hell you need to speak like that to everybody?! You act as a teenager ... and you are not a teenager anymore."

I was looking at her ... not really understanding what the fuck she is speaking about and asked:

"I have no idea about what you said. Can you be more specific?!"

Angry she replied: "I am talking about the way you spoke in the conversation with the host that we have now.

I started to laugh.

“So you read the conversation on the booking app.”

“Yes. I did it. 3 times ... and i get annoyed”.

“My dear ... no matter how i spoke, i was polite and is totally unclear if behind that chat was a man or a woman. There is no name, no signature. No photo. Nothing to make us believe that i was speaking to a lady ... or that i was flirting with her.”

I was amazed.

She was analyzing and defining a simple non sense conversation ... the only real problem being the fact that behind the chat it was a person that loved chatting with people.

We used terms as ... “kindly thank you” ... “hahaha”... “loved that” ... “it was so nice explaining me all that”... etc etc.

But it was nothing ... about flirting, because i did not even knew who i am speaking with.

We closed the subject, we arrived at the location ... and a beautiful lady was expecting us to give the key of the apartment.

She was the person behind the chat room ... so it was the perfect occasion as my wife to be annoyed again.

Could i redefine anything?!

Hell no ... but it was ridiculous accusing me of flirting.

I was pretending i could not speak with the beautiful lady cause i was carrying the luggages ... and stop a subject that

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

could end with a silly fight with my wife.

The situation itself had been quite silly ... but you see ... many, many others are analyzing and defining us, living with the illusion that they have this right ... but i just find it ... simple ridiculous.

Is quite easy to define the others ... but we are blinds when it comes to ourselves

I wake up at 4 am and i start chatting with an amazing lady, that is a great coach.

She just had a personal problem that disappointed her a lot few days ago.

I read what she wrote me and in a second i analyze and define everything, writing her down the way the situation should be redefined.

Am amazed of how easy i can see the situations of others ... and how blind i become when it comes about me.

The day is starting and the sun appears on the sky.

I go to a notary, i sell an apartment, get the money ... then i go to the city hall from my area, where i try to solve some important things ... unsolved by 2 years ... trying to push the the lady from urbanism department and the vice mayor.

Annoyed ... in the end .. the vice mayor says to me ... "Get out of the city hall! Now!"

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

Well ... if we analyze the case and define it in a honest way ... the vice mayor was right.

I was pushing him to solve some issues for me which were not 100% legal.

But i forgot to give you all the details of the situation.

I live in a far away country from Eastern Europe, that was a communist country 30 years ago but now the democracy we have is not exactly the model that you see in France, Germany or USA.

Because the ones from the city hall are lazy and incompetents everyone is building illegally and you need to give them big tips to solve the things.

Basically ... i was becoming the first one from the history of the city hall from our commune, that i had to respect the law ... and the vice mayor wanted to give a lesson in this direction.

But i knew that the guy, like all the other politicians from my country ... was a thief ... so i asked ... "You want to tell me that you are a honest and correct person ... and i am incorrect?!"

Is this a joke?!"

In his demagogue style he replies ... "Yes! I am correct person!"

I started to laugh.

I almost wanted to kill him ... but had to leave the city hall ... cause he was the vice mayor and i was a simple citizen.

Walking to my car i started to laugh again.

Same as my dear friend, the great coach ... maybe i was not passing the test of illusion that the Universe gave to me.

It was ridiculous.

I knew the theory ... that i don't need to push things, get annoyed etc ... but i was blind ... on the scene of my life.

The non sense is the key. Study it!

I saw a weird toilet today.

The evacuation of the water was totally different than we usually know ... using small plumbery.

And it also produced a strange noise after using it.

For the ones that are not used with construction issues ... the wc i saw might look as a totally non sense, but for me ... seeing it in a bar, near the beach ... looked quite logical in the end.

I was analyzing it for almost a minute ... making an abstract analogy between it and the way we should function as human beings in ... totally different case scenarios, than the ones we are used to live.

The analogy itself is weird ... but sometimes we need to see different models ... that we can draw on a piece of paper ... and then see in the drawing ... a similar model with the lines that redefine the new life model we have in mind.

Analogies can help ... a lot, but unfortunately will look like a philosophical pathless path.

Its weird side ... will make you believe ... that you should not even dare to share it with the others ... cause you will be defined as an idiot.

But ... let me ask you one question ... what will you do when no one will be able to help you change the nonsense life that you are following?!

What is the way out of that illusory prison?!

What if ... only psychology, philosophy and spirituality can give you some good answers ... while defining the nonsense?!

But what is the nonsense?!

Well ... quite simple.

Every illogical thing that you do so often ... on and on and on ... till it actually defines you as a human being.

But ... the ability of seeing the abstract ... and understanding this nonsense ... is the key ... even if it looks so real studying a WC.

Dare to do it ... might help you a lot!

Connecting to the beautiful energies of the nature is amazing ... and does not cost anything

I've been on the beach.

It's winter and the wind was ...

But i loved it.

Somehow ... even if i am not a master of connecting to the present moment ... i was feeling the sea.

The big waves and the wind ... made me believe that i was flying ... just after i was closing my eyes.

Connecting to the sea i suddenly realized the beautiful energies that are all around us ... in the nature.

But i was too blind to see all that till now.

I was only seeing the people and lots of the silly inter connections that are generating ugly energies ... that in fact end up with the chaos from our lives.

Connecting to the sea ... even if it was for a short time ... i understood why my life is a total mess even if it was so damm easy to have daily moments like that ... when i could re generate my energies.

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

Connecting to the Earth and its energies is actually the gateway to the Infinite.

I analyzed so many times that ... and defining it almost meant that i understood what i have to do for a better life, but i never had the power to redefine my behavior.

It was so easy ... but i was acting as an idiot.

Damm it!

Hope that one day soon ... on my journey on life, i will be able to see better the importance of this connection with the beautiful vibes that we can find in the nature.

A decision ... that will not cost me anything ... refilling my energy with positivity ... just by admiring the Infinite.

Some desires make us ... shine

Years ago ... somehow because of a silly mistake i've done ... i was offering to a young lady ... the latest model of iphone from that time.

Bribe is such a dirty word ... but this is what actually was the gift to her.

Costed about 1000 euros but even if i knew i was wasting the money ... seeing the lady being so happy ... and actually shining while keeping in her hands her new phone ... i was glad i was doing it.

Today i was on the street with my son.

We saw an old Mercedes ... and he is so obsessed about those cars.

We start to make a tik tok movie and suddenly some boys arrives and open the car.

2 of them were laughing that someone was filming that old car ... not believing that we admire it ... because it was not in such a great technical condition.

But my son loved so much those old Mercedes, not really caring of all those details.

The guys were workers in constructions and this was their car used to go to work.

I look at them and ask ... "Do you sell this car?!"

One of them replies ... "No sir. This is not for sale!. I am sorry!"

They started the engine and wanted to leave ... but suddenly they stopped the car.

The drivers comes to me ... and says "Give me 2000 euros and the car is yours".

My son was looking at me as the lady that received the iphone as bribe ... but now the bribe was for my son ... cause i promised to him that i will buy him an old Mercedes if he will have good grades in school.

"Tell me ... we are buying it! Is an excellent price and looks ok. Is going to be our first vintage car and i will be the most happiest kid of 11 years old".

I was smiling seeing how a desire can make us ... shine as a diamont.

Years ago i was analyzing a lot that event with the beautiful lady ... and the wasted 1000 euros ... and now i was analyzing if it worth to waste the money for 2 iphones ... just to make my so ... shine.

And i said ... yes.

But you see ... even defining ... is just a perspective.

Sometimes the new year's resolutions work.
Just try it ... you've got nothing to lose and maybe your life will be somehow totally redefined in the new year.

On the 1st of January 2021 i told to myself that i will not drink alcohol anymore.

I was not exactly a real alcoholic, but i was drinking often. I was loving to taste every night a bottle of Cricova, which is an amazing moldavian wine, but i had in the last years some people in my life that always kept remembering me the importance of not drinking alcohol.

I knew how it is to have a clear mind all the time ... and even if i had short periods of not drinking and understanding how good i could feel ... i was not making the step to totally ignore that habit.

And is funny coming back in time and realizing that half of my books were written after drinking a bottle of red wine.

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

Probably helped me as inspiration, but i am sure my mind was not 100% under my control.

One day i've read in a newspaper ... that an alcoholic is a person that is drinking alcohol everyday.

I was mad reading this definition, but few seconds after i was sad ... realizing that it was a truth.

On the 1 of January 2021 ... in the morning i decided to totally remove alcohol from my life.

It was a new year's resolution, but it really worked.

And i know that i was doing it, because i wanted full control on myself ... on my soul, my mind, my thoughts ... and everything that was defining me as a human being.

Alcohol helped me ... or i thought it helped me dealing with reality and calming in the night the pain i was feeling because of all what was going on in my life.

I replaced this habit with the one of writing.

I was not trying to get rid of my thoughts anymore, but i started to deal with them.

I was analyzing my daily life ... defining everything ... and i also tried a process of redefining the scenario of what i called reality.

I realized that i need to stop running away from my thought ... but deal with them.

Alcohol was an illusory therapy that i was using every night before going to bed, but the thoughts were keep appearing on and on and on.

It was a non ending story that could probably just increase one day the dose of alcohol from 1 bottle to 2 or 3 bottles ...

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

like i am sure that it happened to many, many people from all around the world.

Today i see alcohol as a way of running away of depression ... or in fact of the collection of negative thoughts from our minds.

It's kind of a stupid therapy used by thousands of years ... but no one bothered to really tell us about what is behind the need of daily tasting alcohol.

The new therapy that i am following now ... the one of writing ... is probably the greatest.

An amazing thing that happened to me after forgetting of alcoholism was ... that i became honest with myself.

And it all started with a new year's resolution that in my case really worked.

Most probably ... if you want to try it, might be surprised to see also that it can work for you too.

All i want is a ... change
... a real one.
I mean ... the right one.

I've been reading a lot about change over the years ... but i somehow wanted kind of a quantum jump ... which actually meant in my vision to totally eliminate the huge distance between me and my dreamed life ... in a second.

I've been chasing the overnight success ... which i consider today a totally non sense.

Might sound weird to discredit such an amazing concept ... especially after analyzing so much the subject.

So ... first i wanted so much a ... collection of dreams ... that were actually defining my vision about success ... then i've been expecting a miracle ... just cause i've been reading and meditating a lot about them but unfortunately i ended up feeling myself on a pathless path.

So ... after analyzing and defining so much what i wanted in life the concept of change, which meant to totally redefine my reality ... everything became illusory.

But why?!

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

I invested a lot of time and energy ... and i felt lost ... but i did not knew ... why?!

... and i still wanted the change in the quantum jump format, ignoring the fact that life is a journey ... not a destination.

Later on ... after following lots of pathless paths ... i finally understood that i need a change inside of me so that the real path to reveal to myself.

The change had to be made in inner world ... and soon after the result could be seen in my reality.

I knew the theory ... but when it came about practice ... i was acting too silly.

Time was passing and i was still dreaming of a new reality ... the right one ... but maybe the best reality that i needed to live ... was the actual one.

So ... my journey was kind of a ... circle.

Spontaneity makes the process of overthinking ... to stop

My son loves old cars and is always watching over the internet to find one at a good price, hoping that will convince me to buy it.

Without letting him know, i gave few phone calls ... then i decided to go 500 km away by train to buy one.

I knew from my lifetime experience that if i will think too much i will probably do nothing.

It was the first time when i actually admitted the fact that analyzing too much a subject will create me a strong feeling of indecision.

I knew nothing about cars ... but i knew one thing for clear ... overthinking is not good.

It created a weird balance of contradictory emotions ... which i disliked for years.

And i also knew that my son will be extremely happy.

I suddenly saw spontaneity as the key of forgetting my indecisions ... and realized that gambling a little bit in life should be much, much better than waiting and waiting on and on ... being in fact afraid that i will take a bad decision.

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

4:30 am ... the train arrives to the north of the country where i had to see the car.

Only few people in the Railroad Station ... and i started to ask myself ... "What am i doing at this hour in here?! I could be in my bed and enjoy sleeping".

The balance of emotions started again, but even if i would decide to go back not even seeing the car it will take me 5-6 hours minimum.

But that thought appeared ... not even seeing the car ... and that was the reason i came in here.

So ... i closed my eyes and said ... "Damm it! Stop it! You can't do that! You don't even let the guy present you the car! Just ... stop it".

I opened my eyes and realized i need to let spontaneity to continue guiding me.

I was quite simple.

I could simple stop my overthinking process by letting the vibe of that beautiful spontaneity to dominate my life ... and everything should be perfect.

And i succeeded to stop this weird indecision that i had all my life.

For the first time i let spontaneity to run my life.

I bought the car ... and my son was the most happiest kid in the world.

The dialogue of the deaf is a ... daily practice

Have you ever thought why we can't close the conflicts we have with the others?!

And i mean ... not with our enemies ... but even with friends or different family members.

Have you ever analyzed those conflicts ... or the simplest ones you ever had?!

How could you define the whole episode ... and the reason why most of the times we don't find the power to close the conflict?!

Well ... too many questions and even if we might believe we have the answers ... that comes only at a theoretical level ... but on the stage of life we simple can't find a way to not be dominated by our emotions.

They are too powerful ... and the Ego makes us become blinds and deaf.

We just hear our silly story ... and each time the story is the same ... we are the victims of a life and different circumstances.

I smile ... seeing myself in this position for so many, many times ... but i can only define myself as a naive person.

I've been practicing the dialogue of deaf ... almost as a daily practice ... for many, many years in a row.

Today ... even if i know what is the real path i should follow ... i still don't find the wisdom to act in a decent way on the scene of my life.

I just act as a ... silly actor.

It's like i know the script ... but when i am on the scene ... being overwhelmed by emotions ... i fail ... almost each time ... and it all becomes ... the dialogue of deaf.

THE WITNESS

He was watching the show but the show itself was not what it looked like it was an ... illusion.

There is nice story with a philosopher that was spending lots of time with a friend ... studying together the concept of illusion.

They both believed that life was a weird collection of illusory episodes.

They were even laughing ... by saying to each other that one day they will open a shop called ... "The Depot with Amazing Illusions".

But until that day ... the friend of the philosopher had all types of experiences ... that were actually a reflection of that concept that life is illusory.

And they were discussing for hours a day ... then for weeks ... then months ... then years.

One day ... a very powerful question came in the mind of the philosopher ... "But what if all we analyze and define everyday is actually the illusion of the illusion?!"

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

We went so deep down on each event from your life ... that we came to a point when we wonder ... does it make sense to wonder ourselves everyday ... or just live and enjoy the experiences?!"

So ... bottomline ... after spending so much time trying to understand what is behind reality ... which basically means to understand what is behind the illusion ... they started to consider an option ... the simple fact that we should stop asking question ... but just experience ... the experiences. ... without questions.

... without the need of answers.

Just look at all the events ... as a simple witness ... not carrying about the illusory mean of everything is happening.

A child ... goes behind the illusion.

Enjoy life not carrying what it is.

The child experiences in an unconscious way the meaning of the illusion of illusion ... and connects if likes the energy of that moment ... or simple say ... pass ... and moves at the next experience ... when he does not like a certain type of energy.

The philosopher becomes disappointed ... by all his thoughts. His friends ... sees his inability of acting as a small child that intuitively knows when to connect or disconnect from the experiences that the Universe offers to us.

The philosophers ... decides to reconvert himself into a simple spectator watching the show of life ... cause of this new horrible concept appeared in his mind ... the illusion of the illusions.

Being a witness becomes a better path ... just like he used to be when he was in the nature.

He knew the path ... but forgot about it.

His friend realizes that there is only one chance left for him ... find inside himself the inner child ... lost by such a long time ... connect to him ... and ask for guidance while living so many experiences.

The inner child could be also a witness ... but he needed to become a better actor.

And redefining himself ... suddenly becomes his new obsession.

You can define yourself however you want ... but the real you is the one that you'll see in limit situations from the scene of your life.

I saw many people defining themselves in many, many ways ... either positive or negative.

Some of those persons became experts in defining themselves in an amazing way ... and i was actually wondering myself if this is their real personality or they are talking just about a mask they are carrying now.

But ... i had the chance to experience all that on myself.

I was analyzing and defining myself all the time ... at the end of the day.

How did i acted in that day?!

Did i changed a little bit in a positive way ... or i am the same with the me that i've been yesterday, or a week ago ... or months before?!

Same as many others ... i became an expert into defining myself into a good way.

I was actually using the theory of affirmations in my advantage ... so that i can look as a positive character.

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

But the tests came from the Universe ... were not stoping at all.

Everyday ... it was a new and a new test a non ending story ... tests that were actually revealing my real status of where i was spiritually.

I hated those tests.

Every morning when i was waking up ... i was wondering ... "what the hell is going to happen today?!"

Until one day ... when i realized that ... same as it was in school ... i could not control in any possible form ... the exams.

I just had to learn all the lessons ... so that i could pass my exams ... and it was the same in the real life.

And ... the tests were repeated on and on ... and on.

I saw ... i had no escape ... than adapt myself to the universal laws of the Divine Infinity ... and also see in all limit situations from the scene of my life ... the perfect opportunity for my .. spiritual evolution.

So ... i changed the tactics ... and i was starting to live every experience ... even the ugly ones as a blessing.

Was it easy?!

Hell no ... but i realized i had no other chance ... than becoming a better self.

The karmic chain can be broken only ... with love

I started 2022 with a very weird situation in my life. 2 of my clients, husband and wife ... he ... kind of a coach and she ... employee at IRS ... they started to create a nightmare for myself.

I will not even bother to give you the details ... cause is just a silly story between people that have a little bit of intelligence inside of their brains, they tell to everyone that they are very good at communicating with the others ... but we actually could find no way of connecting together and solve the conflict.

We started the relationship in a very good way ... but it all started to become in one point ... the ugliest story of my life. The so called coach ... was calling me and was screaming on the phone as a lion from the jungle ... acting as an idiot. His wife was sending me sms after sms ... then she started to send emails ... 1,2,3 ... 27 ... and nothing could stop her. She also started to make complains to all kinds of authorities ... and even if the reasons were ridiculous ... i could still define the whole story as a ... nightmare.

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

It all began with a sewage problem at the house i've rented to them ... problem that was repeated 4 times ... somehow because of my fault, but also by their fault.

The house was not in fire.

There was no hurricane to destroy the roof of the building. Just a simple blockage of the sewage ... that was solved every time in the same day.

The harassment came from their side destroyed my inner silence for days.

I lost my guidance.

I started to see on dark colors everything.

I actually entered on their frequency .. and almost believed everything they told me ... but it was all an overreaction.

Had no idea how the hell i could stop this.

Wrote them an official letter and explained that i want to end the contract ... but again it was useless.

They replied that ... they won't leave ... and will stay at least 2 more years from now.

So ... bottomline ... i was starting a nightmare that will last at least for 2 years.

I saw no way out and decided to go to a wise friend that he is also very influential in my country ... asking for help.

"What the hell am i doing?!" I asked.

The guy smiled .. then laughed while replying ..."Listen to me! This is a karmic story and it is a way in how the Universe is revealing you the game of illusions! There is only way out of breaking the karmic chain and end the story ... one of the sides must treat the other side with infinite love and understanding.

I thought you knew those things, cause you write about them all the time. Ahh ... i got it ... theory is just theory ... but theoreticians usually fail on the scene of the real life.”

I understood right away that he was right ... but still ... had no idea what should i do.

I was just hoping and praying that they will just leave from my life.

You can't really understand life ... unless you experience it

Many people have tried over the centuries to understand life from books.

The proportion of those people ... in the present time is totally ridiculous.

Millions ... maybe tens of millions ... or even ten or hundreds of millions of people from all around the world are doing it now ... but can we really find the answers about life from books?!

Can we understand betrayal by reading a novel?!

Can we really understand pain ... by studying what happened in Auschwitz?!

Can we understand the concept of desire ... without having a big dream deep inside us?!

Can we understand what love is about without meeting the soulmate?!

Well ... too many questions and even if we know the answers, we don't really accept the truth.

Then one day ... a tsunami is happening.

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

I mean ... in a metaphorical way ... and life becomes a total mess.

And ... when we have the strong inner belief that our lives are arranged ... someone appears from nowhere ... and destroys all we thought that we built with so much work.

We start to believe that we are a victim of circumstances ... but we are wrong again.

I know the script.

I experience it.

Thought the books will help me a lot ... but i was underestimated the power of meditation, relaxation and the one of the ... inner peace.

I was feeding myself with what is called ... the energy of the ... chaos ... without realizing that all is an exchange of energy ... and the chaos from my outer world will actually become the chaos of my inner world and vice versa.

A weird balance between the 2 worlds ... ruined me emotionally ... and in one point after analyzing and defining all that is going on ... i realized that i just can't understand a thing.

All the books ... and all that time used to read them ... was useless.

I look at myself and can't even recognize my soul acting on the scene of life.

Then i suddenly smile ... "Oh! My God! I was so fucking stupid! This is just like in school. I was reading the theory from books ... and now ... through all those weird experiences, i had to also pass the exams ... which is a simple evaluation of what i had learnt”.

Simple.

... but weird.

... and also illusory.

“Destroying” someone
... an art or a must?!
... the reason why karma is using us to do “dirty” things

I once had a conflict with a lady and somehow i was blocking for her ... at least for a while ... the process she was doing for adopting a child.

In the beginning we were friends ... but somehow ... our relationship was ruined by some silly events and without noticing we jumped from friendship to being enemies.

I could not believe it.

She was attacking me in all possible ways ... legal and illegal ... so i just said to her that i will stop the contract and the relationship i have with her.

And this is what i did ... but that meant in the end that the adopting process ... was stoped or delayed for a long time from now.

And i was wondering myself ... did i did something bad?!

Am i a negative character on the scene of life?!

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

When everything calmed down a little bit ... i was analyzing and defining everything was going on.

... i did not know what to believe about myself anymore ... but suddenly i remembered that at a moment seeing her what she was doing against me ... i've asked ... "What kind of soul are you that you act so ugly?! Do you think that a nice little baby deserves to live near a person as you?!"

She did not answer anything at all.

Her husband mentioned that our friendship is closed for a life time ... so a discussion as that is useless.

But it was funny cause ... everything could be stoped in the last moment ... and they could do the adopting process ... having my full support just by asking me one more time ... but the power of their egos was much powerful.

But it was much more powerful as the idea of adopting a child because me ... as a simple character from their life ... i was irrelevant.

Somehow ... karma was using me and even if i had moments when i thought i am not doing a good thing ... the Universe was saying through me "... just stop ... is not the right time. You need to be redefined as the child to appear in your life. That soul needs beautiful energies."

Having the guts to say the truth ... that no one would ever tell them ...
a way of ruining your relations ... but help them ... at least to think about the change

A guy i know was in conflict with a lady that was working at IRS Seattle.

He drove her crazy so much ... that in the end, even if it was a private matter ... she was making him complains at all the authorities of the state where they were living.

It all became a non sense ... but also a non ending story.

And even if the lady was so damm powerful ... she was actually the most depressive person he ever met.

But she was explaining so well the story ... that everyone was believing her.

Somehow the non sense guerilla war ... became slowly a lost war for him ... and he could not see a way for improving the situation.

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

And the non sense became a ... nightmare.

The episodes were repeating on and on and on.

He was analyzing a lot ... the whole story ... but could not define for clear any way out of this silly unbelievable story.

It all started ... because of her anger against him when he was telling her the truth about her as a human being ... and the fact that she is a very ugly soul.

She was so damm hurt ... that she founded 1 million ways of hurting him back with all kind of non sense complains to the authorities.

One day ... when he finally realized that this is a non ending story having a karmic message behind ... he writes her ...

" You can start searching ... not 1 million, but 1 billion ways to make me stupid complains ... but in the end no one will be able to remove my words from your mind.

You'll need to find a way to survive with all what i told you ... and it's funny ... cause you really are an ugly soul"

She closes her eyes and ... suddenly understood that he was right.

Did not liked the truth ... but she really had an ugly soul ... and there was no way of redefining herself.

Or maybe there was one ... to think on and on and on ... till she will find the answer ... what is the path for a real change.

Looking for a magical way of getting out of an ugly story?!
... well ... just ignore it ... and the intensity of all those energies will drastically decrease ... until a point when the whole story will be seen as a total nonsense

Personal growth is teaching us lots of beautiful things ... but i haven't seen so much on social media ... a practical way of changing your life overnight.

Real case scenarios are situations that usually create us unbelievable headaches ... and most of the times after defining and analyzing everything too much ... it all becomes an annoying process of overthinking.

You might even believe, at one point, that you are in a story similar with the one of David and Goliath.

But the balance of your emotions, all those ugly repeated events ... will not let you even know who you really are ...

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

David or Goliath?!

But does it make any sense who you are?!

.... or who you believe you are?!

The nightmare will remain still ... a nightmare.

... something is funny ... no matter of what is going on the stage of life ... and that is the fact that what you define as a nightmare is actually ... just an interpretation from your mind.

Nothing much ... nothing less.

The only way of ending up everything ... becomes ... connecting on other vibes and totally ignore that episode.

You became the prisoner of that story ... only and only because you stayed connected to it ... by analyzing and defining everything too much.

The whole focus ... after understanding the meaning of all what is going on is actually ... redefine the situation.

That could even mean the fact that the nightmare might be been as a life lesson ... get the message and then ... leave the story.

Sometimes we need to understand powerful lessons ... by force ... to pay more attention to all the important details ... but once we realize what is the story about ... we are released as prisoners of that nightmare.

Then ... we will simple need to ignore that so called nightmare by letting life continue and expect other new things to happen ... and maybe why not ... experience beautiful stories also.

It all becomes a decision ... you stay stuck in the

... tips and tricks for a better life

nightmare ... or you understand the meaning of that life lesson ... and then move on ... by ignoring the whole negative side ... cause it was all metamorphosed into a positive meaning.

Dealing with people that are having mental problems might be ... challenging ... and might reveal a big ... secret about life

I've recently read a book about a russian philosopher that was writing his life in a beautiful novel.

He understood the concept of philosophy from the early age, asking himself all kinds of existential questions ... but he'd been also asking what is ... mental health ... seeing his mother acting weird in certain situations.

Later on ... he started to see lots of other people from the scene of his life ... that were actually having this kind of problem.

He marries with a lady ... that was the same as all those people ... and worse than his mother.

Time was passing ... and philosopher was blaming all the people that showed him their dark side ... until one day when he falls in love with a lady that even stayed for a while in a mental health hospital.

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

He knew that ... but for the first time he totally ignored that information.

He was blinded by the connection he had with her ... and was so happy that he never saw her dark side.

Everything looked like the most amazing love story ... and they were enjoying all day long being together in the coffee shops and restaurants from Moscow.

He could not see ... not even for a second anything that would say that she had mental problems but 3 months before meeting him ... she'd been in serious problems.

At that time ... no one from her family thought that she could be cured, but the effects of the love story were magical.

She started to look much younger.

Started to sing and dance all day long.

She started to be a ... a happy person.

... she was in love.

But you see ... the russian philosopher ... as any russian guy loved to drink and ... when he was drunk he was acting in a way that she did not agreed.

And little by little she started to show him her dark side ... that part that was revealing her mental problems.

... but still ... as long as the connection between them was good ... everything was hided so well that no one would notice anything at all.

As the philosopher ... the guy knew by a long time that everything he sees is just a reflection of his inner world.

His mother had mental problems ... his friends and all the other people he was dealing with ... but the new lady from

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

his life was revealing ... the secret.

Love could cure ... mental problems.

But not any kind of love.

Infinite love ... combined with infinite understanding ... same as we should treat little children.

I know ... we grew up and we are adults now ... but we still dream to get the same treatment as a child ... a lucky child i mean ... the one that is treated with the whole love from the world.

So ... keep in mind ... this trick.

Might help you a lot dealing with all the people from your life ... especially the ones that are having serious mental problems.

Chop wood ... carry water ... or hire someone to do it for you ... but do it with joy

There is an old Zen proverb that is applicable to whatever we do in life: "Before enlightenment, chop wood, carry water. After enlightenment, chop wood, carry water."

I've been thinking a lot about this proverb, as in the end to understand that whatever i do in life i need to do it with joy. Spending lots of time analyzing and defining my life ... i've found a new trick to redefine a little bit the zen saying.

I was smiling.

I somehow realized that i can hire someone to do for me ... whatever i would have to do ... but there is only one condition as everything to run perfect ... to do it with joy.

In one point ... because of the energy crisis i hired someone to chop wood for my tenants ... to use them in their fireplace.

At the end ... i was caring everything the boy did with my car ... for all my clients.

2 years ago i was staying in my office ... asking to a beautiful young lady to bring me the coffee ... and now i was caring

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

chop wood to all my tenants just to help them not to pay huge bills to electricity or gas.

It was ridiculous ... but i was feeling great doing that and at the end of the day ... i was paying the boy that helped me with joy.

I felt different ... than i used to feel.

I changed my vibe ... according myself on a beautiful frequency ... because i was doing the whole process with joy.

I was serving my clients ... and i was doing it with an incredible joy ... which was in fact something that i was not capable of doing in the past.

I could chop wood myself ... but the boy that was doing that was much better as myself ... he also needed money ... and all i had to do was to pay him ... with joy ... for helping me and my tenants.

So ... i am happy seeing redefined a little bit the concept ... of the zen proverb ... chop wood, carry water ... and even if maybe only a philosopher could understand it ... it's quite easy to see the main idea ... any process in life ... must be done with joy ... even if you also have the option of hiring someone to do it for you.

You can have in life ... whatever you want ... but you need to believe ... with naivety ... same as a kid

I wanted so many things in life ... and if i would write about my big dreams i would tell a story that will take a week, or 2. And i sometimes had the naivety of a kid to believe in those ideas, but when i come back in time i am smiling seeing indeed in myself ... the image of a little kid.

The funny thing is that if i analyze and define those events i am actually laughing while defining myself as a silly kid ... cause later on i understood that many of all those big dreams ... were in fact only silly desires ... the ones of a kid.

And i am laughing even from my desires from today.

Now ... i want for example a special model of Rolls-Royce from 1970 ... and also a person out of my life.

The Rolls ... i just love it.

The person i am talking about i just hate her and don't want to see her anymore on the scene of my life.

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

But if i would meet the Holly Spirit ... and ask me to choose between the Rolls and helping me get rid of that person that is driving me crazy so much ... i would choose the second desire.

So basically between a beautiful and a silly issue ... i choose to remove the ugly elements from my life.

But why i don't ask for the Rolls?!

Well ... i am not wise enough to just ignore the negative side of life ... and focus my mind on what i defined as the beautiful side.

I am still the prisoner of the illusion of negativity ... as many of you ... and somehow i am having a weird balance of contradictory emotions ... that does not let me see and enjoy the beauty of life.

My new dream ... became ... to not be a prisoner anymore ... but had no idea how i could do that.

Most probably ... i have to redefine my thoughts ... and when i would really meet the Holly Spirit ... i'll think twice and hope i will be able to focus myself on beautiful things ... and ignore the ugly ones.

Dying is not ... an option. We should pay more attention to the time left in this world

My godfather died today.

He was a little bit more of 70 ... and was a very powerful guy.

He was kind an example for me ... and i liked more his dark side.

The guy had been ... a Casanova profile ... and i loved his love stories.

First ... before knowing him well ... i heard the stories from the others from our family but later on ... i heard them directly from himself.

... and even at his age ... he had 3-4 mistresses .

I had times when i was analyzing him ... asking myself ... what is the secret as a guy of 70 ... to still have an amazing success to ladies.

But hearing that he died and then seeing him dead ... i suddenly realized that death is not an option and we are not immortals.

We met with the family members people were crying and we prepared the things to go him to the chapel.

Then ... i parked the car near the church ... and i suddenly hear a lady of about 40 which was screaming and crying ... like it was the end of the world ... and Messiah had died.

I started to wonder myself if i am at the wrong church ... cause that lady was not the godmother.

It was a total nonsense.

Why the hell was that lady acting like that?!

I was trying to ask myself if maybe ... there is also another dead person in there ... but ... my godfather was the only one from the chapel.

Then ... i smiled.

That lady was the mistress ... one of them.

The guy succeeded to redefine one more time an unhappy moment from our family ... making us smile.

I bet the lady was loving him ... a lot ... cause she was a married person ... but not cared so much that it was so obvious about what is really going on.

A guy ... came to me ... and whispered ... "Hey ... didn't you know?! I saw how you changed your face".

But still ... my dear godfather died ... remembering to all of us that one day we all die even if we look immortal.

The accident from the chapel ... made us see death funny for a second and think about his model of not wasting any moment ... not even the last few hours from this world.

It's a new day!
Let's enjoy the show!
Might be ... funny and we might feel alive ... one more time

I've just been to a trial.

It was funny being accused by a weird lady ... by all sorts of silly things.

It was actually the trial of the ... non sense.

I smiled before entering into the court room ... talking with a dear friend, that was asking me ... "what if you redefine your perception about this event?!"

He was keep asking me questions ...

"What if you go there and enjoy the show same as you should be on Broadway?!"

What it is the worst it could happen?!

You just lose 400 dollars.

If you would go to Broadway ... it would cost between 30 to 200 dollars ... but this time you are also allowed to be on the stage.

So ... just think about this ... and enjoy the show”

I enter into the court room ... where the lawyer of that crazy lady ... defines me in front of the judge ... as a criminal.

Indeed ... i was a criminal ... the criminal of the non sense.

Being alone ... without a lawyer near me ... i realized i need to act ... as a human being.

Everything was an over reaction of the other side ... and it was indeed a show.

I was analyzing her ... the lady that was accusing me of all sorts of silly things ... but also her lawyer.

The lady was feeding herself with this fight against me ... and the lawyer, which was a beautiful woman of about 34 ... at the beginning of her career ... liked a lot to be on the stage in the court room.

You see ... i had to be there.

In one point of the trial i was becoming an observer ... then i had to be an actor again.

It was a court room from the country side ... and this was the only trial of the day.

It took almost an hour ... but the show was great.

It actually made me the impression of an american trial ... live on CNN or NBC.

But this was ... the trial of the nonsense.

There was nothing else to do ... than enjoy the show ... how i am defined in all sorts of silly ways.

My friend was right.

But i believe it was better than on ... Broadway.

I am expecting the results of the trial ... and am really

ANALYZE. DEFINE. REDEFINE.

... tips and tricks for a better life

curious ... how a judge from the country side will analyze and define that.

The show ... ended ... but i liked it.

I enjoyed the experience ... but if i should be honest ... i did it only after my friend asked me ... what if i redefine my perspective about the trial ... and see it as a show ... on Broadway.

I am asking now what if i should do that with every weird experience from my life?!

Is funny ... but even a funeral ... can be a show

I go to a funeral ... and being always obsessed by analyzing and defining everything around ... am amazed of the conclusions ... which indeed were only my perspective ... but still ... maybe part of the real truth.

The face of the dead person ... had the expression of a sad person.

He was an old person ... but i believe he was not liking the fact that life suddenly ... ended.

Then i look around to all the ones present to the funeral.

Very well dressed ... like it was a fashion show with a clear tendency to the black color ... all of them came with very expensive cars ... like it was a car show ... but wearing kind of poker faces ... not letting anyone understand what was all about.

But ... the funeral was continuing in silence.

No one was speaking with no body.

It could also be defined as a show of ... silence.

In one point ... it all became a story of a guy ... that died ... calling for the last time the family together ... but ...

yesss i am not afraid to define the whole situation ... as a show.

Could this story be ... redefined?!

Why everyone from there ... were so well dressed?!

What was behind those poker faces?!

Why no one was crying?!

And why i have this weird impression that everything was just ... a show?!

Well ... most probably we forgot to be ... humans.

That's all ... and it should be a nonsense defining this ... on and on and on.

It was ... unfortunately ... the final show ... of a dear person.

INTRODUCTION

Beyond the nonsense ... there is a path

In the real life ... i am not a writer.

I am kind of a businessman and a real estate investor.

Kind of ...

But i read so many motivational stuff ... that my mind started to believe that we ... all of us ... should try to change the world ... so that it can become a better place.

In the last 5 years, i've been involved in a project of building a complex with houses ... that had a bar, fitness room, patio with barbeque, swimming pool, a kitchen where you could cook for 50 people, billiards, library with few hundreds books etc etc.

It was not a big complex, but still ... the whole concept of the project was ... live your daily life as in vacation.

I spent a huge amount of money and 5 years from my life to complete everything.

The funny thing ... the whole nonsense is that i now realize that no one is using the relaxing areas from the complex.

They rented a house in there ... happy that we have those areas ... but they don't even use the barbeque in the week ends.

My intention was a good one and really wanted as people coming in there should enjoy life together ... but even if you see that people are living in there, cause you see their cars ... still the "ghost" image exists.

Today ... i am laughing of myself ... thinking about how much money i spent creating that place.

The idea of the bar came to me from an old guy, engineer in Dubai.

We were building the complex at that time ... and when the guy told me the place where i should plant the bar ... i thought he is crazy .. and he is speaking only nonsense.

One year later ... the bar was there.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

Now is still there ... but empty .. with nobody using it.

An abandoned bar, even if there are lots of people in there that love to drink alcohol.

I am laughing again ... thinking about the nonsense or being alcoholic ... having a bar just few meters from your house ... and not visiting it.

But in the end ... today ... i understand what is really going on.

People don't like to socialize with their neighbors ... and also don't have the ability to treat any day ... as a day of vacation.

Life should be a non ending vacation even if we work very hard.

At home we should try to relax and enjoy staying in there in any way.

But we just can't.

Maybe one day ... we will see that beyond the nonsense ... there is a path ... the one of enjoying any day of our lives.

A philosophical question:
"Rich and unhappy ... or poor and happy?! ... which kind of life you would prefer?!"

There are all kinds of philosophical questions, but this one is a great one.

But how can you find the answer?!

If you could be the prime minister of your country, you could just order to the Institute of Statistic to make a study about that and give you the results.

In case you are not the prime minister, you still have the chance to ask all the people you know, what they really think about that.

And, at the end, you should also ask yourself .what do you prefer?!

20 years ago i've been working with a rich guy from Germany.

He was kind of a nazi style businessman, but in the end i understood he was probably as a mentor for me.

He had millions of dollars, but never told me anything about his financial situation.

But one day seeing that i work so much ... he said to me "I see that you work a lot and you dream to become rich.

Be aware that being rich will not bring you happiness, but maybe a little bit of certainty in your life and nothing more."

I totally ignored at that time his advice, but later on i remembered it all the time, even in an obsessive way.

20 years later, after becoming rich, according to the financial standards from my country, i still remember his words and the funny thing is that i can't define myself as a happy person.

I am a positive guy.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

I do believe in the power of positivity, but i don't believe in the eternal happiness.

I think, it only exists the joy of the moment and nothing more, but i still have, deep inside myself, the illusion that somehow Santa Claus is real.

Today, a dear friend asked me if i prefer to be happy and poor or unhappy and rich?!

I chose the first answer, but i believe that the best version is to have in life a little bit of everything.

Being rich will not bring you the happiness and i know it.

Being poor will bring you in front of all kinds of difficulties and probably you will miss the chance to be happy, being too busy to solve all the problems generated by the fact that you don't have enough money.

So, probably the middle way is the best path you could chose in life. But even being unhappy is a lesson, cause our happiness should not have any dependency of anything.

And being happy is maybe only the decision that you have the right to enjoy life.

... simple as that and nothing more.

The long way to freedom is called "my life"

There is a beautiful book, called "Long way to freedom", written by Nelson Mandela ... about his life.

The book has about 750 pages, but is very well written ... and has an abundance of details since his early age.

And i was wondering how can someone remember so many details about things that happened so long time ago.... but probably after staying 27 years in prison ... you try to feed your soul with memories about how the normal life was.

You appreciate more all what you had ... and your soul, if you are a person with a positive thinking, is fulfilled with lots of beautiful moments from the past.

Mandela, spent too much time in prison ... but not all his life.

Many of us have the look of free life ... and in fact live in an invisible prison.

Their whole life is a prison ... but an abstract one.

The home is a prison ... the job is a prison and everything that does not make them happy are the ingredients that create this kind of life.

I have a house at the lake and i used to laugh many times with a dear friend, when we were speaking on the phone, i arrived home and had to tell him ... "I am sorry. I need to hang up cause i just arrived at the prison from the lake".

I loved this house in the beginning.

It gave me an excellent vibe, but somehow, because of the marriage i have ... it became for me as a prison.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

The only thing i could enjoy in here was reading books and drinking wine in the night.

When i was about 20 years old, i wanted a lot a company with thousands of customers ... and guess what ... it happened.

But the company became a prison also.

It ruined me emotionally talking with thousands of people for 20 years.

One day seeing that i can't stand the office anymore ... i just sold the space where we were located and continued working from home.

I did not wanted to spend my life in that prison called my company.

My "long way to freedom" was taking 20-21 years ... which means i am pretty close to the time Mandela spent in prison.

Today, if i would be 20 again ... i would pay more attention to what i want for my life.

Close to 43 ... i am only looking for freedom.

... and be a wild soul!

All the non sense thoughts are about you but accepting them is the key for healing the soul

I've decided to let my mind think at whatever wants to think ...
without defining positive or negative anything.

Someone, dear to me ...even defined me as a person with an atomic behavior and thinking.

It was kind of a compliment, cause i am hyper active all the time ...
and i always saw that i prefer new things and thoughts.

Letting my mind free ... with a tendency to a wild behavior ... i started to discover a new me.

The discipline that i had till this age, that was somehow induced by the fact that i was expecting so much from life ... created a border that i could not pass.

... and somehow i let myself stay in the prison of my dreams.

But not so long, after the decision that i will let myself experience anything ... and also my mind think of anything could possible think ... i started to feel better.

It all looked like a non sense and everything moved very, very fast.
I was reading all kinds of books.

I started to talk to all kinds of people ... and also spend my time with them ... no matter who they were.

In other words ... i let myself experience anything life could offer to me ... without thinking that i do something positive or negative.

I replaced the duality positive-negative ... with the concept ... life experience.

Anything that i thought or lived ... was stamped as something ... that i should enjoy.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

Today ... the shift i try to do ... let me feel better inside of me.
I refuse the things i dislike ... but in a polite way ... and i do them smiling.

Today i called a client that is not paying me in time and shows no respect at all for me ... announcing him that he can treat this way all the people from his life ... but i refuse to accept his offer.

He payed me in the next 30 minutes.

And i have all kinds of non statistic ways of experiencing all the situations from my life.

I try to do everything different ... and let to act only my wild part from inside of me.

... and many times ... everything looks like a non sense ... but i just learn to be a new me.

I actually dare to be ... the one i feel i should be!

Still defined by possessions and profession?!
Well ... you're not on a spiritual path yet.

You see ... most of the times when we present ourselves to the others we say our name, the profession we have and maybe ... the possessions we have.

We truly believe that these define us.

We do not see any spiritual component of our lives ... but only clear things that describe us as people of great success.

I've been for one year in a group at the liberal party and each time someone new was coming, he was presenting himself with the full cv from kindergarten to the intention of buying next month the last model of Porsche.

A spanish guy i took there, even told me that our meetings look like the ones from AA.

And he was probably right, cause everybody in there had a very strong addiction, not to alcohol, but to the Ego.

The day i realized the non sense of those meetings ... i stop going to meet those persons.

Today i believe we are not defined by things or the professions we are involved in.

Years ago i met a lady that was involved in many businesses.

She was active and certainly defined by the success she had ... for the italian companies she worked for.

I've been working with her for 7-8 years at the beginning of my career, then i stoped seeing her for 2-3 years when we met again in a gas station.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

She was not working anymore ... but painting and explained me that she is very happy because of that.

She was not caring anymore about the businesses or money or success.

100% she was not painting as a professional painter, but she had a very good vibe because of that.

In the end i conclude that actually we are more defined by the vibe we carry in our souls ... than what we do or what we posses ... and we should pay more attention to that.

The spiritual path that we will need to follow sooner or later ... will appear only we will totally detached by the attachment to anything might look real, cause the only real issue in this life ... is the inner soul.

The meaning ... or why we should pay more attention to the message behind the message

So many lessons are repeated to us ... on and on and on ... but we are too blinds to see the meaning behind any message we get from the Universe.

Today ... i don't believe anymore in personal development.

I read maybe hundreds of books, but i don't think that this is a path ... at least not for me.

I once read on social media "Personal growth is a lie" ... and i wondered why someone should say this ... but now my opinion is almost a similar one.

Is like you believe in Santa Claus for so many years and then you find out the truth and you are really disappointed.

The non sense of personal growth comes only from the fact that it became a too commercial concept.

Become the best version of yourself was related too much with the images with very expensive cars, or opulent luxury ... or money.

Become the best version of yourself ... is a wonderful concept ...as long as this brings joy inside of you.

As any other human being i had lots of desires, but after i had the desire accomplished ... i did not saw the joy inside of me.

But i remembered the pain of getting that desire ... the useless path.

Buddha says that the desire brings suffering ... but again is too abstract to understand what he said.

The foundation of personal growth is not a lie ... but the way we use it is a non sense.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

Is like we go to the church and we say ... "God ... i have this infinite list with desires ... please help me!"

God smiles and does ... nothing.

Or ... even worst ... God replies ... "Ahh ... you want that and that and that ... ok ... "

And the desires are accomplished ... but you feel no joy inside of your soul.

The desire ... was only a pathless path.

And repeating this on and on and on ... you'll get to the conclusion that you don't need something in the outside word, but something changed in the inner world.

Studying the non sense of all your desires ... and see the real meaning ... the message behind the message ... is the key of healing the soul.

The day when you dare to ask yourself ... that maybe you want success because you just want to prove something to the others ... might be the day of the awakening process.

And when you will see that the non sense ... is not a non sense ... but just a key for healing your soul.

The non sense is part of our lives ... but only connecting to the moment, whatever the moment represents ... this is the key

You can read so many things today and you basically have infinite informations coming from everywhere.

All kinds of theories.

Everyone is a philosopher today.

The president is a philosopher, but also the simple worker from a hotel that is opening the door to the clients.

I once read an article about a guy that was working in the palace where Gorbaciov had his office.

Dalai Lama came in visit to the president and before going to Gorbaciov ... he stayed few seconds to speak with this man from the entrance of the building.

That guy saw all the important persons from the world, from that time, but Dalai Lama was the only person that spent few moments with him.

All of them where passing ... not even looking at him ... but the guy was a philosopher also.

Everybody was focused on Gorbaciov ... and you could not blame them ... the guy was probably the most important person from the planet.

But again ... the truth about the truth is that Gorbaciov came to power in 1985 ... only to paint in different colors the non sense of communism.

This is what we should call the high level non sense.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

If you could have the chance to see the interview with the guy from the doors of the palace where Gorbaciov had the office ... you will be amazed about a philosophy that describes the non sense seen by a simple person from that time.

But it is the same non sense, seen from totally different angles.

And you suddenly realize you don't even need to be a philosopher to understand that everything is just ... a non sense.

But the meaning of life is to enjoy it no matter what that moment means.

You could be in an amazing restaurant, near the sea ... or walking into a forest ... or just be in prison ... but connecting to the present is the real key of life.

Sometimes the universe knows better where we should be ...and even if everything might look as a non sense ... seeing the message behind the message might be a wise thing to do.

... dare to enjoy life and connect to the moment!

The energy field where you are runs your life. The vibes will always whisper the truth so pay attention.

Vibes never lie.

They will always give you an idea about what is going on around you.
All you need to do is believe in your intuition.

A successful business woman i know, that have powerful energies that she does not know about ... just told me that each time when she becomes silent and disconnects for a while from all the people she is in contact with ... her success becomes bigger right away.

She uses this trick all the time when she is involved in something important ... and it works.

But still ... she is not understanding what is really going on.

You see ... all those people around you ... creates an energy field and could be a positive or a negative one.

There are people with strong positive energies and a huge power to influence the others.

A motivational speaker could be as that.

This is why when you go to a seminar for 3 days ... you somehow totally change in such a short time.

You are surrounded by positive people ... having good vibrations.

The vibes you feel are excellent.

Then you get back home and ... you actually come back to the life you totally dislike, because it does not make you wake up with joy.

To better understand what an energy field means we should talk a little bit about the nuclear accident from Chernobyl.

It was a disaster what happened in 1986 to the Nuclear Power Plant.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

The energy field from that area had a huge negative impact on the health of all those people staying around Chernobyl.

The energy fields are invisible ... same as the nuclear energy fields and you need to understand the power of it.

All the people you are surrounded by ... somehow influence you a lot and is just a decision to spend your life having them around.

Listen to the vibes they give you and decide if you want their influences or not.

If might look as a non sense ... but the day when you will meditate and have the experiment you will be amazed of why you can ... or you can't run your own life.

Is not important how they react
... but how you respond to them

One of the lessons of my life is to understand how to interact with people ... one to one.

It happened i met thousands of people ... many kinds of different profiles and even if i usually know how to interact with them i sometimes ... still fail to these tests.

The funny thing is that i started to see that at the half of the event ... and even if i realize i should change my response ... i believe it should be really strange to do it.

And most of the times the Ego does not let me do that.

But i also started to have moments when my response is totally different to the reaction of the people i deal with.

I just smile to them ... and i think they see it.

Their reaction change right away.

Last night i've been to a hospital for kids, because my oldest son had an accident into the park.

There were so many cases at the emergencies and only one nurse that was taking the cases.

Our case was a difficult one ... but all the parents saw their cases the same.

The nurse was overwhelmed and could not even make a list in how we will enter inside.

They even told us that they had 185 cases in that day.

Everyone was nervous on the nurse ... cause she does not the job in the way she should do it ... but it was just too much for a human being.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

And new cases of emergencies came ... more and more.

I started to talk to her, explaining that she somehow needs to create a list ... and start from the right to the left ... or from the left to the right ... but at least try to create a list of priorities.

She started to be nervous on me, but when she saw i don't want to be the first ...but only be on the list, even if our case was a real emergency ... she paid attention to what i had to say.

She calmed down and even introduced us inside.

They were too many parents in there that were overreacting and came to the emergency even if their case was not really urgent.

It was all a mix between real emergency cases and non sense cases ... but too difficult for the nurse to make everybody understand that.

And the nurse became again overwhelmed and the parents started to overreact in the usual way.

Everything got back to what was named in there "normal".

But maybe ... for all the people involved ... is the case as they should learn as in difficult situations is not important how they react ... but how you respond to what happens.

... and having a similar negative response should be ... just a non sense.

The paradox of marriage:
One day you end up living in the same bed with your worst enemy

Years ago i was watching an interview with the president from that time.

He was talking with the reporter about his worst enemy, which was a very powerful guy, owning 7 tv channels ... that were attacking him all the time.

The funny thing was that the president was showing a great respect to his enemy, explaining that he is glad the guy declared to him the truth ... that he hates him from all his heart.

I was watching and could not believe the words of the president ... cause everything looked as a nonsense.

But the president was a smart guy.

... his worst enemy also.

I started to wonder myself if it is better to have a declared enemy ... than dealing with people that suppose to be your friends ... your partner or ... your family ... but in fact behind your back, they act as enemies.

And the biggest problem that you can have in a marriage ... in the moment when you start to have fights ... you begin to hate each other.

Something ... that in many cases ... was a love story ... begin to be a fight between 2 people that hate each other from all their hearts.

And most of the times... they still sleep in the same bed ... for long time ... before they realize they have a huge problem.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

Is funny ... sleeping in the same bed ... with the worst enemy they ever had.

We use to be experts in hiding the truth ... and we end up in non sense situations.

If you ask people ... why they stay in such a toxic relationship ... there will be no logical explanation from their side.

... and i now understand why the president was so glad that his worst enemy he ever had ... was telling him the truth.

But for many, many couple the toxic story continues sometimes even to the end of their lives.

There are many nonsense situations as that ... but you need to understand that hiding the truth will not be too helpful for a great life.

Truth be told ... we love destroying things

My youngest son called me few days ago, telling me: "Hey! When you come home ... bring me a hammer!".

I was a little bit surprised by his request and i dared to ask: "What could you possible do with a hammer?!"

Annoyed he replies ... "I said i want a hammer! If you come at home without a hammer, i will not open the door for you!".

I am pretty used with his style, cause he is already 7 years old and ... as an experiment i brought him a hammer.

I left and when i came back ... i saw the door of the storeroom destroyed.

He needed something from there and could not open the door.

Amazed ... i ask him ... but only one day later so that we speak with calm: " Why have you done this?! Can you give me an explanation?!"

And when i speak with calm with him... he always gives me very good answers.

He smiles and says ... "You see ... i was bored ... and when i am bored ... i just love destroying things".

And ... suddenly i realize he is right.

We do the same as adults ... but we never admit it.

Most of us, because of the way life is ... home, work, traffic, lots of problems ... finding no reason to say "Life is beautiful!" ... at one moment we start acting in a non sense way ... and we start destroying different things from our lives.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

If you ask an adult why he did this ... you won't get an answer for that ... but everything is just an abstract way of looking for change. Breaking promises, dreams ... things .. relationships ... with actually no real explanation ... is a behavior difficult to understand ... but we should ask ourselves ... what is the real reason behind the non sense?!

Truth be told ... same as my kid explained me ... we love destroying thing ... because we are too bored of the actual reality and we need ... something else ... don't know what but just something else.

Being your own observer
... might be the trick to find the right path in life.

Whoever we are ... whatever we do ... we are somewhere on the timeline of our own destiny.

And ... saying that it is a non sense where you are today ... might be silly.

I believe that the Universe knows better where we should be.

What we call destiny is about the main details of the script of our lives, but the way we act on the stage ... is depending only by us.

You can be a great actor on the timeline of your life ... or a silly one.

The funny thing is that if you act in a silly way, the Universe will repeat those episodes till the day when you understand that you need to become a great actor.

But how can we do this?

Not many of us have the chance to discover what is the philosophy behind life ... or we discover maybe too late ... after we lose lots of opportunities.

I was involved for many years in sales and i remember that someone once said to me ... "I can't really understand how a guy as you ... is succeeding to convince so many clients to come to his company ... and later on he loses them. It's quite a big mystery".

It was probably a lesson ... and i did not understood it.

I was doing something wrong ... but i did not saw the non sense at the right time.

I could become my own observer ... try to understand what i am doing wrong ... and find a way to change things.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

But i was blind ... and i could not see anything even if everything was only a simple decision.

But one day i realized that ... defining our lives ... how we act ... how we react ... the courage we have on the timeline of the important events ... is a trick that could make us jump from an ordinary to an extraordinary life.

In the morning you just feel the day ... and is only a decision to enjoy it

We have this illusion that the dreams we carry inside of us will make us happy ... somewhere in the future.

And we work a lot to accomplish those dreams .. forgetting to enjoy life ... just as it is.

During my lifetime i had periods when i woke up with joy and periods when i just did not wanted to wake up ... having no reason to do it. Today i believe that the vibe you feel in the morning just defines ... the day.

The only decision we should have is just enjoy the day ... however it is.

Even a bad day is a probably a day that carries a powerful message for you.

Might look like you lost a good business, an important exam ... something that is essential for you ... but in the end you will see that understanding a message from life is probably even more important than anything else.

But ... can we find any trick to wake up every morning with the joy inside of the soul?!

Well ... the moment when you understand that life is a journey and not a destination ... that is a day when you just proved ... you are a wise person.

You will also understand that real rich people are not the ones that have huge amounts of money, or properties ... or important companies but ... people that have good vibes all the time.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

Sounds as a paradox ... but even being rich for real is an abstract concept.

Don't lose your life ... trying to touch the horizon line ... believing that when your dreams will become real ... you will be a happy person ... cause it will not be that way.

It's all about the art of living our lives ... enjoying each day ... no matter what really happens.

In the end you will just see that planing everything ... will be just a non sense.

All it matters ... is the moment ... and the good vibe.

The age is not defined by a number ... but the vibe
you carry in your soul

A dear friend of mine ... which is about 60 years old, owning an island into the Mediterranean Sea ... wants to write a book with me about ... the art of staying young forever.

He believes in his theories by a very, very long time ... and i am sometimes joking of him saying that men are never getting old ... only women do it.

But he is very serious when it comes about this abstract idea about life.

Everything looks for him as a mental program ... and seeing all the time that after a while people get old ... we do the same as them. But we could stay young forever ... just using another mental program.

Yesterday ... it happened that i stayed for 5 minutes with a new neighbor i have.

We have an issues to solve togheter and ... she just started to tell me all her life ... saying that she is an old lady ... bla bla bla.

You see ... she is a very nice person ... but i was amazed finding out she is only 53 ... cause she looks of 65.

I started to understand that the theory with the mental program about the age ... is right.

I wanted to make my neighbor laugh and explained to her that statistically the ladies from that area are living a very long life, much longer than men ... and probably she is today at the half of her now. Hearing this ... i saw her changing completely.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

She could not believe what i was saying ... but deep inside her she knew i was right.

Looked like a non sense to say to her that she is young ... when she thought that she is an old lady ... but the statistics from that area proved i was right.

Yes ... she was probably at the half of her age ... so still young ... but the vibe she had, deep inside her ... really defined her as an old person.

So ... who is the one saying nonsense things?!

Me or her?!

I might be too optimistic and probably she does not know so much about positivity, even if she is a great person ... but in the end deciding to see the beautiful side of our lives ... is only a decision.

Do you totally dislike the 9 to 5 program?!
Find it a non sense?!
Well ... you could chose 24 / 7
... is much better

Few days ago, i met with the priest from my village and we began to chat a little bit.

He started to ask me if it is true that i have a love affair with a lady who was living close to his house.

I smiled ... and realized that it is the middle of the week and the priest was so busy that he had enough time to think about my love affairs.

I think ... he don't even knew what day it was.

Usually ... the priest is working on Saturday or Sunday ... and when someone is baptized or die.

This is quite a nice job.

A priest will never work 9 to 5, but of course ... that his weekend is a little bit different than our weekends.

But i believe that people that are going to the church ... are enjoying this fact and don't find annoying that they have to do it every Sunday.

Imagine ... monday morning ... when the whole planet goes to work ... the priest can go to the spa ... and i believe there are people having this job ... doing that.

And i wonder how it should be to work this way?!

I personally stayed about 21 years in the office.

In the beginning i was working from 9 to 9, monday to sunday, but in the last years i used to work 9 to 5 ... monday to friday ... as all the people from the world.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

I totally disliked that.

After selling my office space ... i moved in another small office, where i did not had electricity ... and was doing my job only from the phone .

It was totally different.

And i felt that my office was in my car also, cause i was speaking on the phone all the time ... while driving.

My schedule changed.

I was becoming available 24 / 7 ... but probably worked only few hours a day ... and i was more efficient.

I did not had time to gossip like the priest from my village ... but still i had time to write 9 books with love essays for the lady that stayed on same street with this nice guy from the church.

The way we use to work will totally change.

The old style ... will become a non sense.

Probably ... just being efficient will be the only important thing to do.

And doing this ... is only a decision!

Make plans ... just for today.
Nothing more.

I used to have plans for 5 years.

Even big ones for 10 years.

Today, after being involved in a project that took 5 years to be completed ... i am only laughing by myself.

I thought that finishing the project ... will make me the most happiest person from the planet ... but it was totally different.

The day it ended i realized that i am happy just cause it ended ... nothing more.

I was feeling like i was out of a prison and i am free again.

But free of what?!

It was me that wanted that project ... me the one that came out with this dream ... that in many moments appeared as impossible.

Today i am not planning anything.

If someone calls me saying to arrange a meeting over 3 days ... i cancel from start.

I don't schedule anything.

The only thing i plan ... and sometimes not even that ... is the actual day.

I just don't want to live with those plans in my life.

I know that it sounds like a non sense what i write now ... when all books about personal growth teaches you that everything is about planning ... wanting etc etc.

The problem is that they don't say the whole truth and that is ... the fact that you should pay more attention to your desires.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

Everything we want in life should be in total harmony with the laws of the Universe, with our spiritual growth plan ... with a meaning that is not related only with material things.

This way ... not thinking so much at the plans we have for 5-10-15 years ... we should not miss the most important thing in life ... to enjoy the present moment

Just think about it ... and keep the right balance between present and future.

Who knows better what is best for you?! You ... or the Universe?!

Sometimes the doors close in front of your eyes.
You open them again ... but still ... the doors close one more time.
Again and again and again.
You do everything in the right way ... you follow all the rules ... but still you can't continue on the path you want.
For example ... you are having the perfect partner at home ... but you cheat that person all the time ... and still that person remains the perfect partner.
You have the best sister in the world ... she always helps you ... but you never pay attention to her when she wants something.
And she still remains that ... best sister you could ever have.
You have the perfect partner in your company ... but you just don't care about that ... cause you want a company at a bigger level.
But somehow the Universe keeps you in that place ... and does not care of your silly desires.
It happens I know a business woman that is married with the perfect husband.
The guy is taking care of the kids, of the house ... of everything.
She cheats on him all the time ... and somehow even if she starts a new perfect love story ... even if she falls in love for real ... somehow the Universe does something and everything stops all the time.
Most probably ... her place is at home, with that perfect guy ... that she does not know to appreciate.
But it will probably take more time from now till she will see the message behind all those messages that comes from the Universe.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

So ... answering to the question ... who knows better what is best for you?!

Well ... the Universe, that infinite intelligence ... knowing everything that ever was and that will ever be ... will let you know ... but you should just stop being for a moment Mr / Mrs Ego ... have eyes to see and ears to listen.

Studying ... what you should name as a non sense ... those doors that are closing in front of your eyes ... even if you believe that things should happen in a totally different way ... all you see ... is just a message.

Everything happens for a reason, difficult to be understood at that time ... but you need to hear what ... the non sense is whispering to you.

Unsatisfied with your job?!
Join our club!
It's free membership.
We have billions of members.

I wonder how it should be to have a club for the ones unsatisfied of their jobs.

Indeed ... the club should have billions of members ... but i still don't understand how people go in this position of totally disliking what is going on at work.

I was personally involved for 23 years in the it business and even if i loved it in the beginning ... today i don't want to hear about computers anymore.

Later ... i wanted only to rent my properties and thought that everything i will have to do ... will be ... to get my money from my tenants.

Well ... things were not so simple as i thought.

I mean ... i was making money all the time ... but something destroyed my vibe and i begun to be unsatisfied of all what was going on.

After so many years ... i understand that it was not the job itself ... that i hated ... but some of the interactions i had with some of the people.

... clients ... colleagues from work etc etc.

You see ... you can get any job in the world ... and most probably it will happen the same ... cause everywhere you can meet nice people, but also people that you will not like so much.

Jobs are about people.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

They appeared to serve people.

And the clients can be of a large spectrum ... as the way they interact with other people.

Thinking that changing the job ... or even changing the area of practice ... might be sometimes a good idea, but it will not completely remove from your life ... the interactions that you will still need to have.

Accepting things just as they are ... and the people that you don't like so much ... might be wiser than changing the job all the time ... thinking that somewhere else is totally different.

Cause ... no matter how much you'll try to avoid it ... you will find the nonsense everywhere!

The nonsense of doing ugly things to the people that they don't even know ... is actually kind of a hobby for many

I read during the time all kinds of books.

Philosophy, psychology, history, art, computers etc etc.

One day i realized that i was just trying to understand what life is about ... and nothing more.

I was spending so much time reading ... and on the other hand the Universe was trying to teach me so many things ... through the interactions i had with all the people from my life.

... and i knew that the message was stronger when i actually lost my temper and become nervous because of mr X or mrs Y etc etc.

But the funny thing is that i failed so many times at those exams that life gave me.

Each time when something was not the way i wanted ... i actually started a real war with that person.

And the lesson was repeated on and on and on.

I am still laughing of myself ... at the way i reacted when after completing a real estate project that took 5 years ... the lady from the Electricity Company refused to sign me the papers so that the project can be used by people.

Then because of an idiot ... a fire started into the complex and everything could burn completely.

But today i see that all those things were only exams ... and instead of thinking that those people were doing ugly things to me ... even if they don't know me so well ... it was just the fact that i overreacted in a silly way.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

Yes ... truth be told ... is that on this planet there are people that do bad things to other people ... just like they should think this is kind of a hobby ... but all these are only exams for us.

And it all might look like a non sense ... but the message behind the nonsense is always very powerful.

Meditating over the subject ... hearing what the Universe wants to whisper to us... might be the key ... for the spiritual evolution that you need to follow.

The absence of courage ...a "great" way of failing in life

We all have the chance to do great things in life ... no matter who we are.

At one point we already have some statistic datas about what we can do and actually we should not worry about doing most of the things we have to do.

For example ... i agree that is very difficult to kiss a girl for the first time in your life ... but still ... when you are at the relationship number 7, should be much easier to do it.

I remember ... i was in high school and i asked one girl that i liked ... "May i kiss you?!"

She smiled and agreed ... but she was surprised cause i asked.

She was expecting just to kiss her.

But she had her style and me ... my style.

And this story from high school is still a story of success ... comparing with other stories.

I had the courage to ask ... and I got what i desired.

But there were probably thousands of other occasions when i don't even had the courage to mention what i wanted.

So ... so many spoiled opportunities.

And i still act in this way ... even today.

I want things that ... i should only have the gut to speak about them ... but i don't.

The only thing i should do ... should be only to mention my ideas ... and most probably i could easily get what i want.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

But unfortunately, even if it looks like a nonsense ... even if i've done those things before ... the absence of courage ...became for me ... a "great" way of failing in life.

Today, i am somewhere on the timeline of my life ... in one point where i feel that it's the time to not lie myself anymore.

I define everything that looks like non sense ... but i try to find out what is behind the absence of courage of acting in the right way.

Maybe is time for a change.

Maybe is time to define ... what is the right attitude.

Tomorrow ... can be a different day ... even a better one

I was driving today, on a street that i haven't visited by years and i accidentally met a guy that i know by a long time.
I own a house on that street and he also lived close to that house.
Called him just to say "Hello" and nothing more ... and started to tell me what happened in the last few years.
He divorced and was not living in there anymore.
Only the ex wife and his kids are staying today in that house.
He explain me that he was quite unhappy.
But i knew the guy pretty well.
He was a very successful lawyer ... he appeared on national tv channels many times ... a wealthy guy ... but also a guy that adored to have love affairs.
Today he was unhappy ... and in a conversation of only few minutes he told me the whole story of divorce ... of his unhappiness ... but also that today he met with 2 wonderful ladies.
For someone that does not know the guy ... the conversation we had ... might look as a total nonsense ... cause is kind of a paradox that he explains in 5 minutes that he is so unhappy cause his wife divorced of him ... but also happy cause he met 2 beautiful women today.
I was laughing of him on the phone.
I was laughing loud ... and he could not understand my reaction.
I knew him well.
He is a nice guy ... buy also a jerk ... but i am his friend and i can afford to laugh of him.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

But ... after i stoped laughing i assured him ... that i am totally convinced that tomorrow will be a better day for him.

And part of his tomorrow ... of his future ... was happening today ... cause he already met 2 amazing ladies ... even if he was pretending, like a great lawyer ... that he was crying.

And i still believe that we can find the truth about the truth ... just in the nonsense actions from our lives.

That is the real key ... if we really want in this life to follow the best path that we should follow.

The art of responding to the situations the Universe sends you in... is based on the decision of choosing between being right or kind

About 6 months ago i met a nice guy and i started a friendship with him based mainly on philosophy discussion.

He is quite young, but retired.

All he is doing the whole day is drinking alcohol ... but also consuming drugs, by a while.

And truth be told ... alcohol and drugs helps to understand the philosophical theories better.

I never smoke in my life ... and also never smoke weed, but i heard many people saying that it helps of understanding things that you usually don't understand in a normal state.

But knowing him by only 6 months, i saw right away the jump from alcohol to a mix of alcohol and drugs.

He ... somehow ... is not the same anymore.

He even used to be polite ... and today i see a person that has kind a philosophical aggressiveness difficult to be understood.

I began to become an observer of everything happens around me ... things ... situations ... but also people ... and i see quite easily the dynamic of change.

I easily understand now where the path of drugs can take a human being.

I thought this were stories ... but it's not like that.

I decided in my relationship with him to be kind and ignore the non sense of his new behavior.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

Should be useless to discuss philosophy anymore

And it's funny cause i know that people as Osho were taking drugs before meditation ... but were eliminating the substances from the body through yoga.

But ... Osho and other spiritual teachers knew the whole story about the way drugs can help the mind see things that usually are not easy to see.

My new friends, as all the other people that are using alcohol and any other kind of drugs ... are usually losing control on themselves and everything is going on around.

But how should we react to them?!

We should do the right thing and just forget about the friendship we have with them ... or be kind ... and ignore on and on the nonsense of their behavior?!

We like it or not ... my question is a huge contemporary dilemma ... cause people that just start using drugs ... you can see them everywhere today.

Failing ... is a great way of better understanding life

Truth be told we only want to win in life.

We prefer perfect scenarios and even if we have in mind lots of negative scripts that will never be real ... deep inside us we want as we should never fail.

But failure is ... just the other mask of success.

The unwanted one.

But we should accept it also.

Failing is just part of life.

Most of the time, on the path for obtaining great things ... you meet the success or ... the failure.

But whatever should happen ... we should embrace any of the situations.

Failure ... is just a lesson.

Success is a moment before you start the process of new lessons.

Today ... i believe we need both ... success ... but also failure stories.

But why should we think we need failing also?!

Why we can't run our lives only on positive situations?!

Well ... i think the beauty of success ... can be felt and really appreciated ... only after you also know what failure means.

The meaning of positive situations can't be understood without having the negative also.

And even if it sounds as a nonsense ... having the right balance in life, between success and failure will help you enjoy ... but also understand life.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

Failing ... in case you know the power of a positive thinking ... is preparing you for even a greater success that you dreamed for. Life runs between negative and positive ... no matter what it is about ... and we should accept everything just as it happens. Seeing the failure as a lesson is much indicated as seeing yourself as a victim.

Prepare and accept anything happens ... and take advantage of anything ... even of failing.... cause in failure ... you will see later a great way of understanding life.

The art of switching realities ... a new way of living?!

My son was playing a video game and i asked him... "What is this game about?!"

He explained right away that he was trying to become a pilot for helicopters.

But you see ... my son is only 11.

Actually both of my sons are loving video games ... and in fact if i think better they love these kinds virtual realities.

Now you can run a race in Formula 1, then you can be Batman ... after that you kill a dragon ... and later, in the night, before going to bed ... you are on the moon ... with your our space craft.

You can be whoever you want to be ... and this is probably why video games are so popular.

Is actually kind of an art of switching realities ... and it actually becomes a new way of living.

But what if ... we just decide to change our attitude in front of anything happens?!

What if one day we decide to be whoever we want to be?!

For example ... it happens i know a guy .. who is about 40 and is a person ... kind of a mix between introvert and extrovert.

He decided one day to enjoy love stories ... of any kind.

He knew lots of ladies, but had only a relationship with them as businessman or as friend.

One day ... as an experiment ... he decided to tell few of them that he would like to have a love affair with them.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

He masters the power of words and formulated in the right way for every woman he liked ... so that everything will sound excellent. It might sound like a nonsense experiment for you ... but I should name it ... the experiment of daring to taste what he actually wanted. Instead of playing a video game ... with the art of going out with ladies ... my friend totally changed his attitude ... made the switch from introvert to extroverted and dared to say ... whatever he wanted ... whatever he desired.

You see ... dear friends ... we should not spoil our lives only dreaming ... but we should also dare to act.

The story with my dear friend is real ... the experiment is real ... but you should also try your own experiments, in the real life ... with whatever you would love to have.

And remember ... life ... real life ... is not a video game!

So ... dare to act ... even if you might be in the position of desiring ... a nonsense.

“Nah, bigger!”
... the Universe

It's quite difficult to understand the meaning of life, even if you look for it ... for years.

But you know why?!

Cause you don't really look for the meaning of what life really means ... but the meaning of your life.

You ... just you ... nothing else ... no one else.

Everything you see in this world is ... YOU.

The the confusion appears ... between the meaning of life and the actual path that you are following.

But the funny thing is that sometimes, the Universe just change the script of our lives.

It can happen that you already have everything you ever wanted ... but still a piece from the puzzle is missing.

And then everything change over night.

You lose everything ... and all looks like a tsunami that just ruins your life completely.

After things calms down ... it looks like you have only 2 options ... restart your life from scratch ... or just abandon the concept of being alive.

And many people get suicide in such situations ... totally losing the hope that they can be again in the position they had before.

Everything is just a big test from the Universe.

And we doubt ... and doubt for days and weeks ... and months.

We can't see any positive scenarios that might come for us again.

Too many people ... from all around the world were ... or maybe are today in such a situation.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

Can't see the hope ... and if you meditate enough you will see that all you need to do for rebooting your life is ... have hope.

But ... even if deep inside you ... you know that the Divinity created everything you see ... mountains, seas, continents, planets, stars ... you don't have the power to believe that the Universe can treat you also in a great way.

You know ... Budha was the son of a king.

He had everything a human being from that time could dream but he was feeling that a piece from the puzzle was missing.

He abandoned everything and went to a wild territory ... into the forest ... and stayed 6 years in there to meditate and find the awakening.

Imagine the nonsense.

To have everything ... and abandon the life style offered as the son of an important king from that time ... just to find the meaning of life.

Even today ... his actions ... would be defined as a nonsense ... by 99% of the people from our planet.

Imagine a study made by the Institute of Statistic ... in the whole world ... asking if what Budha did ... was a wise thing to do ... or a nonsense?!

Many will see no meaning in what he did ... but in the end between becoming a king, because he was the son of a king ... the Universe offered him something greater ... he became a spiritual King.

Today everybody knows about Budha, even if they don't really know his teachings.

You see ... sometimes ... there are people that follow a great path, that looks in the beginning a path of nonsense ... but sometimes, for the rest of us ... the Universe sends something that looks as a tsunami ... just for changing the direction ... on a greater path.

Sometimes people have the confusion that being a nice person, means being weak ... silly ... and without the right attitude

Being kind, in a world that can be defined as a real jungle ... looks like a non sense virtue nowadays.

People have strong personalities ... and in fact so big Egos ... bigger than the Everest mountain ... as a friend of mine use to say ... and it's quite difficult to deal with them.

Being a kind person .. is a virtue indeed.

But being a kind person with people that have strong Egos ... is a game that you going to lose.

People love to be treated well ... but don't know that probably the only thing they should do is to reply back in a nice way also.

People go today in 2 and 3 stars hotel and expect to stay like in 5 stars hotels.

They are treated like in luxury hotels ... but is just that the hotel itself is not designed in an expensive way.

People changed a lot.

Everybody wants to be treated as a king, but nobody wants to reply in the same way back, cause a king is a king ... and can afford to act however he wants.

And the funny thing is that being nice to people will create the illusion that you are a weak person.

But what is the right balance between being nice and act tough?!

Do people resist for more that an episode ... acting in a tough way to them?!

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

During the years, i had the surprise to see that i ended relationships that i had by a very long, long time just because one day i acted tough.

I understood that it's not only that people want to be treated ... not only nice ... but in an excellence way ... but they love to dominate any kind of relationship they would have.

Being tough to them, even one time ... they will also feel dominated ... and will hurt their egos.

A pain at the ego ... is bigger than a cancer ... even if the ego itself is kind of a cancer.

You will destroy the illusion that sometimes they feel as a king or a queen.

So ... is there any way in how this problem can be solved?!

Well ... there is probably only one way ... and that should be ...explaining them that you will leave, cause can't understand their nonsense attitude after you treated them so well.

How to argue with love ... an art for surviving in the actual era

Life isn't easy.

It never was ... and will never be.

And truth be told ... we are many times in trouble because of that.

And we don't find enough energy inside of ourselves to fight with the situations or the people that create those situations.

But why we should fight?!

... we could just argue with love.

And it's quite funny, cause if you follow the statistics of the fights or situations you had to argue, you will be amazed to see that most of those events are related with your partner.

So ... arguing with love is a concept that should make sense.

It's actually an art that would help us to survive ... and live better lives.

But don't really know to act in this way.

Imagine we could understand the art of treating with love all the people from our lives ... the ones that serves us in restaurants, the ones from school, the ones from the bus, the ones from work ... and the ones from home.

Saying everything you want ... but smiling ... even if usually, in the past, that should had been transformed, in most of the cases, in a big fight having no real reason to happen.

You see ... sometimes the words are not enough.

The way we say it is the most important.

Adding a little bit of love ... and understanding that not everybody is your worst energy and that you don't need to start a world war III

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

because of that but also knowing how to send the love vibes with the power of your words ... is probably the key.
... just think about!

Divorce and marry again with the same person ... is this a non sense ... or not?!

It says that falling in love is easy ... but staying in love is hard. The paradox is that the same person that you said years ago ... that you will love for an eternity ... in many of the love stories ... is the same person that today you find toxic and difficult to deal with. The person that you declared you love the most ... is the same person that today is actually your worst enemy ... but you just don't have the guts to say it.

It all becomes a nonsense.

You stay in a story ... and maybe in the same house ... with an enemy ... that you used to see as a God.

A total nonsense ... but i smiled today when i spoke with a lady that is marrying after 3 years of being a divorced person ... with her ex husband.

I met her, as being the girlfriend of one of my clients, a consul of a foreign country to the city where i live.

The guy is a Don Juan and i asked the lady who she is going to marry with ... just to amuse myself, cause i was sure it was not about my friend.

I spoke with her for about half an hour, telling me all the story with her ex but also new husband.

Their girl is extremely happy and i'm sorry i am not a great story teller, as she is, but bottom line ... the whole story with them sounds as a hollywoodian movie.

She was extremely happy.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

They stayed 3 years away one from another, they both had other relationships also ... but concluded that what they had together ... will not meet again during this life time.

Did not wanted to wait till they will be 70 years old ... discussed with their daughter also ... and decided to restart everything.

One more shot ... and they both are optimist that this time they will be wise enough to forget about their nonsense behavior from the past.

... so you see?!

Happy endings exists ... but depends where you stop telling the story!

The obsession of being someone important ... should be totally replaced with the intention of helping everyone. That's ... a better path even if it looks as a non sense!

I've been involved for a very long time into the internet business ... and few years ago i published 2 books about how you can make online money, especially with an e shop.

The book had also a dvd, but i believe the price was huge ... about 50 usd.

It could help you start an online business right away if you had some technical knowledge.

Today i think i wrote the book only to make money for myself ... not to really help people to make online money.

But i've been so busy that i did not spent such a long time to sell the books ... and even if we had some sales ... it was not what i expected to happen.

Nowadays, the book has already few years and inside of it you can find informations that are not interesting anymore so i decided is time to get rid of the books.

I called a shop that sells old books, i told them that i want to give them the books for free and they refused me.

I could not believed it.

How could they refuse me to give them the books for free?!

Are my books of no value at all?!

Well ... i bought over the years from that shop lots of good books, written by important writers and maybe i've been seen as a nobody ... and my books have no place in there.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

I saw lots of questions in my mind ... but few hours later i arranged with someone else to give him the books for free.

It was a guy i knew.

He was in the city center ... having also a shop with old books ... and he loved i gave him the books for free.

We talked that he should present the book to students and explain to them that the meaning of the book is to help them start an online business with very little money.

We also agree that he will give them the books for a very low price so that they can afford to buy it.

So ... basically i started with the intention of getting 50 usd for a book and ended giving them for free, cause i did not sold them, but i was happy cause ... maybe today ... i can help some people i don't even know to really start a business with almost no money in their pocket. So ... truth be told ... we follow only the path of money ... and i do the same all the time ... not really wanting to help the others ... but take their money.

Today i still have the obsession of writing 2 best sellers books ... one about the philosophy of non sense and one about the philosophy behind the internet, which is mainly based on giving valuable informations ... for free.

I still need to work with myself ... and change my thinking ... to decide that the target should not be to listen to the ego, that wants to become an important writer ... but to really help people from all around the world ... giving them in free kindle books ... very important informations that i have gather over the years trough practice.

But it's a fight between the Ego and the soul ... and don't really know who is going to win.

And the question is
Is this your real vibe?! ... or the fake one?!

How do we really know the real face of people that we spend time with?!

Can their vibe, when they are with us ... tell us the truth about the relationship we have with them?!

It says that vibes never lie ... but why should someone have a fake vibe ... when being with us?!

To tell you the truth, the question ... "Is this your real vibe?! ... or the fake one?!" I heard from my wife, that believes i am a man with 1000 faces.

I am still smiling, cause in fact ... i know by such a long time ... that during our lifetime we all wear 1000 faces ... at least.

A face ... a mask ... a vibe ... however you want to name it ... is how you actually feel in that moment ... and in fact is nothing wrong with that ... cause we all have the a large spectrum of emotions.

But ... being nice ... after a long time of being bad guys ... will be strange.

Might look like we are liars ... but in fact we are not.

We also have moments when we feel great ... and we dare to be nice or even act in an amazing way.

And indeed ... it might look strange.

We can pretend for a while ... but can't really carry the mask of a fake vibe for a long time.

The real nonsense from everything is that people don't know how to act when they see our beautiful side.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

I wonder ... what if ... they would encourage us ... saying ... "I love your vibe from today. It would be fantastic to carry it in your soul all the time!".

But anyone knows that we have a beautiful, but also a dark side and they don't really believe ... in change.

They know that in most of the cases we have the ugly vibe in the soul ... and give us no chance in front of a change ... for a better way of acting on the stage of life.

I believe today that it does not really exists a fake vibe ... but only our tryings to be better persons ... even if no one ever taught us how to do it.

Speaking to the walls ... one of the best therapy for mind and soul

I have a dear friend that i've chat a lot in the last few days about her complicated relationship she has ... with a person that she believes that is her soulmate.

She spoke a lot with friends, but came to the conclusion that this is not a good path, cause she brings all those energies from them into the connection she has with the guy.

Finding a counsellor to speak online sounded for her as the best way to solve the problem.

She is an extraordinary person and all she really wants is a beautiful relation with everything that includes ... so that she can have a happy life.

Her mind believes that she should not comeback to the guy anymore, because even if she feels that they are soul mates, or even twin flames, he is not the right path in the real life.

The problem is that there is a strong conflict between what she believes and what she feels ... and somehow the soul is pushing her to come back all the time to his arms.

But everything i was hearing from my dear friend ... i felt myself also ... not so long time ago.

It was exactly the same pattern.

It was like ... i was hearing my own love story.

I could not believe it.

Recently i've been in the same position with her and the only way i found at that time was to practice kind of a non sense discussion with ... the walls.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

I've spoke with friends, but this ... i believe also that it does not help so much, as we should believe ... so writing ... was as a close friend told me ... the way i was "speaking to the walls".

I was defining from all points of view everything that was going on, every day ... any major events ... and i wrote 9 books with love essays.

Maybe 1300-1400 pages.

I am still smiling when i remember that ... but it helped me a lot.

I was my own counsellor, cause no one knew better as i knew ... what i felt inside of my soul.

And in the end ... the conflict between mind and soul ... just disappeared one day.

Today ... i believe we don't really need any counsellor ... cause all the answers we are looking for are inside of us.

Speaking to the walls ... looks like a non sense ... but is an excellent ... maybe the best therapy for the soul.

Sometimes the change can't be implemented because of the ones that ask you the change

People around us are usually what we define as society.

We are programmed to act in a certain way, to follow all kinds of rules ... but in one point things goes out of control.

Is not that we don't follow the rules ... but we also break the rules.

And then again we are asked to follow the instructions ... and forget about our rules.

We are asked to change, but the paradox is that even if people around us are asking for that ... they don't really believe in us ... that we can follow what is defined by them as the right path ... the dogmatic one.

For example ... we know that drinking is not a good habit, but is legal and we usually start drinking with the ones that we name our friends. They taught us to drink, but when we lose control over this habit, they ask for a change at us ... not believing that we can really do it ... and in fact influencing us both times in a negative way.

We are taught to drink ... but they also repeat us that we will not abandon this bad habit ... just by not trusting us.

We are too much influenced by everything and everybody around us. But ... what is named as change is actually an abstract non sense ... that takes us to nowhere.

And we don't even know what we should do.

Is drinking ok if is legal?!

What if we drink not so much ... but too often?!

Why should we abandon this behavior ... if everyone around us is doing it?!

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

Does it worth to believe in the concept of change?!

Today i believe that the influences we have from the world we live in ... can't be totally removed ... but we can filter better why we should do ... or not do certain things.

If you will ask someone that is smoking by 10 years why is doing that ... will answer that he loves smoking and can't quit.

But if you ask why they started to smoke ... the answer will probably be that friends taught him to do it.

Smoking is ... a bad habit.

Removing this habit ... again ... is a difficult to implement change ... because the same friends that taught you to smoke, will repeat you that you are losing your time and you won't be able to do it.

Friends ... are sometimes the society.

They show us nonsense paths to follow ... then later on ... explain us the opposite ... that those paths are not good paths ... and we should make a change ... but probably ... 99.99% ... we won't be able to do it ... but even if we do it ... after a while ... we will just get back to the old bad habits.

So?! What we should really do?!

Van Gogh did not said ... "This is an old chair"
... but a powerful message that today is a painting with a value of more than 25 million dollars

Van Gogh's Chair is a painting created in 1888 by Dutch artist. It is currently held by the National Gallery, London.

The painting shows a rustic wooden chair, with a simple woven straw seat, on a tiled floor. On the chair seat is a decorated pipe and a pouch of pipe tobacco. In the background is an onion box with Van Gogh's name on it. It has become one of Van Gogh's most iconic images, to the extent that Van Gogh's cataloger Jan Hulsker noted that "there are few pictures of Vincent's about which so much was written in later years."

But to tell you the truth ... i am looking at the painting and can't find the message behind it.

I am sure that there is a very powerful one ... cause the value of the art work is today 25 million dollars ... but i can't see this message.

At least ... not yet.

But what is art?!

I believe is an abstract way of expressing what life is about ... and i am sure the world did not had lots of artists as Van Gogh.

In one point ... analyzing and understanding nothing ... i said to myself ... "I am sorry. The painting is a total nonsense ... and i am losing my time trying to find the message behind that work".

But probably ... the same way ... other people see from outside what we do with our lives and find everything as a nonsense.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

The way we dress, the car we decided to buy, the design of the house we build now, the lady we marry with ... everything that defines our lives ... our "art work" ... and might look so ... nonsense actions and decisions ... that will be difficult to make them think of us as individuals of great success or value ... even if we would love that. But for us ... all those things have a meaning ... a message ... "the old chair" ... is not just a chair ... but probably ... even a magic one. But does the "art work" we've done value 25 million dollars?! Well ... it might even worth more and i believe that Van Gogh has also no idea about the real value of his work ... in money ... but felt inside himself ... the power of that "nonsense" ... that probably defines ... in an abstract way ... everything ... just everything his life was.

And the question is ... Aren't we all sinners?!

My son knows everything about cars.

He knows all the models ever invented.

He actually loves the cars.

It happens that i have a beautiful car (not so many models of that car in my country) and an old, ugly car but i usually drive the last one.

Today ... i've been with him in the city and we looked all the time at the beautiful cars.

It was a conversation as ... "My God! Look at that car! and that one! ... and that one!"

We really have lots of beautiful cars around our area, but the funny thing was that all those luxury cars were driven today by very beautiful ladies.

Trying to laugh a little bit of him, i was seriously said to him: "Albert! What are you looking at?! Tell me the truth!".

He did not understood my question and replies ... "At the car!"

"Are you sure of that?!"

"Yes! Why?!"

"Albert tell me the truth! I believe you were looking at that beautiful lady!"

"No! No! ... i was not doing that!"

He is only 11 and even if their teacher from school told us that speak about sex already ... he did not knew how to react to what i've just told him.

And i was continuing.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

"Albert! You are lying to me! You were looking at that gorgeous woman! Tell me the truth"

"No! I swear, Daddy!"

He is a very good kid ... and i stoped the joke .. smiling and saying ...

"Too bad! I was looking at those ladies ... not at the expensive cars!"

Also explained to him ... that we were with the ugly car ... so the ladies will not notice the 2 of us with that car.

Might look like a nonsense ... but i already accepted the fact that i am a sinner.

And ... i should only ask all of you ... "Aren't we all sinners?!"

Many times you ask for another life, but are you really ready for a new one?!

In all the movies or books about the law of attraction, which is a very interesting subject ... you learn that the main secret is ... Ask ... Believe ... Receive.

But the main question is why does not happen right away?!

If we ask and believe why don't we get in the next moment what we asked for?!

Well ... the answer might be that ... most of the time we ask for nonsense things ... that we don't really want.

We believe we want a red Porsche ... cause a friend has one ... or a gorgeous mistress cause our neighbour has one ... or a house with a lake view, just cause the uncle has one.

In fact ... we want something that other people have ... just because we don't have it ... yet.

The moment when that dream becomes true, in a very short time, in many of the cases, it will mean nothing to you.

There are statistic studies about people that bought very expensive cars and it looks like the pleasure of having that car ... it takes only 3 months.

But there is also something else ... why the law of attraction does not work right away ... and i should ask ... are we really ready for another life ... the one that we dream?!

I mean ... the change requires, in most of the cases, to pay a price for it.

Imagine you are an alcoholic and you spend lots of time in the bar with your friends.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

You stay for hours in there, you enjoy the company of your friends ... but you also know that the alcohol will ruin your life ... and you ask for a big change ... a life without alcohol.

That will probably mean ... a life without your actual friends.

Let's assume you want to lose weight fast ... but you just love eating.

Are you ready to forget about all the delicious things you daily taste?!

The change will always have its price ... and it will be a non sense to believe you can live between the 2 worlds.

So ... as the law of attraction to happen as you want ... ask yourself first, those 2 questions:

"Am I really wanting this?!"

Am i ready to pay the price for this change?!"

And if is a real Yes ... and you really believe in what you ask to the Universe ... it will just happen.

Can the profession of the partner influence your happiness?! What is the real connection between the personal and professional life?!

I heard stories ... that in the past women were really attracted by the profession of the man from their lives.

A doctor, a colonel from army, an aviator ... these were jobs that woman just loved.

But i smile when i hear these kinds of stories cause it happens i know doctors, colonels ... aviators etc etc.

They are people with very strong egos ... and i know by such a long time that egocentric persons can't create happiness around them.

But what is the real connection between our professional and personal lives?!

Can the profession have a positive influence into the relationship 2 person have together?!

Well ... i am not a therapist, a philosopher or a guru, but i believe is not the profession that defines us as human beings ... but the soul we carry inside of us.

The profession is indeed important as a social status ... but the social status will never bring with itself the happiness.

The happiness in a couple appears when 2 souls are feeling great together ... and need nothing else for that ... not even social status, money ... or other things or circumstances.

I am sure that ... still there are many opinions about the importance of those things in our lives, but i still have the power to believe that there must be no real connection between the personal and professional life.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

So ... at the question ... when is a woman happier ... when she has a doctor or a banker?! ... i should answer that the one that knows to better connect to her ... is going to be the one that is winning the battle.

Happiness depends only by our souls ... if we open the heart with love ...cause no matter who we really are as a profession ... life as a couple will be amazing.

You need nothing to be happy togheter ... but good chemistry and good vibes.

Don't look for other nonsense illusions!

Hiding who we really are ... just a way of surviving

Have you ever thought why do we choose to hide who we really are?! I mean ... if you are a sensitive person and in the real life you are an engineer ... why you hide the fact that you write poems?!

For my case, only few persons know that i write and in the end i changed the subject, but also the social media pages where i write. So instead of saying to everybody that i write, i decided to hide from anyone this fact.

But what i see funny is that i discovered lots of other people around me that are writing poems and essays.

Writing is a way of trying to define your feelings and in fact the way you see life ... and many of my friends were doing this in different ways.

But still ... we hide those facts.

We don't feel comfortable about the part from us that is not following the dogmatic way of being.

It looks like we have a side that is breaking all the rules we've been taught to respect.

Everything else ... any other kind of action or behavior, that is not like the one the society showed you ... is a non sense.

I a world dominated by money and other different kind of possessions ... writing, painting, studying the stars etc ... will create the imagine of nonsense actions.

We find a trick and name it ... hobby ... but still we hide this artistic or sensitive part.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

Today ... i believe everything is happing this way ... because we don't have the guts to be on the real stage of life ... who we really want to be.

The power of dogmatic thinking ... or behavior ... dominates us and expressing our real personality is seen as a total nonsense.

Hiding who we really are becamas just a way of surviving ... of still dreaming that one day we will have the courage to say ... "I am not the one that you know ... but if you can look in my soul ... you will meet the real me".

“It was too damm good.
The kind of good thar ruins
you for everyone else”

It happens i know a couple that is very difficult to be understood. I mean ... i tried, but everything looks like a total nonsense, even to me ... a person that is studying the journey of the human being in the path to nowhere.

The couple i know were very deep in love, but they tried 100 times to get rid one of another.

The only real problem is that the Universe is laughing of the 2 of them and arrange some “accidental” meeting all the time.

They block each other on all the posible channels ... and they succeed to forget one of another ... but when they met again ... everything collapse.

In the next second ... they remembered about the love story that they had ... and the fact that they were soul mates.

They could never be togheter for real ... but they could also not forget about how damm good it was in the story.

And even if everything was for them a pathless path ... each time when they were arranging things to start being a couple in the real life ... something stoped them.

But the nonsense was that the love could not be deleted from their souls.

And even if they decided to stop seeing each other ... no matter what ... in the end ... just accidentally meetings ended making love again and again.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

It was ... in the story ... and out of the story ... then again in the love story

A never ending story ... but a beautiful one.

They not even bothered to unblock each other ... cause they knew that somehow they will meet again ... and for a short time they will become lovers again and again and again.

Love stories are difficult to be understood.

Sometimes we see them ... as the secret of a beautiful life ... sometimes as a total nonsense.

The power of love is stronger than anything else ... cause is so damn good when you are meeting the soul mate ... but that just ruins you for starting any kind of other story.

My vibe ... my actual currency
The nonsense why poor can mean rich and rich can mean poor

I've just rented last night a house for the workers of a guy that explained me in about one hour how rich he is.

He owns a hotel near the airport, a house by the lake side, that costed about 1 million dollars, expensive cars etc etc.

The discussion was a total nonsense ... the history of how he became rich ... and it was not going anywhere.

At one point, i understood that the Universe brought the guy to me to better understand the philosophy behind the nonsense ... but the moment i took his money for the rent ... i decided to stop his speech.

Being at his home ... at the lake ... i started my speech and said ... "You see the house over there ... at the corner of the lake... i live there. I own it by 20 years. In fact i own 30 houses.

I used to be a drug dealer and all the money i made ... i invested into real estate."

The guy was watching me and could not believe what i was saying.

When i came to his house i came with an old ugly car ... but he saw i own a residential complex ... so this time my speech became a nonsense to him.

I was smiling inside of me ... seeing the dynamic of the discussion.

But i have a question for you?!

You think the possessions will make you a rich person?!

How someone becomes really rich?!

With money, with different other kind of possessions ... or by the beautiful vibe that has everyday?!

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

Today ... i see in everything we believe we own ... an illusion and i believe that the human being can't be defined by things.

My vibe is ... my actual currency.

When i see someone that explains me how rich is ... i laugh inside of me ... and say in my mind ... "how poor this person is ... i can't believe it".

How we feel ... as souls should be more important as ... how we believe money defines us.

We don't really own things ... but use those things ... somehow have the control of them and nothing more.

And every time i meet a poor or a rich person (according by the standards of the society) ... i better understand the nonsense why poor can mean rich and rich can mean poor.

Karmic characters ... are the ones that destroy everything you have ... for letting you see the path of a new life

I believe everyone knows today what karma is ... but unfortunately they don't really understand the meaning of it.

And there are persons that respect the laws of Universe just because they are afraid of karma.

Indeed for every action there is an equal reaction ... but the day when you understand that you also need to follow other paths in life ... means you've got the message.

For me ... everything happened ... in a way that looked like a negative one ... was always the start for something positive ... but something really great.

You see ... should be a non sense to believe that karma is something bad ... something to be afraid of.

Karma carries all the time a message and in many case it speaks to you trough the words or the actions and experience you have with other people ... that we could name karmic characters.

Even if in the beginning they look like positive persons ... and later on we see them as real enemies ... those people that makes us understand what karma is ... they are actually teachers that makes us follow another path in life.

They might look like they destroy everything we name life for us ... but in the end ... they only help us end a toxic chapter ... for starting a much interesting life.

You see ... life ... for some of us, especially when we dream for something else ... something great ...in one point, it needs to start.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

And karmic things just happens.

Is like death.

You can have no doubt that one day ... it will happen, but you need to know how to react.

And you need to die and be reborn for a totally different life.

Karmic persons ... appears as great friends first and then ... later on, because we suffer so much with the new generated situations, that are related to them ... we just don't like them anymore.

But later on ... those people, seen in the beginning as friends, then as enemies ... to see them as people that guide us to the life we dared to dream for.

The change has a price.

And a big change ... has a big price.

Karmic persons will stay in your life till the moment when you are ready for this big change.

Later on ... without even noticing, they will just disappear ... in some cases ... forever.

But you will always remember them as the persons that changed your life.

You will miss them ... but life goes on.

Accept the karmic characters in your life.

Embrace their presence.

They will only guide you ... not destroy you.

Yes ... we need people in our lives ... friends or enemies ... to teach us what life is about.

On my path of studying the nonsense, i thought a lot at the quote ...
"Some people are in our lives for a reason ... and some for a season".
You see ... sometimes we need someone to guide us.

In school we learn to read and write, then we learn from our teachers geography, chemistry, biology etc etc and all kinds of other useless things.

But we start life and we don't have any teacher for making us understand what life is about.

When i've been in school, maybe the 7th grade, i've seen a movies with a young guy, that was fallen in love with a beautiful girl of his age.

He wanted to start his sexual life with her, but non of the 2 knew what this really was about.

But the guy meets a lady, who was about 15 years older that him ...
and she teaches him what sex is.

The movie itself is a mix of sequences between real love and sex.

It's was expressing a truth that for making love with the one that you consider is the love of your life ... you need to know what sex is about.

But how to know what sex is about, if neither you or the partner ... had sex before.

You need a teacher for that.

So ... the nonsense is quite clear.

Being in love is not enough.

You need to also know how to really act.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

And i wonder myself if it makes sense to have a mistress when you are married by 15 years ... and you don't know anymore what passion is about.

Is the mistress a nonsense?! ... or she is a teacher that for a while makes you remember the pleasure of passion ... the art of living happy near a lady ...

And in the end you discover that the amazing lady from your life can be also your wife.

Does the guy from the movie i told you about ... does he acted in a nonsense way learning the art of having sex ... with another lady ... when in fact he is in love with that amazing girl?!

Well ... i believe that we will always see the story from 2 different angles ... and one it will look like a nonsense, but behind that ... if we have the power to admit it, we will find the real answers.

Yes ... some people are in our lives for a reason and some for a season ... but at the school of life ... we will always need teachers for that.

The pleasure and the art of eating ... an addiction, an attribute of wealth or a nonsense?!

Over the weekend, i've visited the house of a guy that used to be for 25 years, the king of the country i live in.

The house was looking great ... even if it was from 400 years ago ... the garden also ... but i was a little bit amazed of what the touristic guide told us ... when it came to foods.

It looks like when the guy met his friends from that time ... of course, only rich guys as him ... they were serving 60 types of different foods. They use to start at 12 am and ended everything at 10 am ... the second day.

The guide was giving us all kinds of other informations, but i could not believe that at a party they could actually serve 60 types of foods.

It looks like everyone from that time who was rich ... was also fat.

Being fat was first of all a symbol of wealth, but the funny thing was that they were not living more than 60 years old, because of that.

When i've been in high school ... i've met an old lady, that came from the royal family and was serving 3 types of food ... explaining me that the poor people serve only 1 or maximum 2 types of foods.

So 400 years ago, to show the wealth you own ... at the meetings you had with friends you had to serve tens of types of foods.

20 years ago ... the standard was minimum 3 types ... plus desert.

Today ... i eat only 2 times a day ... and i prefer to not mix ... not even 2 types of foods.

But ... i still see lots of fat people all around.

So ... what is behind eating?!

A pleasure?! An addiction?! An attribute of wealth?!

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

... or a nonsense?!

I am laughing when i remember that hundreds of years ago, the rich people were eating 60 types of foods in less than 24 hours ... and that being fat was considered an attribute of wealth.

Society changed a little bit ... but still many people see in eating ... the pleasure of being alive.

I even heard the expression ...” If i don’t eat everything i want ... what do i live for?!” ... and i understand that the nonsense is the main attribute of the human being.

And i continue laughing ... of the king and his friends.

Why should we bother to celebrate different events from our lives?!
Is that a nonsense ... or the need of beautiful things in our actual reality?!

I wonder who invented the concept of celebrating.
Today is my birthday, but i never liked to celebrate that.
But maybe people are celebrating only things that brings them beautiful memories.
Connecting to different beautiful moments from the past ... becomes a way of bringing greatness into the present moment.
But in my case ... i remember when i was 13, it was my birthday and i went to the cinema ... without telling my mother.
At that time it was no mobile phone, so i could not let her know where i was.
When i came back ... she acted in a bad way .. cause she was desperate of not finding me.
Today am 43 ... so 30 years later ... after 30 occasions of celebration my birthday ... i still dislike to celebrate the day.
I remember how that day was ... that it does not bring me good memories ... and i don't even bother to tell people about what day it is.
But i have also other close friends, men and women that don't like to celebrate their birthday also ... cause ... maybe they had similiar stories with my story.
And i also have friends that have big parties, with tens of people invited ... with great preparations ... with musicians ... and can't really understand why they do it.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

Probably ... they always had parties like that, even as kids and makes them feel, one day a year ... important persons.

It happens i also know people that celebrate the fact that 2 years from now they broke up with the love of their life, or 7 years ago the mother died, or 3 years ago they were arrested for 3 days for fraud ... but they succeed to get our of jail.

And also people that celebrate that 5 years ago met with the wife ... which they consider the love story of their life.

We somehow connect to the past ... and celebrate beautiful, but also not so beautiful events ... that somehow changed our lives.

Sometimes ... the memories still control us ... and we want to feel an important person in the lives of others ... at least for one day from 365 ... or we celebrate other beautiful or bad moments from the past ... paying them a huge attention ... is a way of giving value to our lives.

Might look like a nonsense ... but probably the human being needs ... to have a meaning ... and the illusion that what their lives are important ... and if this is missing from the actual reality ... we just reconnect to the past.

And for a day ... we ignore the present moment ... forgetting that we see no meaning on the actual timeline.

One of the main lessons in life ... is that nothing and nobody should be allowed to fuck your vibe ... not even you

We have lots of reasons why we lose the good energy of vibration that we could have.

During the years i met persons that explained me the fact that they worked a lot at the energy they have during the day.

It was actually just a mask and nothing more.

Kind of an artificial vibe ... that was only created the illusion that they were ok.

A total nonsense.

But the truth is that the only way in how we can have a great vibe all the time is ... by accepting anything is happening around us.

When we are relaxed ... not obsessed by the fact that things ... or the people ... should act in a specific way ... everything comes by itself.

But the Ego wants as the reality to look in a certain way ... and if you have the power to analyze later ... you will laugh by yourself.

And then you go back to the victim stage ... cause you start to not like what is going on.

Things go out of control.

People are acting strange ... even treat you in a miserable way.

Real life ... the way you see it ... looks like a crazy one and everything is against you.

But life is the way it is ... and everything happens for a reason.

Sometimes ... behind everything you see ... there is a lesson and nothing ... or nobody should be allowed to destroy your vibe.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

And truth be told ... nothing and no one is destroying your vibe ... as you might believe ... but only your thoughts ... with nonsense scenarios about the present reality.

The difference between the present moment and the way we thought it should look like is ... what we should name ... our expectations and i am sure you heard many times the expression ... "our expectations hurts us most".

At the moment of awakening we see that nothing and nobody can fuck our vibes ... but we do it.

The nonsense is seen.

We just destroy our energies, just because we cannot understand the difference between natural and artificial.

Natural ... is the way everything goes by itself ... in the real world.

Artificial means trying to control things and situations ... and usually ends up with the unhappiness cause not everything is happening in the way we desire to happen.

The nonsense ... is always a paradox.

Just let everything come by itself ... and let your vibe in peace.

Truth be told ... we can't adapt ourselves to the perfection

I look like a normal person.

I mean ... at least i have no handicap ... or if i have one ... that is the fact that i can't adapt to the perfection.

I've worked a lot for my company, looked for the money all the time ... and money came to me ... even in large amounts.

I am married, with kids ... with a beautiful house ... a beautiful car etc etc.

From outside ... everything looks perfect.

But ... and there is a big "but" ... a piece from the puzzle is missing.

And i know lots of people just like me.

I chased the success ... i worked very, very hard ... i followed all the dogmatic rules ... but i could not connect with the joy of having what i have.

I am sure there are millions of people that succeed more than i did ... but i am also sure that there are billions that haven't succeed anything at all in life and have the illusion that after the success ... you will meet someone that gives you a box ... containing the secret key to the happiness.

No ... it will not happen.

Happiness appears in any circumstances ... and is not related with success, money ... or any other desires you chaise.

Happiness comes when you have the ability to connect to the present moment, no matter what the present moment means.

Nothing more.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

Otherwise ... no matter what you will achieve in life ... in any position or circumstances ... you will feel that still a piece from the puzzle is missing.

And the real truth ... the nonsense of our behavior ... is that many of us have this disability of being unable to connect to the perfection ... that is in fact what we live in the present moment.

Sometimes you need to see the abstract

There are lots of times when is very difficult to understand why the things are happening in the way that are happening.

And especially the way people treat us.

But, as a summary of all the books that i ever read ... i believe that everything we see is just a reflexion of our inner soul and of everything we've done during this lifetime.

But still ... we don't understand why?!

Why that person X is treating you in that miserable way?!

Well ... i have a question for you.

Did you ever treated someone that way?!

Please don't answer and also don't lie!

But ... why you feel weak?! ... dominated?!

Why you see everything as something too abstract to be understood?!

If we should try to understand what it means that everything in life is just a reflection ... an echo ... that for every action, there is an opposite reaction having the same force ... we will have the awakening ... and see that everything happens for a reason ... to send us a powerful message about how we should really act on the stage of life.

Might think that the Universe communicates with you in an abstract way ... but is not.

Everything is just a powerful message and nothing more.

But let me ask you something else.

You are at the corner of the street ... and a homeless person comes to you asking for one dollar.

You just reply ... "Go away!".

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

Years later, you need money for surgery for a member of your family ... in a foreign country ... and you start asking that at friends, at other people from your family ... and even at people you don't know.

They don't tell you ... "Go away!" ... but they just don't help you. The homeless person asked 1 dollar, most probably ... for surviving. You ask a huge amount ... for a member of your family ... also for surviving.

So ... what is the difference between you and the homeless person?! Why you treated that person in such a horrible way for 1 dollar ... but feel horrible that people are not helping you ... for an amount that is probably 100.000 times bigger?!

You believe it's a total nonsense what i am saying?!

Maybe i am over reacting a little bit, but still, there are lots of homeless people in this world, asking for one dollar and hear just the "Go away!"

We should not see life in such abstract light ... cause is not ... what is seen as abstract ... is just ... the mirror.

You're always one decision away from a totally different life

Few weeks ago i was with my kids, walking on streets in the city center.

We use to do this very often, cause i like to let them see how society looks like.

And at one moment, the youngest son showed me with his finger a beautiful Porsche ... saying ... "Can you tell us why that old man from that beautiful convertible car is having that young girl near him?!"

Well ... difficult question, cause my wife was near me and i did not knew what to answer ... but in the end i replied ... "You see ... that guy is a guy that decided to change his life ... but probably a little bit too late".

My wife did not liked the answer and completed me ... "Maybe is his daughter" ... but the other son came to us, very convinced of what he was saying ... "I saw that they kissed each other".

It was a gentleman of 65-70 years old ... with a gorgeous girl of 22-23 ... but they were looking good together.

So ... what else should i tell to my boys?!

Try to find a little lie?! ... as my wife tried ... so that the boys will not really see the real world ... or find a motivational explanation into a nonsense situation?!

What is the best way to present the world to the kids?!

It says that Budha was the son of a king.

His father ... did not wanted as the little prince Budha to find out what death was ... and the people working at the palace replaced over the night all the flowers that did not had life anymore ... with beautiful ones.

The king was seeing in that ... the symbol of death ... but in the end Budha found out the truth ... and explained to all of us in his teachings the nonsense of seeing death as something horrible.

So ... maybe we should raise our children ... letting them know the truth about everything and even a question as ... "Can you tell us why that old man from that beautiful convertible car is having that young girl near him?!" ... could have the simple answer that ... maybe he decided to have the guts to enjoy life a little bit late ... but still not so late ... cause he was still driving.

And i forget to mention that i was whispering also to my son ... "I believe ... i will not wait so much to do what this guy is doing at 70". And i smiled and continued our walk into the city center.

Half time writer ... and Half time lover?!

Truth be told a writer needs a muse.

Without a muse ... a writer will not write with the necessary passion ... so that his writings could have value.

But having a muse is dangerous ... and i wonder what is happening when he has ... not a muse ... but muses.

On the other hand a philosopher needs an unhappy life that should force him to seek for answers about life and all that is about.

Even having a muse should be a problem in this process of finding the meaning of life.

But being a philosopher is dangerous ... cause you could lose your minds ... if you are a weak person.

A muse could help the philosopher also ... but needs to torture him. Otherwise ... feeling the happiness in the soul ... he will become a writer.

But what is a writer?!

What is a philosopher?!

Can this be named a profession?!

Well ...

I believe that writers ... poets ... philosophers ... are people that can't live without understanding what is behind the human being.

In a world that is totally focused on money, possessions etc ...

thinking what is behind us ... as beings ... looks like a total nonsense.

But those guys, having this journey on the path to nowhere ... trying to define the undefined ... they got lost.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

In the end they spend their lives ... half time writing ... and half time being lovers.

The final result?!

Many of them ... just as the kids that want to become football players .. dreaming about being the next Maradona of the world ... just fail.

And i wonder why.

You see ... life is a labyrinth ... and is too complicated not to get lost. Even the muse that guides us for a while ... disappear one day and never gets back ... so deciding to be half time writers ... half time lovers ... is a way of failing too.

But is there any solution?!

Well ... we should love everything around ... and see in everything "the muse" that inspires or actually whispering us ... the secrets of life.

I personally decided to follow this pathless path ... and i smile cause someone just asker me:

"Are you a full time writer?!"

"No! Just part time" ... i answer

And then she said ... "I see. You are a half time writer and half time lover".

I failed in all the directions ... and i still continue .. having no direction ... but enjoying all i see around.

Does your life looks like a serial from Disney Channel?! Welll ... just switch the channel ... or turn off tv.

All the time happens things difficult to be understood.
Even if we believe in the concept of Universe, God ... Allah etc ... can't understand why everything looks like a cartoon serial.
Things without any meaning at all ... keep repeating one after another.

In one point ... you start to believe that you are on Disney Channel.
But why?!

Why should the Universe do that to you?!

Well ... i think it's all a misunderstanding.

I do believe that what we call ... destiny really exists ... but ...

The destiny is the main ideas that we need to experience during our life time ... and we could do it by our intention, or being forced.

When everything is boring and meaningless ... it just means that the Universe is still waiting for you to take action.

When the Universe sends a tsunami in your life ... it means ... is already too late ... and you need to learn the lessons ... by force.

Keeping the right balance between how you act and how you actually understand the messages the Universe whispers to you ... is not something easy ... but you should pay attention to that.

So ... what should we do when we dislike what we see in our lives?!

Well ... first of all everything you see ... is just a reflection of the soul ... and the easiest way to define the soul in the present moment is to analyze the vibe you have today.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

What you do if you look on tv and don't like what you see?!

You just switch the channel ... or turn off tv.

Same we should do in life.

Trying to change the vibe ... the path that we follow ... is a good way to start.

Boring ... means ... just that you are not in the right place.

I once read a book explaining why the next moment when we come home ... we start tv ... and watch anything ... just to not listen to our thoughts anymore.

Well ... i think "turning off tv" means ... to decide being you with yourself ... the path of solitude.

So ... i am not saying that there are certain rules to follow in life ... but we should pay more attention when we don't like what we see in life.

Changing the script ... deciding to do this ... not by force ... but by our decisions ... is a wise idea.

And even the path of solitude is a much better one when you don't like what you see.

No matter what you decide ... even if what you will do ... will look as a nonsense ... if you will feel again the pleasure of being alive ... it means you are on the right path of your destiny.

And one day you see no difference between your world and the life in North Korea
... but you don't know why

When i began to study the nonsense ... i realized that ... behind the nonsense there is a path that we can't see.

When i say nonsense ... i mean all our silly actions ... or thoughts.

We live in a robotic way ... and even if we are not happy in the present moment ... we just continue everything in the same way ... on and on and on.

One day, we even start to believe that we live in a prison ... or prisons.

The job is a prison.

The marriage is a prison.

Everything around ... is just a repetitive way of living ... having no sense at all.

There is no joy of being alive.

You actually have a life similar with the one of the people from North Korea ... but the problem is that you are the dictator ... and you was the one that somehow chose the prison ... or even built it.

No one forced you to go at the job you have now and actually you can change it anytime.

No one forced you to get married and in fact you can change the partner ... or just ... simple divorce.

You see no difference between your world and the life in North Korea ... but you don't know why.

Well ... let me tell you the truth.

BEYOND THE NONSENSE ... THERE IS A PATH

You accepted the nonsense as your main way of living your life.
You are the one that is responsible for your unhappiness ... and in fact ... you are also the one that could change everything right away.
The nonsense is a pathless path ... that actually goes to your soul.
Accepting its presence ... defining it ... you realize that beyond it ... there is indeed a path.
The present moment.
Enjoy it!
The prison ... even if it is only metaphoric ... or a real one ... is the best place you could be ... but you need to understand that the only secret is that we should enjoy life and feel alive.

INTRODUCTION

The real change will come only when you will accept it inside your soul ...

There are so many books about change or success, that you will not have enough time to read them during this life time.

Sometimes looking for a huge success that could complete our lives ... the change is just part of the script.

And success indeed can't come without the change.

But what is the change?!

Can you do it by yourself, or you just need special help from different people?!

Or maybe the real change can come only from inside of us ... and the only real help as it to happen is to accept it ... not only want it.

Accept it ... as part of your life.

Imagine that many years ago ... you had been poor, but you dreamed to be rich.

And one day you become rich.

But the funny question is ... do you accept the fact that you became rich?!

There are so many people that they were poor and then they became millionaires ... but soon after they lost everything again.

So ... they re became poor again.

They did not accepted the change.

Could not integrate it in their life.

When change comes in small steps ... is much easier to accept it as part of our new life.

When change comes suddenly ... we need to change our thinking right away ... and dare to see the whole scene of life in different colors.

On the paths trough life ... we get lost.

We lose all our dreams, one by another ... and we also lose ourselves also.

One day ... the idea of change looks illusory and we wonder why we can't understand the fact that we are never happy anymore.

For a beautiful life, no matter if you are 20, 30, 40, 50 or even 60 or 70 ... you just need a plan ... the plan for the change.

But the change needs to be a positive one ... and not a collection of silly desires.

And if your life is miserable today ... small changes will make almost no difference at all.

The change needs to be a process of ... dreaming big no matter what happens in your actual life.

But you need to visualize and accept the future ... cause the real change means the break up from your past.

You will lose yourself into this process and become a new you ... but if you really want a new you ... you will accept it.

The secret of change is to focus all your energy, not on fighting the old, but on building the new”
(Socrates)

Truth be told, most of us have boring lives, but have you ever made the connection between the concept of a “boring life” and the idea of change?! Are you looking for a real change or just want to replace the “boring life” ... with anything different?!

In fact the secret of change, and the concept of change is inside of us. We might only need some “fresh air” and nothing more ... and making few steps on the path of the change ... we do feel different.

Is just like you are very tired and you only need few days off to relax and then you will be fresh again.

So ... what change does it means for you?!

Are you only pretending that you want the change ... or it's a real path you want to follow in life?!

How you focusing your energy?!

On fighting with the old ... or building the new?!

Lots of questions ...

The change not even started and you start to feel discomfort trying to answer all those questions, but without defining the real meaning of change for you ... you will not be sure if you fight against the past or only follow the dreamed future.

And when we speak about change ... i mean a real one ... you need to learn the art of managing your energies and first of all decide if you want to start a strange process ... where you are going to lose the old you ... and become a new person.

If you want to become rich, for example, you will not only need to become rich ... own properties, money, etc etc ... but feel rich inside of you.

Being rich will become an emotion that you will have inside of you all the time.

But not long not time ago, comparing with the new you ... you were a poor person.

So ... what you do with the old you?! ... the poor one?!

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

Statistic shows that we only replace a reality with a similar one

Just forget about him ... and don't let yourself be anchored into the past anymore.

You accept to live in the present, with the emotions of everything wealthy means.

Let's assume ... you want to be a writer ... so you do what?!

You focus on the fact that no one knows about you as a writer ... or that you want to become a great one?!

You see ... you only need to have in mind the final destination and enjoy the path till that destination, cause the path itself is the life ... your life.

Understanding the art of focusing your energy ... is maybe the first step.

And the change ... is only a decision.

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

Statistic shows that we only replace a reality with a similar one

If not now, when?! I have a question for you ... when is a perfect time for a change?!

Well ... let me tell you a short real story.

Few years ago, i've been staying with someone that used to be very close to me. He did some illegal things and we already know that he could be arrested very soon.

Even if i've mentioned to stop what he was doing ... for so, so many times he always ignored me.

And guess what?!

He started to explain to me that it is the worst time to be arrested ... cause all his things were not in order.

... and that was the moment i started to laugh.

I've asked ...

"When the hell it's a good time to be arrested?!

Do you think at 20, 30, 40, 50, 60 or 70?!

Or maybe 80?!

You have nothing to lose at that age.

Do you think someone that has everything in order in his life ... is ready to be arrested?!"

I realized the guy was an idiot.

And guess what ... when i explained again that the moment when we were talking ... was the best moment for a change .. he ignored me again.

So i actually understood that for him, at that time as him to stop what he was doing ... all those illegal things ... the best thing that could happen was to be arrested.

I cared about the guy ... but i was losing my time with someone that did not understood the need of the change.

Now ... tell me ... imagine that someone dear to you ... has an addiction for drugs or alcohol ... what should be the best time to stop this addiction?!

Next week?! Two weeks from now?! Next month?!

Nooo ... hell no.

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

Statistic shows that we only replace a reality with a similar one

The best time for a change ... is now.

And if not now ... when?!

Today is the ideal day ... wake up ... define the change ... believe in its positivity ... and just do it!!

Don't wait for better times ... cause all we have is only the present moment.

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

Statistic shows that we only replace a reality with a similar one

Truth be told we want an over night change in our lifes

There are many moments when the actual reality is very difficult to handle and looks like we have no escape at all.

We dream of a quatum jump, even if we dont understand the concept very well.

In few words, the reality sucks and we dream of a life that we will never have, because deep inside us, we dont really believe we will ever meet this reality.

We have a fake attitude that we are looking for change, but this attitude is just a mask for our fears... as them not to be seen.

So we wonder today if there is a way of how our lifes can be changed in what we think that should be better for us.

Does it exists a system that we could follow and achieve our dream life?!

But it must be a simple way ... otherwise we know that we will not follow the path.

Everything is happening is related to us, and everything could happen is also related to us.

The magic answeare, because we are looking only for magic answeares, is the art of defining life.

Yes ... this is an art.

We need to start be honest with ourself, and all the answeares to simple questions as "why am i fat?! ... because i eat to much" , "why my partner is cheating on me?! ... because i did not knew to be that perfect partner that i had to be" and the list of questions will go on.

We need to start defining what we dont like. Once we undestand that the change is in our powers and if we really want a change, we will start the process of achieving the new life we dream at.

We dont need to go to a therapist, we dont need to study motivational issues of social media and dont even need to read hundreds or thousands of books to start the change process.

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

Statistic shows that we only replace a reality with a similar one

The art of defining our lives, means that we have the courage to understand what we don't like and define very clear how our reality should look like.

The depression, or what we call depression, because many things are unclear in our minds, is this huge gap between where we are now and where we want to be. We are looking for a magic bridge that should help us go very easily from one point to the other.

The process itself is a very simple one, as long as we decide to be honest to us. The art of defining ... yes ... is an art.

And also to live ... is an art.

Once we decide that we are brave enough to live our lives... the dream life... the magic will happen, cause all the magic is our powers.

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

Statistic shows that we only replace a reality with a similar one

The real change is about following your own path

We come to the world with what is called tabula rasa.

This is the theory that individuals are born without built-in mental content, and therefore all knowledge comes from experience or perception.

And then the society is teaching us what life is about.

... and we believe it.

But the funny thing is that during our life time we have the chance to follow so many paths and we do follow some of them ... but almost no one makes us feel complete.

Why?!

Well ... because all those paths are not related 100% with what you really want to do in life.

It is the thinking of society that guided you in a certain direction that you thought is the right one for you.

And all is happening ... even if it looks like you changed your life ... is not giving you the infinite joy as you should have, just by being alive and having the desire of change completed.

The real change and the real path of change in fact ... comes only when you understand who you are and what is the whole meaning of your life.

You can read 1 million books about change, but if you can't have a honest discussion with yourself, deciding what should satisfy you ... first as a soul ... you will never attract what needs to fulfill your life.

No one can show you the real path for you.

Maybe ... someone can create an idea of what should suit for you ... but defining the real direction is related only to the ability of listening your inner soul.

And this is why real change ... is only about following your own path.

There will be times when all will look like a pathless path ... but if your intuition will say that this is the direction of your meaning in life ... you should just do it.

Adrian Gabriel Dumitru

And it's ok if you followed other ideas that were not yours.

You did not lost your time.

You only exercised the concept of change and now you are ready for the real one.

Try to understand the art of connecting to your own soul, learn to listen to your intuition ... and you will know all you have to do.

... and don't forget ... get rid of everything means dogmatic thinking!

When you see the negative change at the persons that you used to like a lot ... just remember them who they used to be. Nothing more!

People change.

Yes ... we all change and it's nothing wrong with that, but the only real problem is that sometimes we don't react well at the lessons given by the Universe ... and the change becomes a negative one.

It happens i met not so long time ago a friend that i did not saw for 15 years.

She was a pretty girl, very intelligent and also a beautiful soul.

She was about 24 at that time and now she was close to 40.

It was a real pleasure to see her again and i was really happy because of that.

Today she had the same beauty and maybe she was even more intelligent ... but soon after i realized i deal with a totally different person.

She was very negative, was afraid of people ... of absolutely everybody and even if she knew me by such a long time she treated me almost like a war criminal.

Arguing with her for no reason, seeing that i am losing my time and still trying to be polite, i decided to block her and forget that we've met.

The pleasure of meeting again disappeared and i understood that unfortunately life changed her a lot ... and not in a positive way.

But you know ... today you block someone on whatsapp and they write you on messenger or instagram ... and the same happened with her.

And seeing that i am still a "war criminal" ... i saw no way out than say:

"Listen my dear!

15 years ago i met a very beautiful soul, but i don't recognize that person anymore!

You were such an amazing person!

Please ... just try to remember who you've been at the time i first met you!

It will help you a lot if you try to meditate over this subject for a short while!"

I could be rude ... same as she've been with me, but she was not in a good shape anyway so that i should do this.

You see sometimes there is no real need of saying too much ... but only remember them that you used to know that they were amazing in the past ... and can't understand the change.

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

That's it! Nothing more!

On the path of change ... feeling that you are losing your mind is just part of the script

Afraid of change?!

... but you actually dream at the big change of your life.

Well .. it's actually like you like the idea of surfing, but you are afraid of waves, especially of big ones.

And you keep dreaming ... and nothing is really happening.

Well ... let me tell you something.

During time i met lots of people that were in the process of divorce.

I saw all of them ruined emotionally and some of them i could bet that they almost lost their minds.

It was the end of the world.

You know, i have quite a busy life and i missed them for a while ... and somehow when i met them again i was amazed.

The end of life was metamorphosed into the beginning of a new life.

All of them ... not only 1 or 2 were looking totally different ... changed in a very beautiful way.

They were looking better, speaking better, acting better ...

In fact i could say that they became the best version of themselves.

So ... how is it possible as such a difficult process to redefine them in such a beautiful way?!

Well ... sometimes change is a process you plan and sometimes is a forced process, induced by the Universe.

But the final result is a beautiful one.

The meaning of change is connecting to our portential, explore it ... and become the best version we could be.

But we need to accept following ... the new path ... the change.

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

Statistic shows that we only replace a reality with a similar one

Things running out of control with the partner?!

Start a new EXPERIMENT ... don't try to CHANGE the loved person ... CHANGE yourself and become the dreamed partner you are looking for ...
You will not fail this time.

Wayne Dyer used to say ... "change the way you look at things and things you look at change".

Would be a lie to say that when things don't go right ... we don't have in our minds the idea that all the circumstances, events and people should change?!

Everything in the Universe should change ... but not us.

Yes ... i think i am not over reacting ... but the real problem is that we don't understand the spiritual concept that the outer world is just a reflexion of the inner world from inside of us.

Some of us know the concept ... but can't believe it is a true one.

And we just continue life wondering why things don't go in the direction we want to.

We believe in plans, in harmony ... in the idea of the positive change ... but still life is not the way we thought it should be.

The solution?!

Well ... if you have the statistics with the real facts ... and you see that nothing really change in the relationship, at least not in a good way, why you don't try as an experiment to act as the dreamed partner you are looking for?!

Just .. as a final solution.

You see ... we look for perfection all around us, but we never believe that trying to be that perfect person ... we can inspire all the others, including the loved ones.

It says ... that we must be the change we want to see in the world.

And we should always have that in our minds ... but only with honesty.

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

Statistic shows that we only replace a reality with a similar one

A new beginning?!

Do you believe that restarting your life is an option?!

Unhappy, bored of life, feeling you have no meaning, waking up with no pleasure of life ... ?!

And still ... even if you don't feel alive ... you are afraid of change ... of a new beginning.

But how should we start a plan for changing life?!

I believe is quite simple.

Anyone knows to define what doesn't like in life and how the dreamed life would look like.

At least ... in theory.

But we are afraid of a new beginning.

You know a wise man used to say: "Don't be afraid to start over again. This time, you're not starting from scratch, you're starting from experience".

And still ... even if we have so many years of experience behind us, redefining everything is a script we can follow only theoretically.

But what is the difference between a person that has a toxic life and does not feel well because of that ... and a person that is taking drugs and wants to get rid of this addiction?!

Is it easy to start the change?!

Well ... starting is probably not too complicated ... but continuing to follow this path is the difficult part.

In fact is only a decision ... to not come back at a life you dislike and think only of the beauty of life ... that you deserve it.

And we always forget that new beginnings are beautiful ... and gives us good vibes.

So ... it's quite simple ... define where you are ... redefine everything with the values you want to have ... and start to enjoy the process.

There is nothing you have to lose.

... and remember what the wise man used to say.

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

Statistic shows that we only replace a reality with a similar one

On the path of change ... Tsunami is just part of the script.
So ... enjoy the waves!

There are many kinds of changes that you can do ... but usually we prefer the easy things.

We talk about big issues ... but when we talk about real facts ... we just prove that we are experts in defining in beautiful, motivational words ... and nothing more.

But you see ... the change comes anyway.

It's just part of life ... of our evolution as spirits.

And more you wait for the change ... in a much aggressive way it will happen.

So the question is ... should we define and plan the change or just wait as the Universe to do it in a brutal way?!

But everything happens for a reason ... and seeing the change we should just smile and embrace everything happens, knowing and trusting that the Universe knows better what path we should follow.

The funny thing is that one day ... kind of tsunami is coming in our lives.

Everything change over night and we see it as a nightmare but it's only a brutal way of jumping from one reality to another.

The one you planned to have or the one you just need to live for the evolution of your soul.

You ask yourself why the car crashed, why the parent died, why the lover left you ... why, why, why.

An obsessive list of "why" questions and you even wonder why the Universe in treating you in such a way.

Losing the confidence in everything around is the next thing is happening ... and the nightmare goes on.

You just can't understand why this tsunami became your actual reality and can't see its meaning.

You are overwhelmed ... and can't believe that this can't be true.

You lose all your powers ... both physical and spiritual ones ... till the second

Adrian Gabriel Dumitru

when you understand that your only option is to ... believe in the Universe ... God ... Allah ... or however you name divinity.

Years later ... what you see today as a tsunami is just the beginning of a new beautiful life ... that you saw as a nightmare.

So probably ... embracing and accepting the change ... just as it happens ... is a wise decision.

Smile ... and enjoy the waves!

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

Statistic shows that we only replace a reality with a similar one

The statistics showing the unhappiness ... require the change ... and even a big one.

Have you ever thought of keeping a diary with what you mostly feel everyday?!

What do you think the statistics show?!

Well ... if you are not satisfied of how it sounds the results of this statistic ... a change needs to be done.

I was once in a toxic relationship and because of the fact that i was blind at everything was going on ... a dear friend, seeing that he will lose his time to convince me of everything is going on ... he asked me to think at the statistic of my feelings with that person.

He was not telling me that the relationship itself is toxic and nothing wrong about that lady ... but after a while i was meditating and realized my friend was right.

I only had moments when i was happy and i could almost define as an accident that fact.

I was amazed ... just by simple analyzing the last 2-3 weeks ... then the whole period of being together.

I had to admit that i was unhappy ... and in fact ... i had no chance to have a happy life with that person.

It was hard to admit ... but this was the truth.

Statistics showed i was unhappy.

Continuing life in that way .. was illogical.

And i really tried to change things in a way so that the statistics would change ... but everything was useless.

You see ... when things don't go right ... we need to have in mind the concept and the meaning of ... CHANGE.

Starting from the belief that we deserve a better life and in fact ... that we deserve to be happy all the time, refusing to accept such a high probability to be unhappy ... embracing the change is ... an interesting idea that we should have in mind.

And sometimes, the best time for change is now.

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

Statistic shows that we only replace a reality with a similar one

Can you become a new you ... when everybody knowing the "you that you hate" is behind your back?!

One day ... you decide to have make a change with your life.

Even a big one.

And you dare to start acting in the new direction.

For example you decide to stop smoking and your close friends are telling you, laughing in the same time:

"Hey! You think to stoped smoking just because you haven't smoke in the morning?!"

Haha!

I did the same many times.

2 hours from now you will beg me to give you a cigarette"

It's like you hear "You have zero chance to stop smoking! Don't even bother to play this game!"

And the funny things is that "encouragements" comes from very close friends ... not from strangers.

But imagine a different scenario.

You move to a different city, you start working in a new company ... and no one knows you in there.

You decide to stop smoking in the first day you start working in that company.

Guess what?!

No one will ever mention that you smoke or you don't smoke.

The new people know nothing about your habits and don't really care ... so at least you will not be forced to deal with their negativity.

The change ... has better chances to start, but also continue in the way you want to happen.

Truth be told ... people around us influence a lot our lives.

Is quite difficult to create a change ... when family or close friends tell you about your old way of being ... and that a different you is imposible to appear.

The problem is that we can't just move to another city or change the job ... just because we want to quit smoking or make another personal change.

But you see ... is just a decision to stop interacting with all those people that

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

Statistic shows that we only replace a reality with a similar one have a negative impact on your life.

And even the path of solitude is a better one ... and sometimes the best.

Also remember ... if you want to be a loser, spend your time with losers ... if you want to be a better person ... spend more time with positive people.

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

Statistic shows that we only replace a reality with a similar one

Change can be amazing! So ... dare to change the script of your life.

A good friend of mine told me a story about her and her closest friend.
You see .. my friend is a little bit crazy ... but crazy in a beautiful way.
If you have a problem she is going to give you the craziest solution ever, but the funny thing is that it really works all the time.

I usually don't listen to anyone, but when she tells me something ... i learnt to pay attention to her thoughts.

One day, years ago her friend started to have a boring life.

She was married, with kids ... having everything ... but still feeling unhappy.

She could not define why she was unhappy ... but she had this feeling by a long time already.

So ... when she asked my dear crazy friend what to do to change her life ... to redefine everything ... she replied ... "Listen, i know you are married but you need a lover ... at least for a while".

The lady was shocked.

She was with the kids all the time and she was not having an active social life, being busy with the family issues.

But, you know, sometimes things change over night.

And one day, being with her husband, she was driving and suddenly she had made a car accident.

They started to have a fight with the gentleman that was in the other car ... but also with his wife.

They could not agree on anything about who is responsible for the accident and in the end they decided to go at the Police Station.

And while waiting in there, this time it was only him and her ... they started to chat and smile to each other.

He invited her to a coffee and ended at a hotel across the street ... and she could not believe it.

Because of a car accident ... she started a love affair ... but she was feeling amazing.

She felt happy again and ... alive.

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

A person with very strong moral values, started a love affair ... but it was a change that reseted her vibe and we like it or not ... the Universe knows better what is good for us.

So ... even if you have a boring life and believe nothing can be changed in the script ... at the right time ... the Universe will take care of all the details.

You just need to know that sometimes the change can happen unexpectedly ... but can also be amazing.

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

Statistic shows that we only replace a reality with a similar one

Unfortunately at one point in life you will need to chose between having the CHANGE you dream so much about and the people you love most.

I recently had some issues with water in a basement ... so i had to understand better the principle of connected vessels.

I knew it from school, but i read it again for 100 times ... and suddenly i realized it is the same principle that can be applied in all our relationships we have with the others around us.

It's kind of a law of influences and the impact others have on us.

And there is a nice saying ... "you are the people you surround yourself with".

You know ... communicating vessels are a set of containers containing a homogeneous fluid and connected sufficiently far below the top of the liquid: when the liquid settles, it balances out to the same level in all of the containers regardless of the shape and volume of the containers.

And the same ... happens with the people that you hang around with.

Somehow ... at one point the energies between people that interact a lot ... goes to the same level.

Make an experiment ... surround yourself with positive people and you will start to be positive most of the times ... but surround yourself with negative people and then pay attention at the influence they have on your life.

It says that the change appears when you are in the right environment ... but this environment it's not the country, the city, the town or the little village where you live ... but the environment of energies.

For example if you read books written by great writers ... you can take a little bit of their energies ... and if you watch important personalities on tv, or listen them on youtube ... the influence is even bigger.

If you go to conferences, being also in the same environment with people having the same interests with you ... the influences are even much bigger.

Great speakers charge 10 times more if you want a seat in the front line.

Why?!

Cause they know about the impact of their energies on you.

So ... pay a little bit of attention at all those things and at the impact all the people around you have on your life.

The change always requires a new mental software ... but also a price to pay.

How easy can it be to update our minds?!

Well ... is not difficult to start reading books, watching motivational movies, understanding the world from many points of views ... but even when you do that ... the real change is not coming in the way you want it to happen.

You accept all the informations you read about ... and even in a dogmatic way ... and still the path of your life is the same.

Is like you have a beautiful car in your garage, but you can't find the key to use it.

You followed all the rules ... but no real result yet.

And you keep wondering why is not happening.

You accept everything ... except one thing ... that you are not ready for the change deep inside your soul.

You like the idea of change, you know all the mechanisms for getting it, but you can't embrace it.

But why?! ... why?! ... why?!

You see ... in life everything has a price.

You pay the price ... and you get what you really want.

It's just part of the process ... but you ignore that.

You want to look amazing, but still want to enjoy the pleasure of eating a big tasty chocolate everyday.

But have you ever thought that maybe it's time to not eat for a week if you want to look in the way you want to look?!

The list of examples is huge and we should lose our time to mention them ... but we still have in the soul the desire of that change.

You will need to act with your mind, but also with your soul and make an agreement that you really want to follow that new path.

And then ... right away you understand that everything is only a decision.

The decision to become the best version of yourself!

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

Change is the need to live also new chapters from the book of your life.

Had enough of living a boring life?!

But how can we define "boring" and what should be an "amazing life"?!

I wonder if you ever thought of the right balance between a "boring" and an "amazing" life?!

Not everybody could resign from the job that means 9 am to 5 pm, monday to friday.

On the other hand this "ugly" job provides the money for living a decent life, but also for other small pleasures like going in a vacation from time to time, go out with friends to a restaurant and do other things that we love to do.

But ... not all of them.

And you have to pay the price of spending part of your life ... in an office that looks for you ... like Alcatraz.

There is almost no way out.

I am still laughing when i think at the fact that one year and a half ago, after 21 years spent in the office, i decided to sell the office to get rid of it.

I could sell the company, but i needed it as a financial support for me, so i decided to sell the space where the office was.

For so many years clients came in there, but after selling it i saw that i could visit all of them or speak over the phone.

There are still few that insist to visit my office at that address, but i explain politely to them that my new office is at the best coffee shops from the center of the city.

After reading tens of books about change, i realized that at 75, if i would live that long, i would probably still be in from of my laptop on the desk from that beautiful office that i sold.

There was no way of going out of the "prison" ... than selling the "prison" ... and enjoy the money.

I am laughing of myself cause i see my primitive way of acting ... fighting me with me.

The one that stayed in the office for 21 years and believed that going to an office is an ok thing to do in life ... and the one that was believing that life is much more than living as a “prisoner”.

I was believing that the time for living other chapters from my life had come.

I was still continuing to work for my company, but many times that meant to speak from the phone ... and i could easily do that from a coffee shop ... from anywhere in the world.

You see ... the real change ... is getting the dream life you thought so much about, but the way it can happen can also mean a mix between old and new.

Yeeesss ... sometimes it's all kind of a ... fine tuning.

Just think about it!!

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

Changing the scenario of your life for 2-3 days ... is only a simple illusion that you ... tried.

In the real life, i am renting houses.

In the illusory world, where my mind is all the time, i am a writer.

But sometimes, the real life inspires me for my writings.

Few days ago, a dear friend of mine wrote me on whatsapp at 5:30 am that he wants to break up with his wife and needs a house so that she could move in there right away.

At 6 am i was presenting him the house.

At 7 am she was already unpacking her things in the house i rented for them.

I was looking at the 2 of them and i was smiling ... but i did not said anything.

They both looked very seriously.

Everybody believed that they broke up, but i did not even bother to take their money or at least to sign a contract for renting.

I speak lots of things with my friend and i just told him ... "Why haven't you thought to go in a vacation for few days?! I believe is even cheaper that making the move you've done today".

Of course ... he replied that he is very seriously about this and he will not change his mind.

3 days later, he brought me the key to the house and asked me how much he needs to pay for those 3 days.

I started to laugh ... and nothing could stop myself from doing that.

My dear friend changed his face when i was starting to do that, but he knew that i had strong reasons to laugh.

You see ... so many times in life ... we stop smoking, stop drinking alcohol, stop eating so much ... but that "big change" takes only 2-3 days.

Why?!

Because it's not a huge determination.

And even if it looks like a huge one ... it's only like a fire ... that stops very soon.

What can we do?!

Is there kind of a "therapy" for that?!

Well ... i believe that at the right time ... everything will happen in the way it will need to happen.

Synchronizing the change with the partner ... an important thing to keep in mind.

You have the idea of a big change in your mind.

You plan it for a long time ... and you really, really want it to happen.

It's almost an obsessive desire.

And in the end ... it's your life and it's your right to think about any new path that will make you feel satisfied.

But have you ever thought at the impact of change on your relationship?!

How everything will look like between you and your partner when your dream will become real?!

Sometimes change means ... moving to another city to become the CEO of a big company ... or become a motivational speaker and travel all around the world.

But let's think at the example of 2 simple workers from a factory, husband and wife ... what if one of them becomes the director over the department where they work?!

Theoretically they will have a better financial situation ... but will that change have an impact on their relationship?!

What if she is the one that becomes the director?!

How will he see that change?!

You see ... our desires can be a little bit contradictory with what the partner wants.

Imagine you want to go out to the mall all the time, go to coffee shops and restaurants, but the partner likes to go out in quite places ... in the nature.

And somehow if you want to be together you need to synchronize and find a path that you will follow together as a couple.

And the same ... with the change you want in such an obsessive way.

Talking with the partner ... letting that person know what you have in mind ... what will make you feel fulfilled and present the importance of that change for you, as a human being ... is probably the way you should do the things.

Synchronizing the change with the partner ... is a very, very important thing to keep in mind.

The Change ... it's all about defining the illusory belief about what you cannot do

I believe that everything is about defining ... about what we can do ... or what we think that we can't do.

There are many teenagers that keeps a diary with their love stories or with their thoughts from the daily life ... but later on they abandon this habit.

You see ... the diary is keeping all the statistics with all the actions done by that individual and the funny thing is that it can happen as a person that did a certain action today to believe half a year later that can't do that thing anymore.

It's a little bit illogical ... but in time, we have many moments when we lose the faith ... even on simple things.

It's a balance of beliefs ... from "i can do it!" and "i can't do it!".

And unfortunately, on many occasions we are in the world of "i can't", instead of saying "i can do it!" ... till the day when you will actually do it.

Cause, in the end, it's all about what you ... believe.

Henry Ford used to say ... "Whether you think you can or you can't, either way you are right".

You have lots of influences that come from the outside world ... and most of them come even from close friends or family members.

They define you in ... let's say ... not in a motivational way ... and you believe them, even if you had the statistics that you did that in the past.

And then you amplify all those thoughts ... in a much negative direction, instead of defining the illusory belief about what you cannot do and try convincing yourself ... "i can do it! I can do it! I can do it!".

Just keep in your mind the idea of defining the illusion of "i can't!".

On the path of a big change, you might change even the path with a new path

I started to write first, because i've been involved into a illusory love story.

And i wrote a lot.

About 9 books.

I published all of them on Amazon and on Google Books, but even if i started to write quite ok, in fact better and better, somehow that was not a path for me.

During the years i read lots of books about philosophy, history, personal growth, sociology and many other subjects and never about love.

But, you see, i found the inspiration to write about that for about 2 years.

And i published a lot on instagram and facebook, but still, something was wrong.

Facebook deleted some of my posts (tens of posts) and one day they even deleted my private account.

There was nothing illegal behind my actions and the facebook page, even if it was about love, it was written in very polite words.

I could not believe all of these were happening.

2 years of work ... and everything was ruined, even if i started to write interesting stories.

It was like the Universe was telling me ... "My dear! It's time for a new chapter of your life! That's it!".

And i suddenly remembered that i disliked many, many years ago that i finished kindergarten and went to school, then i was not pleased that i finished the primary school and went to the high school ... and in the end it was the same story with the university.

Every time i had to start a new chapter, i was not pleased to abandon the past ... and could not admit i need to see other things in life.

The love story i had been involved it was an illusory one ... and had to admit i need to abandon the page, the name, the books about love ... everything.

Basically ... start everything from scratch.

I had lots of people that read my stories and i could not even say good bye to them, because i did not had any facebook account anymore.

So ... started a new page, with my other name, Gabriel ... and understood it's time to write about ... change.

Change the story or the love story?! A philosophical or an existential question?!

So ... one day you see that the love story is not working anymore how it worked not so long time ago.

Everything looks changed ... but in a negative way ... and the real problem is that you still love that person.

Don't know what to do and whatever you decide ... so that you could save the relationship ... nothing works.

And you still remain in the story.

You don't have the courage to stop and restart the life in a different way.

I believe today that if you are unhappy, you should just leave the story, at least for a while ... and think about the power of solitude.

But we dislike being alone.

It's hard to spend time ... only with us.

And then you start wondering if you should think to change the story ... or the love story itself.

You don't even know if this is a philosophical or an existential question ... but you just continue life ... without being able to chose anything in fact.

I wondered myself many, many times in life ... what is the right path to follow ... try to save the relationship or think about redefining my life completely ... and the funny thing is that all the times ... i found out that the solitude is a good path to have in mind, because the best partner you could have in life, the one that will never leave or disappoint you ... is your soul.

And at the right time, the right person will appear ... and your soul will allow you to connect through intuition to all the answers.

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

Statistic shows that we only replace a reality with a similar one

Which one is the real change of the soul ... the you from the love story ... or the you after the love story?!

Being in love is easy, but staying in love is quite difficult.

One day, you fall in love and you realize that over night you change completely.
You become a new you.

You dress in a different way, you act differently on the stage of life ... you smile all the time ... it's indeed a new person and only the ones that were in love understand the power of that change.

And then ... you are disappointed and you change again.

Love succeeded to make you understand how you could open your soul and then suddenly you change again.

But you don't become anymore the one that you used to be before you realized what love is about.

You become kind of a mix between the old you and the one that was in love, not so long time again ... but still ... it's a different you.

You are more mature.

The only problem is that today you don't want to hear the word ... LOVE anymore.

You liked the story, but don't dream anymore to have another story.

And you wonder which one is the real you, the one from the love story, that could conquer the world ... or the one after the love story ... that prefers silence for everything important that happens in life.

The one that sees life as something amazing ... or the one that sees life as a lesson?!

Probably ... both are interesting experiences that you need to accept just as they come on the timeline of your life.

And there is no real you ... because we can probably be defined in many contrary ways ... but we should keep in mind that a diamond is not so beautiful before the process done by the jeweler ... but looks amazing when it is presented into a jewelry store.

And same can happen with us ... but only if we have the power to see the change as a beautiful thing ... no matter what it really happens.

Want a change for a huge success?! Maybe it's time to understand the meaning of the russsian roulette concept

We all have dreams.

Some of us lots of dreams and some ... very big dreams.

Usually a dream ... have a price to pay.

And a big dream ... a very big price to pay.

But when you start to act, you see that life can be risky ... and sometimes for a big success you will need to play a little bit harder and ignore the risks that might appear.

The concept of russian roulette is quite an interesting one and you should think about it.

It is a lethal game of chance in which a player places a single round in a revolver, spins the cylinder, places the muzzle against his or her head, and pulls the trigger in hopes that the loaded chamber does not align with the primer percussion mechanism and the barrel, causing the weapon to discharge.

But can we do this when it comes about risking everything for a big dream ... and comparing with the concept of russian roulette when you actually risk your life ... which basically means everything ... do we really play all in?!

And also ... with the open heart?!

Can you take the decision of acting this way?!

Of course ... you can be lucky enough and play to the lottery and win the big prize ... but maybe 1 person at one million have this chance.

But usually for a big change in your life, you must understand that taking risks is an important thing to keep in mind.

And i usually believe in defining everything ... but not on defining the risks.

It might look scary to think of worst case scenarios, but taking risks in the end will mean only to act without fear on getting that huge success you dream about.

... just play russian roulette it in the real life ... or let your boring life continue just as it is.

Is only your choise!

The change is not a desire ... or an option. The change is a ... must

It happened many times in my life ... as the change to come as an unannounced tsunami.

Everytime ... i had the chance to make the change myself in my rhythm i wanted ... but i always delayed everything.

And then the change came ... in the tsunami style.

It took me years to understand that behind everything happens there is a message ... but it's kind of a message behind the message.

And i could not see the root of the problems ... till the day when i understood that the lessons will be repeated if i don't find the answers.

I hid so many times everything from myself even if i knew that i don't follow the right path.

I lied myself in so, so many occasions ... hiding the truth and avoiding the change.

And then ... the tsunami came again.

Today i see that the change is not a simple desire, or an option ... but a must.

You must have in mind that you cannot stop the time ... and is better to plan the change than expect it ... so that it could not happen in a brutal way.

Change is one of the most important component of our active life ... but can be the one that helps us feel the joy that comes from energy of the beginning.

And becomes a ... must ... because a new beginning gives us good vibes all the time ... and we need good vibes ... but only if we are ready to embrace everything happens ... in the way it happens.

Hiding the need of change ... or the illusion that you can avoid it

Deep inside us there is a huge potential, but we are afraid of showing it on the stage of the real life.

We even know that with very simple steps, the change can become real .. but we delay everything.

We have the illusory belief that the change can be avoided ... and the need of change is hidden ... so well.

But why we do this?!

Can we define this silly process?!

Well ... everything is mainly because we don't believe in ourselves ... in our huge potential.

I wrote few books about love ... 9 in fact ... till this moment ... and then i decided to stop.

To write about love ... i needed to be involved into a love story ... but being married with the wrong person ... but also realizing that having a love affair is just an illusion ... i stopped.

I stopped the love story ... but also writing about love ... and decided as never in my life to write any other book about this.

But ... i was writing so well about love ... and i was losing a huge potential.

I had a facebook page and an instagram page and i abandoned them also.

And still ... i could not heal my need of love.

I wrote about love ... because in fact i wanted to define for me ... my need for love.

I even said to myself that i will not use the word love anymore.

And then ... a beautiful girl appeared in my life.

Is like she appeared from nowhere ... but i liked her a lot.

The Universe was laughing of me.

I stopped an illusory love story that appeared from my need of love ... stopped everything related to my writings about the subject ... even my daily conversations with people from all around the world ... and then this girl appeared in my life.

And ... i liked her a lot.

Sometimes we just change an illusion ... with another illusion ... and we call this ... a change

Have you ever dreamed of a new job and then you got it ... as in the end to realize that you just changed your job with something that looked like a dream job, but was nothing than a similar job with the one you already had?!

You know ... Steve Jobs used a huge trick when he was hiring people.

He was not offering huge salaries, or interesting bonuses or other advantages for the new employes.

He was always telling them at the interview that he was offering a job where the new hired person can participate at ... changing the world.

This is how he convinced the Pepsi CEO to come to Apple.

He actually asked him ... "Do you want to spend all your life selling water with sugar?!"

Nothing more ... and the guy came to his company.

But you see, a job at Apple was a very interesting job and many of the employes came to work over the weekends ... not being paid extra hours.

Now ... let me ask you something else ... what if we change the actual partner with a new one that we believe is not better ... but the best?!

Later on ... we see that everything was only an illusion and that person is not even close with the partner we just left.

So ... how can we define the illusion of change?!

But can the change be defined as an illusion?!

I believe that if we can first connect to our inner soul, listen to the intuition ... the illusion might not appear at all.

I recently met a beautiful lady that was recently involved in an amazing love story ... but with a married man.

Had a good connection with her ... and decided to tell her the truth ... "i am looking a lot with him ... and i am married too".

And she was also looking like my last muse that inspired me for so, so many books.

The key of a great success for a mature man ... is just ... have the right muse ... at the right time

Everything around us can inspire our lives.

To get in life a great success ... you need to have a good vibe all the time and be ready for great things.

Negativity must never be present in your daily life and someone special for you must give you that belief ... that you can conquer the world.

And a mature man ... dreams for an amazing woman.

One ... with an excellent vibe.

One ... that can make you feel the king of the world.

During the years i met so many men that look to me ... just ordinary persons.

They had nothing special and nothing could announce that they will be of great success.

I was amazed and very happy to hear their great stories of success.

And i studied success for a long time and could not understand what is behind that big change ... and how an ordinary man became so successful in such a short time.

It was almost like a story about quantum jump.

Later ... i saw the common pattern.

And one day ... it even happened to me.

I understood that behind any powerful mature man there is an amazing lady ...which is very difficult to be found.

Yes ... this is the truth behind what you see as an amazing jump from ordinary to extraordinary.

But ... don't ask those guys.

Don't bother!

They will only tell you a bla bla bla story ... about how hard it was to achieve that massive success ... and will not even mention ... that great lady who stays near them.

It says ... that everything you see in life ... it's not what it looks like ... and this is the real story behind the amazing success of a mature man.

Just keep it in mind ... and the big change will appear!

Dare to change the world even if you are ... nobody

During the time i had different problems with the authorities and had to fight with them so that i can solve those problems.

And not only once.

It was kind of a war ... David and Goliath.

And ... i won.

I was dealing with ordinary people that had an army behind their back.

Their ego was looking like Himalaya and looked like nothing could stop them to beat me.

I was trying to change the world ... from the position of being ... nobody.

A guy, from the military services even asked me ... "Do you expect me to be empathic with you?!"

Of course he did not had this ability ... cause he only loved the advantages of being in that public position ... and did not care about anyone ... except him.

I hated his question for about 2-3 seconds and then i realized that i don't even need his support.

I invested a lot of energy to fight against those people ... that did not had the power to be empathic with the people that they had to help.

But i had the power to fight and win all the battles with them.

In the end ... after everything became only a strange episode of my life ... i realized that part of that energy that helped me to fight with those people ... was a negative energy.

I was disliking and hating them.

Then i thought about Mahatma Gandhi and how he fought at that time with the British Empire.

He only used the power of his words.

He did not used violence ... not even in his messages to all the people involved into the revolution.

In the British Parliament when he was speaking in front of the most important authorities from London ... he was getting their applaude.

Kind of a Midas touch but with negative emotions?! ... it's not the right change

The most famous King Midas is popularly remembered in Greek mythology for his ability to turn everything he touched into gold. This came to be called the golden touch, or the Midas touch.

You see, everything you do in life ... providing services for other people, building something... just everything you do in your daily life ... you place energy in there. And you can do your daily activities with pleasure ... and you will place good energies in there ... or you can do everything, not being happy cause you spend your time doing that ... and you will place all your negative energies into that something.

The legend with the King Midas is a very nice one ... and we should see the message behind the legend.

What the legend name "gold" ... could be translated as ... amazing things, that we could do ... just in everything we daily do.

I have a dear friend that every time he is involved in a new business ... that business becomes very successful right away.

He has that midas touch for businesses.

But we could all have this ... what is called the golden touch.

Is only a decision as ... in everything we do ... to get involved with an open heart and with positive emotions, cause amazing things can come only when we decide to place positive energies in all we plan to do.

We all have a positive and a negative side ... but choosing to show our beautiful side to the world ... is the best decision.

The powers of the king Midas ... that golden touch ... we can have it too!

Just think about it!

Step out of your comfort zone, it can be exhilarating

I think there are 3 ways of making big change.

One is start from your dream, make a plan and start the process of a progressive change.

Is like you live with your parents and you want a place of yours.

You just take a job, then after few months you go to the bank and get a loan for an apartment.

The change will appear in few months, but the price will be paid in many, many years.

But your dream became true and you will pay the price later ... so the change appeared.

The second way of getting the change ... is usually happens in the brutal way ... like a disease, a car accident, etc etc ... a very important lesson that you have to understand ... because you delayed the process of a progressive change.

You will be forced by the Universe to make the change ... and understand important lessons.

The 3rd one ... is the change that can be done by adopting an addiction for risky things.

At least from time to time.

Let's assume you are a builder ... and you build 3 houses a year ... but what if you change the plan and start building 10 houses.

With the money you have for 3 houses, you just start 10 and you complete them when the buyers give you the money.

I know is risky cause you could not find the buyers at the right time, but stepping out of your comfort zone, it can be exhilarating.

You could have the chance of becoming a great builder ... just by adopting a risky attitude.

Whatever you do in life, you will need to accept one of the 3 ways in how the change appears ... the progressive ... risky of brutal style.

The concept of change needs to be part of our daily life.

Just keep in mind that avoiding the change is not an option ... so at least enjoy it!

Sometimes the Universe is sending us signs for the need of a big change ... just open your eyes A REAL STORY

In the real world, i am not a writer ... and in fact only few people know that i write ... but i build and rent houses.

Recently had a fire at one of my houses.

Had all kinds of problems with the properties, but no one with the fire.

The police came right away.

And firefighters came only few minutes after.

But something strange happened.

Everything was only a small fire ... but even if 20 firefighters were in there ... it looked like they became blinds ... and did not started the water for 5-7 minutes.

The fire started to become bigger.

I was screaming at them to start the water and looked like they were not hearing me.

The house was in a complex with 15 houses and if they were delaying too much the whole complex could burn out.

And i was too involved coordinating everything ... till the girl that lived on the house, came to me and showed me on her phone that a heart appeared on the roof.

I suddenly realized that everything was a sign from the Universe and the house will not burn completely.

Few weeks ago i took the decision to stop writing about love, after 2 years ... and 9 published books with love essays.

I even decided to close my heart and forget about the meaning of love for my life.

And then the Universe sent this strange sign.

Had to be unhappy because of the fire... but i was not.

I understood the message behind the message ...

I had damages for the house, but nothing important ... there were things that i could repair in few days.

But what i could not repair so easily ... were the problems from my heart.

What if we apply the principle ... "I am not looking ... i just find"?!

What if you let everything come by itself ... and never force as your life to follow a certain path?!

What if in the need of a big change, that should totally redefine you ... you find a new path that you never thought about it?!

Picasso used to say when he talked about inspiration that ... "I am not looking ... i just find".

What if you should do the same way as Picasso?!

Today i wonder myself what is the connection between intuition and change ... and if we need to induce the change or wait for the intuition to tell us what change we should do.

It says that the intuition is the connection with the Universe ... and probably this is the best way ... but how can we be sure of what we choose in life?!

... and especially for important decisions.

How the intuition sends us the messages?!

Are certain rules to understand what is really going on?!

Intuition ... is actually the vibe we have when we are in front of that situation.

If we have a beautiful feeling inside and feel the silence of the soul ... the answer is ... YES.

If we feel anxiety ... anger ... or any other negative emotion ... the answer is ... NO.

Believing in the signs sent by the vibe you feel is the key to important decisions.

And this way ... when you will have in mind the concept of change ... not even bother to look ... but only open your eyes to observe what you found might be the real path.

Always remember ... vibes never lie!

“Find the light in everything” (Annelies Wetzelaer)

You see ... is very important how we react to what is happening to us in life.

No matter what change appears ... we should embrace it.

The change itself is not coming from a certain person or situation ... but from the Universe.

After reading thousands of books ... and many of them about spirituality, even if i hadn't read it in any book about that ... i realized that all the time when someone is speaking to me in a disrespectful way ... something is wrong with me, not with that person ... and i just need to do something to recharge my energies.

The person in front me ... speaking that way ... is not the problem ... but i am the problem.

And every time when i was in such a situation and i had the power to smile ... everything ended in a beautiful way.

One day ... in the Easter day, an employe that worked for me many, many years ago ... wrote me an email that he will call me to court soon for a very, very silly reason.

I tried to smile to him ... saying that is the Easter Day and that i wish him all the best to him and his family ... but he was still mad and continued to send me emails one after another.

Something really bad happened to me recently to that date ... and i replied politely that i don't want to spend my Easter this way ... arguing with him, cause i am sad anyway because what happened to me ... only few days ago.

And he started to be happy, hearing that bad thing happened ... and stoped.

To make sure he will not start again ... i even replied that i am glad ... i made him happy with the news i gave him.

You see ... what we call a bad thing that is happening ... is a sign for a change.

It could be a very annoying discussion with someone ... that will tell you 100 times that will call you to the court ... or a terrible car accident ... or whatever it is ... is just a sign that the Universe wants to tell you something.

Your reaction to what might seen as a bad luck is very, very important.

Whatever the message is, no matter if you understand it or not at that moment, you need to keep in mind that you should see the light in everything.

God's will ... versus ... your will

I spoke with a dear friend few days ago ... about my house that had a fire at the roof ... and the whole meaning of the story.

We both believe in the concept ... the message behind the message and started to had a philosophical discussion about God's will ... versus ... our will.

And then my friend wrote me a long letter in reply

"I too have lost a house to a fire. I was in the process of buying the house but was renting it while the papers were being processed. I will never forget the words that I had spoken aloud 3 days before signing those papers. My mom said to me, "are you sure this is what God wants for you?" My answer was, "The only way I'm not going to sign these papers is if God himself burns the place down." I was determined to do things MY way. God said "really now." (not out loud mind you). Well lo and behold, that house burned down. I learned a few powerful lessons that day. The first one is a big one. NEVER challenge God. Never think you can do some things alone and some things with God. He's got your back ALL the time not just some of the time. Another valuable lesson is, I had family in the house at the time, and they were spared, except one dog. As sad as it was losing my pup, it could have been my daughter or grandson. I am thankful they all made it out alive. I did lose a lot of valued possessions including my dad's jacket that smelled like him. (he had just passed away 6 months prior). But I lost nothing more valued than my children's and grandchildren's lives.

Other lessons I learned: Family is wonderful. My family pulled together to get money, clothes, food, shelter and anything else needed for a few days.

The community I live in pulled together and sent money, clothes, furniture, and everything else I could use.

I'm not preaching you ... but ... God has a plan for you just as He did me. Look to God for the answers. Find peace in knowing God is in control. He knows what you need at the right time it's in his Divine plan : As in the saying, Let go and let God.

If you pray always face the east wall in silence, never stand to pray."

My friend writes much better as i do ... but in the end we should all ask ourselves what is God's will for our lives ... no matter what really happens.

Do the CHANGE with an open heart ... not only with an open mind

The problem is that most of the times we understand the meaning and also the necessity of change ... but we don't really feel it.

We say "yes" ... we start doing things ... but we just pretend we really do the change.

As an example ... you have an addiction for alcohol ... you decide to stop drinking, but when you see someone drinking ... you think again about the pleasure of your addiction.

And the chance to come back where your've been for such a long time is quite big.

But why?!

Why you can't really make the change?!

Well ... it's quite simple ... there is no connection between your mind and your soul.

I know that personal development tells us that "Fake it till you make it!" ...and is kind of a trick to start the process of change ... but real connection with the concept of change comes when you actually connect with the present moment and you feel that you can't continue anymore in the old way ... that brought you to emotional bankruptcy.

An individual that drunk for years ... if he understands that his life is ruined because of the alcohol and feeling the need of change as something beautiful for his life ... will make the change.

The whole process ... is not a mental process ... but a mix between thoughts and feelings.

I've been also drinking for many years.

One day i read on a blog the definition of an alcoholic ... and i was shocked .. cause i was thinking differently.

The guy with the blog wrote ... "An alcoholic is a person that drinks everyday ... no matter how much he drinks" ... and i was drinking everyday.

One day i decided to stop ... totally stop drinking alcohol.

I realized that the alcohol changes me and my thoughts.

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

Even if i was drinking only in the night .. it was stealing my energy of the next day ... but it took me years to do it.

I was not a ... let's say a professional alcoholic ... but still i was an alcoholic.

And the change came only when i felt i want to be in control of myself everyday ... in any of the moments of the day.

All our decision should be a union between mind and soul ... and in fact decision of change should follow beautiful paths.

Think of the change ... plan the change ... but also feel deep inside you the must of that change.

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

There will be 1000 reasons to stop, but you need to continue no matter what happens if you really want the change.

I do believe that people can change but i also understand that the process itself is really complicated and sometimes the chances to really have the change... are one at a million.

And in the end, everything is only a decision if you what to stay where you are ... or you expect to also have the chance to start a beautiful chapter of your life.

It will probably look very easy when you will start ... but soon ... you will start to see in front of your eyes the list with the 1000 reasons to stop.

Reason 1, 2, 3 ... 78 ... 124 etc etc.

You will be amazed to see so many, many reasons ... but the list itself .. is only a test and the chance as you to see the list as a real barrier ... is huge.

But you see ... determined people become blinds.

They just can't read all those reasons.

They only see in front of their eyes ... the need for the change.

There is nothing else.

Is like the need for air ... there is no reason to ask why we need the air.

Determined people ... live with this need of change deep inside their soul.

The list with reasons to stop ... is just an illusion ... no matter what really happens.

Probably you will need to be in front of decision that you only want the change for you ... and nothing more.

The need of beautiful things in the present moment ... becomes a must.

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

Cheating ... a need of temporary change ... but also revealing the fear of having the change for real

Lots of people cheat today.

Is not like it was 100 years ago and not even 50 years ago.

Truth be told ... cheating is today kind of a sport for all the ones that don't practice any kind of sports.

And they love doing it.

It makes them feel alive.

I did this too ... i've cheated and I've been cheated, but i am still wondering why i did this, cause both situations are not a beautiful path to follow.

But i also believe that people that cheat ... do it for a good reason and the fact that someone becomes cheated, makes that person remain in an obsessive state of mind, without understanding the need of change.

Today i have the power to see things with an opened mind.

Hiding the fact that an individual is cheating or ... is cheated by the partner is like hiding that you start to feel very sick and expect as everything to pass by itself.

... till one day when you see that you need to go to the doctor if you want to be ok again.

You see ... if we really want to define in an honest way what cheating means ... we will find the courage to say that cheating reveals the need of change, but also the fear of having the change for real.

If you started to cheat ... it means you are not seeing in your partner everything you expect from that person.

You feel the need of something else in your life, but still half of your soul feels ok with that person and the other half wants a change ...and is starting this process by tasting a temporary change.

On the other hand, when people are cheated, they hurt a lot, but they prefer to stay in the victim stage and not meditate why they were cheated.

They never think at the idea that they are not anymore that "perfect" partner that they used to be.

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

Defining why you cheated or why you were cheated ... is an important step in saving your relationship, or your own soul.

Cheating is not moral, but is real.

Is not something bad on the timeline of our lives.

Cheating only reveals the truth about where the 2 of you are.

There will be couples that will see cheating as a reason to break up, but also couples that will understand that cheating is the sign that they lost themselves.

Cheating is the key for ... CHANGE ... no matter what the change means.

When you see the signs for the change so,
so many times ... but you are still doing nothing than waiting ... you are in trouble

I do believe in destiny, but i also believe that we have the right to choose in life what we really do.

The Universe set up the path for us, but in many cases the timing depends by us. We are the ones that decide the moment when it's time for the change, but if the Universe loves us will remind all the time what we really have to do.

Let's assume that a couple ... with 2 persons that used to be in love not so long time ago ... start having fights all the time.

It makes no sense, but the fights represent the need for change.

It could mean anything.

For some couples could mean to break up ... but for some maybe it means to think about stoping all those fights and be in love of each other again.

But when the signs for change appear all the time ... i believe we are in trouble if we are doing nothing, but waiting.

I recently had a problem with a sign that appeared again to me and still wonder what it means.

Sometimes i believe that i know very clear what it means, but i just hide it ... by myself.

A heart appeared on the roof of my house that was in fire.

Few days later i called a priest to the house and after the candle burned completely ... a heart appeared again ... this time in the glass.

So ... what is the meaning of the heart?!

There were moments where i thought i know what it really means and moments where i tried to forget that recently i said to myself that i will not listen to my heart anymore.

The same will happen to anyone that reached to the point when the change can't be delayed anymore ... and ignoring the signs will just be silly.

Meditation over the new path of change is an important process to follow ... and when i say meditation i am not thinking of the meditation that a monk from Tibet is doing ... but even staying alone ... drinking of a good coffee ... smoke a cigarette, if you love smoking ... and think at the importance of starting the change.

You can't fool the Universe, but on the path of change you might live with this illusion in your mind

At the right time, the success comes if you really want it, but on that path, trying to find the greatest success of your life ... you will have the illusion that you can fool the Universe.

And indeed for many people the change means success and will do anything to get it and unfortunately "everything" means breaking the laws of the Universe also.

I did the same also and not only one time and for many, many years.

I believed i can fool the Universe, get what i want, accomplish all my big dreams and then when i will have everything i wanted, i will change and respect all the universal laws.

And the Universe was laughing behind my back ... letting me to do and to get all what i really wanted.

But the funny thing was that after the dreams were accomplished i did not felt inside of my soul any joy at all.

In fact ... i did not felt anything at all.

I worked for years and at the end the only pleasure i probably felt was that i ended that chapter that took years.

Years ago i read in newspapers about millionaires that got suicided or hollywood stars that ended in hospital because of drugs, very successful politicians that did horrible things and ended their carriers and made no sense to me ... how to understand what they did.

The path of big dreams might look like in the end as a pathless path ... and the nonsense is not what they did at the end ... but the path itself, the one chosen by them long time ago.

And suddenly we see that the root of the problem is not that we had big dreams, but the fact that we broke all those universal laws.

We thought that we could make a big change with our lives and we did not care about anything on the path of accomplishing that dream.

In the end, the Universe, that was smiling all the time behind our back ... gave us anything we asked for ... except one thing ... the pleasure of enjoying that big accomplished dream.

So ... don't be silly ... you can't fool the Universe!

You see ... we all have a meaning on the planet ... the president of the country ... but also the simple cleaning lady from school.

We should better connect with the Universe and let him decide what is the great path we should follow in this life.

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

If you can't connect ... the change will not happen

It says that CEOs, the important businessman, great politicians ... wakes up at 4-5 am in the morning to prepare the day.

They read, write or meditate over the day that will start when the sun will be on the sky again.

Imagine to be a successful person, to maybe have huge amounts of money into the bank accounts in fact to have enough money for the rest of your life .. but still wake up earlier than all the others.

What ordinary people feel on monday when they push the snooze button on the phone alarm?!

It's a strange pain ... that is not fair cause is monday ... and work must start again.

But the people of success ... instead of feeling this pain ... they prepare to enjoy the new day that comes.

It's kind of a paradox.

They could decide to have a vacation anytime they would want ... and wake up at 11 am ... or even at 2 pm, but they decided to start the day before all the others that work for them.

They actually try to connect to the new day ... and they do it with success almost all the times ... cause they are people of great success.

They believe in the power of visualization the new day ... and expect as great things to appear for them.

You see ... trying to connect to a beautiful planed future is the key to have the dreamed life ... and the change will appear when you will see everything in your mind, but also feel it in your soul.

The art of changing reality is maybe the habit of expecting great things to happen.

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

Statistic shows that we only replace a reality with a similar one

The end of that story might not be the end of that chapter from your life.
Real change comes when you will understand the message behind the message

When it comes about big changes that the Universe wants us to do ... everything becomes sometimes ... a nightmare.

Because we delay too much things ... in the end you will see yourself paying a price 2-3 times more of what you had to pay.

I learned so many times that delaying is not the right option ... but i still have this bad habit since i was in school.

I finished school ... and then i had to deal with the school of life ... and every time i delay something ... i already know i will pay an extra price for that.

And i believe that life is split into different chapters ... like school, love, job etc etc.

And inside the chapters you might see different stories with the same subject.

For example ... you are young ... and it happens that you met lots of girls.

You start a love story ... then another one ... and another one ... and another one.

At one point, you just realize that the chapter love ... is a chapter with many love stories and in the moment you understand what love is about ... you will be in the right non ending love story.

If one of the things you will need to understand in this life ... is love ... the love chapter will be one with many love stories or an intense love story with many, many episodes ... till the moment when you will get the message behind the message.

The history is repeated only cause we missed seeing the important things.

And if the Universe sees that you don't understand the real message ... will get a little bit angry ... and the exams will become more and more difficult.

So ... you should never believe that the end of the story is the end of that chapter from your life ... but we should trust the Universe.

We might call it divine forces ... or destiny ... but we should trust that ...

whatever happens ... it just happens for a reason ... and the real reason is to become better souls.

Dreaming is not enough. Believing is ... the key

Long time ago ... i met a beautiful girl ... 21 ... intelligent ... with a beautiful smile ... and in fact when you were looking at her, you could believe you are in front of a hollywood star.

She was from the country side ... but she had deep inside her that desire of a big quantum jump.

Just looking in her eyes ... you could see that she going to be someone important during this life time.

She was a a simple girl but she had an amazing vibe all the time.

Anyone could understand she was ... so special.

Somehow ... one year after i met her ... i presented her to a dear friend of mine ... and they started a relationship together.

The beautiful young girl ... had so, so many desires ... that we used to call her the princess of desires.

She wanted a dog ... she wanted money ... she wanted beautiful clothes ... she wanted the best a woman can have during this lifetime.

The funny thing was that for my dear friend ... even if he acted like being an ordinary person ... a nobody how we used to say ... all those desires were a joke. He could accomplish everything she ever wanted in a second.

He was the perfect man ... at the perfect time for her.

And one day she had the idea that she will become a model ... and we arranged the things so that she will be a model right away ... at the best fashion shows from the country.

But my friend was meditating and was saying to her "... it's not enough ... let's try also Milano, London ... New York.

You must go at the best fashion shows in the world ... and i can arrange all of these for you."

But something funny happened meanwhile ... they went with her little dog ... bought by my friend ... at the vet.

The dog had a small medical problem and they tried to find a vet in the midnight ... and they found him.

She took his number ... and fell in love with the nice young vet, who was also the owner of the clinic.

My friend found out and tried something else also ... to send her to Hollywood. The vet ... hired her as a cashier at the petshop ... and guess what happened?! The beautiful girl, that had so, so many desires ... that expected so much from life ... what did she chose between going to Hollywood ... and actually making a quantum jump ... and be a cashier to the pershop, but also the girlfriend of the owner of the clinic?!

We actually thought she was blinded by something ... but she refused to go to Hollywood and preferred the petshop.

Was very difficult to understand her at that time ... but i was not meditating enough at what the concept of change means.

She had the things arranged so that she should meet with Sylverster Stallone ... but being a simple cashier ... was more real.

Today i think is not enough to dream big ... but you also need to believe with all your heart.

Real big changes requires a powerful connection between the mind and the soul. And believing ... is the real key.

For a big change in your life ... avoid all the people that analyze your actions

Sometimes in life ... you will need to understand that how you connect to the people around you ... you can also disconnect from them ... but also re connect anytime you want in the future.

People have the habit of seeing you in a specific way and seeing a change will intrigue them ... especially when that kind of change is not so easy to be implemented for them.

They will analyze your actions ... and will discuss with you and the others about what and why is happening.

And sometimes will even look as a .. trial ... and you might need to come with serious answers.

Questions as ... "Who do you think you are?!" ... "Have you lost you minds?!" ... will be part of what you will hear from all those people that will act as real judges of your life.

They will be close friends, family members or even people that you know by a short time ... but they all might have this idea that they have the right to analyze your trend for change.

The whole picture is like ... you say ... "Yes, i can!" ... and they say ... "No, you can't!".

And i wonder why we should let them ... tell us what we can do and what we can't do?!

Yes ... even if they are family members.

Usually what other people say ... is according with their standards ... and i ask ... why we should accept their standards as our own standards?!

And of course you won't be able to get rid of all those people from your life, but you can avoid them for a while ... at least till you succeed to implement the change in the way you want.

Somehow the start will be easy ... but their negativity will have a huge impact on you if you let them analyze your actions.

So ... what is the trick?!

Relationships should give us power ... not limit us

Today i have the courage to affirm that you can define a relationship in a positive or negative way ... according to what is going on in all the areas of your life.

And also ... on the freedom you have ... to be whoever you want to be.

For example ... a dear friend of mine, who tells me the truth right away ... just told me few days ago:

"I am sorry to tell you ... you have an amazing house by the lake side ... but you actually live in Republic of China ... ohh noo ... i am sorry ... in North Korea!"

This was for sure a remark for my wife ... cause i actually don't live in North Korea ... and i just smiled and agreed with him.

You see ... as change to appear in your life, in the way you dream about it ... you need to forget about being limited by you or by the others around you.

And usually the partner is the one that have a huge impact on your thinking, behavior and all your important actions.

And if your partner limit your freedom of action ... you will not be yourself and you won't be able to act at the level of your full potential.

The couple, the concept of US ... is an important one ... but we should also not lose ourselves as individual souls.

In a great relationship ... you will see greatness on all the areas of your life ... and you will also see a positive change all the time.

Being limited by someone ... "living in North Korea" ... as my friend defined my relationship with my wife ... will not let you be the one you need to be during this lifetime.

But remember ... slavery is not anymore part of the modern society and too many people died for freedom ... as us ... in the 21st century to live in "private prisons" ... called homes.

Just reaffirm your rights as individual and remember that a great relationship should give us power ... not limit us.

The change is the bridge between who you are and who you dream to be

To be in life at your full potential, you need to believe in the concept of change. And you can actually be whoever you want to be in life ... but probably you should meditate long before you think of starting the process of a big change. Today ... i see all around me people that think that ... change ... is equivalent with winning the big prize at the lottery.

And it's not about positivity and negativity ... is just the belief that real change is something illusory ... and the chance as it to happen are close to zero.

People with a good vibe all the time ... smiley faces ... that are optimistic all the time ... can't believe that changes at 180 degrees are possible.

And i wonder ... why?!

Many, many years ago ... i met a very powerful guy ... that was a great businessman involved also in real estate.

Later on i discovered that he was also a pimp ... but not any kind of pimp.

He was probably at that time the greatest from Europe, cause he was controlling the luxury market.

In the real world he was a real estate investor ... and in the underground world ... a pimp.

I somehow learned a lot from him ... while interacting ... and being very young at that time ... i even saw him as a mentor.

I know it sounds strange ... but he had such a powerful personality that he could influence anyone around.

I believe he was kind of the guy ... that would impress even the president of the country.

... but later on, as all the bad guys ... he was arrested for about a year.

We haven't spoke for years ... till one day when he called me from Paris ... asking me to help him with something.

This time he had few restaurants in Paris, got married, had a daughter ... had a new life.

He was again a guy involved in real estate.

We spoke a lot ... and i even asked him if he is still the greatest pimp from the Europe.

The abstract behavior ... the way of hiding the change

In the communist era ... everything meant art was abstract.

The artists that wanted to send a powerful message ... always had in mind the abstract way of communicating it.

This is how ... everything was hided ... and the communist party was not saying anything against them.

But the message was so well hided ... that in the end the artist could ask himself if the people watching their art would really understand the message behind the message.

In the same way ... there are many people ... that see today near them ... "the communist party" ... and know very well that the idea of change will not be seen as something good.

... and they start having an abstract behavior.

They will dress in a strange way, they will speak in a strange way ... they will react even to simple things in a strange way ... but everything will be so abstract that you will not know what is really going on for sure.

For example ... a partner that will start having an abstract behavior ... is a partner that you almost lost ... but is still there.

Being abstract ... means ... does not have the courage to say ... that wants to be a different person ... and even worst ... you are "the communist party".

Everything is just a result of the fact that ... the partner does not feel near you the freedom of being the one ... that always wanted to be ... and the change is knocking on the door ... with all that this will include.

The abstract always hides something ... and when it comes about people ... is mainly the smell of change.

And one day, the change happens ... and you start laughing ... of you

I always believed in the concept of plan A, B, C etc.
But my real problem was that i invested too much time and energy in all those plans.
Years ago, i decided to retired at 40 and had a very simple plan.
I was involved for many years in the internet business and i was making good money all the time.
Comparing with my friends ... i became a rich person ... but it was not enough for me.
I invested all my money, till the last cent from my pocket ... in real estate.
I bought or built houses and apartments.
And believe me ... the plan was quite simple ... i just wanted 30 houses ... as everyday to get money from renting.
30 days ... 30 invoice of renting.
I thought i could survive very well ... with this money.
So ... having only 15 properties, i decided to build another 15 ... and i started building a residential complex.
15 houses, a small house for fitness, a big kitchen for the ones that want to cook for a party, bar, swimming pool etc etc.
The concept of the complex was ... live as in vacation.
It was almost like a hotel.
It took me 5 years to finish the project.
It was a nightmare ... but at the end i thought i will be financial independent and i continued the path till i finished everything.
I rented the houses ... and then the problems appeared.
Everyday it was something.
Had problems with the water, with the fire ... with electricity ... and even with the fact that the people living in there started to believe that they live in a hotel ... and i was the one that i was taking care of them.
Basically ... everything started to be a nightmare.
I got retired at 42 instead of 40 ... but i imagined things differently.
I did not dreamed to stay on the beach with a cocktail in front of me ... but still i

Understanding the change

The secret of change?!

... asking the priest that stayed in prison for years ... "What is the meaning of life in prison?"

... and he replies ... saying everything:

"To learn ... to die."

Nelson Mandela served 27 years in prison ... and i wonder myself how the mind of such a person can change ... in such a long time.

I believe that even if he was very powerful before he entered in prison, at the time he became the first president of South Africa ... he was ready for the big change ... but not only for himself, but for his country.

So ... what is the meaning of life in prison?!

Is it .. to learn to die?!

We need to see in here the message behind the message.

The "prison" is your actual life ... your daily habits ... your disability to make the swift so that you can become a new you, the one you dream to be ... the best version of yourself.

"To learn ... to die" ... means to forget about your old you ... the one you want to get rid of so that you can act at your full potential.

But ... do you agree to "die"?!

You want for example to become a great writer ... but can you lose 12 hours a day writing and reading?!

Do you agree to wake up at 5 am in the morning, so that you can still have time for other things during the day?!

Do you agree to forget about the benefits you actually have today ... in your actual life?!

A new you ... will come with other rules, other advantages ... other conditions.

Can you totally disconnect from the actual present?!

People as Nelson Mandela, or as many others that stayed in prisons for many, many years... were forced to be disconnected from the present ... because of being arrested at that time.

Failing to do the change ... the day you see them happy ... laughing of you

Antoine de Saint-Exupéry used to say that the success of our friends is our own success.

All theories about success say that you need to study, but also admire the success we see around ...but the envy is sometimes bigger than the principles we need to implement so that we follow the path of a beautiful life.

A dear friend of mine, that has very powerful energies, but does not know so much theory about spirituality ... just told me, few days ago ... about an experiment she did about 4-5 times in the last few months.

She is a great businesswoman ... but she noticed that great success appears in her life only when she disconnects for a while from the closest people from her life.

Every time she does this ... about week after ... something amazing happens.

She understood that somehow, in a different environment ... without the energies of all those people from her life ... she goes right away to her full potential.

But how do you recognize those people that are sending you negative energies in your life?

The funny thing is that in the moment of failing to do important changes ... you see them happy because of that.

The problem is that we just can't take them out from our lives ... but the trick is that we can ignore them for a while ... at least till the moment when we succeed the change we want to have.

Should we be angry on those persons?!

No ... is useless.

On the stage of life they are not ready yet to understand the message Saint-Exupéry sent so many, many years ago.

Meanwhile ... we should pay attention at all those vibes that are around us ... and chose to live life with beautiful people near us.

Changing the script ... just by sending beautiful vibes

For more than 20 years i've been involved in the internet business.

I probably worked with more than 10.000 clients ... one by one and it was indeed a beautiful experience.

The funny thing is that i worked with a large spectrum of people ... starting from very small companies to banks and even different presidents of the country i was living in.

And one day something strange happened.

Someone recommended me to a plastic surgery doctor and i signed a monthly contract for advertising with her.

She was totally unsatisfied with the people before me and needed a change right away, cause she didn't had so many clients at that time.

I was happy about the contract and said to myself that i will take care so that she will become successful again.

And i don't know what really happened ... but i totally forgot about her.

The company was charging her every month ... she paid me every time, but we just did nothing for her.

3 months after, her assistant called me.

In that second, i realized that i totally forgot about them ... but the lady started her speech ... "Hey! I don't know what you are doing over the internet, but the day we started the contract with you ... we are fully booked as a clinic. Clients from everywhere are calling everyday ... and we are amazed of what is going on!".

I was smiling ... realizing that probably i just sent them good vibes ... and this is why everything works perfect and decided to continue as an experiment ... just to do nothing and see what is going on.

And everything was perfect.

They were so happy cause they met me.

2 years later, a competitor ... trying to get my contract, explained to the doctor that i was doing nothing, except charging her ... which in fact was true.

She wanted to call me to court and start a trial against me ... but they just stoped after i asked them ... "What are you going to tell to the judge?!"

And maybe it's time for you also to have this experiment.

When it comes about change ... attitude is everything

During my lifetime, i had few times the chance to make a quantum jump ... and even if i dreamed for it, for such a long time ... i failed.

When i say ... quantum jump ... i mean a big change that can be done over night ... and i believe ... in that moment it was all about my attitude.

When the shift happens ... the Universe is with you ... and you have all the support you need ... with only one condition ... and that is to adapt your beliefs and standards with the new reality.

It actually means ... to accept that everything is happening is true and act in the proper way.

Even recently, after being involved in a project of 5 years ... after working as a slave to complete it ... when everything finished and all i had to do was to benefit from that work ... well ... i felt overwhelmed of everything is going on.

I prepared myself for 5 years, but the shift from investing my full energy to just enjoy what i've created ... was annoying.

I could not adapt to the change.

And it was not the first time when i saw at myself that i can't adapt myself to a beautiful change.

I proved that i don't have the ability to enjoy the benefits the Universe offered me.

I dreamed for those benefits ... i asked for them ... but i could not embrace the change.

I planned everything ... in all the possible details ... but i could not "fix" my attitude.

I had the knowledge to make the change ... i had the power to fight against all the barriers to have the process of change completed ... but i could not fight against me and make myself accept that i really succeeded to have the change.

I had the chance of quantum jump for 4-5 times in my life ... but the change was overwhelming.

I could fight to have it ... but could not accept it. It was a paradox!

Then i realized ... that the only problem i have in my life .. it's me and my silly attitude!

“When it’s over, leave. Don’t continue watering a dead flower”

We really don’t understand what the concept of change means for our lives. Sometimes the change might appear as a desire ... but sometimes it can be ... a must. And it becomes a must ... cause you live in a “dead” reality ... that does not make sense anymore. A dear friend of mine ... married by many years ... was very deep in love with ... another lady. His marriage was ruined ... but he was so happy because of the new love story. And it was an amazing story. He understood that everything he had with his wife ... was a relationship dead by years. But the funny thing was that later on ... the same happened with the relationship he had with the other lady. Something broke between them also. A great love story ... became almost without realizing a toxic relationship. He could not believe it. Tried to save the marriage ... but failed.. Tried to save the relationship with the mistress and failed again. Even if he knew the truth ... he could not accept that he was the “dead flower”. He was not feeling alive for years ... and the new lady from his life ... was only created the illusion of happiness, cause someone that is not feeling alive ... cannot be happy. The root of the problems with those ladies ... was his lost soul ... but is much easier to pretend that you continue “watering” ... something that represent a “dead flower” ... by a long, long time. Yes ... sometimes the time for change has come ... but as for the case of my friend ... the change might be something totally different that it might look like. The guy ... had to change ... not the ladies from his life ... but his soul ... leave the way he used to be and start showing his beautiful side. ... and the truth is that the change is only a decision!

The change ... daring to meet the best version of yourself

I recently met a very beautiful lady.

28, divorced ... an amazing soul.

She knew i was married and forbidden me to fall in love with her ... but we became good friends.

And she started to tell me the story of her life.

She had an amazing love story with a married man ... but even if the love between them was so strong ... his jealousy ruined everything.

She loved him a lot ... but on the path of the illicit love story, she just lost herself.

She dreamed of a great life ... but in the 2 years of the story ... she lost even her dreams.

And in fact .. she lost her soul.

Years ago ... she dreamed so much at an amazing future ... at being of great success ... and today she was feeling that the only thing she did not lost ... was her smile.

Was a little bit unlucky i should say, cause she was daring to dream of a great change ... but in fact ... she never had the chance to meet her best version.

She needed a beautiful love story ... cause she was always a romantic person ... but she never thought that the love story will be like a prison that will limit her so much.

In the end ... she decided as ... the change ... to be seeing her ... the person she always wanted to be and left the love story.

She realized that finding the soulmate it does not mean that she needs to lose herself ... and not even the version of her from today.

Change means ... value ... not marketing

Being involved into the online business, even if i was a technical, but also a sales guy ... i just needed to understand what marketing means.
And after 20 years ... i saw that everything is marketing ... but the problem today is that people are not looking for value anymore ... and pay a huge attention only at how things looks like.
I could not understand the meaning of the expression "it's not what it looks like" ... till the day when i also saw that marketing is not only for companies ... but also for private persons.
Everywhere i looked ... especially at people that i know by a long time ... i saw the change ... but i think the change was not about the value ... but only a great marketing.
I live in a country where 30 years ago ... all the people were poor.
Today ... it's a country where opulence means everything.
We have beautiful cars everyone is going in luxury vacations ... people have beautiful houses etc etc.
We are totally defined by opulence.
Everyone know what personal marketing means ... cause they do it very, very well.
As an experiment i bought a very beautiful car.
Not so many people have that car ... but i also have an ugly one ... that i drive most of the times.
The funny thing is that people don't know how to define me.
Am i a rich guy or a poor one?!
But can the car really define us?!
What if the car is just a car bought in leasing ... which means is not even yours ... can you be defined by it?
Truth be told ... we live today in an world that is defined by the new concept of personal marketing ... and things will change only if people will understand the real values of life ... and that image ... the way we try to impress the people that we don't even like is ridiculous.
Cause real change of life ... in a positive way should be value ... not marketing.

Changing the addiction with another one ... a silly trick that does not change anything

Truth be told is that sometimes we love the addictions.

The addiction itself is the infinite need for something that we need in the real life, but somehow we cannot have it.

Someone who is drinking for example ... needs something to make him forget about the problems from the real life.

The disability to see the problems in a much relaxed way ... makes that individual believes that the addiction for alcohol helps him a lot ... and that he really needs that.

Years ago, i was dealing with thousands of clients every year.

Drinking wine after work ... helped me ... or at least this is what i believed ... to relax more and forget about all the problems i had during the day.

Today many of the young people have the addiction for all kinds of drugs ... and is mainly the desire of being happy.

They can't see any way of being happy for real ... so the addiction for drugs helps them be happy for a while.

There are also people that have love affairs, because they are not happy at home ... and they do this from the day they get married to the end of their life.

The addiction is actually having the illusion of change for a short time.

People are using addictions ... believing that this actually helps them, till the day when they see that the addiction just ruins their souls.

And the only trick they can find is change the addiction with another one ... believing that they are on the right path.

But they just don't understand what is behind the addiction ... and that change can be also real ... not only illusory.

A person that is cheating his partner, believing that having a new love affair will help him to be happy ... or someone that is taking drugs and believes that being happy for few hours is amazing, but in the morning sees that in the real life nothing changed ... this is the truth about the addictions.

The change ... an illusory path to happiness?!

What do we need to be happy?!

A contemporary answer should be ... money, love, luxury vacations, expensive cars etc etc.

And the list with the things that could make us happy is infinite ... but the funny thing is that we cannot see anything from the actual reality that would be on that list.

And we look for a big change in our lives.

We meditate a lot about our dreams ... and the desire of having them is huge inside of us.

The concept of change ... is our main target.

Is nothing more important than this but still ... no matter what we do ... happiness is not appearing.

We are only trying to touch the horizon line and still ... no real change inside of us.

We even see the change in the outside world, but not in the inner world.

We then realize that ... we can define the change as an illusory path to happiness, cause the moment when you cannot see the connection between outside and inside ... you will not meet the joy of being alive.

There are no standards of being happy ... but the power to connect to the present ... and only you can decide to do that.

No one will come to say you that you need to do this ... and that is the real secret of being happy.

The concept of change ... is a good one to have in mind, but is very important to understand that all you have is in the "now moment".

Nothing more!

And probably ... when the change will come we will feel no change!

Having the desire accomplished ... which we call so many times the change ... it will not bring the real joy of being alive.

The only trick is to connect to what you have ... whatever you have ... cause not changing the outside world is important ...

Try to see your soul ... and listen to what is whispering you!

Try the change as an experiment.
You will enjoy it and you will want it for real

The biggest problem with the change, in fact the biggest barrier are the people around us.

They are used to see you in a certain way and the day the shift is happening, they will come to you and want to discuss about what is going on.

They will even argue with you, explaining that no matter what is going on it will not work.

Truth be told people dislike the change and even if they see this anywhere around them they will be always have something negative to say.

But there is a trick that you can do and you should try it as an experiment.

During the times, i probably had about 300 employees and i've always been a communist boss.

Never let them to speak, never paid them extra money for extra hours of work ... bottomline the worst example ever.

But that till the day i started to work with young students, when i realized that i had to change.

They were different of the ones of 30 or 35 and the way i was acting was not working anymore.

Today i only have one employee.

She has 22. I let her argue with him.

If she asks me a day off, i always say yes.

If she ask me a bonus, i also say yes all the time.

She even told me one day that she saw that i changed a lot, but she does not want to talk about it, cause i might come back to the old way of being.

As a father ... i also failed.

I did not took care of my too boys and never payed attention to their thoughts and feelings.

I understood i need to make a change and i started with ... money.

You know money can solve most of our problems, even with the kids.

One week, i made an experiment.

I paid them a little bit more attention and started to give them daily small amounts of money.

THE ILLUSION OF CHANGE

Statistic shows that we only replace a reality with a similar one

We went out ... i bought them everything they asked for.

No argue with them.

By Saturday, my youngest son came to me and asked 50 usd.

I paid the money right away and gave to his brother 50 usd also.

And i heard them talking: "i think dad lost his minds. Everything we ask him, he says ... yes.

He is not greedy anymore"

This was the way a young boy of 7 years old was seeing everything.

He saw the change, thought that i lost my mind, but loved the change.

The trick worked.

You see, on the path of change, let anyone understand that you can also change in the relationship that you have with them.

This way, they will accept the change and see it as a beautiful swift.

Find the tricks you need to do and then enjoy the change for real.

... and one day she says: "You are so sick of your current self, that you continue searching for change every moment..."

It says that the Universe is talking to us through the people we meet in the real life.

With some we are friends, some are our neighbors, some are people that we meet on streets or ... on social media.

Ever since i study a little bit more the meaning of life ... i understood one very important thing ... and that is ... every time i am annoyed of something, i should meditate more about that something and try to find the message behind the message.

Not so long time ago, i had a conflict with an energetic therapist and at the end of the conversation she replied to me ... "I don't understand everything very well now, cause i am also annoyed by you ... but 100% i touched your buttons".

And i know by such a long time that i should not get annoyed of anything ... and i still do.

Only in the days when i find the wisdom to meditate about why is happening, what is happening ... that is the day when i prove that i have the ability to understand what the Universe is trying to whisper to me.

Today seeing the message "You are so sick of your current self, that you continue searching for change every moment." ... i suddenly understood that my new friend was right.

I have an obsession about "the change" ... but the message behind the message is not ... this.

Her remark ... "You are so sick of your current self" ... is the real key ... the real message.

When i read it ... it was the first time when i was not feeling annoyed at a negative remark.

But i know, that i wrote 9 books about love, when i was obsessed by love.

Today i write about change ... cause i don't like where i am ... on the timeline of my life.

And it's again an obsession.

“Sylvester Stallone Effect” ... or why the absence of credibility is an obstacle for the big change

I've wrote in the past about a dear friend of mine that lost his lovely girlfriend ... because of a vet.

The funny thing was that even if my friend was more powerful than the biggest magician from the world ... and could arrange as the lady to start an artistic career in Hollywood, the young lady could not believe it ... and preferred to chose the vet.

In the end she became a cashier at the petshop from the clinic.

And i am still laughing of her, knowing that my friend prepared, at that time, a meeting for her with Sylvester Stallone ... but she actually did not knew who he was.

She could actually make the quantum jump and become an actress in Hollywood ... but even talking about it ... was really illusory for her.

Basically ... my dear friend could accomplish any dream she could possible have ... but she was too silly to believe that this could really happen in the real life.

Only thinking about the idea of Hollywood ... it was probably seen as a science fiction scenario.

And truth be told is that sometimes ... the Universe is offering us more than we can dream ... but we just can't believe it.

We see everything as an illusion ... but it's a reality much greater than the one that we dreamed about.

We just can't see the path.

The persons that show us those paths ... are not presenting the credibility for such a great change ... but everything is in fact our credibility in front of us.

We do not believe that we can have such a great life story ... and we miss great opportunities.

During my life time i also had such situations and missed many opportunities that could change my life completely.

The personal brand makes the change easier to appear

I read few books written by Donald Trump.

In fact, probably ... i was reading all his books.

If you really want to know about success ... but not from people that studied it as a theoretical concept ... i believe Donald Trump is the greatest example of a person that can let you understand about the meaning of personal brand in creating an amazing success.

Trump is also a great actor that sees life as William Shakespeare saw it ... as a stage.

Trump always knew how to act.

He believes in the idea of the brand and easily understood that ... same as a company has a powerful brand ... in the same way a private person can create a powerful brand also that could help accomplished anything would want in life.

For example ... when a musician is a name in the world of music ... or what we should call a brand ... that helps him a lot in his career.

I read books from the antique shop, that i paid 50 cents on them ... written by writers that i never heard about ... but excellent books.

I could name those books ... bestsellers and believe me the messages i read in there were more powerful as the messages read in books written by writers that were named ... great writers.

But all those books ... written by unknown writers ... did not had a brand behind and the truth is you can't be a great writer without the brand ... or kind of a stamp ... of a great writer.

Trump is the one that explored the most the concept of personal brand.

He made a brand from his name.

All his companies has his name ... all his buildings has his name on them.

Everything he is involved in ... carries the name Trump.

And the value of his buildings are 70% bigger than similar buildings.

When it is about selling the properties ... he sells 5 times easier as the competition.

Everything is based on the name of Trump.

And the truth is that the personal brand helps a lot for creating ... anything you want in life ... from simple things to important changes.

But the question is ... what is really behind a brand?! ... and what is a real powerful brand?!

See in the concept of a brand ... all your real intentions ... the positivity of having anything that you want to create or change into your actual life ... and you will be amazed of the power of what we call ... a brand.

The real change is about keeping the right balance in all areas of your life

There are so many rich people that lost themselves on the path of getting rich and totally forget to be happy.

And i also met ordinary people that look to me so, so happy ... and i could not understand the reasons behind this happiness.

But after meditating and asking for the answer ... i finally understood that everything is related to our capacity of connecting to the present moment.

Being rich can mean nothing for the inner soul.

Being famous ... could also mean nothing.

We have so many dreams and we have this silly belief that the change ... getting all those dreams for real ... will make us happy ... but we don't know to make the difference between our Ego and our soul.

And the Ego will never connect to the soul.

The Ego wants to dominate everything means our lives ... even the inner self but the happiness is not coming from the Ego, but from the soul.

We follow the path of the desires ... listening so much about what the Ego has to say ... and we forget to meditate and connect to the real us and ask ... if that is the right path?!

Probably ... real happy people ... the ones that wake up in the morning with the feeling of joy inside of them ... are the ones that keep the right balance in all areas of their lives.

And that might also mean ... keeping the right balance between the desires that comes from the Ego and the soul.

So i should say that ... following the path of desires ... does not mean that you are on the path of the correct change you really need.

Just think about it ...

The definition of change. Repeat after me: "I can be whoever i want to be"

Imagine you could have a Holly Spirit and ask him to become whoever you want to become.

And what if the Holly Spirit would accomplish your dreams right away?!

How you would react?!

Would you embrace the change in a beautiful way?!

Would it be possible to meet this Holly Spirit in the real life?!

I believe today, being probably at the half of my life, that we can get in life whatever we will want to get ... but we need to believe.

And even if the Universe is sending us so many times different people to help us ... i think the Holly Spirit can be just ... the inner soul.

But you need to believe that you can become whoever you want to become ... which basically means just to believe in yourself.

And i should say that if you really want the change in your life ... you should just daily repeat yourself "I can be whoever i want to be" ... till the day when you just understand that in life everything is related to the intensity of your power of believing.

And truth be told is that your inner self can become your Holly Spirit.

But you need to find yourself, believe in yourself ... connect to yourself ... and be in life your best version.

This is the only meaning of change to become a better self ... the best you can probably be.

If you have this connection with the soul ... any kind of change will become a simple act ... same as changing you clothes, washing your teeth ... and any other ordinary thing from life.

The change is totally related to what you believe about yourself and if you dare to believe that you can be whoever you want to be ... that is going to happen.

You think that looking for a clone ... can be defined as change?!

Our lives are ruled by the statistic laws.

We always do ... what we've always did.

We care about about habits, about our addictions ... and we don't really consider the change as a real option.

No matter how the past and the present moment looks like ... we prefer staying in that reality.

And even if the facts that we are living are negative ... even if we think at the change we don't do anything to improve the situation.

Sometimes the Universe shows us the love that carries for our lives and comes with an event that totally changes everything.

We are taken out from the prison of negativity ... but we are sad about that.

We see the event in a dramatic way and can't understand the reason behind that change.

We meditate ... seeing that everything looks so different and even if we think of a better life ... we only attract a clone of the actual reality.

We fall in love with a person that is actually looking like the ex partner, we get rid of the addiction for drugs, but we start drinking alcohol of any kind etc etc.

We actually create similar realities with the ones that we had in the near past.

The change is just replacing everything ... with a clone of what you had ... and once again the Universe is sending us the signs for nothing.

We have no eyes to see.

We have no ears to hears.

And we really follow the statistics ... our own statistic and the change itself becomes only an illusion.

In the end we only see that we exchanged a reality with a similar one.

... and there is no real change.

You can't have the change without discipline

I am not a fan of sports but i always wondered what is the importance of different sports in our lives.

... and also the importance of good coaching for both individual and collective sports.

Why should we bother to lose our time for this kind of things?!

I mean ... i know that it will help the body be in a good shape ... but what is the message behind the message when it comes about sports?!

Well ... i believe the sport is teaching us the power of discipline.

Most of the CEO s and other kind of important leaders practiced martial arts.

You can search for the statistic about that and you will be amazed.

Vladimir Putin is still practicing martial arts ... even today.

And you have no chance in front of the idea of change ... if you don't understand what discipline means.

Practicing a sport ... even if it is individual or collective ... means to follow certain rules ... to keep in mind the idea of focusing on an objective ... and never forget about those things during the process.

Sometimes the change can't be done without coaching ... same as the ones that goes to the Olympics ... don't do it without the help of a coach.

The coaching is showing the path.

The sport itself is showing you the fact that you can't get any good result without discipline.

The philosophy behind everything ... if you really can see that the sport is not only for your body, but for your mind also ... same philosophy can be applied in any kind of transformation you want for your life.

This is why any kind of sport will help us a lot in becoming the ones that we dream to become.

... and having the coaching, seeing the rules we need to following, never losing the focus ... will always keep us on the path of becoming the best version of ourselves.

... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

INTRODUCTION

The dance of our emotions is a ... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

It is difficult to understand the human being ... but even worst ... it is even more difficult to understand our own souls.

... our habits.

... our desires.

... our tendencies ... the ones we follow.

Everything defines us ... from the past ... present and ... a possible future ... one that might appear in the way we want it to be.

And when we start to analyze what is really going on with us ... but also understand that life is ... not just a collection of perceptions and emotions ... we start to keep wondering why the soul is always following so many contradictory directions.

Why today we feel joy inside of the soul ... but tomorrow we feel so damm overwhelm by many negative energies ... from all around us ... that in the end makes us feel miserable ...

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives and the beautiful vibe is disappearing ... and never come back for long, long time.

It's funny cause the Universe does not want us to be unhappy, but to understand the illusion of life with everything that means ... problems, difficulties, hard situations etc ... but to realize that always ... at the end of the storm ... a beautiful sunny day is appearing.

... and we should learn to enjoy it ... but we remain focused on the storm ... not seeing the beauty of the new sunny day. I smile seeing in the timeline of my life ... a dear friend that is keep repeating me everyday, almost as a mantra ... "It's a new day! Let's enjoy it!" ... and i am wondering is he smokes marihuana ... or i am totally blind ... not seeing the same reality he is watching at.

Today ... what i know for sure is that my friend is not smoking anything ... but i haven't the guts to accept my blindness ... and start treating myself.

I see no difference between me and my friend ... but looking at him ... i can't understand yet if he is still suffering of disease that i suffer by such a long time ... the dance of my emotions.

I realized about this illness i have ... and i also realized ... studying the statistic that defines my life ... that my reality is just a reflection of all those feelings i carry in my soul.

The short story is ... amazing vibes amazing life ... negative vibes ... a reality painted just in grey colors ... and nothing more.

It's quite a simple concept!

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

But i continue staring at this silly dance of such contradictory emotions ... going to the left, then to the right ... then to the left again.

The music itself ... is so damm boring ... but instead of pushing the stop button ... and end this dance forever ... i believe is a natural fact for the human being.

And i accept it ... even if i should take the decision of creating the habit of connecting just to beautiful vibes ... the ones that makes me feel the joy of being alive.

I suddenly realize that what i explained to my friend that it's a beautiful dance of emotions ... is actually a collection of contradictory feelings that are ruining my life.

The message of my friend was quite simple ... "It's a new day ... let's enjoy it!".

But maybe it was so damm simple that i did not considered it as being ... a good advise.

This dance was controlling my life ... and even if i had the solution ... i was not taking any decision.

I preferred to continue my life ... as a journey to lots of pathless paths ... not realizing that it is time to stop ... and ask the inner self ... " What should i really do?! What is the path destined to me?! Which is the real direction i should follow" and maybe pray ... as this silly dance of annoying contradictory feelings to stop.

And one day ... i started to finally think at the fact that i am not my emotions or my perceptions.

My mind was playing around with me cause i never thought i should master my mind ... and not let the mind

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

control myself.

And the mind ... keeps generating all types of scenarios ... or perceptions ... then different types of emotions are appearing ... and many times contradictory ones ... amplified in a silly way ... and actually controlling my life.

The truth is ... and i accepted that ... i had not become a master of my mind ... at least not yet ... but i started to desire as the dance ... to stop.

And not just to stop now ... but stop forever.

I don't want to live like this anymore.

I want a life connected ... only at the beauty of what life has to offer.

So ... at least ... i have a dream.

The one ... of getting rid of the non sense that was defining my life for years.

Deep inside myself i realized it is a difficult change ... but once i've taken the decision ... and also keep it in mind as a powerful desire ... i am on the right path.

I pay attention to everything ... to all the details that are influencing my perceptions and emotions ... analyzing ... defining ... as in the end to always redefine the script of my life ... and keep me connected to amazing vibes.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Sometimes in life ... a ghost from the past appears ... and does not want to leave reality ... but i keep wondering why.
Then ... i suddenly remember about karma ... and that even if i knew why the ghost appeared ... i needed to understand the lesson so that it to disappear.

One of the meanings of life is to see the abstract behind the illusion of being into this world.

We have a limited time in here ... but we act as we are immortals ... not realizing that we can't delay forever ...
understanding the lessons of life.

And sometimes ... karma is playing around with us ... letting us believe that even if we did not respected the laws of the Universe, the episode ended ... nothing happened ... and we can continue life without paying any price for our negative actions.

Time is passing ... and indeed nothings happens ... for a while.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

We totally forget the past ... but one day ... someone appears and remembers us about that story from our past.
For a second ... we even stop breathing.

We can't believe it!

The ghost of the past ... appeared in the present moment ... and there is nothing you can do about it ... to make it disappear.

You can't sleep in the night anymore.

You can't think and focus on anything else.

Totally overwhelmed of emotions ... life becomes a ... nightmare.

There is no one ... that can help you get rid of this damm ghost ... or maybe the lesson itself is to help yourself ... by understanding the mistakes from your past ... and applying the change in your curent actions.

In a moment of awakening, even if you are still dominated by contradictory emotions ... you realize what karma means ... but still can't find the real path for ending the story forever.

But ... you see ... the Universe loves us ... all of us.

Karma is not a judge ... but a teacher ... that wants to teach us those universal laws that we should keep in mind when we act on the scene of life.

But what are those laws?!

When can we read about them?!

In the Bible?!

In the motivational books?!

Should we go to a priest or a guru ... to ask for guidance?!

Well ... is even more simple than you believe.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

You don't need anyone to come and tell you about those laws.

All you need to do is to close your eyes ... and ask yourself if you would be on the opposite side the one that feels the impact of your actions ... you would like what you see, but also feel?!

If the answer is no ... continue analyzing and defining the situation ... and then ask yourself why something that you forgot about ... appeared again in the present moment as an unsolved problem.

What is the message?!

In fact ... what is the lesson?!

Maybe at that time ... you was blind and no one could tell you about the laws of the Universe, but now karma ... or should i say the ghost ... believes you are ready to see everything from a totally different perspective.

And all is happening ... even if it looks as an ugly story ... is guiding you to have the exam again.

What would you change today?!

Let's say you've been stolen 1 dollar from someone ... and then you used that dollar to generate another 100 dollars. So actually that dollar helped you to make those 100 dollars ... and was a lucky dollar for you.

The Universe allowed you to get that dollar ... but what is wrong in this situation.

Well ... first of all stealing is not ok ... we all know it ... and when i say "one dollar" ... i said it in a symbolic way.

Maybe the ghost of the past wants you to return that one

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

dollar ... and is not necessary to return it to the person that you get it from.

All it's important is just to return it in the ... Universe.

You have 100 dollars now ... and 1 dollar ... we must be payed back.

So ... you still remain with 99 dollars in your pocket ... which is quite ok.

You can simple return the dollar ... by coming with a gift or a favor to someone from the timeline of your life.

The meaning of the ghost becomes ... the entity that reminds you the fact ... that it's the perfect time for returning that something that did not belonged to you, but ... helped you a lot in the past.

So what the ghost is asking ... is nothing.

There are plenty of other persons around you ... that could use that dollar to make, same as you ... the 100 dollars you've made on your start.

Keep in mind ... that when i say 1 dollar ... it could actually mean 1000 dollars ... or even 1 million dollars ... but my main message is that there's comes a time ... when we need to return that something that was in fact not ours.

The ghost ... this thing called karma ... is not your enemy ... but indeed will be annoying and hard to get rid of it ... unless you understand the message.

The sample i gave to you ... it's just simple scenario ... and when it comes about karma ... the story will always be weird and complicated to end ... but pay attention analyze ... define and then redefine the whole script.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

“Big waves again ... let’s enjoy them ... don’t worry. It’s not a tsunami”

William was on the beach with his friend Johnathan ... and they came in there to enjoy the Saturday afternoon.

It was an amazing day, like all the sunny days that they tasted in that place.

Will came with his surf board, but John wanted to feel safer and took his boat.

He was considering that surfing was a dangerous thing to do ... and refused to listen to Will that was trying all the time to change his mind.

Will loved surfing ... and for him was a way of feeling free when he was on the beach ... but also a way of exploring his wild side.

In the real world, being a lawyer ... he needed to follow all kinds of rules, laws, procedures ... etc.

Beach ... meant ... connecting with the nature ... and exploring the real beautiful side of life.

So ... they entered into the ocean ... and started to enjoy it ... but suddenly the waves became bigger and bigger.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Will was loving to see that, but John started to be scared of what was going on.

He was playing on safe mode all the time ... on the scene of life ... but it was funny cause many times everything ended in a stupid way for him even if he was so precarious.

Waves became bigger and bigger ... and laughing ... Will is saying ... "Big waves again ... let's enjoy them ... don't worry! It's not a tsunami" ... but John became scared to death in his boat and was hoping as the nightmare to end. One was enjoying the waves ... but the other one was seeing the death in front of his eyes ... being overwhelmed by all types of contradictory emotions.

It was a balance between believing that he will die because he was too far away by the beach ... and still hoping that he will survive and will make it.

The intensity of his emotions ... were ruining his being ... and at one moment he almost believed that he will make a heart attack.

The balance of all those emotions ... was unbelievable.

In the meanwhile Will was feeling amazing.

He could not believe he was so lucky to have so many beautiful waves so that he will enjoy at maximum that day at the ocean.

2 human being ... of the same age ... same gender ... very good friends ... in the same place ... one was believing he is in the Paradise and one was thinking that he is seeing the Hell in the front of his eyes.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Quite strange to see the same picture ... and define the scene in a totally different way.

But in the end ... John arrived on the beach and promised to himself that next time he will not enter into the water anymore ... but only watch the ocean and nothing more.

He even mention to Will that he will sell the boat on half price ... just to get rid of it.

Laughing behind his back ... Will was asking John on the way to LA ... "Listen John! Tell me one thing ... but please don't lie to me ... and not yourself also.

In those moments ... overwhelmed by all those weird emotions, when you thought that you might die soon ... but i was enjoying the waves ... still not being safe as you might thing ... did you felt alive?!

I know that you saw the death in front of your eyes ... but how could you describe this balance between hoping and losing the hope?!"

"Well Will! First of all ... i want to say to you ... damm you for bringing me on the beach today ... but indeed it was a second ... when seeing the death ... i felt alive.

This is the mistake i do ... i play on safe mode all the time ... but the Universe is laughing of me and takes me to unbelievable situations as this one.

But i should also thank you ... because you took me today to see the death that will not come yet ... and maybe is the time to stop being afraid and let all those silly emotions control me."

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

The day ended ... and maybe there is a message in this story
... but i will let you define it ... as you want.
At the proper time ... we will all understand

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Sometimes your emotions might not be yours, even if you believe so ... but a fact generated by the influence of other people's emotions

There are times when we see a situation in a certain way, but someone comes and totally change our perception about that situation and we start to believe that the real truth is what that person told us.

Depending of the impact of that issue on us ... our emotions becomes similar with the ones of the person that influenced us, even if not long time ago we believed something totally different.

An old lady, which is my neighbor ... recently told me a story about her nephew that had a building in the city near us, rented to different persons from our area.

Bill ... had about 15 tenants and one of them ... Michael ... started to take drugs ... which made him change a lot ... as a human being.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Bill had a big experience dealing with clients, but even if he and Michael used to be very good friends ... something happened and broke their connection.

In the beginning ... Bill had not the ability to see and accept that drugs can ruin very close friendships and turn friends into real enemies.

Would laugh if someone would tell him that but he could not imagine what will soon happen.

Michael resigned the contract with him, left the building, but also called all the people living there ... telling all kinds of lies about him and the building.

He mentioned that Bill was calling them ... idiots, stupids, retards ... that the water from the building was infected and they could die because of that ... and guess what??!

Even if everyone was very happy in there and had no complain ... even if they liked Bill ... they started to dislike him and think about what Michael told them.

They all knew that the guy was taking drugs ... and they also knew the impact of drugs on the human mind ... but still Michael succeeded to influence them.

Half of them believed him ... and left the building also.

The other half ... still remained in there ... but were still thinking at what Michael told them.

But the naive Bill ... could not believe that a person with such contradictory ideas in his mind, depending on the quantity of drugs he was consuming in that day ... had so much impact on the minds and emotions of people that never consumed drugs.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

It was really unbelievable ... but still a real case scenario ... and probably a lesson of life for Bill.

He had to smile and find new clients for his apartments and just accept, but also ignore the fact that people as Michael, that are suffering of the illusory dance of contradictory emotions ... can have such a powerful influence on the others.

A person that lost his mind and has no control on himself ... made those people believe his ideas from the time when he was under the effect of drugs.

Bill thought ... they are normal and in the same time intelligent people ... not realizing how easy a negative person could change the thoughts and the emotions of the people from his life.

So ... what do you really think?! ... was Bill a negative character ... or Michael?!

I believe is irrelevant ... but what we should keep in mind ... is that we should pay more attention and filter better the ideas came from the people around us.

Truth be told ... people with contradictory thoughts and emotions ... are dangerous ... and maybe the only advice could be to ignore them ... and let them live in their illusory world, without permitting to influence us.

So ... let's enjoy life and accept that influences exists ... but we should connect only at the beautiful vibes and forget about the ugly ones.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

But still blocking ... will not block the connection

She writes him:

"I am amazed ... you unblocked me.

How's that?!

I don't understand!"

He smiles ... with a huge smile on his funny face ... seeing the message from her ... and replying:

"Hahaha!

How's that you checked that i unblocked you?!

I don't understand".

Annoyed ... even if she loved him a lot ... and was so happy cause he unblocked her ... she blocks him again.

It was the episode 137 ... of blocking ... but of course looked as the final one.

What he understood from the whole story was the fact that you can block someone on any channel, but if it is real connection you can't block the connection between the souls.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Blocking becomes useless ... and he realized it even if it took so much time to him.

But she was still loving and hating him ... almost in the same time.

Was missing him a lot ... and was unhappy cause he was not unblocking her, but still ... in a weird way, difficult to be understood ... when he unblocked her ... she just wrote few words ... and then she blocked him ... one more time.

They were acting like 2 kids of 5 years old ... but they loved each other a lot.

He missed the chance to tell her ... how much he loves her.
She missed the chance to tell him ... that was suffering a lot without his love.

But the balance of those contradictory feelings ... did not permitted them to continue that amazing love story.

Arguing was more important ... so they remained blocked again ... without understanding that this dance of emotions was controlling but also ruining their chance of being ... happy.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

For a perfect life ... it would be amazing as Santa Claus and karmic emergency doctors to exist ... for real and not care anymore about our problems.

Carlos was a successful real estate investor from Sao Paulo, Brazil.

He was building luxury apartment buildings close to the center of the city and everybody was amazed of his work. Everyone thought that Carlos got rich from the real estate business, but he actually had a dark past.

He always wanted to have a luxurious life loved women, night clubs ... drugs and everything was illegal or immoral and could make him feel alive.

His businesses from the early beginning ... were illegal ... but being so damn lucky he was never caught.

There were just few times when he could enter into problems with the police, but because corruption was something normal at that time in Sao Paulo, he was saved in the last moment, by a friend that had very good connections.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

And like any other smart guy ... Carlos considered that he was born under a lucky star ... and ignored all those signs from the Universe.

But later on ... in the moment when he got married ... having a beautiful family with 3 children ... he continued the illegal business, but in a much elegant way.

Everyone saw Carlos and his family ... as the perfect case scenario for a beautiful life.

They were admired by all the people that knew them.

And basically his life was totally arranged.

He has a very beautiful house, same as the ones of wealthy persons he knew, a gorgeous wife ... Maria ... who came from Argentina not so long ago ... and 3 amazing kids.

If you were looking at them ... you could swear that the picture with them was one of the best motivational posts from social media.

The perfect life.

... the perfect scenario.

But one day ... police is calling Carlos.

He had no idea what it was about ... and was totally surprised to see that they reminded him of the illegal facts from his past.

He totally forgot everything ... and could not believe it ... cause when everything was so well arranged and he was living a hollywoodian story ... the police comes to say ...

“Wake up! It was just a dream! We need to talk about your past”.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

He started to be overwhelmed by all kinds of contradictory emotions ... still not believing what was happening.

But he remembers about his friend from the past ... and advised by his wife ... calls him and meets in coffee shop.

His friend smiles ... realizing that it's actually a karmic problem ... and Carlos needs a favor from Santa Claus or a karmic emergency doctor ... to be saved.

He was not Santa ... but knew from his experience and readings everything about karma.

Liking Carlos ... he decides to help him one more time ... but still asking himself why when we live the life we always wanted ... that amazing result of a tremendous success ... karma appears from nowhere ... knocks on the door saying ... "Remember me?! ... We need to talk! There is a lesson you missed from the school of life ... but it's never too late to learn it now".

But will Carlos learn the karmic life lesson if he is so easily saved by his friend ... that had so many good connections?!

The friend was still thinking if Carlos needs to be saved ... or let him see the lesson ... and start the difficult journey with authorities ... cleaning his past ... by cleaning his karma.

It was difficult to realize if he needs to tell Carlos about what karma really means or simple help him ... like a karmic emergency doctor.

He was smiling ... realizing that he became kind of a doctor ... and even one more important as a veterinarian, a dentist, a surgery doctor ... or any other type of doctors.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

And same as a surgery doctor ... is taking care of the liver surgery to an alcoholic ... hoping that the patient will understand after being saved ... that he needs to totally forget about alcohol ... in the same way he needed to save Carlos ... hoping that he will understand the lesson of life ... and totally forget about illegal stuff.

In Brazil of those times ... you could still do anything you want ... but it was the time of awakening for Carlos.

He needed to be saved ... one more time by his friend ... but in the same time ... understand the lesson ... so that he could continue in peace his perfect life ... and be again that motivational symbol for all the people that knew and admired him.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Annoying someone we dislike ... became a real pleasure but is it a right thing to do?!

Well ... first of all i should say that it all depends if you did it on purpose ... or it just happened.

But my question is why we like to annoy even the people that we are in love with?!

Hmm ... quite an abstract behavior ... i know, but it's all about the balance of contradictory emotions ... and the person that is fall in love is jumping from feelings of liking and disliking that person ... from one moment to another.
And we start creating this non sense habit of ... annoying them.

So ... if we end up annoying the people we love ... why should we bother to ask ourselves why we annoy the people that we constantly dislike?!

Too difficult to understand all is happening to us but there is a very simple conclusion.

We love the ... non sense.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

We have a weird tendency of practicing the non sense ... and actually live in a world dominated by these kinds of actions.

But still ... why we do it?!

Are we so stupid ... as we might look?!

We can act today in a proper way ... and one day later ... in a very silly one ... trying to destroy the vibe of those persons that we dislike.

Just can't stop doing it ... not even in the times when we are in a love story ... and neither in the real life ... but i still wonder why?!

Well ... in the moment when we say ... stop ... to everything we do in the daily life ... analyze and define all our actions ... we suddenly realize that this balance of contradictory emotions is totally dominating the scenario of the present moment.

All looks like a non sense ... but still we don't do anything to remove this dance of emotions ... and as long as we do it even with the ones we love ... there is almost no way of healing ourselves.

I personally try to cure myself ... of this disease of annoying people ... and started to focus more on questioning myself ... why do i actually dislike them.

What do i see on the timeline of my life that i dislike so much?!

It is in fact a pleasure ... annoying then?!

Well ... there is just one answer i have ... the nonsense is still defining my life ... cause i still accept balancing myself all the time from positive to negative vibes.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Becoming free of inhibitions ... he realized that you don't need a Rolls-Royce for an amazing love story ... and that a scooter is quite enough.

A real story

Henry was a businessman from Miami.
He was so successful ... that one day he decided to buy a Rolls-Royce ... so that all his friends to easily understand how good he is doing with his businesses.
On the other hand ... he was loving to date all the time with new ladies.
Had 4-5 dating apps on his mobile phone ... and had the chance to date 5-600 ladies.
He was successful, good looking ... but the Rolls was helping him a lot ... from the first moment he appeared at the date.
That amazing car ... was kind of a passport ... and all those ladies were loving him from the first second.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Henry was doing so well with the ladies ... that even Casanova would envy him, cause he only had 300 ladies during his lifetime.

Or maybe ... lucky Henry was a modern reincarnation of Casanova.

But a funny thing was happening.

More and more ladies he was dating with ... Henry was starting to feel that all those persons were seeing in him just the success, the money and the Rolls.

Suddenly he realized that he needs in his life a beautiful woman, with a beautiful soul ... that sees in him a soul ... not a cash machine.

And more ladies he was dating with the frustration became bigger and bigger.

Starting to think of selling the Rolls ... but he loved the car ... so a weird idea came into his mind.

Takes an airplane ... goes to Italy, rents a scooter ... and using the dating app for dating with women from that area ... close to Rome ... he mets an amazing lady ... just divorced by a very rich man.

Maria ... was a beautiful italian woman ... 28 ... that was searching for a love story with an amazing soul ... cause she realized that the money that she was chasing years ago ... did not brought her the happiness.

A guy with a scooter ... was the perfect partner ... hoping he will be totally different than her ex husband ... which by the way was driving also a Rolls.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Henry was amazed that someone was not loving him for his money, success or the Rolls.

Maria started to be in love with him ... and he was feeling that ... cause they had a great connection.

Henry realizes that he was working a lot to be successful ... but the scooter that he had when he was 18 and had no money ... was enough for the perfect love story.

There was no need of money.

... or success.

... or a Rolls-Royce ... even if it was an amazing car.

And ... of course ... the journey of meeting all those ladies ... hundreds of ladies was seen today as a pathless path.

Henry was basically forgetting the basic of the relationship between a man and a woman ... but the scooter revealed him ... the secret.

And ... the question is ... should we focus on showing who we are in the outside world ... or the one from the inner world?!

Well ... we don't need anything for an amazing love story ... no matter if you are a man or a woman.

Or maybe ... if we need something ... that is just the luck to meet an amazing soul.

Become free of inhibitions ... and forget about success, money ... and all the other values that sometimes define us as individuals.

... that are not the real values.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

You can't remove negativity from them ... but at least you can guide for a while their attention to positivity ... even if it is for a short time.

When we look around us ... if we are honest enough ... we see negativity everywhere where the humans are.

We start to believe that we live in a negative world ...
overwhelmed by negative vibes.

But then we close the eyes ... and still see a light inside the inner soul ... which is actually the light of positivity .. and beautiful vibes.

For a short time we have the idea that it is our duty to change the world ... and we start the war with everything is evil around us, hoping that one day ... we will live in a better world.

But this fight which is actually becoming a real war outside and inside of us ... instead of making us be better beings for real ... we become the same as everything around.
Is funny cause no one ever told us that you can't really fight against negativity and this is a major part of the human

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

being ... defining them very clearly.

But what i believe today ... seeing the things in the way i described them till now ... is that even if the evil around is at too high levels ... we can be the ones that show them that positive vibes really exists ... and guide them to that path.
And ... not even for a second mention about anything after analyzing them.

Just smile ... and guide those persons to the beautiful vibes you are talking about.

Just guide ... nothing more .. and let them meditate over the subject.

Even if you don't believe it ... it will be enough.

Is like telling a story to a poor person ... about the life of wealthy people or one to a sick person, that stays in the bed of the hospital ... about the lives of the healthy people that are enjoying life right now.

They will believe that will not be able to taste that kind of life
... but still you will plant the seed of hope in their soul.

And maybe this is the first time ... after a long, long time ... when they analyze their lives and ask themselves why they are not on the path of the beautiful vibes.

At least they start thinking about the situation ... with a shy hope inside of them.

Truth be told ... we can't change the world ... but we can show them that at least they should try a balance of contradictory emotions ... at least as a demo.

This balance ... becomes the first step ... in the search for a different kind of life ... a beautiful one.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

My thoughts are ... balancing again.
I want to go to the left ... but i consider to go to the right also ... but what if i should experience both directions?!

I started to write ... as a way of becoming my own therapist.
I was analyzing and defining everything around me ... but i ended realizing that i need to analyze and define just one thing ... my soul.

Everything else ... was just a reflection.

I wanted to know what is wrong with me ... that my life looked like a ... non sense, but it was nothing wrong.

I was changing my thoughts again and again and again living contradictory experiences.

I was happy then i was sad.

I could not even define so well ... the concept of ... vibe but i was still hoping that going to the therapist ... even if i was the therapist ... i will heal myself.

Did i succeeded?!

Well ... my life continues with or without that success

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

... but i became much open minded.

I started to love being on a beautiful vibe and appreciate those days ... but i was also accepting the bad days ... the ones with ugly vibes ... just as part of life.

And understanding that my main plan for life should be to become a wise person ... i started to accept all what was going on ... even the balance of my contradictory emotions. To make it sound great ... in a motivational way ... i called it ... the dance of my emotions.

It was ruining my soul and my mind, but i could not control it ... till the moment when i accepted that i don't need to control anything at all in this life ... not even myself.

All i had to do ... was to experience the life itself.

This was the day when i saw for the first time that the unhappy moments of my life were just a life lesson or the signal that i am not on the path to the happiness ... which in fact was obvious but i had been blind till that time.

The balance of emotions continued ... but i was not carrying anymore.

I even started to like that i have such a large spectrum of feelings and experiences in my life ... and i was thanking to the Universe ... that i don't have a boring life.

I also understood ... as a final conclusion of my therapy ... that i am not my thoughts or my emotions ... and i can have any other thoughts or emotions i wanted.

It was all ... just a decision.

A very simple one.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

I stoped complaining about the balance ... and guess what?!
It stoped ... and i started to feel ... much ... much better.
For the first time ... i felt again connected to myself ... to that inner self ... that was the gateway to the Infinite.
By accepting reality ... my life started to be a little bit different ... and maybe i was starting my journey to a real beautiful life.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

...being mad

I was mad.

It was Monday morning ... and the problems already started.
In fact ... i was mad and ... terrified.

Like all the others 99% of the active people from this planet ... Monday was equal with starting a new journey through Hell ... and i knew this script by such a long time.
... but i was doing ... just nothing ... to change my life into a beautiful way.

A friend calls me ... i describe him the day ... he laughs and sends me a tiktok with a gorgeous girl on an exotic beach ...
saying in the same time:

"... please watch the movie and enjoy it! Please do it! You will only waste few seconds.

And i'd like to ask you if you remember that 2 weeks ago, when i was to my dentist ... and i was terrified ... you told me to stay on the chair ... close my eyes and imagine i was on a beautiful beach.

And the trick worked. It really worked.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

In fact i was imagining that i am on a beach with the dentist ... and she was in bikini ... smiling to me all the time ... whispering me all kinds of beautiful words.
Was kind of a hypnosis ... following the trick you told me about.

Now please watch what i sent you.

Visualize that amazing young girl ... asking you to come into the ocean.

You can visualize the ladies from your office ... staying almost naked in front of your eyes ... and enjoy the whole scene.

The same characters ... but another scene.

It's just a trick ... please try it!".

Of course ... my friend was laughing of me ... but it was a way of instantaneous change my focus ... and probably my vibe also ... by thinking of something that my friend knew that i liked.

So dear friends ... maybe you are not having such a friend as i have ... to make you smile first thing in the morning ... but maybe you should find the best trick for yourself.

... i am sure that there is something ... you'd love to do ...
and that thing is changing your vibe right away.

Just try it ... at least as a demo ... to see how you can jump from negative to positive vibes right away!

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Understanding the karmic message is the key as the message to not be repeated anymore ... on and on and on

Vincent hurt Paula ... then he is called to the count ... but his lawyer saves him and he is not punished by authorities.

The question is ... did Vincent learnt the karmic message?! but what about Paula?!

Why is she hurt one more time ... by this damm good lawyer, that does not understand what karma is about?!

I should also ask ... should we be sorry for Paula or consider that the things should be the way they are ... and let her be hurt as many times as it is necessary as she to understand the message of that lesson of life?!

It says that at the indigenous people when someone was sick, or hurt ... or had difficult problems in life ... the people around them were not practicing so much the compassion. All was seen as a life lesson ... and the problem had to be solved by the person that had the problem ... not by the others around.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

But why the Universe is so unfair sometimes ... and let a jerk as Vincent hurt Paula ... and also Brian ... the lawyer ... convince the judge that Vincent is innocent.

So ... should we be sorry for Paula?!

I know that many of you will say yes ... but why Vincent got rid of the trial?!

Well ... maybe Vincent understood the karmic message and Paula did not.

Maybe she hurt someone else in the past and needed to see the same story from Vincent ... but from the opposite side?!

But should we call Brian ... a jerk ... because he saved a jerk as Vincent?!

Or maybe Vincent is a karmic teacher for Paula ... that needs to teach her an important lesson ... even if Vincent does not know so much about karma.

But can someone that does not know what karma is ... be a karmic teacher?!

Well ... my dear readers ... karma is something abstract ... difficult to be understood and many times in life ... we fail at those karmic tests.

The example i gave you ... might be real or not ... but there are many, many similar stories as this one.

The characters of the story will be overwhelmed by emotions ... and probably will understand the message of the lesson ... too late ... but at least at the end we should ask ourselves why the Universe permitted as something so unfair to happen.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

You see ... the Supreme Intelligence will never allow something to happen ... unless there is a certain reason ... and sometimes we might not understand ... if we can't define well the meaning of karma in our lives.
... and maybe is time for us to study and meditate why indigenous people ... saw things this way ... even if it is too abstract for our modern thinking.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

One million ways ... of communicating with the others. Just a new trend

There are one million ways of saying "I love you!" ... but you should choose the right one for her for a great connection ... and in the same way ... like in a love story ... there are one million ways of saying "Give me the money" ... and actually receive the money ... or what you actually want from someone.

I am smiling ... thinking of a guy that is client and needs to pay me one thousand dollars every month.

By years .. he drives me crazy ... when it comes about payment.

I need to call him 50 times ... till he finally answers and make me the payment.

But few days ago ... i finally realized that in fact we have kind of a karmic relationship ... and it's not that he's driving me crazy ... but i also drive him crazy ... cause i need to call him tens of times to solve the payment issues.

And realizing that ... i calmed down.

Loved the idea.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

I am not a victim anymore ... but also the aggressor ... and he becomes the victim same as i do ... from time to time.
And is funny cause it took me years to understand that ... but the question is ... how many other relationships as this one i have ... because i worked with thousands of clients over the years.

What about all the other types of relationships i have ... not just business?!

Did i chose the right way of communicating with that person?!

If you would ask me how to say i love to a woman i would tell ... indeed that there are one million ways of saying it ... but even if i worked with so many clients ... i haven't learnt the trick for getting my money in time.

So ... i sent to the guy a short movie with a beautiful lady ...
asking for money and threaten him i will send her to him.
And guess what?! ... he smiled ... and finally made the payment.

I touched his heart ... and he realized he needs to pay me ... at least this time ... because i succeeded ... in a damm crazy world ... to make him smile.

No one is listening anymore today ... to anyone ... and the only way of getting what you want is to find new ways of communicating with the people around.

The whole world changed.

We are different today.

The standard ways of connecting to people ... just fail.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

But now i wonder ... how do i find a way of communicating with the Universe ... to ask what i want.
.... and i want lots of things, so hope i find the trick!

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

It is indeed a real art ... focusing just on ourselves ... but no one taught us that.

You see ... it's not necessary to be number one ... but to follow your real destiny.

It's not important to be better than the others ... and compare with them all the time ... but to be a better soul as the one you've been yesterday.

... that is the real evolution.

It's funny having in my life ... kind of a friend that even if he is doing quite well in all his businesses ... and he has about 4 at the moment ... every time i meet him, usually once at 1-2 months ... he's telling me all kind of stories about people that we know.

That one ... lost his wife that left home, because she is in love with someone else ... that one closed his shop because he was so stupid that in the end was bankrupt ... that friend from the kindergarten lost all he had at the casino etc etc.

In 5 minutes i hear all what happened recently in our area ...
and he knows all those details.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

I don't need to ask anyone else about the news ... cause he will inform me with everything.

But my question is ... why he never inform me also about the positive news from our area?! ... cause i am sure that at least something positive is happening from time to time in here.

Why he is so focused on the misery of others?! ... when in fact he is actually a very successful guy ... having a beautiful family, a fancy car, lots of opportunities in his daily life ... and his businesses are running excellent.

Why is he doing that?!

Well ... my dear friend is indeed practicing a non sense behavior.

And even if i see so clear the evolution of his success all the time ... i also see his obsession regarding the misery of the others ... probably as a desire of comparing himself with them ... and see a huge distance between his position and the position of the ones that are in a negative episode of their lives.

Is hard for me to understand this disease of comparing ourselves with the others around us ... and i am sure i have it too ... but i try to cure myself and compare just the me of today ... with the me of yesterday ... hoping that the me from tomorrow will always be a better one.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

You are in that ugly story ... because you wanted a part of that story, not realizing the complexity of the whole story.
... and still you see no way out of the story!

David was a businessman with a huge experience ... especially regarding the human interactions.
He worked with so many clients ... one to one ... that after 20 years of work ... he knew more as a psychologist about how we must interact between us.
But still one day he writes me that he had enough with his business and the delays regarding the payments ... and wants as this ugly story just to end forever.
He was trying lots of tricks and even if i believe that through his life experiences he learnt more that i did ... regarding the human mind ... he wrote me because he saw i study the dance of our feelings and emotions.
His whole life was a balance of emotions.
In the morning ... checking his bank account he was

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

happy ... one hour later he became annoyed that a client owning him money by months was not answering his phone call ... then a new client was calling saying that he signs the contract with him and he was happy again ... and this was happening on and on and on.

It was all a non ending story.

He was jumping from good to bad vibes ... and from bad to good vibes ... 20 times a day ... and after years of doing that ... his soul became a ... ruin.

It was like ... this was the destiny of his life ... to live in a story that brings him happiness and unhappiness in the same time ... but the frequency of all those episodes were driving him crazy.

I was smiling reading his thoughts and feelings ... not really understanding why David was not seeing the way out of this story ... even if he had a huge experience with the human beings.

It was all a decision ... but he was not ready yet for that decision ... cause he had a very strong addiction ... the one of love for money.

In so many years of business he could just decide to stop working with the customers that are not serious... and choose only the ones that respect him and have good connection with them.

And even if he knew all those things ... the love for money was much powerful ... and he agreed to continue being in a story ... that was bringing him joy but also annoyed him ...
and destroyed his vibe everyday.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

In fact not the clients were ruining him emotionally ... but the fact that he could not get rid of the addiction for money and be more selective with his customers. Loving every penny ... came from all the directions ... was a way of saying to the Universe ... "As long as the money are coming ... i agree to pay the price for that".

So even if he knew that he was paying everything with the price of his vibe ... the decision of continuing was ... his own decision.

There was no one that could help him ... cause he just needed to cure himself of chasing every penny that was coming to his company.

The story of his business could be a nice one ... and also one of success, but he did not knew to focus just on the relationships that are bringing him a beautiful connection.

He was accepting all the ones that were fucking his vibe ... because of some extra money ... more than the ones came from the good clients ... which in fact was quite enough.

Curing himself of his addiction for money was the key ... and he knew it ... but David was doing nothing about it.

He was living a silly life ... jumping from happiness to unhappiness and from unhappiness to happiness ... just like in a cartoon movie.

There was almost no advice to give to him.

It was useless ... cause he knew the answer ... and i was just replying ... "David ... why do you want to wait another 20 years to take the decision that you need to take today?!".

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

... and probably ... many of us ... we are doing the same as David ... in different areas of our lives.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

“While money can’t buy happiness, it certainly let’s you choose your own form of misery”

I am scrolling on my phone ... on social media quotes ...
smiling while reading the ones regarding money or success.
I was obsessed about ... money.

And many times also about ... success.

Being young ... at the beginning of my journey through life ... i believed in those dreams ... but now i am smiling reading this.

In fact ... i would even say ... that i am laughing ... but i don’t want to offend all the ones that are chasing those paths in life.

It was funny ... realizing that money will never bring happiness ... but all kind of miseries ... and the illusion that the end ... will be a happy one.

Is like we need to go through Hell ... so that we actually find the real path to the Paradise.

We search for joy ... and we are surrounded by misery ... all around.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

And truth be told, no one ever told us that ... with the money
... we can buy happiness ... cause there is no real currency that can buy ... the emotions we are chasing so much.

Is even useless to describe such an illusory concept ... but we still have in our minds the illusion that at the end of the this journey to success ... which is in fact a journey to a pathless path ... we will see the joy inside of our souls.

We might actually see it ... but one second later ... it will just disappear ... to nowhere.

Misery will appear again ... but we don't see the connection between the misery itself and ... us.

We actually paid ... the price of our own form of ... misery ...
but can't realize the paradox.

Yes we looked for happiness ... but there is no joy around us ... and still can't admit it.

There is one thing left to do ... continue the journey ... and hoping that even if the soul is overwhelmed by sadness ...
one day ... happiness will appear from nowhere ... and smile to us.

The dance of our emotions is a

Attitude is a reflection of our mental software and the influences around us ...
but it can also be inherited

Attitude can be always changed ... and it's basically ... a decision.

Can be ... a positive or a negative one.

But a strong attitude is mainly controlled by our thoughts and emotions ... and maybe this is the reason why we see even at ourselves ... this balance between a good and a bad attitude ... in different kind of situations.

For the lucky ones ... the attitude was an important lesson of life learnt early at home ... by the parent that was closest to us ... and this is the reason why it can represent a reflection of the mental software.

On the other hand ... we are living in an ocean of influences ... and everything around teach us how should act on the stage of life.

Of course ... the most important important persons near us ... counts the most ... and they can become great

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

teachers that shows us the best way of acting.

A beautiful mother, with the body of a top model ... can teach her daughter have the attitude of a diva ... but also the daughter can teach her mother have the attitude of a young beautiful lady ... all her life ... no matter the age she has.

Attitude is an important aspect of life ... and sometimes matters the most.

But ... you see ... it can also be a reflection of our dreams and desires.

I once had the chance to met a gorgeous girl, came from the countryside ... from a poor family, that was acting like a hollywood actress.

She had an amazing attitude ... reflecting the power of her dreams ... and almost had the chance to go to Hollywood ...

The attitude defines us.

So ... dare to be the one you want to be ... acting in the best way you should act ... and let yourself influenced only by the amazing people from your life.

And most important ... never let the balance of contradictory emotions and feelings ... change the vibe of a beautiful attitude.

The dance of our emotions is a

“When the music of the story stoped ... i discovered the pleasure of enjoying the ... silence”

Patrick loved Teresa.

He loved her a lot ... in fact.

The only problem was that Teresa was for him an amplifier of all the emotions Patrick can feel.

When everything was ok ... he was feeling like in Paradise with her ... having strong joy emotions in his soul but when they annoyed each other he was feeling like in Hell.

Patrick wrote me ... not understanding what is going on and asking me to give him the definition of this balance of contradictory emotions.

He came to a point of his life ... where he was feeling his ... emotional bankruptcy.

Could not stand anymore jumping from Hell to Paradise and from Paradise to Hell ... one million times a day.

I was just smiling reading his thoughts .. but also paying attention to everything he was telling me.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

I knew that it will be useless to tell him that he needs to stop the story for a while ... and i let the things continue without saying anything to him.

2 months later Patrick wrote again ... telling me this time that he ended the story with Teresa or to be more specific just stoped it for a while and he was feeling amazing listening the silence from his soul.

Teresa disappeared ... and also the balance of his contradictory emotions.

But guess what?!

He could not live without her ... and came back to her arms ... not realizing that everything will continue again ... the way it always was.

Another 2 months later ... Patrick wrote one more time ... saying this time that soon he will lose his minds ... because of all what was going on ... asking me to help him to get out from this weird situation.

But i wrote only a short reply ... "Patrick! I had similar stories with yours and i ask myself why you want me to confirm you what to do?!

I just can't understand why you need this confirmation.

You already had a short time when you stayed away from her and you felt silence inside of you.

You felt wonderful.

Teresa is connecting to your beautiful, but also your dark side and reveals everything into an amplified mode.

She is connected deep ... deep inside of you.

She is part of your soul.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

You just need to decide if you master this balance of contradictory emotions ... or you get out of this emotional game ... which became an important chapter of your whole life.”

Patrick did not had the power to write me back.

He did not liked what i wrote him ... but he knew all what i said.

“Your perception of me is a reflection of you; my reaction of you is an awareness of me”

Years ago i had a weird experience, that somehow totally redefined my philosophy about what we actually call in an illusory way ... enemies.

A conflict with an important person from my area, based on a nonsense, like almost all the conflicts we usually have in life ... ended at the highest institution from my country that analyze such cases.

I could almost say that because of this ... we ended at the Inquisition and we were scared to death because of that ... both of us.

But somehow it was too late ... cause they already were analyzing the case ... and all we could do was to believe that God will save us from there.

The conflict itself took about 2 years.

In my vision from that time the guy was a jerk that had to go to Hell because of all his actions against me ... but i am

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

also sure that he did not defined me as the angel from Heaven.

I had lots of nights that i could not sleep because of that damm conflict.

Had moments when i forgot about him ... but remembering again ... i was becoming overwhelmed of emotions ... again and again.

In fact ... it was a balance of contradictory emotions.

I was trying to practice the forgiveness and i was reading a lot about the subject, but even if i had moments when i thought i forgave him ... the next day i was hating him again. Seeing that the conflict is not going to an end, his wife was visiting my parents ... complaining about the situation and asking for help ... telling them all kinds of lies and that her husband is not sleeping into the night because of me .. by months.

I was smiling realizing that i was not sleeping ... and he was not sleeping either by such a long time.

But one day the conflict finally ended and no one of us was arrested ... even if almost all the people that go to that institution, that looks a lot with the Inquisition ... are arrested ... at least for a while.

Seeing that ... we closed the conflicted and we somehow promised to each other that we will never have a conflict again.

We were so idiots ... that we could almost be arrested ... only because we could not realize that the conflict itself was a ... nonsense.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Today i met him again.

We stayed for about 10 minutes together and talked.

We smiled to each other.

Saw his emotions in his eyes ... but i was seeing him this time as ... a friend.

Most probably we will make a deal together and ... make some good money.

... but i smiled after i left.

Being in front of each other ... we realized the illusory concept of what we name ... enemies and conflicts.

Maybe we have now close to 3 years from the end of the story ... and i clearly see the nonsense from that situation ...
but i can't believe i was so blind.

Time let me ... open the eyes ... and maybe for him it was the same ... but even if we were not arrested by anyone ... we spent 2 years in a weird virtual prison ... of negative emotions that ruined us the chance of enjoying life in a proper way.

I was glad seeing today that i don't hate him anymore ... and that we treated each other as 2 friends thar lived an interesting experience together ... one that redefined us our perception about the silly balance of our non sense thoughts, perceptions, feelings and emotions.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

The need of ... stories ... is real.

Elizabeth was a beautiful lady ... married with a great guy, having 2 amazing kids ... but still she was feeling miserable. She was having all kinds of contradictory thoughts and emotions.

There were days when she was happy ... but lots of others when she was overwhelmed by unhappiness. But one day ... a friend of her takes her phone, instal a dating app on it and says to her to try it ... at least for 20 minutes.

Elizabeth completes her profil ... writing ..

"In a relationship, looking for the same ...

I would like to live a parallel story"

In fact ... she was looking for a parallel universe ... where she could go from time to time ... and taste the beauty of being alive.

Her friend was also doing that, having a similar story with her own and described the dating apps as an extreme sport that is helping her to get rid of stress, anxiety and mainly to forget that on the timeline from the actual universe

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

... she is living a miserable life in fact.
She needed a magic pill ... at least to forget for a short time by the balance of all those negative emotions that were ruining her soul.

Was it moral?!

Well ... but what if i ask ... is it moral to steal some food when you don't have anything to eat?!

... just a little bit ... just to survive.

The 2 ladies ... could be defined in totally contradictory ways ... but i assure you that it will be difficult to answer at the second question.

And ... Elizabeth wanted in fact to steal a little bit of happiness ... living in an unhappy world ... painted all the time in grey colors.

She needed ... and accepted the search for ... stories ... at least from time to time.

Today ... i wonder myself ... what is a magic pill suitable for me?!

Is it ... same as Elizabeth's case ... something immoral?!

But maybe ... i am not so honest as Elizabeth to accept the misery from my life and even if the balance of contradictory emotions exists in my life ... i pretend i don't see it.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

All we actually want ... is just a reflection of the desire of more and more and more

There are people that want money.

Others ... sex, or extreme sports ... or career ... but in the end if you analyze them and try to define their lives ... we see that they are always dominated by the desire of more. And it's not that we have desires ... but we have an illusory need of increasing the dose all the time.

We can't see the addiction ... no matter what we do ... and it is funny cause if someone would dare to compare us with a person that has a drug addiction and is taking more and more drugs ... till the day he dies because of that ... we would feel ofended of the comparison.

And we see that we get for real almost all of our desires ... being happy for not more than 15 minutes ... actually living the victory of 15 minutes, which becomes the expression of the volatility of our times.

The desire itself is volatile ... and once we have it ... we just

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

want more and more ... and we can't really understand how things work.

All that is satisfying us is the fact that we can chase for more and more ... and nothing stops us.

The problem is that the gap between where we are and where we want to be is actually a balance of contradictory emotions.

We want that something ... that looks almost impossible ... but still we want it so much that we accept to have all the necessary sacrifices, forgetting that on this journey the sacrifices will never bring joy to us ... but pain, misery ... and an illusory hope that life will be different somewhere in the future.

The price of getting all that we actually want and accepting the philosophy of more as a philosophy of life ... just because we are beings dominated by desires ... makes us live ... always being on a journey to a pathless path.

We can't accept that behind the desire there is actually a volatile happiness that can satisfy our self ... just for a short period of time.

Is too much to believe that we actually spend our lives chasing the illusion behind the desire ... and on this road we need to see the self tortured by all types of emotions.

The balance of emotions ... defines everything really life is for us ... but we can't see a way out from this illusory trap.

We just accept the misery of being unhappy believing and hoping that having all those desires for real ... is the cure for

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives getting rid of ugly vibes and the start of a journey to a beautiful life.

But the truth is ... we can't see the real values of life.

Blinded by all the influences around us ... we just continue life ... in the same way a blind person is walking in the real life.

So ... is there any final destination?!

It's maybe too much to say that to be happy for real and not chaise for volatility ... we need to change our values ... and then life will change for real.

And the real trick might be ... enjoy the journey and forget thinking so much of the final destination.

The dance of our emotions is a

Truth be told ... we can't adapt ourselves to perfect case scenarios.
We just can't! ... and unfortunately ... we don't even want that!

There are many forces that control reality ... and the biggest problem is that many of them can't be seen ... or even guessed.

Many, many years ago ... when someone was losing his mind ... the popular belief was that the person was possessed by the devil.

Today we don't believe anymore in the influence of such forces ... but lots of people, from all around the world are living ... like in Hell.

They call it reality ... and are afraid of naming it in such a way ... but still ... the life itself is horrible.

There is almost no hope.

The past used to be a balance between positive and negative vibes ... but now ... everything is fucked up ... being surrounded only by negative people ... that look almost

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

possessed by evil forces that are ruining our lives.

And still we can't accept ... even if we read or heard about the concept ... that reality is controlled by invisible forces ...
difficult to be understood.

But there is something we kept hiding by such a long time ...
the fact that everything is just a reflection of our thoughts, feelings and emotions ... and we are the ones that attracted a very ugly reality.

Even the people around us ... had been attracted by us ...
but again we can't accept it.

Years ago ... maybe everything was different ... but today we see everything changed.

We still dream about the perfect life ... but ... the journey to the Paradise took us to the Hell ... and we did not understand the whole meaning of all what is going on.

The perfect case scenario became the worst case scenario ... for the simple fact that we could not accept ... and probably not even wanted it for real ... to have perfection present in our lives.

We are conflictual beings ... that can't control the wild inner side ... not realizing that we can't plant cactus seeds and expect to see orange trees.

It's all a non sense behavior.

We use beautiful words ... describing amazing plans for the future ... but end up miserable all the time.

Should we still ask why?!

Well ... maybe it's a disability of adapting to beautiful scenarios ... paying too much attention to our dark side.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

... but life continues, with all types of scenarios ... and unfortunately none of them are what we said we wanted to have.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

We should have the power to accept that our thinking has a different point of view today than yesterday.
Change ... is part of life ... even if it looks so contradictory

I had many moments in life when i believed something ... but few days later i thought something totally different.
I've been even accused that i present totally contradictory concepts ... and that i am too difficult to be understood.
I was changing my mind in lots of aspects ... but after a while i accepted that this might be a positive habit.
I was starting a process of analyzing my life ... my behavior, my thoughts my emotions ... and i was not afraid to admit that i was wrong ... that i was not having the right perspective over reality.
Meditation over important subjects ... made me understand that i was wrong seeing the scene of life ... or i was only seeing part of it.
Balancing from one idea to another ... and not even knowing

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

what is the real truth ... was happening all the time.
One day ... i said ... "It's enough! I need to accept that i have the right to change my thoughts!"
... i felt a huge released.

Was nothing wrong to have a totally different perspective after analyzing and defining reality ... and it was no reason to be ashamed of my thoughts.

Acceptance was the key ... acceptance of myself ... my behavior and in fact ... of my way of being.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Knowing the theory is great.
Forgetting that we should also practice what we talk about is just ... silly.

Not so many people are familiar with the concept of sex mates.

Maybe it's considered as a new one ... and even if it looks as a non sense or something immoral, those people are actually good friends that accepted the truth about their connection ... that they will always be friends, but they will never have a love story together ... even if they like each other a lot ... and the connection itself is great.

So ... what they actually do ... is that they are feeling good together ... without having any expectation one from another ... which again is weird ... not being in the dogmatic standards of life.

It happens i have a friend Levi ... which is an essayist that lives in the country side, near Amsterdam.

Elena, a family friend ... which likes him a lot was visiting him from time to time.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

They were good friends but also occasional sex mates, both of the being married.

Elena was not happy in her marriage, but wanted to experience something new all the time.

She believed in the concept of ... the energy of beginning ... and also taught Levi about this amazing trick.

Somehow they stopped seeing each other for a while, but seeing him 2 years later ... they started to chat again.

"So my dear how are you?! How's things?!"

Levi smiles and tells about his books of essays that he published ... but Elena started to laugh:

"Hahaha! So ... you still lose your time writing!

I remember you are an expert when it comes about theory ... and i believe you still write about love stories ... but how the hell you are writing about that ... if you don't experience it?!"

I know what kind of relationship you have with your wife ...
and you have no new mistress".

Levi smiles ... agreeing his dear friend ... replying ..."Yes my dear! We need to remember the past we had together and do it one more time!"

But the truth is that Levi did not know how to open his heart ... and became a great theoretician that forgot that in life ... practice is also important.

We should experience everything ... not just live life by connecting with the imaginary world from reading or writing books.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Elena opened his views about sexuality, the connection with the feminine sex, the beautiful friendship with a lady ... then she left from his life.

Later ... he forgot this episode and continued writing and reading books ... without experiencing anything else.

He was ... afraid ... but was hoping that writing and reading will help him enter in the world of those amazing feelings.

Elena said the truth ... and he knew it ... but still ... he could not start the life ... for real.

She was a teacher for him ... but later on he could not continue to experience life.

Probably today she could write a best seller about her experiences ... but she does not have Levi's talent to write.

Levi could write much better books ... but he does not know to connect to the present moment as Elena is doing ... so in the end the books are about an illusory world ... something he still remembers when she opened his eyes.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Divorce is not the end of the world ... but a new start in life ... and sometimes the best choice you could have

Not so far from Moscow, in a beautiful town ... which was kind of a motivational place of success you could see lots of beautiful houses, amazing cars, gorgeous ladies, lots of rich guys ... and actually it was all a story about the fact that success is real and everyone can have it ... if really wants it. There were lots of young couples in there that had absolutely all they wanted ... but still ... they were not happy together. On the path to success ... because of too much stress ... the vibes from home totally changed ... and both husbands and wives started to search for happiness ... somewhere else. And is really funny ... that what they actually did was exchanging their partners. The wife ... became mistress. The husband became ... the lover. And still happiness did not appeared in there. They had everything ... and actually nothing ... so they thought of a new change.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

The lover became then ... the lover of the mistress of someone else.

The mistress became ... the mistress of someone else ... and it all became a complicated story difficult to be understood ... or even defined.

The place was surrounded by all kinds of contradictory energies ... of happiness and unhappiness .. of good and bad vibes.

Was a weird balance of emotions ... but still the town was a great place where you could study success.

Soon ... the people from there started to realize that success does not bring happiness ... and a mistress is keeping a great vibe just for a while ... or the lover of her best friend ... that she wanted to also taste few times is not what she actually expected from a good partner.

In the end ... everybody found out that all the people from town including men and women were actually having love affairs ... but divorce was not seen as an option.

Divorce was about the real change in life.

Financial success came ... but it was not everything they really needed in life.

Actually blinded by success they lost the real values ... and they remained lost ... not understanding what else they could do ... to go in a beautiful direction.

Maybe just the divorce could be a real solution, but many of them saw it as the end of the world ... not understanding that on the path to success they fucked their lives.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Many people from all around the world ... especially the ones that are studying motivation should go and visit that place close to Moscow to understand that we can have everything we want in life ... but maybe we should not want also the things and people that don't belong to us.
But in the end ... life is a collection of experiences ... and we should enjoy everything happens to us and for us.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Be aware at negative people. Negativity is a virus.

I've read about all kind of theories when it comes about motivation ... but i believe that even if we start following that path and actually understand that it's very important to focus on positivity ... whatever you are doing in life ... the environment and the people around might perturb us most of the times.

So ... at least in my vision ... motivation has a price ... and to afford paying it ... means that you will need to disconnect from many people from your life.

That might refer to good friends, brothers or sisters, cousins, parents ... in fact anyone who might actually stop you following the path to an amazing change for your life.

Whatever we will do, even if we might have the desire of changing the world ... negativity will not disappear from this world.

We need to accept that is part from this Universe where we were born.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Negativity is kind of a virus and what we actually do is ... balance between good and bad vibes ... not seeing the fact that motivation can somehow re soft us ... so that we connect only to the beauty of life.

So ... what we do with all the negative people that we interact with?!

Can we totally remove them from our timeline?!

Well ... might be easy to avoid and ignore a neighbor ... but not a brother or a mother ... so?!

What is the trick?!

Well ... maybe disconnecting from them ... is the real trick for not interfere with energies that we don't like anymore.
We can interact with all those persons, but don't let them influence us ... with anything at all.

Basically ... ignore negativity ... cause it is just an illusion that is meant to ruin our souls.

The world can be changed by disconnecting from its dogmatism ... a philosophy created just to stop us from connecting to the beauty of being alive.

We can smile to anyone around ... no matter who they are ...
and the virus will not affect us.

The smile ... which is actually a reflection of love ... becomes the perfect weapon against evil.

There is no other trick ... and if there is something else you could do ... is that the smile for them to be authentic ... and really come from your heart.

The dance of our emotions is a

“I am not a writer.
I am a therapist.
My own therapist.”

He was smiling.
They were talking and walking into the park.
She liked some of his writings, but some of them ... she even finds them depressives.
“Listen ... i was reading some of your posts and ... i like them in general ... but still in some of them i find a little bit of negativity ... difficult to be defined.
I know you are a writer ... but did you ever had any depression ... or something similar?!”
Henry was looking to Susan and ... loving the walk ... he replies ... smiling:
“I am not a writer.
I am a therapist.
My own therapist.
It’s not about depression.
I just try to analyze and define my soul.”

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Henry started already by a long time to understand the world
... but he ended realizing that in fact he needed to understand his own soul.

He was accepting everything he was seeing inside of him, no matter if it was positive or negative.

In fact ... Henry was accepting this balance between positivity and negativity ... both of them being part of his being.

He was accepting all thoughts, all ideas ... and all the vibes ... but later on ... Henry succeeded to control all those attributes that were defining him.

Actually realized that everything was a simple decision ... and he decided to take the best decisions for himself.

And the most important, after understanding that even if negativity can be part of the script of his life ... it was important to accept the focus of his mind just on the things that defines life in a beautiful way.

Everything else is secondary ... and unimportant.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

One day you'll need to accept that some things are just an illusion from your mind ...
and is never going to really happen.
The mind ... was playing around with yourself.

I love socializing and because today i don't socialize so much as i did in the past ... i became deeper in the relationships that i have with the people from the timeline of my life.

Being involved in the renting business i deal with all kinds of people ... from simple workers that works in constructions to art directors.

I always tried to be friendly with all of them and make them feel as at home in my houses.

Benjamin was also staying at me ... by already half an year and i knew that i could count on him if something urgent was going to happen at my complex.

He was involved in constructions business and one day he was renting from me another house ... for some friends of

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

him ... that were going to be his new business partners.
Soon after ... i gave them a connection with a guy i knew which signed a contract with their company ... of $30k ...
and guess what?!

They started to fight who is actually the boss of the team and how they going to split the money.

Benjamin was suffering of depression ... many years ago when he was in UK ... but now he looked ok to me ... till the moment when he calls .. saying that he is going to call police, because he thought that the other guys were going to come into the night to his house ... brake the door and then kill him.

I did not know the other guys so well to agree or disagree with him ... but i started to ask myself what was going on.
I let them stay in my houses, gave them a contract of $30k ... he tells me that his new partners were his friends and is happy to be in the same team with them ... then he comes with the scenario that those guys were going to kill him.

Quite ... contradictory and i was not understanding this balance of his emotions, so i've asked:

"Are those guys your friends or your worst enemies?!"
... i really don't understand the story!"

But Benjamin was overwhelmed by his emotions and it was almost useless to talk to him.

He leaves the complex and goes for few days to his parents that were living far away from us.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

I agreed with him ... that this is the best choice cause things will calm down during this time.

But on Sunday ... Clara ... Benjamin's wife calls me at the first hour ... telling that she has a sewage problem at the house ... and i need to help her urgently.

I said ... "Fuck it! Who will i find at 7 am ... Sunday ... to help me to solve the problem?!"

I go in the complex, i knock on the door of his business partners ... tell them about the problem and that i need their help.

They smiled asking ... "What if we go there and he or his wife calls to police believing that we came to kill them?!"

She is alone at home with the kids."

Well ... it was funny asking that ... but they came, helped me and his wife was amazed that Benjamin's enemies came to help.

She was not understanding what is going on either ... and what to believe about Benjamin.

Calls Benjamin ... tells him the story ... but again he thought that something was wrong ... cause he could not believe what we were telling him.

I was his friend.

Clara ... was his wife.

But still ... he was believing that those guys want to kill him.

We all realized that we can't control the dance of his contradictory emotions ... and just the passing of time will help him realize that this nightmare from his head was just an illusory scenario and that his mind was playing around

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

with him.

We just needed to wait ... and let him calm down ...

And i am sure that many times i've been as Benjamin ... but did not realized it .. same as he is not seeing the things now ... in the same way we see them.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Sing and dance ... a way of changing your vibe

Indeed ... negativity is part of us and might be present on the timeline of our life many, many times ... without having almost no control over that.

It express itself very easy and comes to surface right away when we are in difficult times.

Even the ugly weather makes it appear right away ... for all the ones that are weather sensitive ... so what else could i say about it ...

And life becomes a balance between good and bad vibes ... but then the balance becomes more a dance than a balance and is almost totally dominated by the evil side of the us.

So ... everywhere we look around we see an expression of negativity on different forms ... and can't really find a way of changing reality.

But we forget one thing.

A very, very important one ... and that's the fact that all we feel is a perception ... and all those emotions we feel are

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

simple interpretations as a result of connecting with the real scene of life.

And maybe the outside world can't be changed, but there are many, many ways in how we can change the vibration of the world from inside of us.

For some ... that could be ... walking into the woods ... or in parks ... for some practicing an extreme hobby they have ... but something very easy ... should be to sing and dance ... or maybe just listen to beautiful music.

You see ... music carries vibes ... usually beautiful vibes inside of it .. and listening and actually connecting to it ... then why not sign and dance ... is a way of switching realities ... the ugly one from the scene of life with a beautiful one. It's simple and it works all the time.

You can do it ... almost right away ... maybe with the simple condition to be alone ... that being actually a condition of being able to connect to yourself.

But maybe you are an extrovert ... and you could decide that each time you feel a negative emotion inside of your soul ... to just act as a ... cheerleader ... and focus only on the vibes ... the beautiful ones.

Just try the trick!

It really works!

Listen to the music ... sing ... and dance.

Then ... your vibe will be different!

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

“She was ... an emotional amplifier.
I was feeling so alive with her and for a moment i totally forgot that i was dead by such a long time.”

Bill was obsessed about business and making money ... and after 20 years he realizes that he is not feeling alive anymore.

Making money daily it was kind of a weird addiction that was provoking him pleasure ... but the sensation was so volatile ... that ended after only 15 minutes.

So ... somehow one day he understood that the path he was following by such a long time ... was actually a pathless path.
He needed a change ... but no idea came to his mind and he was not considering himself lucky enough ... as a magical change to appear into his life.

But guess what?!

In a unbelievable way ... an amazing lady appears as a new love story and makes him forget about all his ideas about life.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

She resets himself ... and makes him falls in love as a teenager ... feeling more alive than ever.

He ... could not believe it.

Not so long time ago he was the master of all his emotions ... but now he lost the control on everything ... including himself.

He suddenly started to see the whole world painted in beautiful colors ... and he was actually feeling like the king of the world.

But ... it was a small problem.

The king started to feel alive again ... but ... and it was a huge but ... he was not running the show anymore.

She became an emotional amplifier for his soul ... and that made him feel overwhelmed by all those weird feelings.

Was not used to feel anything ... anymore ... but now everything was changed.

And the price of change ... was not cheap ... but it was too late.

The control was lost.

She was controlling now all his vibes ... and just a simple smile was enough as him to feel the joy inside of his soul.

But maybe that's life.

You want to feel safe ... you'll not feel alive.

And if you dare to feel alive ... then a collection of emotions ... sometimes contradictory ones ... will dominate your soul.

So ... who knows what is the best?!

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

It's ok to not be ok

Imagine someone is telling you ...without any diplomacy that ... "I believe you are under the attack of a depression...".
You knew it ... but you hid it so damn well that you even forgot it.

Deep inside yourself everything has negative values ... but in the outer world ... everything looks ok.

And you actually do your best to be ok ... cause no one ever told you that it's ok to not be ok.

We are afraid of our feelings or i should say that in fact we accept just the positive vibes.

But imagine that in school ... besides chemistry, mathematical formulas, biology etc etc ... and too many other useless things that we never really cared about and will not meet the concepts in the real life to help us with something ... just imagine ... that a teacher could explain you the meaning of your emotions and how you can deal with them.

The simple fact ... that we should see at the feelings that worries us ... signs that something is not ok ... and we don't

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives follow the right path of life.

... i mean the real path that is destined for us.

The ugly vibes ... sometimes don't lie and are not false alarms.

Negative emotions carries always a message ... but we should be wise enough to meditate and understand that something ... that looks so abstract.

I know ... it should be amazing as life to be a chain reaction of beautiful events ... and our souls to be fulfilled just with great vibes ... but life has also different lessons to teach us.
And maybe we should trust the Universe that knows better than us to keep the right balance between positivity and negativity.

So ... you are not ok?!

Well let me give to an amazing news ... it's ok to not be ok.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Coming back to the old standards ... quite annoying, but also funny

I was reading the news regarding the increase of the energy price ... and i was smiling.

I stoped reading the news by already few years ... but i payed a little bit of attention to this subject.

Don't even know who is the prime minister from my country ... but after receiving an email from the electricity company ... I've called them to ask if it is a joke ... or the email is real.

Could not believe that actually the new price is 3 times more expensive ... and even if i heard people complaining about that ... i ignored the news.

But you see ... that is the new reality and that is going to be the new standard price of kw.

It's ok!

Of course i have the right to complain about that ... but it will be useless.

I am mature enough to understand that my complains ... will

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

not change anything and only adapting to the situation is the real solution.

I heard all kinds of discussions about people that will not be able to pay their energy bills and suddenly i remember that when i was a kid, in the communist times we used to stay at 16 celsius degrees at home ... and we've survived.

We were not complaining ... and if we felt it is too cold we took another jacket.

So ... bottom line ... i smile and i realize that people that will not be able to pay those huge energy invoices ... and there will be people all around the world in this position ... they will need to ... readapt to the old standards.

In my country those standards were removed at the end of 1989.

Probably in England ... people stoped seeing as a standard to stay in the winter time at home at that temperature ... maybe 100 years ago.

But now ... even if i am smiling writing that ... this might be the real solution ... readapt to the old standards.

I know a guy that had a Rolls-Royce and was the richest guy from his area.

He own supermarkets and lots of other businesses.

He even own a football team ... but one day he was arrested and went to jail.

And you see ... in there he was adapting to the situation and he was cleaning floors.

Imagine to have the chance of being the richest guy from

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

your area ... own a Rolls with driver and then the next day to clean floors and toilets.

Imagine the contradictory emotions that guy had in his soul. Maybe indeed he was a bad guy and needed to go to jail ... but still he is a soul ... same as all of us.

Someone i know ... was visiting the prison with a religious mission and saw him ... while he was making the cleaning job.

He told me his story ... in fact the other side of the story ... and i realized that the guy is a motivational character.

You see ... motivational materials are telling us the story of the journey from cleaning floors to having your own Rolls with driver ... but i did not saw the reverse story.

No one tells us how we should adapt to worst case scenarios ... cause they are real ... and might happen too. And the solution is not to complain ... or cry ... or even get suicide but to know how to adapt to any scenario life has to offer.

We should see it ... as an important episode ... and an amazing life lesson.

That should motivation teach us ... and we should be ready for anything would happen in life ... without having any feeling of being indignant.

I know that would be difficult to tell my kids that in the winter time we will need fo stay home at 16 celsius degrees ... and it will be difficult for anyone from the world to do that ... but going back in the past ... to the old standards ... it will be fun.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Smile to anything happens in life ... and just try to adapt to any life scenario.

The Universe knows better why it happens.

Indeed you have the right to be indignant ... but also the duty to adapt yourself to any situation.

So ... coming back to the huge increase of energy prices ... i only smile to this illusory problem ... cause i recently watched at some documentaries about how homo sapiens was living an eternity ago ... and i believe they survived in the winter times ... cause we survived as a specie.

The new test of our times ... comparing with the prehistorical times ... is ridiculous.

We just can't compare them.

So ... i actually laugh at all those people around me that are feeling indignant and forgot the old standards from 30 years ago.

I should probably tell them the story of the rich guy .. owning a Rolls ...that was cleaning floors today ... and ask them to analyze and define the balance of contradictory emotions from the soul of a person that was feeling he is a prince and became over night a pauper.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

A $ 50,000,000 house is indeed amazing ... but it will not necessary bring happiness in that home, cause happiness is not so related with the money as we might think

You can see lots of gorgeous houses over the internet ... and sometimes the prices are ... huge.

But i was wondering why should someone pay so much on a house ... or an apartment?!

What are the expectations?!

It happens i know lots of businessmen from my country and i saw that many of them paid lots of attention to this chapter ... and they really have beautiful houses .. but still i did not felt them as happy beings.

So can money ... or the fact that having the ability of buying an amazing house ... can really help us feel happy at home?!

Do we really need such a place ... or what is the most important ... is actually to live with great people in that house?!

I mean ... to have a good spouse ... and a good connection

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

with that person, be happy that you have good kids ... spent time with them ... and enjoy the fact that at home you actually live in an amazing world.

Most probably ... living in a $ 50,000,000 property can induce you a nice feeling ... no matter if it is an apartment in New York or a castle in France ... but i still believe that the people living in there are the ones that give life to that place. So ... not the place itself can make you have that eternal feeling of being happy ... but the joy of being near some people that you love ... and you also love spending time with. And you can actually be happy with them anywhere in the world.

That can be the most expensive apartment in LA or the cheapest house from Botswana.

Do you really believe that we cannot meet pigmies from the african jounge ... that can tell us that they are feeling amazing in their homes?!

There is no $50,000,000 property in there ... and they actually live in the most primitive ways ... like the human from ancient times ... but still ... happiness might be present in there also.

The amazing feelings of joy or the ugly unhappiness ... do not care if we are poor or millionaires ... or even billionaires. So ... no matter who we are ... maybe it's time to define better the environment where we live ... and what we call ... home.

It's nice to dream of a beautiful house ... and it's ok to

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives admire very expensive properties that look amazing ... but we should always keep in mind that the environment is also defined by the people near us ... not just the place itself.

The dance of our emotions is a

Connecting ... then pretending we disconnect ... so that we end up reconnecting again.
A trick used by all the ones that are in a real love story.

Being in love is ... dangerous.
I always thoughts so ... and actually all the times when i did it ... i lost control on myself.
... but i liked it.
I felt alive.
I remember the trick that all the humans are doing when they are in love and that is ... connect then just pretending to disconnect and then reconnect again.
I used to do that also ... even if i was overwhelmed by my emotions.
But in time ... i realized that in a real connection between 2 souls ... it can't really exist disconnection.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

We can play around ... not liking certain things ... but we end up missing too much the soul we love ... and we come back. We find different reasons to talk ... one more time ... and sometimes we even use non senses just to appear in front of each other.

We know how powerful this trick is ... cause once we see again that lovely soul ... both partners becomes overwhelmed by ... emotions.

We later understand ... that everything can be defined as a dance of feelings and emotions ... but even if it is so dangerous ... we accept the dance as part of the story ... the love story.

And even if the emotions are so contradictory ... even if we try or pretend we try to disconnect ... we see how powerful is the connection between 2 real soul mates.

And we continue ... playing around ... but also accept the balance of unclear emotions ... so difficult to be defined by someone that did not had the chance to experience what really means ... being in love.

It all looks like a ... non sense ... connect, disconnect ... reconnect ... but it's all part of the script.

... and we continue dancing ... with the soulmate, but also with our ... abstract emotions.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Sharing the partners ... a contradictory modern concept that is actually helping us understand that we don't own any person ... but we can enjoy every soul around us.
... an abstract method of forcing us to practice the art of detachment.

When i first heard about the concept of swingers ... i found it totally disgusting.

I could not believe there are people on this planet with such a sick mind.

Recently ... a dear friend ... Leo ... who's from Vegas ... told me his story that was so related with the subject.

He actually could not accept the concept either and totally condemned this kind of behavior ... not realizing that he was still young and that life will probably offer him all kinds of strange experiences.

And guess what?!

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Life put him in the position of sharing the person he loved ...
with someone else.

But it was funny cause the Universe did not bothered to ask him is he wants to practice the concept of swinging ... or not.
It just happened.

He thought he can have a love affair with someone else's wife ... and that lady will have sexual contacts only with him.
But he was also expecting as his wife to be a good person and ignore that he cheated on her and not revenge on him ...
by cheating him back.

But guess what?!

This ... just happened.

Leo cheated his wife because he wanted to experience something new ... being bothered just with the life from home ... but karma played around ... and Leo received the same result back from his wife.

Without even noticing he became same as the swingers ...
the ones that he detested so much.

But what was the difference between what he did and a swinger ... because ... in fact ...the result was the same?!

Leo changed for a short period of time his wife with another lady ... that was in fact married ... but his wife did the same as a reply to his actions.

You see the only difference is that they did not discussed the situation before doing it ... because doing all that ... maybe the desire existed on the both sides.

Leo's wife was not agreeing the swingers concept either ... but she was acting same as them.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

You see ... what i actually want to say is that many times in life we refuse to accept different kind of weird concepts ... and we end up doing it in a unconscious way ... without realizing it.

I know ... life is weird.

I know it by a long, long time.

We watch tv and see at the news that someone was arrested because of fraud ... and we even judge that person ... but one day we just do the same.

We hear a story that someone betrayal his family just because of his business ... we condemned that behavior ... and few years later we just do the same.

The list ... is probably huge ... and truth be told we have a dark side inside of us ... and even if we see it so clear and we judge everyone around that is doing something wrong later on we do the same ... but maybe in a unconscious way.

Yes ... we have a weird attraction to experience weird things ... but ... maybe the difference between Leo and a swinger is that the swinger was accepting the journey on the path he wanted to follow.

There could be many reasons and one of them could be that the swingers wants that as ... an abstract method of forcing themselves to practice the art of detachment.

The same the one is doing the fraud is trying to force things to get rich sooner ... probably not realizing that he already have enough money to be happy.

We have this abstract desire of more and a hunger of experiences ... some of them being illicit ... and we go to

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

that direction both ways ... conscious or unconscious.
So ... maybe is time to stop judging people ... and better ask why they did what they did ... and if we will follow the paths of those experiences also.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

You just can't be aemotional when you meet again someone with who you had an amazing love story in the past

James was in love with Alice years ago.
They are both my friends and i know them by already a lifetime... so i know all about them.
Bottomline ... they are soul mates ... but because they were acting as Mr Ego and Mrs Vanity ... they ended up their amazing love story.
They got married with ... someone else.
Had beautiful children ... and all they ever wanted ... but still they were feeling that something is missing from their life, but did not know what.
After years they meet one day by accident ... they talk for hours and suddenly realized that even if they have everything life can offer to a human being love was missing from their heart.
.... but now it was too late.
They had beautiful families at home and divorce would be a

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

nightmare for the kids from both sides.

And while they were chatting ... Alice is coming with the idea that they should be just lovers ... and continue their love story.

James smiles to her

"Alice ... i've been overwhelmed by emotions one million times because of you. Do you expect to become aemotional this time?!"

Alice was a wise person and knew how to talk to him ...

"Listen James! After so many years i still love you but i want this time to live near your soul ... a love without expectations.

I will just infinitely love you ... and ask nothing in return.

And you will do the same also.

We already fucked up everything years ago ... there is nothing else to be destroyed.

So ... let's try this time just to enjoy the story".

James was meditating a lot to her words.

It was actually a non sense proposal ... to love her in an aemotional way ... but he knew that if he will let her enter again in his heart ... his soul will be fulfilled with lots of contradictory emotions.

And still ... he liked her ... in fact he was liking her a lot and she was feeling the same about him.

What they were actually expecting was to do it one more time ... but this time just enjoy the story without any expectations.

The dance of our emotions is a
... nonsense ... but a main part of our lives

Alice was somehow talking about an aemotional love story ... but James knew that he loves her too much to forget about attachment.

Was hoping ... he could do it ... but ... they both knew that they were just lying each other

Accepting all what is going on ... as part of life and the divine plan ... an amazing trick for avoiding depression ...

Adrian Gabriel Dumitru

Dear friends,

Most probably ... the worst disease of our times is ... the depression.

And ... unfortunately we can see it everywhere ... at many souls from the stage of our lives.

But what i personally discovered is that depression is not really something ... 100% negative.

I see it today ... more as an aggressive signal ... which is whispering us that ... we forgot to be ... happy.

Nothing more ... nothing less ...

INTRODUCTION

George ... was a guy of about 55.

I knew him since i was a kid and i saw him smiling all the time.

Being much older than me ... we actually never spent time together when i was a kid ... but still .. i was seeing him almost everyday.

So probably i could say that i knew George.

My father was friend with his father ... which i remember that had many, many cars ... including a beautiful Mercedes.

In the 80's in a communist country ... having such a car was probably the equivalent of a Rolls Royce from nowadays times.

And more i connect to those moments from my childhood ... i realize that it was nothing that could say the fact that George was an unhappy guy.

I could probably say the opposite ... that he was almost a smiley person ... all the time.

But few days ago ... i read in social media about the fact that George died in a train accident, most probably suiciding himself ... because of depression.

He was a policeman ... but now ... not anymore.

The real truth was that he was a lost soul ... and most probably he could not stand his depression anymore.

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

... philosophical essays

So what the hell is this thing that we name ... depression?! Well ... depression (also called major depressive disorder or clinical depression) is a common but serious mood disorder. It causes severe symptoms that affect how you feel, think, and handle daily activities, such as sleeping, eating, or working.

To be diagnosed with depression, the symptoms must be present for at least two weeks.

But maybe George was depressed already by ... years, that he decided to suicide.

It's probably not fair enough to define him ... cause i was never closed to him and in the last years i was just saying hello to him only 1-2 times but still ... i was wondering ... why someone should decide to take his life?!

The question was repeated on my mind on and on and on ... but still i had the image with George ... smiling.

And if i should ask myself how do i remember another 100 persons i know ... and try to define them randomly .. all i could say is probably that they are ... unhappy ... most of the times.

So George had a happy face most of the times i was seeing him in my town ... but was totally unhappy ... and in fact he was ... depressive ... and many others ... i could define as depressives ... without a question.

George's example was so ... tricky.

He was hiding his real feelings so, so well ... and without knowing what the real truth about his life was ... i found illogical his action of suicide.

And i start to ask myself ... should we let our depression... be expressed?!

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

... philosophical essays

Should we allow unhappiness ... define our lives or hide it and pretend it's does not exists?!

Is depression a friend ... or a very difficult enemy?!

Can we get rid of it?!

Can we get rid of it overnight?!

Well ... so many questions ...

Too bad i can't ask George ... about his depression and if the trick of getting suicide worked?!

You see ... i'm talking about him, cause he use to be a very simple person ... probably having a very simple life ... but his extreme decision ... defines him as an example that worth ... our attention.

I saw over the years many people and many of them suffered of depression also ... by why those people are not deciding to suicide?!

What is the difference between them and George?!

Was George a weak person that could not stand those depressive feelings or all the others are too cowards... to end their lives as this friend of mine.

Well so many contradictory questions and answers ...

But while meditating a lot on what i name the illusion of life ... and also about this simple theory of analyzing, defining ...

so that in the end we could redefine reality ... i was wondering ... what if what we see and feel on the stage of our lives ... is just illusory?!

What if depression is just the feeling of being dominated of illusory interpretation of how we see this world?!

What if we try to simple change our perspectives ... and redefine in fact our thoughts and feelings?!

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

... philosophical essays

What if we should try to see the beautiful side of everything is going on?!

And what if ... in fact ... depression is just a gateway to the real happiness?!

But you see ... we don't like this concept of ... illusions.

We don't accept that all what we feel or think is a certain perspective over reality ... and ...

Well ... most probably if we should not be so attached by the inner self we could probably see other perspectives.

But something keeps us ... prisoners in a jail with invisible walls.

So ... the solution?!

Hmm ... damn it

Why the hell i can't ask George how is he now?!

Did his depression stopped?!

Can we escape from depression and suicidal thoughts by getting suicide?!

What is the truth behind this annoying karmic habit ... of depression?!

I smile ...

I even laugh ...

Most probably i had also thoughts as George ... but i never let them dominate me.

Many will say that they never had to deal with depression ... and still they have miserable lives ...

I smile and also laugh ... cause today i know that depression is just an illusion ... and the habit that we let ourselves be dominated by illusory thoughts and feelings ... totally losing control on ourselves.

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

... philosophical essays

Spiritual awakening might be the ... real path ... to follow ... which is probably the real meaning of life ...

Suddenly depression becomes kind of a blessing or a test of life that makes us realize it's time to go deeper and deeper.

The karmic game of illusions ... starts to make total sense ... but only when we redefine everything related with depression as part of a spiritual process.

And we have so, so many choices ...

To accept and embrace it.

To deny it.

To get rid of it ... in any way.

I say hello and good bye to George one more time ... and i regret the fact that i did not had the chance to tell him that ... all we see in this world It's just a ... karmic game of illusions.

Most probably now ... he would laugh of this illusory disease called ... depression ... and follow the gateway to the real happiness not practicing anymore the attachment to the inner self.

Exploring ... we sometimes get rid of regrets

It happens i know lots of men ... that could be illusory defined as pigs, jerks etc etc.

And i do really accept this perspectives ... even if i am a man ... but i was wondering why the hell we should not also define the other side of the story.

For example i see my friend ... Brian ... which i know quite well.

He has absolutely all a man of 40 can have ... success, money, career, a beautiful house, an amazing family ... just everything.

But i don't see him ... really happy.

In fact i could even define him as ... depressive ... even if i know that he is not.

The funny thing is that me and Paul noticed that Brian changed his plans in the last time.

For example ... one day he wrote us that he had driven 200 km to drink a cappuccino in a certain park to a coffee shop that he likes.

And we've asked him how the hell to drive 400 km just to drink a cappuccino?!

It's total nonsense ...

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

... philosophical essays

But Brian replied ... "You both know that i don't have a happy marriage.

Remember that 2 months ago i was driving 2000 km to meet that beautiful girl of 21?!

Well ... the connection with her was ... horrible.

The sex was ... the worst story i even experienced ... but

Yes ... i know i am married ...

You see ... I promised myself i will experience whatever i want to ... experience.

I simple refuse to live with regrets.

Why should i live in those illusory thoughts ... when i could simple experience life ... and decide later if that experience was an illusion or not ..."

I was looking at him and i agreed.

Truth be told ... i stoped myself so, so many times of doing things that i should do ... just to not live with any regret at all in my soul.

But ... comparing to Brian ... i was continuing my silly life ... pretending ... and accepting that the regrets could overwhelm me from time to time ...

Being unhappy it's a ... handicap

I felt many times unhappy.
And to tell you the truth ... had no idea why i felt that.
In fact ... this is probably the reason why i've started to be interested about philosophy... and of course spirituality.
Today ... i hate when people tells me that i have a weird ...
unexplained unhappiness.
They find it ... a nonsense ... cause i look as a person having
... all a normal human being could have.
I look into the eyes of those people seeing me in such a way ... and i feel that they whisper me that ... i have a huge ...
handicap.
And yes indeed ... unhappiness is a handicap.
I hate hearing this.
But ... more and more people come and tell me the same
... perception about my soul.
... that my face is always ... unhappy.
I dared to read definitions of unhappiness and even of ... depression... but i disliked it.
Somehow those people ... were right.
But i also started to realize ... it was wrong to continue living like that ... and that i could cure ... this weird handicap.
I only had to accept it.

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

... philosophical essays

Then ... analyze and define all what is going on with my soul
.... so that into the end to redefine ... the whole script of my life.

Getting rid of addictions ... you'll come face to face with the factors that were generating your depression ... but don't worry ...
cause it might be challenging ...

I was in the car for half an hour with a new friend.
A nice guy, engineer, working on the sea as a sailor ...
Indeed ... a real interesting guy.
As usual i was exploring the human interconnections ... and started to chat with him about lots of things related with the life itself.
I saw that he was a little bit intrigued by the fact that i was not drinking whiskey.
In fact i was not drinking alcohol at all ...
I used to love drinking ... but not anymore.
My new friend from the south of Ukraine ... but his other friends also ... could not understand why i refuse to drink with them whiskey.
Found it as a non sense.
In fact ... as a total nonsense.
But i simple smiled.

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

... philosophical essays

I knew that alcohol was an ...addiction.

A very ... ugly one.

I asked my friend ... "Why do you drink?!"

Seriously... he replied "Because of my problems. Helps me forget about them."

"Hahaha. But you know ... the problems will not disappear".

"I know ... but for a while I disconnect completely from them."

I was in this illusion of alcohol ... for years, but you see ... i simple decided to stop doing it, realizing that i am not running away by the problems, but by ... depression... which was that weird ugly feeling generated by my problems.

So ... one day ... seeing that the alcohol is only calming down the way i feel, but never heals the way i feel ... i just decided to stop drinking.

I had to deal with what looked like ... kind of a depression.

And ... it was not so hard as it might look like.

I faced my negative thoughts.

I analyzed them and defined everything ... in one million ways, realizing in the end that the depression itself is just an illusory state of being ... that makes you believe that you're a victim of the present moment and nothing can change.

My mind ... was playing around with me.

I was laughing a little bit of my ukrainian friend that could not understand my decision of getting rid of alcohol.

I was facing into my eyes ... what could be called as ... my depression ... and my friend was running away by it, by such a long, long time ... same as i was doing for years.

My perception about this illusory concept called ... depression ... was totally redefined.

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

... philosophical essays

I found it more as a signal that was whispering me that i was not following the right path for my life.

I started to pay huge attention to it.

Each time when i felt a negative emotion ... i just stopped from all what i was doing ... and meditated.

Yes ... meditate ... meditate ... meditate.

In the end ... i was smiling seeing my perspectives so ... changed.

I realized that the depression was ... not a negative issue from my life.

The depression itself was actually ... a friend that was trying to help, clarifying and whispering me on and on and on the things i need to redefine into my life.

So ... instead of running away ... i was facing the things that were annoying me so much ... trying to solve those things.

Depression ... a reflection of illusory thoughts

I started to see so, so many people around myself ... dominated by ... depression.
And i smile ... realizing that the door that could get them out from that environment ... is so close by them.
Today ... when i really want to connect with someone, i just ask them ... what do they think of the concept of ... illusion.
And ... guess what?!

With many of them ... it's like i start a conversation about ...
devils.
They totally dislike it.
The smiles, the beautiful vibes of the conversations ...
suddenly .. stops.
It's like i said something really ... impolite.
So ... what it's really wrong ... talking about illusions?!

Why do they reject so strongly ... those discussions?!

And they start having those ... unhappy faces.
Depression ... starts to be revealed.
They are so afraid of it.
But not me.
I accepted and embraced it ... long time ago, as part of this process of being alive ...
Know why?!

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

... philosophical essays

Well ... i somehow understood that the depression itself was generated by all my illusory thoughts ... and all i need to do was to simple ... get rid of them.

Or ... just ignore all those ... perceptions.

I understood the term of illusion.

I accepted it as ... part of life.

But i don't allow myself anymore to be dominated by those illusory thoughts which come into my mind ... so often.

You see ... depression is just ... part of the process of understanding the life itself.

Once the concept of illusion becomes clear ... and we accept that our perceptions don't have absolute values ... well ... things change.

The depression itself is metamorphosed into an illusion ... and we can smile in front of it.

The thoughts become simple thoughts.

Emotions ... just something volatile that define us ... usually ... for a very short time.

The impact just ... decrease and depression becomes so ... unimportant.

We simple ... ignore it.

But it took so much time to understand the concepts about ... illusions.

Everyday was looking like a ... funeral but there was no real funeral.
It was all ... the usual daily life ... and nothing more.

Peter was going out from time to time with his friends ... to drink beer ... till late in the night.

They did that from high school.

The funny thing about him and his friends was just that if someone would measure their vibes before they entered into the pub and at the time when they were leaving ... could see a huge difference.

It was like they were treating their depression at the pub ... together.

Many years ago ... when they were students ... i saw them happy before and after their meeting ... but today

Peter's face was looking like the one of a guy that was coming from a funeral ... but there was no funeral into that day in our small town.

I started to wonder ... is Peter suffering of depression?!

Maybe he was treating his depression with ... alcohol ... and that's why he was so smiley at the pub?!

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

... philosophical essays

There were so many questions into my mind regarding Peter ... but his life looked to me like an eternal funeral.

And one day i found the gut to ask him ... "Peter why the hell you look so bad before you enter the pub and... look like a person with such a great vibe when you are here?!"

"Hmm .. difficult question ... but ...

It's a long story.

Maybe the short story is that ... at home in my marriage ... i am not a happy person.

It's like something died between us and we participate now at an eternal funeral.

We can't find the guts to end it ... so the marriage itself is destroying us everyday ... little by little.

You see ... coming here with my friends ... it's not about alcohol even if this is what it looks like ... but mainly connecting to a beautiful energy from the old times."

So ... what i saw at Peter as a depression ... was actually the reflection of a negative energy generated by the connection between him and his wife.

And every time when he entered into another type of environment ... or maybe i should say ... energetic field ...

Peter could become again that ... Peter ... which i use to know from school.

A joyful person ...

Hmm ... too bad his life from home was like an eternal funeral.

I try to understand him even if i believe that Peter could be saved ... cause he was still young ... but he was ... delaying everything.

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

... philosophical essays

We most probably ... simple don't understand that a funeral is mainly about saying "Good bye!" ...or to be much clear ... "Good bye ... forever!" ... and should not take ... an eternity. What looks as a depressive vibe is probably whispering us something ... that is more ... a message ... but an abstract one.

I am seeing it but don't know if Peter is realizing what is really going on.

Feeling in the wrong energy ... looks almost like a disease

Paula wrote me today ... again.

We don't speak so often like in the old times, but i believe we somehow communicate... by telepathy.

I think of her often ... and she thinks of me also ... but we are just friends.

Today she was in Paris ... with husband and her 3 kids ... close to the Tour Eiffel Tower ... but again ... i felt she was unhappy.

Beautiful, successful... having besides her a guy that looked like the perfect husband, gorgeous kids ... and my dear Paula ... was unhappy.

How the hell could someone be unhappy in such a vacation?! But the funny thing was that i also felt her like that 2 months ago when she was in Belize, and 5 months ago when they were in Japan ... and ...

Well ... every time she was in a trip or a vacation ... i felt Paula like being a depressive person.

But i knew Paula well ... and knew she was never like that.

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

... philosophical essays

So ... i started to ask myself more and more ... what is this ... if it's not depression?!

How could i avoid saying that Paula is not depressive ... when almost all those details were saying she was like that?!

Hmm ...

It's so funny ... cause i had the illusion that i am an artist when it came about analyzing and defining people ... but ... it looked like i was wrong ... defining Paula.

And still ... i was continuing analyzing ... until one day when i realized that Paula looked depressive only when she was away ... in vacation.

Everything looked like a total nonsense ... but... even in what we believe that are perfect case scenarios ... like an amazing trip in Paris, at a very beautiful hotel ... having such a great family like Paula has ... we simple don't feel in the right ... movie.

We simple don't like it ... and we even hate the energy of that energetic field induced by the place and the people around us.

So ... should we change our perception about depression?!

Is this the hidden message ... that we actually want something else?!

Another scenario?!

Another life?!

Another kind of life?!

Knowing Paula so well ... i dare to redefine her one more time as a joyful soul ... having nothing in common with the word ... depression.

But ... most probably ... even if it looked like she had the perfect life ... her mind was somewhere else ...

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

... philosophical essays

This scenario was indeed not for her ... and it all looked like a funny drama ... watching her ... having everything ... but still being always unhappy.

Well ... except the times when she could be ... wild ... and do whatever she wanted to do ... in an energy field defined by ... freedom ... not by those illusory standards that society told us so much about.

So ... the illusory depression ... was just a ... coded message.
And ...

Aromatherapy is amazing ... but for me it was all related with ... her.

Aromatherapy is based on the usage of aromatic materials including essential oils and other aroma compounds, with claims for improving psychological and physical well-being. But i always felt that this is a ... crap.

Until one day when ... being at the coffee shop where i usually go ... i simple could not pretend that i can't hear the conversation between a couple ...

They were certainly in love.

"My dear I know i am married but i love you.

I really love you ... and can't live without you.

Every time when i go home I feel your smell around for hours.

It's kind of an aromatherapy... that is allowing me to feel you ... for such a long time.

And same as aromatherapy I actually feel that you improved my well-being.

Yes I feel that you healed me of depression.

And that amazing perfume of yours ... keeps my vibe into an amazing state ... for such a long time ... after seeing you."

I was looking at them and i could understand their story not really knowing all the details.

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

... philosophical essays

Being just 2 meters from their table ... i was feeling her perfume ... and indeed she was smelling like ... the spring. I somehow started to envy this guy for being so lucky ... Maybe i should find a similar lady for myself ... and whenever i feel unhappy ... remember of the trick with aromatherapy.

Jumping from unhappiness to happiness ... takes only few seconds.

Many people are writing me ... telling me their stories.
They should probably go to a therapist ... but reading my illusory thoughts about life ... they somehow trend to believe ... that i could help them with something.
The main pattern i see is ... the unbelievable domination of unhappiness.
Everywhere ...
No matter if is someone from New Delhi, Tokyo, Moscow,
Perth etc ... the scenario is the same.
The unhappiness is like a ... virus.
Today i accept that ... seeing people unhappy is ... ok.
Maybe having unhappy moments ... it's normal.
But seeing unhappiness ... for so many days in a row ... or months ... or years ... we could probably say that we talk about ... depression.
And looks like there is no ... healing for those people.
I see them ... prisoners in a prison with ... invisible walls.
I smile ... analyzing all those people.
I smile when defining all what is going on ... i see that all those people are actually a reflection of myself ... on the

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

... philosophical essays

stage of life.

I talk about them ... and i could even define for each of all those people ... a scenario that could redefine their lives ... so that they could follow the path of happiness ... but when it comes about me I just can't do anything to change my vibe.

But meditating more and more ... one day i've realized that it's all related indeed with my vibe ... and my ability to stay on a certain frequency.

I could simple decide ... to stop being dominated by unhappiness ... and maybe have the main purpose of the day to stay connected to beautiful vibes.

But how ... if unhappiness is so dominant?!

Well maybe simple ignoring it.

... at least for a while.

And finding the tricks ... to get those vibes ... should be a must ...

I believe today ... after long meditations ... that it s all a decision

Exploring life ... seeing its beautiful side ... and deciding to connect just to that side ... could probably be the best scenario to follow.

We are like in fog ... going somewhere, doing some things ... and so on, but still not figured out the whole picture.
Meanwhile the unhappiness ...
dominates.

The main problem in life is that we can't clearly see what is going on.

Not with what is happening around us ... but also deep inside ourselves.

... not really having any other options ... we continue walking into life following the journey ... still dominated by unclear feelings that mainly give us the sensations of fear ... uncertainty... and unhappiness.

And even we if we refuse to say it ... living like that for such a long, long time ... we begin to be defined by ... depression.

So ... we could actually define this weird ... ugly concept ... called depression ... as the presence of unhappiness into our souls ... for too much time.

Or maybe i should say ... an energy that dominates us too much.

And ... life goes on ...

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

... philosophical essays

We walk into the fog ... not really figuring out the whole picture ... realizing in fact that we have absolutely no idea of what is going on.

But ... any moment spent like that ... means staying into a world ... that is not giving us anything good.

Clarity ... it's so damn ... important.

And we start to meditating ... more and more.

Till one day ... when we have another weird feeling that ... we've become philosophers

Which is certainly ... not true.

All we want it's just be ... happy again ... or at least see that path that will take us to happiness.

Prisoners into an ugly universe we dream not about real freedom ... but about moments of ... freedom

My old friend Karl is quite a weird guy.
Even if he is married ... and he has the chance to meet so many ladies all the time ... he never does anything.
Actually he just socialize with ... all of them.
His marriage is ruined by years ... and even he acts as a person with high moral values ... it's still a nonsense the fact that he is wasting so many ... opportunities...
At least this is how i see him ... and the whole situation.
So i've dared to ask him ... "If you are not happy at home ... why don't you try at least to be happy when you are not home?!"
I hoped he would understand my message ... without saying anything else.
He only smiled me ... but still carrying that weird unhappiness on his face.
I could not understand... his silence.
I wanted to tell him ... that he had the fundamental right to be happy ... and if the relationship from home is not the right connection for his soul ... that does not mean he cannot be happy.

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

... philosophical essays

If not ... always carry the happiness on our faces ... at least from time to time ... to have these feelings.

I could not understand why Karl was not giving himself the freedom to enjoy life ... into a parallel world ... and why he was not even bothering to listen to my theories ... preferring to remain ... unhappy.

But maybe ... the guy was believing for real in morality ... and speaking with a guy like me that wrote more than 10 books about love affairs ... was a stupid thing to do.

Well ... i've just tried to open his mind ... but i believe it was useless.

He did not believed that beyond unhappiness ... just one step way ... he can find beautiful vibes ... that can make him feel good ... but also alive ...

And he simple ignored me ... but in the end is his life and he knows better ...

There are people that induce us such negative vibes ... that we might even believe ... we suffer of ... depression.
But you know ... vibes come and go ... and we still can't remember that

So many people write to me ... making the confusion that i might be kind of a psychotherapist ... or relationship guru ... but in reality i am just a ... thinker.

In my search for understanding the world .. i was analyzing all around myself ... liking a lot to ... define everything i see on the scene of life.

I started to write my thoughts ... from the need of organizing all i was thinking ... and make the conclusions be more clear ... especially for me.

But it was nice cause people were writing me ... even if they made this confusion regarding myself ...

I had more chances to understand relationships and love stories ... and in fact the souls of the humans.

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

... philosophical essays

I somehow believe that life it's a lot related with ... the presence of the humans in here.

Yesterday ... for example ... Diana wrote me.

She's from Serbia ... living in Belgrade ... married by many, many years ... but with a man that she believes ... is not ok for her.

Even if ... Diana is a very intelligent woman ... she could not realize in those years if ... in fact she's depressive ... or the presence of her husband induces her those weird feelings of depression.

Every time she was seeing him ... her vibe became so bad ... that she somehow believed she is dominated by negativity ... only and only because of him.

But she was probably not 100% ... and that was the reason she wrote me.

Maybe the depression itself ... meant a non ending feeling ... and she actually was balancing between having a normal vibe ... as all the other humans ... and depression.

More i was talking to my serbian friend ... more i was feeling that she expects from me ... to reveal her a secret that she is not capable of finding out ... by herself.

I was meditating on all what Diana ... had told me ... and on the other hand i knew that many, many couples ... from all around the world ... are living exactly the same scenario ... but

So ... what was the real truth?!

Why people ... living together ... being together as couple ... induce themselves so negative vibes?!

Is Diana's husband really responsible for that?!

Was the guy a real asshole?!

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

Or ... i ask myself what if the connection itself between the 2 of them ... is the one responsible for that.

I started to believe that in fact ... Diana was not a depressive person ... cause she had many moments when she was also feeling ok ... but the destroyed connection with her life partner ... had a tremendous negative impact for her.

And still?!

What was the solution?!

What could i say to my friend?!

What could i say to all the people having this experience Diana had?!

Well ... i simple smiled ... and said ... nothing.

Most probably ... the only real solution ... was to completely cut the connection with the husband.

I could say that to Diana ... but maybe she was not ready to hear me.

She was totally convinced that her husband was the Devil itself ... and the meaning of having him around was to ... make her life miserable.

The depression itself ... was a positive thing ... but she could not accept that.

The meaning of negative vibes that she felt so, so often when she was around her life partner were carrying a very powerful message.

But ... maybe Diana could not understand the real meaning ... that the depression itself was the gateway to the real happiness.

All she had to do ... was so, so simple ...
... just cut the connection.

And probably stop blaming her husband ... as being the Devil.

Living near sick persons ... sometimes a dharmic fact ... or maybe karmic

I once had met a guy that after a while ... becoming friends ... he told me one day about his wife that had mental problems. Big ... mental problems.

They succeeded somehow to hide that for years ... but recently it became obvious to everyone knew the couple.

I was analyzing my friend ... and asked myself ... what the hell did wrong this guy that he deserves to live such a horrible life ... near a person that lost her mind.

And in a moment of awakening... I've understood that losing our mind means losing control on ourselves ... allowing to be dominated by energies we don't know anything about.

I won't bother to tell all the details about the story ... cause i am interested just by the main idea ... but ... indeed the guy was into a dharmic or a karmic story.

He probably had to learn ... a difficult life lesson.

I looked at him ... and realized it could happen to me too.

I saw his life ... as depressive ... but maybe only with infinite love ... the person near him ... could be healed.

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

Love could probably send away the energies from the soul of his wife ... but maybe he did not had the ability to see that. It was so easy from outside ... to see such a solution ... the message beyond the message ... and the fact that this ugly scenario of my friend ... could be totally be redefined ...

But he needed ... meditation.

... infinite wisdom.

And also ... the ability of loving another person into an infinite mode.

His life lesson ... was indeed complicated.

I was analyzing and defining this guy ... hoping to find a trick as his life to be redefined ... but realizing that same as him... in such a situation ... i would probably only complain ... that life sucks.

... and nothing more.

Losing toxic people is a ... win

I see all around myself a weird paradox ... realizing that people live the fear of losing ugly relationships that defines their lives.

I saw it ... not once ... or twice.

I saw it ... lots, lots of times.

And ... even worst ... i saw that weird example ... so visible while analyzing my own life.

I was indeed afraid of getting rid of the toxicity from the scene of my own life.

I was afraid ... of losing people that ruined me emotionally for such a long, long time.

Today ... i could just ask ... why this stupidity?!

Why we should have such a weird behavior?!

What's wrong with us?!

Most of the toxicity from our lives is usually done by certain people ... but still ... i can't understand the fear of losing those characters.

I keep analyzing myself.

On and on and on ... until i finally realize that between toxicity of an universe that we already know and the change with another universe ... that we can't really predict ... we always prefer ... toxicity.

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

... philosophical essays

We can't see ... the opportunity of ... change.
And instead of change ... depression appears.
Deeper ... and deeper.
And we accept it too ... as part of life ... of our lives ... not realizing the stupidity of our behavior.
Today I see depression as an amazing blessing.
A great ... signal ... that should make us stop continue life ... and ask ourselves different psychological questions ... especially about toxicity ... its meaning ... and why we accept it.
I personally know that losing toxic people it's a win ... but ... i still act as an idiot ...
I am afraid of losing all those ugly characters that are ruining me emotionally.
I accept induced depressive thoughts ... which could be translated as bad vibes ... simple because i am afraid of ... change.
And i know that there are lots of people that don't know any theories about life ... but for my case even if i know it all ... by such a long time ... i still can't ... save myself.
Yes ... the knowledge can't heal ... the fears.
And the paid price is huge ...
Only and only ... because we are just ... idiots.

Seeing the emotional balance ... we somehow realize that it's time to accept that any soul represents the duality between happiness and unhappiness

I had moments in life ... and i could probably even say that i had long periods of time like that ... when i was always balancing between being happy and unhappy.

If someone would ask me to define my emotional life ... with everything related to that ... i would have absolutely no idea what is the best definition for that.

And when me and Paul were discussing about it ... i've come up with this concept of "emotional balance" ... to make it sound ... nice.

Paul was laughing of me ...

Not behind my back ... but in front of me ...

Was laughing like ... he should be in front of a little silly kid ... that was explaining his nonsense actions.

But what i did not realized at that time was that the influences from the outside world were dominating my soul. And that was happening on and on and on.

Instead of being connected just with my inner world ... and let that energy from there control my life ... i was allowing the outside world to influence me too much.

Until the influence itself became in fact ... dominant.
Weeks were passing and nothing was changing.
Then months ...
The balance itself was ruining me emotionally for too much time ... so that i've decided to meditate more ... on what is going on.
But i could not find any cure.
Those ugly vibes from my soul ... were so, so annoying and i could not find any trick to get rid of them.
Hmm ...
Maybe i was just pretending ... i was not seeing the solution ... cause in fact ... every time i was not connected to the scene of my life ... to what i've called ... reality ... i was ok.
I felt the inner calmness.
I felt ... there was in fact no bad vibes into my soul ... and my real problem was just the exterior influences.
Not being a psychologist ... but only a simple thinker ... meditating more and more ... i've started to accept that what was defined by myself as unhappiness, bad vibes ... or even depression ... was in fact a signal.
A very powerful one.
And i ignored that ...
The balance itself was revealing ... that i'm not ok ... and it's too easy to be influenced by reality cause in fact i was not connected to the real source of energy for my life ... which was my soul.
I did not know to manage the energies.
And i was not even recognizing ... the positive or negative impact of those influences ... until i felt the unhappiness present again into my soul.

I was playing around as a silly kid ... just as Paul was thinking about me.

I could simple decide ... seeing it's so damn clear that the outside universe has not a positive impact on myself ... to disconnect from it.

To start practicing ... the solitude ... cause analyzing and accepting the statistics about my happiness ... i was in fact understanding that the happiness itself was induced by my inner soul ... not by the exterior factors from the stage of my life.

But as an idiot ... i continued to stay on this stage ... called reality ... which was so, so ridiculous ... cause i was knowing the secondary effects of that.

And yes ... i continued on and on like that ... until the day i've decided to automatically disconnect from any element of my reality which was inducing me bad vibes.

I tried it as an experiment ... and it worked.

I tried it again ... and i was so happy to see that the trick really worked.

All i needed to do ... was to let my soul guide me.

Accept bad vibes ... as a blessing.

As an amazing signal ... for realizing the moment of disconnecting from reality ... whatever that meant ... had come.

But something weird happened to me.

I've metamorphosed myself ... into a ghost.

I was appearing and disappearing from reality ... in a very strange way.

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

The balance itself ... from unhappiness to happiness and from happiness to unhappiness ... became into the end the balance between being or disappearing from ... the stage of life. People around myself ... started to realize that ... but ... i was not caring anymore about their perceptions about myself. And i've started to love being ... a ghost.

We need to be aware of ... the involution process that might appear for us.
Unfortunately we accept that just as part of life and we don't do anything at least to ... delay it.

I just had a new chance of meeting a guy having what is defined as ... terminal cancer.

For a reason difficult to be understood ... i was not detecting any sign of pessimism for him.

As a soul ... all looked ok, but what was weird was that even if he was few years younger than me ... he had the appearance of a man that was 20 years older.

It all looked as a total nonsense.

But in reality ... it was a real fact.

I looked at him again ... analyzing and trying to define why the hell this could happen to the human being.

My father died of cancer ... and i trend to believe that i know a little about the psychological side of this story.

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

I never cared of what really cancer is medically speaking but i somehow understood it's about involution ... mentally, spiritually ... but also ... physically.
It is actually accepting ... degradation as part of the story of being here.

Kind of a secondary effect.

And i was looking at the guy and wanted to whisper him that was actually into his powers to stop this process ... even if the doctors defined the situation as being ... the terminal stage of the disease.

But it was so easy for me to talk ... about it.

Maybe he was dominated by some weird energies from inside of him ... and he could not fight anymore.

I could reveal him all the psychological tricks ... but ... maybe it was useless.

I was looking at him again ... and realized it all started from inside, but ...

Maybe my friend could not understand what depression is ... and why those negative thoughts from his mind ... destroyed him.

Coming back to myself ... trying to analyze and define my own life ... i could probably say that i was lucky cause i could get rid of my own negative thoughts from time to time.

I learned to simple ... disconnect from them.

So many years i thought that I am what i think about ... and it's not that this saying it's not true but i understood i can simple stop believing that my thoughts are the absolute truth and that i need to identify myself with them.

It was all ... a stupid dogmatic belief ... and i knew it was not real.

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

But ... many times i was staying into that prison of thoughts. Maybe the only real difference was that i was getting out of this prison from time to time even if i was always coming back ... there.

I knew more than my new friend that was into this stage of terminal cancer ... but still i was continuing making many of the mistake he was doing.

On and on and on.

Complains ... complains ... complains ... Well just switch the channel

I have a cousin that calls me from time to time complaining about his life.

And he keeps talking for tens of minutes ... never being able to stop himself.

All the time it's about complains regarding his own life ... and to be honest i had enough of listening to him.

Last time i've told him ... "Listen Tom! I've got an important phone call from the White House! I really need to answer ...
Sorry about that "

Of course it was a ridiculous lie ... but I really had to stop the conversation with him ... having enough of hearing those complains ... on and on and on.

But a much weird situation than me ... has my dear old friend
Carla

Her husband stoped having a normal sexual relationship with her ... complaining it's just too much ... considering also the fact that they don't have a good connection anymore.

Her lover ... recently said to her something ... similar and it was really difficult to define with Carla what is really going on.

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

Why 2 idiots like those 2 guys ... could say something like that to such a beautiful lady?!

It was really hard to understand but ...

Well ... it was all about issues that those people dislike on the scene of life ... but me and Carla totally disagree to stay around people with depressive minds ... that complain all the time.

Maybe they were right ... and those were signals that something was wrong ... but still ...

Same as me Carla decided in the end to totally disconnect from all the people from her life that were complaining on and on and on.

Wanted ... a redefined life ... disconnected from ugly energies. Yes ... maybe all those people complaining are right when defining the situations from reality ... but in the end ... it's all about seeing the beautiful or the dark side of everything it's around us.

And maybe it's ok my attitude.... just to disconnect and run away.

I act like switching the radio channel ... but it's my fundamental right of doing whatever i want on the scene of my life.

Being different ... a way of healing our depressive side

I study a lot the way i act on the stage of life ... and i try to understand why some people act into a dogmatic way ... trying to follow a certain path that might take them to happiness ... and some refuse doing that.

And every time when i see a person that looks or act weird ... i realize from the first second it's all about the need of disconnecting from the standards ... cause they understood that happiness ... can't have patterns ... or standard ways of getting it.

Then i remember about a close friend that keeps saying me all the time when we meet ... "Don't be weird!".

Every time when i don't follow standard paths ... she just reminds me of that.

But i actually started to believe that she dislikes me doing that being jealous that i dare to do it.

I look again at my behavior ... at my dreams ... making also a parallel analysis with all those "weird" people which i see on the stage of my life ... and i simple ... smile.

Most probably ... having enough of following all the standard ideas of how happiness could be obtained ... seeing the huge gap between all we want and what we actually have ... we totally get rid of dogmatism.

We see inside of us a depressive side ... which we try to heal ...

All this way of acting ... it's a try ... of ...

So ... maybe we should stop defining "weird" as something bad.

It's probably just a trend of finding the path to ... happiness ... not believing anymore what society learned us ... to do.

Being weird ... becomes the way in how we trust our inner self... our intuition ... that life can be beautiful ... if we dare stop being dogmatic.

But also ... the expression of the fact that we have to get rid of unhappiness, ugly vibes and even ... depression.

And hope that ... the path ... the real one we chase for ... will be found.

My unhappy face was revealing ... the whole truth

More and more people were telling me that i look unhappy.
And ... I hate to hear that.

I even wanted to ask them ... do i look unhappy or depressed?!

... but it was difficult to define that.

I was analyzing myself ... trying to understand the meaning of my unhappy face but ...

Time was passing ... and nothing changed.

I've even started to look more on the mirror ... to check ... the status of my emotional health ... but ... i was always looking the same.

I hated when i had to take photos ... with myself cause i had again and again to deal with ... the same truth.

And analyzing... i came to the point when i had to be honest enough with me ... and ask myself on and on and on ... am i unhappy or depressed?!

I read again the definition of depression... trying to understand the concept of mood disorder ... and remembered about that time of .. 2 weeks ... the theory was talking about.
But ... I was like that by years.

I was just unhappy ... i was living my life into the way i was living it.

I was living into a world ... which i did not liked ... and i was actually unhappy cause i was living like there.

The moments of loneliness ... were different.

I was ... different ... all the time when i had the chance to be ... alone.

I forgot about the unhappiness... but also about ... the illusory depression.

Maybe ... all i had to do was to ... think how i could be more and more time ... alone.

And of course ... disconnect from all those ... ugly emotions ... which were dominating my soul.

I started with hope ... to realize that i am not unhappy or depressed ... but ... i was just prisoner ... into an universe ... or universes ... which i disliked.

I ... maybe ... could start to disconnect... emotionally... and live more ... into my inner world.

In there ... alone ... i was always ok.

And i could even say ... happy.

Not seeing the future Is

I met lots of people that are making plans ... and speak about those plans ... a lot.

But i also met ... during the years ... people that don't see anything related to their future.

They have ... no plans at all.

No specific desire ... related to what is going to come next ... and ...

Well they simple live life ... as it is.

And ... I look at these both ... profiles.

The one seeing the future, connected to the present moment, to the hope ... and the one that looks but maybe just into a illusory way that ... don't believe in ... hope.

I know it looks a little bit depressive not to see anything related to what is going to happen next ... or even worst ... not even to care ... but ...

I realize that ... i am personally... somewhere into the middle living into the both ways dreaming, but also ignoring ... the future.

And i start to analyze much deeper, my own way of acting in life ... trying to understanding why many times we have projections related to the future, but many times there is not the case to speak about any kind of plan ... anymore.

I ask myself ... why do i feel ... being on a pathless path?! ... and what is the connection between such a feeling and the disability to live with ... hope?!

It almost looks to me that i am dominated by an emotional balance living indeed between hope ... and depression.

So ... is it right ... doing that?!

Could i stop myself ... having this weird disability of having positive projections about my life?!

Maybe ... yes

Maybe ... no ...

But I also might say ... that being on a pathless path makes total sense to ... start ignoring ... anything related to those energies.

Well I have moments in life when i have the guts to define the truth too ... but my question was ... is all what this guy use to say ... true or he was having just a stupid negative perception about his reality?!

And how the hell ... something that looks perfect ... could be defined as ... illusory?!

I was looking at him ... at his way of explaining me all what going on ... and analyzing his emotions ... i've realized ... he was maybe right.

All what he was saying ... looked so ... depressive... but ... maybe it was ... not ...

He was indeed in front of a nonsense ... but i was keep wondering myself ... if he is crazy ... or actually a guy ... seeing beyond reality.

I was listening.... contradictory perceptions about the same scenario ... defined into a negative, but also a positive way. But ... he was living into the real life.

He had moments ... of enjoying that life.

... and he also had moments of loneliness ... when he felt himself trapped.... into an illusion.

I will not bother to write about his arguments... which were very good and also clear ... for both scenarios ... but ... somehow realized it was annoying to listen to ... all what was going on

I decided to ... stamp this guy as a person obsessed of the duality of life ... and actually as an opener of perceptions ... for myself also.

I see many people obsessed into an unconscious way ... to influence, but also dominate the scene of life.
They want things to happen ... into a certain way.
And they ... do lots of stupid things because of that.
Having this obsession of controlling all ... of seeing everything ... according to the scripts from their minds they never allow as reality to follow its normal paths.
I look at them ... and i smile.
I see them annoyed ... even for my own scenario of life ... cause i never let myself influenced of their words.
It's not that i totally reject domination ... with disrespect... but i not even bother to listen to their ideas, to all their thoughts ... and their stupid trends of influencing ... my life.

Does it make any sense to live like that?!
Well ... many of those thoughts ... only ruined my daily life ...
not allowing myself ... to have a good life.

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

... philosophical essays

But on the other hand ... i knew ... life can be beautiful only if we know to accept the meaning of ... the illusion.

To consider it ... as part of life and also part of our philosophical journey this try of understanding the meaning of why we are here.

I have to admit ... that it's annoying.

I have to admit ... that i dislike the fact that i like ... being surrounded by ... illusions.

But I understood into the end ... that the acceptance is the key ... for at least ... a decent survival into this Universe.

And even if the illusion is something similar with ... the poison ... and even if many times it's all a sweet poison that we taste ... and enjoy ... defining it as ... amazing ... later on the truth ... the real one ... is revealed.

All we could do ... is to ... simple smile.

Anything else ... is useless.

Then ... continue the journey ... with hope into the soul ... even if the hope itself looks illusory also.

But there is nothing we could do ...

Only ... continue the journey.

Feeling into the wrong story ... it's not a depressive thought.
It's all about learning how to say ...
"Good bye ... for ever!"

I saw many people ... feeling into the wrong story.
And i had this feeling also ... many, many times into my life.
Today ... having a clue ... what is it about ... i start first of all to meditate ... why i have such a feeling.
And somehow the feeling is metamorphosed... later on.
I feel that the depressive thought ... fades.
Of course ... it does not disappear completely ... but ... what was a very ugly vibe ... becomes a simple annoying one.
Life continues ... but ...
But ... but ... but ...
Next day ... the feeling reappears again.
And there are days when it's such an aggressive feeling ...
Next month ... still live with the weird thought of being into the wrong story.
Few months later ... also ...
Then ... even years later ... the feeling disappear and reappear ... again and again.
It is what i should define as a karmic message ... but still
.... It gives us such depressive thoughts.

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

... philosophical essays

We feel ... at the wrong job.

... near the wrong friends.

... in the wrong love story ... or the wrong marriage.

Everything is ... just ... wrong.

I write those things ... and i remember having one million times this depressive thought ... which i totally disliked.

But one question came into my mind ... what if i should actually redefine such a weird perception about my reality ... from depressive to ... a weird signal which is whispering myself ... that is time to change my life and say "Good bye ... forever!" to all those people which i disliked ... on the scene of my life?!

What if the depressive feeling ... i am not into the wrong movie ... was about ... the change i had to do with myself.

Somehow the concept about ... depression became a positive element into my life having deep motivational impact ... for my own soul.

It was actually ... the gateway to change ... and why not ... to happiness.

Depression is not
... what it looks like.
And yes ... I would even dare to define it as a ... blessing.

I started to write the book "Depression ... the gateway to the real happiness" ... trying to understanding the unhappiness from my own soul ... but also trying to guide myself to get out from such a mental state.

I saw depression lots of times ... all around myself ... somehow being afraid of it ... but also realizing it is not what it looks like.

Today analyzing my own case I realize it is a signal ... that says we were unhappy for too many days into the row.

Just a signal ... whispering us ... a very important message ... that we should not ... ignore.

But ... we are afraid of it.

We try to hide it ... and even pretend the opposite... that we are ... happy.

Well ... until the day when we finally understand that life is too short to waste it ... delaying on and on and on ... to live it ... the real way we should live.

Time is passing ... and situation is not improving.

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

... philosophical essays

Days are passing ... then weeks ... then months .. then even ... years.

We simple can't understand that ... we need a change so that this ugly vibe could be metamorphosed ... into a beautiful one.

And we delay the change.

I've done like that ... same as many others from the scene of my life.

Instead of living in a beautiful way ... i just lived being ... unhappy ... and i think that all it was cause i was too coward to define ... my feelings.

I could simple say ... "Yes! I am unhappy ... or even depressive... ", but i could not do it.

I simple could not do it.

This delay ... ruined lots of days of my life.

But it's ok.

All it's ok

I simple had to continue ... life.

Most probably one day ... i will know what i will have to do.

Time will reveal me ... all the secrets of life ... and i will find out ... the new paths ... i will need to follow.

Understanding that unhappiness.... and not even the depression ... is not something negative ... is one of the first steps for my own evolution ...

Realizing it ...

Making plans ... for getting rid of it ...

Life continues ... anyway ...

And living this ugly story of unhappiness on and on and on ... we end up realizing we need to simple stop ... and ask ourselves ... why things are like that.

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

... philosophical essays

So ... the question remains ... can we metamorphose unhappiness into happiness?!

Can we change ... all those ugly feelings from our souls?!

Well ... most probably if we would understand that ... in a second ... all could suddenly be changed ... yes.

We just need to ... believe it.

Analyzing unhappiness and depression... defining into the end that it's useless to live like that ... it's probably the only key ... for starting a redefine life.

About myself ...

I've started to write my first book at 16 ... but then ... realizing i could not publish it ... i've abandoned the idea of being a ... writer.

20 years later ... i've started to write again ... believing i will finally succeed ... but i've failed one more time ... not getting the success i was chasing for.

Another 5 years later ... i've started one more time to write ... but this time ... more as a therapy.

It's what i've defined as ... self therapy.

I was analyzing and defining lots of weird ideas ... that were a lot related to me ... and my own soul.

I totally forgot that i was chasing for success.

I was simple writing my thoughts ... in essays ... becoming this way ... maybe not a writer but what many define as ... an essayist.

This is not a poet ... and not a writer.

Or maybe is kind of a poet that is incapable of writing poetry ... but is still expressing his thoughts ... into a similar way ... as a poet.

And is not a writer ... cause have not the ability to write for too long time ... about the same subject.

But maybe i am not an essayist... either.

I am just an ordinary person ... that could be better defined ... as a thinker.

DEPRESSION ... THE GATEWAY TO THE REAL HAPPINESS

... philosophical essays

Analyzing ... and defining my life ... practicing this process called ... self therapy ... i started to understand life ... and the way to better paths which i should follow.

And i've wrote ... and wrote ... and wrote ... realizing one day that i've published tens of books not really understanding how the hell I've succeeded doing that.

Today i dare to recommend writing ... as a therapy.

I could even say ... it's a simple way of understanding who we are ... but also a process that could help us ... heal our souls.

I personally continue to ... write.

It's in fact ... a non ending story that ... at least for myself ... will probably continue for the rest of my life.

But over all ... i am glad ... i am doing it.

I continue my philosophical journey ... not being able to define myself for clear as a writer or an essayist... but ...

Well most probably... i am on a good path.

And ... i would dare to recommend to everyone ... all what i am doing today.

There is only one thing to do with life ... and that is to enjoy it

This was ... just a perception about the subject. You'll find one million more ... but remember ... pay attention just to the positive stories about ... life!

Hope you enjoyed the reading!

INTRODUCTION

My relationship with the Devil redefined my life

Today i believe that the meaning of life is to experience it ... and to understand from all those experiences what is all about.

All it looks bad ... ugly ... related almost with the Devil ... are actually episodes that teach us powerful messages that we could simple define as ... lessons of life.

But what if all those episodes keep appearing all the time ... on and on and on?!

What if everything looks so damm negative in what we name life ... that you could almost say that Devil is always present on your timeline?!

Is it anything we could do?!

Is it enough to go to the church and blame the Devil?!

But maybe the Devils are the people from your life ... the ones that you decided to spend your life with.

... or even worst ... the Devil is ... YOU.

You see ... going back in time, if we should analyze the concepts of the evil and also the one with the devil ... we should see that it's all about abstract concepts ... and that the Devil itself is not a person, but the way we act in an evil way ... in certain moments of life.

We just mix all those concepts and created the image of a powerful entity that we believe it can dominates us is a very, very ugly way ... but maybe is time to redefine that concept. We all know that we have a dark, but also a beautiful side ... and many times we know to control both sides ... but not always.

We have a frequency that we use in life ... and that can be positive or negative ... without realizing that it is all a decision ... how we act in any of the episodes of life.

The auto protective mode lets us believe that ... just for our protection we can act in any way we think at that moment ... but later on ... by analyzing and defining the past ... we realize we did not know how to act properly on the stage of our own lives.

The yin and yang concept, which also is an abstract one ... is letting us know that negativity can be in harmony ... just near positivity.

The meaning of our reactions, especially in ugly situations ... defines us ... what kind of humans we really are.

Answering in a negative way ... to negative events ... looks almost natural ... but actually means not following the path of harmony ... which is the best path to follow.

Is like a virus.

We meet the Devil and we become ... devils.

But again ... i mention that the weird concept about the Devil is so damm old, that we actually don't understand that it is all about our decision of following bad intentions that we have in mind or in the soul.

Abstract.

Too abstract ... in fact.

But the Devil ... or the negative energies that defines the energetic field where we live in ... will not disappear ... unless we understand the lesson of life ... the message behind the message.

It could also be named ... the illusion, so well hidden under the illusion of the self.

But we continue life for years ... following lots or pathless paths ... going to the left and to the right ... not having any direction at all ... and that is only cause we don't understand the concept of ... the evil and its necessity for a while.

... and seeing us so lost ... the Universe decides to smile again, by simple remembering us that same as we see a dark side, same we could see the positive side.

And ... all is just a simple decision.

Seeing in the Devil, which can be represented by the people we don't like, or even by our worst enemies ... the teachers that let us know what are the real laws of the Universe ... should be a much better way of seeing life ... in a totally redefined way.

The ugly experiences ... reveal that we should appreciate more ... all we have in life ... and enjoy all simple beautiful things from the scene of life.

And the day when we accept and embrace all those elements generated by the evil ... it is actually the day when we will realize it is time for changing our focus and experience also to the beautiful side of life ... just to keep the right balance of yin and yang.

The Devil does not exists ... or if it exists ... the Devil is

MY RELATIONSHIP WITH THE DEVIL REDEFINED MY LIFE

philosophical essays

you ... with your emotions and thoughts ... but you can redefine everything.

... yes ... you have this right of redefining absolutely everything.

That is the day when you understand that the Devil is your friend ... the one that totally redefined your life ... showing you as a very good teacher ... what life is about.

You can embrace the Devil, which actually means to accept your dark side, as part of your experience of life ... cause all those episodes could guide you to the real path we should all follow ... the one of harmony.

Yes ... laugh if you want ... but indeed the Devil is your friend ... but is actually the friend of your Ego, that one that keeps you hostage into the illusion of the self ... till one day when you discover that your soul ... has better friends ... and you could simple change the ... gang.

Just think about it ... it's all a simple theory ... but maybe you should meditate over it.

Changing the focus ... the trick that can help us obtain a totally new life

Years ago ... i had 2 amazing friends that i spent lots of time with.

I knew their professional, but also their personal life ... and we sometimes had lots of fun talking about our life experiences.

You see ... both of them were businessmen ... but one was focus too much on his business ... and one was following the middle way ... business, ladies, fun ... enjoying the life itself. And guess what?!

Who was a better business man?!

The one that focus a lot on making money and transforming his business into a better one ... or the one that discovered the art of enjoying the pleasure of being alive?!

Well ... maybe it was a simple coincidence ... but the second one was always ... much more successful.

Bill ... the guy focused only on business ... the one that saw nothing around ... except all the problems regarding customers and everything related with that ... was somehow ... blind.

MY RELATIONSHIP WITH THE DEVIL REDEFINED MY LIFE

philosophical essays

He actually lost the power of seeing the beauty of life ... but John ... the other guy ... he was so opened mind ... that he was searching all day long new ways of feeling the joy of life. And ... without having a logical explanation ... John was always more successful than Bill, even if he was not losing so much time in his office, as Bill was doing.

The scenario continued for years ... and one day suddenly Bill ... speaking daily so much with John ... realized that his mind was too focused on problems ... and he was never thinking about the beauty of life.

He was not seeing the beauty of nature, the pleasure of walking into the park, the pleasure that John had ... socializing all day long with so many ladies etc etc.

He was not so successful as John, even if he was working much more as his friend ... simple because he was not mastering the art of focusing on beautiful things ... and business is not always a beautiful thing.

Bill was in fact ... blind ... as a human being.

Everything except his focus on money ... was seen as a temptation came from the Devil ... and on a honest definition for his friend ... he could even say that John was following the path of the Devil.

But realizing all what was going on, seeing the statistical datas ... comparing him to John ... Bill decides to change his life ... but changing his focus.

He discovers ... the nature.

He starts to see the beauty of weather ... even if it was a sunny ... or a rainy day.

Starts to see all the adventures he missed with so, so many ladies ... and decides to pay more attention to any new lady

MY RELATIONSHIP WITH THE DEVIL REDEFINED MY LIFE

philosophical essays

that appears on the scene of his life.

And guess what happened?!

By changing his focus ... not only on what he needs to do ... but also on what he loves to do ... his life changed ... a lot.

Comparing again himself with John ... becomes useless ... because he starts to love the new paths that he is following now ... the same paths that not so long time ago ... he was defining as the paths of the Devil.

He sees ... how beautiful the life itself is.

So ... all what was defined as bad ... now was a beautiful experience.

A new life ... simple obtained by the changing of his focus.

Bill continues ... to redefine himself ... more and more ... so me and John are amazed seeing the change.

And we could even say that Bill ... becomes a model for us ... but we can't understand ... who is the Devil now?!

A new day!
Let's enjoy it even if it might be an ... ugly or a beautiful one!

It is said that first thing in the morning, after waking up ... you should just relax and try to connect with your inner self. There is nothing better you should do in those first moments. You might be a busy person ... cause i know that everybody is busy today but still you could wake up earlier ... and try to find that little door ... that once opened ... it reveals the beauty, but also the protection that comes from your soul.

But ... many of us ignore this theory.

Find it ... useless ... and a total non sense.

And we wake up ... open the mobile phone, read the whatsapp, the newspapers, the news from social media ... open the tv also ... and all we hear are 99% different negative news ... that send us on a wrong path ... the one that makes us believe that we live in a very ugly environment.

Instead of searching a way of finding the inner peace ... we study the total disorder of the outside world ... and even worst ... we start to believe that ... the image that is presented to us ... is the real image of the Universe.

But you see ... no one ever bothered to tell us that this Universe has an ugly ... but also a beautiful side.
Long time ago ... we heard stories with angels and devils ... but we ignored the message behind those stories ... believing probably only what is repeated to us many, many times.
And guess what?!

The negative news dominate all the news channels ... and maybe the only island of peace could be ... inside of us.
But we can't really ignore the outside world.
We can't do it, because we believe it is ... real and the only one that matters.
And even much funnier than we ever thought is that we should enjoy our days ... just as they are ... ugly or beautiful.

We should understand the meaning of an ugly day, but also the one of a beautiful one ... but keep in mind all the time that everything happens for a reason and we should just accept, embrace and enjoy all what is actually happening.
In the same time ... we should keep the right balance between the inner and the outside world ... so that when we see the negative side, we could just remember that is only one side, but we also have the possibility of accessing the beautiful side anytime we want ... cause part of that side is always with us ... inside of us.

The day when we understand those concepts ... becomes the day when we actually start to not be afraid anymore about anything at all. no matter of what is going on in the world around us.

We will not care about news ... even if they are negative news.

We will not care of the negative events from our lives ... cause we know there is a reason they happen ... and the story ends all the time in a beautiful way.

We will not see anymore a world dominated by the evil everywhere ... but a world that shows us the whole spectrum of values that defines life ... just to understand its meaning. We will embrace everything is going on ... even if it might be weird.

We will look on the mirror of life and realize that those specific negative episodes are actually nothing more than a message that we are not on the right path ... and we should redefine everything ... and follow another path ... the one of positivity.

And then ... waking up ... is becoming a new opportunity to enjoy life, especially if we should have in mind that one million persons, from all around the world ... just don't wake up anymore.

This simple fact ... should make us meditate ... of how lucky we are ... smile and say ... "Just fuck it! If i am so damm lucky ... let's enjoy the day even if it is going to be an ugly or a beautiful day! Anyway there is nothing better i could do!"

“Actually,
Our thoughts are our real Headache.....”
(Arij Emaan)

Truth be told we care a lot about our thoughts.

We care so much about them ... for the simple reason they are ... ours, but we are so blinds that we actually don't see that ... most of those thoughts are the reason why we have such a headache ... all day long.

It's a nice saying ... change your thoughts, change your life ... but we are too ignorants to think about it.

We believe we know better what we have to do ... and we actually don't pay credit to anyone ... not even to the great thinkers.

And the mind ... remains ... full with silly negative ideas that dominate all what we feel.

We are actually dominated by the negativity itself ... not realizing that the outside world is just a reflection of the inner world.

We know that theory also ... but again ... we find it too abstract to care about it.

Meanwhile ... the nightmare from the scene of the real life ... continues.

It looks like the daemons started to control this scene ... fulfilled with so, so many negative events.

We are metamorphosed ... into simple spectators ... that have no power at all of changing the script of those scenes. The negative events keep repeating on and on and on ... and the headache is huge.

There is nothing else to do ... than praying ... as the Supreme Intelligence to help us get rid of that negative energetic field that ruins our lives.

But suddenly ... we understand that there is nothing else to be done to get rid of the ugly headache ... than applying the theory of changing the thoughts ... otherwise the nightmare will continue forever.

We try to control the thoughts ... and guess what?! ... is almost like trying to control ... the wind ... and again we feel trapped in a cage ... with no hope of getting out of there.

Meanwhile the headache continues.

But one day ... a voice is whispering us ... "Just smile ... and embrace all your thoughts ... with love and understanding".

Again ... we find it ... too abstract ... but when we are in such a critical situation ... there is nothing to do ... than try and test absolutely any idea.

In a moment of a blessing awakening we realize that our lives are not controlled by any daemons ... but all those thoughts from our minds are the daemons that force us to follow such ugly paths ... that generate all the time ... lots of headache.

MY RELATIONSHIP WITH THE DEVIL REDEFINED MY LIFE

philosophical essays

But ... embracing all our thoughts, ideas, feelings, fears we are actually understand and accept who we really are.

We realize that the dark side of us ... exists.

It was always there.

It is part of us and the only wise thing we could do is to clean it ... or maybe replace it with the beautiful side that is there also.

In fact ... we should actually let the beautiful side dominates the dark side ... and we understand it's all a decision ... and there is nothing better we could do.

Then ... we realize that all those theories about the impact of our thoughts on our lives ... are real ... even if they look so abstract.

We start to meditate ... and see the daemons that controls reality inside of us ... not in the outside world.

The paid price for ignorance ... was huge.

Years of ... headaches ... even if we knew it by such a long time ... what was the real path that we needed to follow.

... and then the real change starts.

So ... dear friends ... let's accept and embrace ourselves ...no matter where we are on the timeline of life.

The Ego ... the real devil that dominates our souls

I would love to hear your answer to the question ... how do you define the ego?!

... but how is society defining the ego?!

Is the ego a positive or a negative side of the human being?!

I believe today that the ego defines our personality many times ... but unfortunately ... from my point of view the ego is always in an annoying fight with the soul.

It's the fight generated by the desire of total domination ... without actually understanding that the secret of a beautiful life is keeping the right balance between those 2 entities. But the human being is not really paying attention to the most important details ... and let the things run on automatic pilot.

Instead of trying to connect to the inner soul ... the individual allows the ego to start dominating the whole life. The result ... is a life controlled by silly values ... where everything matters, but nothing related with the inner self. In fact everything is just related with ... the self... the one from the outside world.

Nothing else is more important ... as the ego.

The fight is lost ... and that person becomes totally blinded. The ego is always present on the scene of life.

MY RELATIONSHIP WITH THE DEVIL REDEFINED MY LIFE

philosophical essays

So ... bottomline ... is the ego good or bad?!

Should we only focus on the soul?!

Or we should mainly meditate of how to keep the right balance between those entities?!

Well ... most probably ... life is too complicated to be understood by the simple individuals ... but letting the ego control everything ... in fact letting everything be related just with the self ... will take us to a pathless path.

Maybe the ego is the devil itself ... or an mixed entity that combines all kind of daemons ... or maybe is just too much to say that ... but all i know is that whatever dominates us ... steal our right to live in freedom.

The meaning of the ego ... becomes totally related with the illusion of life and meanwhile force us to stay away from the soul ... ignoring all it really matters.

There is no soul ... is just a gateway to the Universe

I had been wondering many times what is the symbolic of children in the lives of adults.

I was looking at my 2 sons ... and even if in the beginning i did not understand what is the reason we have them near us... when the second son appeared ... i suddenly realized that the child is actually a representation of joy ... that reminds us ... in a world that we see so often ... much too ugly ... that at least when we come home ... life can be beautiful and fulfilled with joy.

Basically, we somehow understand what means the concept of inner and outside world.

Going out into the world, into what we name ... real life ... we see problems everywhere ... and a world dominated by the ... evil.

Coming back at home ... we see a beautiful child, that ... no matter what ... carries a smile all the time.

The outside world had no influence on the child ... yet.

That amazing little human being ... is the best motivational coach you could ever had.

Looks at you ... with the eyes of an angel ... and without saying a word ... sends you a clear message ... "Life can also be beautiful ... it just depends of what side of it you look at!". So ... at home ... you always spend time with an angel, but opening the door of your house ... you start to see the daemons and negativity everywhere.

You realize you live in between 2 worlds ... one of angels and one of devils ... just like in the religious books that you never payed attention to.

But you don't know what to really do and keep the right balance between those 2 worlds, until the child is looking again at you ... and one more time ... without saying ... not even a word ... is basically ... whispering the real secret to a beautiful life ... "Connect to yourself!".

... and you do it ... but once you open the door of the inner soul ... you see that there is no soul, but a gateway to the Universe ... and the Universe means ... the Infinite ... everything it exists.

The soul ... guided you to see ... but also accept ... everything ... cause all it exists it's just one entity ... named ... the Universe.

There are no angels or daemons ... but the way we see the world painted into beautiful or ugly colors ... and it's all just an interpretation.

So ... everything it exists ... means the Universe ... and we are part of it.

The meditation ends ... we open the eyes ... and the child smiles again.

We realize that we should keep the child in our soul all the time ... but also that the child is anyway part of that inner soul, even if we forgot that.

MY RELATIONSHIP WITH THE DEVIL REDEFINED MY LIFE

philosophical essays

And the question is ... what if all the people we meet on the timeline of life are actually part of that soul?!

Well ... maybe the question is too spiritual and philosophical ... but again we close the eyes ... and open the door of the soul ... and try to understand better the concept of ... Infinite.

Realizing that the soul itself does not exist ... but all it exists ... is actually only one entity ... the meaning of the child was to guide ourselves ... for that we understand what life and this world is really about.

Any type of tribe ... even if has 40-50 people, or 287 ... represent an common energetic field.

The harmony can be present ... only if the people from the group are totally connected, but also have in the soul the best intentions for the tribe.

I saw many times beautiful couples ... that in one point ended their love story ... in a strange way ... and i was wondering why.

I also saw people ... business partners that had amazing businesses together, that were running excellent but one day i heard that they closed all of them ... because they had argues all the time and could not continue anymore.

And i also saw groups of scientists closing a very important project ... because there was no communication between them anymore.

Is weird and i was quite interested why something that worked so well ... ended all the time in an ugly way.

All those relationship between 2 (like a love story) or more

MY RELATIONSHIP WITH THE DEVIL REDEFINED MY LIFE

philosophical essays

people ... started in an amazing way ... but ended somehow ... becoming enemies.

They had a very long term plan ... and everything looked great ... but the story proved to be just a regular one ... with a beginning, the story itself ... and the end.

What was changed from 3-4000 years ago, when people were living in tribes ... even small tribes with not so many people?!

Why those people succeeded to live in those communities for centuries ... but nowadays ... when people create kind of small tribes, that are actually groups of few individuals ... usually end the story so easy?!

What is changed in the dynamic of a relationship of any kind?!

Why we can't keep amazing stories ... alive?!

What is the evil part ... that just pushed the stop button in such an easy way?!

Well ... i believe that people don't understand anymore that a group of 2 or more people is an common energetic field ... with a mix of energies that come from the people that form the group.

But our energies change all the time ... just like the weather. Today our intentions are aligned with the intentions of the group and everything is perfect.

But tomorrow ... living in such an chaotic world ... we just forget everything happened one day before.

Being so damm influenced by the outside world, we totally ignore ... that great story of the group and we don't care anymore about it.

Thousands of years ago ... everything was static.

MY RELATIONSHIP WITH THE DEVIL REDEFINED MY LIFE

philosophical essays

There was no influence from outside and everything was seen as ... the tribe.

The tribe itself ... protected the individual, but also the individual was fighting with any needed force to protect the tribe.

Any outside element of the world, if it was not belonging to the tribe ... was seen as an element of possible danger ... and usually the contact itself was avoided.

Only the tribe was important ... and the world was ... just the tribe.

And in many such communities everything from the exterior was seen ... as evil.

People cared about the group ... a lot, but today living in a world full with opportunities ... we just ignore the absolute symbols of the groups we are part of.

A group, or a small tribe ... is just a story from our timeline cause we had been taught to experience ... kindergarten, primary school, secondary school, high school, university, the first job then jobs ... the first love relationship ... then another one and another one etc etc.

There are no absolute values anymore.

People don't believe in that concept anymore.

It's not that is good or bad ... but society changed a lot ... and having so many opportunities ... the individual doesn't care so much anymore for the common energetic fields ... of those groups where he is part of.

The story itself ... became just ... a story.

In fact the story is seen just as ... an episode ... one of the many episodes of life.

This is the reason why the groups are not totally connected anymore ... or if they are ... is just not for a very long time ... and also we don't have in the soul the best intentions for that small modern tribe.

Lots of other influences will come in our lives ... some of them much stronger than us ... even if we name them positive or negative.

So ... we just lose ourselves ... on the timeline of our own lives ... forgetting everything was so damn important yesterday ... and not having anything that should be defined as absolute symbol ... just like the people from the tribes from thousands of years ago.

Is it good or bad?!

Is the modern society goes in a positive direction?!

Well ... all it happens is for a reason and maybe the meaning of the modern individual is to experience more and more things in life.

So maybe the trend is ... positive ... cause we live today a larger spectrum of experiences ... and we see the life from more and more perspectives.

But also ... whatever this change means ... we just forgot the importance of a being totally connected to some of the most important stories of life ... and have in the soul the best intentions.

Probably today ... the concept of angels and daemons is not available anymore ... as it was thousands of years ago.

Or ... we simple don't care about it ... and we changed our philosophy ... being opened to all kind of experiences... even if they are good or bad.

MY RELATIONSHIP WITH THE DEVIL REDEFINED MY LIFE

All of them defines in the end our experience as individuals ... and are welcomed.

Or maybe ... the modern individual, being so much dominated by his ego ... cares today just about his own energetic field ... and not the one ... of the tribes ... whatever a tribe is.

“Instead of going forward, on the real path of my life, listening to my emotions, but not really understanding what i should do ... i spend my time going to the left, then to the right, and right again ... and maybe then to the left ... but i realized it’s the path of a circle ... a very silly one ... and most important ... not the real one destined to me.”

All motivation books try to teach us that probably one of the most important things in life is to find the real path to follow. And we should accept that even if we see different types of models ... one of them of huge success ... not all we see is destined to us.

We are here with a purpose and to understand many life lessons ... but in many important moments from our lives, we just don’t accept that.

We see the paths followed by friends, relatives, people we know or we see in all the forms media exists ... and we start to believe that this are actually some of the paths we should follow.

But we can't understand that we don't have 5 years old anymore ... and say today we want to become a doctor ... and 2 days later that we change our mind and say that we want now to become astronaut.

And it's funny cause this is exactly what we do ... act like a 5 years old kid.

And instead of connecting to the inner self ... actually find the path to that amazing part of us ... the soul ... we just act in a dogmatic way, following the models that we see around us.

But all those pathless path ... take us to ... nowhere, cause we did not understood how important it is to connect to the soul and ask for ... guidance.

And life remains a long story with all kind of episodes ... where you go to the left, to the right ... and then left again ... but actually you go in a circle.

One day you also realize that you also listened too much to your emotions ... not understanding that all those emotions were positive ... but also negative emotions.

And maybe too many of them ... were negatives.

And this mix of emotions and models that we see around us ... creates a model of thinking, but also acting that is not in our advantage at all.

We also start to see the world as an ugly one ... not seeing the fact that we had been guided to ... the wrong direction.

And we are too proud ... or should i say too stupid ... to listen to the intuition ... and understand those feelings that send us the message that something is ... ugly, evil ... even a reality dominated by the Devil itself ... are actually amazing signals that we not following the right path and that we should meditate more on what we really have to do in life.

Can't get rid of them ... and also realize you can't change reality?!
Maybe you should present them a new ...
amazing ... plan.

We sometimes have in our lives people that we don't find a simple way to deal with ... and some of them we can just ignore ... but some of them ... not.

And ... most probably you can ignore an old friend ... but you can't ignore your child.

For example you might be in the position of asking your children to do the homework in vacation ... which will drive them crazy ... as any child, from any corner from the world. This scenario was in my house too ... and i played with my wife the role of the good and the bad cop.

You see ... my wife, staying with the kids all the day became their nightmare ... a communist mammy .. the worst mother from the planet etc etc.

One day ... nothing was working anymore with the kids ... and i realized i need to come up with a new plan.

I told them many times how it was years ago in 80's ... when i was in school ... but they ignored that ... and suddenly a bright idea came to me.

MY RELATIONSHIP WITH THE DEVIL REDEFINED MY LIFE

I said ... "Hey guys! I have an amazing idea! Let's make a great tik tok with how the lives of children was in the 80's. You need to pretend that you are punished, that you need to read for 3 hours without stopping ... later you need to stay on your desk and write for another two hours.

During this time i will film you and then let the kids from all around the world know how tough it was in those times."

They looked at me ... smiled ... and said ... "Ok. Let's do it!"

So ... suddenly what their mother asked them to do ... was seen from a different perspective ... the one of a tik tok.

It was a totally new experience and what their teachers and mother asked them to do, was not seen anymore as a request from the devil, but the chance of experiencing how 1980's was for the kids at that time.

All what i was doing ... was to present them a new plan of seeing reality from a different perspective ... nothing more ... nothing less.

The plan worked ... and my wife was happy seeing that.

The devil ... suddenly disappeared.

It fact ... it was no evil in the whole scene ... but the way of seeing the scene itself ... made them believe they are in un ugly story ... the one that all kids from the whole world hate ... the scene of the homework.

But truth be told ... i was not so wise in my past, as i was with my children ... to create them this new interpretation of reality ... coming with the plan of a tik tok.

No ... i was not.

I was always arguing with the people that did not agreed with me ... instead of meditating and come up with a beautiful new scenario.

And i ended my story ... by getting rid of them ... instead of finding a method as the one i found with my kids.

“I saw her knowing so well ... the art of sending a powerful message to the world ... just with a simple smile.”

A dear friend of mine from London ... a guy that is adoring beautiful ladies ... is daily sending me lots of tik tok movies with amazing girls and women of different ages ... from all around the world ... that are smiling and dancing.

You see ... my friend is a master of the words when it comes about communication ... but seeing me so blind ... realized that this is the only way on how i could understand what is the real secret of a beautiful life.

All the discussions we had about ladies ... were useless for me ... cause it looked like i did not understood the concept that ... for having a beautiful life ... we just need to be on a beautiful frequency.

It was a very simple theory ... and even if i knew it was a true one, i just ignored it ... for years.

But ... i was watching all the time on all those movies that my english friend sent to me.

I was watching ... analyzing and trying to define those amazing women.

MY RELATIONSHIP WITH THE DEVIL REDEFINED MY LIFE

There were days ... when i saw a beautiful angel in all those tik tok posts ... but also days when i saw a beautiful devil ... camouflaged under a person that looked so much with an angel.

It was a balance between contradictory thoughts ... but my friend was daily sending me the same message ... another tik tok, with another amazing lady knowing so well ... the art of sending a powerful message to the world ... just with a simple smile.

I did not know what to believe anymore.

Was that lady an angel, or a devil that looked like an angel?! The message was so damm clear ... but i was so blind ...not seeing that those ladies were persons that mastered so well the art of connecting to the beautiful vibes ... that in fact was the path to a beautiful life.

... but i continued my life ... in the same silly way ... searching the secret from the tik tok ... in all the damm books i was reading.

“Her angel eyes saw the good
... in many devils”
(Arij Emaan)

It says that we all have inside of us ... good and bad daemons and it's all a decision of what you want to show to the world.

Is like we have little bosses that tells us all the time what to do.

And you can be a good person... or a bad one.

The meaning of your actions is the definition of how you want to present yourself to the people from your life.

But i wonder myself ... why is that persons that are not having a nice character at all ... totally change when they start being in love?!

What is making that person be so redefined?!

Wayne Dyer used to say ... “change the way you look at things and the things you look at change.”

So ... my question is ... do you think that the person is changing because is seen only in a beautiful way by the partner ... or this is the whole meaning of a love story?!

... to change us ... and show to the world our beautiful side. I believe that the effect itself appears to let us know that we can control all the bad daemons, the ones we always forget that exist ... but in fact, in many cases, control our lives.

Love stories exist.

They can appear at any age ... but it's important as love to exists on both sides ... and the other person to be the "angel that sees the good ... from the devil".

Just knowing we are seen as that ... encourage us ... to act differently ... and be totally redefined.

The magic presence of that person, on the timeline of our own life ... makes us take the jump ... the quatum jump.

You see ... the whole meaning is that people can change ... but only if real love exists in their lives.

... cause love is everything.

Just think about it ... and maybe try it.

Love stories are great adventures!

One was a honest person, one was a liar ... but only one was loving him

Once upon a time, in a unknown village, there was a man that had 2 women in his life.

Few times he even wanted to choose one of them, but he was a wise man ... and just waited to see how things continue in time.

His wife was a very honest person, was always near him when he had difficulties ... and she was actually the perfect wife, but she was not loving him.

The other woman, started the relationship with him only as a revenge, cause she was mad on her husband ... but without realising she fell in love with the guy.

She was not a honest person and actually was lying a lot ... but somehow, being in love, she changed ... and she was infinitely loving him.

She could not live without him, but the wise man was still doing nothing to choose her and leave his wife.

Waited for a long, long time.

Every time she was loosing her minds waiting, she was starting to lie again with different things, so that she wins the competition.

She was not understanding that a man can not love 2 women in the same time and if they meant to be togheter she just needed to wait as the Universe to arrange things in the way they need to be arranged.

Love is beautiful ... but it also means honesty.

If you want to gain the love ... lying all the time just to present reality in a much better way is a silly way of acting. But when you use to lie all the time ... maybe lying is the best thing you know to do.

The story continued for a very long time and not because the man didn't know what to choose.

He just preferred as in the real world to have near him a honest person, even if he knew very well that she did not loved him.

On the other hand, he was enjoying the love story with the other beautiful woman from his life.

He knew that there were lots of moments when she was lying him and his intuition told this to him many, many times ... but in an illusory world ... in that fairy tale that they had togheter everything was the most beautiful illusion he ever lived.

Could not live only in the illusion ... but could not live without the illusion either.

And truth be told, when we regret that reality is the way it is, there is a huge need of beautiful lies so that we feel good again, at least for while.

It is funny cause everything the Universe is offering to us ... is free ... but too many times the price for all of our silly desires is ... huge

Years ago ... it happened i met an old crazy lady ... and i apologize for talking as this ... but looked to me that she had nothing to do with the values that we should respect while we stay in this Universe.

But guess what?!

Looking at me ... without any introduction ... and almost no sense at all ... she says ... "Remember ... you can have in life whatever you want ... but you need to understand that the Universe means first of all ... abundance.

... you just need to know how to connect to it!"

It was like the lady was sending me a very powerful message but the message itself was not from her.

Even if she certainly read lots of books, because i saw books everywhere in her house ... she totally forgot the concept of introduction, but maybe it was useless to do it, cause the main message was not related with the connection i could have with her as a human being.

I usually ignore those types of conversations, but still her words remain in my mind for years cause i considered it had a message that i could not clearly understand.

And i was asking myself ... if the Universe means abundance and everything i can get from it is free ... why all the time when i want something is so damm difficult?!

It just does not make sense.

But suddenly i realized that the lady told me that i also need to know to connect to the Universe ... but the whole meaning of this sentence was to ask for guidance ... for which path to follow in life.

I was only listening to my silly desires in fact to my ego but not to my soul.

Any soul is totally connected to the Universe ... and just by asking you will receive the answers.

I also remember about a dear friend, that knows everything about energies ... and can give any answer about future events ... that she told me one day that she does not want to read any book at all, cause all the time she needs an answer ... ask and immediately receive it.

... but i was not doing that ... cause i was not really connected just with my inner soul.

I carried a soul in myself, but i always ignored it ... listening just to the ego.

And guess what?!

I paid a huge price all the time for my desires.

Instead of asking myself ... is this a proper desire for my life?! ... i was just focusing on accomplishing it ... because this is what i wanted and i cared a lot of what i wanted.

I ignored the fact that the trick is to connect to the

MY RELATIONSHIP WITH THE DEVIL REDEFINED MY LIFE

philosophical essays

Universe ... finding it an useless thing to do.

But the real abundance never came to me.

I had to fight all the time to get what i really wanted.

So dear friends ... i just write from my experience and i don't want to tell you that what i say is the truth ... and also that the ego is a negative entity ... but the statistical datas from my life showed that every time i was listening just to the ego ... i was following difficult paths ... and all the time i tried to also listen to my soul and intuition ... that is the connection with the Universe ... everything came by itself.

Maybe you should also meditate more on what that crazy old but very wise lady ... told me long time ago.

Unfortunately ... sometimes cheating is not an option but a ... must Someone told me this ugly theory ... about 25 years ago ... and i totally disliked it.

I was actually so annoyed of it ... that i started to hate my friend from that time for his words.

Later on ... i realized i was too dogmatic, but also too idealistic at that age ... when i was just a silly teenager.

And ... even if i continued to be an idealistic person ... seeing over the years so many people cheating ... i realized that the things are different than what i thought.

First of all i was asking myself why it happens as those people to cheat ... but the real answer came to me when i cheated ... but also was cheated.

The experience itself revealed very clear to me what was going on ... without being needed anymore to ask or to study someone else.

I suddenly realized that the human being that is doing that ... is not feeling anymore ... that is getting what wants from the relationship is involved in.

And as the relationship to survive ... the medicine becomes the act of ... cheating.

Sounds even as a silly paradox, but that person that we dogmatically define as dishonest ... dominated by evil forces etc etc is simple not feeling alive anymore and all that wants is simple ... to survive till the moment when the old relationship will be somehow reborned.

The problem is that the magic is not appearing anymore ... or if it appears is appearing only on the other side of the story and we suddenly fall in love with the other person. We cheat ... to survive in an old relationship that we don't like anymore by such a long time ... but it might happen even to become happy again ... simple by feeling amazing emotions with the new person.

We start to even wonder why we haven't done this long time before ... but too many people around ... judge us in such a disgusting way.

We forgot about dogmatism ... but we become dogmatic again just by caring about what they think.

But all those people that defined the people that practice the cheating ... never thought ... not even for a second ... that actually cheating was not an option ... but a must ... just to feel alive one more time.

Most probably ... we will never understand the evil side of the human being unless we ... experience it.

“only two eyes can see the same why not all.....?”
(Arij Emaan)

I am always having with my dear Arij ... kind of a philosophical dance, but what i write in few pages ... Arij has the power to write just by using few words.

And ... i love her for the amazing talent of doing that!
Far away from me ... in the other side of the world ... she observed that 2 eyes can be the same ... but are never seeing reality in the same way.

Never ...

Hearing Arij ... i suddenly stop from all my activities and start to meditate ... not really understanding why this is so important.

But is funny cause my 2 eyes see reality in the same way Arij's 2 beautiful eyes see it ... so is that theory correct or wrong?!

Well ... i saw so many times people defining situations in such a different way.

You could smile looking at 2 people arguing ... hearing the reality is dark ... and amazing in the same time ... but still you see it totally different as them.

And you see so many times ... those damm situations ... that you understand that in the end is just a perception.

Someone is seeing a situation ... in the most negative way ... but his close friend is laughing of him ... saying ... "You are just having one of those days ... when you are just idiot again, but don't worry in this dance of your emotions ... tomorrow you will see things in a totally different way".

And i smile ... cause i see myself in this scenario also ... on both sides.

It's all a balance between seeing the world in beautiful and ugly colors ... positive and negative vibes ... not really understanding that there is no good or evil ... but just a perception of reality.

But one day ... i see 2 people that were falling in love one with the other ... and i was talking with them for hours.

They were always having the same thoughts, feelings, perceptions ... so i asked myself again if the theory came from Arij was true or not ... but suddenly i understood that what we call perception is totally related with the connectivity between the 2 people that we analyze in a scene.

If the connection between them is a good one, or even an amazing one ... same as at the people that are in love ... they see reality painted in the same colors ... no matter if the connection is a positive or a negative one ... but if the connection does not exists ... like is happening in most of the cases ... only 2 eyes can see the same.

Is not good or bad ... to see things in the way we see it ... cause it's just a fundamental right ... of the human being to observe the world through the eyes of his soul ... but maybe we should have in mind to spend our lives ... with the people that are on the same frequency with us ... or on the frequency we would love to have all the time ... in case we dream for a change in our lives.

Amazing vibes ... amazing life

My journey in life started to become ... somehow a journey to a pathless path.

Everything looked perfect but it was in fact a total mess. I was making lots of money, but i never had money.

It looked like i made the perfect investment, but the headache i had with those investments drove me crazy ... daily.

And even if it looked like i have a beautiful private life, with an amazing wife and 2 great children ... everything went into the wrong direction.

Life just looked amazing ... but was a total disaster ... from all points of view ... and more i was trying to define what was going on ... much chaotic the life became.

I had a strange idea in my mind, by years, that i actually love the chaos ... and saw into this concept the real path to follow ... not realizing that the chaos is actually the opposite of ... harmony.

It was weird ... and unbelievable ... i wanted and actually searched the beauty of harmony ... but i was following the path of chaos.

MY RELATIONSHIP WITH THE DEVIL REDEFINED MY LIFE

philosophical essays

No one would understand me ... not even myself but having so much headache generated by this chaotic life ... i decided it is the time for a change.

I had no idea what i should do ... cause i was in the most silliest situation i could ever be ... my life was a total mess but looked like a perfect one.

I was reading thousands of books and i understood lots of philosophical concepts, but i never found the answer i was searching for.

I was meditating a lot ... but not being connected anymore to my soul ... no real answer came to me.

I was in a real weird situation ... and there was no one to save me ... but maybe i had to save myself.

And one day, after waking up ... i realized i never wake up with joy ... so i never started the day with a beautiful vibe.

I had no idea how i can get a beautiful vibe but i could write a book of 1000 pages about negative vibes.

But guess what?!

I a moment of clarity and awakening ... i suddenly understood that i was not in harmony with the Universe and all i had to do ... was to connect to it ... through the power of great vibes.

And those vibes could simple come into my soul by chancing my focus to real beautiful things like admiring the nature, long walks into a beautiful park, spending quality time with my children, connecting into a beautiful way to all the people from my life.

It was actually a simple decision to focus more on the real beautiful side of life ... and ignore the darkness from myself,

MY RELATIONSHIP WITH THE DEVIL REDEFINED MY LIFE

philosophical essays

the one that was related just with myself ... my interests, my desires, my plans, my problems etc.

Basically all i had to do was to focus on the real positive values of life and ignore ... the evil part of myself.

Little by little ... the amazing vibes started to appear into my soul ...and also life started to change.

My focus was now not on a life that needs to look perfect, according to the standards of the modern society ... but a life i feel deep inside of myself that is the real path of my life.

Motivation ... is not about perfect case scenarios ... but more about the difficult path to that destination

You know ... when i see many of the motivational materials from social media ... i smile.

I would actually laugh, but i came to the conclusion that i must respect all opinions, ideas, thoughts and desires of the people that are appearing on the timeline of my life.

So ... i just smile and wonder myself how could i be so silly, not so long time ago ... that i found so interesting and empowering all those motivational materials?!

Well ... the images with Lamborghini, Bentley, Rolls-Royce, amazing mansions, gold, huge amounts of cash ... they present just one side of the story ... and is not telling us the whole truth ... that not all the paths can be destined to us also.

And indeed that could be a path that we should follow, but also not follow.

Unfortunately ... what i am saying is that motivation became too much about the best case scenarios, models of success that might not be destined to us also ... but not so much about the real plan to that destination.

Is like we take the magic pill ... and just by consuming those motivational materials ... you start to follow the path of a huge success ... make few steps and then arrive at the destination.

Somehow i could define this kind of motivation, without trying to judge it in any way ... cause i don't feel myself in the position of judging anyone ... like a modern temptation. It's a new type of drug that we consume, without understanding that before consuming any motivational materials we should connect to the inner soul ... ask for guidance and then choose the path of life that we should really follow.

The type of motivation that we would need is probably different, even of so many people love the model with the beautiful mansion and the Rolls-Royce.

The model itself ... unfortunately can become a stupid temptation ... and the huge paid price for trying to get it ... could be useless.

We do not understand that just the inner soul can guide us to the proper type of happiness that we should have in mind when we start to work really hard for a ... big dream.

Don't miss understand me ... please!

Lamborghini is an amazing car ... and i love beautiful houses ... and also the money ... but why we should not ask first the inner self ... what is the meaning of our lives and what is the best plan to follow?!

And i am not saying that the temptation of the so called perfect case scenarios is coming from the Devil and we should follow actually the path of Angels and religions ... cause i don't find actual those models for the modern human being ... but what i try to explain ... is just that we should meditate more ... before start to follow any big plan for life ... on the connection between us, the soul and the Universe.

Ask for guidance ... not for perfect case scenarios ... so that in the end, after paying a huge price for getting it ... to see that is not making you happy ... cause that was not destined to you.

Like this ... you will just become an expert into the concept of pathless paths ... but never a happy persons.

... and you'll be just as me ... a writer ... that writes about all types of theoretical models ... but is never tasting the life for real.

"Dr. Ian Gray: What's your favorite flower?
Sofi: Dandelions.
Dr. Ian Gray: Okay. Why?
Sofi: 'Cause, they're free, wild, and you can't buy them."

I heard that to understand life better ... it helps a lot if you read biographies ... of great people ... but i would add today to this concept that it should help a lot to study the ordinary people also ... the ones that had not the chance to be defined as important persons.

Years ago ... i read the life of a lawyer from New York. His name was John Spencer ... and even if he was not well known all over the world, he was actually a great lawyer of the 1980s.

John had a good friend ... Paul Zilberstein ... a great broker from Wall Street ... and they were talking a lot about ... ladies ... and the importance of them in men's lives.

Paul was always "tasting" ladies, even if he was a married guy ... but John avoided that all the time even if he was also teaching law at the university and was surrounded by lots of beautiful young students.

Sometimes Paul was visiting John at his law office, or at university and was saying to him ... "Please lie to me that you are having at least one love affair with those amazing ladies that are appearing on the timeline of your life ... otherwise i can just say that you are blind, stupid or you are an alien from Mars".

John was not listening to those ideas came from Paul ... or was just politely replying ... "The subject is not in my are of interests! I have lots of other important things to do in my life".

In fact ... somehow Paul was playing the role of the devil and John was pretending that he was an angel ... but that only till one day when 2 ladies ... a blonde and a brunette were coming to him ... proposing him to have a beautiful love affair.

John did not refused those 2 amazing women ... and started to experience what Paul asked him to do by such a long time. The 2 experiences ... 2 temptations came in the same time ... from the most unexpected persons he ever thought about ... redefined his perspective about how to live his life. He totally erased his dogmatic ideas from his mind starting to love experiencing the beautiful side of life ... and even if he was married he realized that he was looking for the free ... and wild side of his soul.

So ... in the end the angel ... listened to the devil ... or should i say ... that John discovered that he wanted to explore the so called dark side of his life ... the one of freedom and wildness ... the one of doing what he actually wanted to do by years ... but did not had the gut to do it. The real fact is that in the end John is not feeling that he is doing something evil ... but he was only trying to understand all the feelings from his soul.

He knew about those feelings but a strange blonde and a silly brunette had to reveal all he was feeling by such a long time ... an adventure where he will feel free ... but also wild ... an experience that money can never buy.

The evil can lead you to a much better path than the path
you are following now

Many times I was on the edge of a precipice ... but later I found out that everything was just in my mind.

I could see the evil and amplify it to the maximum.

I was overwhelmed with negative emotions ... and everything had turned black ... and I didn't even think I still had the right to hope.

I was immersed in some thoughts that were mine, but far from what I could have been on the stage of life ... and I still thought I was on the edge of the abyss.

But my own thoughts were lying to me ... and I believed them ... because they were just my thoughts.

But one day I realized that it's not my thoughts or emotions ... and that I can change what I am at any time ... smiling and accepting everything that happens.

But it lasted a long time ... almost half my life and I still didn't know where I was ... because I hadn't actually found myself.

I was running in a million directions ... incoherently ... believing that I was following a plan and that I was actually on the right track, but eventually I realized that I actually had to stop and I find myself.

Everything was a disaster around me ... and I still believed it's because of my thoughts ... but rather it was all generated by identifying with those thoughts.

But I wanted the change.

I wanted it ... intensely.

And in fact I had no other choice ... because everything was a disaster ... and maybe only the change could be my hope.

One day ... seeing the annoying repetitiveness of everything that happens ... I realized the positive valences of the evil in my life.

I went back into the past ... and it really was like that.

Everything that had been bad in my life ... especially the very, very bad things from the past ... made me stop ... from everything ... to abandon those paths that were not meant for me and to go to what was actually meant for me.

It was very difficult to accept the concept ... but in the negativity lay a kernel of positivity.

I knew it ... I had seen it ... but I didn't accept it, hating everything that was negative in my life.

Slowly ... negativity received other values for my destiny ... and I began to see with hope whatever would have happened wrong.

And paradoxically it was ... that I had even begun to see with joy the appearance of evil ... knowing that a new change was coming ... of mine or of my whole life ... waiting for the curvature for new cool things that I was going to experience in soon.

I had begun to understand the paradox.

MY RELATIONSHIP WITH THE DEVIL REDEFINED MY LIFE

philosophical essays

It was all about acceptance ... accepting everything that was happening and embracing all the experiences of life.

You need to know what to ask for to the Universe ... otherwise you'll be wasting your time

Isabelle was a very nice lady.

39 years old, beautiful, adored by many men ... but somehow avoided by luck ... in terms of authentic sentimental life.

Although she had many experiences ... she never got married ... but she clearly knew what she wanted.

She believed in the law of attraction and of using it for our desires ... asking the Universe in hard thoughts what we want, but she still didn't know exactly how to ask.

She had read a lot about it, but what she really wanted didn't appear in her life yet.

Conceptually she knew everything ... but somehow despite the fact that she met ... almost what she wanted ... there was always a piece of the puzzle missing.

It was never ... that much-coveted storyline ... but what Isabelle always ignored was that she hadn't really asked for it.

She had defined so many details ... but she had forgotten the essentials ... that the story itself should be based on sincerity and love ... and that everything should lead to ... happiness. And that's what we all do ... and when we seem to have everything ... we still feel that something is not ok ... that something is missing.

And we realize ... what's missing is really ... the essentials. We got lost in the details ... and missed the real road to what we really wanted.

You see ... there are many who say that God is in details ... but also many who say the opposite that the Devil is in all those details.

But it's hard for us, as ordinary people ... to actually understand what's going on ... disappointed that we seem to be getting what we wanted ... but

But Isabell ... was confident.

She realizes that she is almost on her way to nowhere ... and although she sees that her story is repeated indefinitely ... she smiles seeing in her life a guy who seems to be the best partner that she could have ... but that's beyond that he's a little bit ... married.

She smiles ... and accepts his presence in her life.

It's like the first time she laughs at her desires, realizing how she wastes her time asking the Universe wrongly.

She ... opens her mind but also her soul ... and she realizes that she must continue any path of life with acceptance and joy ... giving up stupid ideas and details.

In the end ... all that matters is whether a story is beautiful or ugly ... whether it gives you life and makes you happy ... whether it heals your soul or sinks you further.

Maybe this new experience ... probably totally inappropriate ... with a married man ... is what she needs to be prepared for a beautiful relationship in the future.

Maybe the role of this episode ... is to understand the authenticity of a relationship and detachment from all that dogmatism means ... and on the other hand to understand that in order to be happy ... happiness itself is not about details, definitions and other nonsense .
Happiness simply happens ... when we open our hearts ... we accept and submit to experiences.
And without realizing it ... joy begins to appear in her heart.
It is for the first time when she lives without expectations ... because what expectations can you have when a married man appears in your life ?!
How could you go on the road with expectations ... when you know clearly that you are on a journey for a path to nowhere ?!
But ... Isabelle realizes that not all those men from her life hurt her ... but her expectations ... all those details required of the Universe.
By giving up expectations ... in fact our vain projections ... we make room for the authentic intentions of the Universe in our lives.
She ... smiles ... and accepts him ... and even opens the door to her soul ... wondering if she's getting an angel or a demon.
Life goes on ... even in a much beautiful way than we might think ... but we just need to forget about all our silly expectations.

As long as temptation exists in your mind or soul ... there is this risk ... welcomed anyway
... as reality to be redefined for you

Victoria lived on the west coast of England ... and lived with her little girl and her husband, who was over 20 years older than her.

Initially ... she had been happy with the marriage, but even though it had only been 7 years since they had been together ... she felt like she was suffocating in that relationship ... and life passes her by.

She continued to be submissive and loyal to her family and husband, but something was missing from her life ... and even though she knew what ... she was hiding it more and more.

Her social media posts ... showed an adorable woman's soul. He was 30 ... but she didn't seem to have lived through what her life had meant.

The days passed and she also saw how the soul ... that diamond inside of her ... was slowly fading.

The pictures still said about her ... that she was alive ... but she was struggling a lot ... to convey this message ... being completely unlucky enough to live in a beautiful energetic environment.

Occasionally ... Victoria was also talking to Jerry, an online acquaintance ... who had tried unsuccessfully to corrupt her countless times.

They had talked a lot ... and eventually became friends ... Jerry starting to care about her.

One day he called her and said bluntly ... "Listen Victoria ... I understand that maybe I'm not what you need, but look at you how lifeless you are ... you really can't go on so ... you have to have the courage to open the pandora's box and start living occasionally. Maybe my role in your life is to whisper to you ... just do it! ".

Jerry was a kind of little devil ... who tempted Victoria ... but it was worse than that cause she felt the same way by a long time.

She needed to do something to feel fulfilled as a woman ... and it was hard to accept that kernel of temptation in her soul.

So Jerry was the daemon or Victoria ?! ... cause all he did was mentioning something she already knew about her.

But was there something wrong with Jerry ?!

He sees in her a friend ... who suffers and dies as a soul every day ... doing nothing to heal herself.

He doesn't want to hurt her ... advising her to cheat on her husband ... but only to find a person who, at least for a while, will give her the energy she needs so much.

But Victoria thinks and does nothing.

Maybe she's waiting for the universe to save her ... or maybe her role in this life ... is to live the way she is now.

MY RELATIONSHIP WITH THE DEVIL REDEFINED MY LIFE

philosophical essays

But my philosophical question ... not moralistic, that i am far from being able to speak of morality ... is ... do we have the right to decide, regardless of the circumstances ... whether we have the right of being happy ... or life only needs to be lived and accepted exactly as it is ?!

Hard to answer ... and I'm firmly convinced that the answers will always be ... in opposite directions.

You can't jump from one story to another one ... right away.
There is a time needed to heal yourself first ... then with the joy in the soul and the opened heart ... life can be restarted.

One of the biggest mistake an individual can do after a divorce, or a break up ... is to jump from one relationship to another ... just for healing the soul much easier ... which in fact can be a totally illusory action.

It's like we have a car accident ... and we call the emergency doctors ... to save us ... but the things are a little bit different in love stories ... even abstract ... and we can't understand that even if we are the patient that needs immediately help ... we should also play the role of the emergency doctors.

But we can't see that.

We expect of having this trick and use another person, pretending we sincerely want to have a new start ... but still being under the influences of the energies of the past relationship ... and of the break up itself.

Instead of healing and releasing all those negative emotions that we carry in the soul ... we expect as someone else to come and solve the problem for us.

Or should i say that ... the dark side from us is trying to use someone else, pretending we are looking for a new love story ... but just for the interest of ... healing the soul.

Yes ... nothing more than that ... but we keep acting like that only till one day ... when we realize we are already healed ... but again we are not in the right relationship ... and it's time to break up again.

Everything we've done ... comes against us ... and we came back in the same unwanted position ... almost headed ... but broke up again.

Then we realize the problem is inside of us ... and we need to take care of it in a honest way ... connect to the inner self and ask for the real healing ... and guidance.

Yes ... we can play around with our lives and the laws of the Universe, but in the end we will see that the future will be just a reflection of thoughts and actions ... and we will just live the same ugly experiences on and on and on.

So ... bottomline ... it's all a decision if you let yourself be dominated by the dark or the beautiful side of yourself ... and the reflection, that will come into the future ... will be just the reflection of those decisions from the present moment.

The ultimate test is understanding ... the illusion

Many years ago, in India, in a village forgotten by the world, a peasant lived at his small farm with his family.

Things were going well for him.

He had a good harvest every year, he had more animals from year to year ... the children grew up beautifully, and his wife took care of everything that means household.

He was actually living the perfect life ... and everyone saw in him a man of success with a beautiful family.

Everyone ... except him.

And strangely ... even though things were going well for him ... it was clear that the man was always sad.

Something was missing from his life, but he didn't know what either.

One day ... a friend points out that he has become blind and many other peasants in the village would have wanted to be in his position ... but suddenly the peasant stops working, smiles ... and was so changed when he was smiling ... like a totally different person ... and he replied to his friend .. "I asked for land ... I received land, I asked for animals ... the animals also appeared, i asked for a beautiful wife ... I also received that wife, I wanted children ... the children came too ... but something is rotten in this life of mine.

My wife looks perfect, but even though we've talked so many times ... i did not told you that I believe she's possessed by the Devil.

Everyone sees a beautiful woman, in her place, who takes care of the house ... but even though you can't believe it ... I swear she's possessed.

All I have ... I can say they have no value even though I wanted them so much.

I live practically ... an illusion, and everyone in the village sees only the illusion ... which I also saw in the past ... that everything is perfect ”.

I forgot to mention that this peasant ... from that far part of the world ... had loved philosophy during his school time.

He already knew that life itself is an ... illusion and often identifies with this abstract concept ... and strange in fact for the life of a simple country man.

The universe had given the peasant everything a man in the country side could have dreamed of in those days.

He had a perfect life, or he seemed to have a perfect life, but in fact ... his life at home was a ... hell.

Paradise was actually ... the Hell.

The peasant's friend stared at him, not knowing what answer to give him ... everything seemed unreal, but understanding that you could end up in life to have everything ... but in fact to have nothing, because the peasant's peace of mind had long since disappeared.

Had the peasant reached a spiritual stage so high as to identify the illusion in any element of his life, or was his wife really possessed by evil spirits ... and from here everything seemed ruined and an ... illusion ?!

Was the hell at home ... just an illusion ?!

Or is it the paradise seen by others in the yard of that simple man from the country side?!

The story itself ... is a story about the illusion of life ... but maybe everything in life becomes an illusion because we do not know that on the road to evolution we should follow all aspects of life and always have a good balance in everything ... that exists in our life.

Maybe ... and we can't ignore that this may be a hypothesis ... maybe it wasn't the wife who was possessed by demons ... but their relationship itself, even though they had everything they wanted ... but everything had toxic connotations.

Maybe they tried too hard to get into the scenario of the perfect life ... but they ended up forgetting about each other ... about the connection between them ... and its importance in this context of an illusory perfect life.

Success has been completely redefined today and seems to be accessible to anyone who truly believes they can have it.

But we do not understand that real success has a little secret that is difficult to be understood for those who believe that everything must be followed in life step by step.

The secret itself ... and we actually know it ... is to believe in magic ... and maybe in the beauty of life.

But life has ups and downs ... and a series of daily problems ... often the list is endless ... and probably that makes us forget that vision of existence ... that we had when we were children.

Back then, I thought anything was possible ... from becoming an astronaut over the years, to driving a Lamborghini ... or discovering gold on the homeless plain.

I thought magic ... really existed.

But the motivation ... even if it existed then ... was not as present as it is today.

Social media was a concept that no one knew about ... nor did they see it in order to have so many models that we could study.

Instead, everything was maybe ... anti-motivation.

We were told ... "Please ... do not longer dream with your eyes open. Magic is just a cartoon nonsense ... but it doesn't really exist. "

And what do you think ?!

They convinced us, just as they were convinced. ... but everything until one day.

A person who comes in magical way in our lives, forcibly takes us out of the gray reality and makes us fall in love with her.

The coolest part of the story is that we see the magic again ... and we start believing in it ... one more time.

It may be illusory ... I know ... but the feeling of the moment is magnificent.

And somehow we start believing again that anything is possible, and the motivational patterns we see so often today ... may be possible ... even for us.

The positive or negative connotations have disappeared from our minds.

The opening today is ... total.

Reality ... is ours ... and the magic is part of the timeline of our lives.

Love ... showed us the shortcut ... making us believe again ... that everything is possible ... even that scenario, which seemed so illusory ... of the perfect couple climbing into a fabulous Lamborghini ... and envied by all.

That's life ... a circus

Truth be told ... we don't really know what we want.
Or maybe we know but we don't have the necessary courage ... to live and enjoy life.
But ... still ... we seem ... that we want to taste it.
And when we taste the forbidden liqueur ... that mix of positivity and negativity ... we see that we like it ... even love it.
And we want one more time.
And one more time.
Life itself becomes in the end ... a circus ... and we just play around with energies ... not really realizing what we do.
We act as clowns ... in disguise as actors ... but we just play non sense games.
Looking and defining the others, that are around us ... we understand life, but we do not see that we are the same as them ... just human beings.
We argue.
We fight.
We smile.
We dream.

We love.

We hope.

... but all the time ... ignoring the connections ... and the importance of them at certain values ... not caring that is probably more important to show our beautiful than our dark side we show to everybody that we have a silly disability of acting properly on the stage of life.

And we end up proving to be ^{just} silly clowns from a circus that is actually not caring of the show itself.

When nothing works to change your vibe ... just sing and dance ... it's the trick that is guiding you to amazing feelings

The human being invented lots of things ... and with money in your pocket you can buy almost anything you want from the ... supermarket.

But we can't buy ... the happiness ... and the reason of that is quite simple ... it's free ... and you can find it anywhere, but only when you try to connect to it ... for real.

I believe that the number one disease from the world today is not cancer ... but the unhappiness.

Too many people, all over the world ... did not understand the tricks for having beautiful vibes.

Well ... i am sure it's simple when someone tells us the secret ... but i am looking around and realize that an army of daemons ... were whispering almost to everybody ... the secret of being unhappy ... not of being happy.

But one day ... suddenly ... just by watching an amazing young lady ... how she was dancing ... being in the same time extremely happy ... i understand the real secret ... the one i could not find in books.

The beautiful ... amazing ... young soul ... was dancing ... and nothing more.

But her smile revealed her beauty so damm well ... telling to the whole world that we live in world fulfilled with beautiful vibes.

And i start to wonder myself if someone ever bothered to tell to the billions of unhappy people ... that the unhappiness is just a type of vibe that can be easily replaced with a better one ... the one of happiness ... just by simple dancing and why not ... singing.

So ... is it so simple?!

Well ... i decided to take few days off and surf over social media ... just watching hundreds ... maybe thousands of young angels ... dancing with so much pleasure.

And i realized one more thing ... i don't know how to dance ... damm it.

How could i be so silly as at my age to not know how to dance?!

So ... i continued ... just watching the amazing young ladies ... and connect to their joy ... while they were feeling alive.

And ... i started to feel alive again ... too.

Admiring a beauty ... i discovered that life is beautiful ... but i never thought of studying this subject.

We ask for honesty and authenticity when it comes about the connections we have with the people from our timelinen... but we end up being afraid of seeing the wild side of those persons.

Monica was considering that it's already too late ... and she should marry soon ... but that perfect guy that she was searching for by such a long time ... was not appearing. At least not ... yet.

But one day ... a mysterious guy had contacted her ... and they started to chat a lot.

She was under the pressure of time ... and liking him ... she is asking him to be honest and tell her his fantasies regarding their relationship.

She was wondering ... did i met an angel or a devil?!

Should i meet with him?!

What if he really is that perfect guy that i am looking for?!

She wanted in her life ... someone to dream for her to want her ... in all the possible ways ... but she was also worried of how things will move on ... if they will like each other.

The funny thing was that the guy was a writer ... and asking him for his fantasies ... she suddenly became ... sad. He wanted her ... even if they never met ... and after telling her that the first thing after they will meet ... he will kiss and touch her like in a love movie ... she became too ... scared of him.

He was a stranger ... but while speaking her openly ... as a friend, but also as a lover from the near future ... his wild side became too much scary.

He knew how to use the power of beautiful words ... but he avoided to be polite.

He preferred to show that scary wild side, even if ... in general ... he was a good boy.

But no other girl ... told him to be wild.

And he was acting as that ... but ... he scared her.

They somehow destroyed a connection that was ... not even explored yet ... by the both sides ... cause truth be told ... we are just afraid of authenticity.

We want honesty but when the partner is becoming too opened and tells all those deep thoughts and desires ... we just can't handle it.

We love the feeling of being wanted ... even by strangers ... but it scares us ... and we prefer to just ... run away.

The story ends ... in a childish way ... and that's not all.

The next stories ... goes the same ... and we can't understand why.

We are afraid of strangers ... even if those new people are just guiding us ... to new paths ... much beautiful than the ones we use to know.

You have no chance fighting with the daemons ... but you can smile to them

When i started the book "My relationship with the Devil redefined my life" ... which actually is a very abstract title ... i had no idea that what i saw in the outside world as daemon forces ... are actually a projection of my thoughts and my inner soul.

But i remembered that i once read a nice story about a monk that was living in the middle of the desert ... to get rid of all the temptations of life.

You see ... the meaning of a life lived as a monk is to identify the illusions of this world and to avoid all those connections ... as in the end the monk to realize that the reason why we were placed in an outside world that looks like we cannot control ... is to take us to the inner world ... everything being just a projection ... for guidance.

The monk remained in silent for years into the desert ... but still after so many, many years he was afraid of ... women. Even seeing the clothes of a lady ... he was already seeing the Devil itself.

He read all the religious materials from the bible to the writings of the saints ... but still had the fear that he will fail as a monk because of this temptation for women.

In the outside world he loved ... the ladies, but all those persons ruined his life ... and the only chance he had left after a life spent as that was to become ... a monk.

But the temptation remained inside of him.

It was like the alcohol for the ones addicted to it ... or the drugs for the ones that loves them.

But even in the middle of the desert ... the Devil was laughing of him ... cause caravans were coming from nowhere ... going to nowhere ... and they went close to his little tent ... and he was seeing women again and again.

The monk was praying to God day and night to get rid of this temptation ... and in the end ... when the pray was over ... he was paralyzed for 4 years.

He could not use his legs, his arms and nothing related to his body.

Was still alive ... his soul was in his body ... but the body itself was useless.

But ... guess what?!

When he was closing his eyes he was visualizing all the women from his life ... and all the pleasures lived with them. He had no body to use for such pleasures ... but the desire remained inside of him.

And the monk ... in a short moment of awaking ... realized that on the path of spiritual evolution ... even with the help of the supreme intelligence that paralyzed him ... could not get rid of the Devil ... or maybe i should say ... the illusion. The temptation was not in the outside world ... but inside of him.

Reality could not be changed ... no matter how much it looked as changed ... unless he was changing for real his inner world.

The monk had to accept that the temptation itself is not related with the outside world.

It was funny to accept that the so called Devil was not in the life from outside ... but hidden inside of him ... and became part of his being.

The Devil ... was him.

It was nothing to do ... but to smile to this inner daemon ... accept it as part of life ... but probably just decide to cut this domination over his life ... and let his beautiful side guide him to the amazing path of spiritual evolution.

For the rest of us, even if we are human beings ... same as the monk was ... maybe the best thing that we can do is to ... keep the right balance between the good and the evil part from us.

... nothing more!

Yes ... we can be daemons ... but also angels ... and all is just a decision.

“And one day ... i just realized that her smile became a beautiful ... therapy for my soul”

Sometimes ... the best thing we could do ... is ... go to a therapist and try to treat our negative side of life.

And it's quite easy to find a good ... or even a great therapist.

With the power of the internet .. you could choose anyone ... from any corner of the world ... but we still have the dogmatic concept that someone that goes to the therapist has actually kind of an ... illness.

We don't understand ... that a therapist could actually be kind of a coach that guide us for a better evolution in life ... and also let us be dominated of the beautiful side, not only of our dark side.

A close friend of mine told me that when she started the Faculty of Philosophy ... the dean started his speech saying ... “To all the new ones in our faculty ... i know you all have a different kind of mental illness ... and you came to us just to become your own therapists ... but before meeting the Angels from the philosophical studies ... you'll have first to talk to all the daemons from inside of you”.

But what are the chances for the rest of us ... to heal ourselves ... if we don't go to a therapist ... or think about studying philosophy at university?!

Well ... let me tell you a greater trick for that ... you could just connect to the vibes of the beautiful nature while walking into the park ... or look at the innocence of children that are less than 7 years old and had not been corrupted yet by the influence of society ... or even easier ... admire the power of the people that have the ability to smile ... and enjoy life ... in a world painted in such a large spectrum of grey colors.

You will laugh of me telling you this ... but that smile could become the best therapy for the soul.

Just think about it!

Bobby: "Doctor! Please help me ... i can't stand her anymore! She drives me so crazy that i believe i'll kill her"
Doctor: "You should just smile to her ... and treat her with love and infinite understanding. Same as i do with you! You don't see me complaining"

Doctor Robbins was a great therapist from Los Angeles. He had a life experience as a doctor, after treating thousands of patients that came to him from all over the world. Was a little bit amazed of meeting Bobby, which was a guy that ... after reading thousands of books of philosophy started to talk about daemons and angels ... which was a little bit weird.

Doctor: Bobby ... listen ... i want to tell me few things about your wife.

Bobby: Can you be more precise?!

Doctor: Yes ... of course ... what does she do that is driving you crazy so much and so often?! I need to better understand the dynamic of your relationship.

Bobby: Well ... doctor ... i know you will not believe me ...

same as the other people that i discussed this with but i believe she is possessed by the Devil itself.

Doctor: Bobby ... i need to focus a little bit and give me details ... what does she do?! Please for god sake ... give me some details.

Bobby: Well ... that's the weird part ... she does not do anything at all. Her simple presence is driving me crazy.

Doctor: Bobby i might tell you something strange but speaking of angels and daemons ... a fancy theory came into my mind ... have you ever thought that you might be the Devil and you just don't feel comfortable around her because ... in fact ... she's an angel?!

Bobby: Doctor ... no disrespect ... but do you expect me to pay $1200 an hour and tell me that i am the ... Devil?!

Doctor: Well Bobby ... i know is weird ... but we need to explore both sides of the story. Over the weekend i had been to the church and i heard this funny theory at the priest ... but now i realize it was a message that i had to tell yourself. I am basically a messenger.

Bobby gets annoyed and leave the therapist ... but doctor Robbins just smiles ... shakes his hand and say ... good bye. The doctor knew by such a long time ... that all of us see the evil everywhere around... but when someone is pointing to us ... explaining that actually the Devil is ... us ... or maybe to be more precise ... that dark side of us ... we totally dislike us.

Doctor Robbins knew that even if today Bobby was not ready to understand his message and that he actually just lost a client ... at the right time Bobby will meditate over his theory ... and probably understand that he or his wife can be the Devil today ... but by analyzing and discussing this directly with her ... they might just improve everything at the connection they have ... also by exploring their beautiful inner side.

Has anyone the right to disturb our energetic field?!

Imagine a beautiful family ... 3 kids ... very well arranged and a beautiful lady is coming in the life of the husband ... that decides to not miss the chance of changing and redefining all the aspects of his his life ... with the amazing lady that he just met ... and is fall in love with.

Is it moral what is going on?!

Is it really right as the husband to abandon his wife and his 3 kids ... because of the huge temptation for a new life ... that will probably be much better than what he has now?!

And the real question is ... has that lady the right to fuck the energetic field ... with all the connections between its members ... for the illusion of a better tomorrow?!

Well ... i won't answer ... and just let you meditate over the subject ... but let me ask you about a similar scenario with the little difference that the connection between wife and husband is already fucked?!

Has the lady the right to interfere in the life of a married ... but unhappy man?!

Has she the right to ... steal that man?!

Or ... again ... is it immoral?!

Maybe the meaning of that beautiful lady is just to remind to the wife that ... unless she redefines the ugly relationship she has with the husband ... she ... or any other lady ... will reappear one day ... and steal that man ... even if he is a married person.

But my real question is ... this 3rd person ... is she a positive of a negative character in the life of that family with 3 kids?! That amazing woman ... just enters into that energetic field of that family and might be in the end a person that is redefining their life forever.

The couple might divorce ... or might decide to restart their lives and try to be happy together.

Both options will have a huge impact on them ... on all of them ... the husband, the wife ... the kids ... but also that lady.

She might not be happy feeling that her new partner is still in connection with his ex wife and the 3 kids ... but she also might realize that her role was a karmic one ... the one of restarting or fucking the connections of a family.

I remember that when i was a kid ... i was hearing my grandma speaking with her friends ... the other old ladies that lived on the same street with us ... speaking about a scenario similar with the one i told you about ... and saying "The Devil entered into their family. Everything will be fucked up unfortunately".

So ... is the lady ... an angel or a daemon?!

There are many real case scenarios like this ... all around the world ... but we should also keep in mind after defining this situation ... that sometimes ... karma is just playing around with us in many, many situations.

... but the lessons of life must be understood.

Spoiling opportunities is actually ... an option ... and sometimes even ... a must.
The one of not following
... pathless paths.

Even since Bill Clinton was a governor of Arkansas ... he was making jokes with his friends ... regarding the ladies from his life and asking ... "What should i do with all those ladies from my life?!"

I wrote few times about that ... and every time i remember what he said ... it comes in my mind the contradictory illusory balance of what we should choose ... when great opportunities are appearing on the timeline of our lives. Should we do it?!

Is it right?!

... but still is a great chance.

Today ... i am not believing anymore in what society defined as morality ... and i believe more in what we should call ... experience life in all its aspects ... positive or negative ones. But i also learnt one thing ... from my life experience ... and that is the fact that even if we should experience anything life has to offer to us ... doing it 2-3 ... 100 times ... the same thing ... when we already saw that the path itself is a pathless path ... is just silly ... especially when we even try to convince ourselves that it should be bad ... to spoil those opportunities.

And we continue life ... going to nowhere, even if we should just stop ... and explore other options of life.

And even if you believe ... same as i do ... that morality is not anymore an important thing to keep in mind ... and that we have the right to experience everything ... even if it good or evil ... we should also remember that all the life lessons that we do not understand ... are keep appearing ... on and on and on.

Meditating ... analyzing and defining where we are ... and why we are there ... we might even come to the conclusion that indeed ... spoiling opportunities is actually ... an option ... and sometimes even ... a must.

It is the decision ... of not following pathless paths ... especially when we actually know the whole script for those experiences.

And this is the point of life ... when we understand the abstract concept of ... the pathless path ... but also try to find a way of connecting to the inner self and ask for the real guidance that we need for understanding which direction we should follow.

Be selective in all the aspects of your life ... and do only what you love to do ... nothing more. Life is too short for compromises!

Bobby had a new date ... with a lady he considered great ... into the Central Park, New York.

He succeeds to park his car and then calls her ... and almost could not wait to ... meet her.

Olivia ... was a simple girl, working as a cashier in a grocery store ... but even if he was a successful lawyer ... he did not cared at all of those social differences.

Close to his 50s ... Bobby started to realize that just the soul is important ... and he dreamed a lot to meet a lady with a big soul, that will treat him with ... infinite love.

Bobby was reading long time ago a book about how to treat people that have drug addiction ... because he had in the past a love story with a young student that was taking drugs ... and wanted to save her.

In the book ... he finds out that all those people that have this ugly addiction had to be treated with ... infinite love and understanding.

Bobby was never taking drugs ... but realized that he needed the same treatment.

His lost soul ... that mix of positive and negative energies ... was totally fucked up.

Someone needed to come ... and fix it.

Going to a therapist ... could be useless ... so he was not even trying ... but he was dreaming that a beautiful soul will appear in his life and heal his lost soul.

But guess what?!

Even if Olivia was looking like an extraordinary person ... her inner self was also fucked up.

They both were suffering of a kind of spiritual sickness ... impossible to be cured by the doctors ... and were pretending they were looking for a partner, but all they searching was a magical healing.

Olivia ... which was a little bit shy ... was not treating him in the way he wanted to be treated.

In fact ... she was just treating him ... as a stranger ... and he was a stranger ... from a strange place ... New York City. Not getting the treatment what was looking for ... just like a 5 years old kid ... Bobby ends the date with Olivia ...

explaining that not seeing the connection ... is just useless to continue the walk.

He leaves ... and Olivia is feeling so offended ... like never before in her life.

But what is funny ... is that Bobby ... who was actually a great lawyer that was mastering the art of having ... and in fact creating compromises ... realized for the first time in his life ... that life is too short to continue it with so many damm compromises.

MY RELATIONSHIP WITH THE DEVIL REDEFINED MY LIFE

philosophical essays

But he did not leave because did not liked her ... or of the absence of connection ... but because the compromises were just part of his whole story of life.

Bobby needed a ... change ... and the first step was to not pretend anymore that he is not fucked up.

And maybe Olivia ... the same.

Maybe on their description on the dating sites ... should be better to write "I am searching for an amazing human being ... that will help me in a magical way ... to find myself again".

That could be ... correct attitude.

The Universe was laughing of the 2 of them ... for their absence of honesty ... when they went to those dates ... where they were searching more ... a therapist, than a partner.

They both had to change forget about compromises ... and be more selective ... but all those actions needed to be taken inside of them ... not in the outside world.

Being broken inside of the soul ... is ok, but pretending and acting like a possible great partner ... was just a ugly lie ... meant to attract other people ... just hoping they will actually heal that ugly part of the self.

And indeed was funny ... meeting a person that is doing the same thing behind your back ... acting into a negative way, with unbelievable expectation that will get a positive result.

The story with Bobby and Olivia ended in a silly way just like all the real stories from the real life ... but both of them understood that life is too short for compromises ... and that is almost too late to continue that scenario ... of pretending ... just to get the healing.

And truth be told compromises will never help us for real!

Welcome to my dark side. You're gonna love it

Autumn is amazing.

Is teaching us to appreciate all the sunny days ... waking up with the hope that a new day with the sun shining beautifully on the sky ... will make us the day ... brighter.

But in the summer ... we never appreciate for real ... the beauty of a sunny day.

We just consider it being ... normal.

Today i trend to believe that autumn is defining the soul of the human being ... in a amazing way.

Is raining.

Is windy.

But from time to time you also see a sunny day that is remembering us of the days we enjoyed ... not so long time ago.

And still ... is raining too much.

In the autumn ... i always remember of the dark side of my soul ... and it really makes me identify myself with this season.

7-8 days in a row ... is rainy weather ... then even when the rain stops ... the sun is hided into the sky.

But one day ... after reading the quote ... some people dance in the rain ... some are just getting wet ... i realized ... i should enjoy every day ... just as it is.

Is basically the only way ... i could appreciate for real .. my life.

And i started to explore my dark zone ... smiling ... seeing the analogy with autumn ... and loving for the first time ... for real ... everything i represent as a soul in this world.

Suddenly i realized that ... the dark zone is just an unexplored side of myself ... the same as i never thought to go out and dance in the rain ... in a regular day of autumn. I could decide ... just to explore that experience ... but i never had the idea.

You see ... dark ... ugly ... are just 2 words that describes experiences we never had in our minds and we really don't know so much about.

The autumn itself ... becomes a lesson of life that is teaching us about ... the things that we avoided ... or had no idea about.

But you see ... same as we cannot avoid the autumn ... in the same way ... should make no sense to avoid ... the dark side.

Sounds weird ... i know ... but is part of ourself and can't be ignored forever.

Allow yourself to explore it and don't be afraid to show to the world ... everything you really are!

The art of being offended ... but not feeling offended

I wanted to rent a house, which was in a residential complex ... where they had also a swimming pool and a bar ... so i placed an ad over the internet. It was quite a nice house ... with a correct price ... and of course i rented it, but i accidentally forgot to delete the ad. The second day, a guy was contacted me offering a price ... similar to the price of a studio from the basement ... but instead of feeling offended by his offer ... as i usually do ... i remembered that i already rented the house and that i should have some fun chatting with this annoying person. I looked on his own ads from that site and i found out that he was selling a piano with 10.000 euros ... so i wrote him back: "I'm sorry sir! I already rented the house. But listen ... i don't know almost anything about music and i am looking for a piano similar with the one you are selling. The only problem is that i just have a budget of 500 euros. It does not need to work ... cause i don't know to play piano anyway so should make no relevance if is a good piano or not. I just buy it for the design. Nothing more."

Being visible annoyed ... the guy totally forgot about the renting and replied to me:

"Listen that is an unique piano ... that you can't find in our country ... and neither in the whole Europe.

It's a special object.

I don't think you know what you are talking about ... offering me 500 euros on it".

I smile ... being happy cause i annoyed him ... and reply again:

"Well ... i told you i don't know anything about music ... when i made the offer, but i don't remember you said to me that you are a real estate expert and you can consider that my house ... that has a swimming pool 20 meters from it ... worth the smallest price for rent from this country.

But anyway ... since we had the chance to meet and i already rented the house, but you still have the piano ... and i want it ... in case you re evaluate my offer you can call me anytime".

So ... was i acting in an ugly way?!

Or i replied in a nice way to a ... jerk?!

I'm smiling ... cause i know that if you'd have the chance to talk with the guy ... would tell you that i am a jerk that i offended him and his unique piano ... and i would tell you the same about him ... cause he offended me offering a very low price for my house.

Maybe a wise person ... should define both of us as ... 2 funny jerks ... but at least, even if i am not considering myself wise i learnt from my interactions with so many people from my timeline of life ... the art of being offended and not feeling offended.

The art of understanding influences

A negative event had a positive impact on myself.
Should i be happy?!

A positive event had a negative impact on myself.
Should be unhappy?!

A real estate investor, from Australia ... wrote me ... asking about how we should react on the negative, but also positive influences that have opposite impact on us.

She explained me that in the last 2 years ... lots of people that separated from the partner, came and rent an apartment from her.

20% of her income comes now from this direction ... but this is a type of client which is very volatile.

They come, sign the contract and might stay 1-2 days ... or few months.

You can't be sure of the dynamic of their relationship ... or make any real prediction ... and even if they sign a contract ... might be irrelevant, cause they might leave anyway if they end up the fight with the partner.

But i am sure that what my friend from Australia is telling me

MY RELATIONSHIP WITH THE DEVIL REDEFINED MY LIFE

philosophical essays

... is happening all around the world ... but what is really the answer to the question ... how should we see those influences?!

Do we have the right to be happy if a negative event have a positive influences on us ... same as the lady is making money with this type of client?!

Well ... first of all ... the lady does not know those people, so she is not responsible of anything regarding the dynamic of their relationships.

She is just renting houses for those people that are running away from the toxic environment from their own homes.

She is actually offering them support for a shorter or longer period of time ... and as long as new clients are coming to her all the time, there is no need as she to be unhappy cause those people are also leaving when their emotional problems with their partner is solved.

There is a joke regarding the impact theory ... saying that if someone form UK, for example, is making a new business in Singapore ... that certainly will have an impact on a dog or a cat from London or Manchester.

But behind the joke ... there is the whole concept about influences and it's not that we need to be happy or unhappy about the impact of those energies on us ... but maybe it's time we understand that life itself is about yin and yang ... the concept of dualism, describing how obviously opposite or contrary forces may actually be complementary, interconnected, and interdependent in the natural world, and how they may give rise to each other as they interrelate to one another.

The real estate investor might actually be happy when a new client is coming to her, without knowing how unhappy is that

MY RELATIONSHIP WITH THE DEVIL REDEFINED MY LIFE

philosophical essays

person ... because probably left home, the spouse the kids ... but also becomes unhappy when the client just leaves because the problems from the couple disappeared.

Most probably we should accept in life all what is going on and even the fact that we are happy or unhappy ... because of some influences that we might not even understand.

We have the right to feel ... whatever the soul is telling us ... and considering that influences will always exists ... we should not be so worry anyway.

Tre truth about life is that negative is metamorphosed into positive and ... positive is metamorphosed into negative ... but we should embrace all what is going on in life.

Many considered them Devils ... but they both thought they are ... Messiah

An interesting historical question is ... who was the worst ... Hitler or Stalin?!

But coming back in time ... we see that both of them came to power believing that they can build a new type of society. They had great oratorical abilities ... and we could define them as one of the best motivational speakers ... from all times.

They saw themselves as super heroes ... thinking that everything around in their empire will be totally redefined from scratch.

And ... indeed the whole world was in the end redefined. I recently read a book about what actually defines the twenty century ... and the main definition was ... a society too much involved in wars, like all the others societies that existed before.

The need of domination ... was the main plan in all those stories, including the last century?!

Have we learnt anything from that?!

Did the wars finished?!

Well ... they will probably never end ... cause little Messiahs, same as Hitler and Stalin are keep appearing on and on ... from nowhere.

They are just a reflection of the conscience of our society and the need of domination ... in different form ... will never end. Small countries or important ones .. the scenario is almost the same as it was 2000 years ago, or 800 ... or 250 years. Today i start to believe that not Stalin or Hitler were the daemons of those times ... but a part of that society that created a very ugly scenario ... believing that the whole world will go in a direction ... where everything will be quite easy to be dominated by them.

Those two negative super heroes ... were just the leaders ... and actually great symbols of an evil system.

And is funny analyzing the past and seeing that those 2 leaders got the full support of their people.

We see them today as real devils ... but unfortunately many, many people ... even the honest ones ... believed in their ideology ... and gave them the full support ... believing that a better life is going to come in the near future.

But naivety is part of the human being ... and you can find at all the ordinary people ... even if they always had a beautiful and honest soul.

The ironic fight between good and evil continues ... and those kinds of liars are keep appearing on and on ... telling us beautiful lies about an amazing scenario that is going to happen into the future ... by fighting with different kinds of influences.

But ... you see ... the need of hearing a different scenario of a better tomorrow ... force us to accept in our lives all those false Messiahs.

We give them credit ... believing in their lies ... even if we know that for a better life we just need ... harmony and a good connection with the self.

Maybe in the end .. i should add that is time to run our lives by ourselves.

Today ... we don't need anymore a great leader to dream big.

We are the ones that can redefine reality in any way we want that to happen ... cause the art of dreaming big is really accessible to the all of us ... but we should keep all the time in our minds the mistakes seen in the history.

Of the others ... and the ones of us.

Beautiful lies ... that were said to us in a amazing way
... redefined our view about reality.

But later on ... we found the whole truth and all what remains to be done is ... to smile.

I recently saw a movies witch i saw 10 years ago ... 20 years ago ... but also 30-35 years ago.

First time when i saw it ... i was just a young kid at that time ... and i loved it.

It was about a kid of 13 years old ... that helped the communist leaders to fight for gaining the power in my country.

Everything happened during the second world II ... and the movie was created by the greatest artists from here ... probably around 1980s.

The story was explaining in a fabulous way how they fought against the nazi forces that were running the country at thar time, so that we become partners with the Soviet Union.

The kid was playing in an amazing way the role.

20 years ago ... when i saw the movie again, i was already a young man ... and the communist party was just history.

10 years ago ... i realized that the whole movie was a big lie ... told in a very beautiful way.

And now ... seeing the movie again with my kids i just smile.

My kids loved the movie ... not realizing what is for real the story about ... seeing just a positive character into that kid of 13 years old.

The movie ... after so many years ... even if it was a movie about communism... but with a scenario written so well ... is an example of saying an ugly story ... a big lie, about negative characters from the human history ... the communists in a great way.

And after so many years the movie is still a loved movie. The communist knew how to use the power of this story ... about a kid that was believing that was doing something great ... but he was just a kid ... and did not knew what the whole story with the communists was.

My kids adored the movie ... even if it was an old one and in the end asked me ... "why did you said to us that the communists are bad guys?!".

So ... even after so many years, the movie succeeds to send a very powerful message to all the ones that are watching it ... and in the same time ... make them ask themselves if the communists were good or bad guys.

My kids believed till today that communists were negative characters from our history ... but not anymore.

They loved the guy of 13 years old from the movie ... and the whole movie.

They saw him as a hero ... and in fact he was a hero.

The same funny thing is happening for sure with many similar episodes from our lives and we end up not knowing if

MY RELATIONSHIP WITH THE DEVIL REDEFINED MY LIFE

philosophical essays

that was a positive or a negative issue for us.

The story might be so beautiful ... especially if it is a new experience ... that you actually don't really know what to believe.

... and this is only because sometimes ... the lies are painted in in very beautiful colors.

Ignoring or reacting to the dark side of the others. Which one is wiser?
But what if ignoring should end up in fact as obeying to that situation?!

Oliver was a businessman from Florida, that was traveling all the time all around the United States.

In Miami he was living with his dog ... and each time he had to leave, he was letting his dog at a very nice hotel for pets. He was friend by a long time with the owner of that hotel, but did not knew so much his wife.

One day, being in a hurry ... and also being afraid that he will not catch the flight to Los Angels ... Oliver takes his little beautiful dog, goes to the pet hotel ... lets the dog at the reception and wanted to leave ... without saying another word.

His taxi was waiting him outside.

The manager of the hotel, the wife of his friend Liam ... was close by the reception and smiling to Oliver is saying:

"I'm sorry sir ... you can't just leave your dog in here and leave.

You need to sign some papers, tell us few things about the health of your dog, make the payment ... and then you can leave.

I promise you, that my colleague will help you and will not take more than 5 minutes”.

The lady was very polite to Oliver, but instead of understanding that he needs to follow some internal rules of the hotel he became very annoyed ... and said to the lady right away:

“Listen! I don’t want to argue with you ... but i will!

First of all i am a friend of your husband ... and this is the rule i have with him i come here, i let the dog and leave.

When i come back i pay.

Simple!

Why do you force me to sign 20 papers?!

I need to catch up a flight to LA! I am really in a hurry ... and i totally dislike to follow all those procedures”.

Smiling again the lady says:

“My husband is not here now, but i assure you that those are the rules for all our clients.

We don’t want to offend or annoy anyone.

We have some rules in here ... just in all the other hotels.”

Seeing no way out of the situation ... Oliver is obeying to the procedures signs the papers and pays with his credit card.

In the same time ... another guy, a man of about 60 years old ... comes with his dog ... lets the little being ... in the receptions and leaves.

The manager is just looking at him ... they smile to each other ... then they say good bye by shaking hands ... but without saying a word.

Oliver gets really annoyed ... but tries to control himself ...

seeing the scene, and politely ask the manager:

"I don't want to be totally unsatisfied by your services today ... buy a guy just entered in here ... let the dog, did not signed any paper ... did not payed ... just let the dog and left.

Same as i wanted to do, but you explained me i just can't do that.

It's obvious you dislike me ... and actually want to provoke me a heart attack"

The lady smiles again and replies:

"Mr Oliver! The client that just left is having a medical problem and is almost impossible to communicate with him ... cause he is deaf.

His daughter sent us all the informations over email and payed us by bank transfer ... and you can do the same.

We don't want you to have a heart attack, but that man is just the person that is taking the dog to us"

Still annoyed ... Oliver leaves ... but he was still unhappy cause he had to follow all those silly rules from the hotel.

He almost had a heart attack because of the old man that came in the same time with him ... not realizing the missunderstanding ... and even if he was informed by the manager what is going on ... he was still feeling offended.

He was reacting in a silly way to a standard situation ... that he could just ignore ... by losing 5 minutes with the procedures of the hotel.

But why?!

He had the illusory idea that the lady wanted to annoy him ... and he was totally convinced that he was reacting to the dark side of her.

But was that true?!

Did the lady wanted to annoy her client, before taking his money?!

Well ... maybe Oliver was just under stress, because he was afraid of losing the flight to LA, but certainly he did not know how to react in those type of situations.

And many too many of us ... just act as Oliver.

We over react ... so easily ... most of the times, believing we react to the dark side of the people from our timeline ... but it's all an illusion.

Actually ... it's all a simple misunderstanding.

There is not about any dark side ... in many of the situations ... but simple by the fact that we over react ... most of the times.

We believe that people are asking us to obey to their rules or philosophy ... but they just came up with some procedures that in many cases ... were created just for helping us to work better together.

The dark side that we see ... is only an illusion from our mind ... and nothing more ... or maybe a simple reflection of our thoughts.

What is love about?!
Well ... maybe is about ... “forget your head and listen to your heart”.

But why?!

Why does it work this way?!

Can we still have control over the situation ... or we become totally dominated by the love story?!

I read and wrote all kinds of things about love ... and bottomline ... the short story is that unbelievable energies are stealing the control over our lives and all we actually see is the story and that person that we fall in love with.

There is nothing more around ... but love.

But why are we actually taken by force in such stories?! what is the meaning of all that?!

We actually lose our minds ... and listen just to the heart?!

We all know what losing our minds means and the results generated by this fact ... and always believed that listening to our hearts is risky.

... but we still do it ... somehow by force ... under the influences of strange energies ... that we will never understand.

And ... still ... even being dominated ... we love it.

So ... is a love story a negative or a positive thing in our lives?!

Should we accept the story and embrace all what is going on ... after losing our heads?!

Everybody around will say the ... opposite ... but it's funny cause our simple reply is ... you can't understand ... you don't know what love is about.

And is true ... but still ... being just under the influences of our hearts ... we become totally changed ... until one day ... when we wake up.

We smile .. and realize it all was so weird.

It was not the real us in the story ... but a totally different person.

Those energies that took us to the path of love ... suddenly disappeared ... and looking at the person that we loved so much ... we don't see that beautiful angel anymore ... but even the devil itself.

No one has the power to understand us anymore.

Is like we said such a long time by something that is white ... and now we explain that is actually black.

We look one more time as persons ... that lost the control over their thoughts ... coming up with such contradictory ideas.

But you know any story has a lesson.

What was the lesson of life?!

Well ... maybe to understand how to love ... but to love everybody and everything around ... not just a person that is whispering to us amazing words about love.

MY RELATIONSHIP WITH THE DEVIL REDEFINED MY LIFE

And ... also to understand ... by force ... the art of listening our hearts ... “because the truth is, there’s no sense living without this ... to make the journey and not fall deeply in love. Well ... you haven’t lived a life at all”.

Experiencing is the key ... even if it's positive or negative

Coming back in time, in the prehistorical age ... the scientists are telling us that the first human being appeared in Africa. So ... it's kind of a paradox ... cause the countries from Africa are not so very well developed today.

Those human beings ... started to be nomads, following the crowds of animals that were providing them the necessary food to ... survive.

People were just consumers and were not producing anything ... yet.

They were just living their existence ... hoping that they will have all what they needed daily.

They were consumers ... but were thinking just at the daily needs ... and nothing more ... not the kind of consumers we are today.

The time passed and some of those human beings from the prehistorical age started to travel more and more.

At that time ... there was no one in Europe or North America ... where we consider today that live the most powerful nations of our times.

But being nomads ... in the end the human beings went all around the world.

And is funny cause a nation as United States, with a history of only few hundred years is the most powerful from the planet.

And we could wonder why?!

Well ... most probably ... traveling all around ... the humans started to have all types of experiences ... positive or negative ... but in the end all those experiences ... helped them evolved to the actual state of the modern society.

I believe is quite a paradox that the most powerful nation from the world is not in Africa, where the first humans appeared ... but far away ... in North America ... a land discovered so late.

But if we analyze well ... and define the individuals that started the society from the actual America ... we see that all of them were people that wanted to travel, to have new experiences ... to start a new life and take all the necessary risks for that.

All those risk existed millions of years ago ... and existed all around history ... at all the ones that were looking for a new life.

Today probably there is nothing new to discover on this planet ... but we can still take risks and change our lives ... into a new better version.

We kept in mind, millions of years ... the idea of something new ... which could actually come like experiencing new and new things ... by taking risks.

So ... experiencing might be the key for evolving ... even if that will mean positive or negative experiences.

The philosophy of trying and accepting the risks as part of our lives ... of starting journeys that might be pathless paths ... or the path that is destined to ourselves ... for the best evolution as human beings.

Otherwise ... to understand the future ... our future ... we should just think at the human beings from millions of years ago and compare them with the tribes of pygmies from Africa ... and we see ... no change.

From the same tribes ... there were human beings that wanted to experience more and more ... and those beings ... by taking risks all the time ... created what we call today ... the most powerful nations of our world.

You see ... years ago i did not had the power to understand those historical paths of humanity, but to better understand myself ... helped me a lot to look back in time ... and i believe i found the key ... experiencing whatever life has to offer to myself ... good or bad things.

Sometimes, asking an evaluation between 1 and 5 ... they give us a ... zero. But maybe we deserve it!

A businessman came to me one day complaining he is not finding anymore the inner power to take care in a proper way of his clients.

He did this for years ... but could not do it again ... for reasons difficult to be understood.

In fact this was the reason why we met just to talk what is really going on with him.

His business was running excellent for years and there was no logical explanation so that he should not care of his clients.

But after telling me the whole story about working with thousands of clients one to one for 20 years ... and meeting lots of strange people ... that generated him so much headache he was starting to believe that the definition of a client is kind of a mix of money and problems.

Short story... i should say money that you can get only after dealing with lots of problems.

More money he wanted to get ... more problems he had ... and in the end it all became a choice about how much money he wanted ... and how many problems he was able to handle. You see ... in Germany there is a funny saying ... "Business should be extremely easy without clients" ... but even if he knew the meaning of the saying ... he ignored it.

He thought that this business will provide him, in time, so much money that he can retire ... but he never thought that everything will be a very long journey to the Hell.

Yes ... the business became his own Hell and the clients were the devils that were driving him crazy all day long by years.

This was ... in fact ... the main reason why he lost the interest in serving all those people ... not understanding that ... in life ... when we don't feel comfortable in an environment we need to ask ourselves what is the problem and fix it ... or just leave.

Needing, but also loving the money ... he was too coward to leave ... and close this company that was providing him such a headache.

Years were passing ... and the frustration was stronger and stronger ... until a guy tells him that if he would be asked to give him a review from 1 to 5 ... he would love to give him a zero.

And it is funny ... cause the guy that told him that was a friend ... and the message was meant to let him meditate ... why he is acting in the way he was acting.

But you see ... many of us ... same as the guy from the story ... act in a similar way.

We just don't like some of the things from the timeline, but not finding the right courage to change them ... we end up living or believing we live in a hell, even if in the beginning

MY RELATIONSHIP WITH THE DEVIL REDEFINED MY LIFE

philosophical essays

we thought that this is the path to the an amazing world.
Being so coward ... we always delay the change till tomorrow
... but that tomorrow ... will never come.
And the journey throw Hell continues ... and our faces remains the same as the one of the businessman i told you about ... one ... of an ugly and unhappy human being.

To have a quantum jump
... you need to cut all the connections that you have today ... in the real life

I've been dreaming a lot of a big change in my life ... and i was actually looking for a shortcut to do that ... but actually not understanding what i should really do.

I was actually looking for a quantum jump ... but i saw almost too late that this was not something difficult, but a process that i could do right away ... but had to do it inside of myself as the result to be seen in the outside world.

But instead of applying this concept ... i lost a very long time caring too much about what was going on around me ... seeing the evil side of the world ... and being too much under those negative influences.

I did not know that all i was seeing around ... was just a reflection of my soul.

And the world looked like a world dominated by evil people ... and i was the victim of all kind of circumstances, without seeing that in fact ... i can simply disconnect those this scene and connect to beautiful energies.

Instead of spending my life with so many ugly people from the timeline of my life, i could simply admire the trees, enjoy the walks on the streets, interact only with the people that i was feeling that will have a positive impact on myself ... and actually dare to change the path of my journey ... from negativity to positivity.

For a very, very long time ... i thought that a secret of a beautiful life was to work hard and to be involved in many things ... so my life to look that has a meaning ... but to get the big change, that quantum jump ... i just had to connect to my inner self ... that was actually the gateway to the Universe.

But it took such a long time to see that all those connections i had with everybody around ... kept me as a hostage in a world that i don't like anymore ... and probably never like it. I had to be more selective, or even worst ... to cut all the connections with the people from my life and stay connected just with the inner self, at least till i understand what this jump was about.

And it was funny to realize that any kind of change can be done, when you have the right connection with the Universe ... even the quantum jump.

Disconnecting from everything was ... the trick ... but is it easy to do it?!

Well ... hell no ... cause this might mean to pay a big price ... and stop the connections with the people that we work with most of the time, close friends ... and even close family members ... like brother, sisters and even parents.

So ... are you sure you want to pay the price?!

Well ... depends how much you really want that big change ... the quantum jump ... otherwise don't even bother to mention the evil influences of any kind ... from the environment you are living in.

Everything becomes a simple decision ... and you need to think well if you go in one direction with all the others around you ... or choose a totally different that, that not so many know about ... but most probably is the real path destined to you.

They went to the Hell to understand that they should actually start to look for the path to the Paradise

I always thought what is the meaning of the wars ... and most probably they are just a secondary effect of the hate from our souls ... of all of us.

Understanding the spiritual meaning and level of the World War I and II ... we would probably see that we are today ... still ... not in a good position either.

Try to connect with the people from your timeline and you will easily understand how miserable they feel about their lives.

Is like ... most of them are living in Hell ... but if you look around you will understand that the modern world look as a Paradise ... comparing with how it looked not centuries about ... but just 50 or 100 years ago, during the war.

Imagine all those people that had to deal with the trauma of the WWI and WWII ... and this was not so much long time ago.

It all should be a joke to make the comparison.

What is not so well know about those wars is that ... lots of people from that time lost their minds, not handling the situation.

Today ... we feel the same that we can't stand reality anymore, not seeing the life we'd love to see ... and not end up even feeling that we will lose our minds.

But it's all ... just a silly joke.

Reading ... or watching documentary movies about what happened to those people from history ... that went to Hell ... in the real world ... we would laugh of our silly thoughts from today.

But we would also understand that the world from those times ... was on such a low spiritual level ... that to understand the need of a change they had to go in a trip to Hell ... just to realize that they should better look for the Paradise.

But the concept of hell or paradise ... are just symbolic.

We should just analyze both concepts, also keep in mind worst case scenarios from the history of the humankind and most probably motivation will make sense for our lives.

The change will just become ... a priority and also ... a must. But we will also understand that the meaning of the episodes fulfilled with evil situations will be just to realize that we are not following the right path ... and should redefine everything around.

Doing stupid things a nice way of getting out of the borders that define to us our ... boring reality

I hear many people ... complaining they have ... boring lives ... and when i ask some of them what is going on ... trying to teach them my technique of analyzing... defining as into the end to be able to totally redefine the reality itself i see a weird fear ... that i could not understand for years.

But later on I've realized it's the fear of making mistakes ... and all sorts of stupid things ... not seeing that everything is just part of this scenario ... called life ... and has the meaning to reveal us ... its secrets.

INTRODUCTION

I was writing a lot about analyzing and defining life.

And i even wrote a book with this title.

But my real purpose from that time was to make the people understand that after understanding all what is going on they could realize how their lives could be redefined ... into the way they want it to look like.

I've also wrote about the non sense and all the pathless paths i was following but still .. i felt that i was not defining properly all what was happening on the stage of my life.

But meditating more ... one day ... i had the courage to say it ...

Yes ... i was doing lots, lots of stupid things.

And it was worst than that ... cause i was in fact aware of all that.

The paradox was that even if i realized all what was going on ... i enjoyed doing all those things.

People around me ... started to whisper that it's not ok all what i am doing but ...

I refused to listen ... to anyone.

DOING STUPID THINGS ... AN AMAZING JOURNEY

... philosophical essays

I was acting like a child that was actually enjoying to do ... stupid things.

It was like i was following ... an amazing journey.

Today ... i just stoped judging myself.

Also ... do all my best to stop judging the others.

I don't say anything when i see someone that is smoking 2 packs of cigarettes a day.

... or someone that is drinking one bottle of vodka every night.

And i pretend i don't see what is going on when some of my friends are smoking marihuana all the time.

The list of examples ... is infinite...

But ... yes ... I used to judge them.

All of them.

I was analyzing and defining them ... in such an ugly way.

I could not find the strength ... to accept their behavior ... their decisions of doing ... stupid things.

And in the same time ... i was enjoying my own pathless paths.

The ones ... of doing those damn stupid things.

Today ... i try to practice ... the acceptance of all what is going on ... on the stage of life.

Whatever happens ... good or bad ... i see it as part of the experience of being into this Universe.

It s like ... all ... is actually part of the process.

So ... accepting and embracing real life ... the way it is ... and even defining it as an amazing journey ... became for me the key ...

That key ... that would allow me ... to enjoy life.

And also to all the others ... from here.

Weird experiences carry amazing messages.
But we are blinds ... or pretend we can't see that.

I did lots of stupid things over my life time.

And i still keep doing them.

Even if i know i should not do those things, i still do that ...
on and on and on.

Somehow i started to accept that as part of my life experience.

And recently ... i just had a new weird episode that probably carries a very strong message for myself ... but maybe as usual ... i'm still blind to see ... the spiritual side of the story.
It was already late ... and i went to prepare a house for one of my guests.

It was so, so cold that i decided to start the fireplace.

And damn it ... no matter how much i tried ... i could not start the fire.

So ... totally annoyed ... having in there a little bottle of thinner ... i opened the fireplace and tried to start the fire using that bottle.

DOING STUPID THINGS ... AN AMAZING JOURNEY

... philosophical essays

In a second i see my hand with fire on it ... my coat started to burn also ... my right shoe had fire on it ... and...

I threw on the floor the bottle of thinner ... but accidentally it went near the sofa and the table ... and they started to burn also.

2-3 seconds only ... and i was ... because of my stupid mistake ... into ... the hell.

I knew i had to not use the bottle of thinner ... and that was a very stupid thing

But ... I succeeded to keep my calm.

I suddenly remembered about my book ... "It's all an illusion a karmic one." ... and i said to myself ... "Calm down! All it's going to be fine. It's just an illusion ... and illusions are not real."

The inner peace from my soul ... the calmness ... made me have the strength to stop the fire in 2-3 minutes only.

What it was funny was that the thinner that was on the floor ... created the impression that the tiles were burning.

Probably the most difficult part was to take out my coat which had fire on it ... but ...

The experience itself ... was weird ... but also ... amazing.

I was glad I was not scared even if it all looked like a real ... hell.

So ... finally i stopped the fire.

I cleaned up everything and ... it all looked like nothing happened.

Someone came to me ... felt the smell of smoke ... but could not believe what i've described.

My burned coat ... and my right hand ... were the only proof ... about all it happened.

DOING STUPID THINGS ... AN AMAZING JOURNEY

... philosophical essays

It was the 3rd fire i had at my houses.
But like always ... it was kind of a karmic demo.
Probably a message ... which i could not really understand ... or maybe i was just pretending i could not see it.
The experience itself ... made me feel alive.
I don't regret it happened and i don't complain about it.
So ... what was the message?!
Just that i keep doing ... stupid things?!
Hmmm....
Maybe not ... maybe yes ...

You can have absolutely everything you ever desired ... but if you are not happy ...
it's all useless

We go throw life ... with lots of thoughts, dreams and millions of desires.

And the funny thing is that after a while ... we realize that many of those things became true.

And still ... we are not satisfied.

Something ... like an invisible barrier ... blocks our path to happiness.

Even the concept itself of such a thing ... called happiness ... is so abstract that ... we don't really believe we can ever achieve it.

In my book "PHILOSOPHY OF NOTHING - had everything, but i actually had nothing ... had nothing, but i actually had everything" ... which is actually a book with love essays ... i remember that i tried to explain the concept of love affairs and their meaning.

My friend Brian ... which is actually kind of a reflection of myself ... always inspired me in my writings.

I say reflection of myself cause he is always doing stupid things ... same as i do which makes our lives look like ... a non sense.

Today ... i see Brian ... as the profile that is defining the best the concept of ... philosophy of nothing.

He's having all he ever wanted.

A lovely house, a beautiful wife, amazing kids, a successful business ... and it's so weird to see him suffering of a profound ... sadness.

Brian looks having the perfect life but ...

You see ... my friend is not so idiot as he looks like.

I see him often in the company of some beautiful ladies ...

and i use to ask him ... "Why you do this Brian?! It's a nonsense?! Your wife could find out and you will lose all you have now?!"

You've worked a lot ... for all this ..."

"All this what, Gabriel?!"

I have nothing ... just nothing.

There is not even one thing that could make me happy.

Not even one.

So i'll lose what?!"

Maybe Brian was right.

From outside it all looked like Brian was doing only stupid things ... going out with all those ladies ... but the real truth was that he gave himself the freedom to live also into a parallel world ... where maybe he has a better chance to be happy.

Was it ok what he was doing?!"

Was it moral?!"

Should we judge him for all these stupid things that he was doing?!"

DOING STUPID THINGS ... AN AMAZING JOURNEY

... philosophical essays

Why someone as Brian ... that looks that has everything ... feels that has nothing?!

What is the best thing he could do?!

And even if i chat a lot with him ... trying to understand him ... i came to a point when i simple don't judge him anymore for his stupid behavior.

I consider all as part of this journey called ... life.

We should just laugh ... in front of stupidity.
... and nothing more.
And remember that anyway
... it's all an ... illusion.

The experiences i recently had in my life ... somehow prove that i live a karmic story for the moment.

It's like i live in a prison of life tests ... and i have absolutely no idea when i'll be released from here.

Or maybe i should redefine those thoughts ... and declare that life itself is kind of a school that is teaching us lots of things ... and

We should accept all what is going on ... pay attention to the details ... and see the message behind the message.

The real purpose we are here becomes

Well ... i don't even know how i should define it better ... to not be misunderstood ... but first of all it's all about the illusion of the self.

And we should get rid of it ...

How?!

Well ... simple smiling in front of all the stupid things from our lives ... of all the nonsenses.

DOING STUPID THINGS ... AN AMAZING JOURNEY

... philosophical essays

Understand the concept of ... illusory ... and readapt right away.

.... and then simple continue life ... just as it appears to us.
No judgement but acceptance in front of everything ...

It's a new day ... a new chance to act better on the stage of life

Somehow we live with the illusion that we are here to accomplish our dreams ... goals ... or those infinite lists with desires.

And because of that ... we lose a lot of energy, believing that our focus should be in the direction of getting all what our minds ask for.

But ... the Universe ... laughing behind our back ... is making us the favor of letting us get all we want.

Of course with a price.

Sometimes a very big price.

And we believe it's normal making compromises... on and on and on.

Fighting ...

Arguing with the people around us.

We listen to motivational movies ... telling us about sacrifices that need to be done for accomplish our dreams ... and we believe them.

But you see ... nobody bothered to tell us the difference between a dream ... and a desire.

DOING STUPID THINGS ... AN AMAZING JOURNEY

... philosophical essays

Having so, so many of them ... asking for such an intense work ... the sacrifice looks more like a compromise.

And the compromise becomes ... compromises.

More and more ... until one day ... when realizing that in fact absolutely none of those desires ever made us happy.

But we continue life ... doing the same things ... on and on and on.

Our main purpose depending of the level of intelligence of each of us ... and the way we care about our lives is related with simple desires, dreams and goals ... but ...

Once we analyze more ... we realize it's all related with the illusions induces by our minds.

We believe that getting that and that and that ... will make us ... happy.

Making the stupid mistake of asking the mind, but not the heart ... we end up ... living for so many days in a row ... maybe weeks, months or even years ... a life that is offering absolutely ... no joy.

Acting in such a stupid way ... making the same mistakes on and on and on ... could even be defined as a hobby ... for us. And not understanding how we should really act on the stage of life and the fact that we are not here to accomplish the infinite list of desires and make lots of sacrifices and compromises for that ... but ... to understand life and get rid of the illusion of the self ... life becomes ... a nonsense.

The show continues

But maybe for some of us ... in time ... we realize ... a new day becomes a new chance to ... act better on the scene of life.

Experiencing life ... a must.
Enjoying it ... the same.
But after all those stories ... it must come a time when ... we should stop following pathless path.

We see around us people having all sorts of ... addictions.
For some it means alcohol.

For others ... drugs.

Or making ... money.

Or ... conquering women.

Or ... chasing for ... success.

Or ...

But ... whatever those experiences are ... realizing the concept of pathless path ... it's so damn important.

I wrote many times about ... illusions.

And it's so funny ... cause when i live illusions on the scene of my own life ... even if i know a lot about what the concept means ... i still fail.

I continue living the illusion ... saying that i ... know it but

...

Today i look into my past ... and i have the dignity of not regretting anything.

I see all ... as an ... experience.

DOING STUPID THINGS ... AN AMAZING JOURNEY

... philosophical essays

I also enjoyed many of those episodes of my life.
And indeed ... many were ... stupid things ... which i've done.
But i finally realized that It's time to ... wake up.
Stop following ... the nonsense.
Stop letting myself be dominated by ... stupid things ...
And most important ... stop following ... pathless paths.
Paths ... which i followed for such a long ... long time.
Paths ... which i know that are illusions.
Paths ... which i know that will ... ruin me.
Paths ... that steal my focus ... from the real values of life.
But even if i say ... i'll stop doing that ... i continue ... the nonsense
On and on and on ...

It's useless trying to change the partner.
Just enjoy the positive side of the relationship ... and don't bother to make any projection for the future

Many people write me about their relationships seeing me as psychologist but the simple truth is that i am only a thinker a person that is probably thinking a little bit more than the others.

I like the connection with all those people involved into those love stories.

They are somehow my teachers about ... relationships and love.

For example Charlie is always writing me about his relationships.

Businessman, a guy that chased success all his life realized into the end ... that all was useless ... cause he was never really happy.

But the funny thing is that Charlie mastering the law of attraction succeeded one day to finally attract into his life ... an amazing lady.

She was beautiful, intelligent ... a warm soul ... and amazing in bed.

DOING STUPID THINGS ... AN AMAZING JOURNEY

Lily offered him ... the best a woman can offer to a man ...

There was nothing ... she would change at her.

And it was all real ... cause before Lily ... Charlie wrote me about other ladies also ... but there are was always something that he disagreed with.

This time ... my friend was writing me ... only and only about the beautiful side of the story.

Well ... until one day ... when i felt that Charlie is worrying about something.

"Gabriel! I've learned from you the art of defining ... and i always try to honest in front of myself ... and analyze all what is going on into my life.

Today i've somehow realized that Lily loves the masculine energy ... and has this inner desire of staying in those energies.

She loves to be surrounded by men.

She enjoys a lot the masculine energies.

I don't believe she can be ... just with me.

She's the perfect lady ... but i can't project anything with her into the future ... cause i would not accept to share her ... with other men.

And today i simple don't know what to do ..."

I was smiling ... realizing that even if we are in front of a best case scenario ... we still find something which is not ok.

"Charlie! My dear friend! Stop being idiot!

You finally met the perfect woman.

You had so, so many plans with your life ... but ... you failed all the time.

On and on and on.

Lily is a divorced lady.

She comes from a world ... that is not so related with the borders of a relationship.
She loves being surrounded by men ... yes.
She loves the masculine energies.
What can you do?!

Try to change her way of acting on the scene of life?!

She comes from a free universe.
She was a free woman divorced.
Before ... she could do absolutely anything she wanted.
Now you appeared into her life ... and you want as her to stop acting like that.
Stop being a free soul.
Stay connected ... just to your soul.
Be your own ... property.
Be yours 100%.

You want as this lady be your prisoner.
Stay disconnected from any other type of energy.
She makes you happy.
She offers you everything a woman can offer to a man.
And now ... with other words ... you expect her to accept being your ... prisoner.
It's really stupid what you ask.
Really ... really stupid of you to think like that.
But you might still have a chance.
And that is to love and treat her in the way she loves and treats you.
There is only one way as her to be yours and only yours.
You want exclusivity.
But ...

Only if your love will create an amazing connection for her soul ... her unconscious need of connecting to any masculine energy will become ... fade."

I saw Charlie ... a little bit annoyed.

"So ... you are telling me that i still have to work ... to get what i want.

She's mine ... but not 100% mine.

I dislike her unconscious need of being surrounded by masculine energies ... but ...

All you're telling me is that if i'll succeed to me a great actor on the stage of life ... then maybe she can re soft herself.

It's funny ...

The Universe sent me the perfect lady ... but she can be mine for 100% ... only and only ... if i can be the perfect partner also.

I hate all what you say to me ... "

"Well ... Charlie ... just try to be that perfect partner ... you were chasing for ...

And all will be as you want."

I was meditating a lot about Charlie and Lily.

And i was smiling realizing that Charlie adored the fact that the Universe sent him the perfect lady ... but he did not realized that he needs to become for her that perfect partner also.

He wanted her ... just for him.

Wanted as Lily to become his prisoner ... but forgot that only an amazing connection can make the partner be blind at anything around.

In fact ... i was laughing of my friend.

Same as the Universe was laughing of him.

He was acting indeed as any other idiot ... that is having one million expectations ... not understanding that to amazing things ... we need to reply into an amazing way also.

And it's true ...

A love story can be an amazing.

It can also be a prison ... as Charlie wanted that into an unconscious way ... but ... my friend forgot about the theory that says that in life it's all a ... reflection.

And the psychological question was ... for me but also for the 2 of them ... was Charlie ready also to become the prisoner of that love story?!

Hmmm ...

Or maybe it's time ... for my dear friend ... to not bother to change anything at all ... in this story ... and simple live and enjoy it.

Abandoning ... all thoughts ... all stupid desires of domination ... might be ... probably for both of them the best plan ... they could have in mind.

Stoping the emotional balance ... most probably a must

I see at many people ... what i used to define looking at me ... as an emotional dance.

Today ... i've started to be more honest ... and redefined for myself the concept ... as emotional balance of ... contradictory emotions.

And i see that ... so, so often.

I see it in businesses.

I see it at many people when it comes about change ... and even very simple changes.

But even worst I see it even in ... love stories.

And i can understand the fears of a businessman ... i can understand the fears of any simple person ... in front of simple changes ... but when it comes about love ... my brain can't understand the meaning of the emotional balance.

Sometimes i see love and hate into the same day ... at 2 people which have amazing connection ... and ask myself why?!

I look deeper ... and?!

Almost ... no clue ... about what is really going on ... but i continue analyzing all around myself ... and also my own life.

DOING STUPID THINGS ... AN AMAZING JOURNEY

The emotional balance ... which many times is dominated by such a large spectrum of emotions ... redefined as an emotional dance ... becomes a total nonsense ... but an accepted fact ... as part of anyone's life.

A stupid truth about us ... but ... a real fact.

Repeated on and on and on.

Until?!

Well ... maybe till we will understand that we'll not live forever ... and we should be more decided but also stop balancing so much.

Understanding the dance of energies beyond reality ... we finally realize why it exists this huge gap between what we defined as the perfect life ... and how the present moment looks like

I see lots of unhappy people around myself.

If i would ask them to define me why this huge difference between what they would define as the perfect life and ... how reality looks like ... they simple can't say anything at all ... about the subject.

So ... i ask a simple question to many of them ... why this contradictory actions on the stage of your life?!

Why ... if you really want to be happy into the relationship you have ... never act as the perfect partner?!

How you can't stop acting stupid?!

How you can ignore all your fantasies that might involve other partners also?!

How can you play on the stage of reality .. as a great actor?!

How can you suppress your unconscious actions ... and let just the conscious part of yourself dominate reality?!

How can you stop and control the dance of energies beyond reality?!

DOING STUPID THINGS ... AN AMAZING JOURNEY

... philosophical essays

Well ... too many questions ... and i don't hear anything at all ... from all those people i am talking with.

And while trying to find the answers by myself ... looking again and again ... at some people dancing ... i finally understand it's all a game of energies ... that we are incapable of controlling.

We simple ... can't do it.

Or maybe ... our only chance is just to synchronize our energies ... and keep remaining connected as long as we want into that connection.

Listen to the music of that story ... and dance and dance and dance ... as long as we enjoy the story itself.

And yes ... it is possible as one day ... the music to simple stop ... or the connection to be broken ... by one million unknown factors ... but till then

Well ...

Maybe ... just ignore any idea of negative influences ... stop dreaming about anything else except the connection ... and stop being and acting stupid.

And maybe also ... dare to dream ... at the eternity of the moment.

Anything else ... should be useless to let dominate ... our lives.

Also ... again ... maybe ... forget about the fears ... of any kind.

“I want to do the dirtiest things with you on the most romantic way ... ”

Hundreds of millions of people are married.

... or maybe even billions.

But if we'd ask them to tell us if they really are in an amazing connection with the partner ... and if they could honestly answer to us most probably only few would say ... yes.

And i've wondered why?!

And also ... what really means a real connection?!

How could we define this ... into a proper way?!

Oh ... maybe i should say ... how can we explore the boundaries of a connection so that we can declare that we are into what we could say it's ... an amazing connection?!

Well ... recently Sheila told me that she began a new experiment with her lover.

They started to do in bed the dirtiest things from the human history ... into the most romantic way.

I was listening to her ... and could not believe what she was saying to me.

The same Sheila I was looking at ... and looked like a real lady ... acted with her lover as a porno star.

And ... she loved it.

DOING STUPID THINGS ... AN AMAZING JOURNEY

... her lover also.

She was explaining to me ... so many details about exploring the boundaries of their relationship ... and i could not believe it.

I was listening ... and kept being amazed.

But what i could easily realize ... was that she was doing all those things ... 100% ... with joy.

... the joy of being together.

... the joy of exploring the limits of their relationship ... but Everything was ... fine.

... just fine.

The experiment itself ... revealed that they could share any dirty fantasy that they had in mind ... and still enjoy being together.

Actually ... they were not afraid of anything ... anymore.

They were not afraid of ... their dark sides.

I know ... it all look so stupid to do all those things ... but exploring all meant ... the connection itself ... was great.

And continued sharing their thoughts ... all their fantasies ... and all related with them ... as a couple.

... with no regret at all ... but only ... enjoying the fact that they were together.

I was amazed of the discussion.

... in fact .. shocked ... but ...

We should do all the stupid things in the world ... with absolutely no regret in the soul

Truth be told ... life it's beautiful.

And it can also be amazing ... but we simple need to dare ... to experience it.

Well ... maybe same as a kid is doing.

Most probably we will do ... lots of stupid things ... but in the end ... life itself it will be revealed to us.

I look into my past ... and indeed i see lots of experiences ... many of them ... weird experiences but i see them with no regret at all.

I was walking on so, so many ... pathless paths.

I smile ... remembering all that.

I am smiling ... and am glad i have absolutely ... no regret at all.

If i would count all those stupid things ... i've done ... i would be amazed of the number.

And i'm really sorry i did not kept a diary with all of them ... but maybe one day i'll write a book only and only ... with those episodes.

Somehow i realize that today ... i am defined as a human being by those experiences.

DOING STUPID THINGS ... AN AMAZING JOURNEY

... and also redefined.

I would conclude that doing stupid things ... it's most probably a ... must.

... for all of us.

Of course ... unless you are kind of a Buddha ... and you can exile yourself in the forest for years and meditate on the meaning of life on and on ... and on ... without being needed to experience anything.

But Buddha was Buddha ... and the rest of us ... we are destined to follow all those stupid ... pathless paths.

I smile ...

And i remember i've decided ... in fact ... to experience all that ... with joy.

... cause doing stupid things ... it's not so bad as it looks like.

Admiring the feminine spirit ... seen as an art

One of my friends is keep sending me amazing videos with gorgeous ladies.

And to tell you the truth I found it stupid in the beginning ... to end up ... adoring watching those clips.

But ... as always ... i've started to analyze ... why the hell we do that?!

Of course ... being over 40 ... is absolutely normal at a man to do that ... but ... still i had to find the logical explanation behind this silly illogical behavior.

And analyzing myself ... but also my friend ... i've realized that we came to a point when we almost considered that admiring the feminine spirit is an art ... and somehow we could also be defined as ... artists.

We went deeper and deeper ... with all those analyzes of the feminine soul and body but i still did not had an answer of why we paid so much attention for such activity.

I could not understand ... the reasons of why men are so, so interested in ... ladies.

But time was passing ... and even if we started to invest more and more time into that ... and it looked like it almost became ... an addiction ... i finally realized that we were analyzing in fact ... the perfection of the feminine spirit ... but also dreaming of meeting and connecting to those persons. It all became ... an obsession ... but we were already in the position of really understanding what we were looking for. Yes ... we were chasing for ... perfection.

But ... for amazing souls ... that were living in gorgeous bodies.

And even if it sounded as cliché ... we already knew what we wanted.

We were dreaming day ... and night ... and all those analyzes ... were guiding us in our ... searches.

People were ... of course ... judging us ... but we ignored all of them.

We simple did not cared of anyone's opinion...

Our main objective ... became to study much closer those feminine souls ... and experience the connection with them.

We dared to define it ... an art.

And we continued ... loving what we were doing giving us the freedom to do what others were defining as ... stupid.

Acting as the perfect partner ... but also looking at everything as a show ... a nice way of enjoying reality

My friend Brian which i use as inspiration in many of my essays ... recently told me about an experiment that he's doing with our common friend Sheila.

They meet once a week and play a game ... called ... in a love story with the perfect partner.

They define one for the other ... everything means ... an amazing love story, what their expectations are in such a relationship ... but also try to act ... as into a hollywoodian love movie.

It's like they train themselves to be great actors into a love story.

She is his love teacher.

He is ... her love teacher ... too.

They made the understanding... to not get in love with each other ... but also to do all their best for 2-3 hours ... once a week ... to act like being into an amazing story.

Brian said ... that last week ... she was dancing for him ... trying to seduce him ... and he feeling amazing.

Of course ... it was all an illusion ... and it all looked like a stupid game ... but what was interesting to see ... both at

DOING STUPID THINGS ... AN AMAZING JOURNEY

... philosophical essays

Brian, but also at Sheila cause she was also telling me from time to time what they were doing ... was that they adored ... this game.

They both ... made efforts to satisfy the partner in the best possible way ... and were acting indeed as ... great actors.

And all had a ... clear purpose.

... to train themselves to be amazing.

I smile ... in front of such a story ... but i vote it as a great idea.

I do not judge them ... anymore ... as i did in the beginning ... when hearing about the experiment.

Actually ... i trend to believe that i need such a partner as Sheila too.

The emptiness looks so much ... similar with a ... nonsense but

I was listening the words of the song ... and i smile ...
listening all ... on and on and on.
Then i found the translation ...
"I'll look into your soul, but it's so empty
And you talk about spirituality so often Life is like a song on repeat, everything will pass, but it will hurt, and only wounds will remain"
And ... i am amazed.
My soul was indeed empty and it had lots of wounds ...
I've connected with the song not really understanding a word ... but realizing it's all about me.
Then ... i dared to ask ... who the hell is that lady from the clip?!
What is she doing there ... in the scene?!
I started to see all ... as an abstract representation of my life
... and all became so damn clear.
I smiled.
My intuition still works ... and the signs with all sorts of messages ... were everywhere.
... the empty soul.
... the wounds.

DOING STUPID THINGS ... AN AMAZING JOURNEY

... that beautiful lady.

I was reading the words of the song ... again and again.

I was actually trying to realize ... what i need to clarify ... or maybe to accept as clear for my present moment.

Well ... it now made total sense why so many lost souls ... listen those amazing songs ... like this one.

Before ... i found that ... so stupid.

But now ... i see beyond reality ... and i finally accept that ... music is kind of a ... therapy.

... a very nice one.

So often we see beautiful people becoming ... something that we would compare with ... ruins.

But all was just a decision that continued on and on and on ... until it became too late.

From time to time i see people that i did not saw by many,
many years.

I recently started to go to a supermarket, close to the house where i grew up ... and i was amazed seeing lots of people which i knew from my childhood.

Some gorgeous girls from 20 - 30 years ago ... are now 40-45-50 years old ... and i realize that there is no connection anymore between what they used to be ... and the present moment.

And with all the respect ... to the feminine spirit ... i still can't can't explain to myself ... what the hell happened to those people.

But i also see some men ... that were close friends of mine from middle school and can't realize what the hell happened to them also.

... white hair ... many of them are very fat ... and look 15-20 years much older as they are.

They really look like ... ruins.

DOING STUPID THINGS ... AN AMAZING JOURNEY

... philosophical essays

And it's even worst.
They look so, so ... unhappy.
I keep having into my mind the question ... what the hell happened to them?!
How they could be metamorphosed from amazing people into being ... what they are today?!
It all looks ... unexplainable.
But more and more ... i am meditating ... i realize that it was all ... a decision.
A stupid thing ... that took them away from being on the path of ... greatness.
All looked amazing in front of them many years ago ... but ... something changed in time.
It all became ... worst and worst ...
Well ... until this point when I personally have a shock looking at what i should define now as ... ruins.
Maybe i am wrong ... maybe i am not ...
But ... still ... what i see ... looks stupid.
In the end ... i only ask myself one more question ... who am i to judge those people?!
... cause in fact ... i was judging their journey of life.
So ...

There are many moments in life when someone needs to remind us ... we are ... stupids.
And still we avoid the truth.

My friend Henry ... happens to have a cousin that sees beyond reality ... and also into the future.

I sometimes go out with 2 of them at the coffee shop ... and i am amazed of Emily's clarity to see things.

And sometimes ... it's somehow really embarrassing... finding out so many details that i had no idea about.

One month ago ... staying at the table with the 2 of them but also with my friend Paul ... Henry started again telling us about Victoria.

.... how amazing she is, how in love he is of her, how a great connection they have and others blablablas.

But suddenly i hear Emily ... totally annoyed "Stop it! Just stop it! Stop telling us on and on and on about this crap ...
story.

The girl is a prostitute.

Noo ... it's worst!

She is a totally stupid thing for your life and worst than she would be a prostitute ... cause she is cheating you by a long, long time with an amazing joy into her heart.

So ... stop telling us this crap with your ... hollywoodian love story."

We were all ... shocked.

I could not believe what Emily was saying ... but i was shocked because most probably she was right ... like always. In 100% of the other cases Emily told her opinion .. she was right.

So ... Paul is asking "Emily ... should we really believe what you are saying?!"

"... unfortunately... yes"

Suddenly ... Paul looks at Henry and says ... "My friend ... by an accident i found out few weeks ago that Victoria is also dating with John.

You know John ... the guy from the other coffee shop where we use to go ...

And when i told to John that it's not fair what he is doing he simple replied that they are just sex mates ... and in fact Victoria is cheating on you with many other guys.

I know it sounds horrible all what i am saying ... but ..."

It was all so ... fucking embarrassing...

But i smile ... trying to calm Henry ... saying ... "My dear friend ... maybe this weird situation is just a karmic fact.

It sounds totally humiliating... all what Paul and your cousin just said ... but ...

As far as i remember ... you also dated with other women. Somehow ... it's all a karmic response ... and we should see that ... but we just don't ... see this perspective...

And we should not be so ... amazed."

Emily ... still annoyed of those stories coming from Henry ... complaining again of her cousin ... says ... "I've always told you are stupid ... and act stupid on the scene of life.

Please reconsider ... a change.

Try to change your values ... and life will change.

It's not a drama that Victoria acted like that.

And second of all .. you deserved it."

I was ... smiling.

It was a little bit ridiculous... but indeed a story about karma and its effects.

And the fact that we act so stupid on the scene of life ... but expect to get amazing response from the Universe.

We always forget of the ... mirror effect

Long time a ago ... a young guy that just finished his studies ... balancing between becoming a priest and a businessman ... started to talk to me about the philosophy of life.

With a little bit of arrogance ... smiling ... i dare to ask him ...
" what the hell they taught you about life at this university for ... priests?! "

Smiling ... having a nice charisma ... he replies:

"Well ... the main idea that they kept repeating us ... was that everything into this life is a ... mirror of our souls."

I liked ... the answer.

And we continued chatting.

We were at his home ... in his nice living room, with his wife ... but also with my friend Brian.

In fact we visited our young friend ... cause Brian wanted to ask him a favor for his mistress ... not telling him that the lady he was talking about was in love with him.

The next future priest had to help Maria for something related with her studies.

John ... listened to us ... and smiled.

He assured us that for a beautiful lady as Maria ... he would do it with a real pleasure ... anytime.

But i dared to asked him ... looking at Brian ... and also at John's wife ... "Do you think your wife will mind if you help Maria with this favor?!

You'll need to go with her at university ... stay with her ... Maybe your lovely wife ... will be a little bit jealous ... and will misunderstand the help we ask from you."

John smiled again ... and assured us his wife will not have anything against this fact ... and looked really happy cause we ask him such a favor.

I was looking at him at his wife ... but also smiled to Brian. It was just me ... the one that knew that Maria was Brian's mistress ... but i could not understand such a silly behavior from John.

He was acting like we've put him in contact with a beautiful lady ... for dating with her.

... and his wife was there ... listening to us.

But i knew Brian was not jealous anymore ... by years ... and this whole episode had a funny meaning for himself.

... and i was also sure that he will not feel offended by the next future priest.

Time was passing ... and unfortunately John did not helped Maria so much ... but what was funny was that Brian called me one day ... being totally surprised... and saying to me ...

"You remember John and his wife?! That funny guy that thought that I will probably deliver Maria to him ... so that he can have a love affair with her?!

Well ... his wife is keep sending me messages and i think she's flirting with me... "

I could not believe it ... seeing the dynamic of the whole story.

DOING STUPID THINGS ... AN AMAZING JOURNEY

... philosophical essays

It all became into the end a reflection of John's behavior. In his silly young mind ... John had the amazing idea that he will start a love affair with Maria ... not really paying attention at all of anything ... me and Brian were saying. Indeed John .. was acting stupid ... even if as future priest he should act more as a person ... having strong moral values. And the reverse ... of everything ... of those stupid intentions ... appeared at the end of the story. I look at Brian and ask ... "So what reply you gave to John's wife?!" "Hmm! I was just pretending i am stupid ... and i don't really understand what she is doing. Same as i did with ... John." Well ... indeed ... what the hell could we do in such a situation?! ... seeing the dynamic of the whole story ... pretending we don't see how stupid people act on the stage of life even if they know the theory that life itself it's a reflection of our inners souls ... but also of our actions ... i smiled. Brian proved indeed one more time to not act stupid ... even if i knew that he did one million similar mistakes in his lifetime.

Unfortunately ... in life ... what we love today ... many times ... tomorrow ... we just hate it

I had the chance to meet during my life time lots ... lots of people.

And some of them ... i meet ... occasionally ...from time to time ... we chat and i am somehow trying to define with them ... the past, the present moment ... but also the future.

Analyzing all my discussions with them ... i can only conclude that i am in front of a nonsense.

What they used to tell me they loved ... 3-6-9 months ago ... now they explain to me ... with lots, lots of details ... that they just dislike.

Some of them are even saying that they just ... hate everything is going on ... the whole discussion being in total contradiction with what they told me ... not so long time ago. I meditate ... trying to understand the meaning of this nonsense ... somehow judging them ... but later on i realize ... i am not different of those people.

It's a little bit stupid saying ... i love my job, my spouse, my car, my etc ... and then say ... i just dislike that .. or even worst ... i hate it.

DOING STUPID THINGS ... AN AMAZING JOURNEY

So ... why this stupid balance of contradictory emotions?!

What sense does it make?!

Unfortunately to really understand ... the meaning of that ... i've finally accepted i need to come back to myself ... and study my own behavior ... then go deeper and deeper and deeper.

Why we actually have enough of tasting a certain type of energy after a while??

Why we want it so much ... then want to run away of it?!

And why ... we keep changing our mind saying today ... i want this ... tomorrow ... i want that ... and the show continues like that on and on and on ...

Until ... we finally accept it all became an emotional balance of contradictory emotions ... actions ... and results.

Maybe ... i should start to ask myself ... just after saying ... i want that and that and that ... if in fact It's not an illusion ... all what i am saying.

And be a little bit ... wiser.

Ask myself ... 2,3,4 ... 10 times ... do i really want that ... or it's only an illusion that i want it?!

But ... truth be told ... we are not ... wise beings.

We act like we are here to experience ... pathless paths ... and nothing more ...

Reality ... a collection of energies ... attracted by us

I really believe in the little tricks that i kept writing about ... how we can actually understand our lives ... and have a better life.

Analyzing ... defining with real honesty all what is going on ... as in the end to find a solution for redefining all ... it's probably a way in how life itself can become what we really want to be.

And it's so damn easy to apply this concept ... looking at the other people from the scene of our lives.

I see myself ... analyzing so, so clearly.

I am actually amazed of my clarity ... of understanding other destinies but when it comes to myself ... i'm so, so blind.

Actually ... i always avoid defining the real truth about my intentions ... my desires ... and everything it's related with my unconscious side of my being.

I always forget ... or pretend i always forget that all i see around myself ... it's a reflection of my inner world.

... of my actions, of my thoughts, of my desires, of my intentions... and pretending ... the cause-effect result will not appear ... it is totally ridiculous.

It's like pretending we ignore ... gravity.

DOING STUPID THINGS ... AN AMAZING JOURNEY

... philosophical essays

It's all a reflection ... and what we see in this mirror ... called life ... can't be changed ... unless we actually ... change our inner values ... and all the things we want to see in reality ... must be created in a beautiful way ... in mind and soul first.

So ... probably ... all what i am trying to say is that ... most probably ... reality itself is created by us ... into a conscious and an unconscious way all being ... a collection of energies ... attracted only and only by us.

And it's all about realizing the balance between our conscious and unconscious ... side.

But also accept it ... as normal ... as part of the journey of being on the stage of life.

Doing mistakes is part of the journey called ... life.
Judging that is ... useless.

I was recently analyzing with someone a silly mistake that also involved me.

And it had indeed an impact on myself too ... but ... this time i've decided to have a totally different perspective on everything.

I was analyzing all what happened ... and defined in front of her ... my perception about it.

She thought ... i was mad.

But no ... i was not mad.

I've been realistic.

Few other people were involved also ... and the whole impact on the dynamic of our relationships ... was very serious.

We had been friends ... but could not know ... if we can continue being friends anymore.

A silly mistake ... changed all.

I was only smiling ... defining the whole situation to this dear friend of mine ... but she was just listening ... with indignation... all.

She realized the mistake ... and the impact... but it was ... too late.

Even our relationship was .. redefined.

But you see ... it took me such a long, long time to say the truth ... as in the end to realize i could have with this lady a ... clean connection.

I was disagreeing her actions ... but ... accepting all as a test of our friendship ... was a positive thing.

The mistake existed ... anyway.

We pretended we did not saw it ... but maybe the only mistake was that ... the delay of not admitting the truth that the mistake existed ... ruined all.

Not being able to look at each other ... and say ... stop it to many of the stupid games we've do all the time ... is simple ... ridiculous.

... today i felt good ... after telling all what i thought ... it really happened.

My intuition was ... right.

... my fears were dominating me ... and i allowed all to continue into a way ... which i knew was wrong.

I could simple ... disappear from that story.

Stop doing anything ... but simple disappear.

Judging was ... useless.

Even at that time ... and even today.

My mind ... was keep thinking and thinking and thinking ... and i finally understood that ... the acceptance of our mistakes is the key ... for great relationships.

And ... conclude all our analysis with ... a smile.

Karmic money ... a way of wasting our time ... for collecting more and more something that we will never enjoy

There're lots of influences from everywhere ... telling us that money represents the key for a beautiful life ... and we are so, so silly that we believe we can actually be even happy ... if we would have this.

The time is passing and we start to have an obsession to have more and more and more not asking ourselves if this is a real path to follow in life ... or just a pathless path.

And I had this focus on money ... on and on and on ... for almost 25 years.

I could even say It was all ... an obsession having the illusory belief that money will heal my fears, will bring me relaxation ... and in fact the best life could offer to a human being.

So ... all what i had in mind was to make more and more money.

I wanted it so, so badly that i forgot about morality ... values ... or anything relating to a normal attitude.

I just wanted money.

I was suffering of a disease of wanting more and more money ... continuing having the illusory belief that later ...

those money will bring me ... happiness.

And i continued ... believing that this path is the best way i could continue my life ... not realizing my naivety.

But money came ... more and more and more ... and guess what?!

The happiness delayed to appear.

For a while ... i thought i am still not ready for that ... or i simple had to continue collecting more money ... not being enough the level where i was.

I was ... so damn silly ... acting like a child that is trying to touch the horizon line.

But unfortunately... it was all worst than that.

It was not that i could not enjoy ... those money ... but ignoring the fact that money are in fact energy ... i did not realized that the all those possessions i had ... came against me.

I wanted badly something ... did not cared how i was getting that something so that in the end to be overwhelmed by a negative impact ... all being related with those energies which i would define today as ... karmic money.

So ... my stupid obsession like any obsession ... came against myself.

All became ... karmic.

And it was not only that all those money did not brought me anything good ... but the impact was huge ... and was unfortunately a negative one.

I've realized ... i've wasted my time for almost 25 years ... as in the end to see that ... in fact ... i was following just ... pathless paths.

... but who the hell knows.

We carry so, so many emotional masks

People change.

All of us are changing.

Today ... we are not the ones we've been yesterday ... and most probably tomorrow we will not be the ones which we've recently been.

But what i see ... as funny ... is our expectations that people will accept those changes ... simple ... as part o the journey ... called life and as evolution.

On the other hand ... realizing it could also be a confusion of perspective ... i think we miss understand a little bit ... the whole process ... and instead of clearly defining as carrying different emotional masks ... we actually pretended that we've changed.

Politely ... people told us just that ... we've changed.

And we continued like that ... on and on and on, even if it was so damn obvious that we're just dominated by certain energies ... that make us act like ... the weather.

Of course ... also not so ... predictable.

emotional masks ... as in the end to actually say the real truth that allowed the emotions to be responsible for everything ... including ... ruining our lives.

And ... we smile, we cry, we love ... we hate ... we

Well ... simple let those masks dominate our own lives ... not really understanding ... the long term impact.

Truth be told ... we can't stop ourselves adoring more than one person.

She was 24 ... and her husband 26.

And ... that amazing friend of her husband was 48, same as her mother ... but she never knew his age ... cause he was looking so, so young.

But ... time was passing and Eric understood from her look ... that Clara liked him.

In fact ... it was so damn clear ... that he could just go ... hug and kiss her.

She loved her husband ... but many times he was away ... in his business trips ... and that made their relationship too complicated.

And after a while it became so, so difficult to control ... her feelings.

It all was ... obvious.... but could not understand what is really going on ... cause she really loved her husband.

I could even say ... she adored her partner ... being together by more than 8 years since high school.

And still ... this man ... made her lost her mind and the control over everything.

Why?!

She kept wondering herself ... "Why i adore in the same time ... almost with the same intensity ... those 2 men?!"

I should stop myself ... adoring ... Eric ... but i simple ... can't."

I was smiling ... looking at this story ... realizing that many times ... energies beyond the scene of life ... are controlling ... everything.

And we define all as a ... nonsense.

Maybe Eric and Clara were lovers into a previous life ... and seeing their connection as illusory ... was actually so silly of us.

And ... the nonsense continued ...

The illusion of personal marketing can induce nice connections with the people around us ... but on long term ... it's useless.

It's what we could define as a great imagine that makes the people around to see that person into a good way.

And for a while ... everyone admires and wants to connect to those people.

It's indeed a nice way of attracting the people from the stage of life.

And we try to look that way ... or that way but am i really ... what i try to look like?!

I start to ask myself ... not understanding this nonsense of personal marketing ... what if i should say I am a great painter ... or a piano player ... or a great scientist?!

Of course I could also say ... i am a great philosopher ... and a very successful writer ... but why should i bother to lie?!

I still believe i did not found the absolute truth about the meaning of life and still did not had the success i dream about ... so why should i present myself into a great way?!

So ... why people practice so much the art of personal marketing?!

Why is so damn important in our society from today ... to look great?!

Why we are so silly and try to wear masks all the time?!

Why we are afraid to be ... just who we are?!

Well ... maybe a great imagine ... induce an immediate connection ... but once the connection is established.... the masks are dissolved anyway.

... and we see the soul ... just as it is.

The illusory greatness ... that we try to induce to everyone ... becomes so fade.

... and the truth is revealed.

So?!

Connecting to everyone around ... such a dangerous stupid game

All my life i loved ... people.

I never liked animals ... and i am blamed by many for that ... but i love everything related to the human being.

I had always an inner desire of talking ... but also connecting to the people around myself.

No matter who that person was ... i loved to explore the energies ... of any kind.

I was speaking to important people, but also to simple persons ... and i enjoyed doing it all the time.

I could even say that i was actually doing that ... like a hobby ... which i was practicing all the time.

And ... i was doing that ... for years.

Analyzing myself ... seeing this joy of socializing with men and women of all ages ... I understood i get a certain type of energy from that.

I was trying to understand the whole spectrum of personalities ... that a human being can have ... but i had not realized that meanwhile i was doing that ... i've also connected to all those energies.

I was exploring their inner worlds ... and i loved this ... weird hobby.

But all ... was like a game ... a very stupid game ... which brought me indeed good vibes .. but also many negative energies into my life.

I did not understood that i can indeed explore the world ... and also all those inner worlds of all those people around myself ... but i should do it more as a ... spectator.

Explore ... but be aware of connecting so easily to anyone ... to all sorts of energies which i was not really understanding. Yes ... i was playing with fire.

... and let my inner world be influenced... but also many times ... be dominated ... by lots of vibes

The price paid ... for exploring the world ... was huge ... and even if i was enjoying this silly game ... i was spending my life in an universe which looked like a cocktail of energies that i had no idea ... what they were.

... but ... still ... i keep doing that ...

When the day is finished ... before going to bed ... i try to totally disconnect .. from everything.

No matter if the day was good or bad ... i know i need to simple ... reset myself.

Then i go to sleep.

After 8-9 hours ... i wake up ... and for few minutes i really don't realize what is going on.

.... which is great.

It's like i had a total restart ... and i can probably decide ... a totally new path for my destiny.

Well ... until ... suddenly i start to remember details about the recent past.

Then my vibe ... starts to be ... bad again.

I realize it was an illusion that all was fine ... and i could decide to follow new paths for my life.

The simple fact that for a short moment I was not having clarity about what was going on ... allowed me to have new beautiful projections.

Maybe ... by my disability of feeling for real .. and on long term ... that change can happen?!

I meditate ... everyday ... asking myself about the meaning of day ... and night.

... and even if i know all could be a great opportunity of resetting everything ... i just let myself dominated by my recent past.

I don't allow myself to disconnect from ... all.

To dream ... for real ... of a new scenario for my own life.

Staying in karmic stories maybe not such a wise idea

My last few years could be defined as ... karmic years.
If i would try to define to you this concept of karma ... karmic ... i would only say that it's more a lesson of life.
I would even dare to define it ... not as something negative ... but even contradictory.
In my actual perception ... even if it's so difficult to deal with karma and even if i don't really like it so much ... i've started to accept those things ... as part of my spiritual evolution.
I once read a nice quote "Karma is not a bitch but a teacher" ... and after this ... i finally understand that i need to pay a certain type of respect for those situations.
Acceptance was ... the key.
The respect ... for such person ... or a spiritual entity that wrote such scenario for my life ... would also be important.
It happens many times to hear the expression ... "If God would really exists He would never allow as this to happen." ... and maybe even if i did not said it ... i thought that too.
Blaming God, Allah ... the Universe ... is silly.
I could even say ... stupid.

We should simple smile in front of difficult times ... and only ask ourselves the meaning of all those lessons of life.

Look at the message ... beyond the message.

Realizing that karma is in fact a teacher that is whispering us philosophical and spiritual truths ... is one of the smartest steps we could do ... for becoming a better self.

Today ... i continue smiling in front of such stories ... that are repeated for me on and on and on

I smile ... then laugh.

And i do it first of all ... realizing how silly i am.

I've started to accept the karmic stories.

I see all those situations ... as scenarios that could redefine my conscious.

I understand it all has the purpose to take me out of the ... illusion of the self.

I realize ... that if i won't see the meaning of those lessons ... i'll pay a huge price ... again and again and again.

But in the same time ... i know that if i will stay in the illusion ... dominated by the karmic energies that are beyond reality ... it will be difficult to realize ... that the illusion is not real.

Keeping the right balance ... between accepting circumstances ... and all sorts of stories where we enter ... and staying alone into a meditative state ... it's almost a must.

Be on the scene of life ... but always analyze and define those scenarios ... that we live.

I ... deep inside myself ... always want to get rid of karmic stories.

But also do my best ... to stay away of those energies.

I know i need to analyze and define the meaning of everything ... so that in the end my life to be redefined ... but i need also to stop believing that ... the illusion of ... this karmic story is actually real.

And indeed ... my wisdom is not great ... but ... things started to be improved.

But ... more i analyze my life ... i realize i practice kind of a therapy, which i defined ... as self therapy.
I even wrote a book with this title ... but i suppose that the collection of essays named "Doing stupid things ... an amazing journey" is actually a much better explanation for my life.
And i've tried as usual to define my journey in here ... as an ordinary person ... defining all ... with no glamour ... but real honesty.
I realize that all those stupid things that i've done ... and all those pathless paths which i followed made me understand a little better what life is.
Today ... i've come to a point when i don't regret anything at all.
I've accepted all as part of this journey.
I smile ... remembering about all those silly things from my past ... and i keep analyzing, but also defining my stupidity from the present moment.

DOING STUPID THINGS ... AN AMAZING JOURNEY

... philosophical essays

I am not sad ... that things are the way they are ... and even if i have moments when i try to redefine my reality ... i know that it's all a karmic scenario ... with all sorts of illusions ... that in the end will reveal me the secrets of this world. I believe that "Doing stupid things ... an amazing journey" ... it's a good name for defining the message i want to send to the world.

Enjoy doing stupid things!
It's all part of this amazing journey called ... life

I don't believe in domination. I believe in synchronizing energies

I wrote many books about love stories ... and what i regret most is that i did not used ... almost at all the word sex. But i've spent a huge time analyzing and defining the connection between a man and a woman.

Unfortunately... it was all from my perspective ... as a man. And even if i tried to connect to so many other ladies ... that i had nothing to do with ... i still did not understand the real ... subject.

I see today all my writings ... actually as a great help for the ladies that want to find out how a man thinks ... but it's 100 % not the truth about relationships.

In fact ... not even close to that.

But i still feel myself dominated by my own ideas.

I still care of them ... and maybe the real truth is that everything i do all the decisions i am taken are related with my perceptions.

And i am laughing seeing that in ... everything means my life ... i try to make all my best as reality to look like my perceptions.

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

Even if it does not look like that the ugly story of dominating starts again ... and again.

Somehow history is repeating on and on and on.

I am saying all the time that i don't believe in domination ... but all i do reveals that i want as my world to be ... part of ... my prison.

To look like my perceptions.

And no change appears ...

I know few theoretical things about the change that i should do in life ... but ... it's useless.

I say all the time, that i don't believe in domination ... and i should just synchronize with the world ... and i know that this is the path ... but ...

Maybe i am still the prisoner of my perceptions ...

Feeling in an unconscious way the sensation of dominant energies ... we simple want to run away ... not even realizing ... why

Yesterday i've met George again.

Last time when i saw him It was when we finished high school ... so about 100 years ago.

He came ... smiled ... shake my hand ... and he was so, so friendly.

But suddenly he said ... "My God! You have absolutely... no idea who i really am.

You don't recognize me ...

Can't believed it!"

I smiled pretending it was not true.

I somehow felt that i know him ... that we've been great friends into the past ... and i really liked his energy ... which i felt i knew by a long time ... but i could not guess who he was.

Having beard ... and white hair ... but also 30 kg more that he used to have ... he looked today much, much older than me.

I was keep asking into my mind ... who the hell this guy is ... and how's that i feel so connected to him?!

But i was not guessing anything ... at all.

It was all related with something from so long time ago ... and probably life changed him too much.

Seeing me with my retro car he suddenly stopes and asks ... "What do you do for living?! This is a real nice car ... "

"Well ... my friend ... almost nothing.

In fact it's a too long story to synthesize it shortly but today probably i could define myself as a ... writer.

I write books about love and other nonsenses."

George started to laugh ... very load.

"Hahahaha! You are joking.

100% you are joking.

I see your after 25 years ... driving an amazing retro car and you tell me that you are a writer.

Or maybe you had a time ... you sold guns and drugs and now you just retired having enough money into your bank account.

But ... Gabriel ... let's suppose you are right ... i'd like to give you a test ... if you don't mind."

"No ... not at all ... please ask me ... "

"Well ... you said you write about love and that probably could define you as an expert into the subject.

I must be honest with you ... like i've always been when we've been in high school ... and had those long discussions about girls.

Today i am married by more than 15 years ... but i also have an amazing mistress.

Which actually sounds like a great scenario for any man around 45 ...

The only real problem is that recently ... i felt something weird.

I the middle of the night ... i've run away from home ... without as my wife to find out ... and went to this beautiful girl which i told you about.

We made love ... and it was amazing.

But the moment ... we finished ... i wanted to go home ... and this is what i did.

I went home ... but ... when i've arrived ... i've asked myself why the hell i've got back?!

What i want to know is ... what's wrong with me?!

Why i go to the mistress and then i want to go back home ... but when i am home ... i'm not understanding why i've decided to do that ... cause i simple don't like there.

So as an expert into this subject can you find an explanation to me?!"

I smiled ...

"George ... first of all i am not an expert.

I just published close to 40 books ... but i don't consider myself as an expert.

I'm probably the same idiot which you know from high school.

Most probably I haven't changed so much ... deep inside myself.

But ... on the other hand ... i think it's so, so damn clear ... that neither your wife ... or that beautiful mistress ... is not giving yourself the right energy you are chasing for.

And it's even worst than that.

You actually ... don't like the dominance of the energies of those ladies.

Probably they both want you ... but ... your place it's not there.

You chase for something else ... but you don't have the guts to clearly define it."

I suddenly see a change on George's face.

His smile disappeared....

"Yes ... Gabriel! You are right! You remained the same idiot from high school ... with all those science fiction scenarios from your crazy brain.

But who the hell knows ... maybe you are right and i just hate hearing these theories with energies ... which you are telling me about."

Close to finishing our discussion I finally remembered ... who George was.

He was totally changed ... having a totally different look like in high school.

But deep inside him he succeeded to keep that energy ... since we were teenagers.

He was still a nice guy but lost on the paths of life.

And the energies of those 2 ladies ... that really knew what they wanted in life ... were for himself so, so dominant.

George wanted to have a free life ... to do ... whatever he wanted ... when he wanted ... with who he wanted.

Without rules.

Without dominance.

... just as we've been in high school free spirits.

Hearing “Stop it!” ... on and on and on ... we realize the limits ... which could even be defined as karmic limits.

Berta is a young lady from Amsterdam, that came to work with me for a real estate project.

We already know each other by more than 6 months and really had great progress with what we are doing.

I like her ... and she likes all what we are doing together.

But what it's a little bit funny is that almost every time we meet ... and does not like something ... she says ...“Stop it!”

She said that so many times ... that i've started to be aware of what i am saying to her.

She actually told me so many times ... “Stop saying that ... or that ... or that” ... that in fact i've stoped being myself around her.

I've actually understood that our relationship has some limits ... and to remain friends i need to respect all that.

It was funny or maybe i should say ridiculous....

But suddenly ... a weird idea came into my mind.

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

I knew by a long time that many of our relationships are karmic ... and maybe that ... "Stop it!" ... was the signal that we've reached the karmic limit ... and most probably if i don't stop doing or saying what she disliked ... we'll be metamorphosed from friends into ... enemies.

Or maybe just ... stop being friends.

I totally disliked to control my way of being ... while i was around her ... feeling dominated by her desire of keeping our relationship in certain parameters ... but i also understand the concept of karmic limits.

I had to pretend i respect those rules ... and accept to be dominated ... just of the sake of remaining friends.

It was all ... so, so obvious ...

But realizing i need to stop being annoyed of that I've asked myself ... what if this is rule number one for all our friendships ... respecting and letting ourselves be dominated by certain ... rules.

Yes ... because beyond those limits imposed to me ... those so called karmic limits ... everything would probably change She probably wanted that ... with everyone around her ... cause i've heard her saying that to other people also ... and to explore just the beautiful side of the relationship ... being too afraid ... of karmic experiences.

But the question is ... can we actually get rid of karmic influences which always end up dominating the scene of our lives?

Can we control this process?

Can we remain in certain parameters ... of a relationship ... just by saying ... stop that ... stop that ... stop that?

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

For me personally it's really annoying to let myself be dominated by such persons and i prefer to push the ... play button ... of the karmic story.

Allow yourself to disconnect from time to time of the the scene of your life and connect with the whole Universe.
Might be an amazing ... trick.

I woke up ... put my hand on the phone ... opened whatsapp
.... read but also reply all messages came over night.
Then look on telegram, viber, instagram ... facebook Interconnected with everyone i am usually in contact and suddenly i started to feel that i've made a big mistake.
I felt all those energies which i usually feel everyday ... and i usually dislike.
I felt again that i'm dominated by all those forces that were controlling the direction of all the paths i was following.
I hated it ...
Yes ... I finally understood i've made a huge mistake ... but it was even worst than that.
I was doing this mistake by years.
... by so, so many years in a row.

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

This was probably the mistake many of us ... too many indeed ... do everyday.

Wake up ... and connect into the next second to the scene of life.

Not liking so much to sleep I've always wondered what the hell is this nonsense with ... sleeping.

Today i somehow feel it's about a daily cycle that we must experience all the time ... but also an amazing chance of disconnecting from the scene of life ... which many, many times ... dominates us ... into an ugly way.

Sleeping ... becomes a way of releasing ourselves from the prison of all those energies of different types ... that dominates us.

... and also of the stupid desire of dominating all around ourselves.

Dominating and being dominated ... became probably ... a way of living.

We ignore the night ... and the sleep itself.

We ignore ... its meaning.

We ignore the chance of disconnecting of a story that usually is not what we need ... and accept the dominance ... as part of the game of life.

We could simple wake up and say ... It's a new day and a new chance of enjoying life ... but we don't do it.

Instead of remaining connected to the whole Universe ... from the time of sleep ... we come back into reality ... and connect again to it ...

Connect to ... the scene of difference dominances.

Well ... we probably don't know so much about the tricks of life and even if we would know ... we would not act properly

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

anyway.

We accept too easy ... the dogmatic way of living ... instead of trying to reset all from time to time and why not even everyday.

Sometimes saying them “Fuck you!” ... and leave is the only option. Everything else is ... useless.

Many times in life we are so, so influenced of the energies around us.

And so often ... the influence becomes stronger and stronger until we realize that it was actually metamorphosed into ... dominance.

We feel surrounded by energies ... we dislike so, so much ... and it all starts to look like ... a prison ... of ugly emotions. Everywhere we should go ... the same vibes are appearing in front of us.

It all becomes ... a nightmare.

I lived all those experiences i am talking about ... but also saw them at the people from my life.

But the main question became ... how the hell we get rid of such an ugly dominance of ugly vibes?!

How can we protect ourselves?!

How can we find a way of changing this life scenario?!

Well ...

I’ve meditated a lot.

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

I've tried to understand the meaning of all that ... but ... at least for my own case ... the only option was just to say ... "Fuck you!" ... to whatever i disliked ... and disappear.

Everything else ... was useless.

Cutting the connection between us ... and all those ugly energies that are trying to dominate our souls ... is the only real option.

At least for my case ... but i am sure that this pattern could be applied to anyone.

Refusing to be dominated ... especially by the negativity we find on the scene of our lives it's a must.

And ... we should know it.

There are so many moments in life when we are dominated by our karmic experiences ... but we are too blinds to see the whispered messages ... from the Universe

I try to understand the world ... analyzing and defining all from the scene of my own life.

I've also read a lot of books ... but in the end i've just stopped doing that.

I've realized the real answers i was looking for ... i will not find into that direction.

Most probably ... reality ... my own reality ... was the key

But this reality was always ... difficult.

Later on i've understood that it was not difficult ... but ... karmic.

And i had so, so many karmic experiences...

It was like i was into a school where i had lots of tests day by day.

It was all so ... so annoying.

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

I even started to hate the word karmic ... not understanding why the hell i have to live such experiences.

But you see ... not even for a second i could not make the connection between my desire of understanding the world i was living in ... and my karmic experiences.

It was all a way of teaching me ... the secrets about the illusion of the self ... and i could not see that.

Time was passing and i've started to become dominated by the fear of having those experiences ... but ... still ... i could not see deeper.

This karmic domination was so, so powerful ... that i was actually too blind to see its messages.

I've started to be more annoyed than ever.

I felt ruined emotionally ... and just hated my own life ...

Until one day ... when i finally understood i am actually in a prison of perceptions and all those events were taking place just for my spiritual evolution.

The meaning ... was not to ruin my life ... making me feel dominated by lots of negative emotions but ... to reveal me the secrets of the illusion of the self.

And i just smiled ... realizing that all i have to do is just to change my perceptions.

Nothing more ... nothing less ...

Trying to influence is just the prelude before ... dominance.

Influencing and being influenced is probably ... normal.
But ... the moment when the influence becomes dominance ... everything is fucked up.
... and i've saw it so many times ... even with closed people from the scene of my life.

I've met her again.
We had to go and solve some problems together.
I've came to her house and take her to the to the gallery of art, where the other artists were waiting for us.
It was raining and the traffic was really bad ... so we had to spend lots of time together in the car.
We've started to speak ... but the moment i've began to talk about my theories with the energies beyond the scene of the real life ... it was like she lost her minds.
I could not believe that she was having such a reaction ... but suddenly I've remembered she was a very religious person.
She never told me anything about religion ... because she knew that she would waste her time ... but ... she started to act like a crazy person ... the first moment when she realized that i am talking about something totally contradictory than her religious believes.

I've been amazed of this behavior ... but ... i've decided to simple shut up.

She most certainly was afraid of being influenced ... by the concepts i was talking about.

But she was so, so afraid of that ... like i was trying to dominate her ... which was not true.

I was simple making conversation.

It was ridiculous to stay in the car and don't talk at all ... but i've accepted all just as it was.

And i've asked myself ... why this fear of talking about something contradictory than her believes?!

Why people are so afraid of influences?!

Maybe we associate the concept of being influenced with the one of domination and we know the negative effects of that.

For me it was indeed a curious fact that a religious person could have such a reaction ... but maybe she knew how she was usually acting when trying to convince people to come to her church.

So ... even the tendency of trying to influence ... was a negative intention.

And she knew it ... cause i saw her dominated by her believes ... that she could not discuss ... not even for a second of something different.

I smiled ... and shut up.

I continued driving ...

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

I realized that if i want to speak about my weird theories ... i could simple do it with strangers from the internet.
It was a much better scenario

Dancing ... we learn to synchronize ... and suddenly realize that domination is ... useless for a beautiful relationship

I was watching the movie she sent me.
They were dancing ... and seeing and movie again and again
... i saw them synchronizing so well.
They looked like the ... perfect couple.
But they were a couple ... only on the stage ... at the dancing competitions.
And still ... the energy of the show was ... amazing.
I've somehow realized that it's all a show that is sending a very simple message ..." forget about dominance ... and just synchronize."
I still have the regret that i don't know to dance ... but i've study a lot the concept of synchronizing ... while dancing.
... in a theoretical way.
I see it as the key for ... beautiful relationships.
Yesterday and even today ... i've spent a lots of time watching again movies ... with people dancing.

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

Professional dancers ... but also couples and even people that it's so obvious that they are in love.

And i smile.

I look at the standard patters of relationships ... between man and woman and especially the ones married ... and i see again and again the idea of dominance.

And i ask myself ... why we waste our lives like that?!

What if we should ... all the ones involved in relationships ... study more the art of dancing and try to analyze more the purpose of synchronizing?!

The question ... remains ... and it keeps being repeated into my mind.

It's somehow all related with our fears ... of losing what we have in the present moment.

And instead of focusing on the beauty of the moment ... enjoy it like something that might look as a reflection of eternity ... we let ourselves be dominated by ... the fear of losing what we have now.

We suddenly stop hearing the beauty of the music of life ... and

Well ... all is fucked up ...

Hahahaha

Practicing sexual games ... pretending we are ... or we want ... sexual slaves ... a way of revealing the unconscious desire of dominance

I keep continue analyzing ... all around myself.
But this time i want to go ... deeper.
... to understand things beyond the scene of the real life.
And as every time when i need to know how a woman is thinking ... i invite my friend Sheila to a coffee shop.
She's all the time laughing of me ... saying on and on... that i ll never understand the woman but i smile ... and let her continue her speech.
Few days ago ... we talked about sexual games and i've dared to ask her ... why she's pretending she's a sexual slave for her husband.
Sheila ... started to laugh ... defining me ... idiot ... like always ... but again being so, so curious to find out what a woman is thinking ... i stoped myself to give her a reply
I just shut up ... letting her to speak.

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

"You see ... my dear Gabriel ... life itself ... it's an illusion.

It's just as you defined it ... in your books.

But us ... the feminine souls from this world ... realizing this stupid desire of men ... for dominating us ... we've invented these sexual games.

And it's not that we let you for a while to dominate us ... but ... we even pretend that we are ... your slaves.

We let the unconscious desire from you to be revealed.

And you ... all the men from this planet ... like it.

You adore ... those games.

Then ... we ... the smart ladies ... pretend so ... so well.

But the moment ... the sex session is finishing ... and we come back to the real life ... we just remind all of you ... to change the roles.

Then you become ... our slaves."

I started to laugh.

"So ... you wanna tell me that you simple play with our minds ... like you do with your husband telling him ... fuck me my boss!!! ... and then ... coming back to reality ... into the real life ... we just all become ... your slaves?!"

"Well ... yes.

It's a game ... and it's fair ... to also change the roles.

When we have sex ... we act as slaves ... and then we simple ask you to switch the roles.

It's all ... ok.

Normal.

You don't like the idea?!

Or should i ask ... you don't like how things really are?!"

I was listening to Sheila and i could not believe all what she was saying.

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

But then after calming down ... i started to ask myself ... what if she was right?!

Sheila was not ... stupid.

I knew that she was many times dominating her husband ... and i also knew that she adored the sexual games.

But everything had indeed ... a price.

And whatever we do into this world ... sooner or later we'll see the reflection of that.

All we need to do ... is remember about this theory ... and maybe continue playing the games of life.

We can continue living in the chaos of the outside world forever ... and simple decide one day to stay more in the silence from the inside world.
Or at least keep the right balance between those 2 Universes.

I have an addiction for staying on the stage of the real life ...
believing i really need to be there.

I do this by such a long, long time.

But one day ... i've asked myself ... why the hell i do this when in fact i always end up being ruined emotionally?!

What i am hiding of?!

What do i try to avoid ... having this stupid addiction?!

But also ... why i can't stop myself ... and i want to be just on the stage of life?!

Why i avoid staying with myself?!

Then i somehow realized that i need to study again the definition of the term addiction.

And try to understand what is the meaning of that addiction for me.

Why do i believe that this addiction helps me?!

Why?!

Why?!

Why?!

Maybe i could ask ... why i am such an idiot to believe in the help of the addictions?!

... of any addiction?!

But on the other hand ... i just loved to be on this scene of reality ... and also act as a great actor.

I was continuing ... doing that on and on and on ... but I started into the same time to have an emotional balance... followed by contradictory thoughts.

I statically saw that basically i was living into 2 parallel universes.

In night and early in the morning ... i was living in silence ... but during the day ... i was always living in the chaos of the real life.

I continued balancing like that between living in chaos ... and relax in silence ... for years.

With a stupidity very difficult to be understood ... and also accepted ... i was still taking everyday the decision of living like that.

I allowed myself be dominated by the chaos from the outside world.

Everyday ... i was doing the same.

I could not stop this stupid addiction for chaos but you know why?!

Hmm ... well ... i was afraid of the silence from my soul.

I was afraid staying only there.

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

I could allow this amazing energy that came to me from the connection with my inner world to always dominate my life but ...

Into a silly way ... i continued living in 2 parallel worlds allowing to be dominated by ugly energies also.

And life continued like that ... on and on and on.

I could not stop ... my addiction.

And i did not even knew to keep ... the right balance between chaos and ... absolute silence.

Dreaming at too many fantasies ... we end up living an illusory life. ... and nothing good really happens

Today i see so, so many people being dominated of lots of weird ... desires.

They define all that as ... fantasies.

Yes the term fantasy sounds ... much, much better ... until one day when we realize that we invest lots of time and energy into that direction.

We actually live into an illusory reality from our minds ... wanting it so much ... that we totally forget about our daily lives.

I could almost say that we become prisoners of those parallel universes ... being totally dominated by those obsessive desires ... redefined as ... fantasies.

I analyze my own case ... and i realize i am somehow a virtual machine for inducing fantasies ... and this is probably one of the reasons why i've wrote so many books with love essays.

My mind is indeed dominated by lots of thoughts that have nothing to do with reality ... but unfortunately i believe they are really important for us ... to become real.

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

I am in fact totally disconnected from reality, not carrying at all ... of the present moment.

And i keep living like that.

On and on and on.

Dreaming of ... illusions ... instead of being connected to my real life.

And ... i end up all the time ... feeling unhappy realizing this huge gap between reality and the illusory reality from my mind.

It's a new day ... and we can take the decision to disconnect from anything we disliked yesterday and connect to totally different vibes.

A new day it's always a new chance to start a totally different life.

Let's assume it's been a while when you had in your life a person that somehow ... you liked a lot.
And everything was ... just great.
Unfortunately the dynamic of the relationship was not what you really expected ... so ... all ended up as something that is daily sending you ... real ugly vibes.
Being idiots not really understanding what it means the dance of energies beyond the scene of our lives ... even if everything was metamorphosed from something positive to something that is ruining us emotionally ... we don't even think for a second to disconnect from that person.

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

Life continues ... and everyday we live an ugly scenario that is just destroying ... our lives.

We endure ... everything.

Many times ... we don't even say a word about it ... not realizing we could just stop this domination of ugly vibes.

One day ... waking up we could simple take the decision to smile again ... and break the connection ... with that person that dominating us in such a terrible way ... is just destroying us ... little by little ... day by day.

We could become smarter ... and wiser ...

And be more determined.

Analyzing ... defining ... and realizing everything could be redefined ... just by taking the decision to stop being dominated ... is probably the best scenario we could have in mind.

But ... we still wait

Yesterday was an unhappy day.

One week ago ... the same.

One month ago ... also.

And this ugly scenario is being repeated on and on and on only and only because we don't realize that the same way we allowed to connect to certain people ... in the same way we could just take the decision to stop ... everything ... if it all became a story which we dislike.

The past experiences influence us ... a lot.
The fantasies from our minds ...
influence also.
In the end ... not being able to connect to the present moment ... we end up being dominated by all
those influences.
And all is ... fucked up.

My friend Carl had in the last 2 years ... after his divorce ... 57 dates with different ladies.

Will ... which divorced 6 years ago ... 34.

Brian my dear friend ... which is still married ... told us today that he had approximately 70 dates with different ladies in the last ... year.

And i could continue speaking about all my other divorced friends ... Jim, John, Michael, Willian ... and all the others ... It all became a story about ... numbers.

It's not anymore ... a story about ... love stories.

If i would let Brian to define me .. why the hell he did not stoped sooner ... choose one of the ladies, divorce and start a new life ... he would probably start telling me that he disliked this at the lady number 1, this at number 2 etc etc.

I would be amazed of the list of ... excuses.

But on the other hand ... i also know lots of divorced ladies ... and the story is the same.

Alice ... my close friend from middle school ... influenced me a lot into my writings ... even i did not mentioned her name.

She dated tens of men ... in the last few years ... and i smile hearing the same stories ... Carl, Jim, John and all the others told me about.

I can only conclude that we live in the internet era and it's been never so, so easy to find new and new people to ... date with.

So ... the real question is ... is it good or bad?!

And why we can't stop practicing this game?!

Why we date ... and even have sex ... with so, so many partners?!

Could we ... one day ... simple stop?!

Well ... what it's also curious is that all those people ... i just wrote about ... also tell me all the time that are looking for the perfect partner.

And i find that funny ... not just curious.

I look at Carl ... but also at Alice ... see them so much influenced of the past ... having the behavior of people that are flirting with everyone around ... but in the same time telling me about that ... perfect love story.

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

In fact .. they define me so clear those fantasies ... that i even dare to ask ... what do you smoke all day long?!
But i just smile looking at all those influences and then ... laugh.

Alice is so serious defining me with so, so many details everything.

... and Carl the same.

Their behavior ... influenced so much of dating with so, so many people ... and all those illusory fantasies with the perfect partner ... becomes in the end ... a weird cocktail of contradictory emotions ... which tasted ... just destroys everything into the present moment.

Maybe I understand Carl ... that keeps flirting with so many ladies ... cause i am a man ... and men really want to taste the energy of many woman.

But i can't understand Alice's behavior ... doing the same thing ... on and on and on.

I can only conclude that we are dominated ... by our own influences.

And maybe ... we have no chance ... of a real change.

So ... i let my dear friends keep telling me ... their stories from past, present moment, but also the projections for the future ... and i just smile.

And try to not ... judge them.

Influencing and being influenced ... unfortunately a non ending process ... which is many times ruining our lives.

I was seeing them everyday.

I was in fact admiring them ... all the time.

Looking at their connection ... which was indeed the connection of love ... i realized that love is ... an amazing thing.

I ignored it for years ... even if i knew it.

But i was analyzing this couple ... on and on and on.

It was a great example for my book ... about love.

Somehow ... i was obsessed of this inter connection ... between their souls.

I wanted to understand the process itself ... and how deep it was.

Unfortunately... one day ... i've realized that i've seen ... the whole story.

I saw them extremely happy together ... but also saw them
.... in the end ... so, so ... unhappy.

Or i could probably say that they were balancing between happiness and ... unhappiness.

An amazing relationship became ... illogical in the end.
Weeks later I found out that a guy that used to like her a lot was telling her all the time real bad things about the relationship with what she defined as the love of her life.
And the guy ... over reacted so, so good ... that ... in the end ... Sheila really started to believe him.
That so called friend ... that had a real passion for her ... was in fact ... a reflection of her fears.
Maybe she also wanted him.
Maybe ... she wanted both stories ... somehow into the same time ... but letting herself influenced so, so much ... forgot about the connection with her lover.
Happiness ... became ... unhappiness.
It was somehow ... metamorphosed ... into such an ugly way.
I could swear that connections still existed.
Love ... was also present into their souls.
But letting herself be dominated by the outside world ... everything was ruined.
And damn it ... was such an amazing love story.
So ... what can we do to protect ourselves?!
How can we keep remaining in beautiful scenarios?!
Well ... maybe just understanding the meaning and the importance of the connection.
Anything else ... could be totally ignored.
We all have fears and sometimes they become real ... indeed.
But we also have dreams ... and they become real also ... and ... as idiots ... we just fail ... even in best case scenarios.

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

Influencing and being influenced... is a real fact
And letting other people ... which don't have real good intentions ... to ruin our lives ... is also a real fact.
... most probably a total nonsense.
All becomes a story about ... dominance.
... a beautiful story ... metamorphosed into an ugly one.

Being unemotional ... a weird handicap that is making us ... spoiling even perfect case scenarios

I see many people around myself ... dominated by emotions.
And it's weird realizing that they destroy themselves ...
allowing those emotions to dominate themselves.

It happened to me too.

Especially ... when i was in love.

But in time ... i somehow realized ... that being dominated ... no matter what that was ... is not a positive thing for myself.
I knew the theory ... that love is everything and others blablablas ... but ...

I understood i need to not allow anything and anyone to dominated my life ... or my soul.

I started to work with myself ... more and more ... until one day ... when analyzing and defining myself ... i've realized that i've became ... unemotional.

I was writing 10 books of love essays, as in the end to see that I've metamorphosed myself into a person that does not have emotions ... or at least ... not anymore.

It was ... all ok.

It was all ... kind of a protection that was allowing me ... not to suffer anymore.

But the same protection that was allowing me to be hurt by the negative impact of my emotions ... was stopping me to feel the happy moments from my life.

And ... analyzing myself again ... deeper and deeper ... i found the guts to define myself ... as a zombie.

I was not feeling anything ... anymore.

I had the protection against being hurt ... but i did not realized that i could also lose the ability of enjoying the happy moments of my life.

And being ... and acting like an outside observer ... i was counting the opportunities that i was missing.

One

And another one ...

But seeing this balance between ... the chances of being hurt by life ... and also the huge loss of enjoying so many chances of being actually happy ... i somehow concluded that my so called protection ... became actually ... a weird handicap.

I can't write love essays anymore ... cause my heart is not enjoying any love feelings ... but i can only write as an observer.

I've metamorphosed myself into a writer that writes about amazing feelings ... that i don't feel anymore.

So ... illogical ... but a true fact.

Maybe i need someone to redefine my thinking, my way of being, my everything ... so that i start have feelings again.

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

... love feelings.

So ... maybe i need ... a love teacher.

Truth be told ... we can't stop ourselves adoring more than one person.

She was 24 ... and her husband 26.

And ... that amazing friend of her husband was 48, same as her mother ... but she never knew his age ... cause he was looking so, so young.

But ... time was passing and Eric understood from her look ... that Clara liked him.

In fact ... it was so damn clear ... that he could just go ... hug and kiss her.

She loved her husband ... but many times he was away ... in his business trips ... and that made their relationship too complicated.

And after a while it became so, so difficult to control ... her feelings.

It all was ... obvious.... but could not understand what is really going on ... cause she really loved her husband.

I could even say ... she adored her partner ... being together by more than 8 years since high school.

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

And still ... this man ... made her lost her mind and the control over everything.

One day ... finding out his age ... realizing he has the same age as her mother ... she understood one more time that it's all so ... inappropriate ... but ...

She could not stop herself ... liking him.

In fact adoring him.

Clara could not understand... this nonsense that was dominating her soul.

Why?!

Why?!

Why?!

She kept wondering herself ... "Why i adore in the same time ... almost with the same intensity ... those 2 men?!"

I should stop myself ... adoring ... Eric ... but i simple ... can't."

I was smiling ... looking at this story ... realizing that many times ... energies beyond the scene of life ... are controlling ... everything.

And we define all as a ... nonsense.

Maybe Eric and Clara were lovers into a previous life ... and seeing their connection as illusory ... was actually so silly of us.

And ... the nonsense continued ...

She could not stop herself ... to adore him.

... and Eric ... simple adored ... being adored.

Analyzing them ... trying to define all I smiled ... finally understanding the dance of energies ... beyond reality.

.... not even bothered to say anything ... anymore ...

No matter of what type of influences are coming to us ... we should not allow as them to become dominant

I see influences everywhere.

I believe we just can't live without interacting with those influences.

And there are times when we are simple surrounded by lots of energies ... that somehow start to dominate our beings.

When i say that I say it from my own experiences ... after analyzing and defining a lot my life.

I saw how an idea ... repeated by someone on and on and on ... becomes a truth ... and then starts to dominates with obsession ... my own reality.

And it's not that i saw it one ... two times ... but lots ... lots of times.

I allowed myself to be dominated by everything.

One day ... the weather ruined my vibe.

Next day ... a driver from the road back to home.

... to realize in the end that i hate all the people that were driving around me at that moment.

Then ... my friends.

... and also my family.

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

Well until one day when I've understood that i can't avoid the interference with the influences ... but i could ... ignore them.

It was only a decision.

Ignoring ... staying disconnected from all the energies that try to induce us influences ... as in the end to see the trend of dominance ... might be ... the key.

But it's so ... so easy to say that ... when you stay away from the stage of life ... and you analyze all not like an actor ... but like a spectator.

When they finally realize that domination is impossible ...
they just ... leave.
And ... never ... come back.

I see many people not liking where they are in life.
And when i realize how good they define all with so, so many details why they don't like that reality ... i even start to laugh.

It's all the time about a scene where things not happen into the way they wanted it to happen.

Yes ... i say that i laugh cause they are just ... ridiculous.

I want to ask them ... "Today it's raining. Would you do something to bring the sun back to us?!" ... but they don't hear me ... and none of my messages.

Suddenly i realize it's all about ... domination.

They simple want ... like little kids ... as things to happen into a certain way just because they want that.

They want to control ... everything.

The events ... the people ... all.

The script is written into their minds and no matter if it is a good or a bad script it's very important for them ... as

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

everything to happen that way.

I stop laughing.

Realize somehow ... that is useless ... but i still allow myself to ... smile ... and not say a word about my perceptions.

Into the past I was arguing with all those people a lot ... trying to convince them that it's wrong such a type of behavior.

Now ... after realizing it's all useless ... i smile and keep practicing ignorance with them.

But i still see them trying ... and trying and trying.

Until one day when realizing they failed ... they simple disappear.

And never ... come back.

Unfortunately.... later on i start to see others.

Maybe it's all a message that is repeated to me on and on ... to realize something.

We use to define people as good or bad ... but maybe it's all about the energies they are anchored in and they are not like that.

Analyzing the people around is so damn easy.
Anyone from this planet that love gossiping... could probably prove that have great psychological knowledge.
And they do it so ... so good.
But what is weird is that when it comes by ourselves ... we simple don't have the same ability of seeing and understanding the meaning of our behavior on the stage of life.
We simple can't see clear enough ... and even if everything is so obvious... we just find an explanation that hides pretty well the truth.
But my spiritual question is ... how can we really define ourselves?!
Good ... bad ... so, so?!
Well ... if i would have the ability to define myself with real honesty ... i would tell about myself that i've done lots of good things ... but also lots ... lots of bad things.

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

I proved myself that i am a person without any real values, but also a person with ... great values.

So ... what type of person am i?!

Could i be defined as a good person?!

... or a bad person?!

Or ... so, so?

Should i make a balance of my actions and if i've done more good things i could declare myself as good ... and if i've done more bad things, i could declare myself as a bad person?!

I find the idea ... a little bit ridiculous.

... even this trend of defining myself into a certain way.

... but also doing that with the others.

So?!

Is this a stupid subject we are debating?!

... or a difficult one.

Does it worth to wonder what is going on?!

Well ... i think yes.

I somehow believe that in life ... we are not really conscious of what we are doing.

We are probably anchored in good or bad energies that dominates our life.

And indeed duality is part of us.

Today we might act in a good way ... but the next day ... we might simple act totally different.

And have a balancing behavior between positivity and negativity.

So ... we are in fact dominated by the duality of life ... and the only good thing we could do is to become aware of how we act on the stage of life?!

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

100% we will keep doing mistakes.

Probably we'll keep doing that on and on and on ... but making always an introspection of all what is going on acting as people that are conscious of the activity from the scene of life we might still have a chance to become better souls.

Doing everything perfect ... but not getting the result we've wanted ... so damn annoying

A very simple way of dominating the scene of the real life is to do ... or at least try to do ... everything ... perfect.

When we are 20 ... it's almost impossible.

At 30 ... it all starts to go ... into a trend that reminds us of ... perfection.

But ... close to 40 ... after having lots of life experiences... it all becomes much clearer of what we have to do.

And we start to act better and better.

We might even say that the tremendous determination of having that perfect reality which we defined by such a long, long time ... made us act as ... amazing actors.

And yes ... we act perfect on the stage of life ... but what it's funny is that even in the situation of such a great interpretation of our roles ... things don't get into the direction we want.

That perfect reality ... delays to be the way we want it to be.

Even if all started with shy influences... it all becomes into the end ... an obsession.

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

... the one of dominating every detail ... so that we finally get ... that projection we dream by such a long, long time. Analyzing all ... we realize that indeed we do everything perfect ... but ... we simple just not get the result we've wanted.

... and it's so damn annoying.

But ... we continue acting perfect ... being dominated of the desire of getting what we want ... and ...

Well ... nothing improves.

All remains the same ... and even if it looks like we are close of what we wanted ... we realize it's all so ... so illusory.

We start to admit that acting perfect ... it's not enough ... and it's really bad if all becomes an obsession.

... the story continues ... and still ... no change.

It's all similar with touching the horizontal line but we just don't want to admit it.

Fucking connections ... kind of a hobby

An amazing relation is firstly defined by the connection between the 2 souls.

But unfortunately ... the connection is not everything.
Life ... real life i mean ... has many, many components.
... and we don't really pay attention at all the details.
And we continue ... doing mistakes.

Today one tomorrow another one ... and so on

After a while ... we declare ourselves surprised that the things are not anymore what they used to be.

That amazing connection is not defined anymore ... as amazing.

It's probably ... a good connection ... simple ruined by all the mistakes we do in time.

I could even say that ... fucking the connection is almost ... a hobby ... which we subconsciously practice ... as idiots.

And the beauty of that amazing relationship... just fade.

Little ... by little ...

Day ... by day

We are sorry ... but somehow we can't stop this process ... of ruining the connection.

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

We think ... and we meditate more and more with regret cause indeed the Universe offered us a great story ... but all it's useless.

We simple could not act ... as good actors.

And we fail all the time.

Great connection ... beautiful persons on the stage of our lives but

Yes ... unfortunately... this fucking "but"... exists ... and we can't get rid of it.

It looks like a ridiculous ... hobby.

And ... well ...

Time makes as beautiful stories to fade ... or even going to an end.

Then we start ... other stories ... and again we act stupid.

Again and again and again.

No sign ... of wisdom by our side ...

It's all like we don't learn anything from all our life experiences.

We should be always aware of the energies that dominate ... reality but also our own souls

One of the most difficult things to accept about the human being is that ... being dominated by a certain type of energy ... we begin to dominate the scene of life ... inducing probably the same vibes as the one from inside our souls.

We want things to happen into a certain way ... almost as a must and dominating reality becomes an obsession.

Of course ... we could also be in front of a person that tries to change the world ... for being a better place but this is unfortunately... a very rarely case.

And i will not bother to tell you about ... those cases.

Reality is somehow different.

I see everything ... dominated by ... nonsense.

I ask myself ... for my own case ... what if i should meditate more ... and try to find out why i want to dominate everything around myself?

Is this a reflection of that weird energy that i've connected at ... and dominates me by such a long time?!

Why everything became an obsession?!

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

Why this behavior ... is so related with dominance?!

What really makes us act like that?!

Maybe it's time to ... simple stop ... look in the mirror and analyze why we are dominated by obsession... and invest so much time and energy as things to happen into a certain way?!

The concept ... that i am keep talking about ... dominating and being dominated ... makes sense.

At least to waste my time and talk about it.

To analyze it ... as a need to understand the human being.

To define all with real honesty ... as in the end to realize we need to redefine ourselves.

And stop ... everything is related to ... dominance.

Not allow ... to be dominated ... but also stop this silly desire of dominating everything around.

Understand the nonsense ... and ... make a change ...

You see ... life is short ... and we should be aware ... how we use this time here.

A little bit of wisdom ... could be a nice idea into this scenario.

.... and probably our obsession should be to redefine ... the nonsense ... and nothing more.

Sometimes the addiction for perfect love stories dominates our lives

I look around myself ... and see lots ... lots of people being in relationships... that don't give them any good vibe.

So many but no one would really do anything to change this ugly scenario.

Ofcourse except of the ones that love to taste from time to time ... illicit love stories.

During the years ... i've wrote a lot about the subject ... but not really saying the real truth.

I've wrote so many stories ... but not defined it ... as an addiction.

... which it really is.

But i was writing ... nice stories.

I wanted to actually paint all ... in beautiful colors ... giving life and value to those episodes.

And i continued writing.

Is like i try to be the lawyer of those people ... trying to justify ... their immoral behavior ... and i was writing and writing and writing.

Until one day ... when i've asked myself ... is this addiction ...

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

a representation of the fact that we still dream of the perfect love story?!

Is this a negative idea that is ruining our lives, or just gives us energy to survive into the ugly reality?!

And i try ... to be honest ... while analyzing and defining all. ... this chase ... for happiness ... in such an abstract form ... metamorphosed into the end into ... an addiction.

I smile ... seeing the real truth.

Looking at those parallel realities ... continuing being or not being the lawyer that is justifying those illicit love stories from parallel worlds ... i conclude the sense itself ... of all ... is just for survival into a world we dislike.

We should always be more aware of the impact of influences.
And also ... not allow all those energies become dominant for our souls.

It's very difficult to understand the impact of energies to our lives.

Sometimes things happen so slow ... and it's no clear evidence that ... something is really wrong.

Life continues ... but when we look back in time ... we see that things really changed ... and can't really understand what happened.

We simple did not paid attention to details.

All those influences... changed the path of life ... till they actually became so dominant ... that all was finally clear even for us.

But it was late ... very, very late.

All those ugly energies already dominated our lives.

We haven't understood the impact that the whole story with influences can have on us ... and allow things to continue ...

till one day when we've understood... it's too late.

And i wonder why?!

.... why are we so stupid?!

Well ... most probably we don't understand the impact of all the things that happens around us.

We are not ... profound enough to realize all what is going on.

And ... this was my case too.

The scenario of my life ... changed again and again and again

... only because i've allowed to be dominated.

I somehow liked those energies ... into the beginning, but later on i've realized the journey of my life is not going anymore into the direction i was dreaming about.

My life changed ... without realizing ... but the moment i start to think why ... i see no logical explanation.

Maybe i thought ... so illusory ... that i can manage this trend of keep being influenced... but ...

Most probably if someone would decide to go to a place as Chernobyl ... that is still contaminated with radiation from the nuclear accident from the 80's ... would realize the risk of doing that.

Or maybe i should say ... the huge risk.

The impact ... on the health of that person ... could be really ... ugly.

But you see ... nobody can see ... the radiations from there.

All those energies ... are invisible.

Coming back at the influences and the impact of those influences on us ... from all the energies that surround us ...

trying to make the correlation with a visit to Chernobyl ... we start to somehow understand what is going on.

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

And still we should never want to go into a place as that ... and also ... not stay there.

The example ... reveals us ... the story about influences the impact ... but ... coming back to our reality ... we are blinds again.

We simple can't see any way if how we could get rid ... of domination.

When we feel we waste our time ... we should just leave

I felt many times into this lifetime ... that i am wasting my time.

Today ... when i have this type of feeling ... i understand that i am actually ... wasting my life in here ... on Earth.

I've started to have much better ... clarity.

I understand reality ...

I understand that i am not on the right path of life but even if all is so, so clear ... i just continue ... doing the same stupid things on and on and on.

I act as ... an idiot.

I know ... on a theoretical level ... all is going on for real ... but ... i still continue staying on those pathless paths.

I know i am wasting my time ... but i allow as this story to continue.

... which is probably ... a nonsense.

Yes .. i allow as the nonsense ... to dominate my life ... even if today ... i am not so idiot anymore ... as i used to be.

But my question is ... why the hell i do that?!

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

Well ... maybe i am afraid of being bored again.

I don't want a boring life.

I simple don't want that.

I feel the need of certain elements into my life ... and that involves indeed as my reality to be a little bit dominated by stupidity.

And is funny ... cause i allow myself to act stupid ... just to remain prisoner into that scene of life.

And i keep wasting my time.

Until?!

Well ... who the hell knows ... and in fact i stop asking myself ... or if i do it ... in fact ... i just pretend i am doing it.

All i actually do ... is to delay all.

... even if i know the truth that it's all a waste of energy and time I allow to remain prisoner into that reality.

I am so afraid of being ... bored ... again.

There are many moments when we feel like prisoners ... but we should simple smile ...

One guy wrote me one day ... a very weird letter ... explaining that after meditating for years, visualizing a scenario of a perfect life ... he finally had one day that story.

But the funny thing was that ... even if he liked everything he attracted... he became to be dominated by a weird feeling ... that he became the prisoner of that world.

He had been created an universe ... that was the mirror of all his dreams ... but could not get rid of these stupid feelings ... of being into a prison with invisible walls ... that he could not leave anymore.

The guy wrote me after reading my book "My life in a prison with invisible walls" ... identifying himself with my perceptions.

And the philosophical question was ... what the hell we do if all those ideas, thoughts, dreams ... create a reality ... which induces us into the end the feeling of being ... prisoners.

This guy ... Tom ... that wrote me this interesting letter ... felt the same as me.

It was nice for him ... to realize that ... another ordinary person ... thought the same about the desire of attracting a new reality ... which into the end can become ... a trap. And Tom ... asked me ... "What the hell should i do now?!" I smiled ... realizing that all what i could say to him was ... to smile.

Yes ... to smile in front of ... our stupidity.

This disease of wanting all the time ... something totally different than the real life.

A disease ... disguised as a ... desire.

The sexual magnetism could dominate, but also ... destroy everything

Few days ago ... i've been in a scene ... as a simple spectator ... and had the chance to understand the tremendous power of sexual energy.

We were 3 men ... and a very beautiful lady, that was arranging the tables at the coffee shop.

One of the guys was the lover of that lady ... and the other one ... a guest that came there with the family to enjoy a cake and a coffee.

The 3 of us ... knew each other ... by a long time ... and stayed together only 2 ... maximum 3 minutes ... just to say hello.

But what was funny ... and this is why i bother to write about such a scene ... is that Tim, the guy that was there with his family ... kept staring at the beautiful lady that was arranging the place.

He could not control anymore ... his eyes.

He was staring like a 5 years old kid ... but being an adult he was totally dominated by her sexual energy.

She had indeed a very beautiful body.

... i could even say ... she was a gorgeous lady.

a lady found on a dating app ... he decided ... in the last moment ... to cancel all.

You see ... my friend ... was chasing for the perfect woman by a long, long time.

He was probably dating with hundreds of ladies.

Any men would envy him for such a performance.... but ... he already had enough of dating and dating and dating.

He even compared himself with Sisyphus ... which i found ridiculous but ...

Now the question was ... "Is he an idiot cause he cancelled all into the last second?!"

... or maybe not.

I've dared to ask him ... "Maybe she was not so beautiful ... or she was fat ... or she had a handicap ... "

"No! Probably not! But i felt ... i need to cancel all. I even deleted her number ... and left ... not even mentioning that i will not come anymore."

I found it weird ... all my friend was telling me ... but in a short moment of awakening i've asked myself ... what if i could have the guts to listen to my intuition... and cancel all what i feel is not ok for myself.

What if i would dare to act ... weird ... but let my intuition ... dominate every action from the stage of my life?!

What if i should try to act like that ... at least ... as a test?!

Well ... maybe my life would change ... realizing i don't need to really accept so many things ... which in fact i don't like.

But ... i could not take the risk of ... looking like an idiot ... doing in fact the right thing ... which the intuition is telling me to do.

When you feel ... something is wrong ... simple stop ... smile ... and don't do anything anymore.
Become a simple spectator of that scene ... and disconnect from that reality.
Then ... everything will be revealed ... soon ...

I experienced lots of things into this life time.
But ... I don't regret any of those experiences ... even if in many of them ... i was acting very stupid on the stage of life.
The only thing i regret is that i was not able to disconnect at the right time from ... some karmic stories that were in the fact redefining my life.
I was .. delaying everything.
I continued as an idiot ... stories which i could simple stop
... disconnecting from those energies that where dominating the moment.
I felt something was ... wrong ... but i could not find inside myself ... the ability to simple say ... "Stop! Stop it! I had enough!”.

All i am writing is kind of a self therapy.

I am the patient ... but also the therapist.

And i am writing my thoughts ... as an ordinary person ...

wanting to spread a simple message to anyone ... and that is the fact that we should meditate more ...

Connect to intuition... and become indeed a simple spectator of our lives.

Whenever we feel ... something is wrong ... and we are on a pathless path ... just .. say ... “Stop!” ... to everything.

Disconnect...

Then .. simple run away ...

Go ... to another scene ...

Or remain alone ... connect to the inner self ... and try to find better paths to follow in life.

Stop ... wasting our lives ... being in useless stories.

Stop ... being and acting ... as idiots.

We all have desires.
Lots of good ... but also
... stupid desires.
And sometimes because of those desires
... we connect to strange energies.
And those energies dominate into the end ... the reality itself ...
inducing us into the same time ...
beautiful and ugly vibes ... but we are not able to understand why.
All becomes ... an emotional dance
... of contradictory feelings.

We like it or not ... somehow ... we are defined but also dominated of our desires.
And the huge problem of the human being is that we have lots ... lots of desires.

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

We want one thing ... then another thing ... and another one ... and another one.

Studying the dynamic of this addiction for desires ... we realize it's all ... a non ending story.

But it's even worst than that.

Time is passing ... and we see that nothing really satisfies us. Life itself ... became a collection of stories dominated by nonsense.

And all the time ... we end up feeling again and again and again ... that we are on a pathless path.

We try to hide things ... and get rid of such a perceptions... but days are passing ... then weeks, then months ... and even years and all becomes more and more obvious.

Well ... maybe it's all about the fact that we refuse to analyze things deeper and deeper.

And define ... the truth.

... the real one.

We refuse to do that ... cause it's annoying to accept the fact that accomplishment of our desires will never make us happy.

And we should also start to analyze more ... the way in how we want to make those desires become real.

... the needed compromises.

... the stupid things we need to accept ... just to get want we believe we want so ... so much.

Today ... after wasting so much time and energy on this path of accomplishing all my stupid dreams ... i finally accept that i've allowed myself to connect on lots of energies ... that i simple dislike.

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

I was not aware of my intentions ... and had into my mind just my ambition.

And i paid a huge price

I wasted my time and my whole energy ... focusing on and on and on ... into a journey ... to nowhere.

Hahaha ...

But ... the real truth ... even if i believed that my spiritual wisdom is real ... is that i don't accept yet ... that i still have lots of things to learn ... and also that i should not let myself dominated by the desires.

Influence is many time metamorphosed into ... dominance. ... just be aware of that!

All my books ... are actually a representation of my desire to understand life ... but also to find paths to happiness. Unfortunately... many times ... i just get lost. Being surrounded by so many energies ... i even forget that i was actually chasing ... for happiness. And i make the mistake of entering into this circle of energies ... not even understanding their nature. That is actually the point when i start to understand that starts the game of influences... from the exterior ... but also from my side. Influences that soon i realize that are metamorphosed into ... dominance. So ... we somehow jump at the next level ... and we don't talk anymore about influence ... but about dominance. But i ask myself ... why?! Why all that?! Why i waste my life doing that?! And i ask myself 1000 times ... why?! ... but no answer comes to me.

DOMINATING AND BEING DOMINATED ... A WAY OF WASTING OUR LIVES

philosophical essays

All looks like a game ... done by everyone around myself ...
I see it's all useless ... as many others ... but ... i allow as everything to continue ... until the moment when i feel i dominate my universe .. or end up being dominated.
... at least for a while.

Then i see ... one day i influence and dominate ... and next day the outside world influences and dominates me.

The scenario is repeated on and on and on ...

My only conclusion is that i've accepted to waste my time, my energy and into the end my life ... allowing myself to stay into this world defined so, so much by influence and dominance.

I could simple decide ... to not participate at this gam ... but i am not doing it.

And

Well ... i know theory ... but when it comes about practice ... i just ignore all my knowledge.

I continue ... this path ... instead of trying to find out a way out of such energetic fields.

In fact i am allowing as influence to be metamorphosed into
.... dominance.

And ... find it almost ... normal

Dominating and being dominating ... a way of wasting our lives

Maybe life is too short to waste it with ... useless things.

Maybe it's time to start meditating more.

To analyze our behavior ... but also the one of the people around us.

To pay attention to the impact of influences over our lives ... but also on the lives of others.

Understand that ... domination ... no matter of its character... positive or negative It's a concept that we should not allow it to become real.

And we should also be aware of how a simple small influence ... that is repeated on and on and on ... could become ... dominance without even realizing.

It should all be a dance ... not a stupid desire of dominance

INTRODUCTION

There are many times in life when we have lots of existential questions inside of our minds.

Accepting those thoughts ... and actually embracing them is the path for understanding but also having a normal ... and why not ... also a beautiful life.

I personally try to understand those existential questions from the early age of 4 or 5.

One of the things that i remember from that time was that i was in the kitchen with my mother and she was explaining me that we live in a world with bad people and i should be aware of that.

Maybe if she was telling me that Santa Claus was not real, i would have accepted that much easier.

But i totally disliked what she told me and it was the first time when i disconnected myself from her.

I told to myself ... "This is not true. I will explore the world and i will prove that this is not true. Noooo ... we don't live in a world with bad people!".

It was the start of my journey on a philosophical path, that for many, many times looked like a pathless path to me, but also to the ones were looking at me.

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about

As a child i was an introvert, but today ... after socializing so, so much with so many people that i met ... i became an extrovert.

And ... i accept on the stage of my life absolutely any kind of person ... i met.

Even if i don't like that person ... or i don't feel comfortable in the presence of that spirit ... i continue my journey of exploring the human beings and i kind of like it.

I try to ... read ... people ... to see each one of them as a book, cause all of them ... have their own stories... and i also try to somehow ... invent .. a guide of surviving in this world.

I felt many times, probably same as you, that my mother's theory about the world is true ... and i was too idealistic for this Universe ... but i still had the hope that things will always change into better.

I was exploring life ... and while doing this i discovered that even in bad things, i will always find a beautiful side.

So ... there is an ugly and a beautiful side, but depends which one we are seeing ... and the world itself can be defined as ugly or beautiful ... only and only by what we actually understand from what we see.

And ... to learn the art of observing the world ... first we need to explore life ... with all its aspects and then ... meditate and ask ourselves before defining anything if it's worth losing our time with the ugly elements ... when still life has so, so many beautiful sides.

Playing the game of defining ... a way of understanding your life

We should have moments in life when we should just ... stop ... and play for a short time the game of defining. Define where you are in life, what you do, who you've become, what are your expectations ... and what do you want to happen in the near future.

Ask yourself if you are happy or not, if you learnt the art of enjoying the present moment, if you have inside of you the hope of a beautiful life and if you understood what are the secrets of life.

It's a process of exploring and seeing what kind of life you have.

The conclusions might be positives or negatives ... but no matter what is going on, you need to embrace who you are now.

Playing this game ... but with sincerity ... will help you understand who you really are now and what directions you should follow.

There will be times when you will be totally satisfied of where you are and what you had reached, but also moments when

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about

you will totally dislike where you've been placed on the timeline of life.

But ... the situation itself exists anyway.

Ignoring it ... might work for a while, if it is a negative one ... but it will not work forever.

The game of defining ... which is actually a game of exploring your life from the outside world, but also your inner self ... becomes a way of seeing ... the directions.

There will be lots of nonsenses ... but all you will see ... are part of your universe and define you.

Define!

Accept!

Embrace!

... and decide to continue or follow new direction!

It's quite simple!

We are defined by our randomly feelings and thoughts

She read what he wrote her and then she said: "Yes, it was good to read but after reading I started searching for myself somewhere."

She started to have some randomly thoughts ... same as he did by such a long time.

He smiled ... being glad that he guided her in the process of exploring her inner and outside world.

She had to start this long philosophical journey, but maybe this was the meaning of their friendship.

Somehow ... both of them understood that we, as human beings ... are defined of our randomly feelings and thoughts. Sometimes it makes ... no sense at all.

Sometimes ... we become so attached by what we feel and think ... that those definitions of what we had become ... let us become the prisoners of a certain reality.

We are starting to be one with that reality ... but the reality itself can be an ugly ... or a beautiful one.

Feelings and thoughts ... control the energetic field where we stay ... but we don't understand that and we keep wondering

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about

why reality looks in the way it looks.

But where the feelings come?!

Where the thoughts come?!

It says that we have few thousands of thoughts a day ... and maybe also lots of feelings ... some of them quite contradictory ... but we still don't understand what is going on with us.

Exploring life ... our own lives in fact ... we go in a position of seeing what are the forces behind the scene of life.

We define.

... and we start exploring more and more.

Then ... we realize ... that all we see on the scene our lives ... is controlled by feelings and thoughts ... but behind all of them there is the simple direction we chose we follow in life ... a negative one ... a simple dogmatic path ... or one defined as an optimistic way of living.

And the final question is ... why do we expect of an amazing life ... if we chose a path of negativity?!

But ... don't worry ... changing direction is only a decision. Whenever you will feel for real ... you want something else for you ... the path of positivity will appear in front of your eyes.

We are ... what we see around us

In a residential complex, a guy that was living in there, calls the owner to his house and says: "I had enough! Everywhere i look in here, in the complex ... i see the old problem that we have by so many months. Look there ... look!"

The owner is looking and says ... " Yes ... it `s a beautiful sunset! I love it".

Annoyed ... the guy says again ... "So you see a beautiful sunset and i am an idiot ... and i called you in here for nothing.

Ok ... ok.

Look there!! Now! Tell me what you see!"

"Well ... I see a rose in the last days of autumn.

In few days ... it will probably disappear!"

"So ... you see a rose!

Ok! It's clear! I am an idiot and i called you in here because i see ghosts around, correct?!"

The owner smiled ... cause he knew what the whole story was about, but he was exploring the same world ... in the same time with a guy that was seeing only the shit of the dogs of few other people that were living in the same

... we will understand what life is about complex.

He had enough with this guy that was complaining of the dogs from there and tried to make him ... see other things also.

Knew that he was losing his time ... but he was his client and had to listen to him, but on the other hand ... he started to realize that dealing with such a client will end up by having the life of a prostitute that is doing anything for money.

The funny guy was seeing shit of dog everywhere around. He could not see the sun set ... and neither the rose, in its last days of autumn.

He became blind for beautiful things, but his eyes were magnifying the problem induced by the dogs.

And ... become so annoying that the owner, that was a guy that loved money all his life ... opened his eyes and saw that between him and a prostitute there is no difference.

He was doing this by tens of years ... dealing only with shitty things ... instead of dreaming to deal only and only with beautiful people.

Like them ... you can find lots of persons all around in the world ... but maybe we should meditate more at the fact that in the end we are the reflection of what we see in the world.

Being on the right vibe ... is just a decision

It happens i have a lady friend that knows everything about energies.

She uses to tell me all the time what is going on behind what i see in my life and also what is going to happen in the future.

I sometimes try to argue with her ... but the statistical data showed that she was right all the time when she said something.

And she also tells me a lot about my vibe and how can i improve my life into a better way ... just by changing my vibe.

For years i thought that the vibe can't be changed and there is nothing to do regarding that ... but talking to her so many times about energies i somehow started to understand how everything works.

I finally realized that many times we are dominated by the unconscious thoughts, but exploring and defining them ... we understand that we do everything on automatic pilot ... without having any control at all on our lives.

Changing the vibe ... through meditation, for example, is a simple way of changing our lives, in fact.

If we analyze the case of a person that have the addiction for

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about alcohol ... you will be amazed seeing that there are persons that don't drink anything at all the whole day, while being away from home ... but once they come back in the night, being just with the inner self ... trying to run away from that meeting ... the alcohol helps a lot ... or at least this is how they see the situation.

Exploring the whole process ... and defining the meaning and the reason of the addiction ... we easily see what is going on and identify the problem and maybe also the way out from that automatic process.

Seeing that is not feeling good ... in his own company, the alcoholic sees in alcohol a medicine that is helping him survive with those emotions.

But the price paid for this .. what he calls ... medicine ... is huge.

So ... the key?!

Well ... quite simple.

Understanding the meaning of the vibe, the message that is sending to us ... is the first step.

Changing the vibe in this case will automatically happen when the alcoholic will accept the presence of his inner self in his daily life ... and manage this relationship in the proper way.

You hear all the time ... "i am not feeling good today. I am not having the right vibe" ... but a switch can be made just like switching the tv channel.

"Ok ... so i don't feel well.

I have a negative vibe. But why?!

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about

What is trying to tell me the inner self?!

Ahh ... i see.

I got it.

Ok. Now let me enjoy the day, cause i understood the message while exploring and defining what i see inside of me".

Those types of analyzes ... will let us see that we can have the control over our vibe ... and the vibe itself can be induced in an automatic way by the unconscious thoughts or feelings ... but understanding what is going on ... it can also be a simple decision to stay on a beautiful frequency.

The help can also come with the affirmations method ... but always keep in mind not to hide the bad vibe, but explore and define it ... so that the new vibe will make sense ... and be irreplaceable.

In front of death ... we should just smile, same as we should do it in front of any other illusion

I know a spanish guy that used to be a Casanova all his life. And he was married few times, had factories ... went from the status of millionaire to bankruptcy few times, had an yacht, a beautiful house on the sea side in Spain, expensive cars ... and many, many amazing ladies in his life.

He had everything, but the Universe laughed few times of him ... taking also him everything he had.

Was a very powerful person, or at least this is how i saw him many, many times ... but it was a real pleasure to spend time in his company.

Never read any book in his life, but he was the greatest teacher i ever had.

Few weeks ago ... he called me, being my client for my company ... and also mentioned that he had colon cancer.

Was totally changed.

He was seeing the end of the world ... and even if he was not saying it ... you could feel it in his voice.

Few days later, he was emailing me saying that he is

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about resigning the contract with our company, but writing about all kinds of silly illusionary reasons.

I could not believe what he was writing in the emails, but the contract we had was so insignificant that i only replied to him ... "It's ok!"

Nothing more ... nothing less.

A normal reply ... i considered being useless.

It was clear that he was afraid of death.

Such a powerful person, totally lost his minds ... and instead of exploring and defining what is going on in his soul, that the cancer appeared in his life ... he started to act as a silly boy.

Even if he lost everything few times in his life, now he was afraid that he will lose the life itself.

But all what i could see for the moment was that he was losing his mind ... not his life.

I was amazed that a man with such an experience of life, that i could define as my guru ... he was so afraid of ... death.

Casanova ... started to look as an old person ... and act weird with everybody around ... not understanding that behind the cancer there is a spiritual reason why it appears ... and that actually ... cancer is a disease of the soul.

I was unhappy for him cause he did not know how to act in front of death ... but i didn't dare to tell him that the concept of death is just an illusory one and we should just smile in front of it.

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about

Everyone of us ... have our own lessons to understand ... and a karma that is guiding us in this journey ... so maybe ... he will see in my reply at those silly emails ... "it's ok!" ... the answer to his situation.

We should explore the difficult situations, define them ... but also embrace the present moment, no matter what that means ... even if it is about cancer ... or death.

Life should be amazing with an angel behind your back

Few years ago a new customer came to my company. He needed some advertising services for a company where the CEO was a lady that he liked a lot.

He was about 65, but looked of 85.

The lady was 60, but she looked of 40 and acted as one of 30.

For a second i almost defined him as a sugar daddy, but the difference between them was 5 years ... and in my opinion the difference in such cases are at least of 20-25 years.

Even if i am usually very polite and not so curious i've asked him if they own the company together ... and he smile, while replying:

"No. I am just her business angel ... nothing more".

The guy was a very wealthy person ... but still i was amazed of the concept ... business angel.

He was behind her back whenever she needed something.

She just had to mention ... and he was taking care of everything.

Then for a second ... i asked myself, while trying to explore

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about the idea ... what if, all of us should have a real angel, in the real life ... that should help us with anything we would need?!

But ... then ... i realized ... this is not what i should have in mind for myself, but how could i act as an angel for all the people from my life ... same as the guy was the angel of that lucky lady.

But what if all of us should have such a mentality?!

How the world would look like?!

Well ... maybe a much better place ... but probably the concept itself is too utopian.

The night should reset ... everything

The greatest scientists came to the conclusion that the Universe and its laws, in the way it is ... is actually perfect. Whoever created it ... did everything in an amazing way ... and there is nothing at all to be changed.

But this is not what we ... believe.

There are many, many moments when we just believe we need something else ... and that reality should look totally different as the one from today.

No one ever told us to embrace reality the way it is ... and that somehow embrace does not mean ... accept.

You see ... when you embrace someone most of the times we do it with pleasure.

Embracing is ... hold (someone) closely in one's arms, especially as a sign of affection.

And in the same way we should do it with the present moment, but unfortunately we believe we know better what is best for us.

And i had been wondering many times, while trying to understand the meaning of life ... why do we have the night?!

Why do we have this repetitive process ... live in different

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about places and events and then, we stop everything just to ... sleep.

What is the meaning of night and sleep?!

Why don't we sleep only once a week?!

Might sound as a silly ... childish question, but i always saw that whatever is important in life ... keeps appearing on and on and on.

Today ... i somehow believe that night should just ... reset everything and lets us meditate more if it is the best path, the one that we are following.

But the next day looks the same with today and the day before ... and the days from 2 weeks ago.

No change at all, because before going to bed we don't know to re visualize everything ... and meditate on how we could actually reset everything was wrong so that ... we should simple live in a beautiful way all the time.

Explore again the past.

Define it.

Analyze everything was good or bad.

... then just reset everything and re define the whole scene as one that should be dominated by positive energies all the time.

Is like we have the chance to re write the whole script ... but only if we know to guide the story of our lives on the path of positivity ... otherwise everything will be the same story repeated on and on ... and the pleasure of being alive will not be part of your life.

Everything is possible if that is a path for you

Some of us believe in motivation.

Some ... don't even discovered it yet, but maybe one day they will understand its meaning and why is so important at least ... to explore it.

The word ... "explore" should be a must in our lives, but also accept the fact that in this process we will experience good and bad things ... sometimes even in the same time.

It says that the meaning of life is to evolve as souls ... and for many of us, experiencing is the only way to have the lessons.

Probably ... for only few, as monks for example ... the way of evolving is totally different, but for the rest of us, the only method of doing is by exploring.

And we start life with everything that means.

... having experiences becomes a way of feeling the taste of being alive.

We have happy moments and ugly ones ... but all together is defining our experience in here.

And one day, some of us feel that can't live anymore without what we name motivation.

We even become addicted to it ... but we forget that in this

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about lifetime we need to follow some certain paths ... and some of them we should just ignore.

The image of labyrinth... defines the best everything is going on ... and we keep wondering how we should have the clarity about the real path.

Motivation always tells us that ... everything is possible ... but the great philosophical question is ... how do we keep the right balance between our desires and what the Universe prepared for us?!

Well ... i believe ... that indeed everything is possible, but only and only ... if that is a path for us and we should never forget that in one point we should accept the concept of destiny and karma ... as the lessons of life that we need to understand during this lifetime.

So ... keep the right balance ... and the real path will be revealed to you!

Dealing with energies around. An art ... or a lesson of life?!

Everything i write ... i write with the purpose of clearly defining for myself what is life about.

And there are times when i believe ... i found the answers ... then i smile cause other lessons of life appear and i need to pass other tests also.

I should define all those tests as ... illusions ... and by a while i started to understand that learning in fact to deal with all the energies around me is one of the most important thing from life.

While exploring my life and everything that means ... i realized that i am usually impressed only by very beautiful or very bad things that appears on my timeline.

For the rest ... i really don't care so much.

But i still get annoyed by years of different silly things ... and can't find a real answer for that.

When it comes to beautiful things ... i am difficult to be impressed, but i still smile all the time when i see the beauty of positive elements in the scene.

I continue my path ... even if i am not easily impressed, but i pay attention to all around.

I just don't let all i see to influence my life ... but still ... i am happy and nervous few times a day ... which actually means

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about that i am still dominated by the outside world.

And more i try to fix that ... more useless becomes the whole process.

I see myself becoming a ... Don Quixote that is fighting with the windmills.

And i start living like ... "Once upon a time in a land far away..."

I believe i clearly see the story and the characters of the story ... and on that timeline ... in the course of their travels, the protagonists meet innkeepers, prostitutes, goat-herders, soldiers, priests, escaped convicts and scorned lovers. The aforementioned characters sometimes tell tales that incorporate events from the real world.

Their encounters are magnified by Don Quixote's imagination into chivalrous quests. Don Quixote's tendency to intervene violently in matters irrelevant to himself, and his habit of not paying debts, result in privations, injuries, and humiliations (with Sancho often the victim).

And even if I realize while exploring that everything is an illusion ... i keep acting as Don Quixote.

... but i also have good days when i believe i should decide to understand something from those lessons of life ... and start to practice the art of interacting with all the energies around.

And then ... i see the balance again ... reality on one side and the illusion on the other side.

Or maybe .. is the same thing.

Some of the ghosts you can see in the real world ... but some are hidden deep in your soul.

One of the first things we learn to do in life is to protect ourselves ... but not in a physical way, cause most probably ... today ... the danger comes in a different way to us.

And you see more and more people in the company of their pets, especially dogs, cause animals love them in an unconditional way.

All of us have disappointments and if we should explore the life of a king or one of a pauper we could see the same things on the list of disappointments.

And if you'll have the chance to chat about this subject with the king, but also with the pauper ... they will speak for hours about the elements from that list ... elements that made them see life ... in a negative way.

You see ... all those disappointments from the past become for us ... kind of a ghost ... and not let us enjoy life in the proper way.

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about

The ghost can be the memory of an unhappy childhood, generated by a parent that did not know to offer us the love we needed at that time ... or a love story that ended, but without being consumed etc etc.

The ghost ... is a time from the past that touched our soul. And just seeing in the inner or outside world something that reminds us of that ... i believe is enough to make us feel again those times.

Is not that you experience again a meeting with the ghost from your own past, but it will not disappear unless you speak with it.

Ignoring ... the hidden ghost will let the agony ... continue. But you see ... there are things we can avoid in life and also situations that are so powerful that are touching us for a life time.

The auto protective mode ... it will not work and should make no sense to work.

Just explore and analyze why that something touched your inner soul so damm much ... and them re define your life a little bit ... going much deeper in that direction.

You won't be able to run forever ... cause the ghost will keep reappearing on and on and on.

If you can't be the real you near that person ... means that's not the soulmate

We want to be in one million ways during our lifetime.
We have lots of ideas about how we should act on the stage of our own lives ... and we also care too much about the way people expect us to be.

But the funny thing is that when we look at the list with how we should be ... we don't find ... "just be yourself".

And what that actually means?!

Well ... that means that we should only care about what we really want in life and be authentic in everything we do, without really caring about other's opinions ... not even the ones of friends, brothers, sisters, spouses ... and not even parents.

I know we sometimes spent a long time with them ... and the influences on both sides exist, but should we care about that so much?!

Well ... in one point, after an age we will spend a lot of time with the spouse ... and the problem will be that little by little we lose ourselves.

We start acting in a way ... so that we please the partner,

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about ignoring that in fact we betrayal our inner self by becoming someone that we don't really want to be.

Some ... smarter... act in a certain way at home and when they leave the house are becoming the way they really want to be.

The ones that are introverts ... they probably do the opposite they try to please all the people from their lives and at home ... sometimes they have the courage to be that person they want to be.

So ... in fact we carry all types of masks and we actually have just short periods when we act in the way we'd love to act.

But ... now i wonder myself ... why is this happening and we are not letting be ourselves all the time?!

And i have the power to understand that we can't fight with everyone around and that not everybody is dominating the environment where is usually staying ... but at least, with the person we love, we should ... be ourselves ... otherwise ... ?!
But ... real facts are real facts ... and the situation is the way it is.

On the other hand, hiding ourselves forever should be a real silly thing to do continuing life in such a way.

So ... maybe ... we should explore, analyze and better define the concept of soul mate.

Then ... just redefine the way you act, cause life is short and should be silly to not let us the freedom to be the real ... us ... the one we feel inside of the soul.

A new day. The experiment ... continues

I recently read a novel about a businessman that had so many problems during the long period of looking for money all the time that ... and he decides to retire, even if he was not so old.

He knew a little bit about the real estate market and internet, so the best decision was to invest in renting apartments.

He thought it will be quite easy and that 20-30 apartments would probably give him enough income for a new life style ... one with not so much stress around.

So even if he took few years to implement the plan ... one day he became a real rentier.

He succeeded the change and was living with the illusion that his problems with the customers from his main business will totally disappear.

But ... he was only exchanging a business with another one, forgetting that business should be easy just without customers, but as long as they exist ... let's say we need to deal with lots of things.

On the other hand, the guy from the novel did not realized he was not having the right software for relaxation.

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about

You can't have a certain type of life, if you don't have the right mental software for that.

He just needed adrenaline ... and the renting business was creating all kinds of argues .. but not adrenaline.

He had to deal especially with ladies, that in the nowadays society from his place ... were living with the impression that renting an apartment is like living in a hotel.

He knew to satisfy the clients ... but again he saw that instead of being paid just for doing nothing, because somehow this is the business of renting ... he was losing his mind with his clients.

Every new day ... he saw that the experiment was ... continuing.

It was all a nightmare, same as he lived 20 years with the other business.

Making money is not easy.

It never was and probably it will never be.

You see ... the guy from the story was not understanding that relaxation is not so related as you might think with money and you can't have the peace of mind as a monk if you just chance a silly nightmare with another one.

But ... exploring and analyzing a contemporary story as this one ... we have the chance to define what a life fulfilled with relaxing moments means.

We might also have the chance to decide if we need to focus only on relaxation or maybe have a balanced life where money have a meaning for us, but we also try to have relaxing moments.

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about

And the experiment called ... life ... can be a beautiful or an ugly one, but it was depends on the paths that you are following.

Drugs kill people

...but those people don't have eyes to see that.

Little by little ... they turn them into ... garbage ... till the moment they are completely destroyed. But ... even mentioning that to them all the time is ... useless.

A guy that was trying to get rid of all his addictions, not understanding that actually an addiction is usually replaced by another one ... started to have a funny test from the Universe.

Even if he never had drugs, he was addicted to alcohol, work, love stories etc etc.

In a conversation of 5 minutes with him, you could clearly see that he had an addiction for addictions, but he started in a strange way to hate all the ones that use to have addictions.

The Universe was first smiling, then laughing of his new philosophy.

The guy started to have conflicts with all the ones that he was interacting with ... but in the same time were addicted to alcohol or drugs.

He was almost losing his mind ... so often trying to convince those people to stop what they were doing, that he ended having huge useless conflicts.

None one of them were listening.

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about

More he was trying to convince them ... much headache he was having.

In fact ... he was receiving an opposite reaction at all he was doing, by naming those people "junkies".

One day, realizing what problems he had because of all those conflicts ... he goes to a friend and ask for help.

The lady was a person that had alcohol addiction also in the past ... but now she stopped the interaction with all those people that were addicted ... same as she was.

She smiled to him ... saying:

"Listen ... Paul! It's not them that you are hating so, so much ... having those horrible conflicts ... but you ... the one you was only few months ago.

All you see is just a reflection.

It's too soon to accept the past just as it was, but the past is part of us ... and the meaning of the time spent in here on Earth is to understand some lessons of life.

I believe ... you got the lesson ... alcohol addiction, as any other addiction, is not good.

Trying to save the world ... is an utopian concept ... but all those people don't have eyes to see and ears to hear.

At the right time ... they will decide to stop being a zombie same as you and i had been ... but maybe today showing them our good vibes, after living without alcohol ... is a better decision than naming them ... junkie."

He knew she was right.

She always was right.

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about

Realized he needed to explore much deeper not the outer world, but the inner one.

He did not know how to do it ... but he understood is time to define better his own problems from the past and change the world, not by criticizing but showing them ... his positive example ... as change.

Replying is an option not a must

I had so many argues in my life that i could write a book about it.

Maybe 7-800 pages ... or even more.

But i am sure it will not be a best seller, cause most of us did that so many times that we should be defined as experts in arguing.

Unfortunately ... i can't write yet a book about how arguing can be avoid, cause that should become a very read book for the ones that are having this problem.

I have moments when i explore my past and i analyze and define what was going on with me and i smile ... then i laugh.

I see how i over reacted all the times i argued with people ... but i also understand that actually all those silly times were moments when i lost the control on myself.

I was not connected anymore me with myself and i actually saw that weak side of myself dominated by the a stupid Ego.

I could avoid 99% of the argues i had, just by smiling and replying ... "It's just a beautiful day! Don't you think so?! Let's enjoy it ... and also the life itself!"

But i let the Ego speak for myself ... actually letting him

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about prove useless things and situations.

Replying was just an option ... but ... being blind ... i always thought that it was ... a must.

Today ... after exploring all those situations, trying to understand myself ... i should totally redefine my way of acting on the stage of life.

I would ask myself to smile in front of any illusory situation that is provoking argues and be a better self that knows to reply in a beautiful way to any ugly word came from anyone i meet on the timeline of my life.

So ... the plan itself is simple ... and i wonder myself if i will succeed to do it ... but i still hope i will follow a path of a beautiful change that will take me to an harmonious life.

Sounds like an utopian concept, yeah?!

Well ... at least i have a plan and i want to start it.

What you see in your daily life is actually a representation of the inner self

In the night, before going to sleep, i started to have the habit of exploring and analyzing the day.

I try to see everything as a movie.

Close my eyes and try to understand what i like and what i dislike ... and i wonder if i could change the scenario of that movie.

For years, for many of us, it happens that the days look as a repetitive event that is happening for tens or hundreds of times ... without realizing we could change the script of our lives in a second ... by taking a different decision.

I close my eyes, i see everything again ... and i explore the day few more times.

I analyze all the details, i try to define them and then i am meditating how should i change reality by redefining everything.

I see all kinds of negative events that keep appearing to me on and on and on ... and don't understand why.

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about

I see the argues i had with some of the people from my life ... but can't understand the repetitive facts.

Then in a second ... everything is changing in my vision.

I realize that the problem is not ... the environment where i live, not the people from my daily life ... but me.

After this process of exploring few times everything, i see so clearly that i have the power to change my life, just by acting differently.

The events can look the same, but i can react in a different way ... every time this is happening.

And it was so simple to see that ... but i was blind and too stubborn to follow a positive path for my life, instead of a silly one.

Before the addiction ... during the addiction ... and the moment after the addiction. A story ... which is actually a lesson of life.

Having addictions is actually a way of living today.

People use to love alcohol by centuries ... and if you have the chance to talk with them, why they love it so much ... they will tell you that alcohol is actually kind of a medicine.

One that is making them forget about the real life, about the problems that they have ... and live daily a part of time with different thoughts.

Long time ago, when i was a child i saw an amazing russian movie about the life of a guy from Moscow.

He was married by a while ... and he started to drink more and more.

In the beginning he was drinking ... just from time to time.

He was very stressed because of his work, but his wife could not understand that.

Then he started to drink more ... and more ... and he became an alcoholic.

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about

Started to dislike his work, because of so, so many problems ... but also the life that he had at home with his wife.

During the day he could not drink, but in the night he could not go to sleep without having one or 2 bottles of wine.

Drinking alcohol daily ... became a habit.

The connection with his wife ... was totally interrupted ... and even if she disliked so much his addiction, she could not convince him to stop.

But one day, on a 1st of January ... he just stopped drinking ... and promised to himself that this is a final decision.

His problems from work did not disappeared ... but suddenly he started to see his problems from home.

The relationship with the wife ... was so toxic, that he was making jokes thanking to God that he invented alcohol .. and that this is the reason why his marriage lasted so, so much.

But ... today he could clearly see the toxicity of their marriage, the fact that he was never supported by his wife and the fact that they have a zero connection.

He disliked everything he saw ... but was happy that he can understand the real situation of where he was on the timeline of his life.

He was not blind anymore.

He realized he needed alcohol ... just to become blind and not see for a long time the truth about his life.

But a truth is a truth ... and maybe the message was to understand the life itself even if he liked it or not.

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about

Before the addiction he was looking for a medicine for becoming blind when it comes about analyzing his life ... during the addiction he loved the fact that he had moments when he totally forgot everything ... and after the addiction, he understood he must accept the facts from reality just as they are, analyze them, define and redefine everything he wants to change ... and have the power to dream again. Hiding from the real situations of life ... is useless, as long as we have some lessons of life to study.

Being on a negative frequency ... you will attract only negative people and events. The simple trick is ... CHANGE YOUR VIBE!

We somehow live with the illusion that we can plant cactus seeds and in the end see that apple trees are growing in our gardens.

Even a kid will say this is not possible ... but most of us ... have the believe that our actions and the way of being is not really having any influence on our lives.

And it keeps happening ... on and on and on.

But not even for a second ... we think of this inter connection between the vibe we have and what we see in the present moment.

Lots of negative people are appearing.

Also negative events.

... and we continue ... being blinds.

We want a change, but we can't see the path to that change, cause we are ... blinds.

It all becomes so ... harmful, that one day we even feel the need of resigning from being a human being.

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about

There is no way out from this lifestyle ... fulfilled only with negative influences ... or at least this is what we believe.

But the Universe, seeing us in such a position ... give us in the last moment ... a small piece of ... hope.

We see it in different ways, at few people that are around us ... and we start to understand that negativity is not the main way of living and we could also try ... positivity.

We actually start to see a new path for living and even seeing negativity all around ... we just smile.

We start having a different vibe ... and we realize that life is painted in beautiful colors.

There is not grey anymore ... all around.

We accept the black and grey ... but we also see life painted with a large spectrum of colors.

And things start to change.

We suddenly realize that we could do this long, long time ago ... but we smile and enjoy the fact that we are start seeing beautiful things also.

Living near zombies ... unfortunately a real scenario

Many people from all around the world are studying today personal growth.

The beginning is hard.

Later on ... we observe that we acted in life as zombies, but even if today we act in a totally different way ... we still live in a world of zombies.

So ... the environment itself is still dominated by forces without real life ... and we stay in there ... without having the hope that the world around will start to be different.

We changed ... but people around us ... remained the same.

It could also happen ... and believe me ... i saw it many, many times ... as one of the partners to have a huge spiritual growth and the spouse to remain still ... a zombie, which i should define as a person that act in a way that looks like being alive, but deep inside has a dead soul.

They try to survive as a couple ... but anyone could understand that the relationship is going to a pathless path.

Everything is clear, but one of the partners still hopes that a big change will appear quite soon ... and the other one is not having any clue about what is really going on.

The distance between them become bigger and bigger ... till

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about you could define it as ... huge.

Is like you see the night and the day in the same painting ... but you can't understand why the painter ... painted such a painting.

Sounds as a ... nonsense ... but maybe is not.

Probably the Universe helped one of them to grow ... and now that person need to help the other one to grow also.

Exploring the concept of ... growth ... and actually grow together might sound as a perfect plan ... but both of them should realize the importance of that for them.

Living near zombies ... becomes a lesson ... so that we always remember ... what we should never become again ... zombies.

Just think about it!

Adapting yourself to any scenario ... the best decision you could have

Imagine ... you are in a trip ... in Paris.

You are on the Champs-Élysées Boulevard and suddenly you see an elephant in the middle of the street, going in the opposite direction with the cars from there.

You start to wonder if it is real what you see or you have hallucinations ... or even worst ... you actually lost your mind.

For a second you don't know what to believe ... cause you know you are in a trip in France, not in India.

You somehow don't trust your senses anymore ... for a short period of time, but you see ... the scenario could be real.

The elephant could escape from Zoo, or from a circus that is not so far from the city center ... so the probability as the elephant to walk on a boulevard from Paris, can become possible.

Few seconds later ... you understand that all you see is real ... and maybe is the case to hide yourself in a place where you can be safe.

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about

In India you going to see so many elephants ... that will not surprise you in any way at all a similar situation ... but is not the case to expect something as this in France.

Well ... it is funny cause there are also other scenarios that you don't expect to see in your life ... like being cheated by the spouse that told you in the morning that loves you so, so much, or be betrayed by a close friend, or even by your brother, or be fired from the company which you founded and invested so much passion and energy into it (same as it happened to Steve Jobs at Apple, for example).

The list with unexpected situations is actually very, very long, but there is only one thing we could do ... adapt ourselves to any scenario.

We could explore anybody's life ... and realize that everybody from this planet had in one point in life an unexpectedly bad experience.

But we should actually understand that everything happens for a reason ... and the Universe knows better than us why we have such situations in our lives ... even if we like it or not.

There will many moments when you will not agree with what is going on ... but readapting to any script from the timeline of your life ... is in the end, the best decision.

Seeing stop signs everywhere, but still continuing the path ... a nonsense difficult to be understood

The Universe communicates with us daily, sending messages through other people, or strange events ... but even if we clearly see and also understand the signs, we pretend that it's all a simple coincidence.

We feel that the path is not the right one, but we want to test everything so that we explore and actually experience that something we wanted so much ... but we did not have the chance to have.

It could be about a relationship with someone that made you feel ... alive.

Or a job ... that could make you look of great success.

Or ... an amazing car, that even if it is so damn expensive and the leasing will just ruin you ... you want it so, so much. You know the path is not a good one ... but the desire from inside your soul is so powerful, that nothing can stop you ... have that something.

... at least for a short period of time!

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about

It's somehow a balance between accomplishing the dream of your life ... but knowing that the price for that dream ... will just destroy you.

You ignore all the STOP messages ... hoping that things will change and there is still time as the Universe to change its mind.

But we actually ignore our own intuition, that connection with the Supreme Divine Being ... and we end up, seeing that the huge dream was just a mirage ... that was ruining our souls. But what is actually behind this nonsense?!

Well ... we always wanted what we could not have, what looked impossible ... and we should pay more attention how we mix motivation with the real path we need to follow in life.

“Let me distract you!” ... a silly game from an ex love story

Life got back to normal.

He continued his life ... and she did the same.

They almost forgot one of another but one day she suddenly sent him a message saying ... “Tell me that you are ok. I feel something strange ... and is not something good!” And he replied even if he promised to himself that will never come back into her arms.

The energies that came from that relationship ... made him sad in the end.

He started to be ok again ... but he failed the test from the Universe ... cause they got in contact again.

It was a silly spontaneous decision to answer to her message, but the truth was that he was still thinking at her from time to time.

He wanted her just one more time, but last time when he did that he ... fucked ... all his energies.

He perfectly knew how the script of the story will continue ... and did not wanted to see that again in his life, but somehow ... while talking to her, he was going back in time and was exploring one more time the whole love story from the beginning to the end.

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about

Her message was more ... "Let me distract you!" ... and he proved one more time that he is weak when it comes about her.

It was a silly game ... from an ex love story ... but for a moment the dance of his emotions appeared again in his soul.

And in a second he actually lost everything ... cause he lost his inner peace.

The whole love story was about amazing sex ... and also accepting that they lost their souls and minds ... but they could not accept that.

She was indeed ... distracting him ... but just with a silly game ... to test him if he still loves her.

Everything was revealed right away ... with an amazing spontaneity ... but still, deep inside him, he realized that she is not a path.

He knew how to explore his own life, feelings and desires ... but also analyze and define in a honest way the real truth about what is really going on.

Unfortunately ... the whole love story ... was just a silly game ... even if he was not happy seeing that.

Disappearing again was the best idea ... but also having the hope that ... she will not distract him again.

... but who knows?!

Life is fulfilled with illusions.

Being in illusion ... not understanding at all the concept of awakening ... a result of the fact that we don't explore enough the timeline of our lives.

In the past i was thinking that defining is enough.
Then i realized that after analyzing and defining a certain subject, we can actually redefine everything ... just as we want.

Later on ... the concept of exploration came in my mind and i understood that is necessary to see the whole picture of what is going on ... like a scene that integrates all the scenes of life.

Just defining and redefining a single moment from the timeline is useless if you can't keep in mind that your life is related not just with the present moment, but also with the past and the future.

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about

And probably is quite important to analyze the fact that we should see the positive sides from everything that defines our existence.

What i am trying to say ... is somehow guide you to the concept that everything happens for a specific reason ... and even if it looks as something negative ... in the end becomes just the start of a path to a beautiful positive change in life. Being in the illusion ... this concept that all the religions are telling us about, becomes the disability of understanding the concept of awakening.

We live in an unconscious way ... not really caring about why life is looking in the way it is ... but paying a huge price for that ignorance.

Opening our minds ... redefining in fact the way of acting of the timeline ... meditating for a life controlled ... not by domination, but by beautiful thoughts and good intentions, becomes the gateway for the real change.

Balancing between illusion and the awakening process ... is just something silly ... but we cannot see it ... even if it is so, so obvious.

The dance of our emotions creates the image of a volatile world

We start to realize more than ever that the world we live in is defined so much by ... volatility ... all around.

The stock market goes up or down, but also our lives have the same daily scenarios.

Today happens a beautiful thing ... but the same thing tomorrow is just destroyed by something unpredictable ... that we don't even thought about.

If we meditate a little bit ... and start a process of exploring the timeline where we live now, but also try to go back in time ... analyzing as a statistic all happened ... or happens now.

And ... we could easily define the future as something difficult to be clearly defined.

We start to understand that being volatile is a way of being in the nowadays times, but being so, so annoying this daily jumping from beautiful to bad vibes in such a short time and doing it on and on and on ... we see ourselves trapped in an ugly world ... with no way out.

But guess what?!

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about

Always the key is at you ... and stoping this silly dance of emotions is just ... up to you.

The only problem is that you don't know how.

You can't understand yet that the outside world should not influence us in such a way or better saying ... let everything around dominate us.

The vibe, the way you feel should actually be related just by the connection between your image ... your personality and the inner self.

Nothing else ... not even volatility should influence ourselves in such an ugly way ... even if what it happens in the present moment defines our lives.

Stopping this dance of emotions, with such a large spectrum of feelings ... can be just a decision.

We could say ... "Is enough! I don't want to live as that anymore. I want to be just me, the one from my heart but i should have the gut not to let myself dominated, by the impact of volatility."

Accepting all what is going on ... is only a decision to live a beautiful life ... no matter what is going on around us.

You can say ... just ... "It's ok! Let's see what is really going on ... cause i know that everything in this world happens for a reason".

The art of keeping the right balance in life is based on knowing to say stop to certain things ... at least from time to time

Many years ago ... we found out that someone from my family had cancer.

It was almost terminal cancer, but even if doctors said that we have only 3-4 months left, that person lived 8 more years.

I remember that at that time someone i know ... a guy that had a hospice for the patients with terminal cancer ... told me that the person that finds out that has cancer needs to redefine his life completely.

At that time i thought that actually that means to eat bio food ... to not smoke or drink alcohol etc.

In fact have a healthy life, related to what we put inside of our body.

Later on i understood that i did not understood anything at all ... from what that guy told me.

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about

A person that has cancer ... which many people define as the disease of the soul ... needs to push the stop button on all what is doing in life.

First just ... stop.

I believe then comes meditation, exploration, analyzing, defining and redefining all what is going on with the life itself. Paying attention to what we eat, smoke or drink is indeed important, but that's not all.

A healthy life is a balanced life, with a healthy mind that is totally connected with body ... in a perfect harmony.

The medical treatment is quite important.

Changing the diet the same.

But the most important is probably change the way of seeing the world and focusing on motivation and also on positivity.

In the end the battle with the cancer was lost, but all of us die sooner or later ... even the kings, but we need to understand that a strong disease is a problem of having the wrong balance in our lives.

And even for the rest of us ... seeing examples as that in our families or at people that we know ... we should start thinking about redefining the way we live ... and say stop to certain things ... at least from time to time.

And we should remember that a well balanced life is beautiful life.

We should always have in mind just the trends that our souls are dreaming about ... not the trends of society where we live in ... not even the international ones.

On the international market everything becomes today more and more expensive.

50% more ... is a small increase, because the price for many products or services became now even double or triple.

Should we be mad about that?!

Well if you know a little bit about global warming ... you easily realize that people got a crazy trend for more and more.

30 years ago you could hear different ladies that wanted more shoes, or dresses ... but today even a child wants hundreds of toys, men want to exchange cars at least every 2 years, everybody is renovating their houses or is building something ... a garage, a swimming pool, a summer house in the country side, near the parents etc etc.

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about

I remember that about 10 years ago, i was preparing to rent an apartment.

It was bought from some old people ... and i had to totally chance everything from inside.

An old man, about 75 years old, that was living in the building stoped me and said ... "Ah ... you are moving here! Welcome to our building!

I see you bought new furniture.

I did this 50 years ago ... and replace nothing inside since then.

So you stress a little bit now and then you will not care anymore about this issue".

I was smiling and i politely agreed with him.

I was not moving in there and knew that on renting you need to chance the furniture every 8-10 years.

But everybody is changing their pieces of furniture from time to time.

And you realize that small change creates an increase of vibe ... for a while at least.

There are studies about new cars.

It says that the pleasure of having that new car stays active a maximum of 3 months.

But still people are buying more and more new cars all around the world.

It is quite important in the society from today ... to be always updated with the new trends on everything.

New cars, new homes, new clothes ... everything needs to be new and in trend.

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about

But how much natural resources can give us our planet?!
And till when?!

Exploring this increase for the trend of buying more and more, even for ordinary people from all around the world ... the prices just exploded ... which is actually natural.

But the answer to the question ... till when?! ... is still not clear yet.

Most probably if we explore the past and analyze all the crises that we had till now ... the answer to the question is ... till we end our money and not being able to buy anything from what we desire ... we will start to understand that a great vibe does not need to come from the outside world, but from inner world ... just by connecting with the inner self. Following the trends ... is dogmatic and quite silly ... but most probably all of us will find out that at the right time.

A weird painting combining spring with autumn . Should we define it as abstract or a non sense?!

During the time i saw couples that were looking like a painting that is combining spring and autumn in a strange way ... in the same scene.

One of the partners was the spring.

The other one ... the autumn ... but they could not see that the 2 seasons had nothing to do one with the other.

They had different trends ... and everything was totally different when you would try to define them.

But they were together ... actually were pretending they were together.

I thought there is kind of a miss understanding ... that i don't clearly see them as a couple and in the end i was balancing between defining all as something abstract or as a nonsense. It almost became an obsession for me how to define this painting ... but in a second of awakening, going back in my past and exploring my own life i suddenly realized that many times i was the spring or the autumn in different kinds of

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about relationships i had during the years.

So ... seeing that painting ... seeing in fact myself in the scene ... the meaning of the obsession became clear.

In many, many cases in life ... depending on what frequency we are, or simply where we actually are on the timeline of our own lives ... we might be in both positions.

Define as abstract the whole scene ... should probably be a polite definition.

Defining as a non sense ... would probably be much closer to reality ... but however we should see this scene is weird anyway.

An ugly soul ... near a happy face ... can never be defined as a beautiful couple.

Staying together just because you learnt to survive together ... or the art of fucking your own energies and life itself

Let me talk to you about a very simple scenario and also ask you a very simple question ... that i am sure you will know to define right away.

A person works in a factory where toxicity is at a very high level.

Does this for all his life, since he was working in there from the age of 18th years old, same as his father.

Unfortunately ... his father died few years ago, from a very powerful form of cancer, not succeeding to retire and enjoy his life going to fishing, stay all day long at the ocean and feel the joy of it, as he was doing when he was a kid ... and in fact live a happy life as a retired person.

The son ... even that he saw other people from the factory dying at the age of his father ... ignores all those facts and continues to work in that toxic environment.

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about

He could simply move to a city, 200 miles from his actual town and deliver pizza and could be paid the same amount of money ... but he can't see this scenario for his life.

He saw his father's model and believe that is the path he needs to follow.

So should i bother to ask you ... what is the future of this guy?!

... probably not.

But toxicity is of different forms ... and you can live in a toxic environment even at home ... near your partner.

You don't divorce because of your kids and saw the models of your parents that did not had a good relationship, but did not divorce because of you.

Your parents ended happy together after you left and started your own life?!

Well ... it's all clear if we start to explore, analyze and define what is going on with our own lives but we are too cowards ... and even if we clearly identify the new path we need to follow in life, we actually don't want to redefine the whole scenario.

We prefer the ... safe mode ... the one that created for us the image of a script that means survive and continue life just as it is ... not thinking a for a second that life has another one million scenarios available for us ... even beautiful ones.

And if we should write a book called ... "The art of fucking your own energies and life itself" it will probably be a best seller ... cause we know to define ... but don't have the guts to redefine.

One was a bitch one was a whore. One was loving him ...
the other one was hating
him ... a lot.
... but he was still dreaming of a beautiful life.

A dear friend of mine from India, who i use to chat a lot about philosophical issues, sent me few days ago the last scenario he wrote ... and was actually preparing to send to Bollywood.

He was believing in the motivational part of that story and was almost sure that the scenario will be accepted.

Bottomline the story is about a guy that had in the same time a relationship with a lady that he was defining as a bitch ... but also one with a lady that he considered as being a whore.

He had many, many moments when he was thinking which one to choose.

The bitch was hating him, but was a good partner ... loyal,

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about taking care of family issues etc etc.

The other one was loving him a lot ... but she proved during the time when they were together ... that her mental software was one of a ... whore ... and this was the reason why he defined her in such an ugly way.

In fact, after a while ... he started to dislike so much the both of them ... that he was telling all kinds of things about them to all his friends.

But ... the funny thing was that he was still continuing being connected to both of them.

And what is weird is that in the beginning he was amazed of both of them ... being so happy he is in that relationship ... but the time changed everything.

In fact the time ... showed the dark side of both ladies and that happiness from the beginning ... that infinite joy of being together ... was metamorphosed in a clear feeling of totally dislike.

Same persons ... but time changed completely his inner feelings.

But what he did not saw all those years ... was that he was changed.

He changed his principles, his way of seeing life and his feelings about how he wants as his life to look like.

But still he was silly enough ... to continue everything with both of them.

The change had come, but only inside of him, by connecting and becoming one with his inner self.

But he could not had the power yet to change his outside

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about world ... or maybe it was not the right time ... yet.

He started to meditate more and more ... and was exploring his both experiences with the 2 ladies and after analyzing and defining why this is keep happening to him on and on and on ... he suddenly realize that he is actually a coward ... that was telling to everybody about the bitch and the whore, but never had the power to say it load ... "You are a bitch!!" and "You are a whore" ... and also mention ... "I don't want to live as that anymore! Is enough!"

You see ... the bitch or the whore ... are existing in anyone's life ... on different forms ... as a colleague at work, a friend that is pretending being your best friend, a neighbor that is driving us crazy by years ... but we are too cowards to define them face to face ... the way they are.

Actually everything is a choice and sometimes between a healthy relationship and one that is actually helping us with some silly interests we have ... we forget about the principles of life and support everything is necessary ... just to see our interests completed.

So ... the life we have is just the result of the choices we made.

Today ... after reading the scenario of my talented friend from Bollywood ... i wonder myself who are the persons from my life that i can define, even in a metaphorical way ... bitch ... or whore.

But what about me?!

... well ... don't know if i have the guts to define me in such a clear way ... at least ... not yet.

An amazing exercise: Push the stop button Cut all connections with the outside world ... and let the silence begin

To tell you the truth ... i hate everything has to do with dogmatism ... and probably this is the reason why i am not so close with religion.

But every time i am disliking something i start to explore that subject so that i should clearly understand what's wrong in the connection between me and that subject.

So one day i started to ask myself why in the religion is so important so that at the end of the week to have a day off ... a totally disconnection from work and other stuff that we consider important during the week.

For many, many years i had been available for business 24 hours a day, 7 days of 7, caring too much about the results of my work and never paying attention to the concept of a day off.

I considered that being connected to the world is the most

EXPLORING OURSELVES

... we will understand what life is about important thing i have to do.

After 20 years ... i realized i actually lost myself , not really knowing who am i anymore.

In fact i was an actor on the stage of my life ... being on a timeline where i did not clearly understood what i was doing. 20 years ... and i never had the power to push the stop button ... till one day when i understood i am on a kind of a philosophical path ... but i am actually always running of ... something.

I was afraid of that ... something.

I needed to think many, many months in a row what that something was ... and then one day ... i was terrified.

That something was me.

I was running of myself ... but i could not do anything to push the stop button, cut the connection with the outside world and let me be just me with myself.

I was afraid of me ... and i laugh realizing that ... but i could not accept the silence.

Too bad ... we learn so, so many things in life but never tell us that the most important thing in the world is to know yourself ... love yourself ... and stay always connected with your self.

So think about it ... maybe is time to push the stop button ... and let the silence begin!

LOVE MEANS?!

INTRODUCTION

His love ... Her fantasy

... understanding what love is about

As friends, as a man, but also as a woman, we try to define the undefined from a love story.

Dreaming about love and being in love ... the path from the fantasy to the love story itself ... is just a matter of luck ... or maybe where you find yourself, on the timeline of your own life.

Maybe is the perfect time for you to explore what love is about, or maybe other things are important at the moment ... and the love story can only be a future "project".

Exploring what love is about ... in our minds, as a fantasy ... or in the real life, as a real love story ... is depending only and only if we are ready or not.

But what is the difference between fantasy and reality, when even the Bible is saying that everything we see is just an illusion?

Well ... i believe that the fantasy is only the begining of defining what we want ... and the love story is the "experiment" itself.

Is it too much to name a love story ... an "experiment"?!

Well ... exploring ... as a fantasy or as reality is letting your soul understand what love is about.

And ... sometimes is even a life lesson.

The moment when you jump into the fairy tale ... the real fantasy ... and you understand the meaning of love ... the fact that love is about giving and not about receiving ... that is the moment when you also understand what life is about.

Accepting your partner, just as he / she is ... just as accepting all the people from our lives is the moment of awakening.

Me, Adrian ... and my dear Annie ... are only trying to define the unseen path from fantasy to the love story itself.

And also ... let you know that this path is leading you to point when your thinking will be totally redefined.

Life itself ... is about love.

HIS LOVE. HER FANTASY

A collection of love essays

Seeing what love is about ... is understanding the meaning of life.

If the "love chapter" started for you ... even if it's just a fantasy of reality ... you should be happy.

The awakening will come to you!

Love again?

I never thought I will fall in love again after seeing him! It just was a social media meeting, dating 😊

Just in an hour we felt so connected! I felt so comfortable, warmth talking to you. I really dream for this kind of relationship!

It's time to accept what's coming on my way!

It's not about, how handsome you are! What's ur past! I don't care!

I just felt that the universal connected our destiny together. Our soul recognized each other!

Of coz its unbelievable, but our hearts meant to be.

I'm in love again! Feeling so much loved by someone I never even see before. No physical touch. Just everything was illusion

It's too difficult, hard, incredible finding distance relationship.

We both trust each other, there much love mixed feelings! We encourage each other. We pray together. No matter what we put God in the first place.

Distance from each other is killing us, but Still we r enjoying talking to each other for hours n slept together till the next morning. Only our souls knows how much do we feel it to be together

There's no more loneliness, coz he filled up my emptiness

There might be no tomorrow. So let's live this day filling with love, joy feelings we have today. Hoping one day we will meet my love ❤️

The absence of hope
“Do u still believe in us?!”
I mean ... 1%?!”

On the path of life ... i mean the real one, not the one from our head ... we just live all kinds of disappointments ... that ruins everything means hope.

The optimism is the illusion of a better reality ... or even of a great reality ... but how should exists hope in the soul, without the illusion that we can live in a beautiful reality?!

It says that the secret of life is enjoying the present moment... but just as it is.

It basically can be translated as ... you can be in a beautiful restaurant with your partner ... that person that you dislike and hate so much ... and see how unhappy you are ... even if the atmosphere from that place is fantastic.

The food is great, the waiter is a very nice person, the lady from the bar smiles you ... but the person in front of you, while staying on the table ... is driving you crazy with that look.

And you do what?!

You just feel miserable again.

One more time, you went out to change your vibe ... and you just ruined even more the vibe you had.

Maybe no one ever told you about ... “Enjoy the present moment!” ... or you just don’t know what Carpe Diem means ... but no matter where you are, on the timeline of your life ... in a luxury restaurant or in the prison canteen, staying with other prisoners on the table ... you should just enjoy that you are alive and try to see the beautiful side of what you have in the real life.

You see, in a love story, you can be the prisoner of that story.

There will be many moments of disappointments between the 2 of you.

You can feel like being in a beautiful restaurant, but only staying in the kitchen of an ugly rented apartment ... or staying in the most expensive restaurant from Monte Carlo and feel like you are eating in the prison canteen, staying near the other “prisoner” ... which is your partner.

HIS LOVE. HER FANTASY

A collection of love essays

Maybe you should try to find the 1% ... of believing in the 2 of you ... as a couple.

Wayne Dyer used to say ... "change the way you look at things and the things you look at change".

The crazy of us!

Me and my husband married for years, after 5 years in a relationship. It's already 12 years anniversary we are celebrating! With still branded new love..

We've been trying to add on new member to our family! Long waited, but it's all blessings from the universal! We are just kept on trying!

We spare time for each other whenever there's a chance! We call just to say I miss you! Just to hear his voice, to feel been with him.

There are times he back home just to make love! We love like those young couple! We go for a date after his hectic day! We get erected to each other easily! Our kisses won't end if we started!

We Love each inch of each other. We appreciate for who we are. We admire our spouse! The smell of us, is our favorite scent!

We exchange our coffee, our drinks! He holds my hand while he driving. He will surprise me with lovely cute surprises! He kiss me while waiting in the traffic!

We obsessive about each other. We are addicted to each other. He will text messages while working outside!

There's once we make love in the day time and forgot about everything! Suddenly he received a call from our son's school principal because we forgot to pick up him!

We spent evening at beach bay near to our house. He always connected to me. His hands will be around me and our son.

Evening dinner we cook together while romancing in the kitchen! We make, son doing his homework in his room!

We need each other help! Working together in the kitchen is the sexiest part! Our bodies get aroused while moving in the small space kitchen! Yeah we got our foods burnt many times!

Both of us, keep up fire our intimacy together! In fact we are creative, multiple task while trying new stuff at home!

Whatever, we are in love. Not yesterday, today, but everyday, every moment we appreciate the relationship we have together.

#anniepdavid

“Let’s agree to just love one another without expectation”

How can we define love without expectation?!

Can it exist? Or is just a theoretical concept?!

I believe that in the real world we can practice love without expectations, but only if it's kind of platonic love.

Imagine you meet on social media .. someone that lives 5000 km away ... you speak everyday, but maybe there is only 0.01% chances as you meet that person in the real life.

Can you love that person?!

If that person represent the ideal you have in mind when it comes about love story ... maybe the answer is yes.

But when you understand that you will probably never meet ... you will be able to practice love maybe we should define it as platonic love ... with no expectation.

In the real life ... we give a piece of our soul ... or maybe the whole soul and we expect to receive something back.

And we don't expect to see only love in return ... we expect to see love translated through different things or actions.

Living without expectations means to live your life, and let the Universe decide what should be offered to you.

Never ask, never expect anything, but hope it will be the love story of your life.

You might lose your mind, your soul ... your everything ... but in the end ... playing all in the fairy tale ... you might find the path to supreme happiness.

Just be honest and love with an open heart.

Good things will happen.

Suffering in silence

I'm suffering in silence! I'm having hard times. Because we are apart 6K miles away from each other. 5hours different for us! I can't wait to hold my sweetheart. Your memories ghosting me everyday!

Don't ever compare me with your past relationships! Our relationship is something beyond that! My endless love for you makes me yearn more.

All the desires all the needs and the wishes borne, baby I love you like no one else will do.

Our love story was unusual, but it is so true. I still remember that moment when I first met you. I never thought that I would love someone so special in my life. You are now a part of me, that without you I won't survive. Why I love you so much, I also have no clue. But, I just wanna tell that it's true. I just wanna tell you that, my baby I love you and will always do.

#anniepdavid

“Because i love you, it does not mean i give you the right to be selfish”

How do you combine love with selfishness?!

Can they coexist in a love story?!

But what if selfishness is your main characteristic and one day you fall in love?!

Can you forget about selfishness?!

I believe it all depends of how much you love that person ... and your real intension with that person.

The transition between selfishness ... which sometimes also means self love ... to love ... real love ... means jumping from your own universe to the world created by the love between you and your partner.

Many, many years ago, i heard this ... “Because i love you, it does not mean i give you the right to be selfish”

I had no clue why someone should tell me this ... because i was not considering myself selfish.

But most probably i was very, very, very selfish.

You see, we love to be loved ... and even if love itself is not a business, like to give something and receive something ... love is not only about receiving ... but most probably is about giving ... giving your love and affection.

To be in love ... means to connect with that person ... and express your love in a real way.

Expressing your selfishness, which will be there all the time, as a part of you ... will mean only that you still want to be alone, even if you like being in the love story.

To be in the story ... you need to act in a different way as you used to act.

Self love and even selfishness are ok ... but in a fairy tale, to be that character that is on the stage of the love story ... you just need to think more of the 2 of you ... as a couple.

Most probably, the partner will accept you just as you are ... but only till one day when ... will say “Enough!”

Don't be a selfish person ... just be a loving one.

He changed my life upside down!

Since ever I met this guy, my life changed upside down! I'm going through better transformation in my life. It's a beautiful changes, with more happiness, pleasant moments start to occupy on my way.

The life I dreamt before! My dreams are get manifested? Everything as I wish before is happening in my life.

Meanwhile at this aged, this man decide to choose me! He wants to settled down stable relationship with me! As I'm so reliable and honest all this while, he get attracted to my characters!

I have told him about my past, before the beginning I have to end up my Ex relationship legally. He make sure that I make my own decisions, as he don't want to juggling with anyone or any matter over here.

Therefore, he said he will be there no matter what. Decisions is just on my hand!

So, I have decided to end up been single lady, and begin new fresh life! It's not bout me alone, of coz its all about my beloved son too. He loves to been in a family. He wants siblings, fatherly man guide for him.

He not only loving me, but my son too. He spend quality of time with him as well. Both spend time on playing games, talking through video calls and so on. After so long, we get a championship with someone who is loveable, respect and caring us.

The more we talked the more he get to know about us, like us. I always thought it only happens to those who are lucky! Or it will happen 1 in 1000000. And now, I really thank God for the good things reach me, all the things happened for a reasons. And I'm so grateful for his love!

My love, he so faithful, loving, caring and hardworking person. Very spiritual and believe in God as I am. He might rich but still he follows traditional manner, and everything he wants happened in traditional way too.

He is my king coz he treats me as his empress queen! He freaking love with me! But I surrender to God.

I don't know whether this new beginning will lead for, or go how far! Of coz I deserve better life, loved by someone special! Should I miss this super good kisser in my life? Let's see the flow

"If you are not decided which one to choose, between me and her ... don't bother to choose me"

She was in love ... of a person that belonged to someone else.
In the beginning she accepted things just as they were ... but later on she realised that life is short and should spend it ... only in the direction the heart was whispering her.

She needed to be patience, but at one point refused to continue doing that.
Was believing in them as a couple ... but unfortunately he was too confused and was delaying everything for months.

One day she understood that his indecision was only the result of the fact that he just liked living in 2 worlds ... having 2 lives in the same time.

It was not a correct decision ... but this was the truth.

He loved her ... and even a lot ... but in the same time he was not choosing her.
Everything had been delayed till the day when she stoped asking him to choose her ... and in fact to not even bother to do it.

You see ... asking someone to choose between you and another person ... the decision itself might be the decision of changing his life completely and that might be uncomfortable or even scary for that person.

Even if he likes you ... or even loves you ... it's not you the problem and it's not that he prefers the other person but the past and the present means the confort zone ... and the future ... even if might be a beautiful one ... might look as strange path to follow.

Looks like annoying to see a man that does not know to decide which of 2 women should represent his life ... but changing life completely is not a decision that everybody can take.

And there is a saying "whatever you are not changing, you are choosing".

Letting him choose ... that he is not changing his life ... and telling him as not even bother to choose her ... was the best lesson she could teach him.

The change is not for everybody.

Accepting that and continuing your life ... on another path ... with someone else is sometimes the only option.

A red rose

They were in love by almost 2 years, but he never gave her a present ... not even on her birthday.

He could give her any present she would love to have ... but somehow he did nothing about that.

It was like he was ignoring that she would love to receive something beautiful from him.

But all this time he was connected with her and loved her in a way she never felt before.

Kissing ... or simple touching her was giving her sensations she never had till the day she met him.

She was a mature woman and wanted to see real facts from him, but she was also delaying everything ... and meantime was enjoying the love story with him.

It was difficult for her to understand why he never came at her with a flower, but in the end she realised that all she wanted from him was his infinite love ... even if she adored, like any other woman, to receive presents from time to time.

Her mother and few friends asked her one day how is it possible to be in a love story with a guy that could buy all kinds of presents, maybe even daily, but he was never interested about that.

One day before Valentine's Day, he came with a red rose, kissed her and whispered her again "Would you marry me?!"

It was the last meeting before the end of the story.

He adored her and did not want to let her follow her path, but she also liked that he was always coming back into her arms .. even if lately she told him so many times .. "go away".

She was amazed that he finally came with a flower at her but also felt in her heart that this is the last time they will meet.

Unfortunately, just like the guy with the red rose, we do not know how to act when we are on the stage of the love story.

Maybe we should read books about the subject ... or maybe the actual story is a lesson, so that we will be prepared for the next story.

HIS LOVE. HER FANTASY

A collection of love essays

And maybe a gift for her, does not mean a ring with diamonds but a simple red rose.

Just remember that e everything will come from you ... will make her happy ... and the whole meaning of the love story is to make her be again a beautiful happy soul.

Leaving

Are u leaving forever?!
Nooo ... my dear! Only the train is leaving.
My soul will remain with you"

He decided to leave for a while.
Was in the train and the train was leaving... and she did not knew if he was leaving forever or not.
Leaving for a while was the only trick he could do so that she understand the fact that negotiation must not be part of a love story.
Instead of deciding to follow the harmony path, they broke up tens of times, lied and even cheated each other.
Instead of enjoying a love story that was a great one ... she only tried to dominate the situation in a useless way.
He was the kind of the guy that knew very well what means domination, lying, cheating ... and destroying the harmony from a relationship.
He did all of these in the past.
Was disliking the fact that even if everything was actually perfect, she could still think of adding those things to their story.
Explaining her was useless.
Once he tried to explain that nothing can brake their story ... not even lies, cheating or the stupid need of domination.
Wanted to say the whole truth ... but even if he felt everything what was happening and was sure on what he was saying ... in one point he realised that he has to wait for long the day she is going to understand and accept the fact that they lived the perfect love story.
Maybe this is what it was about.
She was a beautiful lady, but a little bit unlucky.
Life offered her all kinds of lessons ... and the solution at that time was only reacting in that way.
Seeing a perfect story, but having all those bad habits from her past ... she forced the story follow the silly path of domination instead of harmony.
The fact that he was leaving, not knowing exactly if he was doing this just for a while ... was only to let her have time for understanding that they were the perfect couple.

But she could not believe she was so lucky today.

He let his soul at her ... just to feel him anytime will miss his presence.

And the train left ... and the love story remained just a memory ... a very beautiful one.

He wanted to come back only in the day she will believe in them as a couple with no need of lying, cheating or domination.

I love you, that's the one thing matter for me.

He meant everything for me! That's why I am always available whenever you call! But as woman, I do expect lovely messages from you too. Calls, I can save it, but messages I can read it back!

Why it's so difficult to type me messages? Not even good morning message or good night message! I want to merrily reply your messages but you not replying either.

Each time seeing a lovely message I wanted to forward to you, but u don't read it! You have no time. In fact you will ask me to tell directly the message.

I missing you so much. Sometimes only through my writings you can feel my feelings towards you.

Of coz I miss you voice, face that's we used to chat in video calls. But give me a chance to send you SMS and reply from you.

Every man are different and you style is totally different dear. But let me be the old school gal, I just want to receive a message from you.

HIS LOVE. HER FANTASY

A collection of love essays

My dear love,

I am still hoping that everything will be ok.

I'd like to look at you and leave you alone ... but I don't think I can.

You want to do the same thing ... and it clearly doesn't work out.

We hide the fact that we love each other.

I look at my actions ... and it's clear that I love you, but I hide that I love you ... I just love you secretly.

I look at you ... do you want me to believe how you drive me away with your eternal "please leave my life silently ... but not forever"?

The cruel truth is that WE ARE IN LOVE.

Like it or not ... that's the truth.

We hide it like naive people ... every day ... through everything we do ... but ... every day the truth comes out.

I'm bored of lying that I don't love you.

I'm bored to see you ... how you want to move away from you and when I get closer to you ... you lose control on everything.

My dear ... the truth is cruel.

We love each other ... and we can't breathe one without the other.

#adriangdumitru

Seeing her again ...

Months ago she was mad on me.

I only accidentally met her in traffic, but only 1 or 2 seconds i could watch her.

She never looked at me ... she was too mad to look at me again.

Was disappointed ... by me, but also by us.

We had a great love story together ... but we just got lost.

But later on, the story continued.

We realised that even if we live an imposible love story, we are soul mates.

The story itself it was imposible, but nothing could stop us be again together.

We broke up 100 times ... but in the end we understood that is actually imposible to brake up ... and we decided to enjoy the love story together.

I knew she was the love of my life, not when she was kissing me ...or she was telling me one million times that she loves me ... and i adored that ... but when she was mad on me.

At that time ... seeing her for just 1 second ... it was like magic.

I was happy and unhappy in the same time ... but i knew that i love her a lot.

Soon ... we will celebrate 2 years of the imposible love story ... and we will probably continue for another 50 years more, even if some other people from our lives, don't agree with us.

Today we are ok, but i could see her again few hours ago for only one or two seconds.

I was missing her a lot, cause i did not saw her in the last few days.

I wanted to hug her ... to kiss her ... and to whisper how much much i love her.

But today ... it was imposible to do that.

We met into a supermarket, close to her house, she was with her family ... and too many people around so that i could express my love with no fear.

I left the shop, cause i could not stop myself.

I wanted her do much ... but i left.

Only few seconds ... made me feel in a way i never imagined i could feel.

This time she was not mad on me.

She was mad ... cause she could not enjoy the fact that i am in front of her eyes.

I asked her ... to not worry ... cause our time will come ... but still she was unhappy.

HIS LOVE. HER FANTASY

A collection of love essays

It is funny cause with some people we spend years and we really don't care about this, but with others ... especially if it is the soul mate ... few seconds means a lot.

But we should be grateful to the Universe ... cause offered us today a moment of being together.

The first kissing day

We thought we are met for business purposes. To upgrade our life and achieve our goals! Both of us dream the same, aim the same! The best part is passionate! He always mirroring me! He knows my feelings better than anyone!

He can't deny anymore that he likes me very much! He attracted to me! He loves the way who I am. There are times I saw he stunning while I'm sharing my ideas! Meanwhile, definitely I attracted him too! His masculine own way! The way he give respect, motivate me, in fact support in all my undertakings!

He offered to send me home, because I have to call Grab otherwise. He drove me home! We reached my house but he didn't stopped the car. Wonder what happened, I asked him, if there's anything wrong.. He said, yes dear, I need to talk to you! With my fast heart beat I said, we just spent time on talking. He parked his car near the park, which just nearby to my house.

I felt my heart beats very fast. I knew it's something going to happen today. Without hesitation, he grab my cold hands. I just feel so warmth of his hands, but getting heat as he started to rubbing my hands gently.

The cool air conditioning car felt so heavy. My heart continue to pump fast! Not sure what's going to happen in next seconds.

He started to talk. He directly proposed me! He said, that he truly, sincerely, deeply in love with me! I felt to cry loud. I'm happy such a gentleman can fall in love for me?

I just said yes to him! With my permission he started to kiss my lips, made warmth, wet lip kisses! Make my whole world turn upside down! Just hoping he won't stop kissing me!

The first kiss on our special remarkable day! He made the day beautiful, memorable. We are waiting for the universe to gives us permission to next step!

“When everything ended ... we fell in love again ... even much stronger than the first time.”

Truth is that being in love means also being blind and not see the real personality of your partner.

You see only the beautiful part of that person.

Later on, time and the difficult situations reveals the other part of your partner.

You see that the same person starts to act in a different way and that things changed a lot.

You also cannot believe and accept the change, but you want to continue.

You used to think that you met a person that is defined in a specific way and this is how things will remain forever.

Actually, when we are in love, we change a lot.

We show only the beautiful part of us.

Then, after a while everything becomes just normal ... and we start being again the person we used to be, before we fell in love.

And the love story becomes a simple relationship, just as other relationships, but not the great love story that it used to be when you first met.

And there are lots of people that sometimes just end everything ... when they see that the story is not anymore what it looked like to be.

Yeesss ... we get lost ... and we end up ... having again a simple boring life ... just as we used to have in the past.

Seeing the end of the story can make you decide if you just stop being a character into a fairy tale ... or remember that in a real love story everything must be ... just like in the first day.

The fact that the person that loves you so much, makes you shine like a star ... be a positive person, show to the world only the good part of you ... is something you must keep in mind all the time ... as being the perfect script of your life.

If you decide to stop the story, going back to the normal life, being again a person that does not shine ... is just a silly decision.

Or maybe you decide as when everything ends ... you fall in love again ... even much stronger than the first time.

“Fuck it!
It is the perfect story.
I have no way out!”

I know a very beautiful lady, brunette ... with a very beautiful smile.
If you would see her ... you would certainly fall in love in the next moment.
I already know her by almost 2 years, but don't know her age.
All i know is that when she is sad, she looks close to 40 ... but when she smiles, she looks of 20.
She dresses in a fancy way, she drives a beautiful car and i always thought of her as the perfect prototype of woman that a mature man would love to have.
I like her a lot ... but i am not a mature man, so i am not dreaming of her anymore.
But she is in love with a lost soul.
She loves him a lot ... but she keeps wondering what can she do with a guy that does not know how to deal with a determined lady.
She gave him one million chances, but the guy does not live on this planet.
Except infinitely loving her ... he doesn't know to do anything else.
But ... he writes her love letters everyday.
He lives in a perfect universe that has only 2 beings in there ... him and her.
They are extremely happy in that world, but after she leaves ... she is ruined emotionally.
She feels that the guy is the love story of her life and she wants to have him in the real world.
But the guy is like a statue.
He never leaves that place from the parallel universe, cause living in there is fantastic.

It all looks like an illusion ... but being in there is the only time when they feel happy.

She feels crazy about the whole situation ... cause she understood this is the perfect love story and she has no way out.
She is deeply in love with a lost soul ... and can't find any path for them.

HIS LOVE. HER FANTASY

A collection of love essays

She even asked me what to do ... cause if she leaves the story, she is going to be very unhappy ... but if she stays in the story she actually can't have him in the real life.

I smiled to her ... and said ..." just enjoy the story ... there is no real world ... and if there is one ... that is the one where you feel happy!"

Love is beautiful ...

Love is beautiful when two souls meet together! They united in love. No matter how far is the kilometers! 6074km just a number he said!

It's beautiful to know that,there someone waiting for my call! 5hrs timing difference between our countries. But we always managed to spend quality of time together!

We can give thousands of reasons to avoid someone but only one reason to keep on touch! And that's love!

It's rare for a businessman busy for dating! Money minded always goes for money. But, he spent time whenever he gets a chance!

No matter how busy he was, how tired he was, still he call and make me smile!

Seems my smile make his day 😊

His words may looks sweetness but he really genuine person too! He never gave up on me, and never let me go.

He wants to stay forever with me. He wants to built his own family with me. He don't want me to suffer In my life anymore.

Been typical Asian Indian man, he want his wife to be his homemaker. A wife who on duty for the husband himself, and his kids.

These are his 42th birthday wish! Let's see what the universal prepared for him!

Happy birthday dear G

Abstract love

In the morning it is the perfect love story.
In the afternoon ... she blocks me everywhere.
In the night, i ask her to marry me ... forgetting that we are already married.
... but she says "Yes!"

A friend of mine from Paris, wrote me the other day, telling me about his abstract love story ... he is involved in.

In fact, he was always in love ... but this time he finds no way of ending the story.

The word abstract defines the best their love.

She loves him.

He loves her.

They can't live one without another.

But the problem is that they met too late in life ... they are already married and their love story looks like an imposible one.

Every 2-3 day they brake up ... and then, after seeing again ... they realise that they are soul mates and can't brake up.

And they do this by months.

They tried everything.

They blocked each other, they said ugly words one to another ... and they even cheated each other.

Nothing worked ... so that they just end their imposible love story.

But what happens, when they meet ... they just feel the infinite.

It all looks like a curse ... cause they can't ve togheter in the real world, but can't break up either.

They could write a book about how you could brake up.

Could be a best seller with on million sollutions ... but no one worked for them.

So, my friend asked me ... what can you do when you live such a beautiful curse?!

I wrote him back ... "Try to be grateful that you met her ... and she should do the same.

HIS LOVE. HER FANTASY

A collection of love essays

Indeed, you met too late, but having the infinite when you are together ... is the most beautiful gift you could ever receive in this life.

Don't lose her ... and just enjoy the curse of being in love together!"

"And then one day, there was YOU."

We live our lives in such a dogmatic way.

We have so many dreams, plans and desires ... and the biggest problem that we really have ... is that after years of work ... everything is accomplished.

And that is the moment when we realise that we have everything, but actually have nothing.

In the real world everything is just as we planned.

Inside of us there is a huge gap.

We see that emptiness that nothing and nobody can ... at least hide ... to not see it so often.

We feel lost in an Universe that we totally dislike.

"And then one day, there was YOU."

She appears from nowhere ... she wants nothing but love you ... and you to love her.

And then ... you feel lost again.

Between having "everything" ... but nothing to satisfy you ... and actually ... daring to live a beautiful illusion ... you don't know what to do.

All your dreams and plans are accomplished and on the other hand she is the only one that added some joy to your life ... so that your soul ... at least not look so empty as it used to look like.

You have the infinite ... the way you defined it ... but you still ask yourself if everything is just an illusion.

Yeeess ... it is an illusion ... but a beautiful one and you should enjoy it.

Maybe the whole meaning of life is learning to see the beautiful side of the story. and live it ... just the way it is!

The Princess ... The Castle

The Love Story ...the perfect script for a fairy tale

We have an addiction for stories since we are little kids and parents tell us different kind of stories with princesses, magic castles, the impossible love story between a prince and a princess, etc etc.

All of us know those stories.

We all heard them many, many times in the childhood.

Later on, we start life and we miss those stories.

The desire of hearing the story is now the desire of meeting the story.

And you dare to start dreaming at a fairy tale for your life.

But you don't want a simple love story, you dream for an impossible story so that it looks like the ones from the stories you heard when you were a kid.

And this is why you fall in love with someone that lives far away from you, or by a married person or you are married, can't divorce, and you fall in love of a person that is 20 years younger ... and many, many other similar scenarios.

Whatever it is ... the story looks like an impossible one.

The old addiction for fairy tales is running your life and there is NOTHING you can do about that.

One day, you think you woke up, live with the illusion that you are a mature person today and you close the impossible love story.

The next day, you wake up, feel again empty inside of your soul and you do what?!

You start looking for the next fairy tale.

You don't smoke, you don't drink, you don't take drugs ... you look like a normal person, with no addiction at all ... but you love to consume fairy tales from time to time.

You cannot survive without them.

Is there any chance to stop this addiction?!

Well ... even the people taking drugs ... some of them ... succeed to end their addiction.

But only if they find someone in their life to offer them infinite love and ... infinite understanding.

HIS LOVE. HER FANTASY

A collection of love essays

The day you will see that the addiction is NOTHING than an illusion, that is the day of awakening ... the day you can live into the real world.
Don't look for fairy tales ... dare to enjoy the real life.

We are in love

He loves me so much. I love him the maximum. We are in love!

He spent his whole day with me. It's quite hectic busy days for a professionalist man as he need lots of concentration yet he spare time for me.

How come we are connected the whole day and we still have topics to talk 😊 we love to talk, he goes for a long drive and he will show me his country!

We loves to talk secretly when there people around him. Loves to see his reaction whenever I tease him. He quite well maintained masculine man 😊 he won't give up easily ever.

We don't know how far out relationship will grow. Especially during this pandemic, he quite loss in his business till one of the property had sold out. But this strong hero, he work so hard. As we are always in video call I can see his works, how it conduct his workers to do the job.

He used to get tips of amount for his work. He deserves it. He deserves praises for his works. I always praise his work,

He gets excited and encourage, but naturally he is self motivated person.

That's why I like him so much. He don't need my support he said. But, enough seeing me smiling his wish.

Hope he will rise up in his business again. Business losses were his stress and I'm the stress relief pills for him. Of coz there are times he stressed and disconnected the line angrily. But after calm down, he will call and cooing me ready. I love that, I can't show him angry face anymore.

I love him because he know how to handle me. My emotions, moods. He loves me because he never get such love, an affections before. The rest we surrender to God, Let the universal take care of the flow of this relationship.

A real story about stolen hearts
Being in a prison in Genoa, Italy, promising God he will never steal again

A young handsome guy, the idol of many beautiful ladies, was in jail in Genoa, Italy ... for being a thief.

He was very mad.

One day, he understood that only God could help him go out of the prison sooner, and started to pray.

And he prayed for many days in a row ... and then he continued for weeks.

One day, when he was praying God appeared and asked him:

"What can i do for you my son?!"

"God ... i beg you ... take me out of this prison and i promise you ... i will never steal in my life"

And God replies ... "Are you sure about this?!"

The handsome guy say "Yes God ... i promise you, i will never do that again... but just take me out"

God smiled to him and said "Ok my son. I will do this for you, but in case you will do it again, i will steal from you what you love most in life".

Soon after, the guy went out of jail.

He was so, so happy being free again.

He stoped stealing from other people and became an important businessman in his town.

Everything was ok cause he never stole since he left Genoa.

But there is a saying ... a thief is just a thief and will die as a thief.

Lots of ladies loved him, and he always was stealing there hearts, forgetting about the understanding he had with God.

God forgave him again and again for many, many years ... till one day when he sent a guy to steal the heart of his wife.

She was falling in love with that guy and could not forget him no matter what he was doing.

The love story continued for months and the guy was appearing and disappearing again and again and again.

And was doing this for months.

HIS LOVE. HER FANTASY

A collection of love essays

Situation became even worst ... his wife told him the truth ..that she is in love and can't stop loving that guy.

But the guy ... was not stealing her for real ... he was only taking her for short times and then he was taking her back.

He only wanted her heart and her soul.

... NOTHING else.

It was almost as a curse, till the ex prisoner from Genoa remembered his understanding with God, that he needed stop stealing.

But you know ... there are many ways to steal and many ways in how we can act stupid in life, pretending we are playing in the right way, but we cannot fool God. Respect the laws of the Universe and NOTHING bad will happen.

Amazing feel the unity of our two souls

Every day I fall more in love with you my Love, Amazing feel the unity of our two souls, that have journey through time, space for each other together.
We are only rich of love, there is no space for hatred, negative emotions. There's no space for negativity! But we create more positive vibes for us! We both are spiritually connected. We trust in almighty God.
We don't mind mind about tomorrow. Because we don't know we will wake up or not? So we're enjoying each seconds of life God has given to us! We are living in present.
You give me a reason to fall, Fall in your love! I couldn't love anyone else as this before!
You are the reason the world is bright, but it goes dark when you are out of my sight that's why I always need you by my side.
My own world king, my hero! I love you always till to the end of my days

#anniepdavid

I mean it!

'I love you' , "I miss you " are maybe the three simple words my love. But, the meaning is too deep. I really meant it from bottom of my heart!

Love is a feeling which is felt from heart. There are no logics or weep.

When I say I love you, I mean it from my heart.

It is not now, it is not today, was right from the beginning! From the moment I fall for you.. That's the day I have decided, you are the one I want to spend my whole life with.

You are in my every thought, running in my mind!

When you are not around, I feel gloomy.

I just wanna be with you all the time, by the day. Love you and miss you honey!

The more I see you my love, the more I fall for you. With each passing night and day, my love has only grew. Since the time I met you, I knew it was you. Why do I feel so passionate when I am with you?

I still remember that moment, when I first saw you. That instance and moment, I knew that you are the one for me. The passion in your eyes, the radiance on my face, your look made me blush.

Time has surely passed, but you are still the same for me. With time I love you more like I always did.

I am thankful to you; you made my life such a wonderful place. I love myself, because I am in your space. Darling, I want you to know that you are my life's most beautiful feeling. And, I would like to make you remember something, that I am yours.

I love you and I miss you always even when I sleep you are in my dreams!

Because you're in me, my soul!

"I know what you've done last summer!"
The moment when you need to accept that the love story was only an illusion.

A philosopher is telling everybody that everything we see is only an illusion and if you take the illusion as something real, not recognizing what it really is, in the end it will all become a desillusion.

But the difference between a real priest and a philosopher is that the first one refuses to taste the illusions of life, but the second one is tasting from all the illusions life can offer ... just to understand better what is all about.

But even the illusion that we can enjoy the illusion and believe we are stronger than it is only a lie.

Actually ... a philosopher even he is knows the truth about what is life about, still want to enjoy it.

It is the believe that ... we should give it a try and see if maybe ... this theory is wrong.

The priest has a dogmatic thinking.

He will accept the theory just as it is.

But the philosopher, studying and studying again ... just can't accept the things as they were presented to him.

After reading thousands of books, he thinks he is smarter than all the other philosophers from the past.

And one day the Universe starts to laugh of his ideas.

A beautiful lady appears in the life of the silly philosopher.

He falls in love.

She falls in love.

They have an infinite connection together.

He starts to believe in a new theory, that if it is infinite connection ... then is not an illusion, but an absolute value from their lives ... just as God is.

And the Universe is again laughing hearing this theory, but let the chapter of the love story goes on.

The story between the philosopher and the beautiful lady continues for months, till one day when he finds out that she cheated on him not once ... but twice ...

HIS LOVE. HER FANTASY

A collection of love essays with a friend of her and also with one of his friend.

He could not believe it.

His new theory collapsed ... and in front of the Universe, he needed to accept that any illusion is just a desillusion.

He tells the beautiful lady that he knows what she did last summer, but even if she dislikes speaking about illusions and desillusions ... she replies that the illusion is only in his mind.

And indeed ... the illusion was only in his mind. Seeing NOTHING as something very important is the illusion itself.

Spread love ... no hate

Everyone have a dream. We love to live in a dreamland. We have our own loved ones alone in our dreamland. We live the way we wanted to be in our dream world.

But how far it's true? Real?

The sametime how many of us appreciate for what we have? We don't be grateful for whatever we have, who ever in our come and go for reasons, and some just take us for granted.

But whatever it is, we just show them love, some of them behave vulnerable to us, they lack of love since their childhood.

Some harmful to others coz they brought up in broken family, lack of discipline, care and love.

As human beings here, we are living together, we try to help if we can do otherwise we mind our own business.

We try to keep silence rather throwing words hurt others.

Our words should calm, encourage, inspired others. Otherwise, better don't open mouth unless it's necessary.

No one here to judge anyone, let God judge us. We just keep silence and workout for them to become better person.

Love can change anyone, our surroundings, our environment. Try to spread love, no hate

"I miss meeting you for the first time"
... when you see the future just by writing her
... already knowing she is a beautiful soul.

One day, you meet a very beautiful lady over social media, and somehow you start chatting with her.

And you write for hours.

At the end of the day, you realise you wrote a novel together and you already know she is a beautiful soul.

But, she is polite and is asking what if she is not what looks like.

You are already connected with her and can't wait to meet in the real life.

You could also say, seeing the future, that you miss seeing her for the first time.

And you start dreaming about the first meeting ... first kiss ... first touch ... first time of infinite connection.

You ask yourself ... "Am i dreaming?!"

It's free to dream ... but you always had this dream of meeting a beautiful soul with a beautiful smile.

Can it be real?!

Maybe ... why not?

But in the end, you have nothing to loose.

What can happen?!

You can meet her, dance, smile ... and worst case scenario ... you could fall in love one of another.

But it will be NOTHING wrong.

You will enjoy a beautiful chapter of your life.

#adriangdumitru

I miss him so much! But he never!

This man showering me with his unconditional love! He cared me so much.
Buzzing me like non stop rain!

He wanted to with me all the time. How difficult for a professional career man to spend more time with his love? He do the max,till the next day! So wise dividing time between personal and career!

He never get enough of me. He regret we didn't meet earlier. Yeah! We in our forties but our souls are full of love so and bright. So he doesn't want to waste our time! But to spend time getting older together!

Everyday we were talking but never get tired of talking to each other! In fact we craving for each other! Just like other couples we do argue, of cause it's because I'm hot tempered and no patience at all but he always flexible man!

I'm the one who don't trust in anyone, especially men. I trust only men in my family!

This man said he would be one of them!

He always asked about my father, brothers, and their characters. He always try to be the best man as he can.

The best part is, I don't need to explain my feelings for him. He can tell about it before I tell him.

He is mirrors my own image. He loves his family as I love my family too. He give first place to God as I prayed all this while. He is my comforter whenever I'm suffering in pain!

He learned about my disease, pain management for body. But trust me, he is my best pain killer😁😁 and that's I fall in love with him. I wanted to be with him.

Even we talked for the whole day and night I still miss him! When I said I missed him so much he replied, I don't know how to miss you!

I only know to kiss you!

Sealed with kisses❤️

#anniepdavid

You've done nothing ...

"Have you ever done anything for us?!" ... she asked.

"Let me answer for you ... You've done NOTHING".

...he replies

"I've done NOTHING ... but i loved you a lot. Isn't that enough?!"

Jumping from where we are today, to where we want to be into the future, trying to redefine completely our love story, we come up with a very long list of things that we need to change so that the relationship will become a better version of what it is.

And changing the script looks like a good plan.

Discussing with the partner, the new way in how the story will continue to look like ...we see again the hope and maybe the joy of being together.

But inside of us we only have one simple plan ... jump from being unhappy to being happy ... and we end up only hoping we will not be unhappy anymore.

All we see now is a great love story that has the signs of emotional bankruptcy. Everything is ruined.

And we believe it had happened because we did NOTHING as things to be great again.

If i would ask what had to be done, you would have no answer, because everything happened was that you were blinded by love.

And the day you are blinded by the love from your soul, you spend your days only dreaming and enjoying the love story, but NOTHING else.

It all becomes an obsession, of staying into the love story and not losing the love story.

Everything you do ...is just living and tasting the story you have together.

The past had gone and the future does not exist ... but only the present is real.

And the present itself means the beauty of the great story you have together.

This is why doing NOTHING can be also part of the script, especially if you only focus on living the joy of being a couple, in a unique chapter of your life.

I think that if it is real love, and you love a lot your partner, most probably that is enough.

#adriangdumitru

The CURSE of being in love.
You are not completely in the story
... but not completely out of the story

Have you ever wondered what is really going on when you are in such situation?!

I mean ... in the end it all looks like a real curse.

But what is it about?!

Is it a curse or a lesson?

Why you stay for a while in the story, then you are sent away from the story ... as in the end to be recalled ... and this is like a circle ... happening on and on and on.

It's like the chaos it running the show but still you are the main character from the script.

Your mind tells you ... get out of the way, but your heart is telling you that you should enjoy it.

And this is exactly what you do ... get out of the story, then come back and enjoy the story.

And everything becomes a habbit.

But why?!

Because you live in 2 totally different worlds.

In one, the love story is real.

In the other one, the story is seen just as an illusion.

The same story ... different way of seeing it ... but seen by the same 2 persons.

One day you decide to stop this chaos of jumping all day long between the real world and the fantasy.

And we even think it stoped forever.

But we love the chaos, we like playing around with situations and words ... telling "i love you" and then "i hate you!" .

And then we see that what we thought it's a curse, it's only a game for adults, that forgot to grow up.

2 people acting as kids of 12 years old, asking for something and then changing their minds.

And they even love this game, cause they know it will never end and it's fun.

HIS LOVE. HER FANTASY

A collection of love essays

"I will block you.

I will dissapear ... but i will just reappear again, cause i fact i love you.

I only have moments when you drive me crazy and i hate you ... but bottom line ... i probably can say that i love you.

And statistically ... we will restart again, because we just act as the wheater.

Today is raining, tomorrow is snowing or maybe it is a shiny day again."

So ... the real conclusion is that is too much to call it a "curse" ... and if we dare to tell the truth everything is NOTHING that a game.

We should just stop ... and only enjoy the love story.

Cause love can heal our souls.

Love based on you looks!

It's all about beauty in a relationship? Looks very important? But If you love a person you will definitely won't be bothering their looks or appearance!

I'm not that beautiful but he always telling me that he attractive! He find that in so special! He dig me out of the mud! He knows me well! He know how to handle this bom not to blast!

Is it love based on appearance? But I fall for his character! The way he talked to me! The way he motivates me! Everything about him is like my dreaming prince! Love me for who I am! The way I look! They way I live! Everything will be change one day as we are getting older!

We are living this life only once, live it up to the max and spread love! Feel my love till my last breath.

#anniepdavid

The huge desire for her

And he said, whispering in his head, but speaking in the same time with her:

"I just want to see you again.

I want to gently touch you again.

I need to love you for hours.

I want to feel you again ... to see that you are real!"

And he opens his eyes and sees her.

The perfect illusion ... the one that conquered his mind, his soul ... his everything ... his whole being.

He cannot breath anyone. The air without the smell of her love has no value.

There is no reason to continue breathing it.

He infinitely wants her and she knows that.

But the illusion is hidden deep, deep inside his lost soul.

He is looking everywhere for her, but he just forget she was in there all the time.

All he needs to do is just whisper her the password ... "I LOVE YOU!" ... and the beautiful illusion will appear again on the scene of his life.

He becomes one with the huge desire for her.

And if he keeps asking himself if she is the love essay, the muse ... or a spirit that he can touch, enjoy and feel for real.

Yeesss ... love is NOTHING but a beautiful illusion, but how should be life without those illusions?!

Let your soul act wildly ... do whatever wants to do.

Let it dream of love.

Let it smell the love.

Let it enjoy the love even if you are sure if the love story is real or not.

There us NOTHING to do, but experience it.

HIS LOVE. HER FANTASY

A collection of love essays

I am his..

My life is so beautiful because you are living in it, You are too good to me to be honest! So caring, loving, you everything that I wanted!

You know that I love you,

Also know that I can't live without you,

I'm like drowning in you, through your love. Of course it's just an illusion, but your love creating my fantasy!

I can't stay without you now, Cant stop you running in my mind, thoughts.

I can't think of anything without you, Everything remind me you alone, love.

My love, for you I might be just one person in your life, but, for me you are the only one, my life, my world!

You only give me a clue, That what should I do, Coz I love you so much! Yeah it's growing deeper and deeper like the roots thirst for water under the ground! No one knows how deep down is my feelings towards you.

I'm happy when we both in touch. Gratefully, I'm so thankful for the technology we have now. Video calls, what's app messages, GIF, everything help us to express our feelings! Not exactly feeling as physical in real but somehow it's so helpful!

No matter how long we talk, how long we see each other, we never get bored! In fact we got lots and lots of other things to share, talk every second! We forget meaning of tiredness, sleeping hours, rest, yet we are still happy!

My love for you increasing day by day! My hormones are increasing without sweets, chocolate because you are so sweet! The way you handling me with care, make me fall for you everyday !

I love to see you, hear your heart beats, your annoying snoring as you fall sleep! I miss everything about you! I can't believe I have you in my life, but I believe in the Universe!

I know you are mine, one day we will unite together! We will share our love with our loved ones! That's where you will know that I am yours, and you are mine! We born for each other!

HIS LOVE. HER FANTASY

A collection of love essays

Each moment is like bliss,
Sealed with a loving kiss,
I know he won't let me to miss,

So ... we changed the password from
"I love you!" to ... "It is imposible to love you!"

We love imposible stories.

We adore them.

We would do anything in the world to live an imposible story even if it is an imposible love story.

Wanting what you cannot have ... makes the desire itself ... be the strongest emotion you could ever feel.

And you have it ... but you actually see that you have NOTHING for real.

Days are passing and you want it more and more, cause it is an obsession.

The love story takes you daily from infinite joy to a huge disappointment, on and on and on.

Is like if you want to feel the infinite, you must also accept everything comes after.

Disappointment is part of the game and is just a result of the fact that you have the infinite and then, after the end of the meeting ... you feel that everything is gone.

You need to understand that every love story has a password and if it is a great love story, the connection appears as an always "I love you!".

But later on ... when you feel that the infinite left you ... the password to your soul becomes "It is imposible to love you!".

Is like we play around with words ... it's posible ... it's imposible ... it's posible ... it's imposible.

To stop everything, to calm again your soul ... and feel the silence one more time in there ... you just need to believe in magic.

The magic is part of our lives, but it's invisible.

Only the soul can see it.

Don't think so much ... just say and feel it ... "I love you!" ... and remove from your vocabulary the word "imposible".

Dare to taste what looks like and imposible love story ... but also believe that one day it can be a story from the real life.

Reason of my love

Do you need a reason to love someone? Let the reason be Love!
We just met through social media media, among thorns there's roses too, dear!
I never chat with strangers online before. Internet full of scanners, cheaters, fake ID profiles and so on!
Chats, calls, video calls we get closer as if we know each other before?
Wonder like have I meet this guy before?
Looks like he is not my type of guy!
But we still was talking on video calls!
He so far from the part of world and connection going through between us!
The calls end up but he can't stop calling again and again!
I gave up on relationships but this idiot wants to start it from the beginning!
This thief stole my heart!
It was far distance relationship! There's no direct eye contact or physical touch!
Only communication.
His spend his maximum hours to be with me. The famous entrepreneur! Lawyers are liars the statement I tease all the time! It's my karma now? He such a golden wheel of fortune 🎡 while I'm very very unfortunated! I'm not stable, I left him because I have past.
We don't talk to each other but he contact me again! He reach me through our mutual friends! He wants reunion! His just said the reason is love! He said that he never ever get such love and affection the way I am and he felt for me!
Should I give him a chance? Does this relationship will be the same as the last? What happened if it's goes wrong?
Fear put aside, why not enjoy life with the loved ones? I just surrender it to God! Let the Universal take care of it!

The Obsession

It says that if it's still in your mind, it is worth taking the risks.

But what an obsession means when it comes to relationships and love?!

And how do we deal with an obsession?!

Being in love ... staying into an impossible love story ... still wanting something that is quite clear that you will not have ... it's an obsession.

You want to change the whole script ... then you forget everything ... do nothing for a while

... then do the opposite ... and just restart again and again.

You love, you are loved ... but everything is impossible to be a love story from the real world.

But the obsession is on both sides and is a huge obsession.

In the moment when you realise that you have everything, but you actually have nothing and on the other hand you have nothing, but you actually have everything ... the obsession becomes even stronger.

You wake up, having that repetitive thought into your mind ... you live the whole day thinking about the same ... then you asleep having the obsession in your dreams also.

When impossible love becomes an obsession ... there is no way you can end the story.

You even think about how you get out dead or alive, but just want to see the end.

But the end is not coming, cause the obsession is the one for the love itself.

The path?!

Maybe learn to take the risks.

Having nothing will not satisfy you ... not trying anything at all will let you be just a coward ... but not only in front of your partner, but also in front of the obsession.

And the obsession will reappear again and again and again.

Be afraid of nothing! Just dare to have what you really, really want!

#adriangdumitru

Block him!

Blocked him again! This is the last thing I do I thought! Hoping that, I won't contact him anymore ! I feel like I don't want him anymore but deep inside I missed him so much! He was love of my life.

I even can't get angry with him! I felt so much of love for him. I was very happy with him! We talk ed so foolish, craziest things! He is my puzzle! He complete me whenever I'm incomplete!

It's hurts me. Unblock him. Only after blocked him, every single words we talked before, our promises will pop up in my mind! Only then every words, every sweet memories with him will refresh in my mind!

Coz all memories still so fresh in my mind. It's all about our love grows well, When it was still new, everything was okay. Everything seems so sweet, honeymoon! It's was the perfect life I lived ever!.

But when something goes wrong, break promises? Betrayal ? No communicating? So busy? Busy with work? 24hrs? 48hrs? But it doesn't make sense right? Yet I trusted him. Believed in him! He might just given me a reason to avoid me but I don't care. I just keep calm. Coz I loved him.

Feel better block! Unfortunately my heart bleeding after block! Missing him so terribly like hell. Wants to see him again! I want him to come back to me!. Hear his voice. It just few seconds n that was disaster in my mind, thoughts, soul! I couldn't accept it!

I want to rebuild my love castle again! I want to be with him again. Of coz its not roses alone in the bed! But also together with its turns as well! He keep on doing the same thing! But how long u r going to be like this?

That fellow won't be calling me normally! But once he noticed that I blocked him, he try all alternative ways to get back me! He call using any other number to reach me out! For sure he will call me, not to talk! But to scold me back!

He will saying this words! Love is patience! I will tolerate with u coz I loved u, I just keep apart myself coz I'm busy but not to leave u ever! Bcoz no-one have loved me as u are my love!

The love in my heart, soul will blossom again !

It's all because I loved him! He is deep within my soul. Now I unblocked him again!

Statistics shows that we are unhappy ... but we could be

Yes, the truth about the modern society is that lots of people are unhappy. And most of them are people involved into relationships, even long time relationships.

You see ... people fall in love, start a relationship and end up being unhappy ... which is weird.

It's like starting a business and know that not after a long time, you will fail ... and be bankrupt.

But you know, even small businessmen are studying what business is about, get involved a lot, make smaller or bigger business plans and try to apply all those things into the business they have.

But almost all the unhappy people, if you ask themselves to define why they are unhappy, or if they ever tried to just redefine their relationship so that could be again a love story ... will give almost no answer, or if they answer they will explain to you for hours why the partner is not bringing the happiness inside their relationship.

Unhappy people don't even read articles over internet about what is the unhappiness, or how to save a relationship.

They just live the unhappiness.

Real love is about connecting the partner's energies, and form a new entity called ... the couple.

That new energy is the one that brings the happiness, the unhappiness and everything else comes from there.

To be happy while being involved into a relationship, is like wanting to be in good physical condition all the time.

You will need to be aware of what you eat, what you drink, go to the gym and respect a clear schedule for that all the time.

And after few months you can easily see the results.

The same in a relationship.

You will need to care, love, smile, spend quality time together and even keep a statistics of what happens everyday ... defining if was bad, ok, good or excellent.

HIS LOVE. HER FANTASY

A collection of love essays

Defining all the time, once a day what is happening and if you don't like what you see just redefine ... is a simple first step.

Because being happy is a choice ... but most probably you need a plan for that ... especially when you are into a relationship.

Dare to redefine everything as a love story.

#adriangdumitru

Day and night you are in my mind

You know what I have been thinking about you each night and day, Is there's anything you never know about me? Is there's any secrets between us? We are just open book! You know about me and I knew about you!
We can't explain how we feeling for each other! Sometimes we talk beyond our boundaries! But, not sure why it's happen to us!
We both share everything, laugh together! Share good and bad times together!
Are we friends? Are we lovers? We need each other all the time! He makes me cry but after that he will persuade me!
He make me angry but later I love his sorry kisses. He handles me like delegates flower! He care, show love that I want! And he giving more than what I need!
Wonder he is my best friend? I feel so comfort! He is just like my brothers who loves me but don't show it! Caring and support like my cousins! And love me like my parents! I seeing everyone's roles in one image! He complete my world!
I was lost once, but he helped me to find out me in myself! I hate myself for being who I am, but he loves me for everything who I am!
In fact, he always encourage and give me more supportive words to be successful person in my life!
I really don't know how to say,
But I love you much my hero! I feel like I am his heroine!

We found ourselves without searching
.... maybe we should not give up

We have dreams.

... and goals.

... and lots of purposes.

But what is the biggest desire we really have into that empty soul?!

We always look at the infinite list of desires ... but we just forget to look at the first position, which is actually the only one important.

The human soul needs love, 24 hour a day ... for the rest of life.

Love is like air ... you cannot touch it ... but you still can feel it when it comes inside you.

You can't see it ... but can't live without it.

Finding the love and realising it's the story of your life is amazing.

You dream for that love story, but did not search for it.

And now you think you should give up?!

So ... you had a dream ... the Universe transformed the dream into a real chapter from your life and now you just want as everything to end.

And we don't even know if it is a happy or an unhappy end.

Yes ... nobody really knows that.

But deep inside ... you still dare to care about the story you have together.

Everything in life is just a result of our choices.

Dream, receive and then act like you really care.

Just dreaming is not enough.

If the courage is missing ... you don't really care enough.

And if you care enough ... you just don't give up.

Quite simple!

#adriangdumitru

Very determined

Very determined she tells him:

"Please disappear!

If you ever get back, be a better version of your desires!

Dare to enjoy our story next time!"

... and she closed the conversation, but also blocked him after.

She did this many times into the past, but she was very, very determined now.

A real love story ... needs to be a great story, first of all!

When the things goes into the direction when everything is just bla, bla, bla ...

and you see both of them unhappy, for a long, long time, you actually understand that the whole management of the story was wrong.

Life is like a scene, we are the actors, but somehow we do not know to play the role, as we should play it.

But why?!

My believe is that in one point, we just lost the confidence that the love story, which for many times, looked like a fairy tale ... is real.

We disconnect from everything that happens and even from the person that we said so, so many times that we love a lot.

And that is the moment when our intuition stops telling us what to do, what to say and how to act.

The art of living in the present moment, without any fear inside the soul, is the one that can really save you.

The partner, from the love story, will like to see again that person ... that made her fall crazy in love.

Remember ... a real love story can be also named a great story ... otherwise we just speak about regular episodes from the boring daily life.

#adriangdumitru

Let's do it one more time!

You thought is a toxic relationship.

You thought that everything was a path to nowhere, and you decided to stop.

You also decided to delete all the lovely memories from your heart ... and forget about the whole story.

If was the love story of your life ... and as 2 idiots you made a plan to finish the story and not to enjoy it forever.

You were scared to death, cause deep inside you felt the infinite love ... on both sides.

And you came back to the real life ... forgot about fairy tales, love stories and others bla, bla, bla.

Became a zombie again ... a person that was not feeling alive.

After you lost the only chance of becoming alive ... you realise that you got back to the usual boring life.

Dogmatic ... normal ... yes ... means boring.

You was hurt, but you also had ben happy.

You had the infinite ... and you throw everything away, with no regret.

And for a moment you see that it was not toxic ... it was something different, that you could not understand.

The whole meaning was to be happy togheter in a lovely story.

The memories are in your heart and overwhelm you.

And for a second you think ... "Let's do it one more time!".

But all doors are closed now, the story ended and the life continued in a another direction.

Now, the real regret ... is that you lost the story of your life.

Yes ... life is about taking advantage of different opportunities.

What you have to do?!

Almost nothing difficult ... just to connect to the moment and enjoy it!

My rainbow, my sunshine

We had conversations the whole night.

Already ended the call but he call back. Again we decided to sleep first as needed to go for work the next day, but again he called. He said he wanted to be with me, not enough time spent with me.

At last we end the call... And he started to message me. He said, I miss u baby and replied miss you too sweetheart! Again another conversation starts from there!

He said, the only way to solve this issue is either one of us get transfer. To have more time, to hold hands, to get the touch, to feel everything.

Our love growing through video calls marathon on daily basis. Sweetheart, the more I see you my love, the more I fall for you. With each passing night and day, my love has only grew.

Since the time I met him, I knew it was he is the one for me. Why do I feel so passionate when I am with him? Because I love him so much , I love you so much baby. You are the reason I can smile back, you are my glue sticks on me!

We can't get much space (whole day spending together) except during my class hours, and small gaps for my family and friends time! We wish to have more then 24hours in a day!

Baby, thanks for coming into my life, and giving me a reason to smile. I always glow when you are with me, all the time and all the while. You're my rainbow that colours my life! You're sunshine that brightens my days! Baby I love myself, because you are in me!

#anniepdavid

A useless pseudo dramatic way of wasting your life

We have a huge disability of adapting ourselves in beautiful stories ... even when it comes to love stories.

Our overthinking is directed all the time in ugly scenarios.

We should also expect as good things to happen, but somehow we don't do it.

Even when everything runs perfect, we think that maybe it's too good to be true ... and most probably something bad will going to happen soon.

Overthinking at worst case scenarios is a disease, but at least we should admit it is part of our behavior.

How can you live into the opposite side ... and have a different behavior?!

First of all, you need to learn how to let your partner love you.

If it's a real love story ... real, real love ... you must just enjoy it.

Most probably someone that loves you, will never hurt you ... and even if that person does it, that's not done in purpose.

If you feel beloved ... dare to enjoy the feeling and forget about any negative scenario.

If something bad has to happen, it will hapen anyway ... but is not happening in this moment.

This is the time to enjoy the love story, not to live with fear inside the story ... the fear that it will end.

One of the meanings of a love relationship is to learn to live without negative emotions.

Love is a very powerful protection.

Love is everything.

The cliché that "love hurts" is just a silly idea.

If you really love someone and also feel beloved ... you should forget about the idiotic feeling of fear.

Real love can make you fearless.

Dare to feel beloved!

#adriangdumitru

"Hey Idiot! I love you!"

One day, a guy with a huge ego ... receives this sms, from a number he doesn't know.

Of course ... he knows where from the message is, even if he does not have the number in his iphone.

He actually deleted the number one day before.

Who could name him "idiot" and also tell him "i love you" ... except that magic smile ... that drives him crazy all the time?!

But we need to be honest ... she also made him happy so, so many times.

Is like living an illusion ... today is happiness and the day after .. the opposite is coming.

But what should be life ... without illusions?!

Most probably a boring way of surviving ... while staying on this planet.

And the guy, with a huge ego, is reading again the message ... even few times.

For a moment he could not decide if he should focus on "idiot" ... or "i love you!".

He is too proud to see only "i love you!".

But how was that girl ... when she admitted she loves him?!

Was she also proud?!

Had she a huge ego also?!

So i wonder if "idiot" + "proud" = "i love you!".

Do you think also the guy loves her?!

Well ... let me tell you the whole story.

He first blocked her and then he saw that she doesn't call or sms him.

Then, as any proud person, he deleted her number, so that he will not be tempted so that he will call or sms her.

So the "idiot" ... receives in the end the message ... but he is so "idiot" ... that he only sees the word "idiot" ... and he does not see that she loves him.

Being proud ... having a huge ego ... well ... maybe you should forget about love stories. It's just not something for you.

Maybe you should become a politician, even a successful one. And by the way ... you are an idiot.

#adriangdumitru

Perfect scene ... the characters are missing

They had everything arranged so that they could be together.

Their love was infinite.

Perfect chemistry.

And they ... failed.

They were blinds because of the love story.

They forget that we live in a real world ... and the real life has other rules to follow than a fairy tale.

So we wonder today, knowing the story, seeing everything as our own story ... why the characters are missing from this perfect scene?

All the ingredients of a beautiful story and the end is so silly?

If you ask what happened with them ... as a couple, they will not know what to say.

But they miss each other a lot ... knowing that they missed the story of their lives.

Yes ... being in love means to be blind, to act without knowing the path you follow.

You care about everything, but you see only the love ... and nothing more.

When the end is coming, when you realise that the Universe gave you everything you could ever imagine ... and you missed the chance ... it's almost impossible to describe the feelings from your soul.

You continue life.

And you still dream about the story.

Think about that perfect scene ... where the characters are missing and think once again ... if the Universe will give them one more chance.

Just one.

The last one ... they promise ... while praying.

My ex not my destiny!

My past, my ex, I thought he is my world, my everything. I live the my own way. I love him even he never love me, show me his care. Never supported in any ways, yet I just was waiting for the miracle to happen.

Till one-day, I realized that my ex, my past, the one I took vow with wasn't my soulmate. Wasn't who can be with me. He is not my destiny. So I need to move on!

That's the day when this hero entered my world! The answer to my prayers! It's my mirror, I'm seeing me in him! We have too many similarities needs, opinions, everything was like " hey I like it too! "

He was so perfect for me! My soul recognize him. I felt my hormones, body react towards him! As if we know each other before!

He loves me like a baby loves the mother! Like nothing else to compare with his love! His love changed my life! His enter open a new gateway for my life!

He ever the man I always want! The universe listening to my demands? He sent me this perfect masculine man, very spiritual and the most, God fearing person.

He is a lover man. He isn't good looking. Typical Indian man living in overseas. Doing his own business. Very well to do but haven't settle down yet!

He never find someone who can love him as much as I do! I'm not good looking enough lady with broken marriage in the past. But when meet him in the social media, not sure why I replied him and the conversation started from there!

We get attracted to each other like the magnets! We have our own weakness and can tolerate, flexible accordingly to our comfort!

Everyday, every second we spent time together as we both believe we already wasted years before! So now it's time for us to enjoy, live to the fullest!

I love u baby, my destiny! Thanks for the blessings in my life!

How you act in the moment when you feel you just lost everything
... just defines you as a person.

In any of the circumstances, being about business, love ... or just life ... is very important to know how to accept you lost and to continue the life after that.

Loosing the game is nothing so important as it looks like.

If you look behind ... into the past, you will see how many other battles you had lost.

But yes ... today you just lost the war.

I mean ... it s not you lost the game ... but the game is over.

Can you accept that?!

Can you see that this is the end of the script?!

It was a fabulous script about a love story, but nobody ever asked you how the story is going to end and you are angry ... very, very angry ... cause you haven't been asked either about the time when the story is going to end.

You call her ... and she calls you down.

She refuses to say back to you that she also loves you ... but you know the real truth ... and just don't want to accept the things ... just as they are.

Yes is difficult to accept when we loose someone we loved a lot ... is just like loosing part of our soul.

Pretending is easy ... is just lying yourself.

Accepting that everything came to an end ... is just part of the life itself, cause everything has a beginning, but also an end.

You cannot fight with the power of the Universe.

Is difficult to understand what and why is happening ... the way is happening.

Is also difficult to accept you lost the game ... but maybe ... just maybe ... you lost this time cause something better is expecting you.

Love is about
... daring to taste life

We try to live a life with certain rules and fulfilled with all kinds of dreams that we try to bring from our mind and soul to the real life.

Years are passing and even if you see into the present moment the things you accomplished ... you look into the past and see only the sacrifices had to be done. The art of having success is studied today by millions of people from all around the world ... maybe even by hundreds of millions.

Personal development is paying a lot of attention to this subject, but what people don't understand is that success is about getting what you really love ... and not about what you want only because you copy the success story that is presented today by the modern society.

If you try to mix the concept of love and success in the same time, you will probably get everything you ask from the Universe.

And if try to define the secret story in a different way ... is that success means getting something you love a lot ... and that real love is just about daring to taste life ... no matter what your dreams are.

One day, if it happens to you ... just dare to do it!

And if it is about a love story ... will help you a lot to be who you really want to be!

I'm not the one who give up easily! I'm born under the sign of Capricorn! That mountain goat! Won't give up on anything mean to me! Stubborn, independent and always wanted to achieve the best in life!

Love, communication between couple is their weapon! Protect both sides while transparency between us will keep us trustworthy, intimate, respect each other! Being a teacher, I can see how much I can do for my students. How can mould them well! Thanks to God for that ability! For the unique gift for me! I'm naturally been a teacher! To teach the world to put trust in God! Seeing I'm still surviving with this chronic disease I want you gain trust in God and his plan! I'm just His instrument playing my role, as teacher!

I want to teach you about life, happiness, acceptance, forgiveness living to the fullest! To empower, enrich your life! Through my experience, through my words, through my love, care I want to feel it! No matter how far you are! Where are you from! Which side of the world you are from! Our souls meant to be together! But first you should start talk! Talk from your heart! Being true to yourself. Tell me what, who you want to be! Tell your unspoken feelings, talk about your darkest part of your life! Darkness that lies heavily upon, unburden yourself baby, I'm here for you!

I'm someone who you love, you want in your life! I don't want you to regret it later! Opened up your soul and see what the universal prepared for you! Accept whats coming on your way!

HIS LOVE. HER FANTASY

A collection of love essays

I seriously believe that our path is fully guided by the Divine! It's gift from pur creator for everything we gone through patiently in the past!

The gift of spirit emerge to us! With all the thankfulness and gratitude open our hearts to receive it! Just let it into the flow, and the divine and his angels will guide us, take care of us!

Trust and listen to your heart! It always telling you the truth. If mind said something while heart saying something else, dictates of your heart, you will definitely going into the right path!

I already accepted whatever The universe given to me! Waves of sacred love are hitting me! Rain of love pouring into my heart! More grace, over flowing from my heart! Let's serve the world together! Be the role model for true love!

Let's together bring bright light to our life! Shine bright for both of goodness purposed! Let the Universe take care of us!

The answer to all her questions ... was "I LOVE YOU!"

Once upon a time there was a very determined woman, in love with a strange guy.
He was kind of a writer ... anyway quite lost.
She loved him a lot.
He loved her a lot also.
They were living a love story together.
Everything was perfect, except the thing that the guy was travelling on the way to nowhere ... having no meaning in life.
But he was in love with her.
She wanted as their love story to be into the real life, but he was doing nothing about that.
He was enjoying the love story, till one day when the lady said ... "stop, is enough!".
But to all her questions about what they should do ... hesitating ... he was answering all the time ... "I love you!".
He drove her crazy.
But, on the other side, the guy was meditating and he was thinking and thinking again... and then he wrote a story.
Each time he was doing the same.
He was so deep in love with her, that he just wanted to wait so that he gives her the right answer.
She loved him also ... could not believe in his words, but just loved when he was whispering on her ears "I love you!".
They lived into the love story for years, cause in the end only beautiful words are important into a love story.

You carry your soul in vain

We have a soul ... even a beautiful one, but don't know how to show it to the world.

We carry the soul with us, but everything is in vain.

One day ... our soul is falling in love ... with another beautiful soul ... and the magic happens.

We understand, that deep inside us, is something ... that we cannot be defined.

We knew something was in there ... but did not know what and why.

Then the soul starts being dominated by the strong feelings that come with the love story.

Again ... we ask ourselves and have no idea what is going on.

We are on the stage of life, but we act silly ... we try to improvise ... but still ... we don't even understand what is really going on.

Life should be easier, if everything should be just mechanic ... math ... with certain rules ... but pfff ... the soul has no rule.

It's quite difficult to really see what a soul means and what to do with it.

And we go on ... carrying a soul in vain.

Absence of love or level of chemistry less?

Most of the break-ups occur NOT because of the absence of love... Love is ALWAYS present there. Its just that the level of love present in one side is more than on the other one. ❤️

(Alex Sebastian David)

Love between two hearts will be remain there, till one spouse to keep it silence, or didn't work out. In the beginning, both side wanted to show their best, in the maximum happy mood enjoying the new relationship, discovering about each other. Everything was fun till someone get bored or neglect the other one.

There won't be fun anymore. No more stupid jokes. No more chit chat! Time spending together with the loved ones decreases while level of love fade too. Excitement of waiting for their calls, presences everything no more be seen in their relationship. But what to the other spouse who still keeping up their same spirit?

When the spouse realized the changes they do feel neglected by their loved ones. They feel rejected and disappointments!

The ultimate truth is, it's all done by someone who we really love, care, respect few days ago, few months ago, that is the love of our life! No one else can hurt other than our loved ones.

Communication between two hearts getting lesser day by day and soon it will disappear from their own radars! Can they continue life as normal as before? Or act as if nothing hurts them? Let the universal give them the answer! We just surrender it all to Almighty God!

A love story ... the therapy that helps you wake up with joy

Lonely people, even the non romantic ones are looking for relationships.

We dislike to be alone.

We are designed by God to stay in communities and with a life partner besides.

Being lonely means to stay only with you, but we don't find inside of us the energy that can make us wake up with joy in the morning.

Only a monk can survive being alone.

But you know why?!

Cause a monk has the Divinity inside of him.

He doesn't need anything else.

But ... we are looking for a clone of God to stay besides us and assume that will make us happy.

There are lots of ways to meet a new person that can become a life partner and all of them works if you just know how you connect with that person.

Nowadays also lots of people are using dating apps.

I made a test to see if this theory is true.

Created a fake account on Tinder and searched in my area.

I even had a perfect match, with a person I know, but it was not my case ... as I am married and she is an old friend.

Dating apps help a lot and interconnection with new people to date with is huge.

But nobody tells those people that they should look for a soul mate ... for a love story .. not just for a relationship.

What can the difference between be defined?!

Well ... quite easy: romantic relationships can be viewed as voluntary relationships between individuals who have intentions that each person will be a significant part of their ongoing lives ... but a love story means living a dream with the person you fall in love with.

We should ask for a love story and not just to have someone in our life.

The truth behind the truth with the dating apps is even worse ... is not that is a very small chance so that you will find a love story, but in the end you can only find a sexual relationship.

HIS LOVE. HER FANTASY

A collection of love essays

And that is happening all around the world.

We just dont know to define what can make us happy.

Ask to the Universe a person that can make you wake up with joy, and that will probably be a love story.

Love and the dance of our emotions

Yesterday you had been happy, today you are not ... and you cant even define the love story as a good or bad thing into your life.

Maybe keeping an excel sheet with daily reports about what happened and defining each day as a good, bad or excelent one, will help you understand better where you are.

But love is not math.

I mean your partner can drive you crazy for many days in a row, can hurt you a lot, can even betrayal or cheat on you ... but if the connection between you and that person is huge ... and you can feel the infinite near that person ... you will see yourself acting as a silly person, going back again each time in the arms of the loved one.

Yes ... you are not acting logically ... in fact you act very stupidlly ... but the huge desire to love and to be loved will not let you run away from an illogical situation.

Being in love is not always living a fairy tale.

Today you feel happy, tomorrow angry ... then you cry again feeling disappointed... and just seeing the smile of that person, for reasons difficult to understand, will make you again happy.

Even meeting that person for 2 minutes will make you happy ... or drive you crazy.

Being in love is a dance of contradictory emotions ... but this are the rules of the game ... if you want to be happy, you risk as tomorrow to be unhappy also.

And indeed ... falling in love is easy, staying in love is difficult.

#adriangdumitru

Handle me like delegates flower!

I'm very flexible to the ones who are good to me. I can tolerate with love if you are kind to me. So, as I told you before, handle me like nuclear bomb! Don't let me to blast on you!

I want to take in charge my life. I don't like anyone control other then me, unless for love! I love you, but doesn't mean that I don't love myself. I love myself, more than anything.

If you're mine, you will know how to handle me. You know how to drive me crazy! How to control in any other matters

Love hurts

Yesss sometimes real love hurts a lot.

Real love stories are always complicated.

And if they are simple ... we think everything is boring and we do them complicated.

We want to be happy, but besides that ... we also want lots of other silly things. Our ego is full of desires and some of those desires are not in full harmony with the love itself.

For example, a beautiful lady is having a huge desire of admiration.

She just love when other men are looking and admiring her ... even if it s nothing for real between her and the person that admires her.

The lady is very intelligent and understand that her desire for adminiration is contradictory with the love story ... but her ego wants both things.

The lady is also wise enough as she presents everything as simple ... normal facts.

But what is the truth?!

Can all those desires coexists into our lives??

Can the lady be into a beautiful love story, but in the same time also want as others men to look and admire her?!

I mean ... everything is posible, but in the end what we thought is a love story ... is just a simple relationship.

When we do things that hurt our partners, and most of the times we know it very, very well ... because we are not in the kindergarten ...we destroy the infinity between us.

Real love hurts a lot sometimes.

And when it hurts you just see that everything was just an illution and the love story is not a love story.

But life goes on.

Without synchronicity between our desires, you just loose the game.

The Universe can send to you the best partner in the world, the best love story ... but when you dont know to control your ego ... and let the desires define you ... this is when you change the status from love story to ... just another relationship.

I gave you just a silly example with the beautiful lady, but the message i have is

HIS LOVE. HER FANTASY

A collection of love essays

quite simple and this is just that there are moments in life when we should only follow the heart and forget about our silly ego.

Dont change the status of your love story ... if you have one you wont easilly find another love story ... i am a real one.

HIS LOVE. HER FANTASY

A collection of love essays

Just once more ...

Just once more again I wanted to fall in love. With the one who love me for no reason, just the reason of love of each other.

Loving me unconditionally!

The one I can share everything!

Someone who same mindsets!

As if we are one minded, souls!

Someone who afraid to lose me.

Someone who accepts me!

Love unconditionally!

The one who make me feel like his own queen!

Miles, distance doesn't matter for us!

Bcoz our hearts r well blended together 😊

The best feeling in my life!

This is the love I longing for!

And I found him,

I'm not sure about

Soulmates

Is he my twinflames, any words accurate for it!

I belief that we just need to allow the magic to start coming into our life.

Everything happens for a reason or lesson.

But for none reason I can loss you my love!

Let the universal take care of it ❤️

#AnniePDavid

Love is about the present moment.
Dont bother to look into the future.

We spend too much time thinking, instead of acting accordingly to what our soul tells us to do.

And the result is not what we expect to have.

We feel the love inside, but somehow is useless cause we dont know to express that through our actions.

Maybe the absense of experience ... when it comes to real love, might be the real explanation for the silly way we act.

And we look a lot into the future, instead of enjoying the love into the present moment.

You need to understand love, to define it ... to define what makes you happy, why makes you happy and what is the path you need to follow so that you can have a wonderful life.

Life itself is not do long.

We should live for 100-150 years at least, but what for?! ... if in all the decisions we take, we actually dont show to the Universe that we want to be happy.

We look into the future, saying that everything will happen in there ... and even having a beautiful life is not something for the present moment, but for 50-100 years from now ... but remember ... not today.

Yes ... life doesn't have a manual with clear instructions to follow, but the main idea is ... just dont forget to cherish the moment, especially when you are in love.

How perfect love goes wrong?

Everything changed suddenly!

No more calls, no more messages.. No love, care, attention from him. Without any specific reasons. Became cold Rdy!

I'm just falling out! I disappointed with his attitude. He way he behave. The way he rejected me. Of coz family is the first priority but he should tell me about it. All of sudden I'm seeing his the other side . Which all this while, I never seen before. Till i don't feel want him anymore. Just a dot to this relationship.

My expectations get more disappointments.. I regret potentially for being so open up to him. I can't rely on him. It wasn't stable relationship as before. This considered betrayals too.. Cheating in a relationship as not telling anything but giving important to his own needs.

I have lots of commitments too. I have my own responsibilities too. I never give any excuses to fulfill my duties. A man can't manage between family and love? I don't need him to play with my heart, my feelings. I can do better things rather than wasting time on him.

I would like to cut and clear whatever, whoever toxicity in my life. It's my life, my rules after all! I deserve happiness, joys, abundance in my life. I will continue doing things on my way!

My career, my success is my aim! I can stop worrying about him can focus,moving on or carry on my path to achieve my goals, towards success.

I'm know you love me so much, cared me and can't give up on me. But as you struggling making decisions, I make it simple for you. I'm quit from this relationship.

I don't think so I need to begging for you to back to me. I don't have time, energy to build back the relationship. I need to concern more in upgrading myself, for my future!

I will meet my love one day! He will support me in each and every of my undertakings! He will lift up my life much better as I want! There will be major changing in my life!

You're my magical genie

There's was a little prayer in my heart! To have someone who loves me than anyone else! I knew it's too hard to find someone coz its too hard for me to mingle up 😊

But I continued to pray, always asked the Universal to show the soul if he is for me!

While loss myself in deep grief, sad, worries, depression I begun to hate myself! I never like for who I am! Wonder why my life gone so wrong! Am I so bad? Am I not deserved to be loved? Is it my karma?

This new year, I took a resolution to open up myself to the universal & received whatever he wanted to give me!

Then I met him through the social media. Of course there's a lot scammers! Cheating. Disappointing others! Give more trouble then before. So I called him as scammer as well 😊

But I was in love with this scammer! Just first conversation I found so comfortable as if we know each other for a long time!

While talking my heart beats fast! Coz I realized he is the one I'm looking for all this while!

Earlier I done mistake in my first marriage! I don't it to repeat again!

This time I surrender to Almighty God, with few passwords I needed to confirm the person!

He mentioned the words, I asked God to show me as signal of my future partner! Unbelievable! Each and every word I heard from him!

My body get shaken! Can't think anything much!

The magical genie started to work on me!

I begun to love myself, the way he describes me was make to be myself again!

He is the reason for my changes!

Everyone notices it too

The magical genie sprinkle his love prescription on me!

I started to fall in love with this man!

I never knew him before. Not good looking. Not knowing he good or bad man!

Scammer I said to him!

HIS LOVE. HER FANTASY

A collection of love essays

Because he conquered my mind, body n soul!

I always wanted to be in his arms! Wanted to hear his heartbeats to show me that he is real!

I want him to hold me tight & never let me go!

His magical light brightening my day! Because he is the sunshine when I wakes up n Mr moon when I go to the bed!

Thank u my magical genie❤️

It's not what it looks like

There is a nice movie with this name, which you can find on YouTube typing also 'Samadhi 2'.

If you like philosophy, you will just love the movie.

It explains the concept of illusions or what we should explain as ... it's not what it looks like.

But studying any psychological or philosophical theory without trying to apply it to the real life ... into your private life is useless.

Seeing everything in your case is much easier to understand everything.

There are so many things that we should define as illusions.

For example, a close friend of mine, a beautiful lady, in love of a married man, just divorced by her husband sent me a picture today with the love of her life.

They looked fabulous together, but the guy is still married and she is divorced by already few months, waiting for his divorce, that will never come.

She thanked me for the compliment I sent her regarding the photo, but on the other hand she replied that she is disappointed and that she feels that is not on the right path.

She loves him a lot, because he is the love of her life, but in the end is only an illusion ... so ... not what it looks like.

So many people are living such stories that no one talks about ... but in the end we ask ourselves if we want to live an illusory life or we deserve a beautiful and happy life.

But the question is ... how do you fight an illusion ... if for example you meet the illusion daily ... and you feel you have no power to end the story.

Let me tell you the truth ... you cannot fight an illusion but you can ignore it. So just DARE ... to live a real life.

Real life can be beautiful also.

#adriangdumitru

I am ... the ghost ... you are my partner.
Such a wonderful love story.

Probably nothing in the world is impossible.

Even thinking that you can live a fairy tale might be possible if you believe into the laws of the Universe.

Men and women, all around the world, no matter of their age, are so much in love.

Some of them are in real stories and some in impossible love stories, that will probably never be part of the real life.

But the impossible gives more power to the love story.

Meeting her or him on the street ... not being able, not even to smile at the love of your life ... makes you a ghost.

Can a ghost be in love?!

Well ... the ghost is a projection of our soul ... is that fantastic side of us, that we never showed to someone else before.

But if you see that everything is such a fantastic love story ... maybe one day you forget, for a moment, that you are just a ghost ... and with some courage you come to the real world.

Just DARE ...

Love is blind

I am an oyster, bearing the discomfort of mud and turning them into beautiful pearls. This idiot found me, took me out from "muddy" world! He cleanse by showering his love, care, affections!

Yes! I just found my soulmate! He is just simple hard working, typical Indian guy! With natural masculine can be seen. Bald and bold man with dark skinned 😊 Looks, appearance doesn't matter for me! He showed his loyalty, been honest with me! Telling me about his weakness! His past experiences! Family issues! Financially his overhauled debts!

Love is blind! Injust fall in love with him! For who is he! He not wealthy man but his hardworking definitely will make him come upon life one day! I should be his pillar, during his hard times to celebrate good times together in future.

The love so powerful, obsessful! He hooked to me as I am! Both of our of dreams, souls needs, longing for love made us to meets each other! It's our manifestation! Thanks to Mr universal

We r so surprised with our relationship! So comfortable. It's obsessive, addictives, lovely luscious!

He so sweet, kind, lovely, caring, gentle man reminding men in my family. He treat me like his queen goddess ! So humble person, & polite to me! Respect in other way!

Everytime when he speaks to me, there beautiful smile showing he is so happy been with me!

Romance, warm, hot hits even he is too far away! distance miles apart us, but not our hearts always united together

Everything he do, talked just made me feel so satisfied!

He loves me so much! Craves for me, always saying not getting ms enough! He chases me even while his busy schedule! He just look for me all the time! I make him happy coz he deserves it!

Non stop he hooked with me! Day by day love growing like beautiful paradise!

Each and every moment so meaningful! Full of love we craving all this while!

Thanks for the universe again!

Just say the truth ... and send the letter.

Well my dear, there are 2 kinds of imposible love stories.

The first one is when love exists only by one side and on the other side, even if it exists, is not so strong as it should be.

The second one, is actually the kind of shakespearean style, when the 2 of them act as Romeo and Juliet.

So ... what is the solution on both cases?!

For the first scenario i will tell u about a good friend of mine from Pakistan, student at english literature, a guy that wants to be a writer.

He is young and very talented.

His english is excellent, but did not found the path so that he could become a writer.

He is also so deep in love with a beautiful girl from his country, but again he is not finding the path to go inside her soul.

I spoke with him few times and in the end we realised togheter that he should mix the 2 desires, being with the girl he wants and also being a writer, in only one desire.

He promised he will start writing, expressing the infinite love he feels inside his soul, writing only and only about love ... the love of his life.

If the trick works, the girl will understand one day that he is a fantastic guy and he deserves her attention.

For the shakespearean way of living the love story ... well what should i start with?! The love exists on both sides, is actually infinite love, but they cannot live the story in the real life.

If you would analyze the stories behind great love poems, or other great love story novels, you would easilly understand thar behind what you read it was a great imposible love story from the real life.

The story does not need to end in the Romeo and Juliet style, but the fact is that we have an end, which is never hollywood style scenario.

Writing our feelings will make us understand better what is inside of us ... and also might be the way to survive.

So ... just write the truth and send the letter.

I decided to move on for new adventure!

I don't want to waste my time on worrying about my past! I have been so patience all this while and now I want to take the next step!

It's not just a move, but change of my emotions, change my thoughts, mind and soul to be different, not the same way before. I don't want to stuck or waiting something which is never going to happen.

I just wanted some visible treat me visible too. Treating as invisible person hurting me so much. It's too frustrating! Definitely, it's pain for me! So, here I decided! Let me change my pains into positivity!

I trusted people, and let them stay in my life. But they use for their own beneficial purpose alone! I tried my best to tolerate, to give but I don't get anything in return!

People never appreciated the efforts or sacrifices I make for them. They have their own definition about their lifestyle. They never understand what's about love, care, spending time together. They just take me for granted! It's my fault to expect it from the wrong person!

Of coz its the painful decision I ever make but I have too. It's not that easy to exit from the relationship. I was too connected to that particular relationship but I guess it's necessary to leave the "empty room" now.

I want to do things differently! I want to be myself! I want to live my own life, not for others. This wasn't my type of way but I have changed! But at this point of my life, I think the risk is needed to be taken to change my life.

I want to do it, get out from the previous stuck relationship. Which doesn't gives any compromise. Never get care, love or attention that I want. I want my own comfort zone! No more hide and seek games you need to play with my heart! I want to stand up for myself!

I can't change people's behavior, their attitudes. They brought up in such way till their old age, and I can't expect changes from that person. But, I can leave them alone and I can stay with my own independent, respected woman I wanted to be. My progress made them to respect me.

I want to put myself first priority for my own! I want to love myself, I'm lack of love after give and give. I'm tired, empty after so much of efforts. I don't to suffer again because of any relationship. I deserves all the good things happen in my life.

Everything is my birth rights. I trust the universal knows better path for me. People might cheat on me but not God. I can't do magic on people, I can do wonders through God! I don't magic frog to be my prince! But magic to my own life!

I believe I doing the right choice! I want to grow in success, abundance on my way. I don't want any toxic relationship in my life. I want to close doors to all the toxicity surroundings me! I wanted to be alone work in silence! Let my silence work, success make the noise!

I trust that I am freaking amazing person! I have lots talented given by almighty God to serve better people. I have my own powerful energy to bright some future! I see all the good things happen in my current life! And I really hope, my patience, confidence, hardwork will be fruitful and make me smile big one-day!

Missing you ...

Missing you is the worst thing ever in my life!

I just wanted to hear your voice. It was the only closest thing in every distance relationship.

The only thing I can do with you, communicate

Your voice, while hearing I will be on top of the world! That romantic, sensual, masculine voice!

Make me so comfort. Thousands of feelings will be one time while talking to you.

Makes me so happy, smile forgetting everything!

It's almost bad feelings that you were apart from me! Miles, distance might separate us! But our hearts meant to be together always!

I feel like hugging u while talking to u. I felt ur breathing near my ears. I feel so warmth as u just surrounded by u.

Of coz its an illusion but hope it will reality one-day! I just wanted to hear from u!

Dedicate this to all distance relationship couple

Leaving ...

- I am leaving
- It s about time, she said. You fixed my broken soul and then you broke it again
- But i will never come back
- Well ... you going to stay in my broken heart forever.

One man and one woman, very deep in love, ended the conversation.

It s too complicated to say "Good bye, forever!"

There are tens of thousands of books about love, but no one about how to break up.

All the writings say only about the end in the best case scenarios, but not about real cases.

Truth be told, being in love can heal your soul, but it can also break it ... forever.

The end is not shakespearean, but it s also not the hollywood movie style .

The end hurts, cause we havent ever been taught to say "Good bye, forever!"

We cant dictate whom to love.

A real life story from a friend of mine who is living in Southeast Asia, who happened to fall in love not with the man whom she is with, but with someone who live in another land... far, far away ... There is a love story not many would agree (a secret only the two of them knew and of course, me)... but for the two of them, love conquers all, defy all the laws,man has ever made...their ultimate dream is to be in each other's arm...being together one day, is what they both aim to achieve...

So the question is .. and i need to ask all of you what should be the scenario my friends should follow?

I just to Get lost in your soul!

I'm so so sorry I just to Get lost in your soul yesterday night! U won't be believing my ability. I never ever do that to other soul but I wanted to do with you alone.

Oh dear! you are full of LOVE! You loving me the way I always wanted to be. You wanted to hold my hands forever! Seems you really want me too!

Both of us are full of mutual feelings, understandings! We are like mirroring each other! Who I am is who you are too!

But situation from both sides are not good at this point. Especially for me! You are tied of your duties, responsibilities, financially and so other matters! And I'm still living in the past too. I needed to cut off toxicity people connection in my life! But you know you so heavy hearted, thinking about our current situation!

If can we want to share a lot of things talk about you and me but we can't!

Both of us are so in love longing for each other 🥰 there lots of regrets with few issues or situation

His family connected relationship to few other commitments which makes him decide harder!

For my soul, it's all about our new connections! Which I never even thought before! I'm going through a breakup situation. Me moving on with golden opportunity coming on my way soon!

Both of us are r full of unspoken feelings! Struggling with current situation!

We started this relationship with someone new without any expectations, but we are getting crazy more like lovers!

Deep down in our heart we have strong feelings for each others but we are bounding to the relationship /current situation around!

Dear beautiful soul, you knows that I can bring you the best in you , more success, more happiness! But still you are not ready to give up on me.

Our hearts and souls are connected! we will be the happiest if we are united together!

Your soul not only love me deeply, or keep me happy but you will protect me 🥰 make me feel so Safe

It's unexpected new love between both of our souls ! Your soul yearning for me I'm so sure. But our distance will help the clarity and you don't chaotic bcoz of your decision alone

Once you are ready to break ,changing ur life, upgrading, or something else.
And your soul knows how to get the golden opportunity and receive what you want now!

Both of our souls are faithful to God, we have our own divine time together
We trust Almighty God have better plans for us. We knows things will change...
We don't want a push or rush.

It's just not the right time for our souls for being together ! we have few things to opened up to the relationship we bonded/which bothering us now.

For ur information, my soul crossed the line with you dear! bcoz you have your soul lost in me and so I am

It's like we need each other like drug addicts! Yes we are addicted to each other!
Your soul only wants to make me happy and only happiness between of us.. You don't want it to be a shadows but in real!

Both of us to clear unhappiness relationship surrounded us!

We will opened up to each other if the current situation resolved. With our overflowing emotions, everything we kept secret.

Suffering facing lots of fears, we afraid of the situation in future.

It's all about my unhappy marriage life in my past and wanted to clear things away from us.

It's all about curiosity Comparisons, dissatisfied which we want to resolve it asap
He knows how I struggling, unhappy with the current situation and he always wanted me to come out of it! Because he knows how to live happily with me.

Block n fears makes us weak! But i will try to resolve it soon! Both of us r having contract duty to be resolve before entering the new life. We have to face it! We need to work out together and support each other love! The rest we surrender to God.

#AnnieDavid

THE END

How do you cure yourself when an inevitable end is coming?!

You keep the good memories, see everything as a life experience and start a new chapter.

It is quite complicated to understand and accept that a love story can have an end.

Seeing it just as a life experience is quite unacceptable.

But the whole meaning of life is to have experiences.

We weren't born to have a career, make money etc, but to gather experiences and understand life through those lessons.

Of course it will be difficult to end the love story, but if end had come it means that is not the path you need to follow in life.

You need to let everything come by itself and see that other lessons are waiting for you.

I know is painful, but you need to see that your happiness must not be dependent of the presence of a specific person in your life.

You are an individual and a soul. ... and the infinite is inside of you.

Sometimes, a love story is coming into your life just to cure your broken soul and make you realise that happiness is not a fantasy and can come to you too.

I am not saying that in the end you need to add some make up to the love story, so that it looks fabulous in your mind and soul but keeping the good memories and let the life go on ... might be a good path to follow.

Define the end as a new beginning, but don't let the end define you.

A book for all the ones that are exploring the truth about life

What i felt it was like a prison, was in fact ... the illusion from my mind

INTRODUCTION

Sometimes doing nothing ... is the best path to follow

I was chasing for success for a long, long time.
I could even define those times as an eternity and i still can't realize how could i be such an idiot to follow this path ... for so long.
But that's not all.
I actually followed lots of other pathless paths so many times ... that i could define myself as an expert into those things.
Later on analyzing with honesty all what was going on ... i somehow realized that i was the prisoner of those situations ... but also the guardian that was keeping me there.
I was not allowing myself to stop ... going to nowhere
All what i was doing was to change a pathless path with another one and another on ... and ...
Well ... time did not changed anything at all.
Even if i was feeling the fact that something was wrong ... that part of myself that was acting as a guarding ... was keeping myself the prisoner of an ... ugly life.
Time was passing ... and again nothing changed.
It looked like i was changing the direction ... but anywhere i was going ... it was still going to ... nowhere.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

But one day having enough of going to the left and to the right and finding no real good result for my soul ... i decided to do something that i never did before ... and that was simple start doing nothing.

The answer was so damn simple ...

I had to stop the chaos.

To stop ... chasing for illusory desires.

And to think about doing ... nothing ... for a while ...

disconnecting from anything means ... pathless paths ...

Allowing myself ... at least ... to stop feeling like a prisoner ... even if i was living in a prison with invisible walls.

Stop being the prisoner ... but also the guardian.

Stop doing that ... on and on and on.

Doing nothing became ... a better scenario.

So ... i started doing that.

And guess what?!

Little by little ... my life started to change.

The pathless paths disappeared... or i should say that were replaced ... by paths with a better meaning for my life.

I've re evaluated everything ... ignoring the 2 contradictory roles i was playing all the time ...

So drinking my coffee into a lovely place ... meditating more ... and taking the decision to connect only to the beautiful vibes from my life ... became probably the best option i could have in mind all the time.

The chaos itself did not disappeared ... but ... it was not anymore ... the main part of my life.

The pathless paths became ... lessons of life.

And doing nothing which was actually the habit of stopping the time and enjoying life ... became more ... a

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

hobby.

The guardian did not disappeared completely ... and neither the prisoner... but i took the liberty of ignoring those roles.

Our perceptions about life define ... the paths we follow

I had lots of moments when i believed in the theory about positive affirmations ... but ... time was passing and i realized i can't lie myself on and on and on.

It was totally ridiculous to do it ... cause deep inside me i was not really believing all those things.

Analyzing and defining myself ... i understood that the dreamed change can't come if i don't really change my perceptions.

But ...

Hmm...

I was changing my perceptions all the time.

Spending lots of time meditating, i was exploring life into a theoretical way from one million perspectives.

So practicing the theory of affirmations did not worked.

And even ... changing my perceptions was useless for my case.

But why?!

I read over the years about lots of people that were doing that daily ... and it really worked but i was doing something wrong ... cause in my case i could not see absolutely no good result.

So those theories ... were not for me?!

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

I was so damn annoyed ... not understanding anything of what was going on.

But one day ... i suddenly realized i was following so many pathless paths ... going to the left and to the right with no real purpose ... cause i was just exploring the world ... and nothing more.

I was dominated by my thoughts ... all my contradictory thoughts ... and ...

Well maybe there were too many thoughts ... and i had to stop being the prisoner of my mind.

So?! I am not the same with my mind?!

Hell nooo

But i continued analyzing on and on and on ... and all those thoughts were defining my paths.

And ... i had moments with positive thoughts and moments with so, so many negative ideas into my mind

I became indeed a prisoner, but the funny thing was that i was into that prison of thoughts ... but i was also the guardian that did not allowed myself to get out from there.

So ... what the hell ... i had to do?!

Maybe stop analyzing everything?!

Or allow to analyze ... but ... not to define?!

Hmm ..

Or ... probably not identify myself with my illusory thoughts?!

Well ... i was indeed exploring the world ... following so, so many nonsense paths ... but it was all just part of the show of my life.

Maybe the life lesson of my life was to understand the world we are living in.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

In my case that meant ... following lots of pathless paths ... and maybe that invisible guardian that kept me prisoner for doing that on and on and on ... had a positive purpose. Well ... i said so many times maybe ... that i don't really know what is the real truth.

It's quite obvious... but ...

I am laughing of myself ... but i started to accept things the way they are ... even the fact that i am the prisoner, but also the guardian that is watching everything i do.

And suddenly a new idea came into my mind ... what if i simple stop ... thinking?!

Maybe like this ... that game "the prisoner and the guarding" ... just stops.

But who really knows?! ... cause i don't see any absolute truth ...

We need to see the beauty ... in everything around us ... but the beauty itself might be an illusion

In my country ... all the stories for children start with "Once upon a time" ... and i recently asked myself why the hell i don't start my philosophical essays like that?!

Well ... then ... i remembered that i stoped writting stories ...
I became more a philosopher... than a story teller ... being obsessed of defining life ...

I was trying to make people understand ... things that are a lot related with my life ... but also with life ... in general.
And thinking even more profoundly... i realized i was avoiding to tell the truth about my life.

I became more ... mysterious ... coming with fake names ... and stories that ... in fact are hiding the real truth about my reality.

In fact ... i was starting to write as the writers from the communist times cause i was so damn abstract ... defining a reality .. by talking about another reality that has nothing to do with mine.

Hahaha ...

But why the hell i was doing that?!

Well ... little by little i started to see the beauty in all what i was doing ... including my writing ... but realized that people

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

were judging me.

They all ... were doing that.

So i stoped telling philosophical stories that were analyzing and defining my reality ... and write philosophical essays .. describing in an abstract way all what was going on.

Weird ...

Very, very weird ...but maybe i was on a good path ... cause i was seeing the beautiful side of life.

And ... the funny thing about me ... was that i was hiding of everybody ... including myself ... cause i was balancing a lot.

Seeing ... and not seeing the beauty in everything.

Ignoring ... but also declaring that it's all an illusion ... even if that was so ... damn silly.

So?!

Well ...

Maybe ... writing and writing ... and writing ... again and again and again ... i'll understand why i need to see the beautiful side ... or not even bother to look at a certain side ...

So maybe i should just continue ... to explore life.

“Tasting” people ... kind of a habit

I look at my friends all the time.
I analyze and define them ... as a psychological habit ... but ... i try to do all my best ... not to judge them anymore.
And looking at John and Brian is really funny.
They both are in the company of lots of ladies all the time ... but what is curious is that Brian is not “tasting” any of those ladies.
Once ... while talking to the 2 of them ... John ... annoyed ... even asked Brian ... “How the hell could you be surrounded by so many women and avoid having sex with them?!”
It’s abnormal!!
A total nonsense!
You’ll regret those times!
Spoiling chances 1,2,3 ... 20 times it `s ok.
But we talk about hundreds of ladies.
You could ... taste ... at least 1 or 2% of them but you miss all ... those opportunities.
Look how they look like ...
I really can’t understand you”
Well ... i was understanding what John said ... but i also knew that Brian was a tricky guy.
From outside he looked like a prisoner of his own decisions ... of living his life ... but also like an invisible guardian that was watching as him to not go deeper with all those ladies.

On the other hand ... i always saw John happy cause he could have intimate relationships with the ladies from the timeline of his life.

He enjoyed ... tasting ... each of those beautiful women.
But i just felt that something was missing from my side ... from my analyzes ...

I really knew that Brian was a real tricky guy ... that he could not miss all those opportunities ... which any man would appreciate ...

Analyzing them more and more ... in fact ... especially Brian ... ignoring the fact that i knew 100% that he cheated his wife 2-3 times ... i somehow realized that he became more intimate with those ladies ... than John was doing.

You see ... my dear tricky Brian ... was in fact talking to those ladies about lots of things and smiled with them all the time ...

He was actually connected to all of them and exchanged lots of energy with their souls.

Knew that the sexual relationship between a man and a woman ... meant exchange of energy, but he found this trick of connecting to them ... and have kind of an abstract intimate relationship with all those souls.

Maybe somehow John connected to their bodies, but Brian to their souls.

Speaking with them again about the subject ... at the coffee shop ... Brian finally admitted my theories about him.

In fact ... like any man in his 40'es ... they admitted the fact that they abuse a little about this habit of "tasting" ladies ... all the time.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

The only difference between them was that one was pretending that ... was ... kind of a saint ...

But maybe all of us ... on the timeline of our lives ... pretend we are doing the right thing to do ... or even pretend we act as prisoners ... playing in the same time this ridiculous game of prisoner ... and guardian ...

Sometimes for a certain type of vibration ... you need to pay a certain price

I was at the coffee shop with Brian and Paul.
We were looking for city breaks around Europe and we've been amazed of the prices.
Everywhere you would go ... it's all about thousands of dollars.
So ... what the hell?!
Why should we pay thousands of dollars for an amazing vibe
.... in an amazing place?!
Is it ok?!
Does it worth it?!

I did not agreed with the prices ... finding it totally ridiculous.
Brian ... was not sure what to say.
And Paul was ... smiling ... replying to us that ... "We should pay absolutely any price ... cause once we change vibration ... we'll get back 10 times more than what we invested."
It all became a philosophical - spiritual discussion ... and we were disagreeing... but on the other hand we were also analyzing all our contradictory perceptions.
We tried to see ... the same concept from 100 angles ... trying to act as philosophers ... cause most of the time this is what we pretended ... we are ...

So ... should we see ... a trip as an investment for a better vibe?!

I saw myself limited in my views about the huge prices from the present moment ... but still there were lots of people that were going in city breaks all the time ... with the belief that this is really the best trick for changing the vibe ... that we were usually caring in our souls when we were at home.

So ... is the environment so important?!

Do we need to pay a certain amount of money for changing our vibe?!

Is this ... an artificial trick?!

Should we pay all the time for those tricks to change our inner vibe?!

But what if we go in those short vacations with the wrong person?!

Me and Paul were talking ... arguing somehow with our contradictory perceptions.

I was indeed limited of my opinions about the huge prices and probably Paul had such open views about anything ... cause he saw that the investments into things that bring joy to the soul ... are great investments.

Brian was thinking listening to us.

He was somehow in his perceptions between me and Paul balancing between paying and not paying so huge prices for amazing vibes.

Our talk become in the end ... a spectrum of contradictory ideas ... and probably Brian became more confused.

Maybe even me and Paul ... analyzing and defining the subject ... influenced too much each other.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

But i was in a hurry and had to leave from the coffee shop ...
so i shaked hands with the 2 of them smiled ... and say ...
" Listen ... don't get me wrong ... i agree about the theory that a vacation to an amazing place helps our vibe a lot ... but i just don't want to pay those huge prices.
So ... i want but i don't want Maybe till next time when we meet I'll come with a new theory or change my limited perceptions."

The opposite of chaos is ... stillness

I was at the coffee shop ... but this time near the sea, in a town from northern Greece.

The fire from my house ... which happened one day before totally ruined my day ... but looking at the sea i started to remember again of Infinite ... and of the tremendous powers of the Universe.

I knew that 20 years ago I had nothing ... and now i have lots of real estate properties ... and that was only because the Universe allowed and wanted as this to happen.

It was the second accident like that ... which happened in a very weird way ... making me wonder what the hell is this nonsense and why it destroys one more time my optimism.

But the vibe of the place where i was ... was amazing.

It was a town ... not so well known ... but the right place to give me a great vibe ... and make my soul disconnect from the weird energies from the scene of the real life ... from home.

And i knew the Universe guided me there ... just to relax a little bit.

So ... i started to film my coffee ... but suddenly realized that across the street 2 policemen brought 2 prisoners.

The beautiful building near the coffee shop ... was actually a court room and those guys went to see the judge.

Most probably they did something illegally and police arrested them for that.

I could be arrested too if in that fire from the house ... the tenants would have died.

So ... comparing with those guys ... i was lucky.

The Universe allowed them to be arrested so that they learn a life lesson but for me ... i just had to pay some money to fix the damages.

All looked really bad ... but not so bad as the situation of those 2 arrested men from across the street.

And still ... the main advantages of those guys ... is that they stoped... in whatever they were doing.

Most probably I will not stop.

I will continue my chaotic life which is going to generate more and more ... bad things into my life.

I still don't understand that the opposite of chaos is ... stillness.

20 minutes later the guys got back to the car.

Probably the judge did not released them.

They were still prisoners ... with the guardians near them.

I had the illusion i am a free person but i'm actually the prisoner of that terrible chaos generated by my desires.

But for the moment ... still nothing stops me.

So ... who the hell is in a better position?!

Me the prisoner of chaos ... or those guys that were arrested?!

Well ... i am sure karma ... will probably teach me soon ... that the opposite of chaos is ... the stillness

So ... too bad ... cause i can't understand the signs.

Wherever i would be ... it will all be the same.
I tried to change the places ... so, so many times ... but ... it was just ... useless.
The only update i need to do is the one for a better connection with my soul.

Ella is a dear friend of mine from South Africa.
She writes me from time to time ... talking about love stories.
Long time before ... i wrote about 10 books about love ... and she still believes i'm kind of a guru into relationships, when in fact i'm just kind of a writer that wrote stories about his failure ...

But all the talks we have ... helped me a lot in understanding the feminine philosophy.

I would even dare to say that i became a better writer because ... of her.

For example ... recently she wrote me about Jim ... a guy that she met on a dating app.

He looked like a very nice guy ... but you see ... Ella had enough of making plans with those guys from the internet.
It the beginning ... it was all different.

She believed in those ... dates.

But today ... no.

Not anymore.

She would like to simple date make absolutely no plan ... and not even choose a certain place to go.

Just meet in one point on the street, walk ... decide together a coffee shop or a restaurant ... or if she thinks it's a good connection .. she would even like to jump into the car ... and go ... another city ... in a short trip.

You see ... Ella went over the years to many exotic destinations ... but that did not really touched her soul.

She most probably had enough ... pretending that she can still believe the fact that a place can change ... anything.

She came to a point when she feels that she wants more a change ... deep inside her soul.

Probably felt being a prisoner of this game of dating ... with so, so many guys that were not able to touch her soul.

Believing a certain place will change her vibe into an amazing way ... was useless today in her opinion.

She came to a point where she was chasing for a mix of an amazing place in the company of an amazing person.

But all based on ... spontaneity.

No more plans.

She was not believing in the power of ... the plans.

That was in her opinion a ... false way of living.

All her dates ... failed.

Probably the failure from the love stories ... made me and her ... become friends.

I personally totally forget about those 10 books i wrote ... about love.

It represents a closed subject from my life ... but Ella ... was still chasing for that amazing ... experience.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

But she also knew that it was useless dreaming at a certain place ... or meeting a certain type of profile.

She was not in the prison of those thoughts anymore.

I escaped from that prison with invisible walls. ... by a long, long time ... and even wanted to forget about all those 10 books i wrote about love ... but ...

Yes ... i admired my friend Ella.

I admired her ... cause she finally realized that for an amazing vibe ... it's not about a certain place or a person ... but about the connection we could have with that scene of life ... no matter what that would mean.

We could be ... and feel just ... great ...

We become so often the prisoners of circumstances that we once ... loved.

David is a friend of mine from Australia.
I already know him by more than 3-4 years ... and sometimes we spend time together talking about ... life.
My life ... his life ... but also life ... in general.
He recently wrote ... explaining to me that he does not feel good anymore in his group of friends.
All of them were new people that he met this year ... and he even told me ... not so long time ago ... that he enjoys spending his time with them.
But you see ... the same David ... 6 months later he tells me that he does not like ... to stay with them anymore.
He even mentioned that he dislikes it ... a lot.
And i said ... "David! It's a little bit weird!
Don't you think so?!"
After 6 month you tell me something ... totally contradictory.
Does not make any sense at all ... what you tell me."
Same persons.
Same scene.
Nothing really changed into this scenario ... but David is not feeling good with his friends anymore.
And what he is trying to tell me ... even if he is not finding the proper words ...is that he is not feeling good anymore ... into an energetic field that he once liked a lot.

So i continued asking him ..."David what do you think it's the message behind the message?!

What can you do regarding that?!

Why do you still stay with them ... if you don't like it anymore?!

In the end it's a nonsense to stay with them if you don't like it.

Why do you feel trapped like a prisoner in there?!

We play around with the questions ... but we can't still define the situation."

"Well ... Gabriel!

Maybe i changed.

Maybe i became a different person.

Maybe i realized i don't have the same values as they do ... but still ... i wanted to be part of a close group of friends.

Maybe i was pretending i was not seeing how they really are ... preferring to just know that i have someone to spend time with ..."

"But ... David It's better to be alone ... than being in the wrong company.

Imagine you have a group of friends that are alcoholics and you spend your time with them.

What do you think you'll become in the end?!

So ... if you spend lots of time with people not having the right values for you ... what do you think will happen to you into the end?!

Will you be strong enough to be able to redefine their values ... or they will redefine you?!

What you actually don't like at them?!

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

Why you feel like a prisoner ... but in the same time i see you also as the guardian that is watching as you ... not to leave that energetic field?!

What really changed into this 6 months?!"

I was walking on the streets of my city ... and asked myself ... what is the real truth in David's case?!

Somehow he really was today the prisoner of some circumstances from his past ... circumstances that he used to ... love not so long time ago.

Maybe David changed.

Maybe he is on another frequency level that has nothing to do with his so called ... friends.

He cannot stand that energy of the group ... but the old David is not letting him leave.

So he became kind of a hybrid being ... a mix of the old and the new ... David.

You see ... i am trying to define the nonsense ... but maybe it's not a nonsense.

Being a prisoner ... but also the guardian it's part of this game ... which we name ... the process of real change.

It's kind of a battle.

The prisoner wants to become free ... but the guardian is not letting him do that.

Analyzing and defining David's case ... i've asked myself ... on million times what if i am like him?!

What if he is actually a reflection of me carrying a coded message ... for my own being?!

But maybe same as David ... i know to analyze and define ... but never really know to redefine myself and i remain captive into my past ... in that cell that the old me ... worked

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

so much to build.

And i continue life ... pretending i am changed ... but still being connected with my old self which by the way ... i dislike a lot.

Truth be told we stay in ugly stories ... cause we don't have the guts to dream at other scenarios.
And life continues into an ugly way
... on and on and on.

I see lots of u happy people ... everywhere around me.
Also my connections from social media put me in contact with people from all around the world and i found the same scenario everywhere ...
It's what we call ... unhappiness.
Today i would define this weird concept as a disease.
A disease much more difficult ... than cancer.
A disease ... like an incurable virus that you can get from the people around yourself.
But why people decided to stay in unhappiness?!
And why when they become conscious about their unhappiness ... why they accept it?!
Why they don't try to get rid of it?
Why unhappiness became ... kind of a prison?!
A prison from where it looks ... so impossible to get out
So what keeps us prisoners there?!
Why we can't decide to get rid of those ugly stories?!
Why we can't simple decide to define those feelings ...
analyze them ... so that in the end to redefine everything?!

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

Why those thoughts, feelings and ugly emotions keep us captive into a world which we totally dislike?!

What is the secret that could help us to solve this issue of escaping from this weird prison with invisible walls?!

So ... defining?!

Analyzing?!

... and then ... redefine all?!

Hmm ... is it so damn simple?!

Why we let life continue ... on and on and on like that ... if we dislike unhappiness?!

Well... i personally asked myself that for so, so many years in a row.

The only conclusion came into my mind ... was that i lost my ability to dream.

... to dream at other stories.

... at ... beautiful scenarios for my life.

I just let my soul be dominated by ... the ugly circumstances

Dreaming is not even an option which i could consider ...

Prisoner of a love story he discovers in the end that he can be in a love story with everyone and everything from the scene of his life.
And he became ... a free man ... again.

James is a friend of mine from South Africa.

For an unknown reason ... lots of people from this far away country read my books.

But ... this is how i've connected with James.

He wrote me 2-3 years ago ... telling me about something that looked like an amazing love story ... but ... ended feeling himself trapped into ... what he defined as ... a prison with invisible walls.

He somehow felt that lost the control ... over himself ... and totally disliked that.

For a while .. the love story was amazing.

But later ... feeling himself as a prisoner ... he started to meditate more and more of why he stays in such a story ... if his mind and soul is balancing all the time between feeling amazing and horrible.

And this balance of contradictory emotions made him feel ruined emotionally.

On and on and on.

Until one day when he said ... "Stop! It is enough!"

Feeling he was destroying himself ... he ended the story ... helped also by circumstances.

He was ... a free man again ... but he was still afraid of the fact that he could come back into the arms of that ... lady ... that he used to love so, so much.

James told me over the years lots of details about that story many of them being totally contradictory things ... and should be useless to tell you all of them ... cause i am just ... an essayist.

I always ... write ... just the short story.

One year after the breakup with Madeleine ... James even wrote a novel about what he used to define as the ... prison of an amazing love story.

And still ... he was afraid that one day he will come back into the arms of that lady.

Reading the novel i was amazed of all the details ... describing the love story.

Knew many of those details ... but still could not understand James for 100%.

I could not understand why after writing hundreds of pages with so many details about that lady ... he still defines the love story as ... a prison.

It was ... a total nonsense.

But ... the book ... had two chapters.

The love story ... and life after the love story.

I saw James ... so dominated by that story ... as nowadays to see a new ... James.

The tells me about the beauty of flowers ... the beauty of weather ... no matter if it is about a sunny or a rainy day ... about his 3 kids ... about everyone and everything from the timeline of his life.

I somehow felt him like being a guardian that he is watching himself ... to never get back at that lady.

Loved the love story ... but hated that he was dominated ... and felt for such a long time ... like a prisoner of his emotions.

So same person could be defined as a prisoner, but also as a guardian.

James talked with me a lot about my book "Analyze. Define. Redefine."

He somehow applied all those principles.

But the only real escape for him was to replace an amazing love story ... with another one ... totally different.

A love story with his kids .. and his family ... and all the people he knew or interacted with ...

I was still amazed on ... James.

Talked so much with him ... but still could not define him in a certain way.

I saw a guy ... afraid of being ... prisoner again.

A could define him today as the guardian that is watching ... so that he will not be dominated again of certain emotions ... of love.

And ... the only escape was ... to replace the love for a certain person ... with loving everyone and everything around himself.

Few days ago ... James wrote me again,

We talk about his case ... making together kind of a therapy ... but we end all the time talking about us ... as humans.

We try to understand him ... or myself ... but we actually focus on understanding the human being.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

But i feel ... he is ok today.

At least much better.

... much detached.

And i like him more.

I knew very well ... that James that lost his minds because of that love story ... but i preferred more this new version of James .. the one that is defining me a flower with ... love.

We should not remain the prisoners of our past.
.... Not even of the beautiful memories.

People suffering of trauma are ... in my opinion the prisoners ... of their past experiences.

Life continued, but after 10-15 or even 20 years ... you can still see them trapped into something from the past ... that ruined their whole existence.

But a much weird and difficult to be understood case is the one of the people that remained prisoner of their ... beautiful memories.

The ones that are still dreaming of moments from childhood ... still thinking of the connection with their friends or ... parents.

.... Or the ones that one time in the past ... they used to have a great job.

... or ... people that had an amazing love story ... that ended ... but ...

I see many into this weird pattern ... of being prisoners of their past love experiences.

The present moment is just ... nothing ... comparing with those times.

For example ... a close friend ... showed me yesterday photos from his phone with a naked lady ... that used to be his girlfriend many years ago.

Now Natasha ... that was her name ... lived in Saint Petersburg.... being married with a very rich guy ... but Well ... Natasha was unhappy.

She was still remembering Bill ... and sent him sexy photos all the time.

I smiled when my friend told me that Natasha's "project" was to ... divorce ... in the near future.

But Bill ... did not care so much about ... this so called ... project.

He had in his phone lots of other pictures with other ladies.

And still ... his present moment was not so ... bright ... cause i saw him alone for such a long, long time.

So ... are we talking about amazing experiences ... that don't allow us anymore to live happy into the present moment?!

I thought like many others that only bad experience have a negative impact on us ... but i see people as Bill and Natasha that being still trapped into their past ... can't enjoy the present anymore.

Carpe diem ... is not on their daily to do list.

They were indeed looking like the prisoners of their beautiful past experiences ... but did not have any clue about that.

They believed probably that reality itself it's a grey one today ... but they spent too much time thinking of something that does not exist anymore.

I was doing the same as them many times into my past.

Today was so easy for me to analyze and define them ... but ... when it came about myself ... i was still blind.

I could not disconnect from everything meant ... my past.

I could not act also as a guardian that would pay attention at all the details.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

That could whisper me ... "Be aware! Stay disconnected from what past means!"

Carpe diem ... is not on my to do list ... either.

Absent ...

I've changed
I ... feel it.
But can't make them see it.
So i protest
.... being absent
Even if they see me
... in front of their eyes.

I chased for a deep change ... a lot.
I chased it for years.
Don't know what was into my mind but i wanted that ... a lot.
Most probably i felt myself a prisoner of a reality that ... i totally disliked.
Today I'm in the Universe.
Basically nothing changed around myself.
The same people and i spend my time into the same places ... and it really looks all the same.
But you see ... the time ... made me realize that i'm incapable of changing my outside world.
I tried.
I tried a lot.
And i ended feeling like a Don Quixote ...

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

Sawing it was useless ... trying to change anything around myself ... i stoped doing anything ...

Why to bother change the places where i spend my time?!

Why to bother change the people around myself?!

It's not that i did not tried.

I tried it.

... one million times.

And i failed ...

Always failed.

So ... i had only one chance.

To change myself but how could i do that?!

I had ... no clue ... about that

Time was passing again.

I've started to meditate ... a lot.

I've meditated so much ... that people around myself started to accuse me that ... i really became a prisoner of my thoughts.

And it was true.

I was with them ... but absent into the same time.

Even looked like a person with autism.

But ... i felt it was all ok.

I've accepted the process of my change ... and all what was going on with me.

I've accepted that i became so, so ... absent .. even if everyone around myself totally disliked that ... telling me that all the time ... on and on and.

It was like i was the prisoner of my own soul ... and started to like it.

Being absent ... became a hobby ..

A hobby which i adored.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

And i was paying a lot of attention so that i won't connect with them so much ... anymore.

Love stories are many times looking from outside as ... prisons.
Especially ... in the end ... it all becomes so damn clear.

I've worked with Thomas and Sabina into a humanitarian project.

She joined first ... and then ... few weeks later he also came to help us.

The best way i could probably define both of them is ... as being ... weird people.

Not bad persons.

Good characters ... but ... it could never be a pleasure to stay in their company.

At least ... not for me.

But looking at them from time to time ... i saw that they always were together.

I felt they were a couple ... but ... i had the confirmation very late.

Watching them ... was a lesson about domination ... cause she was totally dominating him.

Sabina was much younger ... but so, so dominant for him.

In a time when we say that slavery does not exists anymore ... Thomas was the guy that actually infirmed the theory.

After writing the book "Influencing and being influenced" ...

watching daily this couple i could probably write the book "Dominating and being dominated".

Or maybe ... i saw the wrong side of the story.

But unfortunately for them ... Thomas had to leave for another humanitarian mission in a country for Africa.

I did not liked him so much so i was not so sad cause he left us.

He did not liked me either ... so we don't even bothered to say good bye to each other.

The next day at the office I saw her ... extremely unhappy. Most probably she had cried a lot.

Usually she was unhappy ... but now she had an unhappiness which i never saw before.

I knew he will not come back very soon.

Maybe ... it will be months till they will see each other again.

Sarcastic ... i even wanted to ask her ... "Are you unhappy because the love story stoped ... or because your slave left?!"

As a man ... from my perspective ... it all looked like a prison for Thomas ... and i was still wondering if she really loved him ... or maybe she loved a lot that she could dominate him into an absolute way.

But without him ... she felt totally devastated.

So ... suddenly i started to ask myself ... was she the one that was dominated in fact by his energies?!

Why she looked so devastated?!

Was she the one that looked like dominated him ... but in fact he was dominating her ... into a weird invisible silence?!

Maybe things were totally different than ... what i saw.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

Maybe too much love becomes in one point ... much too dominant.

And the persons involved into the love story ... become the slaves of it.

Or maybe today I totally dislike those kinds of stories so I was just seeing the wrong side of everything ...

The karmic prison is the worst

I write my books in the morning while drinking my coffee ... but also ... late into the night when i am resting on the sofa from my living room.

By a long time i realized ... and even wrote a book with the subject that ... i am actually having kind of a self therapy.

All i write it's mostly about what happens on the scene of my own life.

I change the names ... with other names ... and make people believe that it's all happening into a far away country ... most probably from another continent.

My wife reading and getting annoyed of all what she finds out into my books ... she tells me all the time that even if it does not look so ... for 100% my writings are not about fantasy.

But ... all i am doing while writing ... is that i try to analyze and define ... all what is going on into my life.

And i do that all the time.

I try to understand myself and the meaning of all the events from my life.

Defining all what it's going on it's a little bit funny sometimes ... but i realize i need to continue doing that.

I pay attention at all the details ... and understood by a long, long time that ... all it's repetitive into my life ... it's karmic

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

....and i should be very aware of that.

But guess what?!

In the morning ... while enjoying my coffee and writing all my thoughts ... i see all so damn clear.

Then i leave home ... and i simple forget everything i've wrote.

I become again that person which it's forgetting about the illusion of life ... and all what i am writing into my books.

In the night ... when everything stops around myself ... i start to write again.

I realize that i made the same mistakes.

I wasted one more day from my life ... forgetting that my time in here it's so damn limited.

I see myself in kind of a karmic prison ... living the same episodes on and on and on.

And even if i analyze all at the beginning and the end of the day ... on the scene of life i have the same blindness.

I am acting like ... an idiot ... doing the same mistakes on and on and on.

So ... i'm actually balancing between realizing and not really understanding that i am a prisoner of a ... karmic life.

I could simple stop starting my day.

Stop believing that all what it's going on ... it's real.

I do believe that we have the right at ... a parallel life

I know so, so many people that have ... an unhappy life.
It's almost like a virus ... but still ... i can't understand what is really going on ... that i see them having that bad vibe all the time.

It's like they are trapped in a prison with invisible walls
... and ...

Hmm ...

Still ... difficult to understand.

But one day i've met a guy that recently came out of jail ... and i chatted with him for more than an hour ... explaining me the way things are in there.

It looks like they are prisoners that are not allowed to get out of their cell ... and also prisoners that during the day they can do whatever they want inside the prison.

They can go to work, to read books, to stay in the yard, to play football etc etc.

It's like they are free ... prisoners.

And suddenly i realized that some of the unhappy persons that i used to know by such a long, long time ... are somehow the same as those people from prison.

They looked like what my friend that just got back from prison defined as ... free prisoners.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

All those people ... were living in the same time a happy-unhappy life.

Quite contradictory ... but realistic.

So ... what was the trick?!

Well ... most probably even if they were prisoners in this prison with invisible walls ... during the day ... they allowed themselves to be ... free.

Some decided to dedicate their lives to ... arts.

Some were going to fishing ... all the time.

Some as me ... started to write.

And some ... simple decided to have a parallel life with ... another partner.

Not being happy at home ... any kind of escape ... was amazing.

And the parallel life ... helps a lot ... to survive and continue life.

So ... should we judge those people that they live in 2 worlds?!

Analyzing myself ... trying to understand the contradictory thoughts from my writings ... but also the fact that i am accused by close family members that i have this weird parallel life too ... i simple don't reply anything ... anymore.

I just continue life ignoring that i am a prisoner in a prisoner with invisible walls.

And ... i allow myself to be free ... whatever that means in my perceptions ... that change so, so often.

Sometimes it's all just about sex ... and nothing more.
It will be useless to consider another option.

Into the times i wrote love essays ... i've received lots of emails and messages from many people from around the world.

All i somehow concluded was that no matter if someone is in California or a far away village from Nigeria ... the problems are almost the same.

For example Antoine from Lion, France ... wrote me for almost 2 years in a row about his love affair with Camille.

He gave me so many details ... that i could write 10 books about love ... if i would tell you the whole story ... but ...

Well ... somehow ... no matter how many beautiful details Antoine gave to me ... i felt that the story itself was mainly about sex ... and nothing more ...

I over protected my friend and did not told him that ... but ... i was realizing they simple don't have the same values in life.

Until one day ... when he wrote me disappointed ... telling me ... that met again ... went at a hotel ... made love and after explaining her the story about his loan at the bank with the big villa from Nice ... that in the end he lost ... because of some big financial problems ... she first started to laugh.

She was so, so stupid ... that she laughed of him ... cause he lost that amazing property.

She was explaining him ... how much she loves him ... but on the other hand ... she was laughing hearing the huge problems from his real life.

Antoine was disappointed.

And he kept asking me on and on and on ... "how the hell ... a person that told me one million times that she loved me so much ... had a total disrespect for my real life?!"

How it could all be ... so, so illusory?!

Hmm

I knew long time ago ... that Antoine ... being so interested about philosophy and spirituality ... did not have the same values of life as her.

Maybe sex between them was amazing ... but it was all just about sex ... and nothing more ...

Antoine was begging me to give him an interpretation of all what he was telling me ... expecting to be on the side of the so called love story ... but i could not pretend anymore ... that i don't see the dark side of all what is going on.

I was smiling ... speaking on the phone with Antoine.

"My friend ... you are just idiot!

I really love you ... but i don't think i'll listen to you for another 2 more years ... about the so called love story that you have with Camille.

It's not a love story.

It's just a great story about sex ... and nothing more.

Maybe she likes you ... but already dislikes by a long time the fact that you keep her prisoner into a hotel room.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

.... But she also keeps you prisoner of a so called love story ... by almost 2 years.

You ... both of you ... should accept the status of your relationship.

It's time to not lie anymore one to another.

Say it that it's all about ... sex.

You simple don't have the same values of life.

You are on an vibrational field ... and she is a in totally different one.

Lying yourself ... forever ... not accepting the real truth about everything ... it's just stupid of ... you."

Antoine did not liked so much my words .. but it was so dam clear for myself to see the real truth

Or maybe it was ... just a perception.

We have the fundamental right to stop being ... prisoners into a scene which we thought it's part of a free world

We claim today so, so load that there are no slaves into this society where we live in ... that i start laughing about myself ... while using terms as prison, prisoners etc etc. And of course i used to say more ... "prisoner" ... instead of "slave" ... but maybe the last term it's probably the best and the correct one.

But it looks like a blasphemy even that ...

I continue doing that ... ignoring the fact that they all disliked me so much ... painting such a perception.

Hmm ...

I feel that the real truth is that the world ... all those scenes of live ... are for us actually the cells of a prison that we name as idiots ... life.

The job becomes ... a prison.

The marriage ... also.

Even the friendships.

People change around us ... and even if we used to like them into the past ... today it's all changed.

We dislike reality ... and we do nothing to get out of that

We feel trapped ... but we look around and there is no guardian to watch so that we could not escape from there. But ... we don't change anything.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

We complain of all around us.

Of friends, of family, of work, of the place where we live ... of everything.

And ...

Life continues ... not really doing nothing against the fact ... that we feel and act as prisoners.

Or even worst as slaves.

We dislike this perception ... and many people tell me that it's a depressive one but that is the truth.

The real truth.

Or maybe we are just idiots ... playing in the same time the role of the prisoner, but also of the guardian.

One side of us wants to escape ... the other one is watching as this not to happen.

We ignore the fact that we have the fundamental right to get out of scenes which we thought it's part of a free world.

We realize it was all an illusion.

The job is not the job we really dreamed for.

The marriage and the partner is not how we imagine that will be ...

And ...

Everything is so, so fucking different than what we dreamed for us.

Sometimes ... saying nothing
... and running away of everything
it's the only real chance.

Maria had a love story with George by more than 6 months. She was married, but the husband was far, far away ... and they were actually disconnected as souls by a long time. I was not judging Maria, but ... still i could not understand why the hell she was with George.

The guy was an alcoholic ... and actually an ugly soul ... but she liked his company.

Months later ... she tells him that she goes with the daughter to the supermarket to buy her a chocolate ... and even asks him if he wants anything for him.

Jump into her car ... not even taking her luggages ... and leaves to her home ... 1000 km away.

The next day ... i write her again ... smiling.

"What the hell happened my dear?!

You got out of the prison of love?!

Thought you love that guy ..."

We were friends ... and she allowed me to be sarcastic with her ... but deep inside herself i knew that she was suffering a lot.

She felt that the love story with George ... is a pathless path. The one with the husband was a pathless path ... by years ... so ...

She was wondering herself ... "what the hell am i going to do?!"

Don't i deserve anything else than pathless paths?!"

Well ... Maria knew i was writing about that.

I could be defined as a guide on those pathless paths.

But i was respecting all her decisions.

The one of cheating her husband.

The one of leaving George without telling him absolutely nothing.

Analyzing Maria ... i was understanding the human being.

I saw her walking on pathless paths ... but i was doing the same.

It was about other type of stories ... but i was still the prisoner of the ... pathless paths.

I did not found the gut ... as Maria found ... to leave in silence the scenes which she realized that are not her paths.

It's good i was not judging her ... but it's stupid of me i could not really understand the message she was ... whispering.

Simple tell them you're absent ... even if they see you ... and maybe you're lucky and they'll leave you alone.

I made the mistake many, many times in life to interact with too many people.

I call it a ... mistake today ... even if i loved so much socializing.

It was like i was feeding myself with a weird energy ... which i enjoyed a lot.

Most probably it was the energy of that connection I had with those people.

Socializing became kind of a hobby for me ... until one day when i realized that in fact I was even starting to make money ... huge amounts of money ... simple by socializing. But i was not aware of the influences.

... of the exchange of energies.

... of the desire of domination ... that people around myself had.

Continued doing that ... for years.

... tens of years.

I was lying to myself that socializing it's good.

Well ... until one day when i realized i had better vibes when i was alone ... and in fact socializing was fucking my energies most of the times.

So i started to make a new test.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

Instead of connecting to all those people from the scene of my life ... i've disconnected from them.

And remained totally ... disconnected.

Smiled them friendly ... said few polite words all the time ... but refused to connect to their energies.

I was present ... but totally absent ... in the same time.

I started to live into my inner world.

More ... and more ... and more.

Being absent on the stage of my life ... was absolutely normal

....

They started to notice it.

They realized the absence of the connection.

They understood ... i stoped the connection and that i am not interested anymore of being connected with them.

I even looked like a person ... suffering of autism ... but i liked it.

Actually i started to love being ... absent.

I did not left the scene of my life ... but even if i was there ... i was living in my inner world.

And it was like ... i was in a prison with invisible walls ... but i was also a free person.

My inner world looked like the ... infinite.

I liked it a lot ... so i've started to tell all of them that i'm absent ... even if they could see me in front of their eyes.

Connecting and disconnecting ... such a weird habit

My friend John wrote me again ... telling me about the way he's exploring life all the time.

He's american and he's in my country as CEO for an important multinational company.

But you see ... in the real life ... he's a simple guy that same as me ... is chasing for beautiful vibes all the time.

And sometimes the Universe was really giving him ... those experiences.

Being on the streets, walking alone he suddenly sees how a car is hitting a young lady on the zebra.

He goes right away there ... calls the ambulance police is also coming

It was not a real tragedy, but the girl had a panic attack ... and was not really feeling good.

Had some small pains and one second before the ambulance to leave ... Iryna asks John to come with her at the hospital ... cause she is afraid to go there alone.

John ... smiled and said ... yes.

A young lady ... of 21 invited him for a ride .. with the ambulance.

It was all like the script of a ... movie.

Iryna was smiling to him and asks him to give her his hand.

She really needed the support of someone into such a moment ... and it looked like my friend was the perfect person for that.

John totally forgot about his duties as a CEO.

Touching her hand ... he felt such an amazing connection with her.

It was like they knew each other by a lifetime.

The touch of her hand ... was giving him such an amazing energy and John could not believe it

The Universe was playing around with him ... one more time sending him into such a story.

Staying few hours into her company ... holding her hand all the time ... he felt amazing.

An unknown person ... appeared from nowhere ... was somehow offering him an amazing vibe ... just by touching his hand.

But then John left the hospital being called by his duties from his work.

Forgetting to ask for her phone number ... keeping into his mind and heart ... the magic touch of that young lady ... feeling even a little bit hypnotized John calls me ...

It was another ... John ...

Connected to such different ... vibes.

That multinational company kept him prisoner ... away from beautiful vibes.

Many were envying him for his position of his career ... but John already started to dream of another Universe.

He had just ... enough of his problems from business ... and thought it came the time to stop being a prisoner of that company.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

That girl made him dream of another type of life but he maybe needed someone to come ... hold him by hand ... and simple go away.

Just like it happened on the streets ... with the car accident.

And maybe it was not about Iryna ... but ... who knows

One day the Universe might open new doors ... to the all of us.

We should be aware not to become the prisoners of everything not even of our own thoughts

I've recently read a book of an austrian philosopher.
It was a book of essays ... written into the same style as my books ... and i really enjoyed it.
But what i found funny is that the guy defined himself more ... a thinker ... and prisoner of his own thoughts.
Started this process of asking himself existential questions from an early age ... since he was just a little kid ... and ended becoming a ... writer ... which was defining his perceptions in the front of the whole world.
The book itself ... the one i was reading ... was not about a specific subject ... but mainly about a large spectrum of thoughts ... which had nothing to do one with another.
I could even say ... that same as me ... he was defining in fact ... his contradictory thoughts.
But ... comparing to myself ... he had the ability to admit that he became the prisoner of this process ... called ... thinking.
Mark ... this was his real name ... considered himself a simple ... ordinary guy ... from Austria.
Just one of the citizens which were living into that country ... and nothing more.
But why i am writing about this guy ... is not to tell you about his books, but to tell you about an amazing trick he found to get out from the prison of his own thoughts.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

His little son ... which was an amazing kid helped him to do that ... doing lots of funny things and having with him non sense discussions.

He was somehow ... still into the era of ... tabula rasa.

Mark could see this difference between the innocent Universe his kid was living in ... and his own Universe ... fulfilled with contradictory thoughts.

Could join his son in that Universe of ... tabula rasa ... with no thoughts at all ... but it was all like getting out of his prison ... for short periods of time.

The trick worked for Mark and trended to believe that it will work for other people also.

Jumping from this non ending process of thinking on and on and on to simple disconnect from this habit ... the thinker started to not feel prisoner anymore ... at least from time to time.

I liked the idea but guess what?!

Even if i tried it ... i could not do it.

I was the prisoner of my thoughts ... but it looked like i had a sentenced for life ... into this prison with invisible walls ... build by my own thoughts ...

A life under slipper unfortunately a way of living

I see many people living like that.

Sometimes Paul says to me that i live into the same way ... but i smile.

Most probably in one point the marriage itself becomes kind of a prison ... but knowing who's the prisoner ... i ask myself who's the guardian?!

Divorced men make fun all the time of men that are still married ... and many times i do agree with them.

I see too many people dominated by the partners ... but i smile realizing all that.

I personally don't feel dominated ... but from outside it still looks like i live a life ... under slipper.

Like many, many others.

Is it good?

Is it bad?

It's marriage a prison?!

Who the hell is the guardian?!

Well ... most probably ... that role it's taken by the rules, the expectations ... and all the other conditions the partner is coming with.

And living under slipper... becomes unfortunately a way of living.

The guardian is not the partner ... but the marriage itself.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

The question is why the hell people accept to live into this prison called marriage?!

Hmm ... i could probably say that ... we don't even observe it ... not even if someone keep telling us ... on and on and on.

I personally ... can't realize that i am a prisoner even if Paul keep repeating me that.

I am maybe a prisoner ... but i don't feel it.

And i smile again.

Great philosophers ... or spiritual leaders always told us about a prison ... with invisible walls ... where ordinary people live.

I am an ordinary person ... so

Being in prison ... it's probably ... a real fact.

But guess what?!

I found a trick ... an amazing one.

While living my life on the stage of reality ... i give myself the freedom to connect to my inner self and live in the same time in 2 parallel worlds.

My outer ... but also my inner world.

I'm probably in prison ... but i am not actually there.

I am absent.

... totally absent ... from reality.

And i like it

Being happy or unhappy it's just a ... decision.

Truth be told ... there are also happy people into this world.
But still ... too many unhappy persons all around ourselves.
I was recently reading about different diseases... but most probably the worst one is ... the unhappiness.
I somehow feel that everyone is trying to hide that.
The term ... disease ... is used just ... related with the body ... but we avoid talking about the soul.
... being unhappy ... became somehow ... kind of normality.
And we accept that with ... obedience.
We accept becoming prisoners of a reality ... which is not what we dreamed about.
Being unhappy becomes an unhappy result ... of not feeling in the right place ... near the right persons.
But ... prisoners of unhappiness ... life continues.
And we simple don't do anything about that.
We remain unhappy ... even if in fact ... unhappiness could be redefined.
No one told us that being happy or unhappy it's a decision.
A very simple one ... which we could take in the morning ... everyday.
Day by day ...
... we keep remaining on that frequency of unhappiness.
We realize it's all a decision ... and we could switch all those

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

inner feelings with beautiful ones but ...

Maybe no one ever bothered to tell us ... how damn simple it is ... to do it.

That staying the prisoners of the unhappiness ... it's just stupid.

And instead of being unhappy ... when we could actually be happy ... it's

Again ... time flows ... and nothing change.

Even if no one bothered to say us about the tricks of switching our perceptions about reality ... we finally understand that all ... it's just a decision.

.. and nothing more.

But still ... all around us ... just unhappy faces.

Karmic stories make us feel we are ... prisoners of unwanted circumstances

I believe sometimes that i write philosophy.
Many times i also believe that i actually write about ... spirituality.
But my mind it's still so unclear.
I have lots of contradictory thoughts ... and i still don't know how should i define everything it's going on with me.
I came to this point of analyzing all about my own life ... forced by circumstances ... feeling like a prisoner of a unwanted reality.
The karmic stories ... made me realize that my only chance is to meditate ... and instead of feeling depressed or unlucky ... just tried to see the message behind the message.
But guess what?!

I did not saw a message but messages.
And even worst ... it was about contradictory ideas that appeared into my mind.
All i wanted was to not be ... or at least not feel like a prisoner anymore.
A prisoner ... of karmic stories that were repeated on and on and on.
So ... i meditated more.
I wrote my thoughts ... like a diary of all what was going on into my life ... but also deep inside my mind and soul.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

Unfortunately... all was ... a nonsense, cause today i was convinced all was nice ... and the next day ... i saw everything collapsing again.

A large spectrum o contradictory events ... having probably the purpose to teach me something ...

But i was blind ... cause i could not understand the real message of all those stories.

Continued to feel like a prisoner ... but ... i did not understand who are the guardians of this prisoner ... and what i've done wrong to deserve to live such a life.

The whole journey of my life was annoying and everything became a non ending story ... related with ... karma.

So karma was the prison itself?!

Or just the guardian?!

Or ... maybe my illusory contradictory perceptions ... made me feel like that.

But in a short moment of silence ... i somehow felt that my life was a lesson ... teaching me about ... the whole meaning of everything.

The intensions of Universe ... were not wrong ... as i thought.

And i was not a prisoner ... but a student at the school of life.

I misunderstood all for such a long, long time.

Instead of realizing the illusion of the self ... that i was actually a prisoner of my own self ... i thought that all what was going on ... was real.

But it was all a lesson ... to reveal me the secrets that could allow me see beyond the self ... beyond the illusion.

So?!

Did i made any change?!

Any improvements?!

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

Did my karmic stories went to an end?!

Hmm ... unfortunately ... no.

I understood life ... but only into a theoretical way ... and on the scene of life ... i was still an idiot ... believing karma it's a bitch not a teacher.

So ... i was balancing ... between feeling like a prisoners ... but also dreaming about freedom.

And this emotional dance continued on and on and on Changing the energetic field the influences just disappear

I still cannot understand ... reading the statistics of my books ... why "Influencing and being influenced" ... does so well. But on the other hand ... i do understand the impact of being influenced ... and ...

I realize i also influence around myself and not just into a positive way.

All those influences create some borders for me, but also for all the others.

Somehow realities ... our realities which many times are having just very small variations are dominated by all the energies involved.

Any scene is somehow interconnected with all the energies of the people but also of the place ... where we are.

The place itself carried the influences of all the people that were there before ...

So all .. it's somehow interconnected.

But one of the biggest mistake we do is that we don't change places from time to time.

Simple totally disconnected from ... the actual reality where we live.

Of the places where we usually spend mostly our time ... but also of all the people from the scene of our lives.

Simple ... cut ... all connections ... then come back after a

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

while ... and see the impact of that.

Might be surprised that ... positive ... but also negative things happen right away.

Disconnecting from a certain energetic field ... which is actually an entity represented by all the energies involved ... changes finally appear.

Influences are cut ... off ... at least for a while.

An example could be a vacation ... when we stop talking to anyone from home ... or for the ones that are much evolved spiritually ... a state of meditation ... that could simple disconnect us from daily life.

A practice done ... daily ... having the purpose of giving us the chance to stop being prisoners of forces which sometimes we are not even conscious about.

The methods can be very different.

Some prefers to go to fishing ... and forget about anything around themselves.

Some prefers ... vacations.

Some ... sports.

Some ... arts ... like painting or sculpture.

Some like me ... writing ...

But the purpose itself it's the same even if we are conscious or not ... about that.

... to disconnect from influences that make us prisoners of unwanted realities.

Ones ... which we dislike.

Or even worst we hate.

But can we really stop being influenced?!

Can we also stop wanting so much to influence everything around us that represents ... reality?!

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

Most probably not ...

We see energetic fields everywhere ... of so, so many kinds ... but we ignore the fact that the best connection of all ... the best energetic field and the best influences can come from the inner self.

We should simple close our eyes ... connect to the self ... and chase for the best reality of all ... which can recalibrate us in such an amazing way ... that opening again our eyes ... we simple start acting into a better way ... a positive one ... that brings positive influences everywhere ... we appear.

But again ... i must repeat myself saying ... theory it's so damn simple ... but ...

Chase for happiness not for success. Everything else it's a nonsense.

I've recently read a book of a guy that wrote his story about life ...

His life in fact ...

It was the story of an ordinary person ... and i found it very similar with my own case.

I could almost say that he had the same life scenario as me ... and i was even laughing while reading the book.

Like many others ... this guy ... started to study personal growth ... and chased for success for years.

And he really got the success he wanted.

After reading thousands of books about personal growth ... believing in the idea of success ... he got even more successful than he ever dreamed.

He owned different companies, had lots of money in his bank accounts, lots of properties ... everything ... but ...

Well ... he got all he ever chased for ... but not happiness.

Everyday when he was waking up ... looking into the mirror ... he still had that profound sadness and could not do anything to improve his situation.

But meditating more ... he realized that before having the success he had today ... he was analyzing a lot successful people ... and tried to copy their models ... as in the end to get all he wanted.

So ... Emilian ... started to study happy people from all around the world or at least he was trying to do that. The big luck was that social media was full with very clear examples ... with people that looked happy.

And studying more and more ... he started to copy their models.

Took his family ... went in vacations in different parts of the world ... but still ... looking in the mirror ... every morning ... that profound sadness was there ... all the time.

Unhappiness was following him all the time ... no matter what he was doing.

Copying all those patterns of the happy stories from social media ... was really useless for him.

Emilian totally disliked all what was going on with his life ... cause no trick worked for him ... at least to start following the path of happiness.

It worked so damn easy when he tried to chase for success ... but when it came about happiness ...

Success itself looked today like a pathless path for him ... and the concept of happiness ... something that he will never get ... even if he was trying so, so many thicks.

Writing the book itself ... looked to me like a book of self therapy ... same as i was doing.

He was in fact defining his unhappiness on and on and on ... trying to find out why the hell he was the prisoner of those feelings.

And he was writing ... a book of 500 pages ... but I honestly believe he did not found the answer.

Like many others

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

Most probably ... happiness does not have patterns.
Happiness itself is simple about connecting to the present moment ... and enjoy the moment itself ... whatever that means.

Emilian ended his book ... realizing he was unable to connect to the vibes of happiness.

Same as me ...

Same as many, many others ...

Feeling prisoner ... into a reality that has nothing to do with the one he dreamed about ...

But Emilian was still dreaming ...

He was remembering about all those tricks used when he was chasing his success ... and somehow dreamed that one day he will find the right tricks for a ... happy reality.

Happiness was maybe close to him ... but he was the prisoner of unhappy vibes.

Something kept him prisoner there.

But what?!

Or who?!

Maybe ... he was the prisoner ... but also the guardian of that scene

Revenge has so, so many weird forms.
Sometimes you see a stupid unexplainable desire of ... sending you back into the past
... just to feel again those moments.
And maybe re become the prisoner of that past ... again ... and again ... and again.

I knew Amelia by a long, long time.

I also knew Andrew ... but not so well as this beautiful lady that used to be my friend by so many years.

I've analyzed her many times.

I've even judged her ... but if i should define her into a proper way ... most probably ... i would say lots of beautiful things ... except the fact that even if it does not look so ... she really had a bad character.

You see ... Andrew never told me his side of the story ... why they broke up ... but i sometimes feel that he was not the one that simple ... fucked ... everything.

I knew Amelia's talent of destroying everything around.

And i really knew that she was ... the best in the world ...
when it came about destroying beautiful things.

She had an unexplainable desire of dominating the scene of life ... but did not realized that ...this stupid desire ... was actually breaking into pieces anything she was ... touching.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

Having enough ... Andrew decided to get out of such weird relationship ... where everything was balancing all the time between contradictory emotions.

Today he was happy in her arms ... but the day after tomorrow something happened all the time and Amelia was ... fucking everything.

He was actually living an unacceptable life scenario living in a prison of emotions and feeling that were ruining his soul. And ... one day he left her ... hoping that was a final decision for his life.

She was pretending that she accepted his decision but from time to time using her amazing charm ... she was inviting him ... to see her again ... and why not ... make love ... just one more time ...

He could never refuse those invitations ... but soon after he felt again ... being the prisoner of the past.

Prisoner of a reality that he forgot so easily that he was hating.

It was kind of a revenge that Amelia was practicing ... remembering him ... how amazing she used to be in some of the moments spent together.

Then she disappeared.

She acted as a ghost ...

A ghost from his past ... that was annoyed that Andrew stopped being dominated by her energies.

And the balance of his emotions appeared on and on and on ... being prisoner again ... then releasing himself from prison.

A non ending story that revealed that love is not just about love ... but also about ugly energies domination ... and also many other dark sides that we carry inside our souls.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

Today ... i stoped judging Amelia.

But i was laughing of how idiot Andrew could be ... coming back into her arms ... even if he knew the story ... so damn well.

Dolce far niente ... a way of connecting to the Infinite

I spoke a lot in the last time with someone that is always telling me ... when i ask how she is doing that she is just relaxing.

We joke ... remembering about the concept "Dolce far niente" which is an italian saying ... meaning ... "sweet doing nothing, sweet idleness".

But everyday when i ask her ... the same question ... she is telling me the same thing.

And knowing that my friend has kind of a spiritual intelligence ... i realized i need to think more about what is behind that fact.

Why someone like her ... involved into so many things into the past ... could decide one day ... to stop doing anything at all?!

It's weird.

I found it illogical.

Total nonsense.

Until one day when i realized ... she already discovered by a long, long time that life itself is a prison with invisible walls. So ... why should she bother to do anything at all ... while being into a prison?!

But there was one more secret.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

While relaxing she felt a joy ... difficult to be defined.

It was something unbelievable.

Was something that was looking a lot with ... the connection with the Infinite.

The moment of stillness ... was creating a connection with all it exists ... and the prison ... and all the other borders ... finally disappeared.

That moment of relaxation metamorphosed into something that ... had an amazing value for her soul.

Dolce far niente ... became a purpose for her life ... even if all around her ... found that a total nonsense ... and were laughing ... behind her back.

Not loving ourselves ... we end up seeing how so many around start disliking us ... and we just can't understand why

A guy goes to a guru ... complaining to him ... but also asking for help.

In few minutes Mark succeeded to explain all his recent life ... but instead of showing a certain type of compassion to him ... guru started to laugh.

Mark could not believe it.

"I'm sorry! Probably you misunderstood something. Why do you laugh of me?!" ... Mark asks.

"My friend! I'm laughing of your naivety.

I'm sorry i can't stop myself.

You said you read lots of books of philosophy and spirituality. I'm sure you heard the saying that ... the life itself it's actually a mirror of our souls.

For a reason ... related with your past you don't appreciate yourself ... and you also don't love yourself.

This is the energy you send to the people ... when you are surrounded by them.

Understanding the concept of reflection is maybe the cure ... for a better life.

When people met you ... they first see your beautiful side ... but connecting to them ... you start sending another message ... a contradictory one.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

So ... they somehow start to dislike you.
And you knew that thing ... long before you came here.
You knew it ... but you refused to believe it.
You need to accept ... yourself.
To embrace everything related with your being and also love yourself.
We come into this world ... with a very clean soul ... but later on ... the world is breaking it into very small pieces.
The only medicine to fix ourselves again is just ... using the power of love.
And first ... of self love.
Might sound as a cliché ... but it's not.
Meditate ... and soon you'll find the new path to follow."
Mark smiled politely ... and left the guru not even saying good bye.
He was not expecting to hear that.
Or maybe to be more precise ... he hoped that he will hear something else.
Mark knew indeed this theory but theory is theory ... and real life is real life.
It was like he was living into a prison ... where he had no access to ... love.
And indeed guru was right ... laughing.
He was laughing seeing Mark ... keeping himself prisoner into a jail ... where he was the guardian, but also the ... prisoner.

Relationships of any kind ... should not involve any domination at all.
Otherwise everything will be fucked up.

Many relationships start very well.

Some even ... excellent, but what is funny is that if you should analyze many people that declare they are enemies ... and understand deeply their relationship ... you should understand first that before becoming enemies ... they were friends.

And even close friends.

So why are things like that?!

What they liked at each other that they became friends and what they disliked at each other so much that they became enemies?!

Is this normal?!

Is this a nonsense?!

I've analyzed the cases from my own life and realized that ... it was all related with the trend of domination.

On my side.

And on the side of that person ... which i defined ... friend ... but many times ... also by my side.

Seeing how i fuck everything around myself ... i changed the desire of domination with a shying try of influencing.

I stoped forcing anything at all.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

And also realized that whenever i see the try of domination on the other side ... i simple disconnect and disappear.

I prefer ... open relationships... based on the respect for the other's side entity.

I've started to be more opened.

I respect that ... while traveling into this world ... and experience things ... and different stories ... i'm going to meet other entities too.

People with good sides ... but also people with bad sides.

And when i say ... respect ... it's all about accepting that i don't need to see the spectrum of my own energies ... all over.

Stopping the stupid desire of domination ... became .. a must ... for my new philosophy of life.

And i continued smiling in front of anyone that wants to dominate my soul.

I was smiling ... and disappeared... in the next second ... exactly like a ghost.

I did not wanted to become the prisoner of any unwanted energy but either to become the guardian of anyone.

That should be ... an useless life.

Sometimes it's all about sex ... and it's like taking a magic pill ...

I chat with my friend Brian all the time about his love stories. There are a lot of essays i've wrote ... related with his experiences ... and i believe i did not made any mistake sharing those episodes to the public.

Many times i define with Brian ... all those things from his life ... as a therapy.

I'm actually teaching him the art of analyzing, defining and then redefining his own life.

Yesterday we've remembered about a love story which he had 10 years ago ... and we've wondered why the hell ... the whole story happened only and only into that hotel room from the city center.

All was amazing ... but he still could not define properly if it was a story about love ... or about sex.

He was married at that time ... and she was married also ... so going out ... even walking together on the streets was difficult.

So ... they continued for a long time ... having a relationship only and only on the scene of that room.

And i remember that every time he was meeting her ... it was like he was taking the magic pill of happiness.

Talking to Brian ... we've realized that not even after so much time ...could not say for sure ... if it was a good thing

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

for him ... or not.

But maybe he just needed to live that experience.

He needed a magic pill ... and nothing more.

An analgesic to ... treat his depression.

Or maybe we should define all ... as an amazing trick so that he can feel alive from time to time.

But ... even if this was all he wanted from her their relationship from the hotel room ... she saw all as a prison cell.

She loved all what was going on between them ... but being together just there ... she felt prisoner of an amazing weird love story.

Later on ... they ended the story ... but ...

After so many years ... me and Brian could not define for clear that story ... but this is life ... and from time to time ... we need kind of a magic pill as a ... therapy.

I don't believe in domination.
I believe in synchronizing energies.

I wrote many books about love stories ... and what i regret most is that i did not used ... almost at all the word sex. But i've spent a huge time analyzing and defining the connection between a man and a woman.

Unfortunately... it was all from my perspective ... as a man. And even if i tried to connect to so many other ladies ... that i had nothing to do with ... i still did not understand the real ... subject.

I see today all my writings ... actually as a great help for the ladies that want to find out how a man thinks ... but it's 100 % not the truth about relationships.

In fact ... not even close to that.

But i still feel myself dominated by my own ideas.

I still care of them ... and maybe the real truth is that everything i do all the decisions i am taken are related with my perceptions.

And i am laughing seeing that in ... everything means my life ... i try to make all my best as reality to look like my perceptions.

Even if it does not look like that the ugly story of dominating starts again ... and again.

Somehow history is repeating on and on and on.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

I am saying all the time that i don't believe in domination ... but all i do reveals that i want as my world to be ... part of ... my prison.

To look like my perceptions.

And no change appears ...

I know few theoretical things about the change that i should do in life ... but ... it's useless.

I say all the time, that i don't believe in domination ... and i should just synchronize with the world ... and i know that this is the path ... but ...

Maybe i am still the prisoner of my perceptions ...

Imagine a world where everything it's a reflection of your thoughts.
Would life be amazing ... or still illusory?!

I've read a lot about the law of attraction into my past.
And i did all my best to master this law ... but ... even if i succeeded doing that I somehow still find it ... illusory.
I remember i've read a book few years ago ... about a guy that was defining into an amazing way all the steps for practicing the law of attraction.
The author ... even wrote many episodes from his own life ...
hoping he will be better understood by the public.
I smile remembering about the story ... when he defined what type of lady he wanted to have into his life and what he would like as her to do ... or say to him.
He was visualizing for long time ... this best case scenario for his love life ... hoping ... but also having lots of moments when he was really believing that it will happen to him.
And one day ... it really happened.
That lady appeared into his life.
She was a beautiful lady ... with an amazing soul just like in his dreams.
And it was even more ... weird.
She was acting exactly how he had visualized.
And everything she was saying to him ... scared him to death.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

It was like someone had written all the words she was saying to him ... but ...

In one point ... the author realized that he was actually the writer of the scenario ... with the love story.

The way it happened ...

The way she looked like ...

The way she was doing everything

And all she was saying to him.

Scared ... the guy goes to a sorcerer ... tells him the whole story ... and ... ask for guidance.

The sorcerer smiles ... and replies ... "It is so ... so funny ... seeing the ordinary human being trying to learn the art of connecting to the absolute powers of the Universe ... like a sorcerer is doing ... and ... the moment it happens to have access to those amazing energies beyond reality ... the humans ... get scared to death ...

And i see that in your eyes too

It's like you became prisoner of a reality built by your own mind ... and you don't know what to do and believe anymore. Find it illusory but ... just happened ... "

The writer leaves the house of the sorcerer ... and ... still amazed ... finds himself in the position of not knowing what to say anymore to the public ... that mastering the law of attraction is a good thing or an illusion that might drive us crazy.

Some are living trapped into a prison of emotions ... but some are living with the handicap of being aemotional.
And don't really know what the best option is.

I analyze all the time the people around myself.

And i also analyze myself a lot.

Today i see that i am not dominated by my emotions anymore.

... which i find .. or believe ... it's good.

But i somehow metamorphosed myself into a zombie that is not feeling anything ... anymore.

So ... if you would ask me ... what is the best ... i could not really say ... what is the version i like most at myself.

Experiencing both scenarios ... switching from one state to another ... on and on and on ... i could not really find the middle way.

Never

The moment when i realized i am a zombie ... i wanted to feel alive again and have emotions but the moment when i felt so intense all what was going on ... became scared and without any escape.

If was indeed like balancing between being the prisoner of my emotions ... and being a free zombie.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

And more i've analyzed ... more i've saw all as a nonsense.
I could never ... but absolutely never ... find the middle way.
Was looking like a person that did not knew to manage the connection with my soul
I knew it was all an art ... but most probably i'll never master this.
Never ...

Everything does not happen is ... for the best

We have lots of dreams.

... and also an infinite list with desires.

We pay a huge attention as the things to happen into the way we want them to happen ... and we are really disappointed if things goes differently.

We even meditate a lot of why we can't really get things in life ... exactly like in our plans?!

We try more ... and more to fight for those dreams.

We find motivation ... as an amazing tool for the list of desires ... but we don't align our minds ... not even for a second to what really happens into the real life.

We simple can't practice acceptance.

We don't want to ask ... why if we really want so deeply some of the things ... we can't get them ... no matter what.

Why can't we synchronize with the Universe?!

Why the Universe does not listen to us?!

But looking back in time ... analyzing my list of desires ... i see so many contradictions on the timeline of my life.

Years ago ... i really wanted things which are contradictory with the present way of seeing the world.

And ... i continue meditating ... refusing to accept what the Universe has to say.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

Most probably i can't understand the concept of ... Infinite Intelligence ... and practice the acceptance ... that a religious person is practicing.

It's not my style.

Being trapped into the illusion of the self ... so, so deeply ... i just can't accept anything ... except what i think is the best for myself.

But what is the best?!

What do we want today is actually

Well ... so, so many thoughts.

So many desires.

But ... still ... no matter what we can't get rid of the illusion of the self.

We can't understand the connection ... and the implications between all what is going on around ourselves.

We see just the desire ... and the obsession of having that desire.

And nothing more ...

Karma is not a prison ... but can become like that ... if we don't pay attention at details.
And that can ... hurt a lot.

Today ... i see around myself lots of people ... cheating.
And it all looks like a damn ... nonsense.
Total ... nonsense.
And i see men ... but also ... women doing that.
In all sorts of ... forms.
Some are doing it into a sexual way.
Some ... not being so courageous ... are just cheating in their ... minds.
Having the desire of doing it ... but still not doing it.
Some are staying on chat ... talking to other possible future partners.
I see lots of ways of doing that.
And i start asking myself ... why?!
From outside ... it all looks so ... illogical.
I had the chance to see ... even close friends of mine that are doing that.
I was asking myself how the hell a guy ... with such a beautiful wife ... could cheat her?!
I was looking at his beautiful wife ... that really looked as an amazing woman and could not understand why things were like that?

I also saw ladies ... that had husbands which looked like real wonderful person but ... the same story ... of cheating ... So ... why those people which looks like living in perfect life scenarios ... would do something so ... stupid?!

Are they simple ... idiots?!

... not realizing what they do?! ...

Hmm ...

I don't believe so...

I've analyzed them a lot ... and it all looked like they were living a karmic scenario ... and had enough of it.

It's like ... they felt prisoners in stories ... which even if it looked like from outside ... as something ok ... or even very good many, many times ... it was totally contradictory.

I tried to understand those stories.

And i still continue to analyze and define ... why the hell a connection ... becomes like a prison.

Most certainly ... many people are just living karmic scenarios ... but not understanding the karmic meaning of all what is going on ... it all becomes indeed a prison.

An illusory ... karmic prison.

And cheating looks like an occasionally way of not feeling ... prisoner anymore.

But maybe both scenarios are part of the illusion of life.

Paying attention at all the details regarding our existence becomes ... a must.

And ... even if we know it ... we just delay all ... pretending we can't see the real truth

Living without goals and dreams ... a weird ... but interesting plan

I see today lots of people interested about motivation ... and all related with that.

But i also noticed by a long time ... many persons that are already 40 or more ... that they don't talk anymore about that.

You could even say that they don't even know what this concept is about.

So i wonder myself ... what is the best scenario to follow in life?!

And ... i still not have an answer.

My friend Mark ... recently complained to me that when he is dating a new lady ... and is usually asked to define his life ... he don't really know what to say anymore.

Last week Eve asked him:

"Tell me what are your plans and goals for the future?!"

And having again a moment of sincere naivety Mark ... replied:

"Well ... my new vision of life ... is to live without plans and goals."

The conversation between them ... almost stoped ... instantaneous.

Eve finished her coffee and left ... few minutes later ... realizing Mark is a lost guy and she doesn't have what to do

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

with him ... in a real relationship.

For her it was all ... a waste of time.

Another date with ... the wrong guy.

And maybe for Mark also ... another date with the wrong lady.

But he also knew that all those meetings with the ladies from internet ... were carrying a powerful message for him philosophy ...

And still ... he started to feel like a prisoner cursed to date with ... the wrong lady.

For a second ... i closed my eyes and started to ask myself ... what the hell should i do if i should be ... Mark?!

Maybe i should just become ... a liar.

And start to tell them exactly what they want to hear.

But same as Mark ... i look like a lost soul too ... and it's all totally obvious.

So ... no matter what i should say ... most certainly i would probably reveal my real philosophy sooner or later.

I just look a lot with ... Mark.

But what we certainly forget to define in front of the public is that our vision of living without plans ... means actually that we understood many times that the Universe laughed of our silly goals or dreams ... and saw how many of our plans were ruined into the end.

Today ... maybe we accept just one plan ... the divine one ... and do our best to connect to the moment.

Everything else ... is useless.

Many times it's about ... a dance of energies.
Watching, analyzing, defining but also accepting and embracing all what is going on ... it's part of the process.
That process of understanding ... life.

I had many moments in life when i felt myself dominated by the reality of that moment.

It happened so, so many times ... and it's still happening.

I feel like a prisoner of a world ... that is not the one i wanted for myself.

And more i try to get out from there ... much difficult becomes all.

In one point ... i started to hate the fact that i wake up in the morning ... and see as a big release the fact that in the night ... i am allowed to go to sleep and enter to another world for few hours.

But ... meditating ... listening to my friend Paul ... that is telling me all time ... "It's a new day! A new chance to enjoy it!" ... i started to wonder myself "Why the hell i am not doing that?!"

Me and my friend ... were living into the same Universe ... but i felt a prisoner ... and he was enjoying life all the time.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

Had a contrary attitude on life ... and even worst .. he was laughing of what i defined as ... "my problems".

But thinking more and more ... i discovered a trick ... the one of disconnecting from the energies of my present moment.

At least from time to time.

It was all a simple ... decision.

And suddenly i discovered that it's not that i dislike this world ... but a certain dance of energies that are around myself.

I was dominated not by reality but by certain elements from this reality ... and i realized i can simple disconnect ... and ignore their presence on the timeline of my life.

Time was passing ... and i was making progresses in ... understanding all is going on.

I realized that i can take the decision of cutting the connection between me and any other type of energy that ... i dislike.

Suddenly ... watching at this dance as a simple show ... ignoring all is going on ... and being just a spectator not feeling connected to anything ... i started to feel more ... relaxed.

I somehow began to accept the concept that it was all ... part of this karmic process that was revealing me the secrets of life.

And i had to act better ... on the stage of .. reality.

When no therapy works ... try a love story

Studying too much philosophy and spirituality, understanding and also really believing that life is an ... illusion and wanting to find out more about the illusion of the self Oliver wrote me.

He was attracted of the fact ... that in many of my books i usually use the term "illusion".

I smiled seeing his message ... not really considering myself an expert into that subject ... cause on the scene of the real life ... i was not really recognizing ... the illusion.

All i knew were some ... theoretical concepts ... which i was exploring on and on and on.

... defining them into my books.

But ... i continued the conversation with Oliver ... listening to his story.

In one point i started even to believe that too much study of philosophical and spiritual concepts made him be in a kind of a depression mental state.

I saw him ... unhappy ... and i could not give him the answers he was looking for.

I was ... probably on the same path as him.

And many times ... having this weird impression that all is just ... an illusion ... i also disliked living into this Universe.

Could not find the sense of all that.

And the question was ... why the hell should we continue living here ... if we feel unhappy all the time?!

But Oliver ... mentioned ... just before ending our conversation ... that recently ... an old lady ... which is living close to him and knows him since he was a kid .. asked ...

"My dear child I know you by so, so many years ... and everyday you look more and more ... unhappy.

I don't really know what is going on.

Maybe you already follow a therapy with a specialist, but ... i think that nobody ever mentioned to you ... that the best therapy in the world ... is love.

A love story ... could totally redefine your soul."

I was listening to Oliver and i smiled.

I was practicing what i named ... self therapy ... and i wrote a lot about that ... but i was never thinking of the ... therapy with ... love.

My philosophical thoughts ... made me also stay into a prison of unhappiness ... and even worst.

I was rejecting ... happiness ... as an illusion.

I knew ... same as Oliver that both happiness and unhappiness are illusions but i allowed as the last concept to dominate my soul.

My new friend Oliver ... came to me ... asking for an advice ... but telling me about the theory of therapy with ... love which that old lady was speaking about ... made me think if ... i should try it as a possible antidote ... for my unhappiness.

“I did not wanted to sculpture the bird ... but its flight”

Constantin Brancusi

I recently read about the romanian sculptor Brancusi ... and his work.

And reading this quote about the birds ... i suddenly remembered about my books with love essays.

I even had in mind ... to write a new one .. but most probably my wife would kill me after reading it.

And on the other hand ... i need to be in love again to write such a book.

But by who?!

I close my eyes ... and i smile remembering of all those stories .. written in the night ... on the sofa from my living room ... drinking good red wine ... and writing ... and writing.

It was in fact the same story ... written from 100 perspectives.

A love story ... with 100 episodes.

In my last essay from the last book about love ... i wrote “Awakening can be obtained at the end of a love story.”

And i still believe ... it’s true.

I did not think that i changed this perspective.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

I felt like a prisoner of those strong emotions and even if i liked it ... my mind was looking for an escape.

I wanted to release myself from that story ... but also stay there.

Today i can see that story much ... much ... clear.

I realize it was a story not about a certain person ... but about love.

Same as Brancusi was saying while sculpting the bird ... it was about the flight ... not about the bird.

Maybe ... for my case ... i could say ... it was about the connection.

And i remained for such a long time ... prisoner of that story ... just cause i liked what i felt inside of my soul.

The connection itself ... was amazing.

People are wearing so many masks
... and that creates totally illusory perspectives for us.

I wrote a lot about illusions.

And when i use this term ... it's actually about defining the concept ... the illusion of the self.

... but spiritually and philosophically i just don't feel ready to do it.

.... I mean ... to talk about the illusion of my own self.

I write everyday in the morning and in the night ... and i see all so damn clear ... but on the scene of the real life ... it's like i can't remember anymore ... anything at all.

... nothing ... of what i write.

And i feel everyday ... still the prisoner of induced illusions ... some of the people from my life ... but some also by myself.

Recently i somehow understood that people ... wearing different types of masks ... can hide very well their real personality ... and make us have an illusory perspective about the connection that we could have together.

Not so long time ago ... had a tenant that ... divorced recently ... that came with his son to live into one of my properties.

I saw her always into the company of her child, but also saw that some strange guys ... looking like gangsters were visiting her from time to time.

The relationship itself ... that i had with her ... was not important to me ... but still we had to interact together from time to time.

I did not knew what to really believe about her.

In the company of her child ... she looked like an angel ... but in the company of those gangsters ... she looked like a devil. And i asked myself ... how the hell this relationship with her ... will end?!

3 months later ... she left.

Did not paid anything related with utilities ... the studio looked really bad ... and i had to pay a lot to make the things look great again in there.

Meeting Carla ... who was neighbor with us into the building ... she started to laugh of me ... saying ... "My friend ... you write so, so many things about spirituality, energies beyond the scene of life ... and so, so many others blablabla but you could not see that she was wearing the mark of ... mother.

Why could you not understand that the mask she was wearing when she was into the company of those gangsters ... was actually representing 80-90% of her real personality?! You are so damn blind

You speak about illusions into your books ... but you live the illusion into continuously form.

I ll keep repeating to you on and on and on that ... you're such an idiot."

We both started to ... laugh.

Carla was right ... like always.

I wrote so many things about illusions ... but in the real life ... i could not recognize ... the meaning of those masks.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

And like ... an idiot ... i've become prisoner of circumstances
... which i could avoid so damn easily.
But maybe all it's about understanding more profoundly ...
the term of illusion.

THE END

... or maybe there is no end ... and we have an eternal journey

I had in mind to write the book "I was the prisoner ... but also the guardian" ... as the desire of revealing the truth about the prison where i was living ... by a long, long time. But i did not knew how to define ... better.

I was not understanding completely the subject ... and i've tried so, so much to clarify with myself ... what it's wrong Suddenly... one day ... i've realized ... that i was just pretending i did not knew why my life was looking that way. I felt like a prisoner of a reality with i hated ... but i was not seeing the guardians ... any of them.

And the huge paradox ... was that this prison ... which was in fact my real life ... was a prison with invisible walls ... and i was the prisoner but also the guardian.

I was actually not allowing myself to become ... the one from my dreams and my fantasies.

I was persecuting ... myself ... not giving me the freedom of expressing my real self.

I had those 2 opposite roles ... and i was living a paradox. But deep inside me ... i was still optimistic.

I hoped of being released from this prison called ... my reality ... which i hated ... so, so much.

I WAS THE PRISONER ... BUT ALSO THE GUARDIAN

philosophical essays

And days were passing ... and nothing changed.

Then months ...

Then years ...

In the end I've accepted that there is no end for this ugly story ... and it's all a journey for understanding the Universe ... the Infinite.

The only thing i had to do ... was to find a way to connect with it ... to find the gateway ... which could actually become ... my release from the prison ... with invisible walls.

Thank you for connecting ... with me.
... with my thoughts.
... with all those abstract ideas from my mind.
All what i am writing ... was done from the desire of defining ... the undefined.
... the fact that we don't see ... that the biggest enemy from our lives ... is the self.
Those 2 contradictory concepts of being into the same time the prisoner, but also the guardian that is not allowing us to have a beautiful life ... remains a story difficult to be understood.
But ... maybe at the right time ... all will be clear ... for all of us ... and we might start living ... a much better scenario for our lives.
Probably the one of being ... just one self
... the real one.
... the one that we see inside of ourselves ... the soul ...
that it s connected to the Infinity.

INTRODUCTION

Same story ... different results.

Re-evaluation can sometimes create miracles.

In many of the occasions in life, we see everything in a simple dogmatic way.

We are used with different kinds of results and believe that these represents the only case scenarios that can happen.

We want something else, but don't really believe that life can bring us the ... goodies.

We predict the future, according to the past.

But you know, same story, with the same elements can also have a different result than we are used to expect.

We can influence reality ... just by expecting something totally different that we used to have.

For example ... there are cases when the Universe is sending us the same lesson on and on and on ... till the day when we understand that we need to do things differently to get a different result ... and improve everything happens.

Sometimes we are good theoreticians, sometimes we can't even see clearly reality and understand the meaning of the events ... especially the negative ones.

But having optimistic standards can help us break any problem ... and in the end influence the energetic field of any situation, event .. or even the energetic field of other people.

And when i use the term ... energetic field ... i mean the environment itself, with all its attributes that defines everything in a certain way.

I can give a simple example.

I was in a morning in my garden, reading a book.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

I was on a chair, in a specific place from my garden ... and i use to use that place by almost 10 years.

From that point, i see the beauty of my garden in a specific way, but because it was a very hot day, and the sun came in that point, i had to move the chair in a different place from the garden, not to stay anymore in the sun.

I was amazed.

I almost saw a different garden from that position.

I loved it ... but everything was a totally different perspective.

This was a simple case scenario ... seeing even something beautiful, from a different angle and almost believe is something else.

But in theory, and even in practice, we can have even negative perspectives totally metamorphosized into positive one.

We can change the script of any scenario, by re-evaluate everything ... just by expecting of getting a positive result ... the one we desire.

This is how, only by having an opened mind, ignoring the statistical datas from your past, the one that defines the probability of having a certain scenario ... we can actually influence, but also change the reality itself.

And what we define as miracle ... is in fact just changing the believe into the fact that ... life can be also the way we dare to dream.

Truth be told, the reality can be created or even re-created in any way we want it to happen.

All we need to do is to connect to that energetic field, which actually means ... be one with the present moment ... and expect as everything should happen in a specific way that you want.

Even the miracle itself is just a different result ... the one that we had in mind and wanted.

So ... realities can be defined, redefined, but also written in any specific way.

A hollywoodian movie ... has amazing scenes and all the scenes are a telling the details of the story ... so that it will have a powerful message, but also powerful impact on you.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

You connect with the reality of those scenes, but most probably the same scene was filmed by 5th - 7th ... even 15th times, till they considered they had the perfect one.

The same way, certain events could be redefined by us, just by meditating, finding the best solution for that event ... and then implemented in the real life.

And try ... and try again ... till the moment it just happens.

And the life can look like a hollywoodian movie also ... by using the power of re-evaluation, re-defining and keeping an opened mind, expecting all the time positive scenarios for our lives.

We are the creators of our reality ... by conscious or unconscious thoughts ... but in the end we should keep in our mind that what looks like a negative script, might be just a life lesson ... not finding yet the right path in life ... but every scenario can be re written in the way we want it to happen.

The key?! I mean the key of getting out of the labyrinth ... is connecting to that reality ... that energetic field ... and have great expectations from it.

So ... even if you don't know it yet ... there is an art of influencing reality and you can learn it.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

Best case scenarios ... can be real.
It's just a decision.
The decision of opening your heart while acting on the stage of your own life.

It happens i know a story about a couple married by more than 15 years.

The guy was trying to influence his wife in different ways so that she will act in a certain way ... as he wanted.

He had a vision, of the perfect case scenario for his wife, but no matter what he was trying ... he was not seeing that change in his house.

He knew about manipulation.

He knew about the persuasion.

He knew how to apply the law of attraction.

Basically he knew all the tricks ... but no matter what he was trying he was not getting a long term result close to what he wanted.

Actually ... a guy knowing how reality can be influenced ... had no result at all.

He proved himself that he is just a theoretician ... and has no idea about practicing anything what he knew.

But one day a miracle was happening.

They were expecting at their house, a close relative that was coming from a foreign country.

The wife started to clean the house, the garden, the car ... and everything related to them was looking perfect.

The wife even pretended that she loves her husband.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

She was speaking to him in such a beautiful way, that for a moment he even thought that his wife started to use drugs or lost her mind. It was totally illogical what was happening.

All he was expecting to get in all those years of marriage ... one day just happened.

"So .. he said to himself ... i was thinking for such a long time for the perfect case scenario in a marriage ... and i was right.

It can be real.

You probably .. just need to wait.

For my case took 15 years ... which might look as an eternity ... but it worth it!"

But ... the guy was so, so naive.

He was the kind of profile that was reading thousands of books and was living in that imaginary world of books.

His wife did not changed.

She did not care about her husband at all ... and neither about his intentions of living the ... perfect life ... which she actually believed that is only an illusion.

The lady was obsessed about ... what the world in that case her relative that came and stayed for a while at her house ... what is going to think about her.

She was obsessed of creating the illusory perfect scenario ... as her aunt to believe that she is living the perfect life.

More than 2000 years ago, Seneca was telling us about the unseen strange energy of ... what we think that others think of us and its importance.

The same importance ... maybe even more powerful ... you can see it nowadays anywhere in the world.

You will find people that try to influence reality in different ways ... only as one day they will be in the position of living the perfect case scenario ... which is the actually the perfect life they dream about.

But you will also see people obsessed of how the others are perceiving them, their lives and everything related to them.

The obsession itself is to create kind of a personal brand that is

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

defined ... by perfection.

Has the perfect look.

Has the perfect partner.

... the perfect job.

... the perfect kid.

... the perfect house.

... the perfect vacation.

Etc etc.

Everything runs around the word ... perfect.

But this illusory perfection ... is not just part of a scenario that we present to the world.

... and social media helps a lot for that.

So ... in the end i could say that we just live, like the 2 partners from the story, between the desire of having the perfect life and making the others believe we live the perfect life.

But we always forget, even if we try in so many ways to influence reality ... that life should not be perfect ... or look perfect ... but be ... real.

And if it is something real ... that comes from deep of our hearts ... one day we could realize that we actually live the perfect case scenario.

It's just a decision ... the decision of acting in life with the opened heart.

Don't follow the rules!
... just follow the heart!

I wondered myself many times why the Universe ... God ... Allah .. the Supreme Intelligence ... just choose the name that you prefer ... let the human being have this balance between thoughts and feelings ... brain and heart.

Sometimes is much too complicated and many times we actually don't know what to choose.

Or maybe there is nothing to choose at all.

Following rules ... certain paths ... is the way the human being is living life.

But between the rules ... the dogmatic way of being ... we have certain moments when we let the heart influence our lives.

Let's say we let the heart ... sing ... and do whatever wants to do. But it's a circle.

After the courage of following the heart, we just come back to the dogmatism ... and choose again the things we need to choose.

No one told us that the rules are made to be broken and we prefer to play on the scene of life just as the others are doing.

We align ourselves to the standards ... forgetting that the only true rule in life should be to connect to the inner self and let it influence the decision we take.

The inner self will be maybe in total conflict with the outer self ... the Ego ... but will send the right sign through the heart.

Call it intuition, connection whatever ... but the answer will be there.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

If you ignore it ... if you prefer to stay blind ... this might be also a decision ... but don't really know it a good one.

Life is beautiful!

We should decide only what is the best for us ... the perfect scenarios, and let the heart influence our decision.

Think with the brain ... but always let the heart decide.

Introvert + extrovert = a total mess?!
... or maybe just a different reaction than we thought?!

An introvert is a person that believes is not able to influence the current reality.

The extrovert is a person that is doing exactly the opposite, trying to dominate reality.

The extrovert ... use the term ... influence ... to sound better, but actually love the word ... dominate.

But what really happens when an extrovert meets with the introvert?! Who is controlling the scene?!

Well ... of course that the extrovert will start the chapter, will try to run the show ... but after a short time he understand that the introvert, especially if is a lady will not be in there anyway.

She is present physically, but not in connection with the extrovert.

On the other hand ... the funny thing is that the extrovert realize after a while that all what he controls is actually ... nothing.

A scene ... with the extrovert acting in a certain way, specific to his style, but the introvert ... is not a spectator.

The reaction between the 2 styles is a strange one ... difficult to be described.

A total mess?!

Or just a different reaction than we thought about till now?!

I somehow believe that the introvert and the extrovert could be teachers one for another.

One is trying to influence reality too much, the other one is doing nothing in that direction.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

One is trying to over connect and dominate everything in the present moment ... the other one is not connecting at all with the scene of life, ignoring everything happens around.

You see ... sometimes the Universe is sending into our lives ... different kinds of people, even the ones having opposite styles than we have ... just to see other kinds of acting, to keep the right balance about how we feel and act on the timeline of our lives.

So ... in the end i should say that the reaction between an extrovert and an introvert will always be a strange one ... probably no one of them will understand the real lesson ... the message behind the message.

This need of influencing or not influencing an energy field where we activate ... should be kept at a certain level, but maybe this is an art and not everybody is an artist ... not even an introvert or an extrovert.

Controlling reality our main obsession

Karl Pillemer, professor at the Cornell University, tried to find an answer for the meaning of life, by talking to 1200 seniors about what they could say about the subject after living so many years in this world.

It was funny that all of them mentioned that they regret that they spent so much time worrying too much for many things that in fact never happened, or if they happened, it was just a light version of those apocalyptic scenarios.

The problem for us, the ones that are not seniors yet, the ones that we still act on the stage of life in a very active way ... is that we do the same as them.

We worry about the fact that reality is so strange that we actually don't even know what could happen ... in a negative direction.

But we expect as bad things to happen.

In fact we worry so much ... that even when reality is just the way we dreamed to be ... we have the belief that something could appear right away and ruin all the beauty of that dreamed life.

We are obsessed that we can't control reality.

But reality can't be controlled.

The reality ... our own reality in fact ... is the scene where we've been placed by the Universe.

Sometimes i even believe that after the Universe sent us in a specific place and scenario ... smiled and said ... "To understand the meaning of life, you just need to ... survive where i placed you!"

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

But instead of seeing in everything happens, only life lessons ... we are trapped by negativity.

The opposite, the positive thinking ... is the way out of the labyrinth of the illusions.

There are moments when inside of us there is a fight of the positive and negative elements of our being, but we can't understand that we just don't need to control reality.

If something bad needs to happen, it will just happen.

We can call this ... destiny ... but in the end is kind of a forced path for making us understand the real meaning of life.

A person having cancer, for example ... is somehow forced to stop from anything is involved in ... and forget about the illusory life.

A doctor can save the person that has cancer, but will not be able to say to that person ... you are totally healed and cancer will not appear again.

Most probably that person needs to follow more paths for healing: going to the doctor, read books about spirituality, going to the church or energetic therapy, going to a nutritionist etc etc.

Follow all those paths, but having hope in the soul all the time.

Without hope ... any path should be useless to follow, cause the hope is the deep desire from our souls to influence reality in a positive and beautiful way.

Somehow we must make the difference between the terms "control" and "influence" ... control reality versus influence reality.

The day when we understand that we should not lose our time forcing reality go in a certain direction ... but embrace the present moment ... just the way it is ... that is probably the day when we actually start understanding something about the path of awakening. So ... forget about your obsession of controlling life ... and start to meditate about the philosophy behind the art of influencing it, which is actually based on positive principles.

... just think about it!

The law of attraction is not for idiots
... so be aware of the way you think and what you think about

I've been studying the law of attraction, its principles, the way we should apply it ... and saw it as mechanism for having the life we really wanted.

But i understood from the early beginning that not knowing how and when to really use it ... can even ruin our lives.

In fact ... is even worst as that.

We actually use the law actually in our daily life ... not even knowing that the law really exists.

It happens i have a dear friend that is actually very good with the energies and even telling me the future.

Every time i am not on the right path ... she smiles and instead of saying that she ironically says ... "You're an idiot!".

I then realize that actually i am not using the law of attraction in the right way.

Naming me "idiot" ... my dear friend actually tells me to re evaluate the situation and pay more attention to my desires.

Lots of times we want to influence reality, but in fact ... we have lots of silly desires ... with no real sense or value.

It's even a balance between wanting totally different things.

Today we want that ... and tomorrow we want the opposite.

A part of us, that part that dominates us in that moment, tells us ... "i want to divorce".

The next day ... something inside of us is whispering, saying ... "Let me try one more time ... and give a new chance to my marriage". It's kind of a bipolarity in all of us ... in everything is really important. The list with similar examples is infinite and this balance between totally different desires ... just ruins us.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

Then i understand why my friend calls me idiot ... from time to time. She sees into the future and knows i am not following a good direction.

She knows i know tricks about the law of attraction and that i am using them to influence reality in a silly way.

Yes ... the law of attraction is a very powerful and interesting mechanism for getting the life that we desire but before even thinking of using it ... we should meditate if the desire itself is something positive in our lives or not.

We should visualize the whole scenario, its implications ... and in the end ask ourselves if we are really willing to pay the price for that dream.

So ... maybe i should mention that an "idiot" is not a silly person ... but a person that is not paying attention to all the details while trying to influence reality.

The law of attraction is a very powerful tool, but maybe the first desire we should have is just to be wise enough while we are using it. So ... be aware of your desires ... and i am sure that you have lots of desires ... cause one day it might just happen.

The Universe will first smile
... then laugh ... and say ... "So shall it be!"
... a real story about the script of financial freedom that actually took a guy to ... hell, even if everything looked like the perfect case scenario

There are so many stories about financial freedom over the internet, that you might fall in love with the idea.

People from all around the world will tell you all kinds of stories like that.

I even know a guy that is charging 10.000 usd for seminar of 3 days, telling you his story about how he succeeded to buy 1.000 houses.

In fact he charges so much, because is actually telling people the secret about how can someone influence reality for getting such a huge real estate success as him.

But it happens that i also know by a very long time a guy that after 20 years of intensive work, working directly with more than 10.000 clients, losing his mind and all the energy with all those people, decided to invest all his money into real estate ... buying 30 properties and then retire.

It was a very simple plan for financial independence ... cause every day a tenant would pay him for the rent.

One day ... one more payment for his pocket ... which was actually the perfect case scenario for financial freedom.

The guy could not even spend the money.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

He used to be very modest and sometimes being so busy, he did not even had time to eat ... so he was wondering ... "what could i do with with all those money?"

He was reaching the life of financial independence.

But believe it or not his life as a rentier was more complicated, as he thought.

One house had problems with water, one with electricity, one with the swimming pool, one with the air conditioning etc etc.

Basically ... everyday was something happening, so the big change was actually no change at all.

It was an exchange with a different model of business ... but it was no real change for his life to a model of being more relaxed.

The financial independence actually took the guy to ... hell, even if everything looked like the perfect case scenario for a new life.

So ... like this guy, it also happens to us that we want to change reality with one that might look like the perfect one ... but ...

sometimes the Universe is just laughing of us.

There is no perfect case scenario.

Life itself can be split into different chapters ... but all of them can be the perfect ones if you really know to appreciate the fact that you are alive.

Influencing reality, following a path to a different scenario ... if is really the path for you ... it will work and will make you really happy ... but if is not the path destined to you ... will just not bring the goodies.

Perfect case scenarios are just theories.

In many cases ... the real life ... the one that you live now is actually the best script for you.

All you need to do is just connect to it and enjoy it!

If not ... the Universe will first smile ... then laugh ... and say ... "So shall it be!"

... and all you will do is just exchange a type of life with a similar one.

Not the reality makes you unhappy
... but the way you see reality

One day ... I was on the street.

Was walking.

One dog was close to me, but also close to 2 boys.

One was saying ... "wow! Is scary! This dog can actually eat us right away!".

The other boy, the little one, was saying ... "What a beautiful dog! I want to hug him!".

On the street, around us, it was only one dog ... defined by the 2 boys in totally different ways.

I was watching the dog and could not know which of the 2 boys to believe.

My opinion about that scene was influenced by 2 kids ... and i was actually wondering which one was right.

Then ... i realized ... that if 2 little boys could create this balance in my mind ... about defining a dog ... how many other times in my life, i was probably influenced by the others regarding what i thought that was ... my reality.

Actually my reality ... was what other people thought ... not my real thoughts or ideas.

Depends a lot from which point of view we see the scene of life and if we have the gut to be at least neutral regarding reality.

And in many cases, we end up believing that reality can make us unhappy ... not the way we see it.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

But the way we see it ... is many times influenced by many, many people that live in the same energetic field with us.

So the unhappiness itself is actually induced by the opinions of the others, opinions that actually are not filtered so well by us.

And this is how we live with the illusion that we don't live a beautiful reality and even that we need to exchange it with something else.

But no one bothered to tell us that instead of trying to influence and maybe even completely change the way we live ... we should just change the perspective.

Redefine in fact ... our thoughts.

... and also realize the influence of the others on us ... allow them to do that ... or not ... and why not just remove them from our lives.

Sometimes ... the influences could be a good one.

But in many cases ... we need to open our eyes and pay attention at everything is going on.

The game of influencing reality, but also the one of being influenced by the others ... will be a non ending story.

We should not be happy or unhappy because of the scene from the present moment.

Pay attention to all the details from life ... cause sometimes things are a little bit more complicated as they might look like.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

Zoom in - zoom out ... and then you will understand how we can actually influence reality

You might have a fabulous car, but a small scratch on it ... will really annoy you.

But the car still looks amazing.

The others will not even notice the scratch, but only remembering about it ... will just fuck your vibe, which actually means that will influence your state of being in a negative way.

So ... the whole picture with the car is great ... the car looks fabulous, but with the zoom in technique, analyzing all the details of the car ... the scratch will be found, analyzed, dramatized ... and in the end destroy the image of the amazing car.

That was a simple example of practicing the zoom in - zoom out technique.

The huge problem when we start to define us and work with this amazing technique ... is that somehow, not really knowing all the details about how to apply those methods ... we remain blocked on the "zoom out" mode.

We see a "scratch" ... any kind of small negative element from our lives, we analyze it and we zoom it in... amplifying all the details to a level where it all might look like a disaster.

The zoom in way of analyzing can be actually used to easily find out what is not working properly in our lives.

The life itself, same as the case with the car ... can be a great one.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

Finding out the things that are not working properly, fix or totally replace them ... and then zoom out again ... that should be the path. But we became too ... hypersensitive ... and we pay too much attention to minor details.

We can't understand anymore that if ... overall things are ok ... that is all it really matters.

We should not identify ourselves... as souls ... with all the details we see.

Defining ... analyzing ... is great.

You understand better your life, your path ... your way of being.

But identifying with any kind of detail is ... probably wrong ... cause in many cases we see only the negative elements and the influence itself can be mainly negative.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

A small little house or a mansion?! Which one will influence more your state of being?!

My question is ... the house where we live can really influence our lives so much?!

Why people are paying so much attention and spend so much money when it comes about the house?!

Can a house make us happy?!

Is really the house ... the energetic field where we live ... or the story is a little bit more complex than that?

Well ... you can have an amazing house and be unhappy even if you stay in there with your wife and kids and everything might look perfect from outside.

Or you can have a simple house ... stay there with the soul mate and actually be the most happiest person from the whole world.

But i wonder myself, after discussing about this 2 scenarios ... what would you choose?!

The small house or the mansion?!

How do you keep the right balance between the needs of the soul and the desires you have as a human being, that are actually influenced by the philosophy and standards of other people?!

What is more important ... the soul ... or being at the standards?!

What path we should follow?!

Should we look for material greatness and want for us a fabulous house ... or pay attention only to the details that really make us happy?!

Well ... i know one thing for certain.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

I saw over the years, even friends of mine, that were having amazing houses ... but where totally unhappy ... and i also saw couples in very simple house ... and they had an amazing relationship.

So ... is the beauty of the house influencing a lot our state of being?! Or is just a decision ... to be able to live in any kind of environment, but let yourself influenced only by the spiritual side of life.

We see reality in a certain way ... but we should pay more attention at what is really important in life.

So ... who is really defining the energetic field from your house ... the house itself ... or the people that are living in there?!

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

Truth be told ... we'd love to control all the ones around us
... but we fail even controlling ourselves

Yesss ... we like ... most of us ... control reality.
And that means also control even the people from our lives.
But ... we name this ... influencing them.
Sounds quite motivational.
And we do it so often, that everything becomes a way of acting on the stage of life.
We expect as the others to respect the script we had created in our mind for the current reality.
And ... the next second when the expectations are not really happening in the way we wanted them to be ... we just lose our temper.
We totally dislike we can't influence in a real way ... not the present moment itself ... but long term events ... actions etc.
We still hope that if influencing reality did not work ... we will still find a way in how our scenario will happen.
Don't even think so much, when actually ... influencing ... is becoming in fact ... a real manipulation.
And we start to find ways of controlling everything and everybody, being obsessed about that.
But one day ... having a moment of mental clarity ... we actually have a shock.
We realize we can't control ... not even ourselves.
Not even in simple things.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

We are trapped in a cage ... where the things are happening just in a specific way ... the statistical one.

There is a clear statistic of how we act at the job, at home, when we are at a party, etc etc etc.

There is a clear definition for everything in our life and the predictability is actually describing the cage of statistical data where we live in.

But ... the Universe is still smiling at us ... and is giving us a clue.

You realize that manipulating the others is not the key ... not even trying to influence them in any possible way.

Maybe the only real solution ... if we try to influence and also control someone ... is do it with ... us.

Mastering ourselves and forgetting about the obsession of controlling reality becomes in fact a better way of living the present moment.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

Influencing reality ... versus ... embracing reality. Which one do you prefer?!

During this lifetime i had so many dreams and goals ... and I've been reading a lot about how i should accomplish them.

But it was quite funny ... in many occasions ... after the desire was accomplished... i had a moment of clarity and saw the stupidity of those desires.

I was working so much to influence the scene of my life ... till i got what i wanted, as in the end to see ... that i was only following a pathless path.

I was trying to influence and change my own life, not being satisfied with my condition from the present moment.

I thought that having the desire as part of my life ... will actually bring me the happiness.

But ... it was just a silly thought.

I've been studying the law of attraction ... and somehow i did not understood that i should pay a huge attention to what i really want for my life.

We all have desires ... but we don't really know to filter them.

Some ... are not even our desires.

It's just a reaction and actually a projection in our life ... of what we had seen to the others.

We've seen that in the real life ... on social media, in books or newspapers etc etc.

But the desire itself was not coming from inside of us.

Adrian Gabriel Dumitru

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

We've been somehow influenced by the others and followed a path that was not meant for us.

At the end of the pathless path ... we realized we need to consult our soul ... and have a clear and honest conversation.

"What do you really, really want?!"

What can i do for you ... my dear soul ... to make you happy, cause i know that if you are happy ... i will also feel happy?!"

You see that the end of the pathless path goes ... to your soul.

It's not that the reality is wrong ... and we should embrace it just as it is ... with not so, so many desires as we have nowadays.

A life influenced a little bit more by the inner self ... not by the Ego .. the one that is so connected to the standards of the modern society.

So ... somehow we should decide of how we spend the energy we have for influencing reality ... or we just embrace reality ... and take the energy from there.

How should you influence the ocean ... when you are on the beach?!

How should you influence ... but also why should you influence the forest?! ... when you are in the middle of it ... and hear the songs of the birds.

What do you do in those cases?!

You just embrace reality and enjoy it.

But what if you do the same in the daily life?! ... at the job, at school, at home ... just everywhere you are.

In the end it all becomes a decision of what you actually prefer.

If you construct something new using old elements it will be even more authentic
... but you need to keep the right balance between old and new

I am passionate of houses.

In fact i love houses.

Houses are my life.

I once asked an architect how can we integrate a ruin into the architecture of a new building and she made me understand that using old elements will make the architecture even more authentic.

But my next deep question to the beautiful architect was ... "Tell me ... my dear ... what about the "ruins" from our soul?! How do we integrate them in our lives?!"

She smiled ... cause she knew what i am talking about.

I showed her a photo with a ruin ... and suddenly she understood everything about my soul.

The ruin itself ... was me.

I was trying to rebuild my soul.

I was doing huge efforts to influence the curent facts from the reality ... so that i can rebuild a new life.

I really wanted a change ... but there were so many things to be changed that i started to ask myself where should i start from?!

Should i keep the ruins from my soul ... cause i had such a strong background with so, so many events?!

It was a balance in my thinking.

Can we see life the way we see the architecture of a building?!

Adrian Gabriel Dumitru

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

Well ... how easy should be life ... if i could become the architect of my life?!

Plan, implement and influence all the events.

Should be fantastic.

But is it really possible?!

I was speaking with myself and the architect ... in my mind ... but could not find the answer.

Then ... i realized i just needed to continue life ... no matter what is really going on ... and not really care if i can influence or not reality.

“OMG! You look like a princess and i am looking for a fairy tale by years.
What shall we really do ... my dear?!”

She had the look of a princess.

It was almost too late for him to totally redefine his life, but he was still dreaming that life can be a fairy tale and in case this is not possible ... he could manage a parallel life with a beautiful princess. He actually believed that fairy tales can be real.

Not as simple fantasies, but as love stories ... camouflaged into ... love affairs.

He was always agreeing with Freud that wrote a nice theory for all the ones that don't agree with morality.

You see ... Freud was believing that rich people from the beginning of the civilization invested money in a new philosophy of life ... called morality.

They were the first sponsors of the religion ... the one that was trying to promote morality.

The meaning of morality was to protect the rich people ... their material goods ... their wives, their children ... their everything.

So the guy, having protection from his friend Freud ... was thinking of a new theory about how to become happy, if in fact we can't really change in any way the real life.

He accepted ... not actually embracing ... but only accepted the real life just as it was.

He came up with the trick of a mistress in a parallel world.

Believed that he can actually live in 2 energetic fields ... one that needs to be accepted for karmic reasons and one reality where he can feel alive.

A reality ... influenced by all his fantasies.

Was it moral?!

Well ... all the people around him were saying no .. but understood that karma was playing around with him ... sending the guy in a reality that looked like the perfect one ... but in fact there was no real happiness for him in there.

The only escape for him was just the decision to live in a fairy tale ... even if it is a parallel world story ... with a mistress ... and i believe that it's too much to judge a person that is accepting reality ... daring in the same time about his dream of being happy.

I also believe that Freud was too abstract even for the nowadays society ... but to really understand life ... and in fact the human being ... we need to keep an opened mind all the time.

No boundaries.

The need of fairy tales ... can be found in all of us ... i mean all the courageous ones.

What if rejection is just a test?!
What if ... NO ... actually means ... YES?!
How do we really manage the influence of our emotions in front of the rejection?

She looks at him and says ...
"You are just not my type of guy.
I'm not feeling attracted by you!"
He smiles and replies ... "Good bye!"
"Bye" ... and she leaves.

I saw the scene with my eyes.
I could not believe it ... that she had the power to tell him that and could not understand his calmness.
But what i did not know was that the guy was working in sales for years.
He even did phone sales.
He was getting one client of 2 phone calls.
When someone was saying him ... "Fuck you!", "Don't want to hear what you have to say!", "Never dare to call me again!" etc etc etc ... he was smiling while replying ... "it was a real pleasure to speak with you, sir!"
So ... the rejection itself ... was accepted by him just as part of the script.
He knew that his statistics showed that the next phone call will be a new client.
He realized long time ago that the coin has 2 sides ... and accepted

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

things just as they are.

His power of influencing was huge ... cause i knew him by such a long time.

Getting one client from 2 phone calls was a tremendous success.

Inside of him ... he was laughing of the girl that rejected him.

They met one time and she disliked that he left earlier ... and even if he named him "egocentric" ... he realized that after telling her that the whatsapp picture was not representing her ... she exchanged it with a very beautiful one.

He influenced her ... so?!

So the question was ... what if ... NO ... actually means ... YES?!

Knowing to deal with rejection, made him see the other side of the story.

Maybe she wants ... but is not ready yet ... or maybe she is just ... afraid.

The influence on her with the whatsapp picture was happening in an unforced way ... so if an ... yes ... might appear ... she would probably reappear on the scene of their story ... by herself.

In a love story ... all the things ... even influencing the story to a certain direction ... must come without forcing anything at all.

He knew that if it's actually an yes ... he likes her and he will embrace the answer and if it's actually a no ... it's just not a path to follow in life.

So ... just let everything come by itself.

Influencing reality is part of our behavior cause we actually want the things to happen in a certain way ... but you see ... love stories have a different algorithm.

There is no perfect circumstance
... or if it is one ... that's your current reality

It happens i have a friend that i chat with him all the time about philosophy, but also about ... women.

He strongly believes that you can find the perfect lady ... only and only if you are part of a certain environment.

That means ... have a specific circle of friends, go in certain coffee shops ... or restaurants ... or clubs etc etc.

Basically he believes that you can meet the perfect woman ... just in certain circumstances.

But i use to walk a lot, sometimes in the city center, and i see lots of beautiful ladies in there.

In fact i see so many ... that i wonder myself ... how the hell can a free man make the selection?!

What should be the real criteria for that?!

I also have a theory ... and my friend is always laughing of me hearing it ... that if it is to meet her ... you can even meet her at the supermarket, while buying eggs and mineral water.

Of course you already understood that me and my friend are not teenagers anymore ... but we still dream like the guys of 16 ... at the perfect fairy tale with the most amazing woman from the universe.
... both of us!

Is it natural?!

I believe so ... and is our fundamental right to dream about anything we actually want.

On the other hand the truth about how you can actually meet the

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

perfect partener ... is somehow in the middle.

We sometimes need special circumstances, but if is to happen ... it will happen anyway ... anywhere.

It is in our powers to influences some of the circumstances ... of the curent reality ... but life is so strange ... so difficult to be understood that ... without the agreement of the Universe ... certain paths will come only at a certain time ... or maybe will just never come.

We should probably keep in mind just the concept of the perfect partner ... repeat it as a mantra from time to time ... or even pray for it.

The law of attraction is available even for love stories ... not only for money or other silly desires ... so ... ask ... believe ... receive.

And yes ... the meeting can happen even at the supermarket ... but forget to mention that you need to be a lucky guy for that!

Influencing reality ... just by expecting great things to happen

The truth about the truth is that we don't really understand the power of our minds.

... but first, let me tell u great story for better understanding this theory.

It looks like there were 2 young businessmen.

They were pioneers of the Internet and somehow without actually knowing so much about business, founded a new company together. They started to have clients, but somehow things were not so great as they expected.

But one day ... another young guy, who actually was a client of the company ... became partner with them.

They were 3 now and expected as because of the infusion of financial capital, the company to have a quantum jump.

And this is actually what happened.

Started to have hundreds and then thousands of new contracts and it all became a huge financial success.

They had 4-5 times more employees and were expecting to grow more and more.

But, not really understanding what happened that the company changed so much, the 2 partners that founded it, started to daily chat about the fact that the 3rd partner was doing ... nothing.

He was actually buying to the employees from his own money ... the greatest pizza from the city, was making jokes with them, was the dj of the company, cause they were listening music in there all the time etc etc.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

But ... he was not doing anything for the company, in a regular way ... as talking to the clients, taking care of the projects ... and so on.

One of the other 2 partners was dealing with hundreds of small clients and the other one was dealing with important clients.

They had lots of things to do ... from the morning to the night ... and was quite frustrating to see their new partener ... not helping them with anything at all.

But the new guy ... was actually a person that was meditating a lot, knew about the law of attraction and how it can be used in a company for bringing huge amounts of money ... actually knew everything about bringing abundance ... by the power of his mind.

The other 2 guys were blinds.

They never paid attention at how the company was before this guy came to them ... and how it became after he entered as a partner in a company.

Later on ... they split the company in 2 parts and the expert in the law of attraction followed another path.

Only years later ... one of the 2 founders of the company understood the power of that influence from the 3rd guy ... just by using the power of meditation.

He was influencing reality ... just by expecting great things to happen. It all looked like he was doing nothing ... but for a huge success ... working was not enough.

The 2 founders worked a lot before he came into the company and worked a lot after he left ... but that tremendous success never came again to them.

Maybe it was just a coincidence ... but i think we should try meditation ... at least as an experiment.

The huge power of internet.
Is it a positive or a negative influence over our lives?!
Well ... don't know what to say.

I've been involved even from the beginning in the internet business. The influence that the Internet has had in our lives is really wide, it has managed to insert itself in every space where each person develops, from sharing a moment with a friend, with a partner, with the family, with the workgroup, sending photos via instant messaging to ordering a pizza or buying a phone.

Weather good or bad ... the Internet can influence lives.

Things evolved so much, that when we say internet, we actually think about our mobile phones.

But i wonder myself why a guy as Steve Jobs, which could be named as one of the fathers of smart phones ... why he did not let his kids use those phones?!

Well ... i believe because they somehow get our full attention and makes us be absent from the real life.

All around, where you should look ... you see everybody totally connect with the mobile phone.

Is actually an extension of the body ... and almost can't survive without it.

Recently i've been in a short vacation.

I prepared everything 3 days before leaving, so that when i am away no one to disturb me with urgent issues.

I actually arranged everything except one thing ... to pay my phone bill.

I arrived in vacation ... i slept ... then woke up... i was drinking my coffee and instead of enjoying the nature around ... i opened the internet ... but surprise.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

It was not working.

They cut it, because i forgot to pay them the bill.

The Universe was arranging things in a beautiful way ...so that i can stay in my short vacation to totally relax ... with no internet.

But i was ... mad.

How the hell could that happen?!

I realize in the next second that even if i don't smoke, don't drink alcohol, don't use drugs ... i still have a huge addiction and i can't survive without being connected to the internet.

It became something similar with the air.

We can survive for one or 2 days without eating ... but waking up with no internet around ... should be like hell.

Have we arrived in a strange era?!

Is it dangerous having this strong connection between technology and the human being?!

Well ... too many questions.

For the moment ... i just laugh of myself.

I thought i was mastering all my behaviors, that i have no addiction at all, that i am on a path when i understand but also influence the life only in the way i wanted ... but ...

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

Just keep the right balance between influencing and being influenced

We are so influenced by the world around us ... but also influence it if we are connected with the present moment.

And i keep wondering myself if this art of influence and being influenced is not one of the main lessons of life.

But we are not paying attentions to the details and having a mix of ignorance and arrogance ... we just ignore what is going on.

And guess what?!

The path of life, that we follow ... the one that we believe ... is a path decided by us ... just change its direction depending of the meaning and the intensity of that influence.

Truth be told ... being influenced is good sometimes.

We need that ... but we just need to see and analyze properly the values of that influence.

The probability of not being the right influence always exists and we should not ignore this detail.

Also ... influencing the world around us ... with positive or negative energies depends a lot by the frequency where we are at that moment.

And we should keep in mind that the world needs the positive influence ... cause it is enough of negative interactions all around.

What i want to say ... is that we need to somehow filter all the time ... the way we influence, but also the one of being influenced.

We need to use our conscience all the time, and be aware at this non ending process.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

A life of a kid playing football, loving this sport and believing he can be a great football player ... can be influenced in a totally negative way by his friends laughing of his dream.

The dream itself can be dissolved little by little or even in a second.

The right partner in life, can help an individual to keep his optimism in all the difficult moments.

... or lose his positive energy.

We want it or not, the influence exists ... in and out of us.

Learning the art of influence is a ... must.

But also keeping the right balance for this process ... is extremely important.

We need to keep our inner spirit alive ... probably through solitude ... so that we always have the best inner guidance.

The perfect scene.
The best actors.
But is this the trick of getting the real connection?

We were at the restaurant ... very close by the table where an interesting guy and his beautiful partner, a real lady ... i should say, were enjoying the beauty of being tother.

A bottle of wine, 2 glasses, a cake ... fabulous music ... the perfect scene for seducing her.

We were discussing philosophical issues, mainly how the reality is actually influenced by different factors.

... i mean ... influenced in a positive way, so that the atmosphere to be fantastic.

We were drinking our coffees and suddenly looked to each other ... cause we understood that the guy next to us ... knew much more about influencing reality as we knew.

The fabulous wine ... that tasty cake ... the music that was actually talking about ... love ... were all generating an energetic field ... the perfect environment for ... a perfect date.

I knew very well the theory.

A younger friend of us ... told me long time ago ... "If you want to seduce her, just go to a beautiful restaurant ... spend money without being afraid that you will not succeed to seduce her ... and then she will be yours".

It was a great ... trick ... and it really work, because i was watching the smart guy and that beautiful lady.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

They were not a couple ... you could see that, but they were feeling great together.

He was a guru of influencing reality ... and me and my friend could not believe than even that we studied so much the subject ... we actually never implement those tricks.

Then the waiter came.

275 dollars ... a bottle of wine and a cake.

You find it expensive, isn't it?!

Well ... i thought so too ... but i was then comparing to how much money people are paying to the therapist ... just to get rid of unhappiness ... not for feeling great ... just to somehow remove depression.

The couple left the restaurant.

My friend, the one i was with, starts to tell me about his date from last week.

He was in the same park, where the restaurant was ... but he was walking with the lady he was dating with ... and then they stayed on the bench for about 3 hours, talking and enjoying the view of the lake.

Guess what happened?!

Well ... i am laughing of him, cause he knew the trick of spending 275 dollars on a bottle of wine and a cake ... but he preferred to ... the old way of connecting to a lady.

My friend failed. He tried the natural way ... and failed.

I would even define him as a loser when it comes about acting on the stage in a love story.

But ... then a moment of awakening appears for a second.

So ... after the restaurant, the guy that was next to us ... seduced the lady.

My friend, staying and admiring the lake, while trying to connect to the soul of that beautiful lady ... failed.

But the question is ... what happens with the guy from the restaurant ... after the magic of that perfect scene, induced by the few intelligent artificial elements ... disappears?!

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

Well i start to believe that real relationships should be based on natural circumstances.

In the beginning is important to find the connection, not by inducing it ... just by finding if it exists or not.

You don't need the perfect scene to be happy.

You don't need to be an actor to influence reality in a way that will generate the script of a hollywoodian movie.

Just be real.

Let everything come by itself.

See first if there is a connection between the 2 of you and then ... the perfect elements of the scene from the love story will appear by themselves.

Well ... i just don't like my life.
What the hell can i do?!
Would you give me some tips & tricks?!

It happens i have a dear friend that was in jail for a year, in a prison close to Paris.

He told me the whole story.

First week, in the basement from the Police of Paris ... was horrible.

But ... after this week ... he was transferred for a year to another prison ... where life was ... fantastic.

I was listening to him and could not believe it.

Actually he was from a very wealthy family from France and things were arranged as even if he will stay in there for one year ... to be treated as a prince.

He could order to eat anything he ever wanted.

Ask from time to time as his wife to visit him.

He was playing poker, mini golf, football.

He was living one year of relaxation.

After a while he realized he is not stress anymore, as he used to be in the past because of his curent businesses.

His brother was taking care of everything and somehow he was having a forced vacation, but everything was great.

My friend ... had a very powerful ability to readapt in any condition.

Of course, that he was lucky enough cause his family could arranged the things so that he can have the best treatment a prisoner could have.

But still ... he was in jail.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

Lots of people are living in a free world, they have all the possible conditions they could have ... but ... still they can't adapt not even to those perfect conditions and ... just enjoy it.

If you ask them ... what is missing from their lives to be happy ... they would not be able to give you a straight answer.

It's silly ... cause we don't even know why we are unhappy.

We can't find any trick at all ... to influence life for a better reality ... but many of us ... not even thought of the idea of tips and tricks.

The looking of a powerful person ... but a mind of a scared to death person

Today i believe reality is just a perception.

I can see it as something beautiful ... and the same scene could be seen as something negative, by all the others.

It happens i met few weeks ago an interesting guy that i chat with from time to time.

First time when i saw him ... i got scared of him.

He looks so scary, that laughing a little bit with him ... i said ... "Please don't beat me".

He smiled.

He was scary, but knew also to smile.

I am not scary ... but i don't know to smile.

He used to be a bodyguard in London, for more than 10 years ... for very important persons ... politicians came from other countries, princes and princesses from rich families from Asia or Africa ... and lots of others important people that came with different reasons in UK.

He told me all kinds of strange stories from his professional life from there.

Every time, after he finished a job he was starting a process of erasing all the informations of what he saw.

He explained me that he always wanted to split the professional and the personal life.

But ... it was quite funny that every time we were discussing something ... he saw the worst case scenario in what we discussed about.

Adrian Gabriel Dumitru

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

As a bodyguard, he needed to be optimistic, but also keep in mind all the time ... worst case scenarios.

The problem today ... for my friend was that he was seeing the dark side in everything around us.

He was big as a mountain, but scared to death as a kid who watched a scary cartoon movie.

He was not a body guard anymore, but even if he tried so much, for so many years to erase the informations from his professional life ... the influence was huge.

The damage was done ... in his way of thinking, analyzing, defining ... but also living the normal life.

I could not believe ... that a so powerful guy ... could get scare of any element from life ... and somehow create a script .. about how that element, even if is so unimportant, is being able to create a ... catastrophe.

And so, so, so many others are doing the same.

Even if they look so strong ... their minds mix all the worst case scenarios with the real life ... believing and expecting bad things to happen.

We do not understand we need ... positive influence for us.

Negativity is everywhere ... anyway.

The dogmatism ... is just not letting us live the life we should live

I have a dear friend of 20, from the far away India, that is always remembering me by the religious and moral rules of life.

I actually hate the dogmatic thinking, but i believe that even refusing certain ideas, just because you simple don't like them ... can be defined as dogmatic behavior.

The problem of being influenced by what society thinks about certain things is huge.

But how we learn what is this world about?!

Well ... first ... we get informations about what is going on in here ... from the family, friends and all the people from our lives.

Later on ... instead of accumulating so, so many informations ... we should just experience life.

What i am saying is that we should make a switch and try to not see life throw the eyes of the world but just experience the world.

We are influenced a lot ... which if we are lucky enough and get positive influence from the others ... is good, but ... usually the influence is not all the time positive.

So ... what we should do?!

Well ... i think for a while ... we should also experience life without dogmatism and even without morality, cause this last one is a chapter from the book of dogmatism.

Just experience ... everything you want ... even bad things.

You should not let yourself be influenced by nothing ... and by nobody.

Let yourself ... be wild.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

In fact ... just be yourself, the one that the inner soul is telling you to be, not caring of what others might think of you and your behavior.

Dare to experience that ... just for a while.

It will open new perspective for you.

Dogmatism is good for a while.

Applying morality ... the same ... but we need to see the beautiful and the dark side of life to understand what life is really about.

Enjoying experiences of any kind ... will help us evolve from the spiritual point of view ... even if it might look as a something strange.

What else should i say ... except the fact that we should dare to be ... wild ... even if this will take us out of the usual standards of the human being.

The change should come ... from your attitude

I was in the oil station, waiting to pay.
The lady was so slow ... that i became annoyed of her.
I could not believe i had to wait so much.
My reptilian brain was almost activated and wanted to tell her: "Fuck you! Who the hell hired you in here?! I never met such a slow person as you!"
Just before opening my month ... something inside of me whispered ... "Please be calm and be nice to her!"
I was arguing during my lifetime with hundreds of people ... so one more person ... was nothing.
But ... i was thinking ... maybe we should never meet again ... so who cares?!

Something calmed me and instead of speaking in an ugly way to her, i've been just ironic ... saying ... "Have you ever thought of changing your job?! Maybe something related to arts?! Painting?! Sculpture?! ... something as that.
In art ... you never need to hurry.
You should be really good for that ... cause it looks you never hurry, even if so many clients are waiting in here."
She became annoyed of me and could not believe i was talking like this to her.
I actually wanted to wake her up and i am totally convinced that there were lost of people into the past that spoke to her in a totally un respectful way if this was her real way of serving clients.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

But i was glad that instead of speaking ugly i was just ironic.

I was glad because it was a small prove that i am not so connected anymore with my silly reptilian brain.

I am not acting in a proper way ... but still ... i am on the good path.

Then ... after i left the oil station, i had a philosophical question in my mind ... what the hell is the meaning of those one time meetings ...

for me ... but also for the lady?!

What is the real influence on our lives?!

Is it just a nonsense?!

The real answer did not came yet to me, but i understood that change should come ... from our attitude ... and this was something to think about me, but also the lady.

Immoral acts reveal ... hidden desires

A friend of mine from UK, has a very interesting story, that somehow redefines the way we should see immortality.

I speak with him on the phone 2-3 times a year, but in the past we used to spend lots of time together.

He is what a woman should define as ... a real playboy.

He loves women ... adores them and could not imagine life without them.

He has an addiction for beautiful ladies ... especially for the young ones.

In the real life, he has a beautiful wife, 2 amazing kids, a gorgeous house and an amazing car.

He actually has the perfect life ... but still inside of him is this strange addiction for other ladies.

He never considered this as being an immoral thing.

But today, my dear friend ... felt himself trapped into a love story ... with an amazing 20 years old girl.

He started to be afraid that the story will influence him and he will leave the perfect life he has at home, until he found a new trick.

He spoke with a friend of him, and then he tried to convince her that they should have sex in 3 ... him, his friend and her.

She refused, but in the end ... because he asked her for so many times, she said yes.

The next moment ... he considered she is not anymore that special woman that he saw in such a beautiful way, for such a long time.

He was explaining with so many details ... that even if she is so beautiful and she likes her so much ... he feel released ... and does not feel anymore that huge influence of switching the perfect life from home with the perfect life with the young lady.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

It was quite funny.

The guy had 2 perfect lives ... and was actually afraid that he will abandon the wife and kids because of the adventurous love story he had now with the other one.

The trick ... of "sharing" the young lady ... somehow saved him and he was happy explaining me that he is safe now.

On the other hand ... all those immoral facts defines hidden desires, very difficult to be understood if we are not honest with ourselves.

Why is my friend still cheating his wife when he already has the perfect life?!

What are the reasons that influenced him to do this?!

But also ... why he runs away by that perfect life with the amazing 20 years old girl ... and used such an immoral trick to save himself?!

Maybe ... he has an addiction for perfect case scenarios, but in the same time is scared of them.

And the Universe is laughing behind his back and introduce him only ... in perfect stories.

Even the humans have a “pedigree” ... but a mental one

He was talking with a friend, telling him that he was dating with that beautiful young lady.

He was amazed of her ... but his friend not wanting to disappoint and also not offend him ... was listening politely and just reply at the end ... “ Same as horses ... us ... the humans ... we have also kind of a mental pedigree. Be aware that ... in my opinion ... she is not having the right one.”

He was not understanding the message, cause was too happy to understand what his friend wanted to say.

That guy was in love with horses and all the time he was looking for all kinds of informations about horses.

But what is a pedigree for horses?!

A pedigree chart portrays a horse's family tree. You'll see charts included in advertisements of horses for sale and stallions at stud, in sales catalogues, and farm brochures. When you research an individual horse, a certificate of registration (the “papers”) establishes that animal's identity.

But the question is ... can a human have a mental pedigree ... as the guy just said to him?!

Well ... sometimes a metaphor helps us express everything in a much beautiful way ... so that in fact even if we offend someone ... we should do it in a beautiful way ... to sound more as an advice.

You see, the pedigree represents the past ... the history of that past.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

Is something that defines everything in a certain way ... and it can let you predict the behavior, but also the future behavior according to the events from the past.

To the humans ... the same principles can be applied ... if we see everything from the mental point of view.

But i also believe that people can change.

The influence of the past will always be there ... and will look like a time bomb whose detonation is triggered by a timer ... but a timer that we don't know anything about.

So ... the real question is ... should we give credit to the people ... or just believe that the influence of that "mental pedigree" will always be there ... and there is no chance for showing to us only the beautiful side of that soul?!

Not clearly remembering who Sometimes we just love some of the people we met.

They were speaking on the phone for more than an hour.

They spoke many times, but today it was ... special.

He loved her vibe, cause he influenced his vibe in a great way, but he was not remembering who she really was.

They met few years ago, but he met during this time so many people that he was not actually remembered her ... as a person.

Knew her voice ... and also remembered her as a spirit ... but not as a woman.

He could not remember, even if he was thinking so much ... if she was beautiful or ugly, slim or fat, blonde or brunette nothing.

It was like his mind had absolutely no information about her look, even if both of them discussed that they met 2-3 times in the past.

But loved her voice, her attitude ... the connection with her ... and in fact ... her everything.

It was such a great conversation that ... he realized that he likes her a lot, even if in a weird way ... he was not remembering about her look.

He looks on whatsapp and sees a picture with a landscape.

He asks her why she does not have a picture ... but she realized in the next second ... the truth ... that he is not remembering her.

But weird ... he already started the process of seducing her.

The best case scenario is as a real connection with another person
... to exists from the beginning ... not to build it

There are many times when we believe that we are real creators and same as we can build anything we want ... we can also build the connections with other souls.

We strongly believe that we can influence anything we have in mind ... but we don't realize the difference between natural and artificial.

It happens i know a guy that had in his life 3 women.

One was the wife ... and he had no connection at all with her.

During the time, he tried few times to create the connection ... but he failed all the time.

The second one ... was his mistress.

He had such a great connection with her, that he could not believe it could be real.

But the third one ... was a new lady he recently met ... and just because he talked with her few philosophical issues ... he had an illusory idea that he can connect to her ... in a very short time.

The guy ... had a theory ... a silly one in my modest opinion ... that we, the humans, can build the connections with the other humans.

But ... guess what?!

He was not her type.

He was rich ... and she wanted a rich guy.

He was a philosopher ... and he was a great one.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

But he needed in her life ... something ... to take her out right away from the huge depression that she had.

In the end ... connecting to her ... just failed ... even if the start was a great one.

His life was now split in 3 paths ... no connection at all, a natural amazing connection and an artificial one that was kind of a great connection - no connection at all.

His final decision?!

Not knowing what to do, not understanding anything at all ... but still believing that he was greater than the Universe ... instead of just stopping and enjoying the path of the amazing relationship with his mistress ... he was still balancing between the wife, the mistress and other beautiful ladies.

But ... he was just a lost guy.

A lost one ... because he could not take a decision ... just choose the path of least resistance.

Contradictory desires ... just chance the course of life

It's quite important to understand that the course of life is strongly influenced by the power of our desires.

In many situations we are in the same scene with other people also.

Could be ... a brother, a parent, a friend the spouse.

We have what is called relationships ... of any kind.

But you see ... we consider relationships are easier only if we control them.

Somehow we feel the need of dominating the scene itself, but also of the persons that are in the same scene with us.

And i keep wondering myself why?!

Because, in fact, we have contradictory desires and all we care is that all those desires to become real.

We don't really care of anything the other side wants ... no matter who's that person.

But the other side ... is actually like a mirror. Wants the same thing and cares about the same thing ... his/her own desires.

Is almost like mixing oil with water and we keep wondering why?!

So what happens when you try to mix oil and water? The water molecules attract each other, and the oil molecules stick together.

That causes oil and water to form two separate layers. Water molecules pack closer together, so they sink to the bottom, leaving oil sitting on top of the water.

Actually the relationship itself ... should be a cocktail of energies ... of those 2 or more people involved but ends up as the wish of mixing water with oil.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

You will see ... the impossible of mixing contradictory desires ... and the influence of that on the scene from the real life ... will look like a total mess.

The solution?!

Well ... we actually have 2 options.

"Smell the taste" of the desires ... and then see if you really need to go on that path together ... the path called relationship.

If you think is not a good direction ... just don't follow it and try to find other things.

But ... if you already see the meaning of the contradictory desires ... continuing should be just silly, no matter who that person is.

You could simple change the course, otherwise the Universe will change the course of life in unexpected ways ... that sometimes we won't really like.

You are what you actually do ... in your daily life

You see ... drinking everyday you become an alcoholic.

Making sport everyday ... you become a sportiv.

But ... i wonder myself if writing everyday ... you actually become a writer?!

A dear friend of mine ... that already wrote few books till now amazed me while telling his story of how he became a writer.

We were 6-7 writers in a beautiful restaurant from the city center.

We were actually talking not about literature, not about philosophy ... but about ladies.

All of us ... we were having a muse ... and the muse was actually the one that was influencing all the ideas.

Our friend started to tell us his long story, about how he started to be a writer.

Being married ... but falling in love with a silly girl from the country side ... he started to write her thousands of lines on the chat.

He was explaining in our million words ... his love for her ... but actually the girl was too silly to listen to all his philosophical ideas.

She was ok as him to become her sugar daddy, but did not imagined that ... as a sugar baby she will be forced to listen so much philosophy.

She was in love with the drugs ... and with the idea as someone to take care of all her needs.

But he was so deep in love with her ... and became blind at the fact that he was writing messages that she was not reading.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

He was speaking with ... the walls.

Few years later ... he falls in love again ... but even if she loved him a lot ... their love story was an impossible one.

He writes her love letters.

She writes him ... lots of love letters.

The love story ... becomes almost a shakespearean love story ... but missing her so much ... he becomes a writer.

Writes one book.

Then another one.

And another one.

All the books were about her ... his absolute obsession.

She influenced his life in such a powerful way that instead of being interested only about money ... he was actually interested only about writing.

One year ... and she changed the course of his life.

A businessman that was in love with the money ... became obsessed only by writing and reading books.

He heard that a lady can change a man's life ... but he could not believe how things changed.

He started to sale 2-3 books a day.

Not much ... but he was not speaking with the walls anymore.

He was writing to influence the world, even if that meant only 2-3 pers a day for the moment.

So ... this is how a nice path of life starts.

He started with the beautiful silly country girl, writing her ... amazing illusory love letters ... continued with that gorgeous lady ... so that the final result to be ... speak with beautiful ladies from all around the world ... his readers.

Funny ... but true!

Life is strange ... but ... we actually never know where the paths of the present will take us.

The problem with the negative paths is that sometimes ... they look as positive paths and we even believe that the Universe arranged that but He was just laughing

It says that the meaning of life is the awakening ... from the spiritual point of view.

To go to the level of awakening ... you need to understand the illusion of life.

The more you evolve as a soul ... the stronger the illusion will be.

You will see all kinds of things that look so negative ... but in fact the meaning is always just a lesson of life, to better understand what the illusion is.

And it will look so damm real.

You will even blame the Universe for treating you in such a negative way ... not understanding why if you've asked for the best life can offer you ... the supreme awakening ... why you've got such a negative path ... with so many troubles and negative emotions ... reactions ... events.

You actually start to believe that you don't understand anything at all from what is going on around you.

You even believe that it's a misunderstanding of communication and that you need to repeat again the prayers ... or the mantras ... or whatever way of communication you have with the Universe.

It's ... unbelievable.

You start to think that everything is wrong around you ... and even that you are in a conspiracy that is ruining your life.

Then you see a change ... a positive one.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

But soon after ... a negative one again.

A strange balance between positive and negative ... that reveals your unstable way of being.

There are moments when the path it's of absolute beauty ... but also lots of moments ... when the opposite is happening.

You are somewhere in the middle, not knowing how to define your life in the present moment.

You actually are at the influence of positive and negative ... but you can't define the moment in a certain way.

All it's a strange mix of energies, but the balance created by those events ... ruins you emotionally.

You even start to believe that the Universe is laughing of you but all you see it's just a life test ... and you fail watching the illusion but feeling is so real.

So ... what shall we believe?!

Are the negative paths exist?!

Should we follow only the positive ones?!

Or ... 3rd scenario ... the best one probably ... just live life as it it ... smile in front of negative ... which is actually just an illusion and enjoy the positive.

And most important ... live without expectations!

Is karma a bitch or a teacher?!

I wonder myself why we worry so much when we hear the word ... karma.

I saw many people afraid of that ... not really understanding the meaning of the word.

And i heard lots of definitions of karma ... including contradictory ideas ... like "bitch" ... but even a ... "teacher".

Well ... karma is actually based on the concept ... for every action there is an equal and opposite reaction.

Or much simpler... all you see in life is actually a mirror of the inner soul.

But indeed karma looks sometimes as a bitch.

For example someone might like cheating, but is actually the end of the world when is being cheated.

Indeed that person might define karma as a bitch when the loved person cheats him ... but all might actually be ... is a lesson ... a life lesson.

I should even say that to understand life is important to see both sides of the story.

Sometimes in immoral acts we will see weird concepts explained quite easy through the feelings we have.

Will we accept the concept of karma?!

Well ... most probably the Universe will never ask if you accept the concept or not ... but karma will always be present in our lives?!

But is there any way to avoid it?!

Don't think so.

Or maybe ... see the beautiful side of karma ... you could do only positive things ... or you could live like a monk in silence ... practicing the non action and expecting as the Universe to have the same

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

reaction.

But ... for the rest of us ... not knowing how to really act on the stage of life ... things will be strange from time to time.

Today ... i believe we should accept everything happens.

Embrace all the events ... even if it's the mirror of a silly behavior we had in the past.

Karma is not a bitch and not anything similar with the concept ... but a life lesson and nothing more.

The Universe will never want to hurt you ... but the way you might see the lesson present in your life ... will always be an abstract one.

Keep in mind that you should not play around with the illusions .
One day you will just become addicted of addictions.

There are moments when we feel that we are in total control of ourselves.

We feel so powerful that we believe that nothing can overwhelm us. It happens i know alcoholics that never keep alcoholic drinks in their house, not even if they have guests.

They never enter in bars and in the restaurants they avoid to ask something to drink ... even a mineral water.

They also close all the friendships with the people that usually drink alcohol in a regular way.

Knowing the huge power of this addiction call alcoholism ... they cut all the connections with everything reminds them of alcohol.

In the case of drug addiction is almost the same ... but only few people realize that they need at least a year ... so that the past could be defined as something that they are detached from.

The alcohol, the drugs or any other kind of addiction are in fact illusions that we somehow enjoy at the time we "consume" them but they just somehow ... ruins us.

There are hundreds of ways of being addicted in the modern society ... from using the phone in an exaggerated way, being an workaholic etc etc ... even the wish of always trying to help the others ... but never take care of yourself.

We actually don't know the art of keeping the right balance in life ... at all its important aspects.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

A weird fact is that there are moments in life when we understand the power and the bad influence of that addiction on us ... and what we do is actually an illusory trick ... change the addiction with another one ... not even understanding what is going on.

We somehow become addicted by addictions.

It's a trap ... but we are blinds and can't see it.

And the illusory power that makes us believe we can control ourselves ... just because we stoped an addition, but in fact we only replaced it with another one ... can let us draw the conclusion that we can control the addictions.

But we are just ... playing around ... and the addictions are laughing of us ... letting us feel that we control the scene ... and we end up all the time being controlled, but also defined ... by the illusions.

Don't bother to listen to the others
... listen to your inner self

Ask for an advice and you will receive 1 million advices ... even from people that you met for the first time.

Ask at the same people ... 1 penny to implement those advices ... so that they could be co-authors on the new ideas they want you to implement and ... silence will begin.

You could also ask them to help you for real do the things they said about ... and most probably they will never have the necessary time for that.

I started to analyze the world not through the eyes of my thinking, but through the eyes of my actions.

I asked myself, one day ... have i ever did something for real to really help the people from my life?!

Well ... i did ... i had such moments.

During the time i probably had about 300 employs that worked for me.

I worked with them one to one and gave them lots of advices ... thousands of advices.

I was kind of a teacher and all of them work now in very well known companies ... in important positions.

So ... i spent lots of time, energy and also money to train them ... but all the time i was co-interested into that, cause i wanted to have a very good technical team so that i could make good money with them.

In the end ... i realized that all i did was because i also had a big interest regarding their growth in the area we worked.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

Later on ... i could do similar things only for some family members ... but never for strangers.

But i gave one million advices in my life.

Not one thousands ... not ten thousands but one million.

Today ... i changed a little bit.

Even before i try to think about giving an advice, i ask myself if i have an interest in doing that ... or if i ... really care about that person.

The simple fact of caring ... gives a good energy to the advice itself.

But i learnt to do something better ... instead of coming with my theories trying to illuminate someone i don't even know so well ... i ask the following question ... "what your inner self tells you to do?!"

And i see people that looks so weird at me.

Is almost like explaining them a theory about ufos, but it was just a simple spiritual talk, about connecting and talking to the inner self.

But i continue wondering myself why we need as people to advice us ... when actually the answer can be found just by asking ourselves.

Well ... even if we believe in the theory that inside of us ... there is a soul ... we don't really trust in this connection.

The connection of you ... with your inner ... you.

Someone from the outside world needs to confirm you ... something that you already know.

But we are too silly to see that.

Is probably the most important thing that we should be taught in life ... to connect to our souls ... and trust what it whispers us.

You should not bother to listen to the others ... but you should also not bother to advice the others.

Just ... learn and teach ... the art of connecting to the inner self.

Is a much better way of practicing the art of influencing ... no matter if is about influencing or being influenced.

Practicing the non sense

I've been walking on the streets, in the middle of the night.
It was Saturday night and a very beautiful weather.
While being right in the city center ... i saw at the entrance of Grand Hotel Continental a homeless person about my age.
I smiled a little bit, but somehow with curiosity ... then i was wondering myself ... why is this guy sleeping at the entrance of such a luxurious hotel ... and no one is noticing him?!

It was ... a non sense.
The guy had nothing ... and was sleeping at one of the most expensive hotels from the city.
Maybe, long time ago ... he's been a rich person and wants, in the only possible way ... to taste again that richness from the past.
Yes ... it really was a non sense ... but i then realized he is not the only guy that is staying at the hotel ... that has nothing.
I've been walking few meters more and at the restaurant i saw a beautiful lady ... staying at the same table with a guy that looked like a very wealthy person.
They were not even looking to each other ...not speaking ... and showed no any sign of connectivity at all.
Everything was so ... evident ... that my mind came back in the next second to the homeless person from the entrance.
There were 3 persons in the scene ... that had nothing at all on this world.
Maybe 4 ... if i should include myself.
So ... it was the night of the non sense show ... letting me understand what "nothing" really means ... which in my opinion was actually the study of ... emptiness.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

One of the best hotels ... a homeless person ... 2 wealthy person ... and me.

A weird philosophical equation.

I started to believe that ... the NOTHING ... can influence our lives in such a powerful way ... and ... i was remembering that i knew for such a long time that you could have everything and actually have nothing ... but also have nothing and actually have everything.

Was the homeless person happy that night at the luxurious hotel?!

But ... what about the wealthy guy?!

I was just walking ... like a lost person ... on streets ... having no purpose at all ... or maybe just to purpose of clearing my mind of silly thoughts ... and the meeting with the "nothing" ... became a tasty amusing non sense.

... and i continued walking.

There was nothing better that i could do.

The curse.
Mud can't be metamorphosed into gold

Sometimes we believe ... in change.

Sometimes the change looks ... illusory ... but we still continue to believe that we can make a magic trick ... and that glamour of the life might appear.

We become some kind of alchemist and we really think reality will be soon different.

Well ... alchemy, was a form of speculative thought that, among other aims, tried to transform base metals such as lead or copper into silver or gold.

But ... we practice alchemy in a spiritual way.

We have the belief we can influence reality in such a way ... that even if everything looks grey today ... the next day will be repainted into pink.

All negative things, situations, believes ... will be positive ... tomorrow.

We hope that the art of spiritual alchemy is real.

We need that and we cannot afford to be so pessimistic ... to not trust in this new science that we discovered.

But the next day ... we wake up and see that grey is again everywhere.

No one bothered to paint into pink ... not even one element from the scene.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

In fact pink is so unused that you don't even find it in the bricolage shops.

But the hope does not disappears.

You just know that tomorrow is a new day ... and a new chance.

You look around ... and you only see ... mud.

You actually want everything metamorphosed into gold ... but maybe a curse stops this alchemistic process.

Time is passing.

You don't become pessimistic ... but still you realize you need to be realistic.

What looks like a curse is maybe just a message from the Universe ... that the gold exists ... but is not in there.

All you need to do ... is just take the decision on finding gold somewhere else.

Alchemy is just a fake science.

It existed ... but no one really proved they could transform any cheap metal into gold.

You failed ... like the alchemists.

But still ... the gold exists.

... just look somewhere else ... and you might find it!

Spoiling opportunities ... a real "art" that we practice so, so well

Years ago i've met a guy that looked very wealthy.
He just bought at that time a gorgeous mediterranean house, had fabulous cars and the attitude of a very important person.
He looked like a very powerful man and probably he really was.
I heard lots of stories about him ... that he used to be a pimp and a drug dealer in UK ... but i ignored all of these because did not knew if it was true or not.
I interacted very little with him at that time ... but the main attributes i could see at him were ... a powerful attitude and wealth.
He was about 10 years older than me ... but no matter what people said about him ... i liked the fact that he inspired me that he is in control of everything around.
But ... life is really strange.
Few days ago i've meet him again.
He was a taxi driver.
He was a little bit ashamed that i see him in this position, but i just smiled to him.
We spoke few things and then i asked ... "what happened?!"
"Well ... money had a bad influence over us.
We spent them in the most silliest way.
We bought an expensive house ... expensive cars ... in fact everything we bought ... was expensive.
We also spent huge amounts of money on parties ... just to show to the others that we are really wealthy.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

We invested too much in marketing ... till one day when we understood that we spoiled the opportunity of being in a good financial position, without even bothering what the others think about us."

We haven't seen each other for about 10 years and the script of his life was totally changed.

Or maybe 20 years ago he was a taxi driver ... then a wealthy guy ... then again a taxi driver.

Jim Rohn used to say that if you want to study success you will need to spend time with successful people ... but also with people that failed in life ... and failed big.

The last category could actually tell you all the mistakes they did ... so that they spoiled the big opportunity ... cause this is a real "art" that we do practice so, so well.

We want success ... but under the pressure of that success ... we get scared ... and instead of really keeping the success ... we pay too much attention on keeping the image of that success.

So ... before starting on the path of success ... just think for a while at the whole story ... and all the factors that can influence you on this journey.

... and study successful people ... but also ... the unsuccessful people.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

Controlling everything around us ... masked under the need of influencing the world

Truth be told ... we'd love as reality to be according to a scenario written by us in a certain way.

We know all the details.

We want as the wife to act in a certain way, the kids also ... the parents ... the friends ... even the strangers we meet only for 3-4 seconds on the street ... while walking on the way to work.

Having an egocentric view about life itself ... we cannot understand that we are not the sun and the rest of the people from our lives should only gravitate towards ... our ego.

We even start to define all what we do ... as a tendency of influencing the world in a positive way ... but actually ... all we do is accomplish our silly desire of controlling everything around us.

Is it good?!

Is it bad?!

Well ... at one point the friends will get annoyed by your advices, the wife also ... by all your requests ... and even the kids will ignore you. It's already clear for everyone that you try to control reality ... and you hide this under the mask of the positive influence that you would love to offer.

And i admit it ... i did this too ... many, many times.

I don't ask you ... if this is actually a habit for you ... but maybe at the right time you will meditate over the subject.

The solution?!

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

Well ... today in my case ... in the moments when i believe i can influence the world ... i just try to connect with ... strangers ... people that i don't know at all.

They might never appear in my life ... so if i do something for them ... even make them smile for a second ... i will do it for no interest ... not even for the one of satisfying my ego that i did something positive.

Controlling the world around us ... is a disease, but on the other hand ... the world needs indeed positive influence all the time.

Just think about it ... and don't mix the concept of controlling ... with the one of the positive influence.

The exercise of connecting to strangers for 3-4 seconds ... teach you in fact the art of connecting to people

I've been playing around in the last time ... just trying to connect to strangers that i see on street for the first and probably the last time in my life.

I'm doing it by a while and all i can say is that it's quite a nice experiment for understanding the art of connecting to other souls.

When i was a kid i was an introvert, but somehow the Universe ... made me with different life lessons ... an extrovert.

Still ... i could not look so much in other people's eyes.

Inside of me remain a small part of that shyness.

But i decided it's time for an experiment.

It was easier with the strangers from the street.

I continued to look at different kinds of people, of any age between 1 and 4 seconds.

I believe that after a maximum of 4 seconds you need to have the gut to say something or ... just leave.

I did not had this necessary gut to say anything at all ... but i loved the game.

Not by a long time i saw an interesting music clip.

The guy was driving, stops in traffic for few seconds, turn his head to the left, sees a beautiful blonde lady ... and in few seconds imagines the whole love story with her.

I did not had this kind of fantasies with none of the ladies i met ... but i just loved to connect to anybody.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

I even tried to find on the street ugly people.

... also people that looked dangerous.

At the end of the 3-4 seconds ... i smiled ... and you won't believe it ... i also received a smile back.

I started to love the game.

Somehow ... on long term ... i failed to connect to the people from my life ... but it was a huge success to connect to the people that i met only once in a life time.

It was actually playing the game of connecting to different kinds of souls ... but also the one of influencing them positively ... just in a moment of only few seconds.

My exercise of doing that will continue.

I am not saying you should daily do it, but i believe you should try it from time to time, cause it will help you learn the art of connecting ... and maybe why not ... re connecting to people.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

We remember the old game of the broken telephone ... we play it with that joy from our childhood, but this time being adults ... we just destroy connections with it.

You see the game ... used to be a game in which a message is passed on, in a whisper, by each of a number of people, so that the final version of the message is often radically changed from the original.

But ... today we see it even as a game of defining.

Usually defining is a good thing to do in life ... actually kind of an art. It usually helps us see the meaning of all the events from our lives ... and understand the messages we need to understand as ... life lessons.

The story with defining becomes something similar with a coin that is having 2 sides ... the good one which is seeing better our lives by trying to define all the elements of it ... and defining the other people's life ... which is actually gossiping.

The one that invented the game with the broken telephone ... i am sure that was an ironic person.

He tried to teach us ... what actually gossiping means from an early age.

We enjoyed it at that time.

It was even fun.

But it was just a game ... now is about the real life ... and we cannot see the difference.

You say something to a friend ... that friend defines your words in a totally different way ... and then one day a stranger ... comes to you and tell all about your life ... in a different version of how things are.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

You understand that everything started from the fact that you shared your thoughts ... and actually your life ... with that friend ... that you believed in your friend considering that person ... someone that should not judge you at all.

You shared your emotions ... your soul.

And instead of remaining a story just for you and that friend ... is becoming a subject of gossiping for all the people from your life.

Today i believe that this habit of gossiping is actually a protective mode in how the individual, not being able to stop his infinite number of thoughts ... makes this trick and instead of studying, analyzing and defining his own inner world ... finds other souls ... and focus all the attention on those individuals.

Remaining in the outside world, making the inner world disappear ... in fact succeeding to hide all those emotions from the soul ...

gossiping is the magic pill to forget about ... us.

But gossiping ... no matter the way you practice it ... it's a bad habit that brings bad energies into the lives of all those people that we are talking about.

I studied lots of people that practice this sport ... and especially ladies are very good at that ... but i should recommend as the process of defining to be done only by speaking with the persons involved.

... with no one else, but them.

Try to help ... with the judgement that you have today ... but only if you have a positive attitude and see the beautiful side of the story.

Otherwise ... practice the art defining only in your mind ... related with your life and life in general.

Bad habits ... as the game of the broken telephone will not bring good energies in our lives or in other people's lives.

Define ... why you do it ... and if you can't stop yourself from doing it ... just remember that your own life needs more attention as the one of others.

The right story gives you the right energy you need in that moment

In one point in life ... we somehow understand that to have the perfect life we actually need to work for having the right energy all the time.

I met persons that have meditation first thing in the morning, others that go in vacations all around the world ... and also people that have as hobby different arts as painting, sculpture etc etc.

All those people ... were somehow trying to have in their lives ... a way in how they can recharge their batteries for being in perfect shape all the time.

But i also met persons that have in their lives a mentor, a guru, or a priest ... that were guiding them so that they will be at a certain type of positive energy all the time.

And the funny thing is that i also met persons that instead of a guru ... they looked for a love story with a partner that could raise their energy level all the time ... just by being around.

The connection between ... was amazing and the reaction of just staying one near another was one very difficult to be defined in words.

But was easy to be seen that ... it was the right story ... at the right time ... all that they needed to be in great shape.

It all started with the search of the perfect life ... and being lucky enough to be in the arms of a soulmate ... gave the best positive influence a human being can have.

So ... looking for the perfect life scenario?!

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

We attract what we think about
... but actually get what we want
... only after we decide to stop thinking about that something.

Have you ever thought how can you get in life all the dreams and goals right away?!

Visualizing ... helps a lot.

Having in your mind all the details also ... gets you closer by what you desire do much.

But the paradox is that ... we don't get what we want right away, even if we have the clarity and visualize so damm well everything ... because we are too obsessed of the desire.

The real trick is more ... connect ... disconnect ... re connect.

The process of connecting - disconnecting ... evaporates the negative influence of the obsession.

It's ok to want in life ... anything we have in mind, but not in an obsessive way.

... just think about it!

The secret of a great day ... comes from the pleasure of waking up with joy

In any activity we should have ... the start is very important.
But you see ... a new day is the present moment and all that we actually have.

The past does not exist anymore.

The future is just an illusory concept.

But the present is the one that actually makes us happy, unhappy, feel alive or ... not ... all depending on the way we know to connect to the day.

I once heard a statistic that said that one million people don't wake up anymore when a new day starts, so the simple fact that we wake up ... should make us be happy.

But for many, the days when they wake up with joy ... are probably just a few in a year time.

Today I wonder myself if waking up with joy is a decision that belongs of us ... or is a simple fact that just happens.

Could we have the habit of starting the day with joy ... or is much over our powers?!

It's quite strange to understand why there are days when we wake up happy or unhappy ... but probably everything has to do with the interior factors that define positivity or negativity from inside of us.

With enough optimism in our souls ... we can choose to believe that waking up with joy ... starting the day with the idea of positivity, expecting great things to happen ... that should be a better script than the one when we are afraid of being alive.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

Honestly speaking, i personally don't really understand why we wake up feeling that it's going to be a bad or a great day ... but maybe the past influence indeed the present moment ... and we should keep in mind also that the present moment influence a lot the future. So ... walking up with joy can be even a trick to avoid starting with negativity ... something that in fact can be amazing ... a new day from our lives.

Re writing your mental software
... the trick that can have a tremendous influence on your life

Don't have the life you dreamed so much about?!

Don't even see any hope that you will have that one day?!

Well ... you still have a chance for being happy and that is accept the present moment just as it is.

Embrace it ... love it ... as it is the only fact that you really have in life.

We sometimes are too connected with all the material goods we have, but actually don't realize that all we have is the present moment itself.

But what we don't like is that this moment doesn't have the elements of the that dreamed life ... or if you see few of the elements ... still not seeing everything just as we thought reality should be ... still let the unhappiness be present inside of our souls.

But have you ever thought that the change does not appear ... because we are not actually opened for it?!

We want to have the ideal life, but actually don't do anything for getting it.

We want it ... but we don't want to pay the price for it.

But what is this price?!

Well ... it's quite simple and in fact everything is related with the way we think ... and this is why changing the way we think ... re writing our mental software can be the trick for a better life ... and even for an amazing one.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

The way we think ... the thoughts we decide to focus on ... is something that can have a huge impact on us.

The influence of thinking is more powerful than we can imagine ... and is the root of all the situations we have in our lives now.

But re writing the software, by being opened to any kind of change ... could re define our lives ... in a great way.

I am not saying as a religious leader that this is the absolute path that you should follow, because i don't believe in paths and dogmatism, but ... only to keep in mind the idea and meditate over it ... experience it ... at least as a test.

Volatility ... a new trend

I believe that understanding what really defines volatility is actually ... the new secret that we should look for.

But also accepting all the effects of it ... which actually might sound as weird ... will bring bring you in fact lots of advantages.

I bet you already believe that ... i lost my mind ... or i really don't know what i am talking about.

But you see ... volatility defines the contemporary life.

We know from the Bible, by already thousands of years that everything is just an illusion ... which is actually a way of saying that everything you see is volatile ... and can disappear right away.

But it becomes a huge problem that we see the phenomenon in all the areas of our lives ... and much often than we used to see it in the past.

We somehow start to feel that volatility is actually ... a trend.

We lost all the absolute values from life ... and maybe the last chance we see now is to focus on the Absolute Divine ... which we name God, Allah ... and in many, many other ways.

And even if we take this decision ... we start to wonder in the next second ... how do i actually connect with the Infinite?!

We have moments when we feel we succeeded that and soon after we believe it was all an illusion.

Even the fact that we connected with the absolute becomes volatile and illusory.

Then we search again and again and again ... in the outside world ... for the absolute symbols.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

We have also many moments when we believe we found that ... but we end up being disappointed all the time ... cause everything is volatile nowadays ... more than ever.

Accepting volatility as part of the way life is ... represents a key that will make you guide yourself to the real absolute symbols that we can have in life.

Then ... that influence that you are looking for that positive vibe that you need for a happy life will be inside of you.

The whole meaning of this trend that shows us that everything around exists now, but in the next second can become just a small chapter from the history of our lives ... is revealing a message from the Universe and that is ... don't look for the absolute in the outside world, but in the inner world.

Just let the volatility be a new trend and ignore all the illusions life can send to your life ... but don't forget to be connected with the soul all the time.

That is the gateway

Touching the horizon line ... just a silly illusion that we taste everyday

Maybe i should start my essay saying that i have a disease impossible to be cured.

It's call ... the need of touching the horizon line.

I've contacted it since i started my first business, but things got complicated when i entered into the real estate and i began to build houses.

For me ... it's a real pleasure to built.

Before even starting ... i actually visualize the trees from the garden and all the pieces of furniture.

The you see the foundation.

The first floor.

The second one.

The third one.

The roof ...and i see the shape of the house.

Then i focus on all the other details, expecting to daily see quick changes.

I imagine finishing the house ... and its perfection.

And i even imagine myself happy ... just because i finish the project, but instead of losing my time to be happy at the end ... i just focus on your next project.

I want ... one more ... or maybe 10 ... 20 ... 100 new projects.

It's a feeling difficult to be described, but every time i finished something ... this is what i did next ... focus on the future ... but never think about relaxing and enjoying the present.

Today ... at least i am conscious about the disease ... i try to cure

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

myself ... but can't find any treatment at all.

I am on a pathless path ... having this silly illusion that i taste everyday ... but i am wondering myself ... until when?!

Maybe the cure is simple ... and i just need to stop ... relax ... and enjoy the life, but i can't see this path.

Maybe is so simple ... and i'm so silly that i can't understand that the need of touching the horizon line ... was influenced of the fact that i always wanted from life ... more than the life had offered me.

When someone really wants to enter into your energetic field ... will not bother to ask for your permission

More and more people start to understand what an energetic field really means.

They understood the concept but can not define it in a way so that ... they can apply all the necessary rules and have the life that they want.

But what is an energetic field?!

Well ... it can be defined as reality, but actually is the background that defines reality with some invisible forces.

I read many spiritual but also scientist books ... but the concept has a too complex definition.

We have lots of thoughts regarding that ... lots of scenarios of how it should look like ... but the problem is that depending on the spiritual level where we are ... we are influenced more or less by all kinds of exterior factors.

And the funny thing is that if someone wants ... or maybe the Universe decides that ... to enter into our energetic field, will do it without bothering to ask for our permission.

But truth be told our lives are influenced by all kinds of factors starting from weather, the silly politicians from the country where we live in ... to the people we accidentally meet on the streets.

All those factors will influence us a lot.

And ... even practicing the solitude will not let us avoid all the exterior factors.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

A solution?!

Well ... maybe the first one should be to not try anymore to control reality and embrace everything happens in life.

Understand that above our thinking, there is a Divine Being ... called Universe, God, Allah etc etc ... and this absolute being knows better how the script of our lives should look like.

We need to create a mix from our desires and the uncontrollable influences that comes to us.

Will be kind of a strange cocktail of energies ... that defines and re defines the energetic fields on and on and on ... but maybe this is the beauty of life ... embracing ... the unexpected.

The meaning of all these?!

Well ... the meaning of life is to understand ... life ... and life itself is about energies of many kinds.

Even people that master the law of attraction understand in one point that mastering this powerful law is useless ... if you are not following the path that you are supposed to follow.

Somehow we need to accept the concept of destiny to understand the meaning and the power of those exterior influences that sometimes appears from nowhere and look like a nonsense.

Embracing reality ... just as it is ... represent the key for a beautiful life!

Some people ... just act as ghosts that influence our lives from time to time

There are people that appears in our lives and then just disappear forever.

It is totally illogical ... but this is even a psychological effect defined as ghosting.

It's ... the practice of ending a personal relationship with someone by suddenly and without explanation withdrawing from all communication.

It is usual the scenario for a love story ... with someone that appeared from nowhere ... but also leaves suddenly to ... nowhere.

A beautiful ... perfect scenario ... ends in a way that can be declared as a ... non sense.

You will always remember that perfect being ... but will never understand the reasons why the story ended.

But sometimes the ghosting effect can be even more weird.

You can meet a person ... that somehow is usually sending you a message in a very powerful way ... but only from time to time.

That person can appear ... then disappear ... then reappear again.

It's like a ghost that appears from time to time to influence our lives ... in a way difficult to be understood.

Could be a lover ... that creates you the illusion of the perfect love story ... or even a friend that gives us some advices ... but also a weird person as a neighbor that is driving you crazy from time to time ... does it, then is letting you believe he disappeared ... then reappears again ... and on and on and on.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

Well ... today i think these are just signs that the Universe is sending us from time to time ... to let us understand the meaning of different things from what we call ... reality.

We can name those persons ... ghosts ... but everything happens for a certain reason ... and we are too blinds to see it at the time it happens.

The ghosts ... should just ... remind us ... what we forget or help us see ... things that we don't have the power to see.

The feeling of unhappiness just sends you a strong message telling that we need to start another chapter and leave the actual reality.
Unhappiness is a friend ... not an enemy.

The great scientist Stephen Hawkins used to say that the black wholes are not so black and dangerous as we might think.

Actually the black wholes might be gateways to a different ... universes.

And even being for a lifetime in a wheel chair ... he dares to compare unhappiness with the black wholes ... and explains in a beautiful way that no matter where you are in life ... you have a way out.

Even if you feel that you are trapped in what Hawkins named black wholes, which might look like a worse case scenario ... don't worry cause this also has a way in and a way out.

But when unhappiness is present in our lives ... we become blinds.

We believe we are so, so influenced in a negative way by it ... that in the end we just become blinds and can't see anymore the path of joy. Comparing the unhappiness with a black whole, same as in Hawkins's thoughts ... is a new perspective.

But a guy as Hawkins, that spent his life in a wheel chair ... found out that if he cannot have a regular life, he could focus all his time and energy into thinking.

And he found joy into that.

He studied the Universe as a scientist ... and saw it in the end as a philosopher.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

But us ... all the other ones that are not forced to spend the whole life in a wheel chair ... we can't find the gateway from the actual universe to another one ... which actually means switch reality with another reality ... an ugly one with a joyful one.

Defining the unhappiness as a friend ... a friend that is actually strongly whispering you something ... is a little bit too abstract.

But the unhappiness tells you that you are not in the right place or you are not seeing the actual reality from the right perspective.

Jumping from unhappiness to happiness can be done in a second ... but only if you see the signs ... and have the power to listen and accept your strongest emotions.

So ... ?!

Well ... we should only keep our eyes opened ... pay attentions to everything around ... define reality and find a way of redefining it all the time.

The balance of emotions disappears only when we succeed to connect to the inner self

I see more and more people around me that after an age ... not more than 30 ... they start to practice the solitude.

It's kind of a way of auto protection to all the influences that comes from the energies of the people from our lives.

They start to be afraid of every exchange of energy and actually find a way to get rid of what other people think about the reality they live in.

After lots of years of doing that, after seeing inside of me a weird balance of emotions ... i tried also to disconnect myself from the outside world.

I understood the power of all the exterior influences, but i also realized the Universe is laughing of me and somehow i am in the position of interacting with people ... anywhere i should go.

I almost closed my main business where i had to interact with many people, all day long ... but still lots of people appears from anywhere in my life.

Somehow ... the message is clear ... i need to deal with all those interactions and energies ... and the only chance i have is to learn the art of connecting to people in a beautiful way.

During the time, it happens many, many times as all those interactions to make me have the silly dance of contradictory emotions ... but today i believe that if we connect with good intentions all the people we interact with ... most probably the interaction will be a positive ... with a positive influence.

... a non ending story

But i still also meet people that don't have a good influence over my life ... and every time it happens i know i am not in a good energetic position ... as a soul.

I just know ... that positive attracts positivity and negative attracts negativity ... and i need to totally change the path of life that i am following.

I stop ... asking myself what i am doing wrong ... but all the time i see that all i need to do is to connect to my inner soul.

Nothing more ... nothing less!

And the balance of emotions ... disappears right away!

The connection with the inner self ... gives the protection for a beautiful life ... no matter of the influences that come from the outside world.

The arrogance ... a contemporary art that can be seen everywhere around

More i interact with people around me .. more i see lots of people acting in an arrogant way.

Is almost like a virus and i am glad i somehow succeeded to not contact it.

But what is really ... the arrogance?!

The definition of arrogancy is the state of acting superior or self-important in an offensive manner. A student who constantly taunts others for being less intelligent than herself is an example of someone displaying arrogance.

Exaggerating or disposed to exaggerate one's own worth or importance often by an overbearing manner an arrogant official ... showing an offensive attitude of superiority ... proceeding from or characterized by arrogance an arrogant reply.

And i look at all those definitions and i am wondering myself why we can't keep the right balance in a conversation ... or in fact in all the relations we have.

Why we actually need to be arrogant?!

But why so, so many people?!

What influenced them in such a way that they need to practice this silly ... "art".

Well ... today i believe that not being connected with the inner self, to feel the presence of the infinite in our souls ... we somehow try to replace the huge need of absolute values and we declare ourselves the absolute from the outside world.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

The next second ... we see superiority in the way we act with the others.

Yes ... is just a silly game we practice so often that we don't even realize that we do it.

And instead of connecting to the other souls around we declare them inferiors to us and we actually totally disconnect from all around us.

We continue acting as this ... being under a negative influence ... disconnected from our souls ... and we end up being disconnected from the inner world ... but also from the outside world.

Every story has a beginning, the story itself and an end, but what if we should taste only the story ... forgetting about the beginning and the end?!

We somehow pay too much attention in life at the details and we forget to live ... and actually enjoy life.

We study the beginning a lot. We define it in one million ways, but when the story starts we just lose the interest on tasting it and soon after the story goes to the end.

We forget to act and see the message behind the story ... but also to enjoy the simple fact that we are alive on the stage of life.

... but still we pay too much attention to the beginning and the end ... and we should maybe make an experiment to see ... what if we make the opposite?!

I mean ... forget about the beginning and the end and focus only on the story itself, on the fact that we should be connected with the present moment ... and nothing more.

The influence of our mind is huge ... and we actually don't let the heart sing when we are on the stage.

We think too much at the beginning and it's meaning and we only let the heart cry at the end.

Today ... after becoming an expert into failing in so, so many events ... i have the obsession of tasting just the story ... connect right away and totally forget about the start ... or why the story will be closed one day.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

I have an obsession similar with the passion that 2 sex mates have. You see ... the sex mates ... even if the example is weird ... they does care just about the story.

They are not attached in any way ... and don't care about how it starts or if one day it will end.

They are focused only on ... the story.

They just strongly connect to the moment.

Don't pay attention to the thoughts they have ... but only to the passion itself.

Caring only about the story ... becomes the wisdom of enjoying life.

Sex mates ... might be considered as a totally inappropriate example ... but their philosophy of life is a better one and many of us should learn the art of connecting to the present moment.

Yes ... in this world everything has a beginning and an end ... but we should ignore all that and learn to keep the right balance between the thoughts and emotions.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

She liked him.
He liked her ... a lot.
Between them it was a huge distance and the only relationship they could have was a spiritual one.
... but he was still dreaming to seduce her.

In India they have a beautiful festival ... which is called Rakshabandhan.

This festival is of brother and sister.

Raksha Bandhan, also Rakshabandhan, is a popular, traditionally Hindu, annual rite, or ceremony, which is central to a festival of the same name celebrated in South Asia, and in other parts of the world significantly influenced by Hindu culture. On this day, sisters of all ages tie a talisman, or amulet, called the rakhi, around the wrists of their brothers, symbolically protecting them, receiving a gift in return, and traditionally investing the brothers with a share of the responsibility of their potential care.

For europeans is difficult to understand the concept, but i got a friend ... also writer ... that knows lots of persons from there.

And he somehow fell in love with a beautiful girl from that part of the world.

He was always seeing as impossible a friendship between a man and a lady ... and he liked her a lot.

But being so far away from that beautiful young lady ... they decided to declare themselves bothers and sisters on the day of the festival.

She liked the idea ... but he mentioned her that if one day in the

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

future they will have the chance to meet ... he will forget about their understanding and he will try to seduce her.

And truth be told ... she was extremely beautiful.

The Universe was laughing of him trying to see how he will act with such a beautiful lady ... but being so far away.

The lady appeared ... they had a connection, but looked like impossible as they should meet one day.

... and also ... he was a married guy.

But he liked her a lot ... to stop dreaming about seducing her in the real world.

And the Universe was laughing on and on ... cause more they were talking ... more he realized he liked her ... and of course not as a sister ... but as a lady.

So ... my real philosophical question is ... can a man and a woman have just a spiritual relationship?!

Well ... same as the Universe, i am laughing also of my friend ... the writer ... cause this was the real message ... to understand that some circumstances forces us to have only spiritual relationships.

The meaning?!

If we see the message behind the message ... we will understand that as a man ... you can also see a lady as a soul.

Sometimes only under the influence of the circumstances ... but once you understand the concept of the spiritual relationship ... you will also understand that the relationship between the opposite sexes can be by many kinds ... including spiritual.

The funny thing is that my friend ... the writer ... read and wrote a lot about spirituality, but he was too blind to look at a lady and see not only her exterior beauty ... but also the beauty of her soul.

“Now am thinking ... in any relation satisfaction is more important as love ... “
(Arij Emaan)

I started to write few years ago, because i had too many unclear things in my mind and soul.

I discovered what i call ... the art of defining ... and today i continue to write for sending the message of how you can improve your life just by replacing the bad habit of gossiping about others, which is also a sort of defining ... with a honest way of defining yourself ... your life.

I wrote few books about love and 2 of them with my dear Arij Emaan ... and discussing about what really means a relationship ... we came on the conclusion that satisfaction is more important as love.

It's an ugly definition of what is behind a love story and the reason why relationships don't really work even if they start so damm well. We have lots of desires and we are looking for all kinds of ways to satisfy those desires ... and in the end ... if we are honest enough ... we realize that we were looking for satisfaction more than for love. But it's really annoying to play this game of defining ... be honest ... and realize the real truth.

And is even more annoying if you had been hypothesized for weeks, or months ... of a person that looked as a god ... seeing in that relation the absolute perfection.

Today i believe Arij is right with her thinking.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

I saw many couples that ended this way, because the real intention from the early beginning was satisfaction ... not real love.

But the blindness itself existed.

Today i should write with Arij a new book called "Awakening can be obtained at the end of a love story" ... explaining the mistake we do and how we should .. at least ... keep the right balance between love and satisfaction.

But remember ... what we write is not the absolute truth ... cause we only write of the different types of influence from life.

Is the way we see the whole story and we only share with you those ideas ... believing that our life experiences will help you act better on the stage of life ... when you will be in this position.

Readapting to any scenario
... the greatest power a human being can have

Today was a total mess ... the whole day.

From the morning till the night.

In the real life, i am involved in the renting business ... so i lost few contracts and also the chance to sign a new important contract.

Was kind of a day that could be defined as a worst case scenario .. that really happened ... cause i never lost so many contracts in one day.

So ... i was not under good energies ... but i realized why.

I was not under the right influences from the people from my life and sometimes, having old statistical datas about the connection between the influences that come from the people around my soul ... i somehow understood why it happened.

But ... you know what?!

I smiled ... and i am still smiling even now.

I studied a little bit the renting prices and i realized i can get an increase of 10 to 25 % more at the new contracts that i will sign from now.

So actually what i saw as a disaster in the morning ... it's actually a big opportunity in the night.

Someone repeated me today few times ... as at every new situation that appears as a new disaster to reply ... "It's ok!" ... and i did it ... and i even smiled.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

I am usually optimistic ... and i saw ... from empiric experiences kept in my mind as statistical datas ... that every time something bad happens it usually becomes the reason why new opportunities appear in my life.

So in the end even the bad influences that fuck my energies and all around me ... are good.

I decided to embrace anything happens ... cause i know everything happens for a reason ... even if i can't see the reason now.

I told to myself that readapting to any scenario ... is the greatest power a human being can have.

... and that is not a cliché ... but simple rules of life that i see how they happen all the time.

But what i can't understand is why i keep my connections opened with all those people from my life ... that have a negative impact on my energetic field.

I could just totally disconnect from them and decide to have around me only people that have a positive influence over my life.

Is a simple decision ... but even if i don't realize why i act in the way i act .. if i understand the dance of energies ... and how it works ... i haven't decided yet to keep in mind what my intuition is telling me to do.

Till then ... i just readapt to any new scenario.

It's not that you have a soul
... you are a soul ... so you should pay more attention at your priorities

Communism tried to make people look equal ... but we can't be equals, because we are different.

So ... communism failed, even if they tried for such a long time ... and even if they still exist.

Nazism tried to explain to us before and during World War II, that they were superior and the rest of people from the world were inferior.

But being different is quite ok ... even if nazism and communism could not understand that.

And i wonder myself why the theoreticians behind those 2 powerful doctrines ... never thought to consider we are in fact ... souls.

And why we should be declared equals ... or even worst ... superior and inferior?!

I somehow believe that both theories were wrong ... cause souls are ... different ... and have in fact that ... uniqueness, that only a soul can have.

But the bad part is that we believe we have a soul ... not that we are a soul.

The soul became something ... auxiliary.

And this is the reason why we don't pay attention to it ... even if is so damm important.

On the list of priorities we never find ... the soul and if it happens to find it ... is the last on the list ... which is actually quite ridiculous.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

But we continue life as that and we spend our lives doing only what we have to do and not what we love to do.

We cannot influence life in any way ... cause in fact we just can't believe we are souls.

So many doctrines in philosophy, spirituality, religion ... that it becomes natural that we don't know anymore what to believe.

Communism and nazism were just playing an important role in the recent history ... but today we live in democracy and is even worst.

The neighbors, the friends ... even the people we meet for the first time have huge influence over our lives ... telling us what to think and what to believe.

They are not great theoreticians ... as the nazy, communists and many others, but only simple people that influence us ... without even bothering to ask us if we agree or not.

Why?!

Well ... we are too silly to understand that it's not that we have a soul ... but we are a soul ... so we should pay more attention at the list of priorities and ask first the inner self.

Addictions ... as drugs ... just ruin people

Let's say that ... i had the chance in the last years to meet people that were taking different kind of drugs and it was funny to listen to them ... while explaining that i simple don't understand the beauty and the importance of this habit.

I did not defined them in any way.

Also ... i did not offend them ... not even as a joke.

I was just listening ... and trying to understand the meaning of all that.

What i saw at marihuana is that ... all of them call this a therapeutic treatment ... and again i was told that i am not able to understand ... because i never smoked.

On the other hand ... i realized one thing ... to understand life we need to taste it and experience everything ... including immoral things.

I wrote about this many times, and i also know that great yogins are using drugs for meditation, but i am coming from a generation that was addicted to something else ... alcohol.

And i experienced it many, many times till the day when i saw that the alcohol is influencing my decisions too much ... and i stopped.

One day ... on a 1st of January i just eliminated this addiction from my life.

Last year i met a guy, about 35.

We were interacting a lot.

He was drinking about 5-6 bottles of beers a day ... but as long as he was only drinking was quite an ok guy.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

Then he had the chance to double his income ... and replaced beer with marihuana.

We were speaking many times about the philosophy of life and he was quite good on defining that.

After starting to use drugs, he was daily explaining me that i will never understand philosophy unless i will become addicted as him.

I was smiling ... just to not reply with an offense back.

He started to be totally chanced.

I remember how he was when he was daily drinking 5-6 beers a day and how he is today, after taking drugs.

He actually became ... a ruin ... totally destroyed mentally.

A smart guy, beautiful as soul ... just became a ruin that probably will never reborn again.

I decided to even stop saying him anything at all about the mistake he is doing, cause he already sees me as an enemy ... but i will just close this connection.

Is useless to have around me a person as him, cause 100% an influence will come from his side ... and not a good one.

So ... should we drink alcohol?!

Should we take drugs?!

Should we have other strong addictions?!

Well ... yes ... drink alcohol ... taste drugs of any kind ... experience anything illegal and immoral ... but do it just as an experience ... not as an addiction.

Impossible to get rid of an amazing pleasure
... or should we name this the poem of our emotions?!
... a real story

In the past i used to write about love, love stories and everything was related with the subject.

I've got lots of emails during the time .. but i remember that once a guy wrote me something interesting regarding the influences that come from the partners we have in life.

The guy was married ... but a very beautiful lady, that he knew by a long time, wrote him and made him understand that she wants to have a love affair with him.

He could not believe it.

That amazing beautiful lady wanted him ... so he totally forgot that he was married.

But something weird happened.

Every time he was meeting her ... even if it was amazing ... 5 minutes after he was leaving he was receiving an unexpected bad news.

First time he believed it was a simple coincidence ... second time, the same ... but after a while he realized it was a 99.99% chance as something bad to happen if he was meeting her.

He understood the things with the energies, but his wife did not found out ... so he continued the game for months.

It was like the meeting with the Devil, but the devil was an amazing lady ... and he did not wanted to stop seeing her.

Adrian Gabriel Dumitru

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

The guy was writing me, asking for an advice about how he can stop this bad influence that comes after meeting the lady. He knew what an energy field was ... and he understood everything is related with the connections between the human beings. The problem was that the lady was so beautiful ... that he was balancing all the time between her and avoiding problems. Her negative impact was visible right away, but what the guy was not seeing was that not the lady was a negative person ... but the connection itself was a negative connection. As long as they were only chatting as friends everything was quite ok ... but when they were meeting for continuing their story as sex mates ... that was not bringing good influences in their lives. And it is the same with many relations that we have ... it's just the fact that the common path is not of positive impact on us. Those persons might be ok ... but we need to understand what the Universe is whispering ... and that is ... you just have different directions you should follow.

Don't give so many options
... it will become confusing

I've been born in a communist country ... and the funny thing is that what i remember about that time is that ... we had only one type of chocolate, one type of beer, one type of car ... the buildings with apartments were looking the same all over the country so basically there was nothing to choose.

Today i go with my little son in the super market and he has the option of 25 to 35 types of chocolate.

It takes 5 minutes for him to decide what to buy ... and he totally dislike the type of chocolate from my time.

Some smart guys, reinvented the brand and the chocolate of my childhood is still in the supermarket, but now is just an option from many other options.

When i tell my little son that i had no options of other chocolates ... he just can't believe it, but the simple fact that he is not able to choose right away ... made me realize that having so many options ... is not really a good option.

There are people that even when they are in front of 2 options they become so undecided ... that their lives just go on hold on mode.

When they have more than 5 options ... their minds become frozen.

In front of the decision they have to make ... even like a kid that has to choose between 25 to 35 types of chocolates ... the influence of indecision ruins their vibes.

Nazism gave probably no option to the people.

Communism ... in many cases ... only one option.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

But nowadays ... when we live in a free world, having so, so many options ... everything becomes confusing.

I saw people that looked so damm unhappy ... that they could not decide which type of BMW or Mercedes-Benz they should buy.

I saw people that could not decide if they should choose Thailand or Maldives when they had to go in vacation.

But i also saw people that not knowing what to choose ... they bought also the Mercedes-Benz, but also BMW ... and also people that love to travel and from the vacation of 2 weeks in Thailand ... they went directly in Maldives.

And i also saw men that wanted to divorce because they were in love with the mistress and after a month with the mistress ... realized that the wife was not such a bad option.

Then they came back ... and one month later they left one more time at the mistress.

Today ... i realize that the influence of all the thoughts that we have in our mind when we are in front of too many options ... is just overwhelming.

So ... whatever you do ... don't give so many options ... it will become confusing!

Addiction for dreaming
... a good or a bad habit?!
... or maybe we are too much influenced by our emotions.

I've been tasting myself ... same as any other human being ... many, many addictions.

One of them was the addiction of dreaming and i realized it existed in my life only when a new friend told me that he had this addiction.

Now i am wondering myself if this is a good or a bad habit ... and don't really know which is the answer.

But what is funny is that i somehow got everything i dreamed in life. I read a lot about the law of attraction and it influenced me a lot in a good way ... the simple fact that i knew how to dream with my eyes opened.

So ... i got everything i wanted, but forgot to mention you that none of all those dreams that became true ... gave me the pleasure of feeling that i enjoy life.

I had lots of dreams and goals ... but never thought that the only real purpose that i should have in life ... is actually enjoy the present moment.

In fact ... i dreamed so much in my life that i just missed the chance to enjoy the life itself.

Today ... i should redefine a little bit my behavior and ask myself before i start to follow any dream and the path to it, i would ask myself if it really worth it.

If the answer is no ... i will just forget about the dream.

INFLUENCING AND BEING INFLUENCED

... a non ending story

I also believe that many of our dreams ... should be actually named desires and we should not let ourselves be influenced so much by our emotions.

For example you could dream for a Lamborghini or a Rolls-Royce, but does it worth to pay so much money for one?!

You could just rent one for few days and enjoy the pleasure of temporary having it ... because anyway everything is temporary.

Well ... what i want to say is quite simple.

Many times we confuse the addiction of dreaming with the non ending need of satisfying illusory desires.

We only have few real important dreams in live that really worth the effort of sacrificing us ... but we need to analyze and define better what is a dream and what is a desire.

INTRODUCTION

Telling that the life itself it's an illusion, might sound so damn ... weird ... and most probably ... even like a depressive thought.

But ... you see ... there are so, so many moments in life when the life itself just... sucks ... and we ask ourselves ... what the hell have i done that i deserve that?!

And that was the moment when the karmic idea came into my mind ... starting to believe that all the lessons of life, sometimes very difficult to handle ... could be defined as karmic.

All those abstract situations ... which totally annoy us ... and make our lives miserable... are repeating on and on and on. Believing we are the victims of circumstances ... everything it's never the way we want to be ... or even worst.

The funny thing that i tried all the time when i was in those weird abstract stories, having the impression that it was the end of the world ... i was repeating to myself "It's all an illusion ... and it's not what it looks like".

My karmic stories ... being in fact my stories ... and feeling them in such a powerful way ... were ...

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

Well ... don't even know how to define them, but all i wanted was to get out of those situations and also get rid of the karmic people that i hated so much.

And i tried everything ... and nothing worked expect smiling ... or even laughing in front of those illusions.

Deciding to call them ... simple ... illusions ... was probably the best idea i could come with.

But the karmic illusions ... were powerful messages i had to understand ... and i was pretending i could not see behind the abstract.

I actually love the abstract, but not when it was part of my life.

It was all related with the concept of understanding the meaning of life ... and even if i spent lots of time meditating over the subject ... when i was on the scene of the real life, i was acting like a football player that studied all the strategies had been ever written about this sport ... but ... never practiced and in fact never tried to practice it in a good way. So ... even if i knew theory ... i acted like someone that never heard about spirituality ... or about the forces behind reality. In fact in the real life, in so, so many karmic moments ... i acted like an ... idiot.

I knew that all i had to do was just to smile in front of those illusory situations ... cause there is no other way of fighting. But guess what?!

Each time ... i was failing.

The only progress i made over the years ... was that after a while ... meditating over what happened ... i somehow understood what ... illusory ... meant.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

.... that i had to react in a different way.

... that was not what it looked like and the lesson of life had to be seen, understood deeper and deeper.

But again ... theory was so easy and i was failing tests all the time.

On and on and on ...

I was such an idiot not applying all what i knew about life ... on the scene of my own life.

... and i was paying the price ... of living a ... miserable life ...

Everyday something happened and i was fucking my vibe ... not realizing there were tests given to me by the Universe.

Life was beautiful ... and i thought it's so ... ugly.

Hahaha ... such a silly perspective.

Well ... it was all a decision of ... changing my perceptions ... and realizing that anything it could happen it was all a decision of the Divine Intelligence ... God ... Allah ... or however we could name that entity that is everything it exists and it was all for our good.

The fact that the karmic situations were repeated ... was because i was not passing the tests ... and i really had to pass those tests.

It was all about ... my awakening ... and i had to start the ... process.

It's so annoying feeling you live in the wrong story ... but many times it's all karmic. When you understand and accept it it all becomes easier ... and the beauty of life is revealed again

So many unhappy people around me ...
But i wonder why so, so many?!
What have we done so wrong that the Universe is allowing as so many humans to feel unhappy on this planet?!
The word karmic ... has annoying connotations.
I know it by such a long, long time.
But still ... karma is part of life.
Many of us believe that the meaning of life is to have the school, finish it, get a job, get married, get babies, have a successful life etc etc ... but the truth is that ...
Well ... spirituality... the human being is born first of all to live important life lessons.
In all sort of forms.
In the difficult moments we understand the term karmic.
We stop calling it ... annoying.
We accept it ... and even embrace it.
Believing we live in the wrong story is redefined as ... living a karmic story that life has to offer.
That is the moment ... when understanding the meaning of

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

karmic, seeing the message sent by the Universe ... the unhappiness itself becomes ... illusory.

Smiling in front of the illusion ... realizing it's all a karmic illusion we stop feeling that we are in the wrong story.

We accept the fact that we had to take those exams of life ... and smile seeing how silly we've acted ... on the scene of our own lives.

Our perceptions about the mechanisms of life becomes different.

We replace the term ... annoying ... with illusion.

And we let the life continue ... accepting and in fact even embracing everything it happens.

Not being afraid anymore of the presence of the karmic mechanisms ... in our lives ... it all becomes ... different.

The beauty of life is revealed again ...

Inducing problems ... so that in the end we come with the solution ... becoming the heroes that solve those problem

If we look in the present moment ... we see lots of problems in the life of the human kind.

If we look back in time ... we see the same things ... but some of the things were already solved.

And i wonder by who?!

Well ... analyzing and defining all those episodes ... i understand the sickness of the human mind.

For money ... for getting rich ... we've generated lots of problems ... as in the end to solve them ... getting advantages of that fact.

We induce illusory problems but we also come with the solution ...

What is funny is that looking around myself ... people don't see the ... illusion ...

They simple can't see anything except the problem itself hoping in a silly way for the solution.

I see this sickness of the human mind ... but can't see its purpose.

I just can't.

And i also ... don't want ...

But maybe it's something karmic and we could define

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

everything as ... karmic illusion ... having the simple purpose of understanding that in one point in life, if we want as life to be different we should think of following the path of ... awakening.

Analyzing more ... might be the start of the process ... but in the end no matter how we look at the sickness of those people that induced us problems ... we could just see everything as part of the scenario.

Karmic illusions ... are part of life.

Simple understanding and accepting the concept ... means a lot ... for our spiritual evolution.

Helping the others ... ignoring our own interests ... it's the first step on disconnecting of the illusion of the inner self

The story with the refugees is probably one chapter of my life.

... an important one.

I was focused a lot of my own interests, on chasing money ... and getting rich ... not realizing the illusion of that.

On this long path ... i actually met people having money which whispered me the fact that money will not make me happy ... but i ignored them.

I wanted to get richer and richer.

It was all about material possession into my mind.

Well ... until i realized that most probably ... all those things i was chasing ... will not bring me happiness ... cause no matter what i was doing ... i was never really happy.

I started to see the fact that i was living an illusion ... a karmic one.

I simple began to smile ... but not understanding what the hell i could do ... to get out of that story.

The funny thing is that when i started to help those people coming from Ukraine ... i started to forget about my own interests.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

I ignored my to do lists, my plans ... my everything.

I was involved so much in that story ... that little by little i forget about ... myself, starting the process of getting out of my illusory self.

But guess what?!

The Universe was laughing behind my back.

Because of some international programs ... i started to be so well paid for the accommodation for refugees ... that i could not believe it.

I started to ask myself Is this a joke?!

Well ... don't know what kind of joke it was but ... no one ever paid me so well monthly .. for any kind of service i had provided.

I smiled again ... understanding the karmic story i was living. So i tried to help ... and even if i was not asking for money i was paid so ... damn good.

It was all so ... illusory.

So ... what could i do?!

Well ... it was so simple ...

Maybe i just had to continue ... forgetting about the self ... and become kind of a Santa Claus that is coming into the summer time ...

Yes ... all i want to say is that ... the meaning of life is sometimes to live and experience some karmic stories.

And understand ... the illusion.

I know that the term sounds .. so ... depressive ... but ... just think about it.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

Analyzing and finding the karmic factors of life might be the key for spiritual evolution.

The history of the world had lots of karmic leaders ... but it's funny to see the end of those great actors

Gorbachev ... died.

Read few books about him ... and even if the perspectives about him are so contradictory ... he was one of the most important leaders from the modern history.

And we should mention that he was leader in very difficult times ... but succeeded to end the unwanted cold war.

But ... i will not bother you anyone with my opinions about him If he was a hero or a criminal ...

I am just saying that overall ... he was indeed a great actor on the scene of the great politics of our planet.

I would probably dare to say that ... his presence as a top leader of the world from 1985 to 1991 ... changed our history.

Soviet Union died in the end ... and Gorbachev became almost ... a simple citizen.

Most probably ... his actions, decisions and everything he did as the leader of Soviet Union had an important karmic role.

I could define him as ... a karmic actor that changed millions of destinies for so many ordinary people.

But i looked at the photos with him from his last days of life ... and i smile.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

I see him looking so much ... like an ordinary human being.

So was Gorbachev... a great leader?!

Was his impact on this world a negative or a positive one?!

Why was he accused of betrayal in Russia?!

Why the perceptions over him ... are so ... contradictory?!

How should we really define him?!

Well ... i would say ... as a karmic character with a huge impact looking on the stage of the modern history.

I really don't care if he was a good or a bad guy ... but seeing the photo with him, on the bed of the hospital ... i just ... smile.

I understand how illusory life can be.

Today you can be the king of the world and in fact he was basically the king of half of the world ... but ... he died as an ordinary person.

Quite ... funny.

Looking at those examples ... we can actually understand the illusion of life and the fact that it's all an illusion ... a karmic one.

Truth be told we all chase for kind of a ... magic pill

Bill is a close friend of mine by many years.
He's a plastic surgery doctor ... living in the south of France.
Even if he has 2 kids with different mothers ... Bill decided to never get marry.
Let's say he is a little bit ... atypical ... but ...
Well ... even if in the past i would define him in a totally different way ... today i really understand my friend.
Being close to 50, instead of being involved into a boring marriage ... Bill dates with new and new ladies all the time.
Many of our common friends ... envy him for his tremendous success with the women.
But Bill ... just lives his life in his own style.
Every week ... new ladies.
1 ... 2 ... 3 ... 7 ... new ladies.
He's very opened with anyone that accepts his invitations to a beautiful coffee shop ... near the sea.
They stay and chat ... for hours.
You see ... Bill's secret is that he knows to connect to their souls ... and knowing lots of jokes ... he really makes them laugh ... on and on and on.
Many of them ... end up the night ... declaring themselves ...
happy.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

He is ... and acts all the time ... as kind of a magic pill ... that once taken ... brings ... happiness ... for a while.

Then ... Bill simple disappears.

Being busy all the time with his work as a plastic surgery doctor ... he disappears as ... a ghost ... that in fact ... never comes back.

I could also define him as a guy that is a very clear example for what is called ... ghosting effect.

After publishing my book "Analyze. Define. Redefine." he called me and talked for hours about his life.

We were laughing asking ... "How could you be defined?! as a jerk that is creating illusions to so, so many ladies ... or ... an angel that makes them laugh ... reminding them about something that they forget about ... the happiness ... "

Well ... the perspectives could be so ... contradictory ...

I see Bill ... greater as Casanova ... but maybe the ones that believe in the concepts of morality ... will totally dislike him.

So ... how should we define Bill?!

Why should we judge someone that is inducing beautiful vibes ... making so many ladies forget about ... unhappiness?!

It's all probably about the duality of life ... and each side of it we see.

Or maybe ... even the happiness itself it's ... illusory.

Smile ... just smile ... in front of whatever happens

I am looking at the actual crisis of energy, of food ... of everything.

But i just smile...

I remember about the times when i was a kid and lived for more than 11 years in communism ... and i smile reading that we need to stop the light, to stay at 16-17 celsius degrees ... maybe to eat less etc etc.

I actually remember that i really stayed at 16-17 degrees, i was making my homework for school at the light of the candle ... cause the authorities were stopping the electricity to save energy ... but also that we were eating mainly potatoes with cheese.

And i actually remember that we only had just one type of chocolate... and now in any supermarket we find one million types of candies.

Yes ... the truth is that we consume a lot, but still ... i see the abundance everywhere.

Comparing with those times ... it all looks like a joke.

Maybe ... a karmic one.

Most probably we need to stop wasting so much ... just to have that feeling of abundance.

There are one million theories of conspiracy ... but ... i don't want to talk about them.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

I just have in my mind ... those times and the present moment ... and i continue smiling.

Yes I began to smile in front of the illusions.

... and i enjoy it!

Dealing with people with mental problems .. an extremely annoying challenge

I know many nice people being in this position. ... and not finding a way out from those stories.

They would pay all they money ... and in fact absolutely any price asked ... but just to not be forced to deal with those persons.

I personally had this problem ... and not only one time.

I remember how annoyed i've been.

And also sad, frustrated ... not finding any way of getting rid of those persons.

It was funny reading in the motivational and spiritual books that all we see in this world .. it's a mirror ... but ... even if i agree the theory ... i could not accept it while analyzing my own life.

I agree and disagree in the same time with all those theories.

And i loved to talk about them ... but i had this weird idea that all could be applied to anyone from this Universe, but not to me ... which you probably realize it's totally ridiculous.

But ...

Time was passing.

I succeeded to get rid of one person, of another ... and another one.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

But the story was repeated on and on and on.

In fact it was the same story ... me ... and a new person that appeared in my life from no where.

I even had few episodes when some people came to me ... really convinced that they want to ... kill me.

But my intuition said all the time that ... it's all an illusion.

A very annoying one ... but an illusion.

One day ... while meditating ... i suddenly remembered that the karmic factors of life were always repeated on and on and on.

It was so damn easy to see those situations, but also the solutions at other people from the scene of my life ... but for me ...

But for my case ... i've been just annoyed and nothing more. Somehow this is the reason why i decided to name the book ... "It's all an illusion ... a karmic one" ... cause i started to realize that even if it's indeed an illusion ... it was all a karmic issue.

I had ... not to get rid of these people ... but to connect and heal this interaction i had with them.

To realize that all what i see it's actually a reflection of a hidden weird part of myself.

To stop ... just agreeing with all those theories ... but understand i need to implement those concepts on the timeline of the real life.

Ask myself what if this is indeed just a reflection?!

Something i am hiding by a long, long time ... but it came to the surface... in this weird representation of seeing people having mental problems on and on and on?!

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

And also dared to ask myself ... what if the one having mental problems in this equation is actually me?!

What if i actually need to accept and embrace that crazy side of myself ... and then start to heal it?!

Ok ... but how?!

Theory was saying that i need to treat with infinite love and understating ... all those people that annoyed me so much ... but i hated them ... and actually hated them a lot.

So ... first step ... was to stop hating, right?!

Embrace them?!

Accept them?!

Treat them with love?!

... with respect?!

Hmm ... i had no intention of doing that.

Really ...

Why the hell should i do it?!

Just why?!

The karmic story had been repeated on and on and on ... and the moment when i had the illusion that i got rid of that person with mental problem ... another one appeared.

It was ridiculous that i knew what i had to do .. but could not do it ... pretending i was not seeing the real path to follow.

And the Universe kept repeating me that ...

Until?!

Well ... until i will understand that the same way i need to respect the law of gravity ... even if i like it or not ... the same way i need to realize the concept of loving and embracing any situation from my life.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

All the persons ... with or without mental problems ... cause they were actually just a reflection of the inner self.

Suffering of the princess's syndrome ... she always fucked everything ...

Personal development is ... great ... but most probably we understand it wrong.

I see the theory of affirmations for example and i smile ... I know it's a great theory ... but same as most probably ... driving a Lamborghini is not for everyone ... the same ... this theory is not really for all the people we see around us.

Recently ... at the coffee shop where i usually drink my coffee and write ... i heard my friends complaining on and on and on ... about the fact that they date with some girls that don't really look like in the photos they get from them ... before the date.

And it looks so illusory ...

They go dating for the first time ... believing in fact that they will meet a princess ... as in the end to realize that it's not even an usual girl.

Using face apps for making them look so different than in reality ... creating the illusion of being a princess and most of them really believing that ... everything is fucked up from the early beginning.

But still ... their perception is different.

One guy even said few days ago that he wanted to call to the police because of the fact that he met a lady that really looked in photos with the woman from his dreams ... but in reality she was looking like ... Shrek.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

Having 20 kilos more ... a face totally different than in photos ... she ... was most probably a person that was just pretending ... practicing the techniques of affirmations ... but ...

Well ... until she met with my friend ... that being so soaked ... politely asked ... "Why the hell you pretend to be who you are not?!"

But the lady was ... soaked too ... replying ... "Why the hell you are saying that?! What's wrong with you?!"

Believing she was a princess ... she was indeed pretending she was looking like a princess.

I am smiling ... hearing all whose stories from my friends from my coffee shop ... trying to see the message behind the message.

For them indeed ... this illusion of dating with ladies that looked in photos like Princess Di and in reality like ... Shrek ... was something karmic.

What i call ... a karmic illusion that was repeating on and on and on.

Of course they also met normal ladies ... but never a princess.

And my philosophical question is ... who's responsible for that??

.... personal growth?! ... the quotes from social media?! ... the theory of affirmations that teach us to believe we are so, so special human beings?! ... or who?!

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

Well I do believe it's all a misunderstanding...

A disease called ... princess's syndrome appeared between us ... and is just fucking everything.

We should probably stop pretending.

Both ... men and women ... cause i am sure that if this essay would be written by a woman it would be about the price's syndrome.

And i ask myself ... why we simple don't present ourselves as ... souls?!

Instead of saying ... "i'm a princess ... or a prince"... could say "I am a soul and i believe ... i am a beautiful one."

Is it so difficult?!

But coming back to my friends from the coffee shop I ask ... for who is the karmic message?!

For those ladies?!

Or for them?!

Why is keep repeating ... on and on and on?!

And why those ladies don't understand that this illusory habit of practicing the princess's syndrome is not ... something good ... and it's even worst ... cause is just fucking everything.

So ... could we conclude anything?!

Well ... most certainly ... we see the elements of the illusion of life on both sides ... for men and also for women ... we understand something is wrong ... but we still ... continue acting in a silly way.

Maybe it's time to stop pretending we are princes or

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

princesses ... and act on the stage of life as souls ... chasing for beautiful souls to inspire us ... to see the beautiful side of life.

Behind anything happens ... there is always a message ... but maybe an abstract one

Every time something bad happened ... i became sad and ... annoyed.

Totally irritated and can't find the words to define my silly behavior ... when i was disliking the present moment.

I knew that theory said that everything i see in life is actually a reflection of my soul ... and whatever is wrong ... is just an abstract message sent by the Universe ... but ...

Well ... theory is theory ... practice is practice ...

And i could talk for hours about the laws of Universe, but when it came to my private life ... i had a total different perspective ... and i was totally ignoring all those important things i knew about.

Most probably even a child could laugh of me seeing how silly i was acting.

Well ... recently ... in the same time ... i started to have problems with the battery at all my cars.

... all 3 .. which i considered weird.

At 2 of them the alternator was not charging the battery and it all happened almost in the same time.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

So ... i asked myself ... why the hell is this happening?!

Why in the same time?!

Was it a message from the Universe?!

Damn it ... cause i totally disliked it.

It all costed a lot to fix them ... so knowing a little bit about those abstract messages ... i started to realized that ... low battery meant that i was without so much energy ... which was true and the fact that the alternator was not charging the battery ... was the fact that i was doing things that were not empowering me not giving me the needed energy.

Yes ... quite a simple message ... but i somehow realized it too late ... in the moment i had to pay the repairs of my car at the mechanic.

The Universe talk to me on my language ... cause i was paying lots of attention to anything related with the money ... so ... what the hell was not clear?!

Hmm

Well ... imagine as someone that has a disease would think as that, or someone that is in the position of seeing the marriage broken by some exterior factors ... or ... someone that break his leg etc etc.

What if we search the message behind the message in all what we dislike it happens?!

What if instead of defining it as something bad ... we would define it as something karmic ... which is in fact a powerful message from the Universe and a life lesson.

Influencing and being influenced ... a karmic act?!

I look every week at the statistics of my downloaded books and i smile seeing that "Influencing and being influenced" ... is doing very well.

I smile all the time cause i just can't remember what the hell i wrote there.

If someone would ask me to talk about it I don't know if i would be able to describe the book with the proper words.

But ... all what i know today ... and strongly feel is that influencing and being influenced is ... somehow ... karmic.

I use the term Karmic ... cause in the end it's all related with ... an induced change.

And living in the universe of duality ... it all becomes a ... a positive ... or negative change.

And it's even more complicated ...

Living in a world ... totally interconnected ... it all becomes ... a chain reaction.

The world continues its paths and the so large spectrum of influences ... takes us ... in all the directions ... making us look like beings without no direction at all.

Influencing and being influenced make us understand the life itself and all its facts.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

But if i look back into my life ... i somehow realize that in one point i got rid of all the influences and i stoped influencing the people from the timeline of my life.

Yes ... i dare to define it karmic ... but with a real sense ... just till one point ... when we actually realize that the real influence has to come from the real self ... the one that is hided deep ... deep inside us.

The karmic characters consume all the energy we have ... cause we somehow believe they are real ... and we fight with them on and on and on in the Don Quixote' style ... not understanding that we can't fight with ... illusions.

I study the concept of illusions by a long, long time ... but what it's really funny is that when i'm usually on the scene of my life ... and it happens ... most of the times ... i fail the tests.

Again and again ... and ... again.

And recently ... the Universe laughed of me one more time.

I woke up ... took my telephone and i see missed phone calls, lots of sms messages and lots of people that wrote me on whatsapp ... about a conflict that took place at my residential complex.

What it's more funny is that i thought it was a fire in there ... or something similar ... cause i could not see any logical reason why they should call and write me at that hour in the night.

But ... reading all they wrote me ... i quickly realized it was a fight between few men that lived there ... and could not stand themselves.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

I dress myself and go there right away.
And guess what?!

It was so damn quite in the complex.
There was nobody outside ... and probably all slept ... cause it was Saturday morning.

I knock at the door of the house where stay the guys that usually disturb everybody and someone opened the door surprised ... believing probably it's the police ...

And ... i start my show ... showing how angry and annoyed i am because of their presence in there.

They all come out and in one point i realize that they don't understand what it's really going on.

In fact i realized that i'm a little bit ridiculous ... looking at their surprised faces.

They were looking all at me ... and i believe that they were asking themselves if i lost my mind.

But ... they were letting me continue my show.

Suddenly ... in a short moment of awakening i realized that all the others from the complex that wrote me or called ... were trying to create for me a false image of the whole situation.

They all over reacted ... so that i would be so annoyed ... and finally stop the contract with the people that they disliked so much, by such a long time.

I realized that they tried to create me an illusion ... over reacting on and on and on.

But instead of stopping myself ... i continued the show.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

So ... i started to ... over react too ... doing the same thing as those silly tenants ... creating the illusion i am on their side. I hated people that were trying to induce me illusions ... but i also knew that i was acting as Don Quixote ... one million times in my life.

The guys were looking at me not believing all what i was saying ... and in fact could not believe that i trusted so much the other side.

I finished the show ... and left.

The tenants that tried to induce me the illusion were really happy ... seeing my show.

Later on i spoke with all of them and saw satisfaction on their faces.

They somehow believed i trusted them and i thought the illusory image they created to me was real.

And i really trusted them ... but ...

So smiling ... i did the same thing.

I started to create them the illusion ... i am by their side and i will take out the other tenants that they disliked so much.

I even promised that latest on Monday ... they will not be in that house anymore.

And i kept my word.

Monday evening ... they were not in that house anymore ... but i moved them in another house from the same complex. ... even a better house.

I come back Tuesday ... and nobody did not bothered not even to salute me ... which was probably a reaction that i had to accept.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

Now the other group was ... annoyed ... cause those people they disliked so much were still there.

But you see I was on their side also.

I dislike those tenants too ... but i knew they were karmic characters for me ... and i will get rid of them only at the right time ... not because some other people wanted that.

Indeed ... those karmic characters from my life ... were eating my energy making me lose my focus and the real paths i thought i had to follow for a beautiful life.

But karma is part of life.

Fighting with illusions is typically for us ... the humans.

The only real solution was to smile ... and stop letting myself dominated by all those karmic characters from my life.

And stop acting like Don Quixote ...

Most probably ... many times in my life ... i let myself being influenced of lots of people around myself.

On and on and on ... believing that their perceptions are real ... and i should care of those perceptions.

But i always forgot ... it's all an illusion and i should try to understand better the dance of energies induced by all those people from the scene of my life.

Being and acting as Don Quixote was stupid of me ... cause being on someone's side was so, so silly.

I had first of all to feel the music of that karmic dance understand the influences came to me from all sides ...

Teaching life lessons to the others ... such a huge loss of energy

I tried many times to be correct in life.
I also tried to teach others to be like that.
But i ended all the time ... arguing.
.... Losing my energy explaining ... things that some people simple can't understand.
I had probably kind of a weird desire of becoming sort of a teacher ... a karmic one.
And i made the mistake of trying to convince them that my perceptions are true and real ... not realizing that it was all an illusory war between some non sense ... ideas.
I was indeed living with the illusion that i was ... karmic ...
and today i just smile realizing how idiot i was.
I tried to convince people ... with my thoughts about how we should live our lives ... instead of simple writing those ideas
.... as material for my books ... and connect only with the people that are searching for ... new philosophical paths.
... and i lost so, so much energy ... not realizing my real path
in life.
I could even define myself as ... Don Quijote ... but still ... i could not find the power and the arguments to understand myself ... and this need of teaching life lessons to the others.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

Maybe today it's the perfect moment ... to simple stop and just write my feelings and thoughts and ... nothing more.
And at the right time ... i'll connect just with the ones that want to listen .. or even talk to me.
But ... no argue ... anymore.

The devil is a ... teacher

In the mythology of many cultures the Devil it's a negative character with tremendous powers ... usually having the meaning to destroy us.

And i also agreed with this theory for a long, long time ... until ... i've actually met ... the Devil.

The representation of all that ... was that my life became kind of a ... hell.

The Devil ... became ... the Devils ... and they were everywhere.

Even describing such a scenario ... might look like i am a person that lost his mind ... but ... analyzing and defining myself into a honest way ... became for me ... a must.

Bottomline ... the world i was living in ... became ... an Universe of horror ... with non ending ugly stories that kept repeating on and on and on.

I was living in hell ... and i was totally convinced of that ... but what it was more funnier ... was the fact that i was writing books after books about the illusions from our lives.

On one hand ... i knew that all what it's going on it's an illusion ... but on the scene of life ... i believed the illusions are real.

I balanced ... believing both scenarios ... but still my life ... was a total mess.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

Nothing changed into my reality ... even if i defined for such a long time ... the concepts of illusions ... coming to the final conclusions that it's all related with the karmic illusions of life.

One day ... simple having enough ... i started to ask myself ... how could i leave this reality with ugly stories?!

How the hell ... could i leave from hell?!

The answers were probably in my books, but i could not mix my own life with the theoretical concepts i wrote about.

And the ugly stories continued and i believed more and more that some devils were controlling... behind the scene my whole life.

So ... it was all related with the Devil ... and i had nothing to do with the fact ... the things were the way they were.

Hmmm ...

I was such an idiot.

And i call myself idiot cause i somehow believed in those old stories and theories about devils and ugly spirits that sometimes are dominating our lives.

I was simple ... not on the right vibrational frequency ... and those so called devils that were revealing me ... non ending ugly illusory stories ... had actually the meaning to force me ...get out from there.

But i still not realized how the hell i could get out of hell

I started to meditate more ... and more ... and more.

And one day ... my perceptions changed.

I realized that those annoying devils ... were teachers that were revealing me ... the fact that i should stop being trapped in the illusion of the self.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

... cause without being in that position i would not believe in the power of any illusion ... and i would become ... fearless. So my new theories were metamorphosing the devil itself ... into a teacher ... which in the end is always ... a positive character.

And i was so idiot believing in those dogmatic concepts ... Understanding the illusions ... going throw those ugly karmic stories ... i started to understand the real values that i should follow.

Sometimes life looks like a ... cartoon movie and Mickie Mouse is playing around with us

I said it few times ... that in the real life ... i became what it's called ... rentier.

I build houses ... and then i rent them.

I already do that by many years ... but realized in the end ... that even if this was the model of financial independence for me ... it was all an illusion.

I had so, so many problems with the tenants that in the end ... i would not recommend to anyone this kind of business ... even if it looks so damn attractive.

The smallest problem a house could have ... could make the tenant be so annoyed that will just become in the end ... a pain in the ass.

Little by little ... my dreams about financial independence were ... spoiled.

I was actually chasing for an illusion ... for so, so many years in a row ... not realizing what path i am actually following.

And after hundreds of silly episodes ... having so, so many problems ... i finally understood ... it's all an illusion.

Indeed ... i could define it as a ... karmic one ... but ... guess what?!

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

I continued the path.
What else could i do?!
Get rid of the houses?!
Hell nooo ... cause i was in love with all those houses.
I could not admit ... such scenario ... so I had to continue ... dealing with all those annoying tenants that were ruining me emotionally all the time.
Somehow i thought i could ... change something ... until one day ... when few of them told me that they have little mice in the house and they expect i should come ... and solve the problem.
Hmm
The Universe was laughing behind my back ... after years and years of work.
I was indeed in a cartoon movie ... and i've been invited to fight with Mickey Mouse.
Was this a joke?!
I believe that the term karmic illusion is a much appropriate one but i was still not accepting that.
In fact ... i could not accept that i followed such a stupid path ... for so, so many years in a row ... to end up being invited to deal with Mickey Mouse.
But ... guess what?!
I promised ... i'll buy them a cat to do the job for me.
And started ... to laugh ... in front of them ...

Learn to accept and embrace all the karmic characters from the stage of the real life

The stories from my real life influence me a lot into my writings.

All my experiences ... and all the people.

Sometimes i even believe that all i live in the present moment ... it's a karmic fact.

For example ... George ... is a guy ... that i could define as a karmic character for myself.

After i finished a big real estate project ... while opening the champagne ... the neighbor across the street came and told me that he wants to do there ... a car graveyard.

It was totally ridiculous... after investing lots of money and 5 years of my existence ... as something like that to happen. It all became a total nonsense and i could not believe it's true.

I argued a lot with the guy ... as in the end ... seeing that i am so determined... he sold the land to George ... which was a successful real estate investor ...

I decided to help George ... as he wanted to build into that place .. 3 new villas.

I found a good team of workers for him.

I also helped him with water and electricity for them ... so that they have everything needed ... as things to go in the right direction.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

For me ... it was all nice ... cause some new beautiful villas across the street ... would increase the price of my properties.

For George ... it was also quite ok .. all this help that i was offering to him.

And one day i decided to help him even more ... cause he sold one of the houses ... and he did not succeeded to instal electricity in there.

Not knowing how to really act with the people i put him in contact with ... we ended into the position of not being able anymore to help him with electricity and water.

George became annoyed.

... really annoyed.

He could not even found the strength to ... salute me.

In fact ... most probably he started to hate me ... and everyday he came there ... i could see on his face ... his unhappiness of seeing me.

And because i helped him ... one day ... George decided to give me an abstract reply.

He made a complain at the authorities... regarding my septic from the complex.

Then ... another one for the garbage ... and so on.

But i started to wonder myself ... what the hell is going on?!

Should i do the same thing to him?!

You see ... not being able to solve the problem with the electric company ... George decided to steal electricity ...

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

and...

Well ... what should i do?!

Should i make a complain to authorities too?!

George would probably be arrested for that ... but ...

Would George understand how silly he is?!

I honestly... don't think so.

I am a little bit amazed of the fact that a guy which i helped ... could do something like that to me.

A reply should be useless.

I had many moments in life when ... i saw revenge as an option ... but not this time.

I still don't know if i am karmic for George ... or he is karmic for me but my final decision is to let the Universe decide ... all what is going to happen next.

Anyway ... it's all ... an illusion ... so ...

Change your inner values and everything will change

I had many moments when i was afraid of the next second of my life.

I had so, so many negative scenarios into my mind that i was waking up into the morning asking myself ... "What the hell is going to happen today?!"

I was in a kind of a ... karmic storm ... for such a long time ... and all i wanted was ... just to see the end of this ugly scenario that i was living.

But no real change was happening.

I was looking for a magic trick ... but ...

Nothing worked.

I was even praying not understanding at all what was going on.

Could not even improve a little bit the situations.

It was indeed ... a nightmare.

Until one day when i accepted that this story ... it's a karmic one ... and i knew by such a long time the meaning of the word ... karmic.

I had to pass the exams that life wanted me to have ... but i was annoyed of that.

... and even worst I felt like a victim.

Days were passing ... then weeks ... then months ... and

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

nothing.

My life was ... horrible.

I was living ... karmic times ... and even if slowly ... i started to realize that the change ... had to come from my inner self. I had to make a deep change.

... and it was so damn simple ... but i could not accept the solution.

I simple had to change my inner values ... and become a better person on the stage of life.

I had to smile in front of the karmic storm ... and redefine my whole being.

Think of all the aspects i've done wrong in life accept the past as a life lesson, see the present moment as a way of connecting with the real truth about me ... and try to be the best version i could be.

I started the process of what i name ... self therapy ... and slowly ... i changed lots of wrong things that defined my personality.

And you might ask now ... did the karmic storm stoped?! Did your life looked better?!

Hmm slowly things improved.

I am living now a time when i am not afraid anymore of what is going to happen today.

I simple smile ... no matter what is going on ... and accept that the things that annoys me so much are things that reveals important issues and i should meditate on them.

I not afraid anymore of the ... karmic lessons i have to deal with.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

The process of self therapy ... continues ...

I am still annoyed of different things all the time, but ... i am not afraid anymore.

Changing my inner values ... became my main objective.

It will probably take a long, long time ... but ... i'm still young ... and i live with the hope in my soul.

Hmm ... i got no idea what i had to do ... or better said ... i only had the idea that i have to make a huge change with myself ... and nothing more.

A huge inner change ...

Most probably the message was about removing my inner garbage ... and i was pretending that i was not seeing that.

And the message was repeated on and on and on.

I had to understand ... that I had to accept myself however i was ... but wish to become a better soul ... with totally different inner values.

Betrayal it's sometimes
... just part of the plan.
... the karmic plan

Every time when i see betrayal on the scene of my life ... i start ... smiling.

But not long time ago ... i saw things totally different.

I felt annoyed ... and a victim of circumstances.

I could not understand the karmic values of all those events ... and the hidden message behind that ...

I felt myself dominated by negative emotions ... feeling all kinds of weird things.

It was all so ... so ... unfair.

But it's all so damn funny ... cause i knew the meaning of ... karma.

I knew very well ... its definition.

I could even write a book about it ... but somehow i could not see the analogy with my own life.

I also knew that all what i see on the scene of life ... it's a reflection of my actions or feelings ... but ... all those ideas had only theoretical value for me.

Most probably ... i could analyze the karmic events for anyone from this world ... but i've been so, so blind when it came to myself.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

Well ... until one day ... when i realized i need to stop lying to myself ... on and on and on ... defining me as a victim.
The karma was whispering me ... almost everyday ... powerful messages that i was ignoring.
In one point i even started to believe that i am fighting with some weird ghosts ... but ... all those ghosts were in fact my own self from the past.
I was waking up everyday ... asking myself ... what the hell is going to happen today.
All worst case scenarios became ... so damn real ... and i could not stop this plan.
Well ... until one day when i woke up ... taking to decision to simple smile in front of everything.
See in all those events ... a message.
Maybe a weird ... abstract message ... but an important lesson for my life.
And instead of believing that someone was fucking my vibe and my whole life ... i realized that someone was teaching me ... a lesson ... and i had to meditate more about why karma is so present on my life.
It all looked as representation of hell ... but it was all kind of an illusion ... a karmic one.

I always look at the message behind the message, but had no idea why so much non sense into my life

Into the real life ... my actual occupation is to rent houses.
I know ... it sounds as a great job, but you see ... as all the things from the real life ... it's not how it looks life.
When i started to think about building this business ... i defined it as a model of financial independence.
But today ... smiling ... i define it as a ... crap.
I invested so much money ... but also so much time and energy ... as in the end to be profoundly disappointed.
I felt like Sisyphus... cause tenants were coming ant leaving.
At the end the houses were ... a total mess.
After 6 months ... new houses were looking like houses built 15-20 years ago ... and never renovated.
Garbage ... everywhere.
Yes all the time ... at the end i was seeing lots, lots of garbage.
I was frustrated and ... annoyed.
What i defined as the best model of financial independence ...
was actually a nightmare.
But one day ... while meditating why am i so unlucky ... i remember about my book "Analyze. Define. Redefine" ...
I realized it's all a karmic message.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

I define it as karmic ... cause it was repeated on and on and on but i was suffering of a spiritual blindness which was not allowing me to see ... the hidden message.

Hmm ... why so much garbage?!

What was the message?!

... the hidden message ... i mean ...

Each time ... i had to clean the garbage... the tenants were doing into my houses.

So It was all about ... garbage.

Hahaha but maybe inner garbage?!

I was already started the process of self therapy, but ... i was not honest enough with myself.

Yes ... i was lying myself ... a lot.

It was a lot of spiritual garbage into my soul ... generated by me, but also by the exchange of energy i was having in my interaction with the others.

I ignored it by years but today was appearing to me into a ... weird form.

I disliked it so, so much ... but i could not ignore it anymore.
... and really had to do ... something ...

One of the most important things in life is that ... we should accept and even embrace whatever happens on the scene of life

Many times in life ... we end up defining reality as one that we don't like it anymore ... cause we simple had enough of it. Some repetitive annoying events ... or some people that became a pain in the ass ... are destroying the whole harmony that is needed.

We can't even realize what is going on.

Why does it happen?!

What is the whole meaning of everything?!

Why this nonsense is dominating life on and on and on?!

Should we oppose to those situation?!

... no.

Nooo?!

How the hell no?!

I wondered myself one million times this questions ... but ...

Well ... most probably i could never accept the karmic values of those events ... but also could not see its illusory form.

... someone that is testing our patience for example .. is someone that in fact is teaching us ... a lesson.

Has an illusory form of doing it ... not reading a book to us ... not being a motivational speaker ... but still ... forcing us to ... understand that getting annoyed on and on and on ... is simple useless and the real message is to realize what is actually ... the patience.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

We could be forced to understand ... compassion.

... or forgiveness ... by living the lesson of betrayal on and on and on.

The lesson itself appears into an abstract way ... being desquished into somethings that annoys or hurts us ... but ...

Well ... we suffer of a weird ... blindness that is not allowing us to see the message behind the message.

We end up defining karma ... a bitch ... instead of seeing a lesson behind all of that.

And still we can't find the inner strength to smile ... accept and embrace reality.

I keep sending the same message ... to all around myself ... that it's all an illusion ... a karmic one ... but we should simple smile in front of it ... and always look at the lesson of life ... and nothing more.

Be aware where you ask help from

We always tend to believe that our lives can be improved by asking the help from the exterior world.

We ask help from family members, from close friends ... or even from strangers.

But no matter what ... we don't ask the help from the inner self.

In my own case I do probably the same.

Sometimes when i see all collapsing around myself feeling incapable of seeing any escape ... i go to the church.

But that is probably happening once at 5-10 years

In most of the other cases ... i never realized that instead of going and asking the help into the exterior world ... i could simple connect to my inner self, which is actually the gateway to the Infinite ... and ask .. at least for guidance ...

And again and again and again ... even if i know the theory ... on the scene of the real life ... i ignore those concepts.

I ... totally ignore them.

Acting ... as a very naive person ... i ask and even beg for the needed help ... around myself.

And yes ... the help comes.

But it's do damn illusory ... coming from people that are not really connected to ourselves ... and can't really feel ... the real paths that we should follow.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

And ... we believe them.

We believe in the guidance they tell us about.

We believe in this wisdom of others ... disregarding our own intuition ... and the connection that we could have with the Infinite.

Today ... i simple smile in front of this illusory help that could come to us from so, so many directions realizing my ignorance when i understand that i should count only and only on myself.

Totally ignore the exterior world ... and even disconnect from this trend of asking the help from ... the others.

But i write again and again and again ... about those theoretical concepts that i never apply on the scene of my own life.

I ignore my real self.

I don't even see it as ... an option.

But the Universe is laughing behind my back ... on and on and on sending into my life people that are guiding me to ... pathless paths.

Maybe hoping that one day ... i'll change this trend of asking help from the others Instead of believing in the connection that i could have with my soul.

It's so damn difficult to understand the human being ...

As a rentier ... i had lots ... lots of problems.
With the tenants ... but also with my buildings.
And there were times when ... every day meant ... another ...
and another problem.
Before planning how could i get more and more money from this business ... and actually ... start I was dreaming that this will going to be my ticket to financial independence.
But guess what?!

As many times in life ... things run totally different as we planed ... and what i thought it might be an amazing plan so that i get enough money ... and simple stay and relax proved to be ... in the end ... a nightmare.
Problems
Problems ...
And only problems.
I could not even enjoy a penny from all the money i was doing.
I started to ask myself ... why the hell things are totally different as i planned?!

What did i did wrong to deserve that?!

Maybe the money i had to build these properties ... were not coming from good things.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

Maybe the people i worked with ... were people that were not having good energies ...

Maybe

Maybe ...

Today i found for example a bottle of coca cola into the sewage pipes In a new building.

We found it ... by accident ... and maybe there are also other problems as that.

Problems that could generate me ... huge problems.

An idiot ... in a moment of supreme stupidity ... was fucking my business.

Recently an electric problem generated a ... fire to a new building.

And problems were still coming.

I suddenly realized the influence of all those idiots into my life.

People dominated by such ugly energies ... were ruining my ... peace.

Today ... i won't even dare to suggest to anyone to dream at the financial independence of becoming ... a rentier.

For me personally ... it all became ... an illusion.

Maybe it's something karmic ... and i need to understand a life lesson but ... i came into a point when so disappointed by the humans from the scene of my life I could simple say ... that i am incapable of understanding ... the human species.

Disappointment is ... useless.
We should just ... smile ... and treat everything as an illusory experience

I talk almost everyday with a close friend from high school... and as any other men over 40 ... from anywhere in the world we lose lots of time chatting about money .. and ladies. Well ... even if i studied a lot philosophy and spirituality and i know for 100% that most of the things i do in life are just illusory ... i still chase for ... money.

In fact ...for lots of money.

My friend ... has a similar trend but he focused more on lots of ladies.

And i get ... the money.

My friend got also ... lots of ladies into his life ... but Recently he mentioned me a lot of times that ... i look a little bit sad ... but i was not ... sad.

I was just ... disappointed... by the people from the timeline of my own life.

I got all the money i chased for ... but ... all that came with all sorts of things which i disliked.

The price i had to pay for the money was huge.

... and it was so damn funny that i did not realized that in 25 years.

I accepted disappointment ... probably ... as part of the process.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

But i made a huge mistake ... i got too attached of everything.

I could not be detached ... even if i saw the detachment of my friend playing around with so, so many ladies.

Analyzing and comparing myself with him I realized that i never see him ... disappointed... even if i know for 100% that he has also reasons to be like that.

He maybe understood long before me that disappointment is ... just useless.

That we should just enjoy the journey and never judge the people we meet in life.

But ... i was taking things too seriously.

I could not see ... the abstract message behind everything was happening into my life.

That it was all just an illusion ... and i had to smile in front of it and nothing more.

Disappointment ... was a ridiculous reaction ... by my side.

“Something sweet for the nerves?!”
“Well yes ... ”

Brian was really stressed those days.

If you'd ask me why ... i believe it's difficult to understand him ... cause he's the profile that has absolutely everything he asked from life.

A nice wife, amazing kids, a beautiful house, a business that is running very well etc etc.

In fact ... it's really impossible to understand him.

And he continues to say that he is nervous, stressed, annoyed ... and never satisfied by his life.

Talking with Paul ... gossiping a little bit ... we realized that the Universe gave to Brian so many things ... except something sweet for his soul.

I was really laughing with Paul ... understanding the fact that even when we have absolutely everything ... it looks all the time that a piece from the puzzle is missing ... and we cannot be really happy ...

Me and Paul were laughing ... cause we know that something sweet for any guy over 40 ... would be ... an amazing lady ... that carries a great vibe.

Yes ... truth be told ... we always have a different perception about ... happiness.

The candies of a child metamorphose ... later on ... into money, women success etc.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

All the time ... something new.

But of course ... we need something to calm our ... nerves ... cause price paid for that so called perfect life ... ruined that side of us ... completely.

Saying ... "No! ... not anymore!" It's probably an art that nobody bothered to tell us about

One of the my main problems in life is that i never say ...
"No" ... to anyone.

I try to help everyone ... but also started to ask myself ... is this about help or i am just abused of the people from the scene of my life?!

Last night had an interesting experience.

A new friend of mine ... had to catch a train to another country ... and in the last moment ... even if it was very late in the night ... he asked me ... if i can take him to the train station.

I could say no ... cause i had to return to my family ... and i was really tired but i decided to ... help him.

On the way to the train station i ask him ... "What happened ... you could not find a taxi?!"

He smiled ... looked at his wife ... and replied ... "No! We found taxi ... but it was too expensive".

I smiled ...

Of course ... i was a free taxi ... cause i was a friend.

I was probably on the episode number 100 ... of feeling a little bit abused ...

But ... i found the inner strength to smile in front of all that ...

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

What else could i do?!

My new friend abused of me in the middle of the night to take him at the train cause taxi was 30 dollars and considered it expensive.

So ... a free taxi ... was a blessing.

Hahahaha

The Universe was laughing behind my back ... putting me in such situations ... and there was nothing to do than ... smile. But how could i smile ... when those situations were repeating on and on and on?!

On the way back home ... i was meditating.

Again ...

I almost started to believe that ... meditating ... was ... useless.

But a question came into my mind ... what if this friend of mine did not had money for the taxi?!

He mentioned me few days ago that he is not working by almost a year ... so ...

Damn it ...

How could i keep the right balance between helping people ... and not being abuse by them?!

Why those situations were repeated to me?!

Was it a test?!

It all look so damn illusory ... but happening on and on and on ... it was all so contradictory to me.

Maybe i had to learn to connect better to people and realize when i am really necessary ... as help ...

And tell to people ... frankly ... my decision ... based on my intuition.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

There is an enemy around..... Maybe not a literal enemy..... Something that is eating up your inner peace of mind....something that you need to deal with.....before it's too late.

Try to put yourself in a trance to find the answer....the answer or lesson so very simple and that's why you can't see it with your bare eyes. You will awake one day and the answer / lesson etc will be very clear.

Nolene Sheppard

Adrian Gabriel Dumitru

Karma is about meeting again and again and again ... the ghosts from your past

Nikolai is a new friend of mine from Saint Petersburg. I had the chance to spend lots of time with him recently ... talking about our lives, but also the philosophy behind everything happens beyond reality.

But you see ... today Nikolai is suffering ... a drama, but even if both of us talked a lot about the karmic factors from our lives we could not realize the reason of this ... drama. He tried to be really honest ... but still ... all it was so ... illogical.

A total nonsense ... i should say.

I knew that someone that had stolen money ... will end up in a story when someone else will steal his money someone that is cheating, will end up in a story where everyone around him will cheat him etc etc.

We both knew ... the karmic principles ... but i smiled realizing that we could not see the reasons why his reality looked like a ... drama.

I took the freedom to smile in front of this situation ... even if Nikolai was experiencing such difficult times ... cause deep inside me i really knew that all was happening was so ... illusory.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

I will not even bother to tell you the story ... as i am not such a great story teller, but ... i want to discuss only and only about ... the karmic principles of life.

And maybe Nikolai was hiding me something.

Or maybe ... it was all related with a previous life ... and it all looked being like a total nonsense as his life to be such a drama.

I could go deeper and deeper ... but neither me or my friend could not accept the fact that a previous life could influence in such a way ... our actual realities.

We were both philosophers but also loved spirituality.

But ... still ... could not go so deep.

We were still that kind of profile that knows a lot about life but when it came about our lives we were not so ... opened mind to realize that we have to understand some very profound life lessons.

Closing my eyes ... meditating deeper and deeper ... trying to understand the nonsense ... i realized that Nikolai is a reflection of me.

I had kind of my own drama ... living a life full filled with all sorts of weird events ... and the presence of my friend on the scene of my life, was a message for me also.

So ... why the hell karma was playing around with us?!

Why it was doing that on and on and on?!

Is ... what we consider ... drama ... an illusion?!

Or maybe something to remind us about the past?!

Kind of a meeting with the ghosts that are coming back from past ... reminding us about very, very important life lessons ... that we ignored and totally forgot.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

Karma will redefine you ... no matter who you really are Truth be told karmic moments are annoying.

Really, really annoying and too difficult to accept them ... but we all know that they carry a very powerful message.
They are repeated to us into a weird form on and on and on ... and still ...we don't accept the concept that behind everything happens there is always someone that is whispering us something.
Today i smile hearing different situations ... that looks totally unacceptable... but i see its karmic side.
I also understand its importance.
I probably act different than the others cause i already accepted the fact that i should look beyond what i see.
Karma still not redefined my real being ... but succeeded to redefine my perceptions.
I see everything different today.
I don't like those karmic moments but i accept and embrace them.
See that as part of my spiritual evolution.
And most probably i need to continue this evolution ... and go at the next level of letting my whole being be redefined.
See a message in all the nonsenses around myself ...

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

Allow karma be that teacher that is telling me a lot about the way i should act on the scene of life

But what is funny ... and we never realize it is that this is ... not an option.

Our deep fears make us have a mind fulfilled with lots of ugly scenarios.
And we start to think as a great film director ... specialized in ... horror movies.

Imagine a life lived without fears.

Imagine to not be afraid of anything anymore.

Well ... i personally say all the time that i will act at least a little bit fearless ... but ... i fail all the time.

I still have many fears.

Maybe ... too many.

And i act so ... so ... silly.

But what it's funny is that i always understand the importance of this principles when i see ... analyze ... and define the life for others.

For example i smile seeing the jealousy of my dear friend John.

He has a wife ... 15 years younger as him.

And even if John is a handsome guy, quite successful... and always focused of satisfying his wife ... i see his deep fear as someone to come and ... steal his wife.

I also look at Svitlana and i see her ... being a little bit stressed and annoyed of this jealousy ... but also confident that their life together will continue...

So ... how could John stop being so jealous?!

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

Why he does not understand that all these ugly scenarios from his mind ... that his wife will find someone else and leave him ... must simple ... stop?!

Why this stupid way of acting?!

Why he can't eliminate this fear?!

Why John is not understanding that if something bad has to happen ... it will happen anyway.

A relationship between a man and a woman ... is based on the connection itself ... and not on the fear of losing that connection.

But the horror movie ... continue in John's mind.

His wife ... laughing ... is sometimes defining him as a film director ... and i agree with her ... but maybe John should analyze more his deep fears ... and get rid of them.

Jealousy is indeed about the fear of losing our partners ... but we always forget that no one can break a real connection between a man and a woman ... if that connection is real.

Or who knows ... maybe karma could interfere ... but we should not be afraid of it.

Today i believe more and more that if something bad has to happen it will happen anyway so ... why should be afraid of faith?!

There are moments in life when we need someone to remind us ...
keep the right ... vibe

It happens i know a guy obsessed about the art of admiring the feminine spirit.

He connected with hundreds of ladies over the years ... and is still connected with many of them.

But ... the funny thing with my friend is that he somehow started to like to be connected with ... all of them.

I found for many years this Casanova's style ... a total nonsense ... but analyzing more and more with him the subject ... i realized it's more about having in your life someone that reminds you all the time to keep a very, very good vibe.

So .. after judging my friend Carl and define him all the time as a Casanova ... i redefined my perceptions ... realizing that i'd also love to have someone that could remind me all the time the importance of a great vibe into my life.

But guess what?!

Even if Carl is connected with so, so many ladies and i somehow started to understand the importance of knowing this art of admiring beautiful souls ... neither me or him are not ... or at least not yet ... in such connection.

Maybe is something ... karmic ... and we lose our time ...

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

analyzing so, so many ladies ...

I am sure ... many will judge us .. same as i judged Carl ...

but what's wrong about chasing to have in our lives something that will increase .. or at least give us the illusion of increasing ... the vibe?!

We can get rid of any toxic element from our lives ... only by taking a decision.

I see many people around myself having miserable lives. And sometimes i see that at myself too. Being obsessed of why the hell the scenario of my reality is not chancing at all ... i asked myself ... what do i do wrong?! What really makes me and many others ... define our lives as ... horrible?!

Well ... in one point following my thoughts I came to the conclusion that i need to start being a little bit more honest with myself.

Define the undefined.

And going deeper and deeper i realized that i've accepted and even embraced many toxic elements in life ... just because of some different interests i've had.

I needed some extra money as my business to grow ... i've accepted some clients that i knew are difficult ... and can become toxic for myself.

I wanted to finish an important real estate project ... I've accepted to work with different types of individuals that i knew that they drunk a lot of alcohol, were not acting as good people ... and sooner or later they will create problems for me.

So what was the root of what i defined as a horrible life?!

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

Could i be honest enough with myself?!

Was i responsible for letting myself being dominated by those toxic energies?!

How could i be so stupid and accept such a compromise?!

Well ... making the balance between the natural way i should live my life ... and accomplishing my desires ... i let this not ending chase for all kinds of illusory things ... dominate my life.

So ... accepting toxicity as part of the plan was considered by myself ... as part of the plan.

Of all this process of getting ... all what i wanted.

But the funny thing with myself ... and maybe with many, many others ... is that even if we accept the fact that the desire itself is quite important for the human being ... we simple don't know to stop chasing for new and new desires. Life becomes a non ending marathon of getting that and that and that and that ...

But ... analyzing more and more and more ... my own private life ... i understood that my reality could be defined as a non ending chain of compromises ... with a huge toxicity ...

It was all so damn ... silly.

I lived with the illusory belief that for getting things that might give me happiness i had to make sacrifices on and on and on and endure toxicity as part of the process.

But most probably i was wrong ... thinking as that ... cause indeed by life could be define as a non ending horrible scenario ...

Maybe it was the time to redefine my thinking.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

Stop chasing for new and new ... desires.
Stop accepting toxicity as ... part of the process.
Stop believing that i need to pay this huge price of feeling horrible just because i have new and new desires all the time.

The eyes are observing something..... but the mind should always look deeper

The Universe sent over the years into my life such a large spectrum of people ... that i started to wonder myself ... what the hell is the message i need to understand?

And many of those people started to annoy me more and more

It was all looking like a total nonsense ... but

The clearest thing i knew was that what i was seeing in front of my eyes ... had a total different meaning ... that i might think

All the books i read learnt me to analyze and define ... any kind of subject and i realized that one of the main reasons i was into this world was to understand the human being.

And i continued looking and analyzing everybody from the scene of life not accepting the fact that in fact all what i was seeing was just a reflection of my own soul.

I was looking in fact at the huge number of masks i carried over the years.

And people that were annoying me were appearing on and on and on.

I knew the theory ... that life is a mirror ... but i could not accept it for my own life.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

My eyes were observing reality, but i could not accept that reality is the representation of my own ... soul.

I could not ... look deeper.

But karma was playing around with me cause no matter what i was meeting more and more people

Karma was talking to me about my own masks that i carried over the years and i was ignoring it.

Ignoring even the fact that the Universe has all the necessary time to repeat me those lessons.

But damn it ... there were so, so many people i disliked and they were all my own reflection ... of who i am ... and who i used to be ...

Looking deeper became a must but my reaction was to delay everything.

On and on and on

Traped in all sorts of stories we sometimes forget the essential of ... why we are here

The title "It's all an illusion ... a karmic one" might sound a little bit weird ... but it probably express the best my perceptions about life.

You see the scenario of life has a lot to do with that title. I've been involved over the years in lots of stories ... which proved to be what could be defined as ... pathless paths. In fact i spent lots of time on those pathless paths, but i realized it so damn late.

I was actually kind of a prisoner in stories that did not allowed me to keep the right balance in all the most important areas of my life.

There were ... what i should define today as ... illusions ... but i believed they were real.

I continued like that ... for years.

I made the same mistakes on and on and on.

And trapped in those stories ... even if i had short moments of awakening, when i was feeling like a prisoner I started to meditate over the concept of ... the illusion of life.

Somehow ... my whole life looked like a nonsense ... and if i would tell you those stories, you would understand very easy what a pathless path means.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

But there's so, so many stories like that ... that it will be boring to write about it.

I ended ... in a funny way ... realizing that those pathless paths ... were in fact ... stories that leant me about the illusion.

And it all was so ... so ... karmic.

Illusory ... and karmic.

Like all the others dominated by my feelings and perceptions ... i became so damn ... blind.

I was indeed a prisoner ... in karmic illusory stories that were annoying me in such a horrible way and still ... even if i started to realize what is going on ... i continued following the pathless paths.

I could not keep the right balance in life with the main things i had to have in mind during this lifetime.

Or

Maybe the meaning of life ... and also my own life was to experience it ... understand better ... and go deeper and deeper in the spiritual-philosophical concept of illusory ... and look beyond that.

I became confused having such contradictory perceptions ... and maybe i'll somehow influence you become confused also ... but ... i continue ... exploring.

My intuition ... was whispering me that all those pathless paths ... made total sense not for my life but for my evolution.

Many times the meaning of karma is to redefine our values and perceptions

Trying to understand the dynamics of all those stories that we live over the years ... even if many, many times it all looks like a real nonsense i came to the conclusion that ... at least for my case ... i am here to live some karmic stories. Maybe it's all related with previous lives ... or ... the whole meaning of this life is to ... understand the life itself. But what it's funny it's that today i believe something and the next day ... i believe something else. Many times ... contradictory. Even the meaning of the term karma ... had been redefined. Believing like many others that karma is something horrible happening to us ... i ended up redefining this belief. Living all sorts of illusory but difficult events ... i realized it was all a lesson. The moment when i was living horrible stories and totally dislike my reality ... i was in fact living karmic lessons of life. They made sense for my spiritual evolution ... and easy ... easy ... i redefined myself from being a victim of circumstances ... to ... a student at the school of ... life. Karma was not a bitch ... but a teacher.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

The whole meaning of everything was going on was to redefine my thinking ... all my believes ... but also my values.

Did i did that?!

Hmm

No ... or not so many times ... but ... the moment when i became aware of the fact that i am actually living karmic stories ... repeated on and on and on I started to redefine my behavior ...also trying to understand the message behind the message.

Did i discovered the absolute truth?!

Hmm ...

Hell no ...

I don't even really know what the absolute truth is ... but i somehow understood that all the lessons of life should create from me ... a better self.

I write and it all looks a total nonsense ... but

Gossiping ... an abstract form of cannibalism

I see so many people having this silly habit of loving to ... gossip.

I used to do it too.

In fact ... i still do it ... but i try to control this stupid need of doing that.

What i find funny is that i never saw anyone saying something positive ... while gossiping ... cause i somehow believe that if we analyze other people's lives ... and define them we might also see the beautiful sides of those persons.

But no

We are just looking at the dark side of the people from the timeline of our lives.

We define that in one million ways with the others ... exploring all the negative details, amplifying them ... going deeper and deeper ... not realizing the nonsense of doing that.

But what many don't really know is that gossiping is a very powerful form of energetic attack over the people we talk about.

And just a very limited amount of people know that an energetic attack on a certain person can affect that person if

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

is on a lower frequency than the person is gossiping.
Otherwise ... it will all become ... a boomerang.
I find today gossiping ... an abstract way of cannibalism ...
which affect into a negative way our society.
And of course ... we don't even realize it.
It's such an illusory stupid habit ... but we do it on and on and on.
Much funnier is that many times in life, when we define the things we dislike to the others ... we actually speak into an unconscious way about ourselves.
Talking about all those concepts ... i realize we run into a weird circle ... having a nonsense behavior ... but maybe one day ... in the end we will understand the fact that life itself is a mirror ... and it's just ridiculous defining the dark side of others ... when actually we could take care just of ourselves
... analyzing... defining and then redefining what we dislike.
But we continue life ... acting in the same way.
Gossiping looks like a ... pleasure for so, so many.

The illusion of life can be probably translated as living with the fear that there is no God ...Allah ... Infinite Intelligence ... or whatever we name it ... and even if it really exists there is no connection between us and this abstract entity ... that we don't know to define

I read when i was young lots of weird books that were talking about parallel universes, the life after death ... but also how life from this planet looks like ... seen from the other side. I found out that people that had clinical death ... were seeing the same scene of their lives like a spectator ... and smiled ... seeing with different eyes all what was going on from a totally different perspective.

It all looked like a play ... and all the people ... were the actors ... that not only that were playing a role ... but were actually believing that the play was real.

They saw ... what we could define as an illusion.

... or an illusory play.

But In the end ... we all ask ... is there a God or no?!

And ... is it life ... really an illusion?!

Why should this Infinite Intelligence make fun of us In such a silly way?!

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

What is the real message we need to understand?!

Could we define life as a karmic illusion?!

But ... having what purpose?!

Why we do use the term ... illusion?!

Coming back to all those stories about people that had clinical death experiences ... that somehow realized that all is completely different of what we thought life is ... i start to laugh.

Even on this stage of experience ... people can't confirm that the Infinite Intelligence exists.

Or maybe ... we should say to be much clear ... that there is no connection between us ... as individual souls and the Infinite.

We don't even know what this entity is...

... what purpose has ...

And the illusion itself continues

We get angry more and more ... not understanding a thing.

Maybe into a theoretical way we might believe that the Infinite is everything ... and that we are part of that infinite ... so we are The Infinite too ...

But all ... it's on a theoretical level ...

On the scene of the real life ... we feel no real connection.

The fear continues dominating us ... and we live into a non ending illusion ...

You need to know how to define the pain ... for that you find the right medicine

I usually refuse to take any kind of medicine.

After days of pain ... i accept 1 or 2 pills ... but nothing more.
I do this for years and i intent to keep this habit forever.
But last few days ... mostly because i got very nervous ... i had an incredible stomachache ... that was eating my energy for many days in a row.

Finally i decided to go to the pharmacy ... and telling to the lady what i wanted ... i got the pills for stomach ... but ... nothing....

The stomachache remained.

Did not stoped ... at all.

Not even for 10 minutes.

I remained without energy ... not even being able to speak.

I was trying to close my eyes ... saying to myself on and on and on the theory that all i see or feel it's an illusion in continuous form ... but ... it did not work.

The pain could not disappear and i could not ignore it.

Few days later ... talking with my wife ... asking me more and more precisely what do i feel ... we realized that i took the wrong medicine.

I go again at the pharmacy ... i buy some other pills ... that by the way ... costed just 3 dollars ... and guess what?!

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

Suddenly ... the pain disappeared.

Damn it!

I stayed for 2 weeks into a pain ... that disappeared in 2 minutes ... using a medicine that costed just 3 dollars.

How could i be such an idiot?!

I once wrote a book with the title "Analyze ... define ... redefine" ... but i could not define very well a stomachache....

Even a 5 years child could define better that type of pain ...
... but not me.

Meditating ... i started to smile.

And i was wondering ... how many other times i did the same thing ... on and on and on?!

How many times into my life ... i was taking the wrong decisions?!

Why i don't know to define "my pain"?!

Why am i so silly?!

Why i don't choose the "right medicine" ... and i continue life in a miserable way?!

Why do i accept the pain ... when it's so damn simple to define it ... and find a "pill" for it?!

Well ... maybe ... i am just ... idiot ...

Hahahaha

Redefine your deep intentions
... and all you dislike today will totally change into a positive way

I had lots of moments into my past when i disliked my reality.

I felt the presence of karma into my life ... so ... so ... powerful.

And i ... disliked it.

For such a long, long time.

I was actually living the opposite of what i had in mind for my life.

Something was wrong ... but i felt behind all this ... it's all an illusion.

I thought i was mastering the law of attraction but the Universe was laughing behind my back.

On and on and on.

Karma was fucking my reality.

When everything was perfect ... all the time something was happening ... and it was all spoiled.

I defined myself as a practician of the law of attraction ... but i was ending all the time into a scenario when everything was fucked up.

I got what i wanted but the Universe was not allowing me to enjoy all that.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

It all became so ... illusory and indeed i was living ... a karmic illusion.

I wrote the book "Analyze. Define. Redefine" ... but as any other theoretician i was not able to apply the concepts from my writings.

I had absolutely no intention of changing anything at all.

I could not admit that my intentions were wrong ... or at least part of them.

I somehow believed that all what i was doing ... was perfect ... ignoring the concept that all i was living into this life was a reflection of my soul and my way of acting on the scene of life.

So ... believing it s all perfect ... i had actually no desire of doing anything to change my deep intentions.

I believed i can fool the Universe but i was living so many karmic episodes ... that i had enough.

And still into such an illusory way I continued being stubborn ... and not even think about a ... deep change.

Of course ... my life continued but dominated on and on and on by karmic forces.

Defining the others on and on and on ... we actually realize one day that ... we define our unconscious side

Have you even wondered what is the difference between defining and ... gossiping?!

But why are we so good on talking about the others and not so good when it comes about defining ourselves?!

I keep asking myself ... what is behind this need of looking at the others?!

Of analyzing mainly their dark side ...

That one is ... stupid.

The other one is ... crazy.

That cashier from the supermarket ... is just one idiot that has the main purpose ... to fuck my vibe ...

And the discussions ... goes on and on and on.

But only about ... ugly things.

In one point it all becomes ridiculous... because all we do is analyze and define x, y ... z ... and talk about that with all the people around.

It all becomes so damn ... illusory.

Time made me understand that ... any kind of behavior on the scene of my life ... will somehow have a later effect over myself ... into a good or bad way.

But how the hell gossiping will have any effect over ourselves?

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

I personally ignored the answer ... for such a long, long time ... continuing to gossip.

Well ... until one day when i realized that i was actually not talking about x, y, z ... but about my dark side.

I was defining myself into an unconscious way ... believing so illusory that i talk about the others and not about my own soul.

I realized i was seeing everywhere ... just what i dislike at myself ... and i could not stop myself talk about that ... on and on and on.

It was ... ridiculous... all what i was doing.

So ... illusory ...

Well ... maybe i was just afraid ... to admit that all what i saw when i opened my eyes ... was a reflection of that person that i really was.

X, y, z ... were illusory ... or maybe my shadows that i tried to define by such a long, long time.

But how could i be so idiot to define the shadows?!

Those forms were so ... irrelevant ...

Sometimes it looks as a mistake ... but it's just a weird way of opening the door to a new beautiful path of life ...

A friend of mine told me long time ago a story about her close friend ... which had a weird car accident.

She was with her husband and the gentleman that crashed her car ... was in the company of his wife.

They argued a lot in the middle of the street and not finding a solution ... they had to go at the Police.

But there ... surprise.

Being so many accidents into that day ... it was so damn crowded that their partners decided to come back home at the kids ... and let them there to complete all the papers.

Remaining alone Tim and Jesica ... started to speak to each other ... being a little bit more calmer after the accident ... realized that they actually have a great connection.

And guess what?!

Like into an american movie ... they ended that day in a hotel room ... making love ... and continuing for years their love affair ... really being happy together.

So ... i somehow conclude that even behind bad things that are happening ... the real purpose ... even if it does not look like so ... is to open new doors to ... new beautiful chapters of our lives.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

You might dislike the fact that i write about immoral things ... like a love affair ... but i still believe that whatever the Universe allows to happen ... has a clear purpose ... that we should accept and embrace.

We can define this real story from 100 perspectives ... but ... Well ... it all makes sense in the end ... but we need to be very opened mind ...

We should care a little bit about tomorrow
... but not so, so much the day after tomorrow

I always had plans.

Lots of plans.

Since i was a kid ... i was dreaming about the future.

It was nice dreaming ... until one day when dreaming ... became synonym with worrying.

I started to ask myself too much ... what if something will go wrong?!

My mind became dominated of dreams and plans ... and little by little my soul became a collection of non ending ... fears.

I was a simple ordinary persons ... and dreaming became ...
unfortunately ... a bad habit.

My mind and soul ... became too worried.

All those plans and dreams ... were so damn illusory ... and i knew it ... but ...

I could not stop myself of thinking of the future.

I knew it was ... useless ... but ...

I was worry about tomorrow.

About the day after tomorrow.

About ... next year.

But also about ... next years.

I had hope related with my dreams ... but i was also living

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE with the fear inside of my soul.

I felt ... the illusion ... behind of those plans ... but ... i could still not stop myself.

And i continued like that for years.

So, so many years in a row.

Well ... until one day when i somehow realized that the shadow of my dreams ... were my fears ... and i believed that dreaming and also worrying ... in the same time ... it's ... ok.

All those karmic events were about ... the masks i wore into my past

I was into a restaurant.

The walls had everywhere venetian masks ... with so, so many expressions ... of the human being.

I saw the angriness, the happiness, the sadness ... the joy and all the other feelings ... we carry into our souls.

I identified myself with all those masks.

But now ... my question was ... what was the damn connection between the karmic events from my life and those masks?!

Was there any connection at all?!

I was eating my pizza ... looked again and again ... analyzing all that ... and my mind was meditating on and on and on ...

So ... is my karma related with my masks that i was wearing into my past?!

Is it a strong connection between those 2 facts?

I smile ...

I smile each time when i see an angry person talking to me ... cause i was angry with so many persons during my lifetime.

Those angry masks came back from the past and ... giving bad vibes to my reality.

And .. i also realize that there's not so many happy faces on the actual timeline of my life.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

I see this spectrum of emotions and feelings ... and i start to understand its meaning.

Its the ... echo ... coming back from my past.

Remember each time when you feel the fear presence deep into your soul ... that it's all an illusion

I am spending lots of time ... thinking.
I even have moments when i define myself as a ... thinker.
But i smile realizing the illusion of that.
I smile cause i see that this habit of thinking ... by analyzing all the time the world around myself ... made me realize that not really understanding the meaning of everything ... i induce myself all types of illusory nonsense fears.
Weeks later, looking back in time ... analyzing again ... i understand that instead of becoming much wiser ... and connect with the world around myself into a friendly way ... i allowed the fear to dominate my soul.
Then i remember that it's all ... an illusion.
And i become conscious of it.
I smile again ... but this time in front of what i finally see as an ... illusion ... induced by my own mind.
The process of thinking which i found almost as a virtue ...
was actually not allowing me to have a beautiful life.
... cause i believed that all what my mind is telling me it's true.

We have so contradictory perceptions sometimes in the same time

My son showed me a very nice painting done by himself. Then he started to explain me the meaning of that painting ... and i've been amazed of all those details that he was telling me about.

And what surprised me even more is that the painting itself was splinted into 2 paintings ... sending somehow 2 contradictory perceptions.

Or it was maybe the expression of what we name ... the duality of life.

I saw it as contradictory ... but yes ... maybe i had to see it more related with the concept of ... duality.

I looked again at the painting ... and i am amazed that a child of 8 is much deeper as myself ... understanding, but also expressing everything much easier than myself.

For a second i even had the tendency to ask him ... if he knows about the fact that all those perceptions are ... illusory ... but he was so happy explaining everything that ... i stoped myself ...

I read so many books of philosophy, but my son that did not even knew what philosophy was ... looked like he knew more than myself.

But ... you know why?!

Well ... maybe he was not so influenced of the outside world ... like i've become.

He saw the world ... throw the eyes of his own intuition comparing with myself that i had into my mind so many illusory contradictory concepts that i've read in all those books ...

My son had the privilege ... not to be influenced and dominated by the outside world ... or at least not yet.

He was splitting his painting into 2 paintings, defining the day and the night ... somehow feeling and understanding duality very, very well.

It was a painting that was expressing his vision over life ... as a very young soul ... but was 100% much better as myself ... doing that.

I was always writing on and on and on about my contradictory perceptions which were present into my mind ... but ...

Well most probably ... i was allowing over the years as so many energies ... came from so, so many directions ... to dominate my soul.

My son was expressing the duality of life.

I became an expression of ... dualities.

And i was defining this on and on and on.

If someone would ask me ... what are my books about ... i would probably have to say ... being honest enough ... that it's all a collection of ... contradictions.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

My perceptions of life ... was so damn illusory ... or maybe all those karmic events from my life made me simple lose ... my compass.

So ... maybe i should redefine a little bit myself as a writer ... or think about becoming ... a painter.

I also remember i once wrote a book called ... "The painter that never paints".

That could probably define me much ... much ... better.

Smile ... and allow the karmic stories to ... end. That is probably ... the best

Recently some people had to somehow ... leave from my life.
I smiled ... and said ... ok.

I was karmic for them ... or at least this is what i believe ... cause i had to help them with something and be on their side for 100% ... in a very difficult time of their lives.

And one day they simple decided to leave.

They could not find the proper words to say it but i just knew other people need me ... and those stories went to an end.

I knew i had to allow as the stories to ... simple ... stop.

I knew that this is probably ... the best option.

Today i believe we have some karmic contracts with the people from the stage of our lives ... and once we do what we have to do, accomplishing the contract ... we can just end that connection.

Sometimes we don't like it ... but ...

Well ... recently i started to realize that other people are waiting for me so ... i need to adapt myself on this idea.

But also allow to experience new connections with other people.

Allow in fact to myself experience all what i have to experience into this lifetime.

He was dreaming of her ... defining to me so, so many details ... and she appeared to me.
Was kind of an ... interference

Brian is a friend of mine by a long, long time.
He lives close to my house, but has also a house in the south of Greece where he lives most of the time.
Even if he is a married guy with 3 children ... Brian is still dreaming about of a certain profile of lady that he would want to have into his life.
But what it's really funny and i find it quite weird is that every time he is defining me that perfect woman ... i somehow met her on the scene of my life.
She appears from no where ... and then disappears.
It's like i am seeing some ghosts ... that are a reflection of Brian's dreams.
I actually talked so much with him about this subject that more and more ladies like that are appearing to me.
It's 100% ... kind of an interference.
Maybe i could define this as an illusory karmic interference.
It's illusory ... cause i don't really believe those ladies are destined to me.
I define it as karmic ... even if it looks as a nonsense ... cause

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

i believe i have a karmic connection with Brian ... and we influence each other a lot.

And i define it as interference ... cause like any man over 40 ... adoring my discussions with my friend ... i allowed this interference with my own life.

I am aware of all that ... but the question is ... how many other interferences i allowed into my life into an ... unconscious way?!

Hmm

I don't even want to answer that question ... cause i won't probably like the answer.

The right people appears ... at the right time ... but unfortunately ... some of them are disappearing ... even if we like it or not

I never saw in my life another person like my friend Brian ... that has this chance of meeting so many people ... but also enjoy to interact with all of them.

I must also say that i envy him a little bit ... cause all the time i see that he is in the company of so, so many ladies.

Any man at our age ... would envy him.

But you see ... Brian is a weird combination of introvert and extrovert ... very difficult to be defined.

Today i see him introvert and few days later i realize he is so .. so extrovert.

His behavior it's a little bit illusory ... but even if me and Paul talked so much about him, could not find a logical explanation for all what he is doing.

You might believe that he is probably having love affairs with all those ladies .. but hell noooo ...

He is just socializing with them.

I can not understand him.

Paul ... either.

And none ... of our friends.

How the hell ... he could have so many ladies into this life ... and do ... nothing?!

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

Well ... maybe me and Paul were dominated by some weird perceptions that so, so many other men over 40 ... have ... but still ... what is the meaning of his illusory behavior?! One day ... when we were at the coffee shop ... i dare to ask him ... "Brian ... how is it possible to have so, so many ladies around you ... but actually never taste ... at least one of them?!"

How can you do that?!"

Brian smiled ... answering ... "You see ... even if looks so weird all those ladies that you see around me ... don't give me the energy i am looking for.

I dream of a certain type of connection.

But ... to be honest with you ... i met that lady that i dreamed so much.

She was extremely beautiful ... the expression of absolute calmness ... and an amazing soul.

Unfortunately ... she was married.

I've worked with her for months ... but never dared to tell her that i like her a lot.

I could see into her eyes that she likes me a lot also ... but we never ... said it ...

We just let our eyes ... whisper that ... but not saying it ... made all so unclear ...

Recently she left ... to another country, but before leaving she said that ... it might be possible as her to come back ... one more time in 1-2 months later.

She appeared at the right time ... but unfortunately she was married ... same as me.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

We were too shy ... to say it loud that we like it.
I don't even know if all i am saying it's just an illusion or not
... but ... i still like her a lot ... and can't stop thinking of her.
Last time when we talked ... she replied that she does not know for sure if she will be ever coming back or not.
I smiled to her ... same as i am smiling now to you ... writing her back that ... i let the universe decide whatever will go on
... but i'd love to see her at least one more time.
I think ... that probably ... i was clear enough ..."
"Brian ... you're an idiot!
You could just say damn it ... i like you ... a lot!!
Why the hell ... you don't say it?
Why you don't clarify it?!

You wait as her to disappear forever ... and keep this secret for a lifetime?!

What the fuck is in your mind?!"

"Hmm! The Universe sent her to me ... then she left ... and now i can't stop thinking of her.
She could be that person that i was dreaming about by such a long ... long time ... but i fail connecting to her for real ... into the scene of the real life.
I am an idiot ... i know.
I feel that she likes me too ... but ... i am afraid of saying it load."

I laugh a little bit of my friend.
The Universe sent so many ladies into his life ... and when the right one arrived ... he was so afraid of telling her how much he liked her ... that he lost her ... maybe forever.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

They probably had a karmic connection from a past life ... but ... still ... they spoiled the chance of reconnecting for real now.

I find it a non sense ... what they both did but maybe this is just an illusory perception of mine.

Sometimes ... it's all a chain reaction

John is a close friend of mine.

He's a real estate investor ... same as me.

One day ... John wrote his phone number on a piece of paper ... and gave it to a lady from the street ... telling her that if she ever needs accommodation into his town ... he can help her anytime.

Katherina ... smiled ... but also looked weird at him asking herself ... how the hell ... a real estate investor could not have a business card.

The funny thing is that few days later ... she called him sending him a client ... a friend of her.

But John almost refused the client ... cause he had another client for that property.

Life being weird ... things changed in the last moment

That client of him refused ... so he called Karherina's friend.

And in the end ... the other lady came ...

Her name was Briana.

John liked her ... and they socialized a lot.

What happened next was that Briana started to bring her friends into the new building John owned close to the city center.

In one point most of his tenants were ... her friends.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

I smiled with John realizing that starting from giving the telephone number to an unknown lady ... in the middle of the streets ... it all became a chain reaction and he reached his business on a very good level.

The building was making good money ... but it was more than that.

His new tenants became his new friends.

He started to spend lots of time with them ... and if you would ask me I could probably say that somehow he entered into a new chapter of his life.

He was speaking only about that group.

And it was only related to the reality from there.

John could not speak anymore about anything else ... and even if i tried to do something to take him out from there ... with our philosophical talks ... everything was related with that ... energetic field ... where he stayed all the time.

In my opinion ... i could dare to say that he became kind of a prisoner ... and it was funny to see that he enjoyed that.

This chain reaction that appeared after he wrote his phone number on a piece of paper ... created for John a totally new reality ... like a parallel universe ... and i could not do anything to take him from there.

Maybe it was all something ... karmic for him ... and i could not do anything to interfere.

I knew that chain reactions are very, very powerful ... but still

...

I knew there is something going on that most probably will totally redefine him ... but whatever i would say ... John was not hearing me.

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

He continued talking on and on and on just about that reality and i found it so ... damn ... illusory.

I'll probably write again the end of this funny story of my friend that became ... like all of us ... prisoner of a reality ... induced by a chain reaction of events.

Today i look at him ... and ask myself ... what the hell is "my prison"?!

Why i see so clear the things at John ... but suffer of blindness when it comes by myself?!

Sometimes ... karmic events are happening.
They look so damn real ... but we end up realizing It was all an illusion.
... a karmic one

I wrote the book "It's all an illusion ... a karmic one" ... illustrating somehow my life, but also my perception about this abstract concept called ... life.

I know i am here to have some lessons.

Most of them i would dare to define as ... karmic ... even if i afraid of them all the time.

At the end of each karmic event ... i smile all the time realizing it was all just an illusion.

It's what i name ... karmic illusion.

But all the time ... i'm afraid of all those moments.

I find them annoying ... and difficult to stand them.

Like all the others books written by me ... i dare to say that this is going to be one more unfinished book.

I stop writing on it ... because i could write for many, many years in a row ... and it will still be unfinished.

I've illustrated my perceptions ... just to teach the others that they could do the same.

It's a process.

A process that could make us understand ... once defined that even if karma looks as a bitch It's all just an illusion

IT'S ALL AN ILLUSION ... A KARMIC ONE

... cause in fact ... it's more a teacher that it's revealing us ... the spiritual secrets of life.
Instead of being afraid on the scene of the real life ... we should just ask ourselves ... what is this karmic lesson about? What is the message behind the message?!
Should we smile ... like in front of an illusion?!
Or ... at least stop being afraid?!
I have one million questions into my mind ... about life ... about the illusions ... but also about karma ... but maybe i should redefine the question and ask myself ... what is the karmic illusion that we see on the scene of life.
I let the book unfinished ... like many other things from my life ... but i'd love to see it completed by others .
Could become a book of contradictory perceptions ... defining the undefined ... the illusion.

Thank you one more time to all the karmic characters from the scene of my life!
Thank you ... for annoying me!
Thank you ... for driving me crazy!
Thank you ... for making me lose my minds ... so that in the end i could understand i was just ... an idiot ...
believing that the karmic illusion was ... real.
Without all those events ... i could never understand .... the illusion ... of what we believe so often ... it's real.
Thank you ... and fuck you ... one more time!

TO MY DEAR FRIEND PAUL
... THAT CAME UP WITH THE IDEA OF THIS BOOK

INTRODUCTION

If it's not love ... it's karmic

We always try to understand our thoughts and emotions regarding the relationships we are involved in.

And so many times ... we fail in interpreting the meaning behind all what is going on.

We simple don't understand it.

We believe it's a love story ... or even the love story of our lives or a very good friendship ... but it always has an ugly end.

And damn it ... it was the perfect case scenario of a connection between 2 souls.

The meaning of all what happened becomes a nonsense.

Someone that used to be a good friend ... or a soul mate if it's about a love story ... becomes the worst enemy you ever had.

No one around ... is understanding the meaning of all that. What looked like love between 2 souls ... ended as a weird life lesson.

So ... should we say ... it's karmic?!

It looked a story about love ... but all became ... a lesson offered by the karma.

But why?!

Why this life lesson?!

IF IT'S NO LOVE IT'S KARMIC

philosophical essays

Why couldn't that love story or friendship continue?!

Why such a beautiful connection ... ended with a betrayal?!

What is the message behind that nonsense?!

Love and karma ... somehow 2 contradictory directions that we could follow ... but maybe having the same final destination.

So ... is it love?!

Is it karmic?!

Should we ask this question from the early beginning ... or simply explore and enjoy that relationship till life will reveal us the real meaning?!

Asking ourselves about the fact that it could look as great connection, but might be ... just karmic ... or be a karmic relationship looking as an amazing connection ... should induce too many paranoia ideas from the early beginning and we will not let us follow the right steps for the story.

So?!

Should we let everything ... just happen?!

Too many questions ... and maybe contradictory answers.

Would help a lot to know the real meaning ... and maybe we should explore all the connections we have with the people from the timeline of our lives.

And the final question which comes in our mind is ... if it is karmic how do we break this karmic chain?!

Well ... it starts with love ... has a karmic end but It always needs to end ... with love.

It all becomes a cycle ... the love-karmic cycle.

The meaning?!

Maybe ... to understand the connections between everything it exists in this world ... and the world itself.

IF IT'S NO LOVE IT'S KARMIC

philosophical essays

Love?!

Karmic?!

Or love-karmic?!

I invite you in a journey of finding those answers.

And i will not be so naive to tell you that we'll come up with the absolute truth ... but ...

Let's do it ...

Let's analyze ... define all what is going on ... and if it's karmic ... there is only one thing to do ... metamorphose it into ... into love again.

I believe that karma is not a bitch ... but a teacher, but also that love is everything ... and the key to the Infinity.

We should not judge anyone around us

And maybe ...understanding the course of their actions and thoughts ... is the real key for a beautiful relationship ... no matter who that person is.

Emma wrote me yesterday.

I know her by such a long time ... and she wanted to understand a guy that she likes ... which same as me is a writer.

I know him also and he's even much weird than myself.

Reading her letter to him I started to smile....

"Judging by your stories published till now, you had several young ladies with whom you opened up, like with me.

You tried to catch this subtle connection with them ... as with me.

You wanted more than just communication ... like with me.

Why?!

Why do you keep repeating the same stories and you just can't stop at one?

Do you like to play?

Do you like feeling that you are still young and asserting yourself at the expense of girls?

I want to understand the course of your actions and thoughts.

Do you know what I feel?

That you are confused in life, and everything is going wrong for you.

You don't know what you want and where you will truly be happy, and if you can, where you should be now.

What to take and where to go.

Like a boat ... lost in the middle of the ocean.

I won't judge you, and you shouldn't care about my opinion if you're confident in what you're doing.

Right?

I don't have the habit of judging people, this makes no sense, this is a psychological dead end, each person is individual and a priori cannot be similar to another, everyone has different hobbies, and approaches to this. This is fine.

Sometimes, when reading your stories, I need some time to understand what you write about. Considering that there is also fantasy, it is difficult for me to understand where is the truth and where is not. As a result, sometimes there are misunderstandings"

Emma wanted something impossible from me.

To tell her the truth about writers, philosophers, thinkers ... or however you would want to name this category of people.

She wanted to ... understand the course of our actions and thoughts.

And i started to laugh.

... cause not even us know the paths we are following.

IF IT'S NO LOVE IT'S KARMIC

philosophical essays

We are lost souls ...

I was reading few times what she wrote to the guy she likes so much.

Probably the guy is even ... worst than me ... but still ...

I consider today that the philosophical path is just a theoretical journey ... which probably must not be judged.

Yes ... getting in contact with such people as me or him ... and all the others ... is risky.

But maybe ... we just open forbidden doors.

I usually have answers but this time i lost the chance to calm down my dear friend Emma.

I have the same disease as the guy she likes ... so what could i say ... that he is incurable?!

Well or maybe that we simple need infinite love and understanding.

That's the only ... real ... cure.

She was so mad ... looking at him

They both stayed on the couch ... but he was not there.
He was in another world.
Only his body was in there.
And the jerk ... was doing this by years.
Today i believe that the key for understanding the world where we live in is to ... analyze and define the nonsense that we see in the curent reality.
And we see around us so many people that have absolutely everything they ever dreamed ... except happiness.
The human being of today ... lives in much better conditions and has more options as a king from hundreds of years ago had.
But it's weird seeing so many ... lost souls.
I recently saw a movie with the life of a writer, which lived in the south of France.
He was so unhappy in his marriage but still too coward to divorce and start a new life.
So ... somehow in a need of becoming neutral ... he started to live more inside of him.
The only expression of his thoughts and feelings was ... to write books.

It became the only way in how he proved his courage but in the same time hoping that his wife will not find out what he was doing.

After a while ... seeing that something was wrong, they decided to go to the therapist together.

The wife starts to detail their story saying in the same time that her intuition says that her husband is cheating on her ... having also a parallel life.

"Listen ... if you allow me to speak. I am 60 years old ... and i am retired.

I stay mainly in the village ... and actually don't even leave our house.

In fact ... i spend all my day on the couch.

All what she just said ... is illusory.

I believe she is suffering of paranoia."

The counselor ... smiled ... but the wife started to be angry.

"You are lying. You stay indeed on the couch ... but you are not in there anymore by years.

I am 100% that you cheat on me.

I observe your absence ... by years."

"How can you say i am absent If i stay at 50-60 cm by you ... on the same couch".

Now the counselor became annoyed.

"Listen ... let's simple discuss.

Is not necessary to act like this.

David I believe what you are saying is true but also what your wife is saying to me ... is true.

Most probably ... disliking your life together ... you've created an inner world ... and you live in there ... like a refugee.

Your wife sees you ... but also sees your absence.

IF IT'S NO LOVE IT'S KARMIC

philosophical essays

You stay on the same couch ... but you are not there.
It's a weird paradox ... i know cause both of you are right and the only real thing you can do it to become present in your marriage."

David becomes angry.

"There is no law to force me to become present into my marriage.

I know the concepts of Carpe Diem and others blablablas ... but i prefer my fox whole."

The therapist realized it's all useless to analyze and define what is going on ... cause they both knew the truth about their story.

A story that he heard so, so many times.

The therapist could even consider to write a book ... about all those cases ... but again found it as a nonsense ... cause ... no body is listening to his advices anyway.

So ... he smiled and left his office letting the husband and wife to argue ... cause most probably it was all a karmic matter between the 2 of them.

Sometimes they just can't hear us.
It's like you are a ghost
... and can't stand it anymore

Does it ever happened to you speak with the people from the timeline of your life ... but feel that they can't hear you?! And you say what you have to say ... once ... twice ... and then on and on and on ... and they just can't hear your voice. They don't even feel your presence. It is unbelievable ... but why?! Why you look like a ghost?! I look into my past, even in the near past ... and i had this weird feeling so, so many times. And again i wonder myself ... why?! I close my eyes ... i try to meditate ... and suddenly the answer comes. My god ... i've been such an idiot. The answer was so damn simple. In fact it's maybe a life lesson . Something ... almost karmic. I did not know to connect to them ... and the lesson was repeated to me on and on and on. And i felt so ridiculous being a ghost.

I analyzed myself and i was not acting like an illusory volatile entity ... but still ... they had this “ghost” perspective over my thoughts, desires, actions and all what i was doing on the timeline of life.

But the huge problem i had ... was that i still had no idea how i could change the situation.

Sometimes ... it all became a horrible experience ... and i could not stand it anymore.

And then i remembered about my handicap ... that i was not able to connect to all those people.

I called them annoying ... but the problem was on my side.

So ... maybe i could not accept it ... but ... i continued being a ghost.

And the philosophical question is ... should we experience also the pathless paths or just ignore them?

Sheila liked him in the beginning.
He was weird ... but in a beautiful way.
Same ... as her.
Difficult to be ... understood.
In fact ... too abstract to be understood.
So, after meeting him the 3rd time ... she writes him in the morning:
"I don't think it's worth continuing. I can't, I'm serious. You got what you wanted, you saw me, you spent some time with me, and let's stop there. This is stupid, and very wrong, I'm sorry, but I really can't."
He was laughing reading her message.
He wanted to just smile ... but ended laughing, cause it all became a tacit understanding that it was a pathless paths for both of them.
The only difference between him and her ... was maybe that she was afraid of such paths, but he loved exploring them.
The nonsense was defining the whole situation.
So ... she was annoyed ... and he was laughing.
Could they continue?!

IF IT'S NO LOVE IT'S KARMIC

philosophical essays

Should it make any sense?

Maybe yes ... maybe no.

I found it weird that he wanted to continue such a story ... of connecting and disconnecting all the time.

Then i understood what he had the mind.

He actually believe in such an abstract therapy, similar with the therapy in couple, but the only difference was that the 2 of them are 2 strangers one with another.

But he insisted as he will become her therapist and she will become the same for him.

She disliked again ... everything.

It started as a possible love story ... but refusing to connect to him or maybe to accept his tendencies just a little bit ... everything was fucked up.

She desired a connection.

A real one.

He only wanted to explore the connection ... no matter if it was or not a pathless path.

Those weird feelings of connecting and disconnecting to each other ... started to dominate again and again ... the story.

And it became so obvious it's not a love story but a karmic ... idiotic story.

The way they acted ... ruined a possible beautiful experience which was metamorphosed in the end ... into a cocktail of banality ... and nonsense.

It was so funny reading on their faces the 2 perspectives about what was going on.

But ... she remained angry ... and he was laughing on and on and on.

John ... this was his name ... whispers her "Pleaseeeee! let the show go on ... cause i always loved the song of life... "

... but she did not care ... being so damn realistic, but also hiding so well ... all those negative thoughts which overwhelmed her by such a long time.

He was a good soul ... but such a bad man

When they met he offered himself to help her and her family with something important for them.

Everybody appreciated all what he did ... and they talked a lot about him in the train after they left that city.

And even told him one million times ... thank you defining his beautiful side.

But even if she was happy cause he offered himself to help ... she felt something strange about him.

Is like she was feeling in the same time his beautiful ... but also his dark side.

She knew ... he is a real bad person.

Was looking like a devil ... disguised in angel.

But her family continued to keep this good image for him.

And she trusted so much ... her intuition.

How can be such a contradiction in the attributes that were defining this weird guy ... and the real truth?!

Damn it ... he looked such a good soul ... but she was so sure he was a man with so many sins in his past.

Was analyzing him ... and could not understand what the hell is he doing?!

Was he pretending?!

Damn it ... was he such a great actor?!

Was he pretending so well?!

Why was the devil disguised into a ... an angel?!

Why her family saw just the angel and she was so sure about his devil side?

Hmmm a total nonstandard person.

But she continued to analyze him on and on and on ... not being so sure in the end ... what to believe.

One day he had the chance to meet him again ... and she was still obsessed about who was in fact this guy.

And looking into his eyes ... finally got the message.

He was a bad man ... indeed.

With lots of sins.

But he was cleaning his karma ... changing his life from not being oriented anymore into doing bad things to ... but helping the people from the timeline of his life.

The only problem was that she saw the past, which was revealed to her so, so easily by her intuition.

But why was he on the timeline of her life?!

And why she appeared to him??

Maybe as Mark to show to her that the path to change really exists ... and she start this process also.

Or maybe she was the "ghost" ... that keep reminding him about all his bad things which used to define him not so long time ago.

I am sure that both of look were somehow a mirror one for the other ... but they could not see that it.

Mark started to dislike that Sheila reminded her so often that he is a bad man ... and begins to analyze and define her all the time also.

And what could be at least a beautiful friendship not understanding that the meaning of their story was not to judge each other, but help to redefine the other side into a beautiful way ... it all became an annoying story.

... from both perspective.

So they liked each other and even needed each other ... but all having a karmic meaning ... it was all difficult to be understood very clearly.

And the best thing to do was to ... run one of another ... hoping they will never see again during this lite time ... but not knowing that if it's about a karmic character ... we can't get rid of that person.

And even if that person disappears someone else ... having the same role will appear again.

The story will be repeated.

There is no escape at all, but understand the meaning of all that.

Otherwise will be repeated on and on and on.

You see ... we all have good and bad attributes that define us. Some people will see our beautiful side and some people our dark side.

There will be so, so many to remind us ... that no matter what we do now ... we will still remain that bad person ... but i believe that we all have the right to follow new paths.

If the soul is a good one ... no matter what we've done in our past ... we will always be allowed to change who we want to be ... or become.

The past it's not a prison.

It can't define us forever.

Simple can't ...

IF IT'S NO LOVE IT'S KARMIC

philosophical essays

Change is part of life ... and just the power of our intentions
... defines what we can be.

In the end ... the collapse of the world will be seen as a comedy ... and the best chance for changing our lives. All we need to do is just ... smile and remember that it's all an illusion

I do believe a lot in a process of self therapy ... which consists in analyzing, defining and redefining our lives. But i also look back into my past and i keep wondering myself if all i thought about that reality was true or not. What if it was just ... a perception?!

I analyzed so many times my life and defined it so wrong ... so the question now is ... should i continue doing that, or just stop ... and simple live life as it is.

Should i still bother to ask myself so, so many questions?!

Should i continue the self therapy?!

I have so many contradictory thoughts and don't really know what should i do ... but still my intuition says i should continue the path.

Then ... later on i understand where the disappointment came from.

So, so many weird situations ... being most of the times ... nonsenses

I saw everything collapsed.

Saw the end of the world or my inner world i mean.

But all It was so damn illusory.

Looking back i even dare to say that ... it was all kind of a comedy.

A silly combination of annoying with funny situations ... but the effect was looking ... so tragically ... and i believed it was real.

Hahaha ... all it was an illusory tragic comedy and i thought it was real.

But i closed my eyes ... and i prayed.

How the hell can i do the praying?!

I totally forgot.

Then i understood... that the whole meaning was that ... the change was knocking at my door.

I saw the tragedy.

I saw the end ... of the world.

But damn it ... i could not see the opportunity of change.

Of course I continued being blind ... and i wondered realizing the illusion, when the hell ... awakening ... the real one ... will appear into my life.

Sometimes is all about the art of destroying each other and nothing more

During the years i had so, so many conflicts that i can say that i have a huge experience regarding the subject. In fact i could write a book about all my conflicts ... but unfortunately not even one page about how we could stop having them.

I smile saying it ... but i believe that even if i had the chance to study so often the subject ... is like the Universe was whispering me in japanese ... cause i am not understanding the nonsense of being in such situations.

And the result?!

Well ... i continue doing it on and on and on.

My friend Paul is laughing all the time seeing me in such stories.

And keep asking me ... can't i see the pattern of all those problems?!

One day he says ...

"Your life looks like the book - TRILOGY OF CONFLICTS REPEATED ON AND ON AND ON.

But all i can say is that in all those stories ... are about nonsense and nothing more.

And i wonder why you can't see that?"

But i ignored all those thoughts.

Later on realizing it's so annoying being involved in conflicts that never ends ... i closed my eyes and said to myself:

"Just stop!

I want to see them ... stop!

Had enough!"

But guess what?!

Things did not stoped.

Reality was looking like a cartoon movie with Tom & Jerry ... but all those people were not cartoon characters ... and looked so damn real.

It all became an obsession for my mind why the hell my reality was looking like that?!

Why this total nonsense?!

We were so involved in those conflictual stories that in the end it all became about the art of destroying ... each other. Damn it!

It was something karmic!

The answer was so simple and i could not see it.

I've done that for so many years in the row ... and now ... it was almost looking too late to change anything ... but maybe i still had a small chance so that i can change a little bit.

So ... what was the karmic message?!

What really meant ... this nonsense art of destroying each other?!

Well ... maybe simple not understanding that all we see in the Universe is just one ... entity.

And i did not saw the connections with all those souls.

I was ... blind.

IF IT'S NO LOVE IT'S KARMIC

philosophical essays

So damn blind.

But why?!

Was i idiots?

What about them?!

... idiots also?!

Well ... seeing the passion that we had ... enjoying all those conflicts ... yes ... indeed we proved so obvious ... how idiots we were.

Want to get rid of your enemies?! Well love them and they will become your friends.

I recently had a new conflict ... which was driven my crazy.
The guy was a total idiot ... and i can't find the necessary words to define him so that i can be understood.

The problem itself was quite important for myself to be solve ... and i could not get rid of the image of this guy .

I had that image in my mind 24 / 7 and even if i was talking to myself all the time, trying to come with very good arguments that i need to stop at least the conflict from my mind ... it was all useless.

Nothing ... worked to calm me down.

Damn it!

It was like when someone is in love and the image of the loved person ... remains active all the time in the mind of the person that is fallen in love.

But in my case ... was kind of contradictory example, cause it was about ... hate ... not love.

So ... the opposite of being in love ...

But still i could not get rid of the image of that bastard ...

Damn it!

I was thinking and thinking and thinking again.

IF IT'S NO LOVE IT'S KARMIC

philosophical essays

I had to cure my mind ... cause i was quite nervous by such a long, long time and nothing worked to stop this conflict ... and especially the one from my mind.
Little by little ... seeing how this story is ruining my days and nights ... i convinced myself to stop hating the idiot.
Even stop naming him ... idiot.
In one point ... i asked myself ... to name him ... friend.
I knew it was something karmic ... which actually meant that i need to learn a life lesson ... and i knew theory so damn well ... but ...
And i stoped hating him ... and still ... was not enough.
I had to love ... that damn idiot ... and send the vibes of that love to him.
The karmic chain could not be broken without love.
But how the hell could i convince myself to love a guy that fucked my vibe for such a long time?!
Hmm.
Impossible.... but it became also impossible to live with him in my mind.
And i tried all the tricks but nothing worked.
I had to be honest.
Honest with myself.
I had to forgive the guy ... and give him that love that an adult is giving to a small child that is doing silly things.
He was acting as an idiot ... but ... i had to show him that ... i am not like him ... and i can teach him a very important lesson ... that an enemy can become a friend.
Hate can be metamorphosed ... into love.
The lesson ... was on both sides.

IF IT'S NO LOVE IT'S KARMIC

He needed to stop acting like a silly kid ... and i had to prove myself that I can become a wiser person.

It was all a test.

The test of ... illusions so that i can understand better ... the life itself.

Love and hate ... 2 contradictory concepts ... but once we understand them ... everything will be changed in our daily lives.

There will not be anymore useless conflicts.

No ... enemies.

.... Just friends.

And life will be perfect.

We will love it so, so much ... and enjoying it.

Away from home It's so damn beautiful

He was married.

She was married also ... but not with him.

They were ... friends by already a long time ... and they had something in common ... the desire of changing their lives. But the change they were chasing was simple ... following the path of happiness.

They were at an age when ... they already got all what they wanted in life.

And it was funny ... cause they had everything they ever wanted ... and still they felt ... they have nothing.

They felt their souls ... empty.

But one day John ... whatsapp Jill ... "Hey my dear what if i come ... and take you to the beach ... for a walk?!"

"John ... the beach is so far away.

At least few hundred miles.

My husband will lose his mind if he will not find me at home."

"My dear ... my wife will do the same.

But why we should be afraid of those 2 persons that are making us ... feel miserable... by years?!

Come on ... let's do it!"

Jill accepts the challenge and 2 hours later ... their were walking and admiring the beach and the sea.

He was looking at her ... and could not believe it.
She was so damn beautiful ... and her vibe was amazing.
Suddenly they realized that they don't feel their souls ...
empty ... anymore.
The sensation was so weird.
Jill smiles to him ... saying ... "John! They will kill us.
Your wife and my husband ... will 100% kill us ... finding out where we are."
"My dear ... i have no doubt about that.
But you know what?! ... it will be a beautiful death.
I love the walk ... near the sea ... having you in my arms.
At home ... i feel dead ... by years.
And most probably you feel the same things that i feel ..."
"Yes John ... it will be a beautiful death.
And you not even ... kissed me ... but the vibe of this place being in your company ... makes me happy."
They continued the walk ... and for the first time ... after so,
so many years ... they felt alive.
And it was ... so damn good ...
Not even ... the death would scare them today ... cause now their souls were fulfilled with ... joy.
Away from home It was amazing.

Sometimes i miss you ... but i don't know why

Simon ... met Eveline not so long time ago.
He liked her ... but they could not start anything at all together.
It was weird.
It was ... and it was not ... a connection.
But Simon was a guy interested about the spiritual part of life .
And ... not understanding what is going on ... one day he wrote her:
"Sometimes i miss you, but don't know why.
In fact there are many moments during the day when you appear in my mind.
... but again i don't know why"
He used to meditate a lot.
One day ... they decided to meet again ... look at her ... but it was the same ...
They connected ... and then disconnected.
A total ... nonsense.
Why the hell ... they met?!
Why it's so damn clear that is not about love, even if they had sex together ... but still ... she keeps appearing into his mind?!

IF IT'S NO LOVE IT'S KARMIC

philosophical essays

Maybe ... it's karmic.

But what could it be?!

Imagine you meet someone that might look as a possible partner ... then you don't know what to believe anymore.

So ... what if from an early beginning we should have the power to recognize what type of relationship it is?!

The problem is that many of us don't have the power to analyze as Simon.

Asking questions again and again ... was his style ... but the rest of us ... we are just living life, dominated by all sorts of energies without understanding their meanings.

Meditation ... most probably helps a lot.

Asking questions ... also.

But ... why don't we do it?!

Why we let the nonsense ... appear just as nonsense and we don't look beyond that concept?!

Simone liked Eveline.

Not a lot ... but liked her.

Had her .. in his mind.

... and she kept appearing.

But why?!

Does the Universe ... means ... nonsense?!

Well ... Simon ... did not agreed that they met with no reason ... cause he already knew by a long time that everything has a clear meaning and importance.

So ... not a love story?!

Maybe ... something karmic?!

Who the hell knows ... but just wait ... cause at the right time everything ... is revealed.

He thought for such a long time that he was speaking with the king's jester ... but in fact he was speaking with the king.
... a story inspired from the real life

Not so long time ago, in an unknown country ... in a village which was far, far away from the capital ... the mayor of the commune decided to proclaim himself ... the king of the area. And the first person hired at his court was of course the king's jester ... a very, very funny guy ... who used to be a cashier into a candy shop.

It was so amusing to see how the mayor started to feel that he is the ... king ... and his jester a real important person from that kingdom.

But you know ... many times in life ... money and distinctions ... or any other political functions can't really change us deeply ... as much as we should want.

The character of the king ... was ...

And his jester ... was acting even worst as him.

But the so called king learned from politics a very good thing ... and that was that ... if you want to annoy someone ... use someone else for that.

And every time ... he had an enemy .. he used the jester to annoy that person.

But who could say someone to a jester??

We all know that is a crazy character ... and no matter how annoyed we are ... we are not allowed to be mad on him.

And it was so funny ... cause no one realized that ... cause everybody forget the movies and stories about kings and their kingdoms.

But the mayor loved a lot being a king ... using his jester to annoy anyone he wanted.

No one from the capital of his country bothered to ask him ... what is going on in there.

It was really, really funny ... and he enjoyed life as that.

Made him almost believe that ... he is a real king.

But years were passing and one day a writer visited the area. It was a weird guy that used to write a lot about illusions ... and the pathless paths of life.

The king welcomed him in his kingdom ... but for reasons difficult to be understood ... the king's jester started to annoy him on and on and on.

It was somehow ... a nonsense.

In the beginning the writer thought that everything is maybe a joke ... or a misunderstanding.

He went to the king and asked as the jester to stop.

The so called king ... smiled ... explaining that it's all an illusion ... and the writer had a moment of believing that he was ... right.

But what was ... an illusion?!

What was a pathless path?!

After writing so, so many things about those subjects ... 2 idiots were making fun of him.

Quite weird ... cause it meant that after all he was not an expert into illusions as he used to believe.

And the king and his jester ... were continuing making fun of him ... on and on and on.

So ... one day ... a writer goes to a saucer and asked for help. Each time when he did not recognized an illusion he went to him ... asking for guidance in his magic ball.

He could not believe ... seeing how the 2 idiots were making fun of him.

And ask the saucerer ... why?!

"Well ... you simple forget that one day 2 beautiful girls came to you ... pretending they liked you, but as you see in the magic ball ... that was an illusion also.

They were just using you as the king and his jester to become jealous... on you.

They were creating 2 illusions in the same time ... on both sides.

You liked it ... but they were annoyed.

Now ... you are annoyed ... but they just love what they do.

The mayor ... who illusory believed he was the king of that area pretends he is your friend ... but in fact is using the other idiot ... his jester .. to annoy you ...

Isn't it funny?! ...that for such a long time you was speaking with the king's jester ... but in fact you was speaking with the king?!

Do you see the illusion?!

Or you are still blind?!"

The writer was disappointed ... by himself.

Studying and even writing so much about the illusion of life ... he was fooled like a child by the 2 illusory idiots.

But ... the writer smiled.

He finally understood that the only defeat in front of the illusion is ... the smile.

The illusion is tricky.

Can be metamorphosed into so, so many forms ... but we can't recognize it .. even if we believe we are experts into the subject.

So ... any of you ... comparing yourself with the writer ... how should you define your position in front of the illusion?!

You believe you're an expert into recognizing the illusions?! ... or you finally understood that smiling in front of it ... is the best solution?!

Well ... who the hell knows ...

Maybe it was something ... karmic ... and the meaning of karma is to understand the illusion.

We all chase for a quantum jump ... studying motivation, but ...
metamorphosing from being a Mickey Mouse to a Superman ... remains just a joke if we are not prepared mentally

I've talk a lot in the last few years about this weird concept of quantum jump .. with my friend Simon ... who lives in a small town from Pennsylvania.

Then we just lost contact for more than half an year.

But only few days ago Simon calls again ... totally annoyed because of the fact the candy man from his little town was elected as mayor.

"I cannot believe it.

Damn it ... i simple cannot believe it.

This fucking idiot that had the candy shop close to my house ... became one of the most important persons from our area. He was tricky.

Everyone around ... met him ... while coming to his shop with the kids ... so it was the perfect opportunity to know him.

And when the election came ... everybody knew the damn idiot.

It is all a weird example of ... quantum jump ... i know ... and we studied that for such a long time... but ... still ...

No matter how much i would study motivation ... metamorphosing from being a Mickey Mouse to Superman ... remains just a joke”

I smiled ... asking ...

“But why?!”

“How the hell can you ask ... why?!”

A candy man should never be allowed to become ... the mayor of the town.

It’s simple... ridiculous”

I was already laughing ... listening to Simon.

“But ... my dear friend!

That actually means ... to have a quantum jump.

He is the perfect example ... and from the outside, not really knowing the guy personally ... i even admire him.

Sounds weird ... i know ... but you know so well that the subject itself is so damn abstract.

And you like it or not ... he is a motivational example for many people from all around the world.”

“Well ... Gabriel ... i was certainly not able today to express my indignation in a proper way ... but ... i probably forget to mention to you that in the weekend ... he becomes a candy man again.... just to make some extra money.

But when monday comes ... he is mayor again.

And if you would go to the city hall you would be amazed ... that he is really believing he is a mayor.”

I laugh again.

“Hahaha! So ... in the weekend he is acting like Mickey Mouse ... and from monday to friday ... he is Super Man.

Maybe he still loves to be the candy man ... or he is a weird example of quantum jump ... which is done in both directions."

I let me friend ... annoyed.

There was nothing to tell him ... so that i can make him change his vibe.

Or maybe we should simple understand the complexity of this process called ... quantum jump.

I chased it for years ... not really understanding that cannot jump from being a Mickey Mouse to Superman if you are not prepared mentally.

Otherwise you will be metamorphosed all the time ... in both directions ... acting like the idiot that was annoying my friend.

There are moments when things

We should simple accept reality and

Did you ever saw that sometimes no matter how much you should try ... some things simple cannot happen?

And you try and try ... and try.

But ... nothing works.

You could even ask the help of Pope Francis or Dalai Lama ... and all their monks ... but still ... the magic is not happening. From a simple desire of having or completing something ... everything becomes an obsession that is dominating the mind.

Day and night ... you think only about it.

From the outside it's so damn easy for anyone to see that you are suffering of the obsession syndrome ... which is dominating your life.

you anymore to see the world around.
Life itself ... starts to look as a ruin.
The obsession is all what it is ... in your mind.
And you try on and on and on ... to get what you wanted so much ... but it's like touching the horizon line.
You cannot understand those opposite forces that are not allowing you to have that obsessive desire.
One day ... you realize that the only thing left to do is ... abandon that useless fight.
Simple ... ignore it.
It's so obvious that what you wanted so much is not a path for you ... that trying to forget the whole story and continue your life ... is the only option you're got.
You realize you lost all the battles ... and you could just adore the fact that you declare the war finished.
Yes ... indeed you lost the war ... but you also abandoned the obsession.
You are free again.

You finally understand that it was not ... a path meant to you ... and the Universe stoped you using the people from the timeline of your life ... to follow that direction.
You also understand the implication.
But ... too bad you was blind ... for such a long time.

Lolek si Bolek are real characters. When it happens to meet them ... we realize how idiots we are ... as human species.

I recently saw a parody which i love a lot.

But let me tell you few things about the 2 characters.

Bolek and Lolek are two Polish cartoon characters from the children's animated comedy television series by the same name. They were partially created by Alfred Ledwig until being developed by Władysław Nehrebecki and Leszek Lorek. The series is about two brothers and their fun (and sometimes silly) adventures.

In the parody i mentioned you about ... the 2 guys became president and vice president of a new corporation.

They were so happy that they came in this position ... but also so proud of it ... that not even being president or vice president of United States ... could compare with their tremendous success.

Ladies from the corporation were in love of them and soon, even if they were married ... they started to have love affairs ... one with a blonde ... and one with a brunette.

But it was quite funny ... that after a while those 2 ladies ... seeing that they remain just mistresses ... they started to be totally annoyed of this fact.

And without knowing one of another ... they picked the same guy to make jealous the president and the vice president. Both ladies were extremely beautiful and Robert could not resist to date with them, even if meanwhile he founded out who they were.

Later on ... when Lolek and Bolek discovers that Robert compromised the relationships they had with the mistresses ... became totally annoyed.

The reply ... for Robert was horrible.

They started to compromise a project that he worked for many years in a row ... just to take him out of the corporation.

And they almost succeeded.

When Robert finally realized what was going on It was already late ...

But meanwhile ... Lolek si Bolek forget about their old mistresses and found another beautiful ladies ...

They were really happy together ... but the funny thing is that Robert met the 2 ladies also.

He liked a lot the mistress of the vice president ... but the other hand ... again he finds out too late who she really is.

Robert ... who believed a lot in energies, spirituality and also ... karma ... finally realized that it's all a karmic process ... all what is going on.

He tries all his best to close the conflict ... but it was late ... cause the president and vice president ... already had a huge dislike for him.

How he could explain that it was all about karma?!

It looked more about love ... than about karma ... but everyone involved in the conflict stared to see the things in paranoia mode.

And it was so funny ... watching how they were acting.

... a real funny parody.

The end of the movie ... is quite weird.

Or maybe i should say ... karmic.

Bolek suspected that Lolek and Rober became friends behind his back so that Lolek will become the new president of the corporation.

Lolek on the other side started to believe that Bolek and Robert became friends as him to not be anymore the vice president.

And the truth is that Robert started to be paranoia also ... seeing the arrangements xmade behind his back ... so that his project to be compromised.

But in the same time ... he loved discussing with the lovely mistresses of his enemies.

So ... a story about karma?!

Or about love?!

In the end .. i realized is more about ... paranoia than anything else.

No matter of the position we are in life ... the human mind still remains ... reptilian.

We are afraid of illusory dangers.

... but we also generate them for us ... and for the others around us.

Seeing that ... in the real life ... we somehow understand how idiots we are ... as human species.

The peace of mind is more important than anything else

It is funny cause we appreciate what we have only when we lose that something.

The word ... peace ... has almost no value for most of the people ... but when is totally lost ... life becomes a nightmare. And when life becomes a nightmare ... well ... the karmic process starts.

And that is happening ... hahahaha ... the earthquake starts. There is almost no change as you to be saved by someone cause karmic doctors are difficult to be found.

Can't sleep in the night.

Can't stop thinking about that damn thing.

Can't stop the ... obsession.

The mind is ... fucked up.

A inner war started ... and nothing can't calm what is going on.

Now you start to understand the meaning of the word ... peace ... and its value.

The only problem is that the karmic storm is taking so damn long ... that your reality starts to look like with a ruin.

So ... what the hell is ... peace?!

What can be done as life to become like it was before?!

But have you wondered ... what if life needs to be totally changed?!

You remember about the concept of karma.

But your soul is screaming on and on ... when the hell is going to stop?!

Hahaha who said that karma could be stopped?!

Hell no.

Nothing can't stop it ... or if it looks like it can be stopped

It's all an illusion.

Karma starts to be dissolved when the process of change is embraced.

And it happens .. usually when there is no other option ... and the path of change is finally seen as a ... must.

Karma is abstract.

There will be moments when it will make just no sense ... but the meaning will be always revealed in the future.

And even if it does not look so ... karma is a positive process. It's about change.

... about new paths that you would not follow without force.

But time is passing.... and the storm goes away.

Looking at the so called damages ... karma is seen as the most negative chapter of your life.

The good part is that every story has a beginning ... the story itself and ... the end.

One day ... peace is reappearing .. again.

You embrace it and you feel .. great.

Finally ... you understand its meaning.

It is not defined anymore as a nonsense, but as the most important attribute that should describe our souls.

And you also understand the fact that the details of the story ... are totally unimportant ... no matter what happened.

IF IT'S NO LOVE IT'S KARMIC

philosophical essays

The real meaning of those stories is just to make you realize ... the concept of ... peace ... and more precisely ... inner peace.

Once you realize the real values of life ... but also carrying the peace in the soul ... life becomes beautiful ... again.

Karma just guided you ... to paths that had no real value to you ... but were so damn important to be understood and followed.

Silence pleaseeee! Just ... let the Universe sing ... the karmic song

Peter had a great friend ... who used to be a sorcerer. And every time Peter had a problem ... he went to his friend and asked for help, not really understanding what was going on that his life had all the time all those up side down situations.

Today his life was perfect.

But few days later ... Peter was calling again ... complaining that the perfect case scenario went again to an end.

He was ... unbelievable.

The sorcerer was smiling all the time ... and instead of saying ... "My God! Not again! Pleaseeee!" ... was just replying ... "Let me look again in my magic ball ... and see what i can do."

And he was helping him all the time to get out of the problem.

It was so funny that one time ... when Peter was called into the court ... being so damn idiot to go in there without a lawyer by his side, even if it was a very complicated trial with a very crazy lady ... the sorcerer made some magic ... and the judged lived in the end with the illusion that Peter was right.

And he won the trial.

Then ... a similar problem with the police ended into the same way.

But the real problem was that Peter ... kept having problems on and on and on.

One day while drinking a coffee with a beautiful lady that had the ability to connect to any human soul ... Clara told him:

"Listen Peter! Statistically we drink a coffee every six month ... every time you tell me another story ... and another one and another one.

Your problems started to be much more complicated that they used to be.

Your friend, the sorcerer.. can't save your ass forever.

You must stop asking for help but ask for guidance.

Just ... let the Universe sing ... the karmic song.

You must like it or not but it is the only real solution that you have.

And if you don't listen to me ... we will speak about those repetitive problems of yours ten years from now on.

Just listen to that ... karmic song.

It has a so .. so ... powerful message.

All you need to do is just ... listen."

But you see ... it was much easier to ask for help from the sorcerer ... than to understand the abstract karmic message.

And let's not forget how annoying it was everything.

On the other hand ... Peter refused to realize that the karmic problems will be repeated on and on ... if we don't listen to what the Universe is trying to say.

But the question is ... until when?!

How much longer can we delay our spiritual evolution?!

IF IT'S NO LOVE IT'S KARMIC

philosophical essays

And why the hell we don't listen to the Universe?!

Why we don't want to analyze and define that so called non sense from our lives?!

Delay until what?!

Maybe we should decide to not wait anymore ... until is too late.

Is not that the meaning of this life is to obtain the awakening ... cause maybe that is probably reserved for another life but simple decide to not stop ... the spiritual evolution.

Embrace ... karma.

Listen carefully ... the karmic song ... and let the Universe to guide you.

Might look as an annoying process, but when you'll see that all is happening is an illusion created with the meaning to teach you a lesson ... you will smile ... and enjoy it.

Just think about it ... and why not ... experience everything as that ... just one time.

The results will let you know ... what you need to do next.

The peasant used to be an honest person.
But why this perspective over his character metamorphosed so much?!

My grandparents were people from the country side.
My parents left the country side when they were about 20 and we lived in a small town near the capital of my country.
So ... we were not in the city ... but neither in the country side.

There is one clear thing that i remember about my grandparents ... which are all dead today ... and that is ... their honesty.

But a honesty so ... beautiful ... which i cannot see today anymore.

Today i live ... in the country side ... in the same place where my grandparents lived ... but i see everything so ... how to say to still remain .. polite ...

Maybe i could use the word metamorphosed.

Maybe ...

The character of people is totally changed.

Honesty is not a virtue anymore and all it matters is to be rich or ... look like being rich.

I recently saw a weird advertising ... done ... for rehabilitate the image of the peasant from our country.

In the past ... peasant was synonymous with ... honesty.

Today the connotation of the word peasant goes to being a dishonest person, a jerk ... a person without character.

So how the peasant metamorphosed himself ... following this path ... which made him lose his beautiful character?!

What made him change so, so much?!

And why??

Why this nonsense?!

I close my eyes ... i meditate ... and in the end the secret is revealed.

And it was so damn ... simple.

The peasant from the time of my grandparents ... was also defined by ... poverty.

And maybe that made him be humble.

Now i cannot see poverty in my country.

Nowhere ...

Not anymore ...

Today I see money everywhere.

The horses and the bicycles were metamorphosed into ... beautiful cars.

The beautiful lady that use to work the land from early in the morning ... till late in the night ... is losing all her time to the spa or beauty saloon.

The modern peasant is totally changed.

A new image ...

But too bad ... that in this damn process of evolution ... which maybe was normal ... the peasant lost his character.

The values changed so, so much.

Is even useless to continue my philosophical essay ... but too bad that we don't realize that losing our true values ... is similar with the spiritual death.

Too bad ...

There is always someone more powerful ... so ... be aware how you treat the people from the timeline of your life

I recently read a book with a collection of stories about the life from the communist times .

In 1951 ... the communism was at the beginning in my country ... but ... they already dominated everything.

In a village ... close to the capital ... the mayor and few other people were doing absolutely whatever they wanted.

Even if in the beginning everything was ok ... soon ... feeling the tremendous power from his hands the mayor totally forgot to act nicely with the people from there.

No matter of the problems of the people from the village ... the mayor did not care at all of anything.

And no one could believe that he changed ... so, so much in such a short time.

But you see ... time was passing and in the end the mayor totally forgot the meaning of what we name ... character.

He started to care just about his own interest ... and was acting like a king ... that totally lost his minds.

But one day ... a citizen that recently moved to the village ... come to the mayor and asks for help with the house he inherited from his father.

For a reason ... difficult to be understood ... the mayor delayed the guy on and on and on ... for months.

He was always telling him ... tomorrow, the day after tomorrow, next week ... soon ... etc, etc.

Having enough of all that ... he goes one day to the city hall ... and says to the mayor ... "Look! Is my house that I inherited from my father ... that died. It's my right. I am a simple citizen ... but it's my legal right to solve the problem."

The mayor started to laugh hearing Manuel and told him ironically... "Why the hell you need those papers?!"

You live in that house anyway ... so why you come here everyday ... to bother us with that?!"

"But ...it's my legal right!"

"Hahaha! Your legal right! Fuck you ... and your legal rights ... idiot.

Get out of the building ... and never come back here.

No one has the legal right in this village ... to tell to the mayor what to do.

You understand me?!

Damn you! Get out!"

The guy .. left the place and went home.

He was asking ... "how the times changed ... now we are treated in a horrible way by those communists ... and probably this is just the beginning.

Who the hell knows what's next."

But the funny thing was that Manuel had a very good friend in Moscow.

They studied together philosophy ... about 20 years ago, but his friend studied also diplomacy and went to the Russia as ambassador.

You see ... in those times there were 2 types of powerful persons in my country.

One like the mayor ... or someone that had a friend at Moscow.

The russian influence in here was huge.

Only saying ... "I'll call to Moscow!" ... everyone became scared.

So Manuel ... calls to Moscow ... and the mayor lost his job. He became a normal citizen again but this time no one bothered ... not even to say hello to him.

The guy could not believe it ... saying to him ...

"How the hell an idiot as this Manuel succeeded to take me out the communist party.

Is totally ridiculous.

He is a ... nobody.

A simple ... idiot."

The life of the mayor changed over night.

The communists totally disliked the kings but all of them were acting like kings with ... tremendous powers.

Becoming a simple citizen again ... a nobody was horrible ... but maybe karmic.

The guy had a lesson to learn and Moscow succeeded to be that invisible karmic power ... for many important or unimportant communist leaders.

Manuel continued his life for another 35 years in communism ... but the nonsense was repeated on and on and on.

And every time he could not stand it anymore ... he was calling his friend ... the ambassador... and a new karmic episode started.

IF IT'S NO LOVE IT'S KARMIC

philosophical essays

Too bad ... the communist did not understand the meaning of ... karma but many of them lived karmic stories ... difficult to be defined and accepted logically.

Karma is real.

Sometimes ... is represented by a guy like the mayor.

But sometimes .. like a more powerful guy ... like the ambassador of my country in Moscow.

So ... maybe it's time to meditate more ... about how we treat the people from the timeline of our lives ... no matter of who we are.

Cause there is always someone more powerful ... as us.

She was leaving ... but always coming back. But why?!
Well ... maybe she was dominated by her both sides ... and the emotional dance of contradictory feelings did not allowed her to keep her promises to ... herself.

Petra is calling her sister Maria.

"If you are unhappy there all the time ... and you want to leave ... why don't you do it?!

Life is not so long as we might think so that we always live with this eternal unhappiness in the soul.

You should simple be ... more courageous.

You wake up and say that today you will do it ... but in the night you come back to your husband ... all the time.

Maybe it's all a dharmic relationship mixed with karmic meaning ... but ... still you need to make a change unless you don't want to spend all your life in an emotional mud."

Maria was indeed unhappy by long, long time.

She left her home few times but she was always coming back.

The problem is that in the last few months ... this idea became ... an obsession.

She was waking up with this idea in her mind ... but at the end of the day she remained dominated by the things that she needs to do totally ignoring what she loved to do.

So ... few times a day she decided to be happy ... but ... still ... it was all an emotional dance ... and nothing more.

She never found the courage to act in the way she wanted to act.

Days were passing ... and nothing changed.

The weeks months ... and years.

Everything remained the same

The only real problem was that the obsession became stronger and stronger.

Same as many of us ... Petra remained in an unwanted Universe ...

In the outside world ... she was dominated by reality ... but in her inner world ... the desire to be happy made her have a non ending balance between the 2 realities.

Petra continued her life ... with the hope that one day things will change not understanding why the Universe is sending us in those positions when we need to remain in karmic ... or dharmic situations.

She was asking herself ... on and on and on ... "why?! Why?! Why?!"

And indeed in life ... we need to start to meditate more and more so that we understand what is really going on and why we keep repeating the same unhappy scenario ... if the heart wants something else.

IF IT'S NO LOVE IT'S KARMIC

philosophical essays

She was analyzing ... defining but somehow she could not redefine reality.

But why?!

Well ... maybe life is the way it is ...

We can't understand those karmic or dharmic episodes ... but still the hope ... remains ...

We are so, so many as Petra ... people living in ... an unwanted Universe.

Can we judge her for continue living in an unhappy marriage?!

Can we really understand what it is in her ... soul?!

Or maybe ... the real truth is that in this world dominated by duality, we can't really understand what means ... happiness ... without exploring ... the unhappiness.

But you see ... life continues ... and maybe at the right time we should understand the meaning of everything.

Just let the karma ...

Revenge is not a positive ... option.

I've wrote in the last time more and more about karma ... and seeing that ... John, a guy living in a village from the south of London wrote me his funny story somehow laughing of himself that even if he read all my essays and understood them ... he could not see the concept applied in the real life.

John is a real example of the ones that know the theory, but when it comes about applying it into the real world ... they don't really know how to act on the stage of reality.

You see ... John lives in a village for a quite life, but still ... he is involved into lots of businesses.

This is the reason why he needs to deal from time to time with the authorities ... and that annoys him ... a lot.

For example at one of the institution ... there is a guy that really hates him by a long, long time.

Somehow this guy was right ... cause long time ago John went out with the mistress of that director.

He could not forget him for that ... even if today he had a new mistress.

So every time John had to solve something there, the response was also delayed and it was ... no.

And that happened on and on and on.

John started to be so frustrated by that ... even contacted a lawyer to call the director into the court ... for abuse against him.

He wanted a revenge ... and he wanted that .. now.

It's funny cause John always commented on my posts regarding karma, looking like someone that knows pretty well about the concept ... but when it came about his real life ... he could not understand that revenge is not a positive option.

I've talked with him many times ... explaining that he must let his frustration, anger ... and hate ... disappear.

He wrote me back one day saying ... "i know i should let everything go ... but i simple can't.

This guy created me so many, many problems how the hell could i forgive him?!"

I reply ... "Listen John! You are not a God.

You are not even a ... judge.

You simple need to disconnect yourself from this story.

Can't let those negative emotions overwhelm you.

And can't do that ... forever.

Let the guy do against you whatever he wants to do ... cause at the right time you will hear the karmic song on the scene of life."

Few weeks later John writes me back.

"Listen Gabriel! I realized i need to forgive that guy for what he did against me.

And guess what?!

A friend of mine ... who is kind of a Don Juan showed me the picture of a lady that he started with ... a new love affair.

I could not believe it.

It was the wife of that director.

My friend revenged me ... without even knowing it ... and i can't stop myself laughing.

Life is indeed funny."

You see ... John was right but could see that only after he practiced forgiveness for real.

The so called revenge ... if it really needs to happen into a karmic mode ... it will just happen ... but only at the right time ... when the Infinite Intelligence will decide that.

So ... forget about the silly concept of revenge.

Just let karma do its job ... when it will be the right moment.

Then ... you probably have the right to smile, or even to laugh ... but always remember you are not a judge.

Sometimes all you need to do is nothing but wait.
Simple watch how the Universe is ... rearranging things.

Not so long time ago ... i got so, so annoyed with a situation that i could not solve no matter what i was doing ... that i ended up asking myself why the hell things are happening this way.

It was a total ... total nonsense.

But still ... i could not get that thing.

One day i realized it became an obsession.

I was waking up with that idea in my mind and in the night before going to bed i was thinking of the same thing.

Somehow i was realizing that i am losing my time ... no matter what i should do.

One day ... a friend came to me and said ... "Listen to me ... you should simple let everything ... go. Ignore the story ... disconnect from it and at the right time ... you will get what you need to get from life."

And it's not that i agreed with him, but i realized it's all useless.

For the first time in my life i was accepting the karmic factors that were influencing my destiny ... so, so much.

I hated the situation, but ... i was probably in front of what should be called ... the illusion of life.

But why i accepted the concept just by force?!

Why i could not readapt myself from the scene 4, 5, 6?!

Why i've wanted as the same episode to be repeated on and on and on?!

Paul was laughing on me.

I could hear him ... "hahahaha. We talk about the illusion of life by so, so many years ... and you are so dominated by it.

But why?!

You can't let the illusion to ruin your life.

Just stop it ... "

So ... Paul was sending me the same message ... as the other friend.

I had to embrace the karmic factors from my life.

Stop my stupidity ... that continued by such a long, long time.

So ... seeing myself incapable of doing anything at all ... i was following a new path ... the one of ... non action.

I realized that only the Universe knows why the things are happening in the way that were happening.

Embracing reality ... no matter what is going on Is not just a wise decision ... but a must.

And again i ask myself ... why i waited so much to take that decision?!

I came in a point of total ridiculousnesses so that i could accept to surrender myself instead of hearing at the karmic song.

I thought i understood life ... but ... maybe the lesson with the karmic factors was too complicated to understand it without seeing so much opposition on the timeline of my life.

My obsession became so irrelevant when ... my attention went in another direction.
And i was laughing understanding how idiot i've been.

Recently i had again an obsession.

In fact ... during my lifetime i had lots of obsessions, but ...
this one ...

Well It simple ruined me emotionally thinking and thinking again and again ...

But one day i was waking up and realized that i have to stop this silly situation.

I had to get rid of it.

But how?!

... cause it dominated me by such a long, long time.

Then i was remembering about a trick i was using with my friend Paul.

During our philosophical debates about lots of things that involves life itself ... the moment when we realized we are following a contradictory path we ended up the discussion
... by sending to each other pictures or movies with beautiful ladies.

And suddenly... the discussion ended.

We both loved admiring those amazing souls and our philosophical debate became so, so irrelevant.

But you see an obsession is an obsession ... and the rules of getting rid of it are the same.

The obsession also might be ... karmic.

Might also look as a nonsense ... but every time it looks stronger ... we should simple smile, ignore it and try to focus our attention on something totally different.

Sounds weird what i am saying ... but solving karmic problems ... can be done just by using some tricks and with great wisdom.

The illusion itself ... which is actually the obsession ... is being dissolved ... in that moment.

We change the frequency where we activate and seeing a new reality ... we totally forget about all those obsessive thoughts we had for such a long, long time.

A little bit later we smile looking back into the past ... understanding how silly we've been letting ourselves be dominated by the obsession.

But we are happy cause we got rid of it.

.... nothing else matters.

The trick ... worked.

How you react ... it's actually an art

Have you ever wondered why we react so ugly in many, many situations?!

Why we dislike so much that reality is not the way it should be ... or how we would love to be?!

I believe that even if i am not 870 years old, i probably had till now on million episodes when i reacted as an ... idiot.

I was annoyed ... angry ... totally disliking facts that ... i could not even control and actually should make absolutely no sense to bother doing that.

Today ... i would define those moments ... karmic moments.

You see ... i somehow realized that for many, many years did not even knew what karma is.

Now i would say that... first of all it's a ... lesson.

Those repetitive ugly reactions of mine ... were probably just life lessons, but i could not see that.

And i was reacting on and on and on ... as an idiot not finding any cure for that behavior.

But that only till one day ... when i said ... it's enough.

I can't lose my temper forever.

I just can't continue as that for the rest of my life.

I actually understood that ... reacting ... is an art ... and i need to learn it.

IF IT'S NO LOVE IT'S KARMIC

It was all a simple decision ... cause the Universe was laughing behind my back sending me in all sorts of circumstances ... that had to do with such a large spectrum of weird people.

So ... instead of being annoyed angry ... frustrated I started to keep my calmness and sometimes even ... smile. I understood it was all ... a karmic test repeated on and on and on ... and i was too idiot to pass the test.

But i was lucky ... cause i took the decision of learning this abstract act of ... reacting.

Life improved ... a lot.

It's not that i live the perfect case scenario but ... at least i am not seeing the nightmare present everyday.

So ... just think about ... the art of reacting.

Might help you ... a lot!

Calmness is sometimes ... the key

Someone i follow in social media ... a great therapist ... is always writing about ... calmness and to tell you the truth ... i found it weird all his posts ... for a long, long time.
His message was so damn simple and repeated on and on and on, but i was not realizing that he was actually talking to ... everybody.
He wanted to be ... heard ...
But silly as always ... i was actually asking myself why the hell he keeps saying only that.
I mean ... a guy as him could write about lots of scientifically stuff ... and he was telling us just about ... calmness.
Certainly I was missing the point.
Then one day ... when being in a karmic situation the answer finally came to me.
I was hating what was going on ... on the scene of my life and all i wanted was as time to stop ... and be overwhelmed at least for a short j ... by calmness.
So ... i asked to the Universe ... this weird concept called ... calmness ... which by the way i've found so boring by such a long time.
I was actually begging the Universe to stop ... the karmic storm.

I could not handle ... the situation anymore.

I was waking up in the morning asking myself ... "what the hell is going to happen today?! What's next?! How many other tests i need to handle?!"

But the Universe was laughing of me ... behind my back ... cause i was hating ... the calmness.

I needed to be involved all the time in lots of things and this is how i actually connected on weird energies that brought me in the karmic situations.

And now i wanted out of that ... storm.

So ... the therapist was not so silly as i thought.

In fact ... i was the silly one.

I could not understand this simple theoretical concept and apply it to my life but in the position of not being able to handle karma anymore ... i would give anything just to have that feeling of calmness in my soul.

But ... too bad the message came so late to me ...

I was deaf in front of that ... great therapist that sent me the message by so, so many times.

Now i realized that what he was saying ... it was the key for getting out of those karmic problems.

Calmness could actually help me disconnect from those ugly energies that were overwhelming me.

And the moment i saw that simple message ... everything calmed down.

Was so fucking easy ... but ...

I promised myself that the next time when a guy like the therapist i was talking about ... will keep repeating me the same message on and on and on ... at least i will try to meditate on what is going on and how i could apply that message to my life ... so that my reality will be a beautiful one all the time.

Having a good vibe all the time is ... a decision

Over the years i met so, so many people that defined their non ending state of unhappiness as being related with the fact that the people from their life were fucking their vibe all the time.

And it was funny cause i remember that long time ago when we found out that my father has cancer, took him at a therapist that was trying to heal him, by using the power of the mind and the energies from his hands.

Smiling he said to me after few sessions ... "Listen ... your father is a good guy. He is not the problem of this disease. Everything is related with your mother, cause this is were from all the negative energy is coming."

I almost started to laugh, cause it was all a confirmation of a fact that i knew for years.

That day, on the way back to my home ... while driving I was realizing that my case was even worst ... cause i was letting so, so many people from my life to fuck my vibe. Everyday something was happening and the day was ... destroyed.

On and on and ... on.

But somehow i started to understand that it was totally ridiculous ... all what was going on.

I let them dominate my life ... cause what defines our days much better than the vibe of that day?!

So why the hell i let them ruin my days?!

Why i let them control my life?!

Why?! Why?! Why?!

Well ... maybe it's time to admit that i was ... an idiot ... and still ... i could not change anything.

Of course... i also had nice people on the stage of my life but it looked like there were too many that i could define ... as negative influences for my existence.

So what could i do?!

I was always saying that i totally understand what is going on, that i have the control ... but still ... everything remained the same ...

And ... i continued letting them fuck my vibe for so, so many years in a row ... without being able to change anything at all.

I started to analyze day by day ... all the details.

Defining my life ... understanding the patterns ... i somehow realized that there was only one thing to do ... and that was to redefine my perspective over those people.

They were all ... not my enemies that were destroying my life, but karmic characters that had to teach me an important lesson.

And it was all ... so damn simple.

All i had to do was probably ... just smile ... and send them vibes of love.

That could be the cure ... for not continuing forever this ugly story of fucking the vibe.

IF IT'S NO LOVE IT'S KARMIC

But even if i understood theory so easy ... and i've become an expert in analyzing and defining my life ... i've continued to be silly ... not being able to redefine my perspectives.

We wake up, but we don't know ... which path to follow.
And the scenario is repeated on and on and on ...

You see ... truth be told ... many times in life ... we simple don't know what to do.

We see ... no option ... or too many options.

The mind is ... blocked.

But what it's funny is ... that we already followed so many paths ... that we ended up starting to define them as ... pathless path.

It's a damn scenario that we saw ... so, so many times.

And i start wondering myself ... is this something ... karmic?
... cause all i know is that when i see on and on and on ... the same situation ... it's all a life lesson.

I start then to ignore the world around me.

I analyze just ... my life.

So, so many days in a row ... when i woke up and i didn't know which direction i should follow.

It was almost ... a lifestyle.

The indecision ... was overwhelming me.

Or maybe karma was playing around with me ... having those situations ... with so, so many options.

Could i do anything to stop this ... stupid game?!

Well ... maybe yes ... maybe no.

Maybe i had to stop from anything i was doing ... connect to my inner self and ask for guidance ...

The soul ... is never ... lying.

You see ... the mind is always tricky ... trying to convince you certain things .. but the soul will always reveal the best option.

So i decided to change a little bit the daily script of my life and instead of analyzing and defining all those options ... many of them being pathless paths that i saw so, so many times before ... i just close my eyes ... connect to my soul and ask ... "what is the best path to follow ... my dear inner soul?!"

And is funny ... cause many times the answer is ... "There is no real path ... even if it looks like you have so many paths in front of you. Just continue your journey ... cause there are moments when doing nothing is better than doing anything ... even if it looks like ... a paradox."

Everything is ... temporary ... but still ... we should enjoy every moment from our lives

Truth be told ... we ignore the fact that everything ... is temporary.

And we remain trapped ... in stories that died so, so long time ago.

But it's funny cause we all know the theory ... and when it comes about practice ... well ... that's a totally different story. I started to laugh today at the coffee shop ... when i met Calma ... seeing her a little bit annoyed.

I always use to say to her when i see that her vibe not looking so good ... that a new lover could be the best therapy for her vibration ... and that i could be a good partner.

But you see ... we are just friends.

... and i could say even good friends.

Today Carla was mad, cause Madeleine wrote her again ... just trying to annoy her.

She believed that my friend ... had a love affair with her ... ex lover ... that Madeleine was still loving ... and could not stop doing that.

In fact ... she was obsessed about that story...

Carla looks at me ... seeing me laughing ... and becomes even more annoyed.

"Why do you laugh Gabriel?!

She fucked my vibe.

Maybe i like the guy ... but why does she writes me if their love story is died by such a long time?!"

Then she gives me her phone to read the message from Madeleine.

I smiled again ... reading ... "Don't let yourself influenced by people.

Just do ... what you feel you should do.

And on the other hand ... you must be careful at the new people that entered into your life.

It looks like they are your friends ... and they understand you ... but you will see it's not like that.

Don't be silly, especially that you already feel the energy of those persons."

Indeed no word about ... a certain person ... but still ... the dilemma was ... who are those "new people"?!

And why Carla should allow Madeleine to fuck her vibe?!

But why Madeleine wanted to destroy a possible love story between Carla and that guy?!

Well ... we certainly don't understand the meaning of ... timeline.

No matter of the position where we are in life ... we don't understand what a motivational speaker used to say ... that ... "anything you know ... people, seasons, places ... things are temporary ... and that's why you have to enjoy that present ... right?"

Madeleine is mad ... that her love story died.

Carla lets her ... influence the present moment ... and can't enjoy ... or not even start a possible love story ... with

Well maybe we should allow and actually accept the fact that everything is temporary ... and just focus on the present moment, not letting anything influence us not even the past or the future.

Connecting ... offering joy and compassion ... we end up feeling an amazing feeling of happiness.
... something totally different than we use to know.
A great trick that not so many know about ...

I remember an amazing story about a very wealthy guy ...
Jim ... that goes to have some sessions with Tony Robbins.
The guy wanted to have more and more money ... but even if the Universe offered him so, so much ... he was not getting that joy he was chasing by such a long time.
He first bought the most expensive cars in the world ... but even if he enjoyed driving them ... after a while ... he found no joy into that anymore.
Annoyed, he calls Tony ... and asks ... "I want to try something new ... something bigger.
What do you think if i buy a great basketball team?!"
Tony Robbins smiles and replies .. "Do it if this is what you feel ... and also if you can afford it"
Few months later the wealthy guy calls his mentor ... complaining again ... that he can't find that happiness he is looking for.

Tony smiles again ... asking ... "So ... what is your new plan?!"

"Well ... i just ordered for myself an airplane and i am certain that will be cool enough for my vibe."

But few months later .. the guy calls again Tony ...

complaining like he would be the most unhappiest person in the world.

This time Tony was in ex Yugoslavia... just after the war was over .. trying to help the people from there.

Tony says ... "Listen ... if you have a private airplane ... come and join us in here.

I believe i know a trick that might help you a lot."

Believing in his mentor ... the guy goes to Sarajevo to meet Tony.

Walking on the streets together ... they suddenly see a kid of 7-8 years old.

His parents died ... and he was alone.

Comes to Jim ... and ask for a hug.

Tony smiles.

Jim ... offers to the little guy a toy and a chocolate and the kid hugs him again.

Then ... Jim at Tony and screams "Tony! Tony! I feel a that great joy i was chasing for so many years in a row.

Can't believe it.

The most beautiful cars in the world ... were useless.

The basket ball team ... the same.

And the only great thing that could happen with the airplane is that it brought me here ... to help the people ... after the war.

This little kid ... redefined everything in my life."

You see ... the funny thing about money is that they will not bring that joy we think so much about ... unless we know to split a tiny part of what we have with the others.

Search over internet and you'll find lots ... lots of stories with rich people from all around the world that ended their lives being extremely rich but ... unhappy.

It's most probably a karmic scenario ... but maybe all those stories like the one of this guy ... Jim ... might make us understand ... that offering joy to the others ... connecting to them ... is probably the best thing that we should have in mind.

The rest ... will come by itself.

... including the joy!

When everything is up side down and nothing looks to improve anyhow ... just leave the scene and connect to a totally different environment.
It's ... an amazing trick and always works

Have you ever wondered why some people are paying so much money on vacations?!

Or why they go so often in vacations?!

What is behind this idea?!

I wondered many times ... and also analyzed the patterns of those situations.

But what is funny is that if i ask those people why they do it ... they just reply that they do it cause they love traveling ... which i believe is not 100% true.

Over the years i somehow understood that the staying in the same environment is not ... safety ... for the soul.

No matter how good life would be ... something appears and destroys the harmony.

And we see so often ... the scene of life being so, so ... fucked up.

Trying to change things on and on and on ... even if sometimes we succeed doing it ... we realize in the end that any effort is useless.

And we see that the energy of that environment is ... an ugly one.

So ... should we bother to change it?!

Or ... we should just disconnect of the influences of that place and its energy?!

But how we can do it?!

Believe it or not changing the scene of life with a totally different one ... is an amazing trick.

Helps you see that ... outside of that little box ... that you name ... your world ... there are also other worlds.

And a totally different environment ... becomes the greatest trick you ever could use.

Connecting to other vibes our perceptions change.

Can't even believe it was so damn easy.

The next second when you put your ass in the airplane ... cause you decided to go to Venice for example ... you start feeling good again.

That negative energy from home ... is dissolved ... and becomes ... irrelevant.

You smile ... walking on the streets of Venice ... feeling again how beautiful life can be.

And you thought those ugly scenarios of life, that were repeated on and on and on by such a long time ... is something that could be defined even ... as karmic.

But now you can smile again ... cause the new worlds you are connecting at ... give you amazing vibes.

From time to time you can also meditate together with your close friends.
A walk in the woods and a long talk ... might help a lot.

Once a month i take a walk in the woods with a dear friend which i know by about 3 years.

We don't speak for one month at all ... and then when we meet we tell to each other what happened during this time. Spend 1-2 hours ... and it's really amazing.

I use to tell her all the time ... laughing ... "we come in the woods and instead of having sex ... we just talk."

She replies ... smiling ... "You wish ..."

We are so close as connection that we can connect in the next few seconds after we meet.

I tell her my story ... and she tells me her own story.

The exercise is amazing, cause being so close we can treat with honesty everything when we analyze and define our lives.

We try to identify the karmic patterns ... and mostly if in the last 30 days we went on a positive path.

We somehow meditate together ... seeing each other's reality from totally different perspectives.

And the most important thing is that we try to practice honesty while doing that.

We end the walk ... concluding ... then one month later we meet again.

But what is happening is that we don't always like what the other is saying.

And still ... we continue this exercise ...

The nature ... helps a lot ... to be in harmony ... but when we go deep inside ...

The good part is that i like her a lot ... and also practicing this exercise together.

Is quite helpful ... for my existence.

Seeing life from other perspectives really helps a lot ... and maybe this is why i still read books ... but when i talk with my friend is about my own life ... so ...

And the exercise helps her a lot ... too.

At the end ... we say all the time ... laughing ... "will have sex next time when we come here in the forest" ... then we leave.

I always believed that for a beautiful life we should always try to find tips and tricks that might help us ... to understand our existence ... and be able to enjoy it.

“Beautiful ... but unhappy.

I could actually write a book ... regarding that ... but maybe is useless today.
She’s probably mad ... on me.
We became closer day by day ... and everything was running perfect.
I was telling all the time ... that i was looking for a combination between illicit love and friendship.
Being married ... same as me ... she agreed.
It was all like a long, long prelude ... but i was patient ... and i liked it.
Unfortunately ... one day ... that bitch from my past ... a lady that i loved a lot, but ended up with a big disappointment on both sides ... wrote her.
And instead of telling her about my beautiful side ... she explained her a lot of things about what she defined over the years as ... my dark side.
And guess what ... she fucked my new connection.

Why?!

I just ask ... why?!

I was becoming closer and closer with her ... but just few lines ... and everything was ... fucked up.

Even if she observed my positive side ... letting her know that i have a dark side also ... she disliked it.

So ... maybe that bitch ... was so powerful ... or still loved me and did not agreed to be in a new connection ...

So ... my question ... why?! Why?! Why?!

I liked her ... Gabriel!"

I was reading his letter and i was smiling.

Then i read it again ... and i was laughing.

Maybe i saw myself in the shoes of that guy ... and i was laughing in fact ... of myself.

Or maybe i was understanding the karmic factors that we like it or not ... are influencing reality ...

My friend ... had a problem.

He liked a beautiful lady ... then another person which he defined as a bitch today but she used to like her a lot in the past ... comes and fuck up everything.

So ... i ask the same question ... why?!

Well ... maybe karma is not allowing us to follow some paths ... for reasons difficult to be defined now but ... at the right time ... everything is revealed.

And if it is not love is karmic but however reality would look like ... we should just embrace it ... cause that is the real path destined to us ...

Today ... i trend to believe that letting the Universe define reality in any way ... is probably the only wise choice for our lives ...

Meditating, not being able to stand anymore the ugly reality ... closed my eyes and ask for guidance.

But who i was speaking with?!

Was someone hearing me?!

What was the change i had to do?!

I am so weird, but at least i know to say ... hello and ... good bye

Few months ago i met a nice couple.

They were about 60-65 ... very interesting people.

We've met in the night at 9 pm ... they rented a house of mine and we stayed together and talked for hours ... till the midnight came.

They were in here ... in my country ... to complete a business and delayed everything for 6 months.

But what is funny about this story is that even if we started as we would be friends from another lifetime ... in the end they left, not even saying good bye to me.

I found it as a ... total ... total nonsense.

Why a relationship that started so well ... continued ok ... but ended so weird ... not even having the chance of saying good bye.

I was not mad or sad ... that they left like that but i was trying to understand what is behind the reason why things happened that way.

Was it something karmic that we've met?!

Did i had to understand something from that?!

Well ... the only weird thing ... which i could define karmic ... was the way they left.

Not even a word about ... their departure.

No ... good bye.

Maybe i invest too much time and energy in socializing with people ... and i have too many expectations from the souls from the timeline of my life.

I wrote them ... but no reply.

I did not said anything about their weird way of acting, so that we will be embarrassed of any situation ... but ... still ... no reply.

So ... it was a closed connection.

But you know me i analyze too much ...

The relationship itself was not an important profound relationship ... but still ... a nice connection...

I was meditating... trying to find the logical reasons ... why things happened that way.

Well ... it was a total ... nonsense but then i remembered that the nonsense was ... karmic.

And karmic means ... a powerful message sent by the Universe.

Even if i considered myself as being so weird ... at least i knew to say ... hello and ... good bye.

So ... maybe i had to learn the art of leaving without saying ... good bye, which could be translated as ... hahahaha ... bingoooo ... cutting connections ... useless connections.

Yes ... sometimes we just need to cut connections ... not even bothering of saying ... good bye.

And i started to ask myself ... what connections i had to cut?!

I started to laugh ... cause there were so many useless connections that i had to end ... not even bothering of say good bye ...

IF IT'S NO LOVE IT'S KARMIC

philosophical essays

They were stealing my focus ... of following a new path that i had in mind for myself.

After analyzing and defining what i named ... my life ... the plan of redefining everything became priority.

And still ... i was continuing losing my time ... saying hello and good bye ... but i was not realizing ... at least not yet ... that trying to be so polite ... i was wasting precious time ...

There is a reason why we meet ... every person from the time line of our lives

In many books i read a theory that says the fact that everything we see, or it happens in our lives ... is actually a mirror.

This is actually an interesting theory ... but while walking on the streets, seeing a homeless person ... being in a terrible condition ... i've asked myself ... is this me?!

So ... if everything is a mirror, the homeless person was a reflection of myself.

I smile ... disliking the theory.

Then i walk few more steps ... and i remember i also disliked when i met someone that was lying to me, someone that was cheating on me ... etc, etc.

So ... was that a reflection also?!

I defined it at that time as something karmic, then i remember that ... if it's not love ... it's karmic.

But what that does it mean?!

Well ... as karma to stop being around ... to not see anymore those people, which were in fact just reflection of my inner self, i had to embrace those sides seen inside of me ... and see how i could redefine myself.

Disliking was in fact ... rejecting.

IF IT'S NO LOVE IT'S KARMIC

philosophical essays

Loving myself more ... no matter what i was seeing ...
analyzing myself ... was probably the key.
So ... there was a reason why i was seeing all those people but i had to understand and accept those ideas.
... and also clarify with myself the concept of reflection.
I started to know the theory ... so well ... but...
In the end ... i understood that all i really had to do was to pay ... a huge attention to all i disliked.
... the rest will come by itself.

I was looking at the ruin and i suddenly understood the importance of not allowing ourselves to become like that

I was in a park and while walking i suddenly saw an old property.

I love houses ... especially this type of house.

It was probably the house of some very rich people that lived 1-200 years ago in there.

I started to inspect everything and asked myself ... why the hell no one takes care to rearrange this building?!

I look ... and suddenly realized that the roof had damages and the water coming inside was actually the element that destroyed the house.

I know a lot about houses and saw over the years many old properties like that ... in much better condition ... and i was really sorry for this one ...

But ... my kid asked me to continue the walk ... and then i see Tunde.

Last time when i saw her ... i was 27 ... so one century ago ... but i was not 100% it was her.

Looked so ... so ... changed.

A totally different vibe than the one i used to know ...

We started to chat ... presenting our kids ... but she looked to me like a person having ... mental problems.

With all the respect ... she was actually looking a lot with the ruin from that park.

Walking together she started to tell me about her divorce ... and could not realize how she could be changed ... so, so much.

The emotional baggage ... was ... terrible.

Well ... she wasn't anymore that happy person from high school ... that i used to know.

In fact ... Tunde was indeed ... a ruin.

Too bad ...

I somehow changed my vibe ... interacting with her ... being sad for seeing my old friend like that.

I said to myself ... it's too bad we allow ourselves to come in such emotional and mental condition.

I believe that seeing a ruin is ... horrible ... and what is silly is that some factors were allowed at a certain time to come with such an influence.

So ...

But maybe it's something ... karmic ...

And i keep wondering myself ... will i ever see her again ... how she used to be?!

What the hell could heal her?!

Well ... maybe just love ... like a new love story ...

Watching Linda ... and listening to her amazing music ... i realized i was in love with ... everything that defined her ...
She was ... perfect
... and i adored her.

I always loved to write ... fantasy.

One day my wife found on amazon the 10 published books with love essays ... that i wrote not so long time ago ... and ... Well ... i explained ... of course that all it's pure fantasy ... and nothing more.

Today Paul ... sent me an amazing movie with Linda ... playing piano and suddenly i realized that deep inside me, same as Paul, i am looking for that perfect woman .. which i am searching by so, so many years.

I named it ... my desire but also ... my fantasy.

But you see ... Linda ... was a reflection of that desire.

I was watching her playing piano, but i was also analyzing her beautiful body.

I adored her.

... her everything.

She was indeed ... perfect.

IF IT'S NO LOVE IT'S KARMIC

philosophical essays

And yes ... i could even say that i was in love with her ... in my funny fantasy.

But why can't such a person as Linda ... be part of my reality?!

Maybe ... it's not related with my karma.

Or maybe i need to connect to a different type of profile ... for a love story.

One totally different than the one that i defined in my fantasies.

Until then ... i kept admiring her.

And Paul is laughing ... seeing at me the same desires that he defined by such a long time in our talks.

I wonder if the torture ... is karmic?!

I've been watching a movie with a guy who was torturing people in the communist times ... in 1950's.

With an unbelievable honesty ... the guy is even speaking about the "pleasure of torturing them".

During the years i've been reading lots of books about the nazi and communist times ... the way they tortured and killed people.

It was a clear description of those times ... done by the people that had those terrible experiences ...

But one day ... i've read in a spiritual book ... that someone that killed in a previous life, will be probably killed in this life time ... so who was that guy from the movie i talk about?!

A killer?! Or a karmic teacher?!

Should we judge that person?! Or ask ourselves what means ... from the karmic point of view ... the experiences those people had when they were tortured or killed?!

Were those experiences needed?!

Were them ... welcomed?!

What kind of energy could dominate a human being that speaks about ... "the pleasure of torturing them"?!

Well ... suddenly ... i somehow understand that the whole picture ... could be defined ... as abstract.

IF IT'S NO LOVE IT'S KARMIC

philosophical essays

I was judging the torturer ... but what was the lesson those people had during this lifetime .. by having such terrible experiences?!

What is the message behind the message?!

I personally wanted to write a long and angry comment to that movie ... but then i asked myself why the Universe allowed this to happen?!

Now i realize that what i defined as a terrible experience could be named abstract ... or even better ... when everything becomes clear ... karmic.

So ... I stoped myself posting that comment and said to myself that i need to meditate more ... over those stories.

And the question is ... is the torture ... of any kind ... karmic?!

My torturer could be ... my wife or my kid.

.... again an abstract scenario ... but if the Universe allows as this to happen ... there is only one question i should ask ... what is the message behind the message?!

Can i see behind ... the abstract?!

Well maybe not yet and maybe other perspectives are too weird to consider them as having anything to do with the truth.

But ... at least ... i continue meditating.

And ... i stoped judging.

No introduction at all ... so i wonder myself ... is it karmic?!

Eric accidentally met Maria in the train station.
Smiled her, but said not even a word to each other.
Later on ... they met again in the lobby of the beautiful hotel where they were hosted ... near the beach.
Eric smiled to her ... and found the courage to say ... "Wanna join me on the beach?!"
Maria smiled ... and agreed.
Few minutes later ...even if they were not speaking the same language ... in fact speaking just with a translator from the mobile phone Maria says "Why don't we buy a rom and stay on the balcony from the hotel room?!"
So they bought the rom, went in the room and after few minutes they started to kiss each other and ... made love.
The conversation itself was difficult cause the translator was not so good, but ...still it proved that a man and a woman can have a relationship without speaking the same language.
She finished the rom and then ... left.
Eric remained alone on the balcony of the hotel , watching the sea and meditating about what happened with Maria.
He used to believe that a story had an introduction, the story itself and the end ... but with Maria was totally different.
It even looked as a ... nonsense.

The way everything happened so, so fast ... and the way she left ... not even saying ... good bye ...

So ... it was a story ... about what?!

But few months later Maria calls him explaining she is pregnant and they must meet and take a decision on what to really do with the baby.

Eric totally disliked it but things were the way they were ... and now they were in front of a karmic ... question ...

So ... what shall they do?!

A total non sense episode ... suddenly appears as a karmic lesson ... and it was not the first time when Eric was in such a situation.

You see ... we know it ... but ... we ignore the karmic impact ... and ...

Most probably taking the right decision is ... quite difficult cause the karmic lessons are so, so abstract.

Not even having a great introduction ... the influence on our lives after such stories ... in many cases ... is huge.

We should pay more attention to the nonsense, analyze and define it ... cause one day there will come a moment with many, many ... karmic decisions that should be taken wisely. But ... theory is so ... damn simple ...

It was the lesson ... “Don’t be stupid again and again and again” ... but i could not really understand it

I have a dear friend that has kind of magic powers of connecting to the Universe and tells all the time ... don’t follow that path, or don’t do that or that ... cause ...

But guess what?!

... even if i understood that her powers are real ... and also realize her good intentions ... i ignored her one million times. So now my friend changed a little bit the way of speaking to me ... saying ... “Don’t be stupid again ...”

In fact she uses the word “stupid” ... so many times when talking to me ... that it all became really annoying.

But ... still I know that when she says something ... probably 99% she is right.

So I analyze and try to define myself ... and laugh.

Even if i have informations about what i should not do and what i should do still ... my mind is deciding to put me in the position of acting so, so silly.

Then ... i look around me and i see the other people acting the same as me ... and ask again myself why do i do that?!

Well ... maybe we don’t understand the karmic concepts about life ... and their meaning.

Today if i would define what karma is about ... i should mainly say ... that is a lesson repeated on and on and on ... till we understand it.

But we should see the message clear ... to realize that deep inside of us ... to understand that we can't fool the ... Universe.

A friend like mine ... having magical powers is a real divine present in our lives ... but ... still ...

I came to the conclusion ... that being in the illusion of the self ... we start to believe that we know everything and we are in the position of deciding whatever we want to decide. Not carrying about absolutely anything that is whispered by the Universe in one million ways ... we do just what we believe we should do.

The signs ... the karmic signs ... repeated one million times ... are totally ignored ... cause we have the illusion of being the supreme intelligence.

And the price paid ... the karmic price ... is ... huge.

Well ... we have eyes to see and ears to hear ... and even a friend with magic powers... like this lady i told you about ... they are all useless...

Being in the illusion of the self we act as ignorants ... and

Well ... karma starts to appear as a bitch ... even if it is mainly ... a teacher.

Being “weird” ... actually a way of starting to act on the stage of the real life

Truth be told ... we don't really know how to act in life. There is no manual about what we should do in all the situations, or there are too many ... books that define the perfect case circumstances, which in fact never appear in a real scene from life.

The result?!

... well ... we just act weird.

Not knowing what we should really do, not understanding that we should always remain connected to the real self ... and just be who we really are ... we try to act differently.

But ...

Well ... telling us that we act ... weird ... or simple ... “Stop being weird!” is actually a polite way they try to define us. So what should we really do when we don't know what ... we should do?!

Should we stop following those paths?!

... i mean... get out of that scene?!

Or ... continue ... act however we can ... and ... see what's happening?!

But a good question i have ... is ... what if it's all a karmic episode of life ... and we don't really know how to act in the best way?!

I smile ... asking this question and looking back in time at myself.

I actually laugh ... remembering how weird i acted, not being able to understand the karmic attributes of the story.

So ... should we stop acting in any way if we don't know how to act?!

Or ... act however we can ... do our best ... even if we might be defined as "weird"?!

What is the best path?!

Well ... without starting to act and be on the stage of life for real ... we might never learn how to act.

And yes ... we might act silly, weird ... look like idiots ... but time is usually redefining everything.

Acting ... just acting ... is probably the only important thing ... no matter how we do it.

I personally never knew to act properly in many, many situations ... especially the karmic ones, but the time taught me how to do it... have the same situation repeated on and on and on ...

It's all a dance, but you need to connect with the music

She wrote me again.

I liked her ... but i always made the mistake of ignoring her.
Many times she was upset cause i was not replying in time ... but she liked me too ... so she ignored this weird style of mine, many times.

But today I had time ... so i read her message ...

"Yes, I want to dance with you.

Tell me when to do it.

Well I have to do that too....

From morning till evening from the evening till morning I have to do this.

Are you ready?!

Well my health is fine now

But my voice is still getting worse.

I don't know whether I will be able to sing songs or not."

I ignored her most of the times, cause i had one million things to do but she reappeared on and on and on.

In fact she was like a ghost ... but i was the same thing for her.

I closed my eyes and tried to imagine the dance we should have.

It was ... so beautiful ... dancing.

Jennifer was smiling and i felt the joy also.

It was so damn ... beautiful, but she was so, so far away by me.

Somehow we were karmic characters one for the other and we had to reach each other an important life lesson.

But what was that?!

I had to read her message again.

And again and again and again.

Jennifer was trying to whisper me just to stop all what i was doing ... and dance for an eternity with her ... on and on and on as i use to say ... or "from the morning till the evening and from the evening till the morning".

In fact the message was simple.

To connect to the life ... listen to the music ... and enjoy the moment.

Yes ... the meaning of "dance" was to simple enjoy the moment.

And Jennifer reminded that to me ... so, so often.

But i could not hear that.

Maybe if she would be not so, so ... far away.

And still ... the moment was there ... so close ... but i was busy doing only and only unimportant things ... ignoring the real values of life.

When it comes about saving your ass ... no price is too high to be paid for that I was in a restaurant, where i go frequently.

I eat, but also socialize in there, cause most of my business meetings i use to have in that place.
I like it.
In fact i love the vibe of the place and this is probably why i go at that restaurant.
I know the owner and also lots of the people that visit the place.
But something weird happened recently.
You see ... few weeks ago i hear Tom ... the owner talking to a gentleman about the permits of the place.
The other guy was a consultant and was explaining to Tom that he needs to pay about 5000 dollars for making the activity 100% legal.
They needed to get lots of permits ... but Tom was not so happy hearing that.
In fact i ever heard him saying to the consultant ..."No! It's too much. I simple don't want to pay that price!"
I smiled knowing that the guy was making money with the restaurant.

Of course ... the price was huge, but it was for its survival.
I really believed that Tom had to reconsider his position ...
but ...

Few weeks later ... i go to have an important business meeting into that place ... and surprise the restaurant was closed ... permanently.

I could not believe it.

The authorities decided to close it, cause Tom was not completing the process of getting all his legal papers in order.
Tom knew what he had to do ... but ... still, even if he was making money with the place ... considered that the price was huge.

It was actually a price for saving his business ... but ...

Even if he was warned that authorities might come and close the place permanently ... Tom played around with his luck ... and one day ... he came in the position of losing his business, which run very, very well.

I was sad for him then i smiled, understanding how silly
he could act.

How can we define a price too high for saving our ass?!

How can we be so idiots?!

But i smile cause i understand that for Tom it was something karmic ... an important life lesson.

He was warned ... but ignored all the warnings explained by the consultant.

A totally ridiculous behavior.

I could even say ... a total nonsense, realizing that understanding the nonsense from our lives we find the key for defining a better path to follow in life.

IF IT'S NO LOVE IT'S KARMIC

philosophical essays

And on the other hand, most probably ... it will never be ... a price too high ... if it comes about our survival.

Well ... theory is so simple, but when it comes about practice

...

The people from the timeline of our lives are just a reflection of the inner soul but it's all like ... looking in the mirror and not recognizing what we see ...

I look at some of them ... and i like a lot the way they are ... but i also look at many others and they are so annoying ... and totally dislike them.

I studied a lot theory and i know that all i see it's just a reflection of the inner self, but ... still ... i don't want to consider that ... a true fact.

In fact i could say that i dislike this theory a lot.

But you see ... the Universe was playing behind my back.

Sooner i started to see more and more people that i dislike ... which i realized it was ridiculous ... but also a clear sign that it's time to meditate on what is behind this issue.

So what was the message behind the message?!

Was it something karmic all what was going on?!

The funny thing is that one day a lady came to me and said ... "Listen! If you dislike the fact that i am here ... i will leave. It's up to you".

The Universe was speaking to me through the voice of that person ... and still i could not understand what was going on.

I smiled.

Started to analyze my life ... in fact, my full life.

I defined all what i liked and disliked and was amazed of the fact that many of the things that i did not liked were also part of myself.

In fact ... it was not that i disliked those people, but i disliked that reminded me of my negative side.

Actually reality, with all the people from the timeline of my life, were a reflection of my soul ... and defined exactly the spiritual position where i was.

Those people i liked or disliked ... were in fact the balance between and positive and negative side of myself.

All i could do was to pay attention to those details.

Measure all the time ... who is dominating my reality.

The positive or the negative side?!

But what if what we define as positive or negative is just a perception?!

And still wonder ... could i improve my life?!

Could i see ... just beautiful people on the timeline of my life?!

Or also accept all those annoying souls which i did not liked at all?!

What did i had to redefine into my life?!

Well ... maybe my perception about those people?!

Maybe i could redefine them as ... karmic characters from the timeline of my life.

But did i understood the term ... karmic?!

Or ... ?!

It was so damn simple all being just a life lesson.

Karmic meant ... lesson.

IF IT'S NO LOVE IT'S KARMIC

philosophical essays

But i was so silly ... and could not see it.

People i liked and disliked ... in fact ... the whole spectrum of the human being was in fact ... defining my timeline.

I was that ... spectrum.

I had to meditate more ... and understand what i should change to myself.

The only funny thing was just that i could not cure my spiritual ... blindness.

We judge at the others what we actually don't like at ... ourselves.

I know by almost a year a guy ... Gabriel.
I made some businesses with him and from time to time i met him to exchange ideas.
But after a while i realized we always met in front of a certain super market.
He was always in there in the night.
One week ... we met 3 days in a row ... and still ... he asked to meet at that place again.
I started to find it weird.
But one time, i came earlier, called him and he went out of the casino, which was across the street.
I suddenly realized that even if he was a guy that worked a lot ... every night he was coming and gambling at the casino.
Gabriel looked at me ashamed and says ... "You caught me! Please don't tell anyone about that."
You see ... every night i am coming in here ... but every Sunday, i go to the monastery and pray to cure myself of this desire ... which i know by a long time that it is a disease."
I was listening to this guy, that was having the same name as myself and wondered ... what is the meaning of his presence into my life?!

What karmic message the Universe was sending to me?!

And i say ... nooo ... it's a non sense.

I was not gambling.

I was not going to casinos.

But still I was feeling that the Universe was trying to whisper me something.

What was it?!

What is the meaning if this connection between me and Gabriel?!

One morning ... i was drinking my coffee and suddenly the answer came to me.

I was looking a lot like Gabriel, even if i was not going to casinos.

Same as him, i was working a lot ... but my gambling was my non ending investment in the real estate.

I did not knew to stop.

Comparing to myself, Gabriel knew that this stupid desire of getting rich ... was actually a disease ... and was hoping of a cure that could come from monastery ... but me?!

Well ... i was proud of being a real estate investor.

I was actually proud of my courage of gambling.

My casino ... was the real estate market ... and i loved it, even if it ruined my life so, so many times.

I started to smile ... realizing that i judged Gabriel for being so stupid ... working so much and then gambling every penny at the casino ... but i was doing the same.

So ... judging was ... an unconscious karmic process so abstract and so difficult to be understood ... and i could not see the message behind the message.

Gabriel ... caring the same name as myself ... was my reflection.

IF IT'S NO LOVE IT'S KARMIC

philosophical essays

... my karmic reflection.

Looked for a second into my past ... and suddenly remembered of all those people that i was judging.

Were them also ... my karmic reflections?!

Well ... all what i know now is that all what we judge ... carries a powerful message.

So ... i started to analyze more ... how i was acting in life ... but also those perceptions i had over all what i was seeing on the timeline of my life.

Only love has that tremendous power to close the karmic stories. Don't ignore that fact!

Truth be told karma is ... annoying.

Most of the times it looks as a bitch, even if in fact it is just a life lesson ... but we can't see it.

Sometimes the representation of this concept appears as a circumstance that is repeated on and on and on.

Or might be a person ... that we might even see as a Devil itself.

I am smiling now remembering that the moment when i read in a book written by Dalai Lama that "our enemies are our greatest teachers" ... i found the saying ridiculous.

Yes ... karma is annoying, because we come into a position when we don't like reality ... and not being able to control the situation itself, everything becomes more and more frustrating.

Everything is repeated one million times and we don't understand that we need to understand the abstract message sent by the Universe.

We start hating that and anyone involved into that process ... that later on ... in fact maybe years later we have the power to define it ... a karmic story.

But you see ... more we hate it ... much stronger it comes ...

till the moment when everything is overwhelming and dominates every second of our lives.

We find no way out ... and we make the mistake of hating reality and everything involved into that reality more and more and more.

And again it all becomes a circle.

We hate it, but that situation is repeated continuously.

We meditate ... analyzing and defining the situation, but still ... nothing has the power to redefine what is going on.

In the end realizing that nothing works ... we somehow understand that even hating is ... useless, cause it will not help in anyhow.

We still meditate

Then the answer comes.

We somehow see that we need to metamorphose that hate for reality into something totally different ... and that is love.

It's almost too late ... or maybe it's never too late.

And the funny thing is that the change of attitude ... embracing reality just as it is ... is in fact ... the key for a beautiful life.

Little by little everything is ... redefined ... and it was so, so damn simple.

A new reality ... defined by love.

I'm not saying that this is the absolute truth, but please meditate more on the tremendous power of love ...

Might help you a lot!

You can read one million books, but if it's karmic you won't escape so easily.
Hahaha

Truth be told each time when we have a problem we would do anything just to escape ... and get rid of that situation which is actually annoying us so deeply.

We start to meditate, analyze and define everything.

We talk with friends and other people ... just to find a better advice that could have magical powers and save our asses.

But ... well nothing helps for real.

There are also people being in very complicated karmic stories that even start to read ... lots, lots of books, but again ... the life lesson is not ending .. or at least not so easy as we would want.

We are annoyed ... and unhappy.

We see the world collapsing.

We would even believe that we have the energy to read one million books to find the answer ... but ...

Well ... not even for a second ... we bother to ask ourselves what we do ... wrong?!

The experience itself ... continues.

IF IT'S NO LOVE IT'S KARMIC

philosophical essays

On and on and on.

It's all karmic ... and maybe we don't find the energy to accept that.

We look for solutions ... theoretical solutions, but ... still carrying the stupid idea that we can trick the Universe.

Until when?!

Somehow it all probably depends of a moment of honesty ... when we see that instead of searching for advices in books or at friends, it's all about ... having an open heart, embrace everything the Universe offered us ... and treat with love all the people and circumstances from the timeline of our own life.

Little by little ... the karmic key is revealed.

We start to see ... beyond the self.

Redefining all our intentions ... into positive ones ... totally detached by the ego ... the ghost of karma disappears.

All those advices from friends were almost ... useless.

Also ... all those books we read over the years.

Just experiencing the moment, understanding the lesson behind karma ... realizing we need to change deep inside us ... and be better souls ... is probably the only solution in front of the karmic stories.

Well ... too bad we see it so, so late ... and we suffer so much.

scene of life

Cutting the connection ... is not always solving the problem

Karmic energies ... will reappear in totally totally different forms ... and we will live the same story ... again and again and again.

We'll dislike it ... but will be useless to mention it.

The Universe will ignore any of our perceptions ... thoughts or feelings ... until the day ... we will decide to ... at least ... start the journey of awakening.

Karmic stories ... are ugly ... or at least this is what we believe about them ... but realizing we need to analyze and define their meaning very clear ... and then try to redefine our inner self ... it's most probably a must.

Karmic energies are real ... even if we believe it or not ... and it's not easy to get rid of them.

But we could start to accept that as part of life ... and also as a spiritual journey ... which we need to follow into this Universe. It might not make sense at all ... but ... the real truth is always revealed later ...

There is only one way to get out of karmic stories ... with infinite love ... and infinite understanding ... realizing and carrying ... only about the message beyond the message.

Introduction

Many times it looks almost impossible to get out of karmic stories ... which are repeated on and on and on.
And life itself is defined only with one word ... horrible.
Probably many don't even know the meaning of karma and its impact ... but having so many weird situations ... repeated everyday ... and realizing it all became a nightmare ... we probably start to meditate.

We analyze.

We define the events from 100 perspectives ... but still seeing all as a total nonsense we start to believe there is no escape from what later on we finally define as ... karmic story.

And we continue like that ... on and on and on.

It almost looks that we are trapped into an ugly reality and we will never get out from there.

I've decided to write this book ... called "Karmic energies ... seen as influences that are redefining our lives" ... as a desire to heal myself ... and get rid of all the karmic episodes which were ruining me emotionally.

For myself ... it was all ... a non ending story.

I almost believe i have absolutely ... no escape and i've become almost desperate.

I was waking up ... every morning ... asking myself ... what the hell is going to happen today.

KARMIC ENERGIES ... SEEN AS INFLUENCES THAT ARE REDEFINING OUR LIVES

philosophical & spiritual essays

I was indeed ruined emotionally.

I've started to meditate ... more and more and more ... and days were passing, then weeks ... then months ... and then years.

My life was indeed a nightmare ... or at least this is what i believed it was.

.... but even if i was meditating so much ... no real solution came to my mind so that i can stop this so called karmic chapter of my life.

Well ... until one day ... when a dear friend that sees the future ... told me ... "You always come to me ... asking for confirmations.

You already know all you have to do ... but you pretend you don't see the messages repeated on and on and on.

You pretend you don't see their meaning.

You pretend you are ... stupid ... and you are not.

In the beginning... I've confirmed you all.

Then i was calling you ... stupid.

But today ... i just had enough of your games.

You need to stop pretending... and become conscious about all is going on.

You need to accept the truth.

And start practicing the... change.

It's time to stop this stupid delay.

You already know all what is going on.

You see the messages behind the message ... and your clarify is so obvious ... but ...

Well ... you are not stupid ... not at all.

But as an actor on the stage of life ... you really act very stupid."

KARMIC ENERGIES ... SEEN AS INFLUENCES THAT ARE REDEFINING OUR LIVES

philosophical & spiritual essays

I was amazed of what my friend ... said.

And in fact i was even pretending ... i was shocked ... but ...

Yes ... it was a but

I knew about her clarity ... and the fact that she was always right ... made me be worried.

But ... somehow i've realized that into the end ... i must be worried ... not about the outside world, but about the world hidden so deep inside my soul.

Worry just about those energies i was connected at ... which influenced a lot my decisions and my way of acting ... on the stage of life.

Everything else ... was irrelevant.

Perfect scene ... but wrong energy. A scenario ... that unfortunately we see so, so often.

It happened many times to me ... to be in places that looked amazing ... but the energy of the place ... or my connection with that place ... was really bad.

I felt myself being in front of a nonsense.

But i also wondered ... what the hell is wrong with me cause all around myself ... was just ... perfect.

Or at least this is how it looked like.

But this perfection ... had behind it an energy that was not allowing myself to feel good.

It was all ... so damn ... illusory.

And over the years I had this sensation... so ... so many times ...

I've started to strongly believe that something is wrong with me ... or i have the handicap of not being able to connect to the present moment.

And i've started to meditate ... why ... this happens ... so ... so often?!

Why the hell i am on the perfect scene but i feel an ugly vibe into that moment?!

Why this nonsense?!

I already knew by a long time that whatever meant a nonsense... carried a very powerful message for myself ... but somehow i ignored all that.

Balancing between contradictory perceptions ... my meditations continued on and on and on.

In the end ... i've finally accepted that i just don't belong to that scene.

That ... this so called perfection ... was many times ok ... but not for myself.

And very important ... that beyond reality it's an energetic field dominated by different types of energies ... which we can't see or touch ... but ... once connected to them ... influence us ... a lot.

Maybe somehow ... what we define as an ugly vibe ... it's a whispered message ... telling that ... even if we like that scene ... our place is not there.

No matter how much we'd want it ... it is simple not a scenario destined to us.

We could admire ... the perfection of the place ... but only and only as an observer ... and nothing more.

Stopping the silly desire to want that type of reality becomes into the end ... a must.

Sometimes we talk about illusory realities ... that will never become ... real

I was with my bike.

And ... I wanted to get rid of everything around myself.

I went into the fields ... close to my house ... but even if i thought no one will be there ... I suddenly saw Sheila.

She was also ... same as me ... into a short journey to ... nowhere.

I've joined her ... and we've started to chat ... as usual.

All my discussions with her were amazing ... and the connection between us was just great.

We continued walking ... having absolutely no direction.... but enjoying the time spent together.

It was nice ... to spend my time with Sheila.

Somehow it was all a moment of allowing ourselves ... to ... dolce far niente ... having no purpose ... or real destination.

I even started to wonder if that should be our main way of living reality.

... doing nothing.

... having no purpose.

... and simple waste time ... but into the same time, being relaxed enjoy the moment itself.

KARMIC ENERGIES ... SEEN AS INFLUENCES THAT ARE REDEFINING OUR LIVES

philosophical & spiritual essays

I felt ... great ... into Sheila's company.

And she felt great also ... cause i saw that into her eyes but it was all a reality ... that could not become real.

I wanted to live ... on long term like that but i knew it was not possible.

So was the greatness of that moment ... useless?!

Or illusory?!

Well ... all i knew was that i loved walking to nowhere ... simple enjoying the moment.

The only question that remained was ... why i could not decide to live like that?!

Well ... maybe me and Sheila ... could enjoy life together ... only if we could give ourselves the freedom to continue on this path to ... nowhere.

But we were balancing ... agreeing and disagreeing ... with such ... a reality.

Seduction ... seen as an art

I was into a restaurant.

It was an amazing place ... and i felt just great.

I was alone this time ... simple wanting to eat and spend my time alone.

Suddenly i see into the corner of the restaurant ... a couple ... which looked to me that was there ... to seduce each other. ... or to offer to the people present there ... an amazing show about seduction.

I was keep looking at them.

And ... i could not believe this show was real.

Their gestures ... the presence of a connection that looked so great.

I smiled.

I wanted to be a character into such a story ... but maybe ... even if i was dreaming about such a love story ... i did not knew anything about seduction.

I was absolutely convinced that this was their first date ... but everything was running ... perfect.

I was watching the whole scene and could not believe ... it was real.

They probably had a ... karmic connection ... knowing each

KARMIC ENERGIES ... SEEN AS INFLUENCES THAT ARE REDEFINING OUR LIVES

philosophical & spiritual essays

other from a previous life ... but seeing and understanding the dance of energies beyond such a scene of a love story ... i realized that my perceptions are ... somehow redefined. Yes i realize that seduction is ... an art. That it gives great value ... to a beautiful relationship. But ... as always ... i kept being ignorant. Even if i knew ... i had to change.

The message is repeated
on and on and on.
It looks like a total nonsense ... but ...

Today when i see that the same thing is repeat to me ... i accept it's a karmic message.

I don't make a drama of it anymore ...

... i simple accept all ... as a life lesson ... that is whispering me a powerful message.

But ... it's all so, so ... annoying.

I actually see myself trapped into scenes that have karmic meaning all the time.

Life ... continues ... but ...

Somehow i just refuse to accept the nonsense as part of my life ... and also that in fact ... it's not a nonsense ... but something very valuable to me.

I can't accept such a theory.

I know it's true, but i just can't accept it.

It's almost ridiculous ... cause my experience of life proved me ... lots of times ... that i should pay attention to the repeated messages ... but still ...

Well ... yes ...

KARMIC ENERGIES ... SEEN AS INFLUENCES THAT ARE REDEFINING OUR LIVES

philosophical & spiritual essays

Yes ... it's true ... that i suffer of ignorance.

I know the truth ... and i ignore it.

I pretend i don't see what it is about ... in all those karmic episodes of life.

But i am so, so annoyed when i see that i just can't get out of those stories.

Pretending... i don't know what the repeated stories are about it's ... so stupid of me.

Hmm ...

And guess what?!

I am acting so silly on the stage of my life that i accept to keep pretending ... i'm stupid ... and have no clarity in my intuition.

Even ... if i feel that i know the meaning of all.

The concept about eternity might be ... illusory.
But ... maybe it's much clear when we look into the past and have a certain clarity about previous lives.

They meet.

They have such a huge clarity about their connection ... like they should know each other by an eternity.

And it's even more than this.

They see eternity in front of their eyes ... having the projection of an amazing non ending love story.

It's all so, so ... obvious.

Having such a clarity about the connection between the 2 souls ... it's amazing.

There is no fear anymore ... into the couple ... on any of them.

They are happy together ... and you can see that amazing vibe into their eyes.

I try to analyze them ... more and more.

I try to understand if ... eternity is real ... or just illusory.

But i know ... nothing is eternal.

KARMIC ENERGIES ... SEEN AS INFLUENCES THAT ARE REDEFINING OUR LIVES

philosophical & spiritual essays

Or maybe this story about love is eternal.

I look into the past ... deep, deep inside and i know it's all about previous lives.

Yes ... the past ... looks eternal.

The future ... also.

It's like i am staying in front of ... the eternity ... just looking at them.

But into the same time i am balancing into my perceptions ... not knowing if the concept of eternity is real or not.

And i have lots of moments of believing it's all so damn illusory but looking again at the couple ... realizing it's indeed a story about love I wonder myself why this story was repeated into so, so many lives?!

Maybe this man ... and this lady ... did not realized yet ... what a love story is about?!

So ... can a love story ... be karmic?!

Yes ... maybe ... yes.

But what is the karmic message?!

I look again at the couple.

I see the love into their eyes ... and maybe the only mistake they make ... is that they don't remember the past.

They feel it ... cause they had an amazing feeling from the first second they saw each other ... but can't remember anymore about those previous lives.

And the message about love is ... repeated.

On and on ... and on.

The handicap of being a philosopher is that ... no matter if it is about happiness or unhappiness ... you already know it's all an illusion.

I am not a philosopher.

No ...

I tried to be ... but being so active on the stage of my life ... i did not had the time to become a ... philosopher for real.

But I think a lot.

I analyze and define my life ... all the time... so i could say ... i am a thinker.

Yes ... that's a better definition for myself.

Unfortunately... time made me realize that whatever i feel strong and real today ... later on i realize it was all ... illusory and just an illusory interpretation of a reality ... which was not what i though it was.

And i could even say that things became worst ... and worst. The idea that ... it's all an illusion and a pathless path started to dominate me.

It totally redefined my thinking and my way of interpreting life ... but also made me be more a spectator of my own life. Today ... no matter if bad or good things happen... i simple smile.

KARMIC ENERGIES ... SEEN AS INFLUENCES THAT ARE REDEFINING OUR LIVES

philosophical & spiritual essays

I am not allowing my emotions to induce me the feelings that reality ... or what i define as reality ... is in fact ... real.

And it's not what i just say that it's an illusion ... but the truth ... the real, real truth is that the meaning of all it's actually to send me a karmic message so that i could actually follow better paths for my life.

A better journey for my daily life ... but also a better journey for my spiritual side of my inner soul.

So ... being a philosopher... or a simple thinker that believes reality it's an illusion ... it's a handicap?!

Or ... a good result of my trend of always trying to understand the present moment?!

I only smile ... not really understanding if i've reached a point when i am actually anchored into the absolute values.

I've recently wrote a book called ... "The illusion of being part of an illusion" ... and i've spent lots of time asking myself if the title is a good one ... or a nonsense.

But ... you see ... i was actually always living with the feeling that i live an illusion ... so the question was ... maybe it's illusory the fact that i have such a thought?!

Is it really true that ... life is an illusion?!

Of this type of philosophy is just ... stupid?!

Well so difficult to have an absolute truth, but all i knew was that i finally succeeded to disconnect from my feelings which were making me all the time have a silly emotional dance ... that most of the time was ruing my soul.

Determination can't help us get rid of ... karmic stories

Truth be told it's not so easy to see people that are very determined in life ... to get what they really want ... but ... when you see them ... you can analyze deeper and deeper so that you can understand... this tremendous power which makes us obtain all our desires.

But i recently saw a movie ... which was kind of a parody of what we name today ... motivation.

A very successful lady from Los Angeles ... named Sarah ... married ... with kids ... and in fact looking like a person having all what a human being can have ... was still unhappy. The only thing that gave her good vibes was the fact that she daily got more and more money.

She just loved seeing money coming.

On the other hand her husband was not anymore by years ... what she wanted from a man.

So ... somehow she came into a situation when she felt that even if she had all she ever wanted ... in fact ... she had absolutely... nothing.

It was somehow ridiculous ... but she felt that more and more often ... realizing that motivation made her follow a pathless path.

But it was more than this ... cause one day this obsession of getting more money ... put her into the position of having huge legal problems.

It was the first time when she started to ask herself ... does it really worth to follow motivation.... and believe this is a good path for my life?!

Well somehow it was a little bit late for such a question ... cause her marriage was not giving her the happiness she wanted ... and even contrary ... and the desire of more and more money ... ruined a little bit her life.

In fact ... even if her life was looking from outside as perfect ... it was not really like that.

She started to feel that motivation ... brought her ... of course combined with her huge determination.... that type of perfect life from motivational movies ... but not ... the happiness.

She wanted that ... and that ... and that ... and that ... and that ... but she forgot the essential ... and the reply from the Universe came.

She forgot that the meaning of life is ... probably to enjoy being here ... but the long path to success induced by motivation ... did not brought her anything related to ... happiness.

Now ... been in kind of a karmic story ... all being fucked up around herself she finally realized ... it was all useless. All that energy spent to get the so called success ... ruined her life.

She could not sleep anymore into the nights.

She could not do anything ... and deep inside herself ... the karmic moment from the present became stronger and stronger.

Unfortunately... determination could not save her anymore ... from such a situation.

She had to redefine herself ... but did not know how.

She could not accept that determination must be used to make a tremendous change ... deep inside herself ... and not into her reality from the outside world.

But ... the Universe did not allow her to waste her life anymore.

Tortured her mind and soul ... daily ... with this karmic influences ... in all the areas of her life.

And days were passing...

... then weeks.

.... then months ... and the torture was bigger and bigger.

She could not accept that the model of success ... induced by the motivation that she studied so much was a pathless path.

But ... no matter what she believed Karma was laughing behind her back ... continuing the ruin of her reality ... having the only real purpose to make her understand that the direction of her determination... must be totally be changed.

Honesty can get us out of ... karmic stories

I've recently been asked if i am ... a honest person.
I smiled ... and gladly i even wanted to say that "yes ... i am a honest person!" but something stopped me and i've replied just ... "Well ...".
It was indeed so difficult to answer for such a question.
... but somehow i've realized i was afraid of giving this answer to my friend.
... i mean ... a honest answer.
I've started to meditate ... and i've seen myself balancing between say ... yes and no.
Had indeed into my mind the memory of lots of moments when i've acted as a honest person ... but also moments when i was not like that ... or afraid of saying the truth ... just like it was.
My life ... not even into the present moment ... was not looking as it should look like ... but
And i've started to wonder what is the influence of honesty ... and its impact into my life.
Why i'm so dominated by the duality of life and am honest ... but also have moments when i am afraid to be like that?!
I could not get a real answer ... that i could say to my friend

KARMIC ENERGIES ... SEEN AS INFLUENCES THAT ARE REDEFINING OUR LIVES

philosophical & spiritual essays

... so i told her the real truth ... "I am a honest person ... but also a one that has moments when uses the trick of hiding the truth."

I left my friend ... and i've continued meditating.

I've realize that i am having the life i have today ... only and only ... cause i don't define the truth about the present moment ... with honesty.

Yes ... i could stop myself ... to avoid the truth ... or maybe even redefine my whole perspective about a reality which is dominated ... by lies.

... cause first of all i was dishonest with myself.

In front of others most probably i've been dominated by certain fears of not ruining certain connections with certain souls from the scene of my life ... but why the hell i was dishonest with myself?!

Well ... maybe i was afraid of losing a karmic reality which i liked and disliked into the same time.

I was probably afraid of redefining my life.

Honesty was ... the key ... yes ... that magic key that could make me ... get out of karmic scenarios ... but even if i knew what i had to do ... i was simple delaying all.

Or maybe ... i was not dishonest.... but too coward to be honest.

And the paid price ... were the karmic stories which i was living.

Karmic characters don't disappear when we want.
They just ... don't bother of our opinion ... or wishes ...
And even if they disappear... they will reappear into another form.

Recently... it was in my power to ask someone to leave from our group.

He became impolite with many of us ... especially after drinking his daily bottle of whiskey ... which he adored to consume on and on and on.

I simple ... whatsapped him ... with a long message and he came to me ... asking to stay one more day with us ... but smiling ... and said no.

Many times into my past ... i had this obsession of getting rid of people which i disliked from the scene of my life ... but now i was doing it cause some other people were asking me to do it.

What is funny is that i remembered the moment ... when the guy came.

KARMIC ENERGIES ... SEEN AS INFLUENCES THAT ARE REDEFINING OUR LIVES

philosophical & spiritual essays

He was balancing into his thoughts ... not knowing if he will stay with us or not ... and after asking him 3 times ... what he decided ... he replied just ... "Maybe".

I knew into that moment that he was going to be ... karmic. ... probably for all of us.

But i've made so many times the mistake of fighting with those karmic characters.... that i promised myself that i'll look in the mirror and just say "You're an idiot!" ... if i'll do it again.

Today ... i was just smiling in front of this guy.

He was not a bad soul ... but was acting as an idiot after drinking again and again ... whiskey.

He was speaking ugly to all the ladies and kids around himself ... and one day even told them he will kill them.

Everyone was complaining to me about him ... but i knew he was karmic and if i'll get rid of him too soon ... he will reappear anyway in another form.

I simple let him ... do his show.

He ... like in any karmic story ... he was doing it ... on and on and on.

He ... was sending a message ... but nobody was hearing him. They hated him for threatening them all the time ... and saying ... "I will kill you!".

And in a moment of awakening I've understood that he was not going to kill anyone ... but he was maybe trying to redefine them and kill that way of being and acting on the stage of life.

Redefine their way of seeing ... the ugly side of the human being.

I let the story ... simple continue ... for enough time ... so that everyone will see the message ... but they were annoyed more and more.

They were asking me everyday ... to ask him to leave ... so in the end ... i just did it.

But ... i smiled to him.

He was hugging some of his friends ... and i even asked him if i he will hug me too as good bye ... but he refused.

I started to laugh but what i've forgot to mention is that one day before ... i've been acting bad to him also ... terrorizing him a little bit.

I was doing it ... into a theatrical way ... asking him ... on and on ... if he wants me to show him ... that i am crazy too.

Seeing this unseen side of myself ... he got scared ... and suddenly became ... a good boy.

Even promised ... he will start to act ok to everyone.

But ... i knew deep inside myself ... that all was ... Karmic.

He was sent by the Universe ... to

To ... what?!

Hmm ... i was still wondering what is going on ... but realize it's too late.

My stupid karmic friend ... had been doing enough stupid things ... and everyone insisted to ask him to leave ... so i've done it.

But ... i did it with love also explaining to people that he will reappear into another form anyway ... disguised as another man, or a woman ... or even a child.

And ... will send ... the same message.

"I'll kill you!" ... could have another connotations ... but we were not seeing that.

KARMIC ENERGIES ... SEEN AS INFLUENCES THAT ARE REDEFINING OUR LIVES

philosophical & spiritual essays

Maybe it was all a story about ... redefining ourselves ... and “kill” ... our perceptions.

But ... maybe ... we could not see ... the message ... which is ok ... even normal for the usual blindness of the human being.

Honesty ... might be a handicap

Not so long time ago ... a friend came to me ... asking to help her with a good lawyer ... cause she had some huge legal problems.

I call a dear friend ... we go to his office ... connect them ... and leave.

But the funny thing ... is that few days ago ... i met the lawyer at the coffee shop ... and when i've asked how things moving with the case ... he just smiled.

Then ... replied ... "All good! Things will be arranged ... and all i could say is that i like your friend a lot.

You know that even if i don't mix business with ... pleasure ... i let her abuse of me ... sexually.

And ... i did it with ... joy."

I look at him ... and smiled.

I could not believed it ...

So ... i tried to help Emily... but in the end i've sent her into the arms of my friend ...

But what is more funnier is that yesterday i've met John ...

Emily's husband ... that came to me ... saluted ... and thanked me 3 times for making the presentation between his wife and the lawyer.

KARMIC ENERGIES ... SEEN AS INFLUENCES THAT ARE REDEFINING OUR LIVES

philosophical & spiritual essays

I smiled ... but said into my mind ... "Damn it!"

So ... my question was ... what the hell had i've done?!

Was it something good ... or bad that i made the connection between the lawyer and Emily?!

Hmm...

I did not really knew what to believe anymore ... but on the other hand the huge legal problems ... Emily had ... almost disappeared... which was good.

But ... i did more than that ... cause my friends started a sexual relationship... all being in fact inappropriate.

Or ... maybe all was karmic.

And i've asked myself ... how could i practice honesty in front of Emily's husband.

... it all could be a nonsense.

Well ... maybe all was about karmic facts ... that had to happen into that way ... and i had to accept what happened ...

Not judge ... anything ... cause judging is ... stupid ...

especially for the humans ... that have so many ... sins.

Yes ... things happen ... into ways difficult to be understood... or accepted.

And even what we would think that might be defined ... with honesty ... it's stupid.

... cause we just can't understand... the whole picture.

Karmic characters are amazing actors

All my karmic relationships started just ... great.
It all looked as ... the perfect relationship ... between 2 souls.
No matter of gender, age, philosophy of life .. skin color all was perfect.

I even started to believe that indeed ... us ... the humans ...
can really have perfect relationships.

Well ... until one day ... when i've realized it was all a karmic story ... those people looking like people possessed by the Devil ... or maybe i should say it into a beautiful way and define all ... that they looked ... as amazing actors.

Hmm ...

Being polite ... is useless into the end ... anyway ... but karmic stories are so damn difficult and the karmic characters so ... so ... annoying...

Karmic characters ... wear lots of masks.
We should always be aware of that
... and realize that all might be ...
just an illusion

I try ... not be boring into my writings... but also try to define my thoughts, my feelings ... and all my contradictory emotions.

I try to keep the right balance between saying to the public interesting things ... but also the fact that i should speak more about my personal experiences.

Things which i felt ... deeply ... and i've came to some conclusions ... only after i've analyzed them ... a lot.

And karmic characters... always intrigued myself.

I keep asking myself why they wear so many contradictory... masks.

And the real question is ... why today they act as great friends ... and the next day ... they are metamorphosed into our worst enemies?!

Why this balance of contradictory attitudes?!

When i write about those people I really know what i am

KARMIC ENERGIES ... SEEN AS INFLUENCES THAT ARE REDEFINING OUR LIVES

philosophical & spiritual essays saying cause i saw them so often on the stage of my life.

Today ... i am even afraid of people which are acting ... into a perfect way with me.

I somehow know ... and also feel ... it's just a mask which they are wearing.

But ... what i also know is that those masks are illusory masks ... no matter if they are of positive or negative impact on ourselves.

And i already know that i should just smile in front of those ... karmic actors.

I should just try to understand... what is the message they are whispering to me.

I also try to remember ... that the stage of life is just an illusion ... and being in the scenes with those people around me ... i need to act as a great actor too.

To feel i am on the stage of a theater... into a karmic play

I am feeling ... it's all a nonsense, but maybe it's not.

I start somehow to feel ... the meaning of all what is going on... keep in mind that all i see it's just illusory... but the karmic characters are acting into a certain way simple because they want to teach me different lessons of life.

I should accept ... all their masks ... but it's so difficult ... even if i already know theory by a long, long time.

I continue analyzing those masks.

And all intrigues me ... so much.

I need ... probably ... to speak more with myself.

To analyze more what karma is what is its meaning ... and the fact that i can't get rid of those people ... unless i realize, but also accept the message they keep repeating to myself.
... into a beautiful, but also an ugly way.

Truth be told ... there are moments when we are “used” by the Universe ... for solving things in here.
But we should only smile ... and accept that as a divine plan.

“Been used” it’s a concept no one likes so much ... of course ... except the ones that understand the meaning of karmic energies.

And there are lots of ways in how the Universe ... God ... Allah ... or however we name the Infinite Intelligence.

There could be moments when we don’t really understand how this is happening, but also moments when we will dislike seeing that.

It probably all depends of our ability of understanding our lives.

Today i could say ... from my perception ... that being used ... is not a bad thing.

I should probably say it's even ... a blessing.

We could be used ... by certain people ... or even by circumstances.

Our money could be used ... for something else than our own purposes or interests ... or even all we possess ... but we should simple smile ... and agree.

I see some ... conscious of that.

Some ... annoyed.

Some ... having no idea of what is going on.

But my question is ... what should we do in front of such a situation?!

Well ... maybe we should analyze the case of a parent and a child ... and we should ask ... is the parent used by the Universe?!

Is it an abuse?!

Is the parent wasting the life itself ... by being 100% near the child?!

The example itself ... might sound stupid.

... something that we should not even bother to talk about ... but if we go deeper in any of the religions of this world ... we understand we are all God's children.

So ...

Maybe it's time to redefine our perceptions.

To let the Universe and the life itself ... to "abuse" of us seeing all ... as a divine plan for a better world.

Is it possible to accept this?!

It is a nonsense to name it divine plan?!

Should we allow ... to be "used"?!

Hahaha .. i think "been used" it's not an ... option.

It just happens

KARMIC ENERGIES ... SEEN AS INFLUENCES THAT ARE REDEFINING OUR LIVES

philosophical & spiritual essays

And we should just accept things as a karmic reality that we need to live for ... a while.

Maybe the only option is just to ... enjoy it ... or not.

Sometimes it looks
... so complicated.
In fact ... it looks ... as impossible... but ... still we want to continue
... on that path ...

I knew her story.

I knew her life ... before him, but i also knew a little this guy
.... which was in fact ... the representation of her dreams ...

They were really ... a nice couple.

But ... they somehow met ... late in life ... both being more than 40.

This life experience... which they had today ... was an advantage... but also a great disadvantage.

They both carried ... lots of ghosts into their souls ... remembering about past experiences... which had a huge impact.

Maybe we could say that ... they entered into a relationship together ... not being honest enough with each other ... that they carry ... souls with lots of ... scars.

But ... time was passing ... and all was revealed.

KARMIC ENERGIES ... SEEN AS INFLUENCES THAT ARE REDEFINING OUR LIVES

philosophical & spiritual essays

Even if both of them ... dreamed of the perfect case scenario ... for a love story ... the ghosts from the past where not letting them be there for ... 100%.

I was looking at her ... knowing her psychological knowledge.... and i was smiling ... realizing how she was hiding the truth.

... the real truth.

And he was probably doing the same.

It was the perfect love story ... with everything that means ... communication, love ... sex ... all ... but ... still ... something ruined ... everything.

Analyzing their relationship ... i've started to understand that all ... it was a karmic story ... meant to redefine ... their broken souls.

I wanted to find ... a solution for them ... cause they really looked great together.

I wanted to give them ... an advice ... which could help them ... to continue being together.
